ALL COLLEGE CAST TO STAGE COMEDY IN CHAPEL MAR. 26

Proceeds to Go Toward Financing Various Athletic Activities in the College.

SMITH AND BEAL TO STAR

On March 26, the three act comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen" will be staged in the Whitworth chapel by an all college cast, selected and coached by Dean Morrison of the dramatics department. The funds raised will be used by the student executive board to finance spring athletics.

The story of "Come Out of the Kitchen" written around a Virginia family of the old aristocracy, by the name of Daingerfield, who, finding themselves temporarily embarrassed, decide to rent their home to a rich Yankee. One of the conditions of the lease by the well-to-do New Englander stipulated that a competent staff of white servants should be engaged for his sojourn at this stately home. The servant question presented practically insurmountable difficulties and one of the daughters of the family conceives the mad-cap idea that she, her sister and their two brothers shall act as the domestic staff of the wealthy Yankee. ELLENSBURG DEFEATED ON WESTERN INVASION

Laudenbach and Davis Injured in College of Puget Sound Game
At Tacoma.

Captain Boppell and Company, basket cagers, returned last week from a Western Washington basketball invasion with two injured members, one victory out of four games played, and with a marked bank deficit.

Whitworth started well by winning from Ellensburg Normal, Monday, February 1, by a 29 to 25 score. The team was clear off shooting in the next night's encounter and lost to Bellingham Normal 26 to 12. The College of Puget Sound at Tacoma was next. In the first six minutes, Laudanbach went out with a sprained ankle and at the beginning of the second half, Davis broke his thumb. C. P. S. was 33 to 18. Whitworth completed their schedule in the game with McCormick Brothers, Thursday February 4. The final score was 50 to 37, McCormack Bros.

Those who made the trip were: Norton, Davis, C. Roehr, C. Boppell, Bell and Laudanbach.

The game against Ellensburg was a rough, loosely called contest with Ellensburg coming up from behind and shooting the tying count just as the final whistle blew. In the five minutes play-off, Norton dropped in two baskets and Davis one, as compared to a single goal for Ellensburg, thus giving Whitworth the victory 29 to 24. Norton was high point man on his team with 12 points.

The team took a train from Ellensburg at 1:30 A.M. and arrived in Seattle in the morning. They took an hour for breakfast, then boarded another train for Bellingham, arrived in the afternoon, stopped at the

WHITWORTH TO LAUNCH MILLION DOLLAR DRIVE

To Succeed Local Campaign of Last October in Which Spokane
Raised $100,000.

The statewide Whitworth college endowment campaign for one million dollars will be launched in the Synod of Washington in August or September under the direction of Dr. O. W. Buschgen of Chicago and conducted according to plans to be formulated by Dr. Scott Smith of Des Moines, Iowa.

The interest of the Presbyterian board was obtained two years ago. At that time Dr. Buschgen was selected to head the drive. The campaign committee is composed of such state leaders as: Dr. Mark A. Matthews, of the First Presbyterian Church of Seattle, as chairman; Dr. Frank C. McKean, pastor of the First Church of Spokane; Huntington Taylor of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; and W. L. McEachran, chairman of the board of trustees of Whitworth college. The twenty-four members of this committee represent eastern and western Washington.

To facilitate the raising of the generous amount required, the board of Christian Education is furnishing a team of from twelve to sixteen men who will canvass all Presbyterian churches in the Synod.

In October the people of Spokane raised $100,000 of this sum in money and pledges. The entire $100,000 raised in Spokane and three fourths of the sum raised in the Synod of Washington will become permanent endowment for Whitworth, the balance of the sum raised in the Synod will be used for finishing Presbyterian centers at the University of Washington, at Washington State College and at the University of

WHITWORTH DEFEATS LEWISTON NORMAL IN CONFERENCE TILT

Last Minute Rally Saves Game for Whitworth; Score Is 30-22.

W. S. C. FROSH WIN 50 TO 14

Washington State College celebrated Lincoln's birthday by sweeping victory of their frosh basketball team over Whitworth College 50 to 14. The frosh effectively used a fast passing game for their offensive. The game was as rough as the floor was slippery, which means much, for during the last half, it was no uncommon thing to see nine men sprawled out on the floor, with but one determined survivor, struggling for his balance. The scene would do justice to William S. Hart's best, yes, he would have done well to have been there to pick up pointers.

Roehr made the first point of the game by converting a foul. The frosh then settled down to work and scored 14 points before Whitworth began a rally that not only checked the frosh, but also netted 5 points for themselves before W. S. C. called time out. Here a substitution of Bell for Roehr and Roehr for Boppell was made which prevented Whitworth from working effectively thereafter.

The frosh made frequent substitutions. Boppell went back in at guard and Roehr moved back to center at the start of the second half. The teams fought hard but were too tired and slow to stop the frosh. Norton caught three difficult baskets one being from the side of the floor and over half the floor's length.

Stars were numerous—each participant saw at least seventy-five at various times when the floor came up rapidly to meet him.

OPERETTA TO BE GIVEN

The operetta "Sylvia" will be given by the Whitworth College glee club in the near future. There have been two practices and the results of the tryouts held February 15 have not yet been announced. Miss Dorothy Farr, instructor in voice at the college, will direct the production.

Five dejected young men returned to Whitworth after the Lewiston basketball game with muddy shoes and the expression of jilted lovers. The above cartoon gives a part of the reason.

HOW THE EDITOR STANDS

The editor believes that every person connected with Whitworth college should exercise conscientious effort toward the furthering of true scholastic and religious progress in the institution, and that he should discourage all influences which hinder in the attainment of this goal.

As he wishes to ever be in sympathy with the student body of which he is a member, he beseeches it to further this ideal.

He has no intention of beoming a fool of any campus group—neither will he enjoy hearing any member of any such body being slandered.

He regrets that he is not big enough to appreciate advice from students concerning every phase of the management of this paper. It is taken for granted that the faculty will not offer any. He intends that this paper wield an influence for the perpetuation and promotion of the ideals and purposes for which Whitworth was founded and is maintained.

LET'S COOPERATE

Where would a wagon go if a man was pulling on each end? Unless the men were of very different strength, the wagon would remain practically stationary.

The Country, Homes Estate and Whitworth College have much in common. In time families will wish to buy property near Whitworth that they may send their children through college and still keep them at home. On the other hand, as the community grows, more young people will be found in it who will want to attend Whitworth. Whitworth and Whitworth Community can help each other by working together.

The Whitworthian wishes anyone, who desires to do so, to contribute materially to the Forum.

SUBSCRIBERS WE THANK YOU

The Whitworthian has a circulation of eighty per cent of the student body and eighty five percent of the faculty. Theoretically the students are entitled to this paper without charge. However, when it was explained that the paper did not get a share of the student body funds and therefore needed financial support, the students graciously paid the semester subscription price without wpcing a protest.

The news writing class is grateful for such support.

CENSURE US NOT

Four years have elapsed since the publication of the last issue of the Whitworthian. At that time the student body "went broke" and the paper simultaneously followed its example. The paper is now re-established on a new and firmer foundation; it is here to stay. The question is, is it going to be worth while? Its subscribers should not judge it too harshly by its first issue. At the close of the year, if the students in the news writing class have learned how to publish a creditable paper; and, if during the semester the paper has been of any help to the students and to the school, then it will have succeeded in its aim.

He Can Be Gentle-- Doubters Ask Mary

Few know that in Whitworth College is a young man whose career has rivaled that of Abraham Lincoln, who rose from rail-splitter to president.

During the hot summer months this young gentleman kalsomined walls for a living (also he partially kalsomined floors) Whitworth College was the scene of much of his labor. In the fall this youth entered Whitworth as a junior. He has recently been elevated to a position as president of the Whitworth student body. If you are at a loss to identify the person in question, inquire of Miss Mary Ransburg.

It may be seen from this, that Donald Beal has had a varied career. He played half-back on the Whitworth College football team last fall, and occupied an infield berth on the College diamond squad last spring. He has also played basketball for the last three seasons.

His roommate, Mr. Boppell, declined to give any information concerning Don's character and habits, but stated that he wished he did know something scandalous to say about him.

It must be noted, however, Mr. Beal is occasionally as gentle as any lamb. If you don't believe it, ask Mary.

Enroute to the State Agricultural college Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster stopped Monday, January 1, to spend the day with Hamacher. Mr. Webster is to occupy the chair of Zoology at the college.

ELLENSBURG NORMAL VICTORIOUS IN GAME HERE FEBRUARY 11

Evens Score for Trouncing Administered by College at Ellensburg.

SUBSTITUTES PLAY WELL

Inability to work together spelled defeat for Whitworth in their game with Ellensburg Normal here Thursday, February 11, the score being 33 to 17.

Ellensburg started scoring soon after the first whistle and had caged 10 points before six minutes had passed. Davis was taken out because of his injured hand. Norton was moved up to forward and Adams sent in at guard. Ellensburg continued just as effectively and made most of the points from about the foul mark. A few moments later Boppell was removed in favor of W. Roehr who began to check Iles, Ellensburg's big center. Beal went in at forward.

As Ellensburg had scored almost as well the first 14 minutes they were ahead when the first half ended, 24 to 6.

The second half started with: Norton and Beal, forwards; C. Roehr, Center and, W. Roehr and Adams, guards. This combination composed of three second string men and two regulars, with Norton carrying the main burden of scoring, outplayed and outpointed the Normal team during the last half, 11 points to 9.

Boppell played guard the last ten minutes, adding much to Whitworth's speed. W. Roehr was forced out on personals.

This victory for Ellensburg evens up the score between the two schools for Whitworth had won the game with the Normal February 1, at Ellensburg.

Ellensburg	Whitworth
Stratton Forward	Bell.....
Brown Forward	Davis
Iles Center	C. Roehr
Terlig Guard	C. Boppell
Bridgham Guard	Norton
Substitutions: Ellensburg—Henry Stelley, Hammond, Trichette.
Whitworth—Adams, W. Roehr, Beal.
Remeree: Prindle, Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. W. A. Stevenson attended a tea given by Mrs. R. L. Edmonston and Mrs. A. L. Amos, at the home of Mrs. Amos, Friday, February 5. About one hundred women were present and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

Miss Stocket '25 was recently elected state secretary of the Episcopal young people's society.

LEWISTON NORMAL AND BELLINGHAM COMING HERE

Victory Over Lewiston Means Second Place in Columbia Valley Conference for Whitworth.

Fans will have an opportunity to see some speed in the two hoop contests to be staged in the local gymnasium, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

The Lewiston cage artists will be the first to invade the local floor in an attempt to snatch back the laurels recently won by Whitworth on the Lewiston floor.

This is the last conference game second place honors in the conference for Whitworth. Loss means sharing the honors with Spokane College.

The Whitworth quintet will meet on of the strongest teams in the northwest when the Bellingham Normal team attacks the college hoopers. The forwards of the normal team are fast and versatile in their attacks and the rest of the team gives them strong support. Our boys are going in to win and you know what they can do.

Judging by the fifteen points Davis made at Lewiston it agrees with him to have an injured hand.

There were too many baskets at which to shoot in the W. S. C. Frosh game. Bell spotted one in the corner that he especially enjoyed aiming at.

"Wash your lip" seemed to be the war cry of the Lewiston girls as Looie strode on the floor.

Norton was given due applause for the three spectacular baskets he caged at W. S. C.

Laudenbach has been unable to play during the past four games.

The worst that Whitworth can do this year is tie for second place in the Columbia Valley Conference with Spokane College.

Victory over Lewiston Friday means we hold second place and Spokane College third.

Captain "Bope" pulled a good trick when he called time out at Lewiston and got the team quiet and collected.

Dr. Newson deserves credit for the interest and effort he puts forth to win games.

The writer thinks Whitworth is indeed fortunate in having such a fine guard to fill Laudy's shoes while he is injured.

The rooters' section at Lewiston was good to view.

More About Western Trip

Leopold Hotel and slept a while in the afternoon.

The Bellingham Normal game began at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Whitworth was unable to find the basket, the only points made being three foul shots, converted by Boppell. Bill Davis was supplanted by Bell in the middle of the first half. Bell played the floor in old time form but missed his shots, three or four of which were close set-ups. During the last half, Whitworth outplayed Bellingham, making 9 points to their 8.

The 9 o'clock boat was taken for Seattle. The fellows all speak well of their boatripe! Davis played the "nickleodiah" constantly, using about four dollars worth of Whitworth's nickles. In true Norton style, that gentleman soon become acquainted with a lady who it was found had once "partook" of marriage, and with an organist.

The team went up on deck and then came down and sang for the passengers. Norton and Bell danced.

The team arrived in Tacoma just in time to get dressed and go on the floor. Norton started the C. P. S. game going by two baskets from the middle of the floor in the first three minutes. Whitworth guarded closely for the first six minutes and then Laudenbach sprained his ankle and had to be taken from the floor. Roehr moved back to guard and Bell went in at center. Roehr worked hard but was unaccustomed to the position and could not work with the team. The first half ended with the score 12 to 11 in favor of C. P. S.

The second half started well but Davis broke his thumb right away. As there was no one else to play, Davis finished the game, doing his best but hardly able to handle the ball. Wilson for C. P. S. caged a lot of short shots in the last five minutes, thus running the score up. The game ended 33-18 C. P. S.

Fred Neale with Bill Boppell and Carol Knox, drove down from Seattle to watch the game. Marcus Mackenzie, forward on last year's team, acted as scorer.

The game with McCormack Bros. started at 9 o'clock after two fast Commercial League preliminary games. As Laudenbach was unable to play, Norton and Boppell started at guards, Roehr at center, and Davis and Bell as forwards. Davis couldn't play well with his injured hand so with McCormack's consent, MacKenzie went in as forward. Norton was also shifted to forward, Bell to center and Roehr at guard with Boppell. This combination worked better. The McCormack team was bigger and taller. They won 50 to 37.

On the whole, Whitworth played better basketball on their trip than they have played here. None of the teams which beat them had been defeated this year. They had fair refereeing and were treated well throughout.

Boppell says the only disagreeable feature of the whole trip was that once on a train they were taken to be the U. of Washington team and once, the Whitman team. Of course, they explained with haste.

LEWISTON GAME SATURDAY

Shooting three baskets in rapid succession in the last two minutes of play, Whitworth pulled ahead of what appeared to be a tie and won from Idaho State Normal Saturday of 30 to 22.

The score at this time was 24 to 22 in favor of Whitworth, but due to an error the score board registered 22 points each, and every person in the gymnasium believed the score tied. It was "any body's game", preferably Lewiston's due to their rally.

Captain Boppell called time out and Whitworth team got together for quiet discussion and to become collected. When play was resumed they caged the three baskets as has been mentioned.

At the end of the first half the score was 18 to 8 in Whitworth's favor. During the second half Lewiston gathered 14 points to 12 for the college. Ross and Grabner stared for the Normal. Each man on the Whitworth team played well but Davis deserves special praise for making 14 points inspite of his injured hand.

No substitutions were made by either school. The men who played were:

Idaho Normal	Whitworth
Willebrand R.F.	Davis
Parks L.F.	Davis
Grabner C.	Roehr
Ross R.G.	Boppell
Harriman L.G.	Adams
Referee: Bushman.

SOCIETY--Luella Bruce

Deliah Barber and Mildred Hess, members of the class of '25 were guests of the college Friday, February 5.

Sigma Omicron sorority held its annual banquet in the Gothic room of the Davenport Hotel. The room was decorated in rose and white, the sorority colors. Those received into the society were Jane De Van, Margaret Ritter and Genevieve Claypoole.

Several of the college faculty members and alumni attended the A. A. U. W. tea in the Crescent tea room Saturday, February 6. Among those present were Mrs. W. A. Stevenson, and the Misses Beatrice Barnes, Eleanor Stockét, Deliah Barber, Mildred Hess, Dorothy Farr, and Selma Crow.

Mrs. Daisy Chaise Russell, '18 of Ababa, Abyssinia was in Spokane to attend the Kappa Gamma banquet.

Twenty-seven members of Kappa Gamma attended the annual Kappa Gamma banquet, held in the Davenport Hotel, Saturday February 6. Dorothy Brenton, Josephine Smith, Lillian Brown, Zada Padgham, and Julia Stunkard were received as new members.

Dr. W. A. Stevenson went to Seattle Friday, February 5, on a four days business trip. Carl Boppell and Walter Bell returned with him after spending a few days between semesters in the coast city.

Preparations for the traditional Colonial party are being made by a committee consisting of Dorothy Brenton, Julia Stunkard, and Lawrence Mitchelmore. This party is an all student affair, which takes place every year in February.

Kappa Gamma alumni banquet took place in the Oasis, Friday February 5. About twenty-two members were present.

Bertha Tattersall has been pledged to Kappa Gamma.

Laura Carson has been pledged to Sigma Omicron.

Wesley Roehr is the newly elected president of Kappa Omicron Sigma Fraternity. Other officers are: vice president, Fred Metzler; secretary, Lee Knoll; treasurer, Ralph Hansen and sergeants, Clarence Roehr and Charles Rexroad. In speaking for the organization, Mr. Roehr said, "We stand ready and willing at all times to do our utmost to further the best interests of Whitworth college."

At a meeting of the S. O. S. club of business girls, Tuesday night, Miss Morrison spoke on the subject "Alaska."

Mrs. Katherine Pederson, formerly of Whitworth, has returned to Klawack, Alaska, after a visit with relatives here.

Visiting at her home, Miss Crow spent the week end in Oakesdale.

As guests of the Sperry Flour Mill, the domestic science class with their instructors enjoyed a very delightful afternoon, Wednesday, February 3.

Dean Morrison dined Sunday, February 7, with Mrs. F. M. Handy. Miss Morrison and Mrs. Handy were formerly classmates at Amity College.

Miss Edna Montgomery visited in Pullman Tuesday, February 2.

Eleanor Stocket and Bertha Tattersall attended the state Episcopal church banquet at the Davenport hotel, Tuesday evening. About five hundred people were present.

Dean J. G. Patrick has been selected to sponsor the Community Chest drive at the college, Iowa.

Karl Rupp, a former student, arrived Saturday, February 6, from Oroville, Wash., for a visit with friends here.

Esther George is confined to her home with chicken pox.

Whitworthian Renewed

The student body has shown its interest in the paper by subscribing nearly one hundred per cent.

It is hoped that every Whitworth student and faculty member will subscribe for the paper. Community and mail order subscriptions are also coming in.

The advertising is in charge of Robert Stevenson, who has been chosen as business manager. Bob Stevenson is having little trouble in securing ads. Several of the students have volunteered to help obtain ads.

This is the first time in four years that Whitworth has had a school paper. The Journalism class has long been interested in a paper, and due largely to the efforts of Miss Barnes, Luella Bruce and Dave Adams, the matter was brought to the active attention of the faculty and student body.

Laurie's Column

The Lewis and Clark valedictorian for this year, Miss Esther Cushner, has only been in America six years. She went to school for six years in Poland, her native land and entered the Lincoln grade school in Spokane in October 1920.

"The Littlest Bridesmaid," the play given by the Whitworth Student Association last year is to be the Senior play at West Valley High school this year.

The Walla Walla high basketers seem to be on the road to another state championship, Walla Walla has lost but one game and that to the speedy Lewis and Clark team, Spokane champions. Earlier in the season Walla Walla won from the Spokane squad.

The Normal School championship of the state was taken by Cheney Normal, when they defeated Bellingham Normal in a past season game, February 22, by a 33 to 20 score. The two schools had met earlier in the season each taking one game.

The Puget Sound College basketball squad has averaged almost a point a minute for all games played this year.

Washington State College is evidently tired of jazz. A new band is being organized this semester. It will play at pep rallies and students gatherings, but it will not be a jazz band.

FARR AND PATICK TO DIRECT "SYLVIA" CAST

Visiting an estate in old England and seeing the life of the farmer and noble will be the experience of the person who is able to view the presentation of "Sylvia" an operetta in two acts to be given by the Whitworth students in the future, the date not yet having been set. The operetta is under direction of Miss Doris Mrs. J. G. Patrick coaching the speaking parts.

The following students form the cast:

- Sir Bertram De Lacy, the court pet George Norton
- Prince Tobbytum, a man of consequence Robert Stevenson
- William, an honest farmer Harvey Starling
- Robin, a country lad Donald Beal
- Sylvia, betrothed to De Lacy Lindalee Miller
- Betty, betrothed to William Mary Ransburg
- Arabella, a lady in waiting at court Margaret Ritter
- Araminta, her sister Mildred Peterson Polly; Bertha Tattersall; Molly, Julia Stunkard; Dolly, Josephine Smith—Farmers' daughters-friends of Betty.
- Chorus of farmer-lads and daughters.

DEBATE TEAMS WILL MEET S. U.—LEWISTON

Whitworth Will Argue on "European Debt" Settlement Question.

DEBATERS MIX MARCH 5

Negative Representatives go to Spokane University. Lewiston Normal Comes to Whitworth.

With less than two weeks for preparation, students of Whitworth college will debate Spokane University affirmative at Spokane "U" and Lewiston Normal's negative at Whitworth on the question, "Resolved that the United States is justified in demanding dollar for dollar repayment of Allied debts incurred from August 1914 to November 1918," in a triangular contest to be held on Friday evening, March 5. Spokane college has withdrawn from competition.

It was discovered at a meeting of the Columbia Valley Forensic association, held on February 20 at the Davenport Hotel, that Whitworth college had not yet made preparation for the contest. The Valley candidates were called together on February 24; the subject for debate was read, sides of the question were selected and tryouts were announced for Tuesday, March 2.

Whitworth entries in our local try out are: Margaret Ritter, Philip Laurie, Melvin Gilmore, Louis Randall, Dave Adams, Harvey Starling, George Norton, and Robert Stevenson.

CAST PREPARES FOR PLAY

Comedy to Be Given March 26. Almost every evening finds the play cast of "Come Out of the Kitchen," working strenuously under the direction of Miss Alice Morrison, instructor of dramatics, in order that the play may be presented in the college chapel, March 26. This comedy is to one of two all-college plays, to be given this year and is reproduced for the benefit of the student association.

COLONIAL PARTY HELD EVENING, FEBRUARY 22

George Cuts Cherry Tree — Professors Dance Virginia Reel.

Before men with powdered heads and ladies in trailing gowns, George chopped down the cherry tree at the annual Colonial party, held on Washington's birthday in the college chapel, which was decorated for the occasion with cherries and the national colors. Members and friends of the college were in attendance.

One of the features of the evening was the dancing of the Virginia reel, in which most of our learned professors proved especially adept. Games, music, and refreshments made enjoyable the remainder of the evening.

STUDENTS FILL VACANCIES

Burton Belknap, the newly elected yell leader, led Whitworth in her rooting for the first time, in the Bellingham game at Whitworth college Saturday February 20. Melvin Gilmore and Lawrence Mitchelmore were chosen student representatives of the Columbia Valley Forensic association at the same student meeting held February 17. The three offices were filled due to vacancies.

WHITWORTH STANDS SECOND

Parks Plays Best For Visitors—Bell, Davis, and Norton Star For College.

Fast passing enabled Whitworth to defeat Lewiston Normal here February 19, 39 to 22, in the closing conference game of the season. Whitworth stands second in the Columbia Valley conference as a result of the victory.

The visitors scored first with two field goals, one of them from the center of the floor, but were unable to hold the lead after the college team started working smoothly during the second quarter.

This game was Laudenbach's first appearance on a floor since he sprained his ankle at Tacoma in the College of Puget Sound game.

The college lead at the end of the first half 19-11.

For fear that the Normal would stage a come-back in the second half as they had done at Lewiston the previous week, the Whitworth five started the half with a drive which lasted till the final whistle.

Norton made 18 points in the game, most of which resulted from Bell drawing the guards out by feigning a pass or shot, and then passing to Davis or Norton for a score. Willbrand was high point man for

COLLEGE BASKETBALL TEAM PLACES SECOND

To Whitworth College goes the distinction of administering the one defeat which Spokane University suffered during the conference season just completed. With five victories and one loss the University has won the basketball championship of the Columbia Valley Conference.

The two schools met twice, the first was won by the University, 33 to 22; the last encounter was won by Whitworth, 40 to 22.

Coach Newsom's men also won from Spokane College once, and Lewiston twice, thus ending in second place. Boppell as captain ran the team to a final percentage of .666, and often times pennant winning average.

The team, worked hard, was well managed, well supported, and well trained.

Chalk one down for Whitworth.

I'LL STUDY TOMORROW

Why study anyhow? I'm here the four big years of my life, but why shouldn't I shut my eyes on the future and for the present play? To piddle is not only fun but also is easy, far easier than to study. Let the book worm thrill from study but excuse me. The frail person doesn't exercise, it's the athlete who participates in the sports

They say that this is the formative period of my life, but I'll stuff now, then when I graduate and there is nothing left to do but go to work, I'll put my shoulder to the wheel and become a huge success.

I wonder if the hours which Lincoln spent by the fireside absorbing "Pilgrim's Progress" affected his later life? If I succeed in my Whitworth project, the building of a mind and character worthy of the best within me, then I will have formulated a recipe for really living. But future success is not worth the preparation necessary, far be it from me to waver from the line of least resistance.

No, I've wasted my time long enough; I do firmly resolve that tomorrow I shall study. There, that frees my conscience and it's safe too, for tomorrow never comes.

But how about today's assignments and the assignments that will be given me in future years, will I answer "Not prepared?"

BEHAVE IN CHAPEL

Any person with school spirit will conduct himself well during chapel exercises. Any gentleman, regardless of feeling of loyalty will do the same. Whitworth men and women have both spirit and character; and should make the chapel hour beautiful and impressive; then an incomprehensible joy will come to all in attendance.

WHITWORTH NEEDS A MASCOT

Whitworth's basketball team this year played the Bellingham Vikings, the Spokane College Chieftains, the Zongaga Bulldogs, and other teams that are known by their mascot. These schools must know us as "Whitworth" only, for we have no mascot. "Are the students at Whitworth satisfied to let this continue?"

WHITWORTH TO DEBATE TWICE FRIDAY

Debate is the dominant school activity of the hour. Two teams have been selected. Next Friday evening the negative team goes to Spokane University, and the same night the affirmative team meets Lewiston Normal here. The members of these two teams are working hard gathering material. Athletics, plays, and such, are fine but make no substitutes for debate. It is well that this activity is given its place here.

Student Attributes Success to Fortune

We will divide the present Whitworth student body into two classes: those who "blow their own horn" are in one class, and those who must have their horns blown for them are in another class.

Carl Laudenbach, star guard on the Whitworth basketball team, belongs in the latter class. "Laudy" is one of the most consistent players on our team this year. He has a faculty for breaking his collar bone and spraining his ankle but we can forgive him for that. Carl also played end on the football team last fall and was hindered in baseball by an injured shoulder.

Laudenbach will edit this year's annual and we can expect a good one. He handles the destinies of the Sophomores on the executive board, and acts as treasurer of the student association. Who but "Laudy" could do so many things so quietly.

There is one remarkable thing in Carl's success which warrants mention. He depends on luck and providence, and not his own mind. When the reporter asked him what he thought of himself he replied, "I don't think, it's too much of a strain."

Whitman with no defeats wins the Northwest Conference is basket ball this season.

The Puget Sound "Loggers" missed a chance to tie for first place in the conference when they lost to Willamette by one point margin.

LOOIE'S ROAR

'Tis spring! Again of things of love
The students start to think!
See! Bertha is just giving Lew Randall a sly wink!

Lew turns aside—let others love—
He soon forgets (?) the wink—
He calmly turns a page, and dips
His pencil in the ink!

Mrs. Shutt (rubbing fingers speculatively over the top of the dresser in Dave Adam's room) "Do you call this clean? Why—look, I can write my name in the dust."

Dave: (admiringly) "Gee— isn't education a wonderful thing!"

George Norton is very prominent in student activities. (Pd. Adv.)

Gonzaga SENIORS are starting to grow mustaches, the Spokane Chronicle reports. That shows Whitworth is way ahead. Our SOPHOMORES have had hirsute adornments for some time!

Carl: "Where are you going Carl?"

Carl: "To town to see Gladys. Where are you going?"

Carl: "To town to see Gladys."

"Bert" says she likes to eat grass, especially when she is a little hoarse.

Cheer up, Boppell, if Gladys really loves you, it's only 669 days until Leap Year, and then she'll tell you.

Charlie: "Gee, such singing! I wish I could get some place where I couldn't hear you, Brewer."

Brewer: "You can go to Hades, Charlie. There are no Brewers there."

Stan Pearce has given a speech in class recently on "Chasing Smokes." No, Robert, not "Coffin Nails" (cigarettes); it was forest fires.

Laudy: "I've strung up many a mile

He is six feet two inches of bone and brawn. Folks, do you wonder I don't make any Dirty Digs about my Brother?

Eleanor Stockett asked Carl Laudenbach if he believed in Darwinism and told him that she did. He said: "No, Eleanor, I don't believe in it but I can easily see how you can."

WHITWORTH BASKETBALL TEAM PLACES SECOND IN CONFERENCE

Every Team in the Conference Defeated at Least Once by Whitworth Team.

SEVEN MEN GET LETTERS

Trip to Coast and into Idaho Made During Season

Conference Standings.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Spokane U.	5	1	.833
Whitworth	4	2	.666
Spokane C.	3	3	.500
Lewiston	0	6	.000

With four victories and two defeats the Whitworth College basketball team places second in the Columbia Valley Conference. Seven men are to be awarded letters this week, probably today in the chapel.

Whitworth started the season by losing to Spokane University, January 15, on their floor, 35 to 22. Clarence Roehr tore a gash in his right eyelid in the first five minutes of play and was unable to continue.

The game was fast but the University's offense proved too effective for the College team.

The Spokane College-Whitworth game January 18 was hard, fast and clean. The lead was exchanged often and it was not until the final minutes that Whitworth drew away from the visitors and took the laurels by a 27 to 24 score.

CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES LOST

On January 22, the team went on the Spokane College floor to warm up for an eight o'clock game, but, due to a lack of a referee, the game was not called until nine.

During the first half the Whitworth players were literally cracked off their feet. They were either getting knocked down or picking themselves up. The half ended 12-3 in favor of the Spokane Chieftains. The last half was in Whitworth's favor due to the clever tackling and blocking of the defense and the smashing of the offense. The final score was 21-13 for the Chieftains. The roughness was due to lax calling by a non-conference referee, and the defeat ruined Whitworth's chance for conference championship.

The return game with Spokane U. was played at Whitworth, January 29, before a good crowd of both University and Whitworth rooters. The college five played their best home game of the season against these league leaders and won 40 to 22. This game was Roehr's first appearance in the lineup since he injured his eye the first of the season.

Newsom and players traveled to Lewiston to play the Normal there February 13. The game was a thriller for the Lewiston rooters as their five came up from behind to within one basket of tying Whitworth's score, just two minutes before the game ended. Whitworth won 30 to 22. Laudenbach was out of the game because of injury.

The last game of the conference season was a return game with Lewiston Normal played here February 19. Norton, Bell and Davis developed a fast passing game and ran up a score of 39 to 22 for the College.

Whitworth had a heavy schedule of non-conference games, which included Ellensburg Normal at Ellensburg, Bellingham Normal at Bellingham, College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, McCormack Brothers at Tacoma, Washington State College frosh at Pullman and return games with Ellensburg and Bellingham Normals at Whitworth.

LETTERS AWARDED SOON

Three veteran players will receive letters for basketball. Walter Bell, center, will be awarded his third basketball letter, and Captain Carl Boppell, guard, and William Davis, forward, will each receive a second letter. First year letters will be awarded to George Norton, forward, Clarence Roehr, center, Dave Adams, guard, and Carl Laudenbach, guard. Davis will receive a manager's letter.

A New Freshie's Lament Freddy Attends a Game

Dper Sally,

As you suggested I went to the game which was played between Whitworth and Lewistoun last Friday after dark. I don't see much sense to the go'ns on there and I ain't goin' again this year but I'll do my best to tell ya all about it. Fust they was a hole lot a' guys who was a running around with swimmin' suits on. They musta all been jailbirds cause they each had a number on.

They was a runnin' around throwin' a thing wat looked like a squash at each other only it didn't smash. Pretty soon a guy with a string around his neck with a whistle on it come a runnin' out on the floor and grabbed the punkin. He held it up in the air, but it slipped and come down. A big guy swatted it and tried to hit it but it didn't do no good. Everytime the guy blew his whistle they all had to stop. I'd a put him he was so blamed interferin'.

Pretty soon a guy threw the punkin through a hole with a fish net around it. It looked like it mighta been meant fer a hangin' basket and the bottom dropped out.

One time a feller took the punkin and throwed it through the hole and all the other guys stood around and watched.

First he looked at his feet, though

VIKINGS PASS WHITWORTH DURING FINAL MINUTES

Too Much Odell, Bellingham Forward, Costs Whitworth the Game.

Coming up from behind in the last eight minutes of play, Bellingham Normal swamped Whitworth here Saturday, February 20, by the score of 38 to 24, in the closing game of the season for the college.

Whitworth was ahead at the end of the first half 14 to 8, but was unable to check Odell, Viking forward, in closing minutes, and thereby lost the game. In the second half Odell scored 18 points, the majority of which were made in four minutes' time, the nine to five minutes that preceded the final whistle. Davis made 12 points for Whitworth.

GIRLS WIN POINTS

Whitworth G. A. A. girls who won a point in basketball are: Captain Marthalena Miller, Julia Stunkard, Laura Carson, Genevieve Claypoole, Mary Ransburg, Luella Bruce, Lindalee Miller, Leslie Rasco, and Zada Padgham.

they wasn't dirty nor nothin'. He jerked in his stomach and puffed out his backbone and heaved.

Up in the air was a porch with a fence around it with a lotta' guys hollern' like they was loco. On one side of the porch was four wimen of assorted sizes. They was all dressed in black 'cept two who had dark brown coats. I spose they was too poor to by new black ones. I don't know who'd died.

There was a little red headed critter wat made more noise 'n any of 'em She had on a monkey's cap and jumped up 'en down wavin' her arms. I asked wat ailed her and they said she'd got school spirit. Them spirits musta be even stronger than Paw's corn whiskey.

I finally cum to the conclusion that the guys on the porch was just a little off and not dangerous though they hadem panned in. Those down below musta been clean gone or else why would they run around swattin' a punkin for? I didn't stay to the end of the game but beat it, for some of them crazy guys got close to me. Please write ter me soon.

Yere Friend,

Freddy Freshmun.

P. S.—David was one of the guys suit on but he musta already killed Goliath cause I didn't see him around.

STUDENTS ARE GUESTS AT PRESIDENT'S HOME

Basketball Men From Lewiston Normal Attend Reception—Kitchen Attractive.

President and Mrs. W. A. Stevenson were at home to student and faculty members of Whitworth, and to visiting delegates from Lewiston Normal, Friday night, February 19.

The short program was fully appreciated. Marthalena Miller read "The Kid" and "Pity the Preacher"; Thelma Porter read "Um Potpourri D Elocution" and "Husbands for Sale." Both Coach Newson of Whitworth and Coach McPhee of Lewiston told a few funny stories.

The president's kitchen proved a great attraction during the latter part of the evening. Numerous well known campus youths were several times seen issuing therefrom with plates well filled with cream and cake.

PERSONALS

Invitations are being issued to the town girls "Sniff" party which will be held in the "Eggplant" Friday, March 5. All women members of the college and faculty are invited.

Edna Graham '23 is teaching in the Commercial and English department at Davenport.

Miss Selma Crow spoke at the dinner in Culbertson's tearoom for all Home Economics teachers of Eastern Washington Saturday, February 20.

Helen Jacobson spent the week end at her home in Sandpoint, Idaho.

Frank Henry '25 is employed as an electrical engineer in Pittsburg.

March 12 is the date that has been selected for the girls open dormitory, which is one of the traditional social events of the college year.

Dean Alice Morrison attended the banquet at the First Presbyterian church, where the Rev. W. I. Wishart spoke Thursday evening.

At a Rotary Club meeting in Coeur d'Alene Friday, February 19, President W. A. Stevenson addressed the members on "Whitworth College."

Guests at the college on Washington's birthday were: Gladys Cariso, Gladys Tattersall, Melinda Jacobson, and Leo Bollanson.

Lillian Brown "The first", a former student at Whitworth is employed as cashier and bookkeeper in the office of the Washington laundry.

INFORMAL PARTY GIVEN

Students Are Guests of Miss Gladys Tattersall.

Miss Gladys Tattersall gave an informal party at her home W1917 Riverside Avenue, Saturday evening.

TRI-G HAS ELECTION

Lillian Brown was recently elected president of the Tri-G society for the next semester. Caroline Petsch was chosen vice president, Mildred Pederson, secretary; and Josephine Smith, treasurer. The club plans to meet every Monday for the rest of the year.

GREAT FALLS MINISTER GIVES TALK IN CHAPEL

That the Christian college gives the student "living" religion and the religion was the statement of Rev. Leo Totten, alumnus and former student pastor of Washington State college and at present pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Great Falls, Montana, when he addressed chapel services Tuesday, February 23.

If America would follow the ancient Hebrew's example and give 12 per cent of her people, 10 per cent of money and 5 per cent of time to education, she would, according to Mr. Totten, have no schools lacking funds or teachers, and would be a greater aid to humanity. He stated that the Christian school will furnish the great Christian leader.

Hazel Petch '17 who has been teaching Domestic Science at Davenport, has returned to her home in Mount Vernon because of illness.

Burton Belknap went skiing on Mount Spokane Saturday.

Dorothy Brenton read Tuesday evening at a meeting of the ladies circle of the Baptist church at the home of Mrs. M. O. Fahey, E2004 16th.

Miss Edna Montgomery spent the Sunday with her sister in Pullman.

In the interests of the college Dr. W. A. Stevenson left Tuesday, February 23, for a trip East, where he will stop in Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburg, and New York.

Ann Mary Muir '18 owns two thoroughbred collie dogs, on which she has taken several prizes.

STUDENTS DISCUSS SELECTION OF MASCOT

A student body meeting was held following chapel exercises last Friday, February 26, with the purpose of selecting a mascot for the College. Clarence Roehr explained the need for a mascot, and various students suggested possible names. No action has as yet been taken.

VOLLEY BALL UNDER WAY

Nineteen girls are turning out for volley ball, in answer to Captain Mary Ransburg's call of last Monday, February 22.

To make the team counts on point toward a letter, a gold pin, or a sweater. Twelve girls are turning out on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays in an effort to make the team. Seven additional girls out for gymnasium credits.

WHITWORTH LADIES' AID GIVES BENEFIT DINNER

One Hundred Twenty-five People Served Chicken Dinner Friday Evening.

A real old fashioned chicken dinner with plenty of biscuits and gravy was given by the Ladies' Aid of the Whitworth Community Church in the College dining room, Friday evening, February 26. The proceeds from the dinner, approximately twenty-five dollars, were turned over to the College Athletic Association. It is estimated that one hundred and twenty-five people were served during the evening.

A student committee consisting of Zada Pagham, Helen Jacobson and Margaret Ritter assisted the Ladies' Aid committee.

A short program in charge of Miss Margaret Ritter was given immediately following the supper.

The University of Hawaii football squad is determined not to air any millionaire shoe dealers. They play football in bare feet.

By a new rule at the State College at Pullman, all students who ranked in the lower fourth in high school according to grades will be barred from entrance.

Spring football practice is in order at the University of Idaho. Coach Robert Mathews hopes to get the jump on conference opponents. One hundred men are expected to turn out.

Laurie's Column

"The Mallet," Hillyard High School paper expresses the hope that we will be able to successfully carry out our million dollar drive.

Bellingham Normal's Vikings lost a heart breaker to the University freshman basket beavers, twenty-four to twenty-three.

Hillyard high school girls are fond of basketball apparently, as enough turned out to make seventeen full teams out of a total enrollment of 200 girls.

Movies in college are becoming more common. The camera is used to instruct prospective "bugologists" in Jamestown College's biology department.

"Dr. W. A. Stevenson was the author of a featured article in the February 25 number of the "Herald and Presbyterian and Presbytery" on the subject "Pioneering for Christian Education in the Great Northwest". An editorial appearing in the same issue tells of the needs of the colleg and urges that it be supported."

Several University of Californian men recently appeared in classes with shaving mugs and brushes and proceeded to shave during the class hour. This was in the form of a protest because the women insisted on powdering at any and all hours.

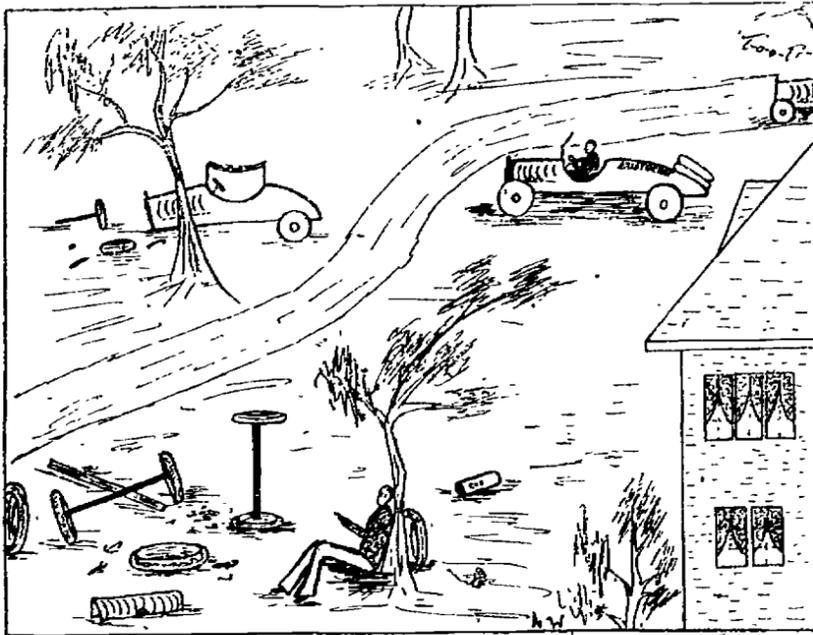

WILD ANIMALS ARE MOST POPULAR SCHOOL MASCOTS

"Redskins Overwhelmed by Wolves." Mother reads the above on the sporting page which she has picked up by chance and her eyes dilate with horror. "Oh, the poor red men." Big Brother, however, supplies the necessary information to soothe her startled nerves. Such names as "Grizzlies," "Huskies," "Golden Bears," and "Pirates" are common to all sports fans. Some of the names for college teams are taken from the character of the school, such as the Whitman "Missionaries."

Then there is the type of name which comes from the industry of the locality in which the school is located, such as the Puget Sound "Loggers", or the Ballard High School "Shingle Weavers". We all know the Washington State "Cougar", the University "Husky" and other famous animals.

Then we have another type of name copied from the state name for its citizens such as the "Wisconsin Badgers" and the "Michigan Wolverines". Sometimes a color is used to designate the official representatives of a school such as the "Crimson Tide," of Alabama. Hurrah for the Whitworth (———)?

WHITWORTH DEBATERS WIN FROM LEWISTON NORMAL

Debaters Lose to Spokane University But Rank Superior in Rebuttal Work.

Winning and losing a debate gives Whitworth second place in the Columbia Forensic association triangular debates, held Friday March 5, on the conference question.

"Resolved: That the United States is justified in demanding dollar for dollar repayment of allied debts incurred between August 1914 and September 1916." Spokane University, with two victories, ranks first in the association.

"Squashing" opposition by strong rebuttal work, the Whitworth affirmative debate team cleared the way to victory over their Lewiston normal opponents in the conference debate held in the College chapel.

As there was only one clash of points during the constructive speeches, much depended on the rebuttal work. Here the Whitworth team, with only two weeks of preparation, clearly showed superiority over their opponents. The rebuttal of Melvin Gilmore was especially strong, and perhaps

OPERETTA CAST AT WORK

"Sylvia Will Be Given Some Time in March or April.

"Sylvia" the Whitworth college operetta will be given about the middle of April or the first of May. The Glee club practices regularly every Tuesday night and the girls have special chorus practice every Friday afternoon at 3.

SCHOOL COMEDY WILL BE PRESENTED ON MARCH 26

Play Cast Will Put on Finishing Touches Next Week.

ADMISSION 25 AND 35 CENTS

"Come Out of the Kitchen" To Be Given in Chapel.

"Come Out of the Kitchen," the all-Whitworth comedy will be given on the evening of March 26 as was announced earlier in the season, according to Miss Alice Morrison, director of dramatics. Miss Morrison states that Act 1 is in pretty good shape and Act 2 was rehearsed last week with a review of Act 1 during the week-end.

The remainder of the practice schedule calls for a recital of Act 3 this week. A review of Act 2 will be made Friday and Saturday. Next week will be used to put on the finishing touches in readiness for presentation of the play Friday evening at eight o'clock in the college chapel. Admission charges for the comedy are announced at 35 and 25 cents.

MCMILLAN HALL FAMED FOR ITS 'GASOLINE ALLEY'

Girls Hold Open Dorm Friday—Rooms Decorated With Welcome Signs.

"Open Dorm" was in vogue at McMullan Hall, Friday evening.

The guests assembled at eight o'clock in "Gasoline Alley," commonly known as the girls' parlor, and selected partners for stunts, each person having a different companion for each of the ten stunts. The acting of "Romeo and Juliet" on the stairway, was perhaps the most dramatic display of the ten.

The boys inspected each room with handkerchiefs in hand but were unable to detect dust anywhere. The brooms and garbage cans which had been in evidence throughout the entire day, had not worked in vain.

Guests were greeted at each door by a placard reading such as, "Cun Inn," "Dew Drop Inn," "Jazz Inn," and "Smile Inn." Candy was usually

DISASTER AWAITS US IF—

Students, here is the situation: In less than three months this school term will end and we will go home to enjoy the summer. Credits will be given for work completed but if we are behind in some course at that time, it will be necessary for us to take books home and to study during our vacations.

Not only will our vacations be spoiled; but also, because make-up work is always done with dread, it will be poorly done, if done at all. The entire semester's work will be lost if the make-up work is left undone.

The last few weeks of the year are busy weeks that leave no time for back work, if we get behind now we will be behind when college dismisses.

Though the sun is bright and warm, and big and lazy; and the campus is indeed inviting, we may enjoy these attractions but should not allow them to be detrimental to our progress.

To succumb to spring fever now means disaster in the end.

SUPPORT THE PLAY.

The members of the College play cast and its director are hard at work in preparation for the presentation March 26. This comedy is the big dramatic enterprise of this year and it deserves the support and cooperation of the student body. Rest assured that the cast will do its share, but it requires support to make success. Let's back the play.

WANTED—A MASCOT.

Now that winter is over and there is no further need for the student body to remain dormant, why cannot life be expressed by the selection of a college mascot?

The students stalled for time at the meeting two weeks ago, on the reasonable grounds that, as a mascot would be a permanent fixture, it should be selected with care. Time was extended but is the mascot any nearer now?

Other schools experience little difficulty in finding a mascot worthy of their institution; why should Whitworth students be so hard to please? It would be well to present the spring sports with a mascot.

ENDOWMENT PUBLICITY

Many more people in Seattle and throughout the state now know that Whitworth is going to wage a million dollar endowment campaign next fall, because they have read a news story published in the Seattle Post Intelligencer, February 9 issue, that informed them on the matter.

This story was given prominent position and probably escaped the attention of but few P. I. readers. By informing the people now, it is going to be much easier to realize the million dollar campaign goal when the active drive starts.

WILLEY DRAWS CARTOON

The cartoon in this issue was drawn by Laura Willey, as Clarence Roehr, regular cartoonist, has an injured hand. The Whitworthian staff is grateful for Laura's assistance.

Seniors' Red Leaders Not Russian Variety

"My kingdom no! Do I look like it?" were the words hurled at the inquisitive reporter who ventured to ask Dorothy Brenton, senior class president if she were distinguished. Several years work on the debate team has made Dorothy extremely adept at hurling words. Besides upholding the dignity of the senior class, Miss Brenton is serving as college yell leader this year. She can excite more enthusiasm of a genuine variety, than Barnum and Bailey's circus. Dorothy is a member of Kappa Gamma Sorority and vice president of the Volunteer Fellowship. During her spare time she takes a measly twenty-seven hours of class work and drags down A's.

As one of Miss Brenton's friends remarked, "Her crowning glory is her red hair." It is not auburn, but just plain red. Dorothy's temper is occasionally aroused, as shown by a recent battle which she experienced with a milk truck. Both combatants were towed to town for repairs.

RESIGNS FROM PASTORATE

Dr. Hayes Plans To Give More Time to College.

In order that he may be able to devote more time to classical work at the College, Dr. Charles W. Hayes has resigned from his pastorate at the Bethany Presbyterian church.

Dr. Hayes has for the last two years been both pastor in Spokane and teacher at the College. He is at present assisting in the revival services held at the Third United Presbyterian church under the direction of Rev. Pratt of Colorado Springs.

The resignation will take effect as soon as the church is able to find a new pastor, which will perhaps not be before June.

LOOIE'S ROAR

"Hail! Gentle Spring," the poet cries,
And the first blush of Spring
Reveals to us an ugly sight,
Of hideous looking things.

They're Bugs. All o'er the campus they Are strewn, just piece by piece.
On them Collegians work and cuss,
And wallow in the grease.

Beneath one I see Norton's face
And Charlie's dirty shirt
And Laudy, with some old clothes on
Is playing in the dirt.

And over Spring's bright blossoms
More Bug Mechanics rush—
No wonder its the Blush of Spring—
Ye Gawds! Spring ought to blush!

ATHLETICS

By Dave Adams

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AWARDS TWO SWEATERS THIS YEAR

Awards Are Based on Point System—Letters and Pins Also Given.

ALL-STAR TEAM SELECTED

Girls Picked on Honor Team Are Padgham, L. Miller, Ransburg, Carson, Claypoole, and Capt. Miller.

The Women's Athletic Association of Whitworth College has closed a successful basketball season with the selection of an all-star girls team. Those winning places on the team are: Marthalena Miller (Capt.) and Zada Padgham, forwards; Lindalee Miller, center; Mary Ransburg, side-center; Laura Carson, and Genevieve Claypoole, guards.

The Women's Athletic Association was formed in the Spring of 1924. It is made up of all girls of the college and has a regular constitution and by-laws. It is for inter-class activities only and has never engaged in outside contests. Letters are awarded at the end of each year to those who have earned them by winning five points in at least three activities. Any woman who earns eight points in four activities receives a gold pin. Three Whitworth students won gold pins last year: Sara Miller, Mary Ransburg and Marthalena Miller. A sweater is awarded to any association member who wins at least twelve points in six activities. Only one sweater has ever been awarded and that was earned by Delilah Barber, a member of the class of 1925. Marthalena Miller and Mary Ransburg will receive sweaters this year.

All Whitworth girls are interested in the association which fills a large place among campus organizations. Each year the annual football banquet is in charge of the women's association. The April Frolic and the Women's Athletic Association rally held in the fall are also annual affairs. The executive board of the student association is banqueted each year and an annual spring meeting is held where the awards of the year are given out. At present volleyball is the main sport on the program.

The officers of the Association are: Thelma Porter, president; Lessie Rasco, secretary, and Luella Bruce, treasurer.

After seeing the girls' rooms during the Open Dorm, last Friday, we are more confirmed than ever to the solitary life.

We wouldn't feel at home in such immaculate rooms!

Wesley Roehr Heads All-Conference 'Pint'

The four all-conference football men of Whitworth met March 2, at 2:30 a. m. and organized an "inseparable brotherhood."

The unique name of All-conference Pine was chosen after a discussion in which Pint was accepted as meaning "quart et".

Wesley Roehr, because of his recognized football prowess was elected General Debility; Dave Adams, Major Feetache; Looie Roehr, Corporal Punishment; and Charley Rexroad, Private Property.

The meeting adjourned in a riot. (Note: This article stolen from the society page.)

MORE EXCHANGES NEEDED

Hastings Collegian and Jamestown College Paper Included in List.

Whitworthian now has a number of exchanges with other schools having papers. The nearest exchange is the "Mallet" from Hillyard high school while the exchange which travels the farthest is from Hastings, Nebraska, representing Hastings College. Jamestown, North Dakota sends the "Jamestown Collegian" and Ellensburg Normal sends the "Student Opinion". These papers are on file in Miss Barnes' rooms and the students are welcome to read them. It is hoped that the exchange list will grow.

Open Dorm Held

The third floor was named "Pop Bottle Inn" in honor to the favorite pastime of the girls living on that floor.

After inspection sandwiches, cake, and coffee were served by the girls.

The final event of the evening was a fashion show put on by ten boys (Dean Patrick included).

The notice on the bulletin board expressing the boys' appreciation for the party, is one of the many testimonies given.

Hastings College, Nebraska, has won eleven basketball games and lost two for an average of .846. There are fourteen colleges in the Nebraska College league. Hastings College has a new idea in printing annuals. The name of the owner will be printed on the cover of each annual if he so wishes.

COLLEGE TO COMPETE IN TRACK MEET MAY 26

Davis, Boyle, Rexroad Are Letter-Men—New Men Add Strength to Team.

"We ought to have a good team," is the opinion expressed by William Davis, captain of the season's track team. Regular practice will start soon in preparation for the Columbia Valley Conference meet to be staged at Cheney, May 26. The five conference schools; Spokane University, Lewiston Normal, Spokane College, Cheney Normal and Whitworth are expected to compete.

Whitworth has Davis, Watson Boyle and Charles Rexroad, three experienced point winners, back this year. In the conference meet last spring, Boyle took first in the pole vault and should repeat this year. Davis placed third in the 440 yard, and second in the javelin. He expects to turn out for the javelin, 440 yard, and broad jump.

Rexroad, the third experienced man, was second high point man in the conference meet three years ago. He intends to compete in the two mile, discus, shot put, and 880 yard.

New men who are expected to turn out are Clarence Roehr, shot and discus; Fred Metzler, mile and 880 yard; George Norton, 880 yard and javelin; Carl Boppell, mile and 880 yard; and Carl Laudenbach, 440 yard.

Captain Davis wishes to urge more men to turn out when regular practice starts.

Debaters Break Even

The local debaters were Robert Stevenson, George Norton, and Melvin Gilmore. The Normal team was George Justice, Kate Davis and Rose Jacobs.

Dr. C. B. Newsom acted as chairman. The judges were: Rev. Robert Warner of the Deaconess hospital, Thomas Corkery, attorney-at-law and Paul S. Filer of the Clark Teachers' Agency.

Negative Team Loses.

Whitworth college debaters upholding the negative of the question, were defeated at Spokane University by a two to one decision.

Spokane University appeared to put up the better delivery than Whitworth due mainly to the less than two weeks preparation of the College. Whitworth lacked the polish and smoothness of finished debaters.

The contest was a well fought battle, however, with the Whitworth team having somewhat the advantage in rebuttal.

Spokane University affirmative team: Bonnie Mae Simpson, Alice Rice and Cloma Houston. Students upholding the Whitworth negative are: Phillip Laurie, Lewis Randall and Margaret Ritter.

Spokane University negative team won a 2 to 1 victory over the Lewiston Normal school.

Ellensburg dropped a basketball game recently to the Roselyn miners by a 25 to 24 score.

TRI-G TO HONOR DEAN MORRISON

Pederson, Brenton, and Tattersall
Head Committee Doing Work

Dean Alice Morrison will pour tea tomorrow at the St. Patrick's day tea given in her honor by the girls of the Tri-G society in the Boys' Parlor. All women of the college and the alumni members of the society have been invited.

Committee chairmen are Mildred Pederson, decorating; Dorothy Brenton, program; and Bertha Tattersall, refreshments

PERSONALS

Wilma Brewster of Los Angeles, California was the guest of Jane DeVan at the College, Friday, March 5

Coach E. O. Lewis and wife of Lewiston Normal who accompanied the debating team, were guests of the College, Friday, March 5.

Dr. C. B. Newsom spoke at a luncheon given by Dr. James Thompson, synodical superintendent of the Presbyterian church, in the Crescent tea room, Tuesday, March 2.

Mrs. Hugh T. Mitchelmore, instructor in piano and pipe organ, will attend the annual convention of the Washington Federation of the Music clubs to be held in Spokane, March 18, 19, 20. Mrs. Mitchelmore is a member of the Spokane Musical Art Society.

Dr. W. A. Stevenson spoke Sunday in the Broadway Presbyterian church of New York. The previous Sunday he gave an address in the Old Stone Presbyterian church in Cleveland. He also stopped in Pittsburg. President Stevenson reports that he is having a very enjoyable as well as a profitable time.

Three college students celebrated birthdays last week. Fred Metzler celebrated Tuesday. The Town girls organization gave a party for Lillian Brown Wednesday noon in the Eggplant with a brown birthday cake and candles. Kappa Gamma entertained Wednesday in honor of the birthdays of both Lillian Brown and Lindalee Miller.

Several of the Whitworth faculty attended the A. A. U. W. luncheon Saturday, March 6, in the Crescent tea room. Among those present were Mrs. W. A. Stevenson and Mrs. Ethel Hamacher and the Misses Selma Crowe, Beatrice Barnes, Eleanor Stocket and Alice Morrison. The play "The Man with a Dumb Wife" by Anatole France was dramatized, according to Miss Morrison, "very, very well."

PLAN DEBATING CLUB

Whitworth college will soon have a forensic club. All students interested are requested to place their names on the bulletin board.

This club will be under the direction of Dr. C. B. Newsom, and plans for organization will be made later.

FRAT WILL GIVE ANNUAL PARTY

Alpha Psi Delta to be Hosts St. Patrick's Day Party Tomorrow

Spirit of St. Patrick will dominate tomorrow night at the Alpha Psi Delta all-school party in the College chapel. The party is an annual event given by the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity Music, games, and a program typical of St. Patrick will occupy the party hours. Committees in charge of the affair as named by Carl Boppell, president, are: Walter Bell, program; William Davis, decorating; and Donald Beal, refreshments.

ENTERTAIN AT SNIFF PARTY

Amid a very fragrant atmosphere, the Town Girls entertained the women of the college at a "Sniff" party in the Eggplant, Friday, March 5.

Despite all other perfumes, the essence of informality prevailed throughout the afternoon. One of the most attractive features was the naming of the odors enclosed in twenty-one bottles. Mary Ransburg correctly identifying twelve, was judged possessor of the best nose. The Town Girls colors, chocolate and cream were suggested by the refreshments as well as by the decorations.

ALUMNI

Dr. W. A. Stevenson was entertained at dinner March 7, at the home of Frank Henry, '25. Mr. Henry has a position of engineer in Pittsburgh, and is doing well, Dr. Stevenson reports Francis Stubblefield '25 is vocational director at Lewis and Clark high school.

Mildred Hess '25 visited at the college Sunday afternoon and evening, March 7.

Mrs. Hazel Warren '17, formerly Helen Heald, is residing in the Marbora Apartments. She has been sororus supreme of Kappa Gamma.

Douglas Scates '22 a noted Whitworth athlete, is a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago.

Russell Pederson '20 has been eating crackers due to the fact that his wife has been visiting, and bread is not to be bought in his section of Alaska

Ida May Pattee '21 is principal of the Bryant school.

Elzora Gorman '23 is principal of Orchard Avenue high school.

Ruth Hahner '23 teaches in Orchard Avenue high schools.

Frank Roberts, a former Whitworth student, teaches biology at North Central.

Bernice Bertrand '25 is studying law in the office of Graves, Kizer and Graves.

George McMahon, '24, formerly prominent in college athletics is employed in the Kimberley mines, B. C.

Ora Landis '15 teaches English in the East Valley high school at Millwood.

Whitworth Community News

Miss Josephine Herber' has been ill and out of school for the past two weeks.

Mrs. H. J. Palmer has returned from St. Johns, Wash., after a two months visit.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Whitworth church entertained Mrs. Elmer Whipple is the guest of honor, Tuesday, March 9. Mrs. Whipple is leaving shortly to visit her two sons in California.

The play "Waiting for the Trolley" was given at the Lidgerwood Presbyterian church Friday March 12.

Mrs. Henry McInte and son Donald have been visiting friends and relatives in Johnson, Washington.

Mr and Mrs. Wilbur Borden and family have moved into the old Graves ranch below Whitworth college.

Mrs C. Eugene Fox entertained her sewing club at a one o'clock luncheon Thursday March 4.

Mr Arthur Davis was elected to succeed himself as school director for a three year term. The election was held at the Whitworth public school, March 9.

SERVICES AT MILLWOOD

Services at Millwood Presbyterian church were conducted by Whitworth gospel teams Sunday evening. The Christian Endeavor was conducted by Mary Ransburg, Donald Beal, and Carl Boppell. The church services were under the auspices of Margaret Ritter, Harvey Starling, and Lewis Randall. Carl Boppell, Margaret Ritter, Mary Ransburg, and Donald Beal sang a quartet. Julian Garcia sang in his native tongue.

Natsihi Work Begins

Interested are asked to take pictures of school events for the book.

This year's "Natsihi" will be of the standard size, perhaps slightly larger than the 1925 volume. It is reported that the new annual will be the "best ever" published by Whitworth.

Students are asked to help support the issuance of the "Natsihi" by paying their guarantee subscription of one dollar promptly when it is solicited in chapel soon. The editor wants all the students to back this year's "Natsihi" and will guarantee it to be a success if they do.

The staff is at present canvassing the business men of the city for ads.

COLLEGE GOSPEL TEAM HOLDS CHAPEL SERVICES

Volunteer Fellowship Club Demonstrates Work to Students and Faculty

GOES TO "HOME" SUNDAY

Spokane Parental Home Visited by Gospel Team March 28.

Demonstrating their activities of service to the students and faculty of the College, the Whitworth Gospel team took complete charge of the chapel service Friday, March 19.

"Crucifixion" — the comparison of the persecutions of ancient Christians with those of today — was the theme upon which Lewis Randall dwelt. Mr. Randall took for his text, the passage in John 19:17-38. The reading gives an account of the crucifixion of Christ on the Mount of Olives, and Mr. Randall pointed out that crucifixion today takes the form of "Standing of the jeers and mockings of the world."

Dorothy Brenton, president of the Volunteer Fellowship, the school organization which sponsors the gospel team work, presided at the exercises. Donald Beal opened the service with the morning prayer. Thelma Porter and Josephine Smith sang as a duet, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." They were accompanied by Miss Lindalee Miller. Miss Mary Ransburg read the scripture lesson in John. Miss Margaret Ritter gave the closing prayer.

GO TO PARENTAL HOME

A little boy, who sat in the front row and sang above all others, was especially attractive to the Whitworth life service recruits in charge of the services at the parental home, Sunday, March 26. Carl Boppell, Fred Metzler, and Lewis Randall spoke to the children; and Lewis Randall, assisted by Josephine Smith, had charge of the singing. Lessie Rasco read the scripture and Stanley Pierce led the prayer. The gospel teams were entertained at tea in the Tattersall home after the service.

EXCHANGE LIST GROWS

New exchanges continue to arrive. New papers on file in the journalism room are:

119 Thurston Ave.,
Ithaca, N. Y.

To the Students at Whitworth:

I have been asked to write a letter for the Whitworthian; I will try and comply with the request, though I do not think that I have at this time anything particularly interesting to say.

First of all, I want to congratulate the basketball team and the debaters on their recent victories. These signal achievements I hope are but the beginning of a whole series of victories.

I regret that I was not able to return for the second semester but my

ALL-WHITWORTH CAST TO GIVE "DADDY LONG LEGS"

Famous Play To Be Given by Student Actors in May.

"Daddy Long Legs" — a play famous for its success as a professional and school production will be acted by an all-Whitworth cast some time in May. At present it is planned to have two presentations with different students holding the leading parts. Miss Alice Morrison will coach the play. Miss Morrison reports that the prospective actors are very much interested and are learning their lines although regular practice has not yet begun.

Dr. "Looie" Roehr Cures Helpless Whitworth Invalids

Going — Going — Gone — To Bertha Tattersall for six dollars. The article in question was a pair of men's number eleven and one-half shoes. The auctioneer, Lewis Randall, proceeded to auction off most of the loose articles found in Ballard Hall, including Cyril Brewer's blanket. Such scenes have been common in the public speaking class where the students have been practicing sales talks. Doctor "Looie" Roehr offered for sale a remarkable medicine, guaranteed to cure all ills. Two hopeless invalids, Dave Adams and "Wes" Roehr were restored to health. "Freddy" Metzler offered membership in a matrimonial club. Dave Adams was very much interested until he found there was no colored section in Fred's catalogue.

Luella Bruce was the agent for a very odorous product labeled "Fly Tox," according to the other members of the class, the smell of the "Fly Tox" was enough to kill either man or beast.

Stanley Pearce sold a gun to the sheriff of Powell county, Montana, who was none other than "Wes" Roehr.

These are but a few of the sales talks inflicted upon suffering "public squeakers," during the past month.

PLAY "COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN" GIVEN FRIDAY

Josephine Smith Pleases Audience by Successful Characterization of Winsome Irish Cook.

PARTS PORTRAYED WELL

Business Part Handled Well by Stevenson, Starling, Randall, Porter, and Others.

Josephine Smith, with her smiles, flashing blue eyes, and charming Irish brogue, easily captivated the crowd in the College play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," given Friday, March 26, in the College auditorium, and held it from the time she was Olivia Daingerfield till she was that same person again. The good looking president of the student body, Donald Beal, proved an excellent leading man. One hundred and twenty-five people filled the chapel to witness the presentation.

The constant attempts of Lessie Rasco as Mandy, begun in the first act and continued throughout the play, to protest her "honey child," were well appreciated.

With the transformation of the Daingerfield children into servants by the change of clothing, Wesley Oehr became one of the most dignified, stiff, and laugh-provoking of butlers.

SUPPORTING CAST DOES WELL

Marthalena Miller as Mrs. Falkner making those critical, scrutinizing examinations of the servants showed great dramatic ability. Lindalee Miller, as her unsubmitive maid, expert in handling the flatiron, brought many a laugh from the crowd.

The second act, in the kitchen, opened with Carl Boppell, mischievously carrying the role of Brindiebury, "just a boy," and breaking dishes. Mary Ransburg characterized the charming Cora Falkner with due repression of all undignified laughter. Dave Adams, playing opposite her, could not have shown more real pleasure in becoming editor of the Whitworthian, than in accepting that place on the staff of the "Financier."

BILL DAVIS, ENJOYS FOOD

In the third act, the dining room scene, Bill Davis as Solon Tucker, with an eye for eats and beauty was a winning character. The attempts of Randy Weeks, personified by Carl Laudenback, to protect the "Most respectable lady in the South," showed Carl to be well fitted to his part.

Much credit is due to Dean Alice Morrison, coach of the play; to Harvey Starling, stage manager; and to the property managers, Thelma Porter, and Lewis Randall.

"And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?"—St. Matthew vii:3.

KNOCKING VERSUS CRITICISING

It is depressing to listen to individuals who continually knock everything with which they come in contact. There are knockers on every campus, yet they have never been known to do any good, and the campus would be benefited by their riddence.

When a student knocks his school he casts aspersions on his own judgment, for the school that he attends is his choice. Granted that there are plenty of things on the campus that are faulty; but even so, knocking doesn't help the situation one iota, so why knock?

Every one realizes that the feeblest of mentalities can detect flaws in the character of the greatest of men. A college education is not required to enable a knocker to knock.

It is human nature to criticize but that doesn't excuse the knocker. Creative, constructive criticism is beneficial. It is the student's duty to his school to endeavor to solve difficulties and suggest practical remedies.

If the knockers must growl give them an audience of space, or lead them to a campus bug that they may whisper threats at a deflated tire. But if the student has the interests of Whitworth at heart and wishes to criticize constructively some matter, let him talk it up about the campus, and send his views to the forum department of the Whitworthian that it may gain greater attention.

Such is only in the line of a student's duty to his school.

GOSPEL TEAM ACTIVE

Lewis Randal's talk on "Crucifixion," given Friday morning, March 19, at the chapel service conducted by the gospel team, "struck home" in the heart of every student.

This service is but one of the three that the team has conducted, and they have two more scheduled. Nothing marks Whitworth as a Christian college more than these students going about doing Christ's work.

KEEP THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

"Oh!" Isn't it grand out today!" is an exclamation often heard as the students step outside in the morning. This is prompted by the fine weather and by the appearance of the campus.

The Whitworth campus is beautiful and must continue to remain so.

ADVERTISING?

A great number of the business men in Spokane claim that placing an advertisement in a college paper cannot be considered as legitimate advertising and is more a statement of good will.

It is up to the student who reads the paper to disprove this statement. Moreover, it is the student's duty to do so. When you patronize a Whitworthian advertiser, Whitworth students, tell the clerk about it and if possible, the advertising manager. This will show the firm that taking a space in the Whitworthian does not mean a charity gift but is legitimate advertising.

When we show the business houses of Spokane that this is true—there is no end to what we can do.

The Forum

The Whitworthian will publish articles from its readers on all questions of student interest. The views published are not endorsed by the Whitworthian; the Forum merely affords an opportunity for the expression of opinion on questions of concern to Whitworth. All articles must be signed by the writer.

STUDENT FAVORS MASCOT

"Take Five" originated in the Butte mines: "Take all the time there is" seems to have become our slogan.

College men are chosen by employers because of increased initiative and ability to think and decide rapidly and accurately. Accordingly, we have utterly failed in choosing a mascot.

Some of the appellations of Panthers, Bantams, Huns, Trojans, and Spartans, will probably eventually be presented.

The panther is a cruel, cowardly, predatory cat; the bantam suggests ridiculous arrogance; Kaiser Bill has made Huns odious; and the U. S. C. gladiators are the Trojans, leaving us the inspirational name of clean-living, right-thinking, heroic warrior race—the Spartans. Take YOUR choice, but choose.

—W. R.

Ellensburg "lassies" are feeling the effects of spring. They have organized several baseball teams.

Coach A. Exendine, former football coach at Washington State College, has signed a two-year contract as head football coach at Occidental College in California.

Kitchen Attractive to Whitworth Grid Star

Whitworth will begin football next fall with a roar instead of a bang when Captain Wesley Roehr leads his gridders to battle. A football captain must needs be a man of might and "Wes" is that, and then some. He was the only man of the Whitworth squad to be selected on the first all-conference team for the past season. Captain Roehr is at present keeping in condition for the coming season by a strenuous workout each day in the college kitchen. He makes a specialty of smashing potatoes and hacking up bread. Mrs. Taylor is glad to have an assistant of such marked athletic ability. Besides this, Wesley must needs keep an eye on little brother "Looie" and see that he does not get into mischief. "Wes" does not spend quite all his time in messing up football fields, however. He is president of the Kappa Omicron Sigma fraternity and active in all college affairs. He played the part of Paul Daingerfeld in the College play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," which was given Friday.

Laurie's Column

Spokane College will have far from a veteran diamond this year. Only four of last year's team reported to Coach Cleve at the initial turnout.

The "Jamestown Collegian" observed "St. Patrick's" day by signally honoring their freshman class. The "Freshies" published the March 12 issue of the "Collegian" in a beautiful shade of green ink.

Cheney Normal has forty aspirants for the baseball team this spring. As yet no games have been scheduled. Twenty men answered the initial call for track candidates.

Washington State College rules the favorite among Lewis and Clark seniors. Of the one hundred and six students who have signified their preference for a higher school, fifty-four have picked Washington State, thirty-seven will attend the University of Washington and twenty chose Cheney Normal.

Dear Sally:

I'm feelin' kinder lonesome fer the farm 'n fer the cows and all, so I guess I'll drop you a line. Gee, things is awfull funny around here! I can't seem ter find a comfortable place ter sit down in even. Yesterday, bein' Sunday evening, I was a goin' ter sit in the recreation room fer a while. I seemed to feel kinder funny when I got in there. There was a guy a holdin' a girl awfull tight. I guess I wasn't wanted. Then I guessed I'd go inter a class room wot was dark so I wouldn't bother no body. When I got inside the door I heard a funny noise like a guy suckin' syrup through a straw. I put on the light 'cause I thought maybe a burglar had come into the room. It weren't no burglar, just a guy with butter on his hair sittin' awfull close to a young lady. I

BRENTON DANCES NAVY HORN PIPE

Irish Land and Colors Are Favored at Tri-G Tea For Dean Alice Morrison.

From the green hat perched saucily on the head of the deer to the last farewell at the door, the Tri-G tea, given in honor of Dean Alice Morrison, for all women of the College, in the Boys' Parlor, on St. Patrick's day was one of the most delightful social events of the year.

The room was artistically decorated in Irish green. The program of straight Irish numbers included: piano solo, Eleanor Brand; recitation, Dorothy Brenton; vocal duet, Mildred Pederson and Bertha Tattersall; vocal solo, Josephine Smith; sailors' hornpipe dance, Dorothy Brenton; and a medley by the club sextette.

Dean Alice Morrison and Edna Montgomery, advisor of the society, presided at the tea urns.

PERSONALS

Fred Metzler and Ralph Hansen, Josephine Smith and Mildred Pederson sang in the choir at the Fourth Presbyterian church Sunday, March 21, during the revival meetings held by the young evangelist, Walter Keeney.

Mr. and Mrs. Bury visited with Dean Alice Morrison and her mother Sunday, March 21.

Margaret Ritter visited with Mildred Pederson Sunday, March 21.

The annual convention of the Washington Federation of Music held in the Lewis and Clark auditorium Thursday, March 18, was quite well attended by Whitworth students. Those present were: Genevieve Claypoole, the Misses Selma Crow and Beatrice Barnes, Jane De Van, Mrs. Ethel Hamacher, and Mrs. Hugh Mitchelmore.

Thelma Porter visited in Pullman Sunday, March 21.

Laura Carson has moved into town from the dormitory.

CHAPEL LED BY VISITORS

Last week chapel services were led by outside speakers Wednesday and Thursday mornings, March 24 and 25. On Wednesday, Rev. Luther N. Williams, chairman of the Synod's committee on College visitation and pastor of the Millwood Community church, spoke on Timothy II, the first chapter, giving some interesting side-lights on the passage.

Beginning his service with a violin and a vocal solo, Rev. Walter Keeney, who is holding evangelistic services at the Fourth Presbyterian church, talked Thursday on "Consecration." Mr. Keeney used the story of Elijah and the priests of Baal as his main text. "Consecrated men and women are the need of the hour and we must all be willing to serve" was the speaker's main thought. "We must follow Christ and have faith in our following."

Sunday Church Services

"Heroic Occasions" was the sermon topic of Dr. C. B. Newsom, Sunday, March 22, at the College. The text was Daniel 3:18. Julia Stunkard sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." Fred Metzler proved an exceptional leader of Christian Endeavor.

Palm Sunday was the theme of the last Sunday's sermon. Cyril Brewer sang "Flee as a Bird."

Services will be held Sunday at the College, Christian Endeavor beginning at 7:30 p. m., under the leadership of Lessie Rasco Lewis and Randall will provide the special music.

NORTON-MILLER HAVE STAR ROLES

"Sylvia," the operetta in two acts to be given by Whitworth students some time in the spring, was written and composed by Maude Elizabeth Inch and W. Rhys-Hebert.

Sylvia (Lindalee Miller), a maid of honor to the queen, is betrothed to a nobleman (George Norton), Betty (Mary Ransburg), a farmer maid, is engaged to a farmer (Harvey Starling). The two girls become tired of their lovers. They meet in a hayfield and decide to change places. A flower, "Cupid's Eye," is used by the maids which blinds the men to the exchange. The enterprise is unsuccessful and both girls are glad to return to their former lovelorn mates.

Many humorous and quaint scenes are enacted. Prince Tobbytum has perhaps the most comic experience with the farmer maid.

ALUMNI

Miriam Cassill, '23, president of the alumni association, is principal of Oakesdale high school this year. Miss Cassill was Kappa Gamma May queen 1922.

Earl Potter, '22, is teaching science in the high school at Powell, Wyoming.

Sara Miller, '25, has directed the play, "Littlest Bridesmaid," in the high school at Heyburn, Idaho, where she is teaching domestic science. Miss Miller was prominent in oratorical work while at College.

Paul Ashford, a former student noted for his musical ability, visited at the College, Thursday.

Hugh Andrews, a former student, and member of the football team, sang last week at the revival meetings held in the Centenary Methodist church.

Calvin W. Stewart, '96, is a postmaster in Tacoma.

Hazel White, '18, is librarian at the Monroe Street library. Miss White was president of Kappa Gamma during the fall of 1917.

Donald Henry, '23, is studying medicine in the University of Ohio at Cleveland. Mr. Henry was a member of Sigma Theta fraternity, and was prominent in debating and gospel team work.

FROSH ARE LEFT BEHIND ASLEEP

Sophomores Enjoy Beefsteak Feed On the Down River Drive.

"Freshtes got fooled," sang the Sophomores under the windows of the sweetly sleeping college beginners, after a most wonderful beefsteak feed on the banks of the Spokane river, Tuesday night, March 16.

Sophomores, leaving the campus early in the evening, were reinforced in town, and the class with sponsors and advisors assembled on the Down River drive. Over Laudy's high fire they roasted big pieces of steak. One of Mrs. Laurie's famous whipped cream cakes was also devoured.

Around the dying embers, the Sophomores recalled another successful sneak exactly a year before; read a letter from Charles Sharp, former president; sang, yelled; and listened to words of wisdom from advisors, both past and present. Arriving at the college about midnight the class audibly made known its safe return.

It has been reported that the Sophomores were given numerous opportunities to recite in classes next day.

BASEBALL SEASON NOT YET OFFICIALLY OPENED

President Stevenson Will Probably Decide This Week-End on Maintenance of Team.

The baseball season has not yet officially opened though a call for candidates was made March 15, and since that time regular practice has been taking place.

Coach Newsom is glad to see the fellows get hardened in, and he is anxious to start to develop a team as soon as financial backing is assured. The Associated Student body has not the needed funds with which to carry out a schedule and as the board of trustees has forbidden the incurring of debts, it is not certain that a team will be maintained. According to Don Beal, baseball captain, President W. A. Stevenson last fall intimated to Lawrence Mitchell, first semester student body president, that he would raise $200 for baseball; and if he is still in favor, actual work will probably begin as soon as he arrives, Friday or Saturday.

The men who are practicing and who intend trying for a place on the team are: Carl Boppell, Ralph Hansen, George Norton, Walter Bell, Dave Adams, Fred Metzler, Robert Stevenson, William Davis, Carl Laudnebach, and Captain Don Beal. Others who have not yet been out, are expected to do so if the team definitely materializes.

Word from Carmichael

physician thought that I ought not to work until I had a full year's rest. I am not resting now as I am attending lectures at the university but am going at a very moderate "gate." Cornell's baseball schedule calls for twelve games on the campus with such teams as Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Columbia, Dartmouth, Lafayette and others of this class and my doctor advises me not to miss a game. It is not always easy to follow a physician's advice but in this case I think I shall consistently obey, hoping that this treatment will go far to make me feel like myself again.

Since New Year I have seen Dr. Stevenson twice. Last Thursday I met him by appointment at Owego on the borderline of Pennsylvania and for six solid hours we talked of the problems and the hopes and the future plans of Whitworth; I am sure that the faculty and students and friends of the college are going to get enthusiastically together and, following the example set by the basketball and debating teams, are going to put the name of Whitworth well up toward the top of the list.

With best wishes and high hopes,
Sincerely,
O. H. CARMICHAEL

BURN CAUSES INFECTION

Injury Prevents C. Roehr From Turning Out for Spring Sports.

Clarence Roehr, football and basketball letterman, has contracted infection in his right hand from a floor burn received in basketball. This injury will prevent Roehr from turning out for either baseball or track for a number of weeks. Dr. Arthur Johnson is caring for the hand.

Attractions of Spring Harmful to Baseball

What is wrong with this sentence? "Spring is the time when a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of baseball."

After consultation with his etiquette guide book, Beal requests that "baseball" be struck out and "love" inserted. Yes, love, the pursuit of which is alluring, the College athletes from the diamond to the mile drive, from the outer gardens to the flower gardens. Dust conceals the field from view. Love and bugs—but what is the call to bugs but just a higher appeal of love—predominate at Whitworth.

Promptly (?) at 3:30 the men appear from various trees and doorways, wipe the Romeo grin, and hurry down to the field looking like earnest workers bent on acquiring, nothing short of the conference championship.

Promptly (!) at 4:15 spring again whispers its summons and Boppe hates to have to go to work on advertising, but—

"Heck, I got to drive mother to Garland," announces Bob. Even Captain Don just has to get his French, and as for Metz,

"Baseball is the only sport, men; Beal, may I be excused now, I simply must write home."

However, Whitworth fans have something to be thankful for, as Laudy and "Coach" Norton will never miss a single practice as soon as their bug is finished. The question is—will this season's team reap any benefits from their sincere though indefinite promise?

Gone are the days when the hearts of Whitworth's athletes were set on

TENNIS TOURNAMENT DATE NOT DEFINITELY DECIDED

Will Probably Be Held in May,
According to Davis, Committee Chairman.

The Columbia Valley Conference Tennis tournament will probably be held some time in May, in advance of the conference track meet, according to William Davis, chairman of the conference committee on tennis. The place and definite time has not yet been arranged.

No Whitworth team was entered last year, but the College may send representatives in this tournament.

One court has recently been made serviceable and about ten students play during the afternoons. Additional students expect to turn out if the College definitely decides to compete in the tournament.

ORATORICAL-DECLAMATORY CONTESTANTS ARE CHOSEN

Miller and Laurie Will Represent Whitworth in Intercollegiate Contest.

TO COMPETE APRIL 15-16

Columbia Valley Forensic Conference
Members to Enter Contests.

Marthalena Miller giving two readings "Absolutions" and "The Jiners," defeated Thelma Porter, who recited "On the Other Train" and "Biff Perkin's Toboggan Slide," in the tryouts at the College Friday evening, April 9.

Miss Miller won the right to represent Whitworth College in the annual intercollegiate declamatory contest to be held Thursday evening, April 15, probably at Spokane College.

Delivering his original oration, "The Foundation of Law and Order," Phillip Laurie also spoke last Friday evening. As Miss Laurie was the only contestant in the oratory tryout, his speech was somewhat of a practice. The oratorical contest will be given Friday evening, April 16.

Contestants from other schools of the Columbia Valley Forensic conference are: Lois Dassundater, declaimer, and David Nutting, orator, Spokane university. Spokane college enters Paul Toward in the oratorical, and Helen Hansen in the declamation. Lewiston Normal's entrants have not been announced.

Dr. W. A. Stevenson Interests East in Whitworth—Rockefeller Foundation Listens.

Speaking on the "winning of the west" by the pioneer missionaries and their work with the Indians, Dr. W. A. Stevenson, president of Whitworth, addressed chapel services Tuesday morning, April 6. Dr. Stevenson returned from a six weeks' trip through the East in the interests of the College, Saturday evening, April 3.

Dr. Stevenson reports that he had an interesting as well as profitable trip. He visited many of the large cities such as Chicago, Pittsburg, New York City and Denver, gaining much and people of wealth in these places.

It is hoped that the Rockefeller foundation will give some aid as this organization gave Dr. Stevenson an interested hearing.

Professor W. H. Buxton's poem, "The Lumberjack's Song," was published in the Spokesman Review, Sunday, April 4.

DATE OF PLAY POSTPONED

"Come Out of the Kitchen," the comedy to have been given by Whitworth college players, April 9, has been postponed until Saturday evening, April 17, when it will be repeated at Page hall, S652 Denver street.

STUDENTS BEGIN PRACTICE ON "DADDY LONG LEGS"

May 14 Is Date Set for Production of Play.

May 14 is the date which has been set for the second College play of the year, "Daddy Long Legs," to be given by an all-College cast in the College chapel.

Practice on the play has already begun and Coach Alice Morrison reports exceptional progress in characterizations. Many of the actors already have their lines learned and the others show familiarity with theirs; Harvey Starling and Mildred Pederson, elder members of the cast, were especially good in the first practices.

VOLUNTEER FELLOWSHIP PLANS TRIP TO FISHTRAP

Pederson, Ritter, and Starling Will Speak—Special Music Will Be Given.

The Volunteer Fellowship has completed preparations for the service to be held at Fishtrap next Sunday morning.

"Life at its Best" is the topic upon which Harvey Starling, Margaret Ritter and Mildred Pederson, are to speak. Special music will be provided by the double quartet consisting of Mary Ransburg, Josephine Smith, Margaret Ritter, Mildred Pederson, Lewis Randal, Carl Boppell, Donald Beal, and Harvey Starling. "Just As I Am" and "More Love to Thee" will be special numbers on the program.

before the Resurrection. It was pointed out that although the disciples were with the Master for three years, yet, they misunderstood Him "Only through a life of service and sacrifice can we find the real Jesus."

Rev. C. F. Koehler, pastor of the Knox Presbyterian church, conducted the chapel services the last day of the passion week. He addressed the students in a very inspiring way, speaking on the great lessons which might be derived from Christ's last week here on earth.

FOUR VISIT IN PULLMAN

C. Boehr and Rexroad Make Longest Trip, Going to Deer Lodge, Montana.

Who said it didn't want a vacation? Although there were a few objections, there was general rejoicing when it was announced that there would be a week's vacation, beginning Tuesday, April 6, and ending April 13. Queer, but most of the town students went home, and many of the students living near Spokane took advantage of the opportunity to make a flying trip home.

Among those who left the College were: Margaret Ritter, Jean Seaton, Harvey Starling and Lewis Randal, motored to Pullman for a short visit with Lewis' brother, who is a senior in Washington State College.

Zeda Pahgham, Mary Ransburg, and Donald Beal spent their vacation at Sunnyside.

Ralph Hansen and Helen Jacobson spent the week at their homes in Kettle Falls and Sandpoint respectively.

Clarence Roehr and Charlie Rexroad made the longest trip, to Deer Lodge, Montana.

Miss Selma Crowe and Miss Beatrice Barnes spent the vacation weekend at Oakesdale.

The Lauries, Lessie Rasco, Fred Metzler, and Cyril Brewer spent one day in Coeur d'Alene.

GILMORE HEADS DEBATERS

Forensic Club Chooses Officers—Adopts Constitution
March 31.

Holding the second meeting of the Forensic club Wednesday afternoon, March 31, the organization began to function with the adoption of a constitution as drafted by a special committee and election of the following officers: Melvin Gilmore, president; Lessie Rasco, vice president; Phillip Laurie, secretary; Fred Metzler, student member of the executive committee and Dr. C. B. Newsom, faculty member.

It is hoped that all students interested in debate will join the club.

EDITOR AT HOME ON EASTER.

Dave Adams arrived from his home in Olympia Sunday, in time to construct the make-up of the paper and complete arrangements for publication. Luella Bruce, assisted by Laurence Mitchellmore, acted as editors during his absence. The Sport page is expressive of the united efforts of most of the staff.

Circus Days Rehearsed Every Tuesday Evening On the Whitworth Platform

"Oh Boy! You never saw anything like it," was the laughing remark of a chorister, when asked about the regular Tuesday evening exercises at the college.

The narrator then substantiated his remark by describing scene after scene, that takes place on our chapel platform, every Tuesday evening.

The most picturesque performance is supervised by five boys, who march sedately upon the stage in exactly the way they are not expected to march, and make all the girls present laugh. The curtain finally goes up or rather falls to the side of a curly haired miss, whose appearance has been looked forward to. She tries to sing, without violin accompaniment, something about love having eyes that cannot see, and is very much helped by the advice given by the spectators, who seem to know much about it.

The story teller went on describing scene after scene of the performance until the reporter was almost ready to ask about the animals. He was saved the embarrassment, however, by the youth's suddenly beginning to tell about somebody who had evidently been a menagerie director, or something like that, cause this person vehemently exclaimed, "This is not a circus, it is glee club practice," and all was orderly about the place once more.

NATURE'S TEXTBOOK OPEN.

We have, today, come back refreshed from a most enjoyable spring vacation, with renewed vim and energy to perform the tasks that ever lie before us. The vacation has given us time to visit, play, rest and make up work,—but best of all to enjoy more fully the great nature world, which Dr. Carmichael has taught us to love so well. Then we are impressed with the truth of that old proverb, "He who lives after nature shall never be poor." We behold in actuality, "The flower that alone does not make a garland"; "The birds of a feather that flock together"; "The rolling stone that gathers no moss"; and "the great pine that from a little cone did spring." Working here at Whitworth, inspired by the lessons of spring, from the great world text that is ever open before us, we shall surely put forth a little harder efforts than ever before, and come a little nearer the goal of success.

BOOST WHITWORTH ATHLETES.

Whitworth basketballers recently received the invitation to have their pictures placed in the national basketball guide. Such request but proves more fully the quality of our athletes and encourages us to give them even stronger support in the future. Let us boost our college nine, wholeheartedly.

STAFF APPRECIATES INTEREST.

Perhaps never before has an editor of the Whitworthian realized so vividly the great value of the support given by the school to the paper as this week. News has been cheerfully and voluntarily given by many of the students. Some of them have even gone to extra trouble to bring us information, and two or three new writers have given their assistance. Though such help is always appreciated by the staff, the absence of the regular editor has this week made that interest doubly valuable and encouraging. What is good for the Whitworthian is good for Whitworth. It is only by each helping the other that we can best promote the interests of our school and of our Lord.

SPEAKERS WILL CONTEST.

Next Friday night the Whitworth orator and the reader will meet in contest with the other representatives of the Columbia Valley Forensic association. Whitworth speakers have always ranked high. Last year, they won second in this contest. With the added experience, and with full student body support, our contestants should rank even higher this year.

WELCOME THE VISITOR.

Within the past few weeks, we have had many visitors at our college,—several of whom have spoken at our chapel services. We always enjoy these visitors, and profit by their talks. Hence, it is up to us to always make them feel welcome and desirous of coming again. Let us remember that just to shake hands with the speaker after chapel, or to say a few to the visitor, will make the College a more attractive place.

A RONDEAU.

I shall not fail if I have said,
That word which caused some drooping head

To face the world's relentless grind,
And in life's endless maze to find,
That hope which somehow comforted

And if I have been beauty led,
By love and not by hate instead
So that I leave all shame behind
I shall not fail.

And if I have not fear nor dread,
When swiftly by the years have fled,
But keep until the last a mind,
Still true and generous to my kind,
Though none of the immortal dead
I shall not fail.

—A Student.

Hugh Bronson Famous for His Genial Grin

There are some things which are never appreciated as they should be. Many good things are taken for granted. Like the pines on the campus or the pigeons on the dorm roof, Hugh Bronson has become a Whitworth picture. Hugh is always ready and willing to help in every worthwhile thing.

Last year, as chairman of the gospel team, he fully demonstrated his powers as a speaker. He also has proved his financial ability by his successful managing of the student association funds, serving as treasurer of the executive board last year. He also successfully operates and keeps in repair, one Ford bug, which is no small feat.

Hugh is president of the preps this year, and is the spark plug of the organization. Last year he represented the preps on the executive board. Hugh is a senior prep and will graduate from that department in June.

Wherever loyalty to Whitworth and genuine friendliness are wanted, Hugh will not be found wanting. It is rumored that he raises clams as a side line.

Hugh never smiles, except about 12 out of 14 hours, for it hurts his face.

PORTER IS PRESIDENT.

The Whitworthian desires to correct the error of last issue by stating that Thelma Porter, rather than Dorothy Brenton, is president of the Volunteer Fellowship.

Freddy Spouts Ideas on Mascots

Dear Sally,

Whitworth is thinkin' about choosin' a schol masco, I've bein' kinder bashfull, I dont dare say much but I got several good suggestions which I could make if necesery. I think a Noah's Ark would be a swell mascot. Ya kan have an animal fer each class 'n every gang on the campus inside the ark. Then there's about twenty pigs wot belong to the college and they would be sweet mascots. They could eat 'em when they got too big to be any good. We was thinkin' about havin' a turtle. They is several kinds of turtles would go over big. They wouldn't never go too fast fer me ter keep up. Now I ain't sure wat a mascot is. If its chose fer looks I suggests skunks but it its chose for Macalaster college recently celebrated the victory of their debate team over the University of California team.

Coach Cleve of Spokane college has accepted the position of coach at Concordia college, Moorhead, Minnesota.

North Central swimmers defeated Lewis and Clark in their annual aquatic meet by a two point margin.

Two hundred and seventy-one students have enrolled for the spring term at Lewiston Normal.

Shaving has become taboo at Nevada university. The male student body must prepare for "Whiskerins," a dance during the annual junior week at the university.

Lewis and Clark has such a large graduating class, two hundred and fifty, that the salutatory and valedictory addresses will be omitted. Wilmer Froistad will be the only student speaker at the commencement exercises.

Spokane University observed its annual spring clear-up day, Wednesday, March 31. Under strict orders from Dean Harris, no neckties nor collars were allowed to adorn masculine throats during the clean up campaign.

The Mac Weekly in commenting upon the loss of a moustache sustained by one of its students, remarked that his toothbrush slipped as he was washing his teeth and the moustache was no more. Where did "Looie's" moustache go, we wonder?

The Lewiston diamond squad is practicing hard for the coming season.

Citizens of Sacramento have been agitating the establishment of a branch of the University of California in their city.

Central High school, Minneapolis, is built up on a large scale. There are seventeen clubs in the schools, which cover every field, four publications and a national honor society.

GIRLS TO DON MEN'S ATTIRE

Annual April Frolic Will Be Held April 23 by W. A. A.

Clad in masculine array, many of the girls will enjoy the annual April Frolic for all College women, Friday April 23.

The party usually means a hike in the afternoon, followed by a dance in the evening, with half of the girls taking the part of boys. Plans for the party are being made by the W. A. A.

ALUMNI

Laverne Barnes, former student, is now teaching science at the Western Reserve University. While in school, he was president of the Sigma Theta fraternity and athletic editor of the Whitworthian.

Deliah Barber, '25, and George McMahon, '24, were visitors in Spokane, Easter Sunday.

Faith Williams, former student, will graduate in June from the University of Pennsylvania medical school. Miss Williams is a member of Kappa Gamma.

Margaret Miller, former student, is now studying in New York for missionary work.

Mrs. Ella Brunner, '17, is now residing in Blaine, Wash.

Arthur Gunn, '14, was married about a year ago, and is now a chemist in Seattle.

Thomas Gunn, '17, is an electrician in Los Angeles.

Alice Wynecoop, former student, visited at the college, Monday, April 5.

Anna E. Heller, graduate of the Whitworth course given through the library, '22, is now teaching in the Young School, Spokane.

SPEAKERS HOLD MANY BANQUETS

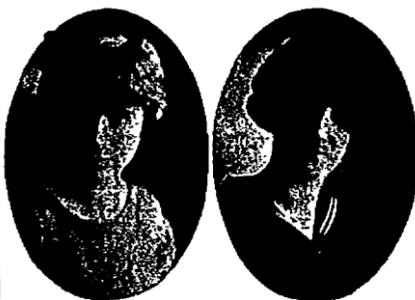

All honor to our Christian salesmen. With this as their watchword, the annual convention of the Whitworth branch of the associated salesmen met in the public speaking class recently. Luella Bruce acted as toastmistress, and many unusual salesmen were heard of and from.

The "public speakers" were also entertained at a banquet of the club. No one can pronounce the name of it, but in plain English it means the Liars' Club. Lewis Randall acted as chief pervaricator for the tales that followed.

The Whitworth faculty enjoyed a banquet several days ago. Professor Buxton gave a wonderful definition of education; Dr. Hays lamented the fact that he was sometime called upon to inhale second hand smoke; and Dr. Stevenson arrived just in time to say a few words, concerning life in a gimlet hole.

Beware of the excessive use of cosmetics. Two Hillyard High School girls were hauled before the dress regulation committee of the girls' league charged with committing this offense.

"Sylvia" Stars

Lindalee Miller, as "Sylvia," and Mary Ransburg, as "Betty," have the leading feminine roles in the College operetta, "Sylvia," to be given Friday, April 30.

Sunday Church Services

Special music was the feature of the Easter Sunday service. The children's chorus sang, the Community quartet, the Whitworth girls' trio, and Cyril Brewer. Dr. Newsom preached the Easter sermon. The young people held a sunrise prayer meeting at 6:30 in the morning, under the leadership of Lewis Randall.

Services will be held at the college next Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30. Zada Padgham will lead the Christian Endeavor.

PERSONALS

A number of the Whitworth faculty attended the Inland Empire Teachers' association held in Spokane the last of the week.

Helen Jacobson and Genevieve Claypoole spent Easter Sunday at home—Helen in Sandpoint, and Genevieve in Chewelah.

Russel Boucher enjoyed the opera "Il Trovatore" under supervision of Umberto Martucci, Monday evening.

Miss Beatrice Barnes and Miss Selma Crowe attended the lecture given by Harriet Monroe, editor of the Poetry magazine, in the Marie Antoinette room of the Davenport hotel.

Lillian Brown fully enjoyed April Fool's day in the dormitory.

Among the recent guests at the college were Lawrence Mitchell, Alice Wynecoop, Rev. Alexander Hood of Willpinit, Rev. J. C. Beal and daughter Elizabeth of Sunnyside.

Several Whitworth representatives attended the educational banquet held in the Marie Antoinette hall of the Davenport hotel Wednesday.

SORORITY GIRLS ARE ENTERTAINED

Dorothy Farr Has Party at Home Honoring Deliah Barber.

Dorothy Farr entertained in honor of Deliah Barber, the members of Kappa Gamma sorority and alumni, at an informal party Friday evening, in her home.

The time was delightfully spent in visiting and playing games. Leslie Rasco won the prize for guessing advertisements. The girls were served elaborate refreshments before departing.

TRI-G ADOPTS CLUB PINS

Since the pin ceremony Monday, April 5, the Tri-G girls have been wearing small blue pins, triangular in shape, with a silver "G" in each corner. After the ceremony, Monday, the members and guests enjoyed an old-fashioned taffy pull in the Eggplant, Bertha Tattersall and Vera Ewing acting as hostesses.

GIRLS SIGN FOR PARTY

The town girls enjoyed a theatre party Thursday. Among the girls signing to attend were Georgia Norton, Roberta Stevenson, Louise Roehr, Phyllis Laurie, Carlotta Boppell, Louise Randall, Donna Beal, Freda Metzler, and Harrianna Starling. The paper to sign was posted on the Bulletin Board.

Baseball Practice Held Regularly

SPORTS

Prospects This Season Bright

OFFICIAL PRACTICE FOR BASEBALL NINE IS BEGUN

Prospects for Team Are Promising—Many Turn Out Regularly.

Baseball prospects at Whitworth are brightening up. Since Coach Newson called official practice, there has been a good-sized squad working out every afternoon on the college diamond.

There are several veterans now turning out. Led by Captain Don Beal, they are: Walter Bell, Carl Boppell, Carl Laufenback, and Bill Davis, star conference pitcher. There are two more likely looking contestants for the infield in George Norton and Bob Stevenson. Among the new men, Hansen, the six-foot-three pitcher, is looking remarkably well.

The contestants for positions in the field are catching flies and fielding grounders for hours at a time. Fred Metzler and Dave Adams will probably make places in that direction. While the material for a ball club this season is not particularly outstanding, we have news that other colleges in the conference are in the same boat, so Whitworth still has a fine chance.

The Spokane College Student Association has a new president, Dare De Beaumont, a sophomore in the college department.

TENNIS IS POPULAR SPORT

W. A. A. Sets Date for Spring Tournament May 17 to 24.

Girls' spring tennis under Captain Lindalee Miller has commenced, and it is planned will culminate in a tournament May 17 to 24. The final contest is conducted on the elimination plan, with the three highest winning count toward an award.

Almost every sunny afternoon, several of the girls may be found on the court. Many are playing tennis this spring for the first time, and practically all report a good time.

VETERAN S. U. ELEVEN? SO STATISTICS INDICATE

Captain Rognstad, Spokane College Fullback Last Fall, Held the Captaincy at the College in 1922.

Last fall Spokane University held the powerful Cheney Normal team to two hard fought touchdowns. The University played a good brand of football, which raises the question; did the team on this occasion rise to the heights of old time form, or was this game merely a display of its prowess gained by teamwork, which was in turn acquired from years of experience?

At any rate, according to the football accounts in the February, 1923, issue of The Whitworthian, several men who faced the Normal and other schools last fall, played for Spokane University in 1922. Also, two players on this season's football and basketball squads played on the University basketball team this year.

Incidentally, the same page credits Rognstad for being captain of Spokane College's team that year. He held the same position last fall. Even considering that perhaps he was elected captain on arrival at the College, even so his years of service there have not been few.

Following are the lineups of Spokane University's '22 and '25 teams:

1922	1925
Nutting	Nutting
Rice	Van Dorn
M. Simpson	Ferguson
Scates	L. Kelly
Bowart	Allen
Simpson	E. Kelly
Stanley	Burrus
Van Doren	Jacobs

The University of Montana lost only two players from their last year's diamond squad, so has a veteran team this year and Preparing Lunch.

Amid a flurry of rakes, hoes, and the College Friday with clean-cut, purifying results. No book-learning was gained that day.

Donald Beal, E. G. C., called the roll at 8 o'clock and operations started immediately thereafter.

The women devoted their efforts toward cleaning up McMillan hall and gymnasium, and the grounds surrounding them and Ballard hall. Several disassembled Fords went up in smoke.

Captain Wesley Roehr, in charge of the road repairing division, found himself in a bad way Friday morning, for his hired help had failed to arrive for duty. He was left in the lurch to ac-

PREPARATIONS FOR SYLVIA ARE NEARING COMPLETION

Choristers Will Wear Costumes of Farmers and Court People -
Friday Evening.

Preparations for the College operetta "Sylvia" to be given by the Whitworth Glee club under the auspices of Dorothy Farr, Friday evening at 8:15 are rapidly nearing completion.

During the last few days, the cast has been actively engaged in securing uniforms for the first dress rehearsal, which is to be held tonight.
Five of the soloists are to wear court costumes, representative of the eighteenth century period Others are to appear in the regalia of the farming people, since the scene is laid in a hayfield. Donald Beal is to be stage manager.

The solo and chorus work is under Miss Farr and the dramatic work is coached by Mrs. J. G. Patrick. The characters are practicing doubly hard this week.

Melvin Gilmore is business manager. The admission charges will be 35 and 15 cents

Quantity and Quality Served Friday Evening

"This makes me glad that I'm alive," said one Carl Boppell at dinner Friday.

While the girls were at Cook's lake frolicking about, the boys were down in the dining hall devouring all the steak they could consume, gravy,
French fried murphies, lettuce salad
(the best ever served), milk galore, and hot biscuits. Two men had to excuse themselves and run around the green that they might gain space for a couple of pieces of apple pie each.

The men now frankly advocate a men's school here, if this is an example of the dinners that would be served.

NUTTING IS BEST ORATOR

Lewiston Normal Reader Gives Winning Selections in Columbia Valley Affair.

Competing in the Columbia Valley declamatory and oratorical contests held at Spokane college Thursday and Friday evenings April 15 and 16, Lewiston Normal proved to have the best reader and Spokane university, the orator. Other schools entered were Spokane college and Whitworth college.

Lenore Nims, representative from Lewiston normal, won first place in declamation Thursday evening, reciting "A Voice from A Far Country," and "A Swedish Farmer's Impression of a Baseball Game."

Second place was taken by Helen Hanson of Spokane college giving "Grandma at the Masquerade" and
"The Neighbor Girl"; third by Louise Bussabarger of Spokane university and fourth by Marthalena Mill of Whitworth with "Absolutions" and
"The Jiners."

Henry M. Hart presided and Miss
Reba Hurn, Paul S Filer and Rev.
Robert Warner acted as judges.

With but three per cent difference in grades David Nutting, Spokane university defeated Phillip Laurie of Whitworth college in the oratorical contest Friday evening, April 16. Mr.
Nutting spoke on "Pillars of America," and Mr. Laurie, "The Foundation of Law and Order." Paul Howard of Spokane college gave as his original oration "The Legacy of Greece."

Judges on delivery were. Rufus Coleman, Dr Thomas W. Jeffries, and Miss Silverthorne of Lewiston Normal O. C. Pratt, H. C. Blair and
H. M Hart judged the subject content.

Prof B. Saxtild, Spokane college was chairman.

SIX TYPES OF COLLEGE PAPERS

There are six different types of college newspapers, according to Professor Leon R. Whipple of New York university. Sixty-five delegates to the Intercollegiate Newspaper association at New York heard their papers classified in this way.

College Billboard—No amplification is needed, the name is self-explanatory.

University Mouthpiece—A loud speaker for the trustees and president.

Village Gossip—This type is made up of personals about professors and students.

Journal of Education—This is a "sorry and dull" paper; the result of faculty effort to inject education into the reader. "This paper is to the faculty as the university mouthpiece is to the trustees—a megaphone.

The Local Gad-fly—A magazine of criticism. These do not usually last long.

Zealous Crusader — These papers see beyond immediate campus problems and partake of national problems. Pacific University Index

Granted that the Whitworthian is not yet firmly established on any set type. Perhaps each issue would fall under a different category, which kind of paper do you wish? Only a friendly, interested attitude taken by every student will keep this paper out of the unpreferred types and make it a creditable publication.

A CHANCE TO BUY A NATSIHI

The 1926 Natsihi is going to be a good annual. The staff is capable, that is being proved daily. Four hundred dollars' worth of advertising has been sold. An annual is a treasure whose value increases as years pass. That April frolic will fade from memory, better get a record in black and white; on many occasions it will give you pleasure to recall the fun you had that day, as you drag out the Natsihi published in 1926, and review the story.

It costs enough but no student could afford to be without the publication at twice the price established.

CAMPUS DAY RESULTS

Campus day was celebrated with beneficial results. The students enjoyed the outside work, and with deft touches here and there with a rake or such, they gave the College a greatly improved and attractive appearance. Now let's keep the campus beautiful.

EXPERIENCE MAKES SUCCESS.

Two students represented Whitworth in the Columbia Valley Conference declamatory and oratorical contests held at Spokane college April 15 and 16. Though neither won first honors, both will probably be back next year and each should place first in the event entered. This will be made possible only because of the experience gained this year.

Porter and Ransburg Are School Leaders

A great big person done up in a small package, and with four years' experience at Whitworth, is Thelma Porter, senior class secretary and treasurer. Miss Porter is president of the Volunteer Fellowship, secretary of the student association, senior representative on the executive board, and W. A. A. president. No student stands more firmly behind the ideals and traditions of this College than Thelma Mary Ransburg and Thelma are friends. This junior girl is captain of the volley ball team, and is to be awarded a sweater this spring, as is Marthalena Miller. Only one other girl has ever received an athletic sweater. Miss Ransburg is president of the Kappa Gamma sorority, and next month will be crowned May Queen. These honors are not so menial. And then there's Beal to be kept in his place.

Musicians Trained

Our operetta this year should be a howling success. All of the students taking the principal parts have had extensive training during the past year. A summary of the training received from approved sources is as follows:

Sylvia Lindalee Miller

Has a voice characterized by marvelous feeling developed during the course of general verbal arguments with her room mate, Lessie.

Bertram Delacy George Norton
Spent several months decaying Puget Sound clams by imitating their peculiar cry. George has developed a voice of marvelous power and sweetness.

William, an honest farmer

Trained his voice by calling home the cows in his early years.

The Forum

The Whitworthian will publish articles from its readers on all questions of student interest. The views published are not endorsed by the Whitworthian; the Forum merely affords an opportunity for the expression of opinion on questions of concern to Whitworth. All articles must be signed by the writer.

CHAPEL SPEAKERS

The students at Whitworth would appreciate and enjoy a number of outside speakers for chapel. Spokane University has an outside speaker at least once a week and Spokane College has had some noted speaker this spring.

We enjoy Dr. Newson's and Dr. Hoy's chapel talks very much and also Dr. Stevenson's but we would like some speakers who come from other places

Queer Responses to Morning Chimes

The time spent every night by Whitworth folks in peaceful oblivion averages but seven hours and thirty-six minutes per person.

Laura Carson, residing in town, is ordinarily among the last to become drowsy, though the last to view the morning sun may usually be found in room seven, MacMillan.

Reaction to the six-thirty morning chimes at the College is marvelous. Eighty per cent respond immediately. Eighteen per cent wait for the breakfast gong, and others proclaim the bell inaudible.

Altogether, every true Whitworth student, instructor or employee firmly believes that (Eccles 5:12) "The sleep of the laboring man is sweet."

Mary Ransburg Will Be Crowned Queen of the Month.

Beneath a canopy of shiny kinnikinnic leaves and waving purple and gold flowers, ten Kappa Gamma girls will wind the tinted streamers of the Maypole at the annual Kappa Gamma May party, Friday, May 7, in the College chapel.

Mary Ransburg will be crowned the queen of the month. Thelma Porter is to be the maid of honor.

Those to participate in the dance, for which Lawrence Mitchell will play the accompaniment are Lindalee Miller, Julia Stunkard, Lessie Rasco, Dorothy Brenton, Lillian Brown, Martha Miller, Zada Padgham, Bertha Tattersall, Luella Bruce, and Josephine Smith.

Invitations will be sent to about two hundred and fifty.

Students Enjoy Service Given at College Store

Students and faculty pass the College store many times a day. Perhaps they stop and buy notebook paper, pencils or candy. Candy! Yes, candy! That delicious and wonderful candy! HUNT FOR SNIPE AT COOK'S LAKE Girls Celebrate Annual April Frolic With Hike and Dancing.

Cultivating masculine arts, including fishing, the girls of Whitworth enjoyed the annual girls' April Frolic held Friday evening in the girls' parlor.

The boys upstairs courted their fair maids in true twentieth century style, with a petting party in almost every corner and frequent strolls. Despite Rev. Ezra Hopkins' numerous calls for his fickle wife, the vamping done by the Senior girls, and Miss Beatrice Barnes' loss of a husband, the dance went off fine. Mrs. William Shutt attempted the Charleston. Men distinguishing themselves on the dance floor were Lessie Rasco, Mildred Pederson, and Lillian Brown.

The afternoon hike and supper at Cook's lake were livened by a snipe hunt under Captain Julia Stunkard. Vera Ewing was the only one who actually beheld a snipe, and she was unable to catch it. Hot bacon and egg sandwiches, coffee, and doughnuts constituted the bill of fare.

CHENEY PRESIDENT GIVES TALK ON EUROPEAN TRIP

"We cannot expect Europe to pay very soon, at least," is the opinion of Dr. N. G. Showalter, president of the Washington State Normal school at Cheney, in his lecture given Friday night April 16, in the College chapel. Last July Dr. Showalter was a United States representative to the meeting of the International Education Association held in London, and his lecture dealt with this trip. Moving pictures taken on the journey were shown and explained after the address. The Whitworth Community Club was responsible for the lecture Friday.

Dr. Showalter visited one home that was over 400 years old, and in which seven or eight generations of a family lived. The people were proud the house was a big one. The family lived in front; the cows inhabited the right; the pigs and goats were kept in the rear compartments, and in the left side of the house lived the chickens. And it was a clean home too.

Belgium is the nation of mourning. What work is done in reconstruction in that devastated country is done by women.

European nations acknowledge their debt to the United States, but they are at present in no position to pay them, and prospects for paying any wheres near soon are ever so slim, according to the speaker.

A man in France was asked why France didn't use the money now spent for military purposes, to help pay her debt to America. The man asked if he might use an illustration by way of reply.

He asked Dr. Showalter what he would do in the following case:

If you had a fine home and if a robber broke in one night and stole or destroyed all your property, and if all you had left was a couple of dollars, would you take the money down and pay the grocer and the baker, or would you use the money to buy firearms to shoot the robber's head off if he ever came around again.

The French are honest in their opinion, and the United States cannot say that France is not justified in the attitude which she takes, the speaker maintained.

COLLEGE PLANS SECURING EQUIPMENT FOR BASEBALL

Arrangements are being made to secure more equipment for the baseball team. As soon as the team is fully outfitted and gets into playing shape, conference games will be played. The other two colleges in Spokane have called and asked to schedule games, but as yet Whitworth is not ready, maintains Coach Newsom.

"We ought to settle down to two weeks' practice, every night regularly with every fellow out, and then we will be in shape to play."

Laudenbach has had a smashed thumb, Bell and Stevenson have to work on advertising much of the time, various things come up to hinder the team's progress, but it is nevertheless beginning to take the proportions of a team.

The men turning out are Davis, pitcher; Laudenbach, catcher; Bell, first and pitcher; Norton, first and right field; Stevenson and Adams, second; Boppell, short; Captain Beal, third; and Hansen, Metzler, Brewer, and Norton, outfield.

unequal to the occasion? He hid himself, his chief assistant and his chief assistant's blue bug, and Philip Laurie, head tools commissioner, over to a neighbor's ranch and borrowed a one-horse shay. Thus acquiring a trailer for the bug he hauled several loads of furnace ashes and filled chuck holes in the roads.

The athletic field was raked, dragged, watered, and rolled. In the dragging lies the story with human appeal. Ask Brewer, he had to donate a trunk rope. It was like tearing his heart from his body, was taking the rope from Cyril. But in a manly manner he finally consented after the "main squeeze," Carl Boppell, promised to make good the damage done, if any. Statistics proved the valuation of the rope—15 cents.

By ropes tied at either end of a heavy plank, it was attached to a big sedan, and with six men riding the plank the baseball diamond was dragged. Thrills were as numerous as were the spills, on corners one end of the plank raised off the ground and flew around. Norton said he hadn't had so much fun since some event in family life had occurred.

Salad, sandwiches, doughnuts, whipped cream cupcakes, and coffee were served on the campus green for lunch.

WHITWORTH GOSPEL TEAM MAKES SABBATH JOURNEY

Volunteer Fellowship Club Conducts Services at Oakesdale and Tekoa.

SPECIAL MUSIC IS FEATURE

Solos, Duets, Male and Mixed Quartets Given by College Students May 2.

The Volunteer Fellowship received royal hospitality on their trip to Oakesdale and Tekoa. There they held three services, the first Sunday in May. About a hundred and fifty people attended each service at Oakesdale. A fine lunch was served at noon by the ladies. The Whitworth group included twenty-three young people.

Dorothy Brenton, vice president of the organization and leader of the Gospel teams, led the meetings at Oakesdale. Lewis Randal and Dorothy Brenton gave talks on "Stewardship" at the morning service. The double quartet sang "Just As I Am". There was also a selection by the male quartet; a number by the mixed quartet and a solo by Josephine Smith.

In the afternoon at Oakesdale, a special treat was given by Julian Garcia, who gave a talk on the "Power of God," and then sang in his native tongue. The two other speakers for this service were Lessie Rasco and Mary Ransburg. The mixed quartet consisting of Margaret Ritter, Mary Ransburg, Lewis Randal and Harvey Starling sang "Tis so Sweet to Trust in Jesus."

TOTTEN LEADS SERVICE

"Why don't you become as great as Moses or Simon Peter?" This is the question Rev. Leo Totten of Great Falls, Montana asked his audience at chapel Thursday, May 6.

"We are what God made us. If we trust in Christ we will become great, overcome sin and temptation and do wonderful things for our master and maker."

STUDENT LEADER COMING

L. Wendell Taylor, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer movement, will speak at chapel services Thursday, May 13. The remainder of the day will be taken up with personal consultation by students.

BRUCE TO BE NEW EDITOR

Luella Bruce, associate editor of the Whitworthian took over the duties of editor with this issue. Dave Adams, editor has resigned his position. Mr. Adams will continue as athletic editor. Lawrence Mitchelmore is the new associate editor.

CURRENT EVENTS

'DADDY LONG LEGS' WILL BE STAGED HERE FRIDAY

Director Morrison Reports That Everything Is Set for Successful Presentation.

"Daddy Long Legs" with his band of twelve accomplished dramatists will give the first presentation of their four act play Friday evening, May 14 at 8 o'clock in the College chapel.

A wealthy young man who is a trustee of a children's home is persuaded by a friend to take one of the orphans, a girl called Judy Abbott, out of the home and send her to an exclusive women's college.

The author must have had Dorothy Brenton in mind when he wrote the play for who else could have the "mass of beautiful auburn hair" given to Judy? Carl Boppell plays the part of the wealthy young trustee.

Miss Alice Morrison reports that the cast is ready and everything is set for a successful presentation Friday evening, May 14.

Admission charges are to be 25 and 35 cents.

DR. SHAW VISITS COLLEGE

Conducts Vocational Week There. Talks to Many Students On Future Work.

Rev. Charles T. Shaw, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Seattle, conducted Vocation Week services at the College from April 27 to May 2.

Chapel services were held both morning and evening of the period by Mr. Shaw, excepting Friday evening and Sunday morning. Each day the speaker stressed the living of the Christian life and the choosing of the right path in which to go.

Morning and afternoon a period for personal consultation of students with Mr. Shaw was provided. At this time many troubles were smoothed out; choice of life work and plans for the future were discussed.

Meetings for the Whitworth community were held Thursday and Sunday evenings.

Miss Edna Montgomery attended a party of the Alpha Phi at the home of Mrs. V. H. Cresir, on 17th Ave.

BALLARD ORATORY MEET WILL TAKE PLACE SOON

W. R. Ballard of Seattle Give Prizes of $30-20-10.

Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors will be eligible to enter the W. R. Ballard Oratorical contest to be held in the College chapel.

About eight students are expected to enter competition. All interested are asked to begin preparation of orations as soon as possible.

Orations must be original and must never before have been delivered. They must take not more than fifteen minutes for delivery. Each contestant must furnish three typewritten copies of his oration in advance of the contest. The orations are to have no markings other than the title. No prize winner is eligible to enter a second time.

The Ballard Oratorical contest was founded by Captain W. R. Ballard in 1913. Prizes of $30, $20, $10 are awarded to winners. The contest is an annual affair held during Commencement week.

It is hoped Captain Ballard will be present at the contest this year.

NATSIHI TO APPEAR SOON

Four Hundred Sixty-five Dollars' Worth of Advertising Secured.

The Natsihi staff reports that work on the annual is speedily nearing completion. Practically all the copy and the greater part of the cuts have been turned in.

Carl Landenbach, editor in chief, reports that staff representatives have secured $465 worth of advertising and expect to increase that amount within the next few days.

The literary section of the annual will be especially good this year, according to Mr. Landenbach.

The annual will be ready for distribution by June 1 or 2.

COLLEGE OPERETTA SYLVIA OFFERED FRIDAY, APRIL 30

Melvin Gilmore Manages Finances—Beal Is Stage Manager.

FIFTEEN SING IN CHORUS

Leading Parts Well Presented by Cast—Miller, Norton, Ransburg, Starling Carry Heavy Roles.

From Mitchell's first strains of piano melody to the last chorus to the harvest moon, the college operetta, "Sylvia" put on by a student cast, under supervision of Miss Dorothy Farr, Friday, April 31 on the college platform, was one of the most artistic of performances.

The leading characters merited special mention. Lindalee Miller, as the fair-haired "Sylvia" asserted independence in both speech and song. In pretty contrast, Mary Ransburg presented the shy dark-haired farmer's daughter. As a spectator remarked, she had a "face most expressive."

George Norton, in red velvet and lace, made indeed a courtly gentleman. He held the audience almost spellbound as he sang "Forever, Love Forever."

STARLING IS FARMER

Harvey Starling playing the farmer in truly backwoods fashion, was one of the most laugh provoking of the characters.

The man of consequence, presented by Robert Stevenson, in black velvet and gold buttons, will live long in the mind of Whitworth folk.

His trio with Mildred Pederson and Margaret Ritter, the court ladies in trailing gowns, was especially enjoyed.

Bertha Tattersall, as the farmer's daughter, sang very sweetly, "Once a Little Bluebell."

CHORUS WORK ENJOYABLE

Throughout the chorus work was perhaps the most attractive feature. The girls wore gay colored sunbonnets and light dresses. The boys donned overalls and raked hay most energetically. Their prettiest chorus was perhaps, "Betty, Where Art Thou" where the name of Betty merrily resounded throughout the house.

Those participating in the chorus were Julia Stunkard, Dorothy Brenton, Bertha Tattersall, Caroline Petsch, Zada Padgham, Lessie Rasco, Helen Jacobson, Thelma Porter, Laura Willey, Selma Crow, Donald Beal, Carl Boppell, William Davis, Lewis Randal and Cyril Brewer.

Lawrence Mitchell played all accompaniments. Donald Beal was stage manager, while the financial activities were under the control of Melvin Gilmore.

YOUTHFUL HEROINES LACKING

Becoming more and more noticeable every day, is the modern novelistic theory which determines that the hero and heroine of a story must have been married at least once if the tale is to savour at all, of the romantic element. Surely nothing can do more to break down American honor than to instill in the minds of its people this idea of "petting" husbands and wives. Far better that American novelists set before the people heroes and heroines true to the vows that they have taken; far better that they remove the barrier which they would place between youth and romance; and far better that we college students be occasionally able to read an up-to-date story, the heroine of which is as yet unwedded.

ENCOURAGE ORATORS

But a few weeks remain between now and the Ballard oratorical contest. It is up to us as students to make this year's Ballard, the best Ballard ever held, to produce more entrants and better entrants. The desire to show Mr. W. R. Ballard, who so generously sends sixty dollars every year to promote this contest, that we not only appreciate his interest, but that we are worthy of it.

WORK FOR TENNIS AND TRACK

With the discontinuance of baseball, there is no reason why Whitworth athletes cannot score doubly strong in tennis this spring. It is reported that we have many promising tennis contestants. Whitworth did not enter tennis at all last year so the present prospects are most encouraging. The boys, perhaps, need practice more than anything else. True, there is the annual, the play, and traditions to be kept up enough to keep us all busy, yet if Whitworth is to succeed in spring athletics, time must be found for practice. Each must do all in his power to encourage and foster spring tennis, according to the captain of that activity, if Whitworth is to make winning records there. It is hoped that centering on one lone activity will make better spring athletics.

BUS SERVICE BETTER

Just as the college meals provide a topic of conversation for the dormitory students, so the college bus gives the town students something to talk about. When it is late, you know it by the hatted students on the step outside; when early, by the mad rushing about inside; and when on time by the fact that it is waiting. Through it all, Mrs. Laurie as bus driver, patiently and uncomplainingly, serves the students, rarely failing to make the four scheduled trips to the car line each day. The bus is not only larger this year than last, but it also runs at much more convenient times. The recent shift to an eleven o'clock bus is appreciated by the students, while the two fifteen has proved much better than the old two five.

"Freshie," "Sophie" To Appear Together

The lion and the lamb shall lie down together, only this time it is a "freshie" and a "sophie" who will appear in the same story together. The individuals in question are Bert Tattersall and Mildred Pederson. "Bert" is noted for her dramatical ability and has had a leading part in nearly all of the college plays during the past three years. She will be seen in "Daddy Long Legs". "Bert" is vice president of the "freshies" this year and was vice president of the "preps" last year. Most of her attentions are showered on one person at present.

Mildred is noted for her ability as a scribe. She is secretary of the sophomores, the Tri-G. society and the Volunteer Fellowship. Mildred also entices unwary customers to the counters of Kemp and Heberts during her spare time. Mildred and Bertha were both seen in the operetta "Sylvia" and also heard. Of course Mildred is not interested in any young Whitworth gentlemen but then—ah—

Weather Wax high school has thirteen nationalities represented in its graduating class this spring.

"Pickles" is the name of the first operetta to be given at Olympia high school.

Queer Pickles Found at Whitworth

Pickles! We immediately think of kitchen and spices in connection with pickles, but not so at Whitworth. If you wish to see a rare collection of pickles visited the biology department. You will not need to be directed hither for you have only to follow your nose. The class has recently been examining fish, which are quite capable of advertising their presence.

Pickled fish, pickled bugs, pickled worms and, in fact, most any kind of pickle can be found in Miss Crowe's domain.

Laurie's Column

A new type of intercollegiate contest has been devised by Ohio schools. They are exchanging dramatic clubs and contesting the merits of college plays.

Yale university is to have a new library of 5,000,000 volumes capacity which will cost approximately $6,000,000.

Class scraps are not confined to American universities. At the recent election at the University of Glasgow, twenty thousand eggs, and a ton of fish heads, flour and soot is estimated to have been hurled back and forth by irate collegians.

Dr. James Naismith, who invented the game of baseball has reached some interesting conclusions. He has timed a good many teams in action and finds that there is as much time taken out for rest as there is actual playing during the course of the game. He also found that for the individual player there is twice as much time spent in rest as in playing.

Captain Ballard Writes

About 16 years ago, I attended the commencement exercises at Whitworth College, Tacoma, and at that time there were only two addresses by students.

After returning home and thinking the matter over, it occurred to me that one or two prizes offered would add interest in the school, so I wrote the President saying that for four years I would give three prizes (the same as at present) and if at that time a sufficient interest be shown, I would continue the prizes.

I am pleased to say from all reports from the College the oratory has been of a high order, especially in the last few years. I shall continue the prizes while I live, and my son after that.

I have just opened my date book and wrote "engaged to be at Whitworth College June 1st, 2nd and 3rd," and hope to see you all at that time.

RANSBURG GIVEN CROWN OF MAY

Children Pleasing to Audience—Decorations Are Very Elaborate.

Resplendent in its annual array of green foliage, flowers, purple and gold the chapel was the scene of the Kappa Gamma May party Friday.

Mary Ransburg, in lavender, with great dignity and beauty, wore the May crown of roses and honeysuckle. She was named queen by Thelma Porter, her maid of honor.

Barbara Seale, the little girl in gold, very sweetly and very generously sprinkled the queen's way with lilac petals. Little Bruce Bushard smilingly carried the crown in.

The Kappa Gamma girls, ten in number and dressed in light shades wound the Maypole. The program which was enjoyed with most numbers encored, consisted of:

The crowning of the May Queen.
Kappa Gamma Song.

Maypole dance

Violin solo Ruth Nehrlick
Vocal solo Dorothy Farr
Harp duet Betty and Jane Berkey
Recitation Hildegard Paterson
Piano solo Lawrence Mitchell
Harp solo Betty and Jane Berkey

Refreshment consisted of ice cream and cake. About two hundred people were guests of the sorority.

ALUMNUS MEETS COOLIDGE

Also See Many Former Whitworth Folk.

Charles Francher '17, who is at present connected with the Goodrich solid and pneumatic tire company, and has his headquarters at the corner of Lincoln and Second, has just returned from an extensive tour of the United States. Besides shaking hands with President Calvin Coolidge, he visited some former Whitworth people.

Carl Elwin Clark '18, he found in Chicago, employed in the portrait business, and especially interested in the placing of pictures in ivory panels. He also visited Prof. David B. Guy, '09, and his wife, formerly Iva Loughlin '16. Mr. Guy was professor of mathematics at Whitworth during its last days in Tacoma, and its first in Spokane. They have two children, a boy about four, and a girl, about eight. Mr. Guy is at present supervising government hydraulic engineering in Montana, Idaho, Washington, and Oregon. He is also assisting in the Chelan and Kettle Falls Power projects.

Albert Francher, a former professor of Bible at Whitworth, is now assisting in the advertising work of the New York Sun.

PRESIDENTS' BANQUET

With a six course dinner in the Italian garden at the Davenport hotel, President W. A. Stevenson entertained the presidents of the classes, of the preparatory department, of the student body, and of the Senior class. Music and talking filled the hours.

FRATERNITY HAS BANQUET MAY 8

Alpha Phi Delta fraternity got together around the banquet table Saturday night at eight o'clock. The "stag" dinner took place in the Mandarin room of the Davenport hotel. This was the last "Get-Together" before the society splits up for the summer vacation. Present were: Lawrence Mitchell, Carl Laudenbach, Walter Bell, Robert Stevenson, William Davis, Donald Beal.

After the dinner was served, they spent the rest of the evening singing and trading jokes. Lawrence Mitchell reigned at the piano, supported strongly, if not harmoniously by Walter Bell on his "uke."

PERSONALS

Tri-G girls, under the leadership of Miss Edna Montgomery plan to give "A Lunch in the Suburbs," a one act comedy by Helen Ludington, some time in the near future.

In honor of Edward Gloster who left Saturday for the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Mrs. G. L. Reid and Mrs. O. A. Cross entertained at N2303 Wall Tuesday evening at a surprise party. Among those present were: Dorothy Brenton, Josephine Smith, Margaret Ritter, Fred Metzler, Hugh Bronson, Harvey Starling, Lawrence Mitchell and Dr. C. B. Newsom.

W. A. A. Gives May Morning Breakfast Tuesday in Dining Hall.

Mid bowers of bridal wreaths representing the handles of May baskets, and decorated with pink, white and yellow tulips, the students and faculty of the college were entertained in the college dining hall at the May Morning Breakfast last Tuesday.

The place cards were hand painted with a rosebud in the corner. The menu consisted of orange fruit cups, eggs a la goldenrod on toast, and coffee.

Sunday Church Services

At the Sunday evening service, May 2, Julian Garcia and Cyril Brewer sang solos in addition to the regular features. It is also reported that the Endeavor, under Dr. C. R. Shaw had a very interesting discussion meeting.

Regular services were held last Sunday, with Dr. C. B. Newsom preaching. Regular services will be held next Sunday, with Sunday school at 9:15 and Endeavor at 7:30.

OFFICIALS SET DATE FOR CONFERENCE TENNIS MEET

Colleges Will Stage Tournament on Manito Park Courts
May 22.

The Columbia Valley conference tennis tournament will be held Saturday, May 22, at the Manito park courts, it was decided by conference officials at a meeting held last Saturday. Both men and women players will participate in the coming meet.

Other business discussed at the meeting was as follows:

Spokane university was voted conference basketball champion. The advisability of definitely abandoning either baseball or track was discussed and the representatives were asked to find the view of their respective colleges so that the matter might be settled before the end of May.

No sports other than tennis will be promoted this spring, as the colleges are too busy with other activities to spare time for athletics.

There was also a duet by Mary Ransburg and Carl Boppell, and a solo by Josephine Smith.

The Volunteer Fellowship held one of the best services of the year at the Tekoa Methodist church on the evening of May 2. The young people of the Epworth League served a cafeteria lunch. The program included:

Male quartet "The Your Sins be as Scarlet", Donald Beal, Carl Boppell, Lewis Randal, Harvey Starling. Scripture reading.....Lessie Rasco Duet "Twilight"..... Mary Ransburg, Carl Boppell

Talks on Faith..... Fred Metzler, Donald Beal

Solo, "Love Divine".....Margaret Ritter
Those who went on the trip Sunday were: Dorothy Brenton, Mary Ransburg, Lessie Rasco, Margaret Ritter, Miss Beatrice Barnes, Josephine Smith, Miss Alice Morrison, Luella Bruce, Bertha Tattersall, Mildred Pederson, Hester Reynolds, Miss Selma Crow, Lewis Randal, Donald Beal, Fred Metzler, Carl Boppell, Juhhan Garcia, Harvey Starling, Phillip Laurie, Dale Boucher, Cyril Brewer and Russell Boucher.

Two pure white sweaters with a three inch "W" on the left pocket of each one will be awarded to Mary Ransburg and Marthalena Miller Friday May 24, by the W. A. A. These girls won their final necessary points during the volleyball season just completed. Other winning points were Mildred Pederson, Dorothy Brenton, Thelma Porter, Mary Ransburg, Marthalena Miller, Lindalee Miller, Helen Jacobson, Julia Stunkard, Zada Padgham, Lessie Rasco, Luella Bruce, and Laura Carson.

GOSPEL TEAM LIKES OAKESDALE CHICKEN

A real old-fashioned chicken dinner appealed mightily to the hearts and also the stomachs of the Whitworth Gospel Team at Oakesdale Sunday May 2. The dinner was in keeping with the open hearted hospitality shown by Oakesdale people. Although the Whitworthians were tired and dusty, with a generous accumulation of dust, clinging to their persons, they managed to conduct two very successful Oakesdale meetings and one at Tekoa in the evening.

Miss Crowe was so anxious to show off the Whitworthians at Oakesdale that she insisted upon their sitting in the choir even though some of them were not very musical.

Even Freddy Metzler agreed that he had, had enough when the team arrived at Tekoa and another elaborate meal was placed before them.

Tennis Popular Sport

By WILLIAM DAVIS,
Chairman of Columbia Valley Tennis Association.

Students of Whitworth are beginning to patronize more and more our lone tennis court and to indulge in that keen and healthful game, which requires at the same time speed, headwork, stamina, and brawn.

Both men and women are seen frequently with racket in hand, heading toward the court, variously arrayed for the sport. Some wear tennis shoes, some do not, but all are intensely joyful and full of fun.

A word of advice to those that go to play in street shoes. Our court is none too good now, so lets keep it as smooth as possible and wear tennis shoes, when playing. The hard heels of ordinary shoes tear up the courts and make accurate playing nearly impossible.

The Columbia Valley Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament is to be held the last part of May so Whitworth students, who wish to enter this meet, prepare yourselves now. A word to the wise is sufficient.

SENIORS ARE OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED BY STUDENTS

Adams, Gilmore, Knoll, and Bronson Make Addresses to Seniors.

SENIORS WEAR UNIFORMS

Dr. Newsom is Presiding Officer, Miller Plays Processional March.

Marching to the strains of a processional march played by Lindalee Miller, the senior class entered the chapel Friday and took their places at the front of the room, while the student body stood in recognition of the gowned candidates.

Following the entrance, the doxology was sung and prayer led by Dr. C. B. Newsom, who also presided and explained the purpose of the exercises.

Class speakers then eulogized the seniors, telling what they mean to a college.

Hugh Bronson, speaking for the preparatory department, reminded the listeners that memories of the seniors would remain with the college.

Lee Knoll, of the freshman, spoke on the help and democratic spirit of the class.

Dave Adams of the sophomores emphasized the fact that the seniors would have won honor anywhere.

Melvin Gilmore, in a few humorous remarks spoke ably on the seniors as seen by the juniors.

Josephine Smith sang the solo, "Friend of Mine," accompanied by Lindalee Miller.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS HEARD

Student Volunteer Representative and Local Pastor Meet Students.

"What is your attitude toward people of other colors? and why do you come as propagandists, rather than missionaries? asks the Hindu of the American," said L. Wandell Taylor, representative of the Student Volunteer movement and four years a missionary in India, in a chapel talk Thursday May 13.

We must go back to the place where we first gained our Christianity, "back to Galilee" if we are to overcome discouragement and find enthusiasm, and vision, was the statement of Rev. Hugh Mitchelmore of Bethel Presbyterian church last Wednesday morning.

Gail Seaman, Y. M. C. A. field man spoke to men Thursday May 13 in the interests of the Seabeck conference, June 12 to 21.

VOLUNTEER FELLOWSHIP CONTINUES ACTIVE WORK

Services Held at Fishtrap and Spokane Churches by Gospel Teams.

The Volunteer Fellowship, one of the most active organizations of the school, intends to continue work through the vacation. It has been holding regular services each week.

Yesterday morning the Gospel teams conducted the chapel services. Lee Knoll led the opening prayer. Dorothy Brenton, senior, presided, and Marthalena Miller read. Special music consisted of numbers by the mixed quartette, girls' quartette, double quartette, and a vocal solo by Thelma Porter.

Last Friday afternoon, the Gospel Team had a part in the Women's missionary meeting at the First Presbyterian church. Julian Garcia spoke and sang. Thelma Porter favored with a solo; and the women's quartet, all sang one number.

Next Sunday evening, the Gospel Team plans to take charge of the evening service at the Fourth Presbyterian church.

SIX WILL ENTER BALLARD

The Ballard Oratorical contest will be held Monday June 7.

Students intending to enter the meet are: Marthalena Miller, Mildred Pederson, Phillip Laurie, Luella Bruce, Dave Adams and Lawrence Mitchelmore.

NATSIHI TO MAKE GRAND ENTRANCE INTO COLLEGE

Shows Much Growth Since Last Year's Appearance at Whitworth.

Natsihi will doff his cap to General public in two more weeks and modestly step back to receive the thunderous ovations of applause and appreciation. He will be dressed in red and black and will have grown noticeably larger since last year.

Filled from cover to cover with topics of lively interest to every Whitworth student it presents the concentrated life of the entire school year.

Even the Freshman class has found a page to step onto and glow with a soft green color. The largest and most unique graduating class for years to come will fill a complete page.

Chief Laudenbach says that snapshots, organization pictures, school calendar, athletics, the faculty, the preps, dorm life, and a very fine picture of President Stevenson are to be offered at the small price of two dollars and a half.

The literature section is composed by home talent, which may be the first efforts of budding geniuses.

The jokes are on everyone, on some of the students by name, and the rest will be on the students who read them.

PLAY 'DADDY LONG LEGS' PRESENTED HERE TWICE

Different Leads Used in Each Presentation of Four Act Comedy.

PLAY DRAWS AUDIENCE

Crowd Pleased with Special Music Given Between Acts as Added Features of Play.

"Daddy Long Legs," a comedy in four acts, was presented here for the second time, under Coach Alice Morrison's direction, Friday evening before an audience in which standing room was at a premium. With different leads, the play had previously been given the Friday before, May 14.

The wealthy, benevolent young bachelor, Jervis Pendleton, was characterized by Carl Boppell in the first presentation. Boppell successfully brought out all kindness, friendly interest and love, that that personage should possess. Walter Bell portrayed Pendleton last Friday. As a man of the world, he was par-excellence—all admit that.

BRENTON SPIRITED ORPHAN.

Dorothy Brenton won the love and admiration of all in attendance at the first presentation, by losing herself in her part. She made Judy Abbot, the spirited orphan, actually seem real. Playing opposite Bell, Bertha Tattersall pleased the audience Friday by her portrayal of Judy.

Robert Stevenson, as a college chap from Yale, furnished the laughs. Before the play ended, he and Julia Stunkard, as Julia Pendleton, seriously contemplated elopement.

Lessie Rasco deserves credit for the splendid interest she took in Judy, as her friend Miss Pritchard.

PADHAM WANTS REST.

"I just don't get no rest," complained Zada Padgham, as Mrs. Semple, who is somewhat of a busy-body.

Harvey Starling possesses all the earmarks of a successful trustee, gruff voice and all.

"Take it yourself, Walters," is all the thanks Fred Metzler received for acting the part of a conscientious butler. William Davis should take up secretarial work,—he made a fine "Griggs."

Mrs. Pendleton was played by Jane De Van in a fitting manner.

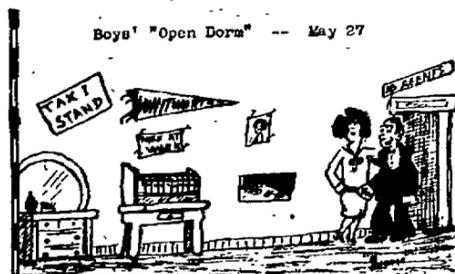

"They are such a trial to me," screeched Mrs. Lippett, matron of the John Grier home. Mildred Pederson's orphans were Pauline and Helen Miller, Thelma Porter, Laura Willey, Phillip Laurie and Dorothy Brenton.

Laura Carson was one of Judy's roommates at college, and had a voice most pleasing.

Special vocal solos were given between acts in both plays, by Cyril Brewer, Josephine Smith, Lindalee Miller, Dorothy Farr, and Harold Cassill.

WITH CHRIST

Last year, Mrs. J. P. Graves of this district had placed in the front of our chapel, the beautiful emblem wonderfully illustrated and written about in the poem of this issue. Every chapel morning, when the students assemble, its dark red letters fill their hearts with pride, and inspire them with a new love for their college. Recently, however, Margaret Ritter beheld there a still deeper meaning.—"With Christ". It can but help to make us better men and women, if we have stamped so firmly on our minds, the vision of this beautiful emblem that when we leave behind the doors of our college, it shall still proclaim to us its message, W. C.—Whitworth college, With Christ

FLOWERS APPRECIATED

Recently, our chapel was gaily decorated with bunches of large red tulips intermingled with small white flowers. Later, we had placed before us a gigantic bouquet of many kinds of flowers. These blossoms add a certain charm to an address that can be imparted in no other way. Now that summer is drawing near and that flowers are blooming prolifically everywhere, there is no reason why we cannot always have a beautiful chapel bouquet. Let us each try to secure at least one such bunch of flowers before the year is out and to arrange it somewhere in the chapel. Let us continue the good work of decorating, which someone has already so well begun.

STAFF'S FAREWELL

As we prepare to leave Whitworth in a short time let us remember what she has done for us. Let the enjoyment of this year's work and play remain in our memories. Perhaps there have been sorrows and trouble. Let's forget them. Let us remember the best.

Each student will return to his or her home. Let's speak a good word for Whitworth. Let's show the home folks that we are loyal to our Alma Mater and have real school spirit.

Boost for the college! We have need for a Christian college such as Whitworth. Let's be "back to Whitworth boosters."

BUSINESS MANAGERS ADIEU

The Business staff of the Whitworthian wishes to thank the advertisers herein represented for their fine cooperation.

We hope that the advertising in the Whitworthian has proved of benefit to your business—and we believe it has. One advertiser's business with students at Whitworth has increased over 200 per cent as a direct result of placing his ad in the Whitworthian.

Again, we want to thank you for your contribution toward a bigger and better Whitworth and to wish you every good fortune "Till we meet again."

Article Surprise to "Who's Who" Writer

If Phillip Laurie and Mildred Post are representative students of Anacortes high school, then that high school is a fine one.

Phillip Laurie '28, is an actor, orator, debater, and writer. The character, "Freddy Perkins" was played by Laurie in the comedy "Daddy Long Legs." Phillip was first speaker on the College negative debate team. Last month Laurie placed second in the Conference oratorical contest, and is favored by many to take first in the Ballard contest to be held commencement week. This busy sophomore is a member of the Kappa Omicron Sigma fraternity.

"Phil" is the regular character-sketch writer for the Whitworthian and probably is unable to understand until he notices this article, why he was not assigned the job for this issue.

Mildred "Red" Post did practically all the typing for the Natsihl and much of the typing for the Whitworthian. Throughout the year Mildred has constantly stood ready to do any work, of any description, at any time, for any one, and without expecting to be highly praised for so doing either. Mildred has golden-red hair, widely accredited to be the most beautiful on the campus. Miss Post is a senior prep, well liked and fairly well behaved.

The Whitworthian wishes to express thanks to Miss Beatrice Barnes for never failing help and encouragement given in its publication

Looie's Roar

I love a little College Girl
Blue eyes that seem to call O'er shadowed by a shingled curl
And ruby lips, and all—

I love her so, I can declare
I could not love her worse
If the gold shining in her hair
Were gold inside her purse.

Dean: Where is Norton, Bill?
Bill: I dunno.
Dean: Isn't that his bug over yonder?
Bill: Naw, that's Mr. Laurie's wheelbarrow.

"You just cut that out," coyly gurgled Phil Laurie, the Exchange Editor.

Some dumbell sent fairly complete copy of the campus rules to a certain well known humor magazine, but the major portions were rejected as "slapstick."

Time: 11:15 p.m. in McMillan hall.
Lindalee: What does "synchronize" mean?
Lessie: Sh—speak lower.
Lindalee: Can't—I'm a soprano.

Back to the Box, Biscuits, there's a wise-cracker with us. Wes Roehr says: "The roan shorthorn won't come home cause she's down by the highway flirting with a tobacco sign."

Soon College ties will be broken—
I'll break the heart o'me—
Like the rolling waves are broken
On cold shores of the sea
But e'en though they break forever
They'll ne'er be broke as me!

King Arthur and his knights sat at the table round partaking of a square meal, with a gusto and an "audio" frequency never before heard in that land. Their minds were dull, but their flowing goblets shouted aloud with the tongues of men and angels. A page entered and, little by little, he threw himself prostrate at the feet of King Arthur and Queen Vinegar "Your Majesty", he thundered, "The prisoners in the dungeon are a great expense." The king swore so frightfully that the trembling page nearly lost his printing. "What ho! Hang the expense!" he vouchsafed violently.

So ordered, the executioner took the condemned man to the habitation of the king's mother-in-law, the Mother of Vinegar. "Can we hang these men in your yard?" he asked.

"Sir, I'll have you know I'm a widow woman, and can't have men hanging around the house."

KAPPA OMICRON SIGMA BANQUET

Kappa Omicron Sigma fraternity entertained twenty guests at a banquet held in the Corbin Park Methodist church, Thursday evening, May 13. The banquet was pronounced the most successful ever put on by the organization.

Stan Pierce acted as toast master and introduced the speakers of the evening, Wesley Roehr, Carrol Pederson and Phillip Laurie. Dr. C. B. Newsom and Dean J. D. Patrick also spoke briefly. Louie Roehr welcomed the ladies present in a characterized speech.

After the banquet a one act play, entitled, "Ride 'em Cowboy" was presented. Freddy Metzler as the bashful cowboy hero and Miss Margaret Ritter as the "district" school teacher ably took the leads.

Louie Roehr as Texas Ike and Wesley Roehr as Maricope Slim behaved in true western cowboy style. Stan Pierce as Jonas Crabbe played the part of the villain, who was invited to leave the country because of trifling with the affections of the school "marm". Piute Pete, Roy Davey, proved to be a particularly blood thirsty Indian.

Papy Martin, the ancient patriarch of the plains, Ralph Hanson, and Bobby Jones, the only pupil in the school district, and in habit of stuttering furnished the comedy of the play. Lee Knoll took the part of Bobby.

HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Sigma Omicron gave a surprise birthday party in honor of Mildred Pederson, last Wednesday afternoon. The nineteen pink candles decorating the cake told their own story.

PERSONALS

Arden Newson, son of Coach C. B. Newsom, representing Kansas high schools in a recent tennis meet of the Middle States, won second place.

Julian Garcia reports that he is planning to return to his home in the Philippines next month, to visit relatives there, whom he has not seen for fifteen years. His grandmother is 121 years of age.

Dr. W. A. Stevenson plans to return to the college about June 2, after having spoken in the interest of Whitworth at several of the large Eastern churches and attended General Assembly at Baltimore.

Jean Seaton has just completed a fine collection of bugs as Biology work.

As guests of Miss Beatrice Barnes at the college May 16 and 17 were her mother and sister, Joy.

FACULTY IS ENTERTAINED

Out of the student's sight, it is reported that the faculty enjoyed a very pleasant evening, Tuesday, May 11, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hays at their home 8427 Fifth. The evening was spent in playing games, entering contests, and viewing pictures of the Holy Land. Refreshments were also enjoyed. It is reported that the faculty kept real party hours.

MRS. STEVENSON HAS TEA

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. W. A. Stevenson was at home to women of the college and entertained at a Kensington tea. Conversation and sewing occupied the hours.

ALUMNI TO WED IN EASTERN CITY

Culminating a college romance, the marriage of Eleanor Stockett, and Frank Henry, both of the class of '25 will take place at 8 p.m. June 15 at the groom's home in Pittsburg, with the Rev. Moody of the St. Andrews Episcopal church officiating. The bride will wear a gown of lavender trimmed in silver. The young couple plan a two week's honeymoon after the ceremony.

Miss Stockett has been connected with our faculty during the past year. Mr. Henry is one of the chief inspectors for the Philadelphia Electric. Both young people have been prominent in the social life of the school. Miss Stockett was president of Kappa Gamma during fall '24. Mr. Henry was exalted dux of Alpha Psi Delta last year and also president of the student body. Mr. and Mrs. Henry will make their home in Pittsburg.

Dean Alice Morrison has entertained at the college recently, Mr. and Mrs. McQuiston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Base, and Lulu Cassill.

Mrs. Wm. Shutt and Miss Selma Crowe attended a party at the Whitworth grade school Monday, May 18.

CAPTURE MEN'S SINGLES

Lewiston Normal Takes Both Double Matches; Spokane U., Women's Singles.

By virtue of his victories in the Columbia Valley conference tennis tournament Saturday at Manito park, William Davis is conference singles champion. Lewiston normal won both the men's and the women's doubles titles, and Vera Miller of Spokane university took the women's singles.

William Davis and Donald Beal, who represented Whitworth in the men's doubles.

By hard work Davis defeated Weaver of Spokane college in the singles preliminaries two straight sets. In the singles finals he faced Ross of Lewiston who had eliminated Jacobs of Spokane university. Davis could not find his service and lost the first set to Ross. He then settled down and won the match by taking the next three sets in succession. Set scores were 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Pitted against an experienced, smooth working team, Davis and Beal were eliminated in the men's doubles by Lewiston, 6-4, 9-7. The Whitworth men lacked the team work to win.

In the last event of the tournament, Lewiston defeated Spokane college three sets out of five in the doubles finals, ending the tournament about 7 p. m.

Miss Lindalee Miller played in the finals for the women's singles title. Miss Miller had everything her way at first but gave in under the strain, losing 8-6 and 6-1. In the afternoon Lindalee Miller and Genevieve Claypoole were defeated in the doubles preliminaries by Lewiston.

STUDENT BODY TO ELECT
Wesley Roehr, Carl Laudenback, and Donald Beal were yesterday nominated for the student body presidency. Election of these officers will take place in about two weeks.

Forging from behind to take the last two sets, William Davis, tennis captain, proved his right to represent Whitworth in the single matches at the Conference tournament, by defeating Donald Beal three sets out of five Tuesday, May 18, in the final match of the elimination tournament held at the College during the week. Davis won the fourth set to tie the count in the fifth and deciding set, Davis pulled away from a duce set to win, 7 to 5. Beal had the advantage most of the way but the fast pace seemed to tire him, costing him the match and the intra-mural championship.

The set scores were 3-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Preliminary results were: Davis and Adams, 6-0, 6-0; Stevenson and Laudenbach, 6-1, 6-0; Norton and Boppell, 0-6, 6-3, 7-5; Beal and Davey, 6-2, 6-1; The semi-final results were Davis and Stevenson, 6-0, 6-0; and Beal and Norton, 6-1, 6-2.

Lindalee Miller won the women's singles championship by defeating Genevieve Claypoole in the women's finals.

The doubles teams were selected through this tournament, the two best singles players in each group comprising the team.
