FRESHMAN WEEK PROVES EVENTFUL

The first social event of the college year was a "Freshman Mixer," given on Tuesday afternoon, September 11. On Wednesday afternoon, after a laborious morning spent in taking freshman tests, the class had an enjoyable picnic at Loon lake. Mary Briggs was chairman of the arrangements committee, assisted by Margaret Clapp and Alfred Hewitt.

The traditional "frosh-soph" contests and all-college picnic were held on Friday afternoon. The scrap included a sack race, a tug of war, and a capture-the-flag contest. The sophs were victorious in all events, but the frosh put up a good fight.

On Friday evening, September 15, at the President's reception, new members of the faculty and the freshman class were honor guests. The following musical program was given: Piano solos, George B. Williston, head of the piano department, vocal numbers, Mrs. Ina Wright Herbst, instructor in voice; violin solos, Gardner Morozan, accompanied by Miss Agnes Beecher. Mr. Morgan has charge of the college department of violin. Several numbers were given by an instrumental trio composed of the Misses Genevieve and Helen Wilson and Kathleen Gerking. Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president of the college, and faculty members and their wives were in the receiving line.

On the following Friday morning the freshman class had charge of the program given at assembly. Kemp Rptan was chairman of the committee, assisted by Dorothy Clifford, Hazel Barnes, and Dwight Goodwin. The program included piano duet, Elizabeth and Marcia Crockett; reading, Wilma Timm, clarinet solo, Mack Hamley, piano solo, Elizabeth Northrop, guitar and vocal numbers, David Huntley; vocal duet, Dorothy Clifford and Lowell Poore, and trombone duet, Robert Dumm and Osmer Jensen.

Professor Bowersox Undergoes Operation

Prof. L. K. Bowersox, head of the college history department, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis, Sunday evening, October 7, at the Deaconess hospital. He is under the care of Dr. S. E. Lambert and is reported to be getting along favorably. Just when he will be able to return to his home has not been determined. During his absence from college, Mrs. Bowersox has been conducting his classes.

Dr. Sullivan in the East

Dr. W. W. Sullivan left Saturday morning, October 13, for the Middle West and the East, where he will spend four or five weeks. He will attend a general council meeting at Chicago, will consult with the Board of Christian Education at Philadelphia, and will consult with the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundation boards at New York city.

Dr. Sullivan attended a meeting of the Independent College Association of Washington October 3 in Olympia. The meeting was called by Dr. N. E. Showalter, state superintendent of schools, for the purpose of considering problems of higher education.

This summer the dining room in McMillan hall was dressed up in new curtains and tablecloths. The curtains, with rods, were given by the Whitworth college auxiliary. The college bought the new tablecloths and had the chairs painted green.

Florence Moore Editor of Natsihi

Executive Board Has New Members

Two new members, Dwight Calkins and Ann Pillers, were chosen at the meeting of the executive board on September 20. Dwight Calkins, who replaces Wilson Rasco as chairman of the religious activities committee, is a "W" club member and a football letterman. He is also president of the sophomore class. Last year he was prominent in many college activities and won special recognition in athletics, music and drama.

Ann ("Sunny") Pillers, who replaces Florence McEachran as chairman of the promotional activities committee, has served on many college committees and is now holding office as the social chairman of the Sefelo club for the second consecutive term. She is active in Christian Endeavor and is chairman of the lookout committee. She has been elected this year as society editor of the Whitworthian.

The organization of the executive board, as it stands at present, is as follows:

Promotional activities committee composed of the following: Ann Pillers, chairman; Graham Potter, senior representative in charge of advertising; Earleen Schiewe, junior; Mark Koehler and Elise Aldrich, sophomores, in charge of ticket sales; Lowell Poore and Marcia Crockett, freshmen, in charge of posters.

Social activities committee, with Jo Schrap, chairman; Hedley Vicker, senior; Scott Chatterton, junior; Eleanor Henderson, sophomore; and Osmer Jensen, freshman.

Religious activities, Dwight Calkins, assisted by Robert Reese and picked committee.

Traditions committee, headed by Murdock Hale, chairman. His committee has not yet been picked.

Athletics committee, headed by Dan Fleming, chairman. His committee has not been chosen.

Christine McDonald will represent the Women's Athletic association.

Schedule Meetings for Coming Term

The following schedule of meetings by the month for the various organizations of the college has been arranged and accepted by the executive board:

First Friday	Volunteer Fellowship	11:30-11:45
	Picnic club	11:30-11:45
	Executive board	11:45-12:15
Second Friday	Associated students	11:30-11:50
	Classes	11:50-12:15
Third Friday	Art club	11:30-11:45
	Dramatic club	11:30-11:45
	Executive board	11:45-12:15
Fourth Friday	W. A. A. executive board or W. A. A.	11:30-11:55
	"W" club	11:30-11:55
	French and German clubs	11:55-12:15
	Special meetings	11:55-12:15
	Special meetings called during the week may not exceed five minutes in length.

New members of the Whitworth college faculty were honor guests at a covered dish dinner Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan. The evening was spent socially, with nearly fifty attending.

Dr. Hardwick Busy Man

Dean Francis T. Hardwick has been a busy man the last few weeks. Besides his college duties he has been called outside to give several talks. On September 26, he gave an address to the Audubon Masonic lodge. On October 4 and 5, he was called to Colville, where he gave two addresses at the Washington Educational association. He will also speak at the Spokane county meeting of the Washington Educational association on October 15 and 16. He will give a paper on "Present Status of Foreign Language Teaching" and another on "Comprehensive Examination in College."

Bible Conference at Diamond Lake

"That I might know Him" was the theme of the Whitworth Women's Bible conference held at Diamond lake October 5, 6, and 7. The leaders were Miss Ruth H. Walter, Portland; Miss Doris Coffin, Seattle; Dean Marion R. Jenkins; and Mrs. P. L. Wilson.

Miss Water and Miss Coffin returned to Whitworth and remained on the college campus until October 12. They attended classes and each gave talks at chapel services.

DORMITORIES WELL FILLED

Many Town Are Represented.

The college dormitories are well filled this semester. The out-of-town students have been having a happy time. On September 10, an enjoyable dorm mixer was held. On September 11 there was a picnic supper, also for the purpose of getting the new students acquainted.

The new women students in the dormitory include Genevieve Glenn, Tacoma; Georgia Patterson, Thornton; Elizabeth and Marcia Crockett, Edgemere, Idaho; Esther Miller, Waukon; Wilma Timm, Harrington; Marian Minnich, Omak; Dorothy Clifford, St. John; Margaret Clapp, Ephrata; Ruth Weil, Peone Prairie; Virginia Larson, Wenatchee; Lorraine Rasco, Sunnyside; Mariorie Harrison, Post Falls, Idaho; Grace Mills, Tonasket; and Nell Blair, Tekoa.

The new men are Burton Alvis, Yakima; Mack Hamley, Sprague; Laurence McArthur, Sandpoint; Edwin Nashburg, Northport; Lowell Poore, Sunnyside; Wendell Taylor, St. John; Kenneth Smith, Tacoma; Allen Bandfield, Yakima; and Gerald Beckler, Colville.

Hooks Speaks at Chapel

H. K. Hooks, of New York, spoke for the Community Concert association in chapel, Friday, October 12. He told anecdotes of musical artists. From October 8 to 13, the Community Concert association of Spokane offered memberships to students interested in the series. Support by Whitworth of a community project that brings the best musical talent to Spokane, is gratifying indeed. Members of the committee who took subscriptions were Mrs. Ina Herbst, Miss Leila E. Moore, and Elise Aldrich.

HOME-COMING TO BE BIG ATTRACTION

STUDENTS ENROLL FOR FALL TERM

Heavier Enrollment Expected next Semester; Dormitories Full.

On September 12, 177 students were registered at Whitworth. The enrollment is not completed for the first semester.

"A heavier enrollment than usual is expected for the second semester," said President Ward Sullivan. Sixty-six students are living in the dormitories. Twelve of these students are freshmen.

There are 44 students from Lewis and Clark high school, 40 from North Central, and 10 from Rogers. Eight states and Alaska are represented. New York, Idaho, Montana, Indiana, California, Oregon, Washington, and Illinois.

Ballard Initiation Proves Interesting

The night of Thursday, September 20, initiation night, will never be forgotten by the new men of Ballard hall.

The initiation committee, which was composed of George Hendrick, Paul Koper, and Keith Murray, had many an occasion to laugh as they watched the initiates pass through the ingeniously contrived tortures. Many spectators were on hand.

The peanut race, which was the first event, resulted in several sore noses and many broken peanuts. Of course, if the participants were too slow, a paddle was used to hurry them up a bit. Lowell Poore and Mac Hamley entertained the group by carrying water in their mouths from glasses set at the top of a flight of stairs to cups set at the bottom. They kept their hands in their hip pockets. Allan Bandfield and Burton Alvis did a neat job of feeding each other bananas. After this event, all the initiates wanted to eat—and they did. They found that raw eggs, shell and all, weren't so bad. On the strength of the eggs, the initiates were sent to collect such things as birds' nests and ten ants apiece. At the return showing, the paddles were wielded lightly, for quotas obtained were few. But the most fun came when the initiates, on hands and knees, made trip after trip up and down three flights of stairs, carrying water in their mouths with which to put out the sizzling fire in the fireplace. (If you want to hear more, ask Mrs. Hardwick.) Last but not least were the doughnuts and coffee served to all, but paid for by the initiates. After the strain of the evening, all retired, the initiates to their beds (which they found piled in the centers of their rooms), and Bill Williams to mourn the loss of a broken paddle which cost too much.

Genevieve Wilson Presents Recital

The Art club sponsored Genevieve Wilson's graduation recital, Friday evening, September 29. Miss Wilson was presented in her dramatic recital by the Rev. William E. Adams, formerly head of the speech and drama department of Whitworth. Miss Helen Wilson assisted her sister by playing a violin solo between parts. Genevieve's recital included a varied program of the best literature. Her closing number, which was especially lovely, was "Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata," with musical accompaniment. emblem above the stage.

Main Event Will Be Game Played with Lewiston Normal.

PEP RALLY FRIDAY

Many interesting activities are being planned for Whitworth's annual Home-coming days, November 2 and 3. Jo Schrap is general chairman for the affair, which is sponsored by the Associated Students, with Keith Murray as president.

The home-coming football game will be played Saturday afternoon with Lewiston normal. The Friday program will include an alumni chapel program in the morning, with the Rev. Lee Knoll, president of the Alumni association, in charge, and the traditional bonfire and pep rally Friday evening. Robert Dumm, president of the freshman class, is in charge of the evening program.

Following the game Saturday afternoon, the big home-coming banquet will be held at the college. Hedley Vicker is in charge of the program for the banquet; Scott Chatterton and Osmer Jensen, general arrangements; Mrs. M. D. McLeod, of the Whitworth Women's auxiliary, the banquet, and Eleanor Henderson, assisted by Margaret Close, Boh Hood, Audrey Simmons, and Ann Pillers, decorations.

Executive Board O.K.'s New Budget

Based on Average Student Body Membership.

The A. S. W. C. budget for this semester is based on an average student body membership of 160 a semester. It is as follows:

Football	$700.00
Basketball	200.00
Baseball	75.00
Tennis	75.00
W. A. A.	175.00
Whitworthian	250.00
Social	80.00
Debate	75.00
Handbook	35.00
Volunteer Fellowship	35.00
Miscellaneous	30.00
Natsihi	800.00
College Inn	670.00

Total $3200.00. The W. A. A. appropriation finances the women's sports program for the year. The Whitworthian and the Natsihi appropriations are direct subsidies to supplement receipts from advertising. The social fund is for the financing of all college social events, including Home-coming, May day, Campus day, and the beefsteak breakfast.

The Volunteer Fellowship appropriation is used to send gospel teams out over the Inland Empire.

It was decided in the executive board meeting that there was no need for an extra dollar to be charged for the College Inn, but any surplus in the budget shall be used for a student union building.

L. K. Bowersox Appoints Committee for Point System.

Dr. L. K. Bowersox, as chief executive in charge of Whitworth's new point system, has appointed the following committee members to serve as his chief assistants:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"A most hearty welcome is extended to all graduates and students of Whitworth who come back to our 'Homecoming' November 2 and 3. 'Coming Home' furnishes a thrill unequalled by most other experiences in life; coming back to see old places, old friends, and old faces is an occasion to be long remembered.

"The glad hand of Whitworth friendship and fellowship is extended to all."

Yours very cordially,
 WARD W. SULLIVAN, President.

The school year is already six weeks old, and we are off to a good start. A good start goes a long way, but it is not all that it takes to make a successful year.

After the Lewiston game, disappointment over losing caused some students to waste considerable energy "beefing" about it. For students who are not on the football team—especially freshman students—to crab about losing a game is poor business.

Whitworth College will be here a long time after we are gone, and we won't hurt it much by an attitude, but we can hurt ourselves a great deal. Crabbing is a prime way of making one's self unpopular.

KEITH MURRAY

Dr. Hays Head of Classical Section in Educational Meeting

The annual meeting of the Washington Educational association was held October 15 and 16 at the Fox theatre and the Lewis and Clark high school. The meeting was divided in two sections, the Classical and the College section. Whitworth was well represented in both divisions. Dr. C. W. Hays was chairman of the Classical section. Dr. F. T. Hardwick spoke in both branches of the work. His topics were: "How to Improve College Teaching by the Use of Comprehensive Examination" and "The Present Status of the Teaching of Latin."

Nearly 2000 educators attended this meeting. They came from Adams, Asotin, Lincoln, Pend Oreille, Spokane, and Whitman counties.

Chinese Physician Talks on Leprosy

"Leprosy is the greatest of international problems, for no nation is free from it," said Dr. T. C. Wu, Chinese physician of Shanghai, as he addressed the students of Whitworth college recently at chapel.

"There are three million lepers in the world today. Leprosy has now been brought under control; lepers are isolated for life. Leprosy, still prevalent in the Orient, can be traced back to six centuries before Christ. It has a very long history.

"There are many tragedies of leprosy. Physically, the leper suffers more than does a person with any other disease. The nervous system is partially paralyzed; the leper endures virtually a living death. The mental suffering is even greater than the physical. The leper becomes an outcast. In some parts of the world people will tolerate him, but in other places he is even tortured. Sometimes he is burned alive.

"Leprosy usually attacks the poor and uneducated, but it occasionally attacks the rich and well educated. The leper is a social parasite. Today, through the wonderful help of modern medical science, leprosy can be cured. All nations should increase their efforts to wipe out the dread disease."

Countermines Combine Pleasure and Profit in Vacation.

In an interesting interview, Dr. Countermine recently commented as follows upon the Eastern trip which he and Mrs. Countermine made this summer:

"We combined pleasure and profit on our vacation. It was a pleasure to travel about among our old-time friends and relatives in four states, eating chicken dinners, fishing, hunting, golfing, farming, gardening, and serving as handy-tinker in homes, barns, garages, and the like.

"The classroom fades out of the picture. But to see 'Dizzy' Dean down the Cubs, 6 to 2, on that million-dollar Wrigley field, and to spend three days at the World's Fair, which was 50 per cent better than that of last year, were pleasures long to be remembered.

"The crowds that were milling about by day and by night on the fairgrounds showed no evidence of depression. In fact, from what we saw this summer, depression could be confined to talk or to paper.

"The three Bible conferences in three different cities represented three different schools of thought. These meetings gave us the opportunity to know what some of the outstanding religious teachers of today are saying. Here the results of depression were more in evidence. There was a sincere slant toward realities; theories and speculations were set aside. During the three Bible conferences we sat under fifteen different Bible teachers, some of whom are well known on both sides of the Atlantic. It was a profitable experience for one who is nailed down to a college campus nine months of the year."

The Whitworth Christian Endeavor has organized for the coming year under the leadership of Robert Reese, president. Other officers include Marian Minnich, vice-president; George Hendrick, secretary-treasurer; Paul Kopei, prayer meeting chairman; Margaret Close, social chairman; Ann Pillers, lookout chairman; Burton Alvis, missionary chairman; and Clark Copple, music chairman. These officers were installed Sunday, September 30, by Dr. J. W. Countermine.

Forty-five students signed the pledge cards of the Volunteer Fellowship at the first meeting called by the president, Harold Penharrick. On the first Friday of each month a meeting of the group will be held. Four socials are planned for the year, besides the annual spring picnic. Other officers are Ralph Shanks, vice-president; Robert Reese, treasurer; and Bertha Davie, secretary.

Whitworth Rents Hill House for Coming Year.

The Hill house has been rented by the college for the year. Dr. and Mrs. Wegner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, and Miss Estella Baldwin are living there at present.

Dr. Wegner is the head of the mathematics and physics departments. Mr. Wilson is superintendent of buildings and grounds. Mrs. Wilson assists in the kitchen and is in charge of the cafeteria. Miss Baldwin is acting secretary to Dean Hardwick.

Dean Marion R. Jenkins attended a conference of the deans of women of colleges and universities over the week-end at Lake Chelan.

Pirette Club Honors Miss Moore.

A dinner honoring Miss Leila E. Moore, new adviser of the Pirette club, was given Thursday evening, October 11, at the Oasis by the Pirettes. Miss Moore was presented with a lovely corsage.

Plans were made for a fireside honoring sophomore and junior women of the college to be held Friday evening, October 19, at the home of Christine McDonald.

Prof. H. L. Hussong, head of the sociology department, is proud to announce that he has an excellent attendance in all his classes. The subjects now offered in the sociology department are: Introduction to Sociology, Human Ecology, Criminology, History of Social Theory, and Social Research.

Have Super Lawn Mower

Boast—because we had what no other campus has even seen—a super lawn mower. It did not need to be oiled; it took no man power to make it work; and every time we looked at it, it was right on the job. It couldn't be called exactly a work of art. It needed to be built up in the middle, and the paint job was rather dingy; but as a grass cutter, it was superb, for even a catcher was provided (with no extra charge) for what was cut off. In fact, there was magic in that catcher.

In selling a mower of this type, one would have to point out its disadvantages too. Being rather cumbersome, it would be hard to transport. If its blades were dulled or lost, they could be neither sharpened nor replaced. This contraption might even draw flies in warm weather. But aside from these disadvantages, for creating a stir among one's neighbors or as a bid for publicity, this type of grass cropper can nowhere be surpassed. Try one in your front yard!

In other words, "Do you wanna buy a horse?"

Dramatic Talent Organizes New Club

The Dramatics club, under the supervision of Miss Vera A. Paul, is soon to become a regular organization of the college.

The purpose of the club is to give to talented and interested students, an opportunity to participate in dramatic productions, and also to afford training in staging, stage design, lighting, costuming, and make-up to all those who are interested in those particular phases. Both one-act and three-act plays will be offered, and there will be something in rehearsal at all times. Members will have an active part in musical productions, such as operettas and operas.

There are several committees working on a constitution, on suggestions for nominees for offices, and on a suitable name for the club.

Home Economics Department Has New Equipment

The enrollment in home economics this year has increased almost twofold.

In order to make the department function as does the average home, a unit kitchen has been equipped with a regular sink, range, table, and kitchen cabinet. Utensils found in the ordinary home have been purchased.

Adjustment week was a busy one for the department, as the members prepared refreshments for the students' tea and the faculty reception. The W.A.A. asked the department to assist in their afternoon party. Incidentally, a little cash was thus added to the equipment fund.

Class Studies Canning and Preservation of Foods.

The class in Home Economics I has been studying the preservation of foods, including the canning of fruits and vegetables, and the making of marmalades, jellies, pickles, and conserves.

Several instructive reels were recently shown to the class by the Del Monte company. These showed in color the salmon industry and the methods of raising, preparing for the market, and canning fruits and vegetables, on a commercial basis. These studies lead to a better understanding of commercial products, and make for intelligent buying.

Each student learns to buy the food best suited to the needs of her family group. Trips to at least two markets have been made by the individual student to note sanitation, quality, variety of products, and prices, in each place. Discussion by the group applies what the students have actually learned in their marketing tours.

Earleen Schiewe was chosen president at a recent Sefelo club election. Other officers named are Anne Kamm, secretary and treasurer; Ann Pillers, social chairman; Jane Carpenter, reception; Georgia Paterson, laundry; and Margaret Close, house.

The cause for the prolonged illness of the women in the dormitory has been at last discovered: Dean Jenkins got her finger nail polish mixed up with the mercurochrome she swabs throats with.

OVER THE TRANSOM

Iva Ladder

Hello, babes in the woods, you are about to be haunted by the newest campus menace.

Open your little pink ears and be greeted by the first scoop (snoop) of the year, and who is the subject but Florence (Egypt) Moore. Florence still seems to be all there, but her one-and-only, Al Luenow, is slipping, for they had to take a load of wood along to the lake with them.

The mystery of the week is the how and why of Johnny Schlomer's stiff neck. John says that he has been a good boy, but one doesn't get a stiff neck from studying zoology.

Jim (T. C.) McFeron is still the ladies' man! Sir McFeron, always the gallant knight, sees to it that none of Whitworth's fair maidens are without a ride to town. "I'll give my ride to the girl in the middle," cries Whitworth's Galahad, as he comes to the rescue of damsels in distress.

Virginia (Rip) Van Winkle says she wouldn't mind going to sleep for twenty years if she could see Howard Kroske in her dreams.

Here's passing the word to Jeanie Campbell to keep an eye on Bob Nordmark, as a lot can happen with two in a rumble seat on a six-hour trip.

Does "Boo" Miller know that there is a new "Belle of the Nineties" on the campus—June Norvell?

Kapok—Whitworth's Cat

The Hill house boasts the most popular cat in the neighborhood. Although it doesn't get along so well with Professor Hussong's cat, it finds a friend in Estella Baldwin. When Estella wants to get up in the morning, she just opens her ears and hears poor Kapok meowing and scratching at the door. She feels so sorry for "poor Kapok" that she gets up to let the creature in. Of course, when Estella goes downstairs, Kapok follows her. It is a matter of conjecture as to whether the cat gets any breakfast or not.

Kapok used to be more fluff than cat; now it is more cat than fluff. It should have another name. Anyway, Kapok, we should like to have you for our mascot.

Bold Robbery Occurs at Whitworth Hill House

In the most daring and sensational daylight robbery of the year, a huge supply of pansies was stolen by a band of twenty chickens which invaded the premises of the Hill house early last week. Mr. Wilson stated that he had been caring for the pansies in anticipation of planting them next year at appropriate places about the college campus. The exact loss is not known, but Mr. Wilson says that all but twenty pansies are missing. It was not determined just how many there were before the robbery. The loss is not covered by insurance.

Adams Forgets Moon Frosh Girl Assists

Only once in a blue moon can one really see a blue moon like that which shone during Miss Genevieve Wilson's reading of "Beethoven's Sonata in F" at her senior dramatic recital, Friday, September 29.

Robert Hood, who arranged the lighting, was greatly disconcerted when Prof. William E. Adams forgot to bring the blue gelatin necessary for producing the moonlight effect. However, a freshman, Miss Marjorie Harrison, offered her blue dress, which Robert fastened over the reflector behind the college emblem above the stage.

The Pirette club recently held its election. Those chosen for office are Dorothy Cramer, president; Jean Campbell, vice-president; and Florence Moore, secretary and treasurer. The Pirettes have chosen Miss Leila Moore, head of the home economics department, as their adviser.

President and Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan entertained a number of the dormitory students Friday evening, October 5, at their home. Games were played during the evening, and delicious refreshments were served.

CLUB NEWS

The French club, "Le Cercle Francais," and the German club, "Vorwarts," at a joint meeting recently decided to continue such meetings this year, and to call the combined groups the "Modern Language club." They believe that the joint clubs will be able to do stronger work and give more varied programs than would be possible with the separate clubs.

The following officers were elected: Paul Gustafson, president; Anne Kamm, vice-president; Arthur Rorberg, secretary and treasurer; Fred Winkler, French section chairman; and Helen Ludvigson, German section chairman.

The first program, a musical entertainment, will probably be given on the evening of October 27. All members of the French and the German classes are expected to be members of their club.

The Sefelo club, whose slogan is "Service, Fellowship, and Love," elected its officers September 17 for this semester: Earleen Schiewe, president; Anne Kamm, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Close, house chairman; Jane Carpenter, reception chairman; Ann Pillers, social chairman; Georgia Patterson, laundry chairman.

The Club had a taffy-pull in Dean Jenkins' room during freshman week. Each girl left with sticky hands, but the expression of a Che-shire cat.

Everyone enjoyed herself so much that plans for a bean-roast were taken up immediately. It was scheduled for September 28. On that evening some fourteen women started out for the rocks where the beans were buried in their rock-lined pits. Much hilarity was caused by the absence of the paper plates that some of the girls had bargained for so judiciously. After the beans and the sandwiches were eaten, the second course was thrown around. The apples were delicious, but the beans were the joy of the evening. Here's to more jolly good times!

Now for a surprise! The women of McMillan hall are going to hold Open Dorm November 17. Wake up! Fun ahead!

Fete Whitworth Mothers

Mothers of Whitworth students were specially honored at a Mothers' Tea Monday afternoon, October 15, in the reception room of McMillan hall. The program included a piano solo, "Polonaise in A Flat," by Chopin, by Mr. Williston; readings, "Echo" and "Music," by Moore, and "To a Louse," by Burns, Genevieve Wilson, and a cycle of songs, "Vignettes of Italy," Mrs. Herbst. Mrs. W. Morgan Allen is program chairman.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. F. R. Pursey, Mrs. Hardwick, Mrs. Countermine and Mrs. E. J. Peterson, president of the Whitworth college auxiliary, which sponsored the tea.

Those pouring during the tea hours were Mrs. William Somerville, Mrs. F. O. Farr, Mrs. E. D. Brown, and Dean Jenkins. Mrs. M. D. McLeod had charge of tea arrangements.

Pre-Ministerials to Be Entertained

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Countermine will entertain the Pre-Ministerial students of Whitworth college Thursday evening, October 18. There will be a dinner and also entertainment.

Those who will be present at the Countermine home are Newton Brunton, president; Neil Merwin, vice-president; T. C. McFeron, secretary; Burton Alvis, Donald Dickson, Murdock Hale, Robert Hood, Paul Koper, Sam Murchison, Harold Penhalurick, Jewell Pyles, Robert Reese, Ralph Shanks, Kenneth Smith, Wendell Taylor, Hedley Vicker, and Philip Walborn.

MUSICAL NOTES

George O. Poinar, teacher of violin at Whitworth college, 1932-31, has been awarded a scholarship at the Juilliard school in New York. He will spend a year there, studying with well-known violinists.

Mr. Poinar was also leader of the band and the orchestra while at Whitworth.

Mrs. Hopkins Offers New Music Groups

Has Had Interesting Career in Teaching and Studying.

Mrs. Winifred Hopkins, who has charge of chorus work, has announced her musical groups for the semester: two male quartets, a women's quartet, a mixed quartet, a mixed chorus, a women's and a men's glee club.

Mrs. Hopkins comes to Whitworth with interesting training and experience in vocal work. She is a graduate of Albany college, Albany, Oregon, and the American Conservatoire of Music, Fontainebleau, France.

She has studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, the University of Southern California, and the University of Oregon. For ten years, Mrs. Hopkins supervised music in the public schools of Washington and Oregon. For six years, she was connected with Pacific University at Forest Grove, Oregon. For one year, she had a private studio in Portland.

From 1927 to 1928, she was head of the music department at the American School for Boys in Saloniki, Greece.

On her return from Europe, she was head of the music department at Albany college for two years.

In answer to the many calls from ministers, Sunday school teachers, and students who are not able to enter college, for some opportunity to carry on systematic Bible study, the department of Christian Education is preparing a correspondence course for teacher training.

Piano Instructor Man of Talent

"I am glad to be at Whitworth. I have some fine musical talent in my department," says Mr. George Williston, the new instructor of piano.

Mr. Williston comes from the University of Colorado, where he was head of the piano department for six years. He was formerly instructor of piano at Christian college, Columbia, Missouri, for two years. He holds a B. A. degree from Ohio Wesleyan university and an M. A. degree from Northwestern university. He has studied with Heriot Levy, of the American conservatory of music at Chicago. During the year 1926-1927, Mr. Williston studied piano under Tobias Matthay, of London, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wilson entertained at dinner Wednesday evening, October 10, Miss Ruth Walter, Miss Doris Coffin, Miss Estella Baldwin, and Dean Marion R. Jenkins.

Miss Walter and Miss Coffin, whose homes are at Bellingham, conducted the Bible conference, held at Diamond lake recently.

Fellowship Enjoys Party

With the library in party dress, members of the Volunteer Fellowship and their friends enjoyed the first social of the year last Friday evening. The committee in charge consisted of Mary Baker, chairman, games; Earleen Schiewe, decorations and refreshments; Harold Penhalurick, devotions and transportation; Lorraine Rasco, games and publicity; and George Hendrick, decoration. Elise Aldrich acted as pianist.

After the refreshments were served, Harold Penhalurick, led the group in a candle-lighting installation service for new members, in the reception room.

ALUMNI NEWS

U. S. Penitentiary, McNeil Island, must not have been considered safe enough for Merritt Winans, former Whitworth student, for he has recently been transferred to the new Federal Penitentiary on Alcatraz Island.

Merritt ranked third in the state in a civil service test and as a result was stationed at McNeil Island in October 1933. As before, his work on Alcatraz Island will be secretarial.

Ralph Hansen, '29, was a candidate for representative to the legislature in the September primaries; and though only a young man, he came out second best. Here's wishing you success next time, Ralph.

Miss Delpha Coffman, '31, will be married this month to Milner Larsen, of Bickleton, Washington.

Miss Margaret Quist is attending University of Idaho at Moscow, Idaho.

Virgil Hepton, Moreland Jones, Fred Rossow, Howard Bailey, Chester Glenn and George McDowell are attending University of Washington at Seattle.

Angus Wilson spent the summer in a forestry camp near White Swan, Washington, and will continue with his work there till he enrolls at the University of Idaho at midterm.

New Teachers

Miss Moore Is Head of Home Economics

Miss Leila E. Moore, head of the home economics department, has her B. S. and her M. S. degrees from Washington State college. She did the work for her master's degree at the University of Chicago, Oregon State college, and Washington State college. Her advanced studies include dietetics and institutional management.

She has had experience as hospital dietitian, and as teacher in both the Northwest and the South.

NEW ART INSTRUCTOR

Miss Mabel Goodfellow, who formerly taught fine arts at Cheney normal, now has charge of the Whitworth art department. She has a B. S. degree and a teachers' diploma in fine arts from Columbia university.

Dr. and Mrs. Wegner New at Whitworth

Dr. K. W. Wegner is the new head of the Mathematics and Physics department of Whitworth college. He received his Ph. D. degree in 1934 from the University of Wisconsin. He also received his B. A. and M. A. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. Since 1929 he has been instructor of mathematics at the university.

Grace E. Wegner is assisting in the English department this semester. She is teaching a freshman English class. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, receiving her A. B. degree in 1931 and her A. M. degree in 1933. She has also done special work at the University.

New Secretary in Office

Jeannette E. Foster, whose home is at Harlowton, Montana, is to be seen acting as secretary in the college office. She attended Intermountain Union college, and later is at Harlowton, Montana, is to be received her B. A. degree from the University of Washington. She attended Kinman Business university and for the past three years has been enrolled in civil service work.

Walter L. Morgan is the new head of the mechanical arts department. He is a consulting civil engineer. For several years he was the city engineer at Chopey, in charge of the local improvement district and the water works.

He was chief assisting engineer of Spokane county for 8 years. For one year he was engaged with the Washington Water Power company of Spokane. For the past six years he has been doing private work in Spokane.

Miss Vera A. Paul, head of speech and dramatics department, is well able to carry on the excellent work we have previously enjoyed. She received her master's degree and took graduate work in speech correction at the University of Iowa. She received her B. A. from Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. She is a graduate of the school of speech at Northwestern. She is well versed in theater work and she attended the Inter-Theater Art school in New York and spent a summer abroad studying the European theater.

Ray E. Weaver received his B. S. degree at the University of Pittsburgh. He is now at the head of the economic and business administration department. He received his M. B. A. degree at Northwestern where he was a teaching fellow. Mr. Weaver was also head of the department of commerce at William Penn college.

The Bible department is offering two new courses this semester for the first time, both of which are meeting with favor. Course 31 is Christian Life and Conduct; course 57, Hebrew Prophets and Prophecy. Mr. Countermine is planning to offer two new courses next semester, one on the Psalms and one on Biblical Geography.

SPORTS

GERALD STANNARD IS NEW COACH

Has Had Experience in Many Sports.

Major athletic sports at Whitworth this year are directed by a new coach, Gerald Stannard, who is taking the place of "Snowy" Gustafson.

Mr. Stannard has had considerable experience in football, baseball, and basketball.

In 1925 he played fullback for the Lewis and Clark high school freshman team, and was captain of the team. In his sophomore, junior, and senior years Coach Stannard played on the football, baseball, and basketball teams. He played first base on the baseball team, and guard and forward on the basketball team.

In his senior year, he played center on the football team and was the only player in the city to play every minute of every game. He also played every inning in the baseball games.

Upon graduation from high school in January, 1929, he received the Tiger club inspirational plaque.

He began his college football career at Cheney Normal, where in three years of playing he missed only six minutes of play. He also played baseball and basketball for Cheney. While playing football, he received the honor as Tri-Normal center.

In 1932 he transferred to Ottawa university in Kansas, where he played on the university's first championship team. He played tackle and center on the team, was made All-Conference tackle, and received honorable mention for All-State tackle.

WHITMAN TEAM DOWNS PIRATES

Whitworth Men Play Hard Game Against Strong Opponents.

Whitman grid warriors recently downed the visiting Whitworth team by a score of 40-0. Although the Pirates were probably not so well organized and had less reserves to pick from than their opponents, they played a clean, hard game, with their chus up.

Outstanding in the line were Calkins, Schmidt, Davis, and Koper who had strong opponents to buck Ogle, Williams and Kiefer made a good showing in the backfield.

Foremost on the Walla Walla team was Dietz, half-back, who provided the feature of the day—a 70-yard run.

Whitworth suffered severely on penalties. It was a penalty for Whitworth that placed the ball on the Pirate 3-yard line, where it was pushed over for the first touchdown.

Floral Culture and Pastry Baking Hobbies of Wilson.

P. L. Wilson, custodian, numbers among his many interesting hobbies floral culture and pastry baking. He has a small greenhouse devoted to raising flowers of all kinds. The F.E.R.A. men under his direction are preparing the grounds between the library and the tennis court for grass.

Not all of Mr. Wilson's floral work is done in the dirt, for with a sheet of paper and an assortment of pastry tips he can make roses and other flowers appear on the tops of cakes. Four years ago he operated a bakery on Northwest boulevard.

Boo Miller Heads "W" Club

Group Travels to Helena To See Exciting Game

Whitworth college loyally supported their football team at Intermountain Union, Helena, Montana, last Saturday, when a small but enthusiastic group drove over to see the game. Those making the trip were Mrs. Hopkins, who drove; Miss Foster, Marguerite Moseley, Mr. Williston, and Murdock Hale. The trip afforded particular interest to Miss Foster because she formerly attended Intermountain Union college.

PIRATES LOSE TO PANTHERS

Opposition Scores in Last Five Minutes of Game.

Because of an unfortunate penalty on Whitworth in the last five minutes of play, the Intermountain Union team defeated the Pirate eleven with a lone score of 6-0, Saturday, October 6. The game was played at the Intermountain Union Stadium in Helena, Montana.

Although the score did not show the fact, the Whitworth team outplayed the I. U. C. team. With Johnson, Kroske, and Ogle playing good ball in the backfield and Schmidt, Murphy, and Koper playing heads-up ball on the line, the Pirates were able to make more first downs than the I. U. C. team.

In the first half of the game, the I. U. C. team did nothing but exchange punts, whereas the Whitworth team did most of the offensive playing.

Johnson, a left-footed kicker for the Pirates, averaged 42 yards on punts, and he was also able to throw long passes, completing 9 out of 18. Howard Mickey, the fleet Panther right halfback, made the only score in the game.

I. U. C. Whitworth
Jelinek I. E. Hale
DeKlyne L. T. Murphy
Andrew I. G. Koper
F. Pippy C. McDonald
Patton R. G. Schmidt
Douzherly R. T. Calkins
Loughridge R. E. Davis
Villeaux Q. Johnson
U. Pippy L. H. Allison
Mickey R. H. Kiefer
Ortmyer F. Ogle

We have the pep! We have the jazz! We have a better team than La Grande has! Sure we do. Now come on, everybody; let's show them! Let's get the spirit of the men who gathered this morning in chapel and sang as if they meant it. Let's make the Whitworth spirit known all over the country. Let's make it a peppy, showy, jazzy, active spirit! We know you have it, why hide it? Be proud of it! Show the world that you do have pep and that you do have a real ball team. Now come on! We're out to get LaGrande! Don't wait for your neighbor to drag you out to the game. Walk up to him and say, "How's tricks? Let's go to the game!" Then drag him if necessary.

On Monday evening the men of the dorm had a meeting. Before the meeting adjourned a real pep rally was held. The enthusiasm was gigantic, stupendous! The fellows yelled and sang so vociferously that Fort Wright called up and wanted to know what had blown up at Whitworth! Now let's all get pep like that. Think pep, talk pep, act pep! Dean Hardwick has it! Mrs. Hardwick has it! Everybody has it! Now learn your songs and yell, everybody! When the LaGrande men get ready to go home, they'll first have to pick up the pieces of whatever is left. We'll mow 'em down! We'll make it the greatest victory of the ages! LET'S GO! WHITWORTH!

FOOTBALL MEN TURN OUT

SIX LETTERMEN BACK

With only six lettermen back from last year's football team, Coach Stannard did not have much to pick from at the beginning of the season.

The new men who have been turning out for practice every night have made a good showing in the last three games. Most of the new men have had previous experience in football while in high school.

Centers: McDonald and Dumm.

Halfbacks: Kiefer, Trunkey, Allison, and Huntley.

Fullback: Ogle.

SCRIMMAGE GAME HELD AT CHENEY

Team Loses in Downpour.

Under a downpour of rain, which lasted the entire afternoon, Whitworth played a six-quarter scrimmage with Cheney Normal, Saturday, September 22, at the Normal field.

Because of weather conditions, both teams were forced to use line plunging and end run plays, which resulted in a win for Cheney.

The coaches of both teams were on the field at all times, giving excellent pointers and helping each player.

All the men on the Whitworth squad were given a chance to play.

LIBILLIOUS

I'm the fulla blush man. If you had snooped around, you would have seen Kroske saving grace—Hatcher asking girls whether they roll their stockings—Six Whitworthians (only one was a frosh) eating lollipops on the main street of Walla, Walla—Calkins studying Virgil in the library during one of his classes. What is the attraction? Was Virgil a blond?—coo coos; Ehse and Pen, Jeanie and Mel, Florence and Al—Betty Lou Johnson raising a temperature—Myrtle Mauseigh begging me not to put her name in this column—Claney actually losing his voice—Somebody asking the gang that went to Whitman to define the word "dugout"—Seale waving at the coach—The redness of McGahey's face when he went up to the third floor of the women's dorm, or was it June Seaberg and Frances Johnson who blushed?—Seven blankets, two pillows, and some towels missing from the coach's room at the hotel in Walla Walla—The condition of Schmidt as he broke the fire alarm with his shoe—Bob Allison cleaning his finger nails with a pencil. Is there a shovel in the crowd?—Dave Huntley learning about women from her—

We will now take up a collection to buy Mickey Koehler some dental floss.

Art Rorberg brags that he has been in every room in both McMillan and Ballard halls except Dr. Sullivan's office. It won't be long now.

PHYSICAL EXAMS GIVEN

Physical examinations for women in the personal hygiene and physical education departments were completed Saturday, September 29. The examinations were given by Dr. Frances E. Rose, assisted by Dr. Irene Grieve, at Dr. Rose's office in the Old National bank building in Spokane.

Dr. Rose is in charge of the personal hygiene class this year, which has a total of sixteen members. Dr. Rose states that interesting lectures by several Spokane physicians will be given during the semester.

Dr. Marjorie Heitman will give a lecture on "Mental Health and Psychology," and Dr. O. M. Rott will be heard in a number of lectures. One of these will be on "Special Senses." Miss Leila E. Moore, head of the department of home economics at Whitworth, will appear before the class in lectures on food and diet.

The class work each week is being conducted by Dr. Rose and Dr. Grieve. This is the third year that a class in personal hygiene has been offered to the women students of Whitworth, but not until this year has the course been required of freshman women.

Some interesting plans are in the making for hikes for the women who are eager to click off their sixty miles. Dorothy Reed has planned a treasure hunt for one project; an overnight hike will perhaps be in order for another. The first hike, a three-mile one, came on September 26. Then on October 12 about six women went on a picnic hike to Waikiki. Sixty miles it was, to the inch: the girls had a pedometer!

Volley ball is another sport which the women are enjoying just now. On each Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday two games are played, and an award will be given to the team which wins the greatest number of games. So far, the upperclassmen are in the lead, but the freshmen are making them watch their step. The girls seem to enjoy the games very much, if one were to judge by the shouts of laughter issuing from the gym!

Physical Education Required of Women

A total of thirty-four women have been enrolled in the physical education department under Mrs. Leshe Hedrick. The course, which is required this year of all freshman women, includes a study of good posture, marching, and exercises.

Triple tests for posture were held recently, and the same tests will be given at the end of the course to check improvement. Each of the members who show any improvement at the time the final test is given will be awarded 25 points.

Mrs. Hedrick has a class in sports, which includes twelve women. For the last several weeks the members have been playing soccer. In the folk-dancing class, there are nine women.

The folk dancing class is one of the new and interesting gym classes this year. The class has learned an American country dance, and a Swedish, an Irish, an Indian and an English dance.

The class in sports has been playing soccer down on the football field. When the weather becomes too cold for playing outside, the class will turn to volley ball, basketball, and baseball.

The posture class, which is in two sections, has had a triple posture test. At the end of the semester they will have another to determine what improvement has been made.

Dr. Rose's hygiene class this year has sixteen enrolled. Dr. Rose gives some of the lectures herself; others are given by Dr. Irene Grieve, Dr. Marjorie Heitman, and Dr. Hamilton.

BANQUET PLANS WELL UNDER WAY

Memorial Cup to Be Given.

A football banquet honoring members of the squad will be given December 15 by the Women's Athletic association, in the Gold Room of the Dessert Hotel. At this time the James Snider memorial cup will be presented, and the honorary captain will be introduced. The memorial cup is given each year to the person who has been the most outstanding and inspirational member of the team.

Committees in charge of the affair include: General arrangements—Helen Wilson, chairman; and Dorothy Reed, decorations and favors—Eleanor Henderson, chairman; Dorothy Cramer, Tena Lathrop, Florence Moore, and Jean Campbell; program—Helen Ludwigson, chairman; Pauline McCallum and Zena Norton; tickets—Genevieve Wilson, chairman; Jean McDonald and Imogene Cowan; and special committee—Jane Carpenter, chairman; Ann Pillers and Jo Schrap.

Phi Alpha Honors Four Students

Members Required to Have 2.3 Grade Point Average to Be Accepted.

Phi Alpha, the honorary scholastic organization of Whitworth college, honored four students in chapel recently. Keith Murray, who was an associate member, became an active member, with an average of 2.55 grade points. Douglas Macintyre was initiated as an active member, with an average of 2.39 grade points. Dorothy Reed, with an average of 2.56 grade points, and Paul Gustafson, with an average of 2.64 grade points, were initiated as associate members.

Seniors who have an average of 2.3 grade points for 60 hours at Whitworth may be elected to active membership, whereas juniors, who have the same requirements may be elected to associate membership. The object of the society is to honor those attaining these high scholastic requirements and to promote scholarship.

The present faculty members of the society are Dr. Hedrick, president, and Dr. Bowersox. Students who have attained this high honor since the society was organized are Marion R. Jenkins, Eleanor Goeke, Charlotte Slater, David Glenn, and Ruthann Jones, all of the class of 1934.

HARDWICKS ENTERTAIN

Dr. and Mrs. Hardwick entertained faculty members, faculty wives, and a few friends October 30 at a Halloween party in the reception room of McMillan hall. The room had been transformed into a lovely outdoor autumn scene with fir trees and autumn leaves for decorations. A large electric moon rose behind the fir trees. Halloween favors were used. Refreshments were served to about forty persons.

NEW WHITWORTHIAN STAFF

The Whitworthian includes in its staff, left to right, first row: Jo Schrap, associate editor; Ned Chapman, editor-in-chief; Bill Davis, business manager. Second row: Loren Hatcher, news editor; Ray Cramer, sports editor; and Ann Pillers, society editor. Other members not in the picture are: Eleanor Henderson, women's sports editor; Dorothy Cramer, humor editor; and John Schlomer, advertising manager. Miss Helen L. Magill is the faculty adviser.

OPEN DORM A GREAT SUCCESS

McMillan hall residents held "Open Dorm" for their friends Friday evening, November 16. Nearly one hundred persons were in attendance.

At 8 o'clock a delightful program was given in the College library, followed by the "Open Dorm," at which time the guests visited the rooms in the dormitory, and were served refreshments.

Jo Schrap presided at the program during the evening. An address of welcome, written by Sara Clapp, was read by Earleen Schiewe, president of Sefelo, the women's organization of the dormitory. A piano solo was given by Georgia Patterson, followed by a number by the women's quartet, which includes Elise Aldrich, Anne Kamm, Earleen Schiewe, and Dorothy Clifford. They were accompanied at the piano by Genevieve Wilson.

Margaret Close gave a reading, and Margaret Clapp, a violin solo. Miss Clapp was accompanied by Genevieve Wilson.

The closing number of the program was a pantomime, "And the Lamp Went Out," by Jessie Palmer Pierce. Those who took part in the pantomime were Audrey Simmons, who played the part of the heroine, Grace Mills, who was the mother; Genevieve Glenn, the accepted lover; and Anne Kamm, the rejected lover.

Ann Pillers was the reader; the sound effects were produced by Jane Carpenter, Jean Campbell, and Marian Minnich.

Included on the serving committee were Jane Carpenter, Ann Pillers, and Virginia Larsen.

Faculty Recital Held at KFPY

Gardner Morgan, violinist, and George B. Williston, pianist, of the college music faculty, appeared in a recital in the Gold room of radio station KFPY Thursday, December 6.

The program was as follows:

Miss Agnes Becker was Mr. Morgan's accompanist.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS "CHARM"

Under the direction of Miss Vera A. Paul, "Charm," the first production of the Whitworth Players, was presented in the college auditorium November 27, at 8 o'clock, before a capacity audience.

The play, an extremely clever three-act comedy, was written by John Kirkpatrick. The action centers in small-town people who "go charming" in a big way.

Those who played the principal parts were Larry McDonald, as Joe; Elise Aldrich, as Ida May Harper; Ethel Dawson, as Mrs. Harper; and Charles Frazier, as Mr. Harper.

Larry has had much dramatic experience in productions at South Milwaukee high school. Both Elise and Ethel have taken part in previous Whitworth plays, and Ethel has also done coaching at Vera. Elise had experience in high school drama at Rearden. Charles was active in dramatics in North Central high school, where one of the roles he enacted, similar to this, was the part of the father in "The Goose Hangs High."

Others in the cast were: Nell Blair, as Belle; Wilson; Earleen Schiewe, as Mrs. Paxton; Bill Davis, as Mr. Paxton; Harold Penhalurick, as Claude; Wilma Timm, as Violet; Aimee Russell, as Mildred; Jo Schrap, as Babe; Burton Alvis, as Dr. Garfield; Howard Kroske, as Rudolph Klein; and Scott Chatterton, as Mr. Lester.

Dec. 22. Christmas holidays begin.

Paul Koper Elected Head

Purpose Is to Provide Discipline for Men Students; Promote College Spirit.

Home-Coming Feast Gay Celebration

The annual Whitworth Home-coming celebration ended with a most successful banquet on the evening of November 3 at 6 45 o'clock.

The 201 diners, thoroughly enjoyed the lively speeches and lively music. Even the colorful crepe paper streamers, which dipped and swayed with the currents of air, rustled with delight.

"Welcome grads!" was the cry which seemed to echo from each point of the gaily decorated room. The Whitworth string trio played the song of welcome.

General Mack Hamley led a "Parade of Wooden Soldiers" to the tune of his agile clarinet. Hardly had the finishing notes died away when there appeared before the audience an old Scotch woman, the Widow McCrea, presented by Genevieve Wilson.

President Sullivan extended welcome to the Whitworth "grads" and others present. The Reverend Lee Knoll, of the class of '31, responded. Mr. Knoll stressed the point that Whitworth college should uphold her traditions and also that she should remember that "W. C." stands for "With Christ."

Dr. Hardwick brought a bright picture of the future of Whitworth in an address entitled "Looking Forward." Not less enjoyable were song numbers by Miss Dorothy Farr and the Whitworth men's quartet.

As a closing feature, the "Alma Mater" was sung.

AUXILIARY HOLDS TEA

A lovely silver tea was given November 19 by the Whitworth college women's auxiliary at the home of Mrs. J. I. McKnelly, 1918 Oneida. Thanksgiving "colors" were used in the beautiful home decorations.

An interesting and enjoyable program was given, including numbers by the Whitworth women's quartet, which is composed of Anne Kamm, Earleen Schiewe, Elise Aldrich, and Dorothy Clifford. They sang "Out of the Dusk," by Dorothy Lee, and "Four Leaf Clover," by Bromnell. Genevieve Wilson accompanied them.

Miss Paul gave a group of readings as follows: "The Death of the Hired Man," Robert Frost; "I like Americans," Nancy Boyd; "Deep Wet Moss," Lew Saret; "Barter," Sara Teasdale; and "God's World," and "To the Not Impossible He," Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Vocal numbers were given by Miss Dorothy Farr, Whitworth alumna, with Mrs. C. R. McEachran accompanying. She sang "In Autumn," by Pearl E. Curran, and "In the Luxuriant Gardens," by Kathleen Manning. Mr. Morgan and Mrs. Hardwick returned to an Allen was program chairman.

The new organization known as the Upperclass-men's association elected the following officers at their meeting on Wednesday, November 14:

Paul Koper, president.
Douglas Macintyre, vice-president.
Bob Allison, secretary-treasurer.

Members at large are: Graham Potter, Paul Gustafson, Marjock Hale, and Howard Kroske. These members serve as a judicial body, whose activities are sanctioned by the other members of the association before their measures become operative.

The constitution of the association, which was drafted by Bill Davis, Harold Penhalurick, and Dan Fleming, was adopted at the same meeting.

There are approximately twenty-eight men who are eligible to membership in the association. Qualifications are based upon college credit received and upon the amount of work accomplished at Whitworth. In order to be eligible to membership, a student must have not less than thirty-five hours of college credit in academic studies.

The purpose of the association is to provide organized regulation and discipline for men students at Whitworth and to unify the college activities in the promotion of college spirit.

The association at their meeting on Friday, November 23, discussed tentative plans for an interclass basketball tournament to be held soon after the beginning of the basketball season. Further plans will be made known later.

CHORUS MAKES DEBUT ON WHITWORTH NIGHT

The Whitworth chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins, made its first public appearance at St. Paul's Methodist church on Sunday night, November 11. The occasion was the annual observance of Whitworth night at the church.

The program, at which Dean Francis T. Hardwick presided, was as follows: Address, Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president of the college; numbers by the men's quartet; the mixed quartet; and the women's quartet; solos by Ralph Shanks and Marguerite Moseley; and readings by Genevieve Wilson. The finale was "Inflamatus Et Ascendus" by the college chorus, a beautiful number in which Mrs. Mildred Downs Stevens, a former Whitworth student, sang the "Obligation." Philip Walborn played the pipe organ for the services.

BACK YOUR TEAM

"It is extremely hard for a losing ball club to keep digging in and working," says Coach Stannard. "I feel that the members of this year's team are to be congratulated upon the fact that, no matter what the odds were, they kept fighting and never gave up. I'm proud of them and feel that every member of the student body should also be proud of them."

The Pirates lacked the power to down the heavy teams which played Whitworth this season, but they did not lack spirit.

All members of the squad were given a chance to fight for the team. Although being up against some big opponents, they did not let down for one minute.

John Gay and Bob Dumm played good ball on the line at all times. Two other members of the team who deserve a great deal of credit are Dave Stowell and Wendell Taylor. They are both expected to be back next year, fighting hard for the Pirates. Let's all BACK OUR TEAM!

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE!

A certain American traveler in Germany found on a fruit stand some large Delicious apples labeled "California Apples." He protested indignantly to the owner that those apples came from the state of Washington.

"Well," answered the fruit seller, "California fruits have been so well advertised that the name will sell these apples."

Whitworth students should support the Natsihi and the Whitworthian advertisers. The firms which show their interest and confidence in the college by placing advertisements in the publications deserve the patronage of the student body.

Let us convince our advertisers that IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN WHITWORTH PUBLICATIONS.

FRITZ LEIBER GIVES INTERVIEW

By Hazel Barnes

Fritz Leiber, prominent actor of Shakespearean drama, who was in Spokane Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24, and who played the leads in "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," and "Hamlet," was interviewed by a Whitworthian reporter Saturday evening after the performance of "Hamlet."

"Students in their study of Shakespeare," said Mr. Leiber, "should regard the plays as drama to be acted on the stage, rather than just literature that is several centuries old."

Mr. Leiber is nearly six feet tall, and is very slender. His height surprises one, for on the stage he appears rather short. His hair, which was formerly sandy, is now almost entirely white. His personality is most pleasing. He speaks slowly, in calm and friendly fashion. A superb actor on the stage, he is human and kindly behind scenes.

Vera Loday, who took the part of Ophelia in "Hamlet," also granted the reporter an interesting interview. She is Russian, her real name being Vera Aleksandrowna Lodaygina. She won the hearts of the audience by her sweet and charming portrayal of Ophelia, and one finds her equally charming off stage.

She is a small person with blue eyes and very light brown hair. When asked whether she wore a wig in the mad scene, she said: "No; my hair is long. I like to be as feminine as possible."

This is Miss Loday's first year in Shakespearean productions. Previously she played in modern drama in New York. She said: "I am most happy to have a part in Shakespeare, in which there is so much scope for the emotions. This is not possible in the modern things."

In reference to Mr. Leiber, she said: "We're all crazy about him. We enjoy playing with him because he is so generous. He is a great artist who likes to have everybody play his part well, and he does not try to take the whole stage himself."

Speaking again of Ophelia's mad scene, she said: "Every day before this scene, I pray for inspiration. It is a part which cannot be played without inspiration."

This is Miss Loday's first trip west, and she is enthusiastic about the beauty of the state of Washington. She was both surprised and delighted to find the magnificent falls in the center of Spokane.

"Some of the inspiration which one must have to play in Shakespeare," she said, "comes from looking at beautiful scenery."

Autographs were secured from both Miss Loday and Mr. Leiber.

LIBILLIOUS

Somebody wondered where Scott got his last name. Anyone knows that all squirrels chatter.

VIDI (get your Latin books out, you scholars). Florence Moore sitting on a tack—she yelled—Boo "Chubby" Miller sitting on another tack for five minutes—no yell—ho couldn't feel it—The coach snoring in the car on the Ellensburg trip—the game was too much for him—Huntley and Roberg shoving Snedden's car down the hill—Seifert throwing apple cores at policemen—Elise Aldrich reading a book on love in the library—Cramer losing something on the steps in Ballard after football practice. "Hi, Ray!"—Myrtle Mansergh going to Pullman a short time ago, uh huh—Janet Jackson thinking "dee" is spelled m-e-n and that open season is still on—Open season sounds like open house, and that brings up Myrtle and Claney. Where was Bill Williams about that time?—We saw Doc Hale there, too, with a certain gal, just the long and short of the affair—Allison and Koehler out for a ride together one Sunday.—Charming couple—Mrs. Hopkins refusing to eat, but it's a woman's privilege to change her mind—Benny Collins, puddle jumping.

And then there's the absent-minded professor that called up Johnson and got Kroske. That's as bad as the snoop editor that put in a dirty crack about himself.

Among those that played on our team against Gonzaga were Sachenchall, Clarks, Prunkey, and Bumm.

Former Student Enjoys Work at Princeton

Arthur Stevenson, '33, is working hard and is thoroughly enjoying his studies at Princeton seminary, according to a letter from him received recently by Professor William Edward Adams. "I attended a 'Quaker' meeting today and discovered a number of interesting things about these most exceptionally friendly people. There were some very notable Quakers there whose families went back to the William Penn associations and friendship."

"This summer I spent among the 'Hill Billies' in Eastern Tennessee, near the town of Johnson City. These mountain folk are most inspirational people to work among; they have such high regard for the Bible and the great spiritual verities of life.

"I came to enjoy the fare of corn-bread, bean soup, roasting ears, honey, watermelon, sweet potatoes, fat back and other dishes especially associated with the South.

"Of course, wherever we Princeton students went we were called 'preachers' and so we had to eat no small amount of chicken before we got through the summer.

"Some day I hope to return to work among the many friends I made there. I was very busy preaching (almost every night for a considerable period), organizing and teaching in Bible schools and Sunday schools, and visiting the homes of the people.

"I am trying now to get a church for next summer; but I am not worrying, as the Door is always opened when one forges ahead as he should.

"Princeton is a school of truth and is doing much to defend the Faith in these perilous times of shabby thinking and mob expression."

WANTED—ONE DUCK

We defy you to beat this one! Stop me if you have heard it before. Naturally speaking, Loren Hatcher and "Mike" Koehler are friends. And naturally speaking, they decided to go hunting on Friday, November 17. They said duck hunting.

Anyway, our two heroes eventually found themselves in the region of Republic. Came the time to start hunting. Licenses? "Golly, we forgot to get 'em!" Duck stamps? "Didn't know we had to have them. Never mind. Let's borrow the game-warden's outfit and get going!"

So they borrowed the warden's clothes, guns, and shells. But hold on—that's not all! Let me whisper in your ear. They borrowed the preacher's car. Would you "of thunk" it? Tch, tch!

We're hunting now. "Peek-a-boo! Oh, oh! Whoa, Tilly! Let's scam outta here quick. This lake has one, two, three, four, seventeen game-wardens on guard!" That's Hatcher.

"And golly! Look at that sign. It says 'GAME RESERVE'! Step on it, sister. You've got wings on your car!" That's Koehler. "Did you get anything?" says I. "You guess," says Hatcher.

COMING FALL

Misty star dust
 In radiant rays
 Lies on the grass
 In a mystic maze

The maple-gold
 Leaves will fall,
 Shimmering and gleaming
 As a gypsy's shawl.

The blue-grey smoke
 Rises in glorious rings
 And in the grassy lot
 A brown-striped cricket sings.

The sun has passed the tropics,
 The wild winds call,
 And in your heart
 You link hands with Fall.

DR. ROSE DECLARED 'OUTSTANDING WOMAN'

Dr. Frances Eastman Rose, a member of the Whitworth College faculty, has recently been declared to be the region's "outstanding woman" by the Spokane Business and Professional Women's club.

Dr. Rose is probably one of the busiest women in Spokane. She has to budget her time for her various activities in order to accomplish all that she does.

She has two fine daughters. One, Mrs. John W. Wolfenden (Angeline Kearny Rose), lives in Vallejo, California. The other, Jane Phin Rose, a graduate of the University of Washington, is studying for her master's degree in dramatics at Columbia University.

Dr. Rose is prominently identified with the various medical, surgical, and research societies, the Thursday noon group, Soroptimist club, Business and Professional Women's club, Spokane Chamber of Commerce, educational groups, clinics, and other societies.

Dr. Rose's picture and a feature article concerning her will be published soon in the business and professional women's national magazine, and her name will be brought before the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Seattle next July.

When the decision of the club in ranking her as the outstanding woman was made known to her, Dr. Rose commented: "Such a thing never entered my mind. But since the distinction has been given to me, I suppose I must accept it. I must admit I do feel highly honored."

In making the decision, the club considered not only the achievements which Dr. Rose has made in her profession, but also her activities in club, civic, and social work, her numerous private charities, and the fact that she has reared a fine family.

Hale Brothers Get Deer

The dormitories recently enjoyed a venison dinner through the generosity of Roger Hale. He and Murdock, with Gerald Stannard, Clarence Schmidt, John Eysanoff, and John Gay, stopped at the Hale home near Twenty-five Mile creek on Lake Chelan after the Ellensburg football game. They hunted Saturday and Sunday, ideal days for hunting, as a foot of snow covered the ground.

Murdock bagged a four-point buck at 400 yards, which weighed 200 pounds when dressed. Roger shot a three-point buck, which dressed at 125 pounds. The rest of the party enjoyed the scenery. The deer, they said, were plentiful, but were either not close enough or not standing still.

New Pirettes Initiated

On November 2, after the bonfire, the Pirette club had their initiation in the form of a shumber party and waffle breakfast at the home of Helen Wilson. Much fun was created by the new members as they went through their initiation stunts. Although there wasn't much sleeping, all the girls were peppy for the game the next day.

The new members are Elise Aldrich, Jo Schrap, Anne Kamm, Margaret Close, Pauline McCallum, Earleen Schiewe, Eleanor Henderson, and Ann Pillers.

MUSICAL NOTES

QUARTETS TAKE CONCERT TOURS

Whitworth music groups have recently visited many towns in the Spokane territory, presenting fine evening concerts. They have been enthusiastically received, and return engagements have been asked for.

The programs consist of numbers by the men's quartet and the women's quartet, vocal or instrumental music, and dramatic numbers.

The male quartet is composed of Loren Hatcher, Mark Koehler, Keith Murray, and Paul Koper. Mr. Williston is the accompanist. The members of the women's quartet are Elise Aldrich, Anne Kamm, Dorothy Clifford, and Earleen Schiewe. They are accompanied by Genevieve Wilson, who also gives dramatic readings. Both quartets are directed by Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins.

The male quartet has recently visited Davenport, Walla Walla, Clayton, Springdale, Rosalia, and Curlew. The women's quartet accompanied the men's group to Springdale and Clayton. The two quartets have sung in many churches in and about Spokane.

Dorian Trio Presented

The Dorian Trio and Miss Mary Shaw, dramatic reader, were presented by the Art club in a program at the college on the evening of November 9. Members of the trio are Leslie Hildenbrandt, violinist; Constance Jordan, cellist, and Bernice Gamble, pianist.

The following program was presented—Trio, op. 49 in D. Minor (Mendelssohn); Molto Allegro, Andante Tranquillo, and Scherzo; Cuttings from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," by Miss Shaw; Ballet Music from Faust (Gounod); Valse and Allegretto; Trio, op. 90 B. Flat Major (Shubert).

Women's Quartet Sing for Club

The women's quartet were guest artists of the Women's Credit Association at a breakfast given at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, November 22, in the Gold Room of the Dessert hotel. The Association gives a breakfast once a month, honoring some artist or artists. The quartet, accompanied by Miss Genevieve Wilson and directed by Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins, sang three numbers. They were well received and were invited to sing again.

CLUB NEWS

ALPHA BETA NOW AN ACTIVE CLUB

A newly organized club named Alpha Beta, meaning in Greek, "Arista Bio," or "the best things in life," is active on the campus. The club is primarily for home economics majors and minors, but all students, men or women, who are interested in the science of the home or community may become associate members.

The officers of the club are Audrey Simmons, president; June Seaberg, vice-president; Frances Johnson, secretary; and Elizabeth Baumgartner, treasurer.

At the meeting on November 16, President Audrey Simmons appointed the following committee chairmen: social chairman, Jean Campbell; programs, June Seaberg; membership, Grace Sutton.

Class Officers Elected

Whitworth class officers, elected the first of the fall term for the year, are as follows: Seniors—Melvin Fariss, president; Genevieve Wilson, vice-president; Helen Wilson, secretary; and Graham Potter, treasurer. B. O. Neustel is the faculty adviser.

Juniors—Harold Penhalurick, president; Christine McDonald, vice-president; Dorothy Cramer, secretary; and Paul Gustafson, treasurer. H. L. Hussong is the faculty adviser.

New Members for Art Club

Eighteen new members were taken into the Whitworth Art club this fall. They are Christine McDonald, Margaret Clapp, Marguerite Moscoley, Wilma Timm, Marcia Crockett, Georgia Patterson, Ruby Graham, Elizabeth Crockett, Elizabeth Northrop, Don Dickson, Lowell Poore, Dwight Goodwin, Lorraine Rasco, Marjorie Harrison, Nell Blair, Evelyn Morgan, June Norvell, and Ethel Dawson.

An initiation party honoring the new members was given October 20 in McMillan hall. Committees in charge of the party were: Entertainment—Clark Copple, Aimee Russell, and John Schlomer; invitations—Ralph Shanks, Genevieve Wilson, and Philip Walborn; decorations—Jean McDonald, Loren Hatcher, and Gyneth Chapman; and refreshments—Audrey Simmons, Virginia Larsen, Bob McCleary, and Dorothy Cramer.

Pirettes Have Fireside

A fireside was given October 19 at the home of Christine McDonald by the Pirette club for all women eligible for membership. Miss Evelyn Irwin, a former Pirette, gave readings. The rest of the program was composed of impromptu numbers given by the women's trio, and piano selections by Elise Aldrich and Earleen Schiewe. Miss Leila E. Moore gave a short talk on "Friendship." Refreshments were served.

At a meeting of the Spokane Lions Club, October 18, Mr. Williston, Mack Hamley, and Emmett Ross gave several musical numbers. Dean Francis T. Hardyck gave an address on "Suggestion."

Professor Adams Devotes Time To Writing

The Rev. William Edward Adams, former professor of speech at Whitworth, has been devoting much time to creative writing since he left the college.

He has rewritten and improved a book of his which came out several years ago, known as "The Eldor Darwin." Recently some of his works have appeared in "American Lyric Poetry." There have been numerous other calls for his writings, and most of the manuscripts which he has submitted have been accepted. Recently a biography of Professor Adams appeared in "Town and Country Review," a London magazine.

Last summer he spent considerable time repairing his home. He spent two weeks at Newman Lake, fishing, swimming, and boating.

He and Mrs. Adams also paid a visit to their children and grandchildren west of the mountains.

His year and a quarter as supply pastor at the First Baptist church came to an end in July; and since then he has acted as supply for various Methodist, Presbyterian, and Baptist churches. He has preached nearly every Sunday.

Just now, he is resting to regain his health. When asked about making a lecture tour, he replied, "I'm not sure about a lecture trip; but it looks as if next year I may make such a trip, covering about half the states in the union."

Dr. Rott Talks on Care Of Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat

Whitworth students enjoyed a real treat at assembly on Friday, November 16: an illustrated lecture by Dr. O. M. Rott, of Spokane, on "The Care of the Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat." Dr. Rott emphasized the seriousness of the "common cold."

Criminology Class Treks to Walla Walla

Professor H. L. Hussong and his Criminology class went to Walla Walla on October 26, to visit the state penitentiary. On his return, Professor Hussong said: "It was one of the most interesting, and successful trips any of my classes have ever taken."

The authorities took the class through the spacious kitchen and the dining room, and through the refrigerator rooms, where the meat and other perishable foods are kept.

They took the students through the print shops, where each was given a copy of the Agenda, a publication put out by the prisoners themselves.

The students were then taken to the large auditorium, where they found several prisoners practicing for a play. These inmates asked the class to have seats and see some of the work. Three convicts tap danced, two others sang, and an orchestra of eleven members gave several popular numbers. The entertainment was really admirable.

The students were then taken through the cell block and saw the small old cells and also the larger new cells, which accommodate forty prisoners each. The turnkey showed how, in the newer cell block, the doors of the cells can all be opened at once through a certain device or key, each cell door may be opened separately by the same contrivance.

After the class had viewed the institution, a guard gave much valuable information as to customs and regulations. Professor Hussong had a personal interview with Warden MacCauley.

The class felt that they derived much benefit from the trip.

Home-Coming Game Full of Thrills

Playing a return game with the Lewiston Normal eleven, Saturday, November 3, the Pirates were defeated 10-7.

Completing several long passes and making short gains on line plunges, the Pirates placed the ball on the Lewiston ten-yard stripe; then because of a penalty on Lewiston, the ball was placed on the one-yard line. Kroske bucked it across on line-plunging plays, which resulted in the first score of the Home-coming game.

Because of rigid enforcement of the rules, both teams lost yardage on penalties. Lewiston lost 110 yards from scrimmage, and Whitworth lost 30 yards.

In the course of the game, Lewiston gained 98 yards from scrimmage, and Whitworth gained 57 yards. On yardage gained from scrimmage, Lewiston made 99 yards to Whitworth's 76 yards.

HOME SQUAD BATTLES GONZAGA

Sixty minutes of good, hard football playing was displayed at the Gonzaga Stadium, Saturday, November 17, when the strong, fast Gonzaga frosh team overpowered the Pirates and scored 58 points. Whitworth was unable to score.

Although it was the last game of this season for Whitworth and the fellows were somewhat discouraged, they did not give up fighting at any time.

After witnessing the fast and tricky backfield men which the Gonzaga frosh team has this year, the Pirates do not doubt that Gonzaga university will continue to have a winning ball club.

Battering a powerful Gonzaga line, the Whitworth men were able to open up holes at intervals and allow several eight- and ten-yard gains to be made.

Dean Francis T. Hardwick gave an address Wednesday, October 24, at the Masonic Temple. His subject was, "Some Things That Prevent People from Thinking."

TWO OUTSTANDING PIRATES

PIRATES DOWNED ON HOME FIELD

The fighting Whitworth eleven was downed by the Eastern Oregon Normal eleven from La Grande by a score of 26-0, in a game played on Whitworth's field, Saturday, October 20.

The opening score was made by Burnett, La Grande's quarterback, who ran back a Whitworth punt.

The Pirates were unable to complete any passes, whereas the normal team completed 5 out of 21 thrown.

Several costly fumbles by Whitworth resulted in touchdowns for La Grande.

Basketball Men Start Practice

The prospects look favorable this year, with six lettermen returning: M. Hale, center; Allison, forward; Koehler, center; Luonow, guard; Williamis, forward; and Penhalarick, guard.

Little Pigs Stray Into Lab

It is generally known that "this little pig went to market" and "that little pig stayed at home," but it may be news to some persons that a few little pigs stray even into the Whitworth chem. lab.

At least, some wienies and some little pig sausages were tested for artificial coloring and preservatives by the chemistry department last week. The state food inspector had asked Professor Neustel to test for violation of the state food laws, some of the meats packed in the city.

Band Makes Appearance

Dressed in red and black capes and hats, the band made its first appearance at the football rally in assembly and at the Home-coming game with Lewiston.

Mrs. Hopkins is conductor at present but plans to train Clark Copple for the position.

PIRATES TAKEN BY ELLENSBURG

Putting up a hard-fought battle on a muddy turf at the Rodeo grounds in Ellensburg, Friday, November 9, the Whitworth men were defeated 47-0, by the Ellensburg Normal Wildcats.

Bob Allison, a scrappy halfback for Whitworth, outkicked Denslow, Ellensburg's star kicker, by averaging punts around 45 yards.

Having a couple of 6-foot pass receivers, the Wildcats were able to score all but two of their touchdowns on long passes.

On completing several lateral passes and six forward passes from Warrick to either Kroske, R. Hale, or Allison, all good pass receivers, Whitworth made several first downs.

Some of the outstanding players for Ellensburg were Rose, McGlaughlin, and Stewart. Among the Pirates, the good work of Roger Hale and Schmidt on the line and Dave Trunkey in the backfield was especially worthy of mention.

Freshmen Now Free of Tyrannical Rule

November 9, 1934, will stand out in the memories of the men of '38 as do July 4 and November 11. The men will honor that day and set it apart from all others in their personal annals, for on that memorable date they were set free from the tyrannical rule of the "W" club. No longer need they grasp their ankles and wait for the descending paddle to banish all desire to sit down!

For nine long and torture-filled weeks the freshmen went their humble way, their otherwise stout hearts quailing when a "W" man graced them with the usual Simon Legree look.

This is history now, and a freshman can come out of the chapel giving nary a thought to the seat of his trousers. His hand no longer needs flash guiltily to his head should he hear the stentorian call, "Where's your dink?"

Does your freshman still slip quietly through the back doors of McMillan Hall? Decidedly not! He struts through the front entrances with the air of one who holds a first mortgage on the United States treasury.

Now that friendly relations are assumed, the frosh finds that a "W" man has possibilities of becoming an honest citizen instead of a crutch-stealing reprobate. The "W" man, in turn, decides that there is a chance that the frosh isn't a low type of moron, but a rather decent chap at heart.

The freshmen go their way rejoicing that the regime of the despots is ended, and the "W" group congratulates itself on the efficient way in which it guided the footsteps of the beardless youths through the first quarter.

STUDENT STANDING REGULATED

New Plan to Eliminate Conflicts.

A new compromise plan for the determination of class standings was passed by the Associated Students of Whitworth college at the regular monthly meeting, January 11.

A definite classification was necessary to align each student with his proper class for campus activities. Students of the college will now know whether they "sneak" with the seniors or the juniors, or whether they will stay behind with the sophomores and the freshmen. The sides for the freshman-sophomore fight will now be definitely settled. Under this new plan, it will be harder for students to dodge paying their class dues than formerly.

The new plan is a compromise between a classification based on actual hours and a classification based on the time spent in college.

To be a freshman in the fall term, a student must have not more than 22 hours; to be a sophomore, more than 22 hours. Juniors must have 48 hours, with two summers since their entrance to college. Seniors must have 82 hours and must intend to be graduated in June.

To be a sophomore in the mid-year term, a student must have 30 hours; to be a junior, 60 hours; to be a senior, enough hours to be graduated.

New Furnishings For McMillan Hall

McMillan hall alcove has recently been "dressed up" with a beautiful stuffed davenport and chair, two large rugs, and several lamps. Women of the college are very grateful to the Whitworth College Women's auxiliary for the new furnishings.

Many yards of carpet for the stairs and the third-floor hall of the women's dormitory were recently given to the college by L. M. Davenport. And that is not the end of the good news: The auxiliary has purchased some wicker furniture and will soon be beautifying the "town women's room". Members of the auxiliary who have had charge of this project, in addition to the president, Mrs. E. J. Peterson, are: Mrs. Frank R. Fursey, chairman; Mrs. F. C. Farr, Mrs. J. M. Richardson, and Mrs. W. L. McEachran.

In order to raise money for this project, the auxiliary is giving a luncheon and having an apron sale, Monday, January 28, at 12:30, at the First Presbyterian church. Those in charge of this affair include Mrs. M. D. MacLeod, chairman; Mrs. Francis T. Hardwick, Mrs. G. W. Potach, and Mrs. William Somerville. Mrs. W. Morgan Allen has charge of the program. Some of the members of the auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan and made aprons for this sale. Delicious refreshments were served to the guests by Mrs. Sullivan.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT TO BE OBSERVED

For Mid-Year Graduates of Spokane Schools.

High School Night at Whitworth will be held in the auditorium Thursday evening, January 24, at 8 o'clock. The program will include numbers given by representatives of Lewis and Clark high school, John R. Rogers high school, North Central high school, and Whitworth college.

It will be an invitation affair, open to mid-year graduates of Spokane high schools, and also to any contacts made by the local students under the enrollment plan of the student body. Members of the college faculty and the student body will attend the program.

The social activities committee is in charge of the arrangements for the evening, with Scott Chatterton acting as chairman.

COLLEGE CHORUS GIVES "MESSIAH"

The college chorus of forty-eight voices gave an impressive performance of Handel's "Messiah" to a full congregation in the First United Presbyterian church in a vesper service, Sunday, December 18.

The platform, decorated with evergreens and lighted with candles, was an artistic and pleasing setting for the group.

"The Messiah" was interpreted with sincere feeling and appreciation of its beauty. The chorus, especially in the closing number, the "Hallelujah Chorus," brought out an excellent conception of the theme. The enunciation was distinct and tone color was beautiful throughout.

The solo voices were well chosen. Leading parts were sung by Bertha Davie, Keith Murray, Lowell Poore, Virginia Van Winkle, Marguerite Moseley, Ralph Shanks, Margaret Robbins, and Mildred Downs Stephens.

DEBATE TEAM WINS TOURNEY

Many Colleges Represented.

The second annual Inland Empire debate tournament which was held at the college on Saturday, January 12, proved to be very successful, with about fifty debaters in attendance from Washington State college, Lewiston normal, Gonzaga university, University of Idaho, Spokane Valley Junior college, and Whitworth.

Our three teams won seven out of nine debates and emerged with a percentage score of .777. Gonzaga university and Washington State college tied with a percentage each of .667.

Members of our debate squad who debated are Keith Murray and Graham Potter; Nell Blair and Wendell Taylor; Philip Walborn and Melvin Fariss.

Three teams tied for first place, one each from Washington State college, Gonzaga university, and Whitworth college.

Our debate team is making preparations to enter two more tournaments in the near future; one to be held at the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, and the other at Linfield college, McMinnville, Oregon.

Santa Delights College Kiddies

Gift Exchanges Bring Merriment.

The day before Christmas vacation, Jo Schrap was in charge of a Christmas program and party in the chapel. The program, announced by Scott Chatterton, consisted of musical numbers and Christmas stories.

At the end of the program Dale Snedden, dressed in a Santa Claus suit, presented gifts to everyone. From the toys received, it would appear that each member of the student body is at least ten years younger than he is commonly believed to be.

Musical Arts Society Hears Williston

Mr. Williston had an outstanding success in his appearance for Musical Arts society in the Golden Concert room of KPYY, Tuesday, January 15.

He appeared in a joint concert with representatives of three other musical organizations besides the Musical Arts Society: the Wednesday Night music club, the Monday Night music club, and the Bel Canto club.

The Spokesman-Review commented thus on Mr. Williston's work: "There was imaginative feeling and brilliancy in his playing, with power and vitality. His command of color, tonal and dynamic values on the instrument added to the delightful memory of the things he played."

His numbers were: "Intermezzo in E. Flat Minor," "Rhapsody in E. Flat," "Waltz in A. Flat," all by Brahms; and "March Militaire," by Schubert-Tausig.

PROFESSORS ANNOUNCE VARIED SCHEDULE

Snider Memorial Medal To Be Given

Howard Kroske Voted Outstanding Player, 1934.

Winners of the Snider Memorial not only will have their names engraved on the cup but also will receive a medal, bearing the words, "The Snider Memorial," and the year of the award. The men who are to receive medals soon are Howard Kroske, 1934; Bill Rasco, 1933; Tommy Ventris, 1932; and Ray Lavender and Art Roberts, 1931.

A pay convocation will be held February 8 to raise money to pay for these awards.

Football Banquet A "Huge Success"

Kroske Wins Snider Memorial.

The annual football banquet, which was held on Saturday, December 8, at the Dessert hotel was a "huge success," according to those who attended. The Gold room, which was the scene of the festival, was simply but beautifully prepared for the occasion.

Included on the program were the following numbers:

Invocation, Dr. Ward W. Sullivan.
Address of Welcome, Florence Moore.

"Rastus" (reading), Robert Allison.

Address, Coach Gerald Stannard.
Dr. Hedrick presented the James Snider Memorial cup to Howard Kroske.

The names of the two honorary football captains were announced: Bob Allison and Paul Koper.

Music between addresses was furnished by the string trio composed of Helen Wilson, violin; Philip Walborn, cello; and Genevieve Wilson, piano; and by the men's quartet: Loren Hatcher, Mark Koehler, Keith Murray, and Paul Koper.

Mrs. Leslie Hedrick was toast-mistress.

Freshman Party Held in Library

The annual freshman party, held January 5, furnished much fun, according to the forty who attended.

First on the program was a fast-moving basketball game between the freshman and the sophomore teams in the gymnasium.

The freshmen then took themselves to the library for a couple of hours of lively games, under the direction of Burton Alvis.

Marjorie Harrison had decorated the west end of the room as a display of the aurora borealis. The lights automatically went on and off, giving a realistic effect.

Mary Briggs, in charge of the refreshments, served hamburgers and coffee.

New Courses Offered Next Semester.

Although most of the courses to be given next semester are continuation courses of the first semester, a number of new ones are being offered.

Dean F. T. Hardwick will have a course in Education 23: Applied Psychology, open only to those students who have had General Psychology. Prof. L. Hussong will have a course in Sociology 52: Population; one in Sociology 62: Social Psychology or Group Behavior; and one in Sociology 64: Sociological Anthropology.

A course in English I: English Composition will be offered next semester for new students in the freshman class. There will be given a course in English 66: Nineteenth-Century Poetry.

In the economics department, under Prof. R. A. Weaver, there will be a course in Economics 62: Transportation; a course in Economics 56: Money and Banking; and a course in Economics 16: Economic Geography.

Dr. Leslie Hedrick will have a course in Biology 28: Ornithology. To enroll in this course, the student must have had Biology 11, or he must be of junior standing.

The department of classical languages announces a full program. The first-year Latin students will study "Caesar." "Ovid" will be studied by those who have had two or more years of Latin. The first-year Greek students will continue their work of last semester. The advanced students will study some of the books in New Testament Greek. The book of Acts will probably be studied first. This class is open to all students who have had one or more years of Greek.

Pre-Med Work Fully Accredited

Another Advance for Whitworth College.

Whitworth college is now on the approved list of the American Medical association, according to word recently received by President Ward W. Sullivan. This approval means that pre-medical work at Whitworth is fully accredited.

This medical rating marks another step forward in Whitworth's rapid advance. The college is also fully accredited with the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher schools, the regional agency of the Northwest. Whitworth is fully approved by the State Board of Education for teacher training work. One year of postgraduate work for teacher training is offered. Students who complete this additional work are fully qualified to teach in the state of Washington.

HIGH SCHOOL NIGHT

For several years the college has observed an annual High School Night. It is reasonable to believe that many individuals in the graduating classes of the local high schools are interested in becoming more familiar with the life and work at Whitworth College. This year High School Night is under the direction of the Whitworth Student group. Much commendation should be given for the spirit with which it has assumed this responsibility. It is a fine gesture on the part of the Associated Students of Whitworth College.

TO MY TEAMMATES:

Our team was probably outplayed, outgained, and by far outweighed by all the teams we met—but we were never outfought! The fellows all fought till the final gun. To be awarded the Snider cup, this distinction from such a fighting team, is the greatest honor a man can receive. I appreciate it and I wish to thank all of you from the bottom of my heart.

CRIMINOLOGY CLASS VISIT CITY JAIL

On Friday, January 4, Professor Husson's criminology class were instructed during the class period by Chief of Police Ira Martin and Wesley Turner, fingerprint expert. They described different criminal cases and methods used in solving crime problems.

They invited the class to go through the city jail Friday afternoon at 3:30. The class met promptly, and Chief Martin escorted them to the identification room, where fingerprints and photographs of criminals are taken. The officer in charge took Jo Schrap's fingerprints, explaining his methods. In the file he found no previous record of Jo.

The officials then took the class through the women's quarters, where there were several prisoners. One noted the strong odor of cigarette smoke.

The guides then took the students down to the men's quarters and to the floor below, and exhibited the strong room in which the worst criminals are placed. The other part of the men's quarters was well filled. The keeper of the jail showed the class the padded cell and the dungeon.

Chief Martin then took the students downstairs and displayed the Oregon Boot and told how it is used to keep prisoners in check while traveling.

Former Students Visit

Many former students visited Whitworth when classes resumed immediately after the Christmas holidays. Some of them are going to college elsewhere and some are "just sitting," as one ably expressed it. Among those whom we noted, were: Harold Eastburg, John Kingsland, Frances Jorgenson, Harold Nelson, Charles Bradford, Harriett Hancox, Nora Page Hall, Henry Schloimer, George McDowell, and Eugenia Peery.

DR. HARDWICK SPEAKS

The Education department of the Northwest Science association held a meeting December 28 and 29 at the Davenport hotel.

Reports were made from various colleges and universities on researches that have recently been made. Some of the colleges represented were Washington State college, the University of Idaho, Lewiston normal, and Whitworth college.

Dean Hardwick reported on personality tests which were given three years ago at Whitworth. During the last three years, the students whose personalities were investigated in this way were carefully watched to see whether the qualities predicted were actually revealed by the students' behavior. It was found that the tests are very reliable.

Dr. Hardwick also reported on the interests of students at Whitworth as revealed in their personal questionnaires. It was found that as a whole Whitworth students rate very high.

DEEP, DARK DIRT

We saw Janet Jackson go into the doctor's office the other day to get her "broken bones" taped. We're going to take up a collection to get Janet a sled; coasting in a dish pan is so old-fashioned.

And while we're on the subject of broken bones—we heard Kroske remark the other day that he "just didn't know his own strength"; and then Bettylou Johnson comes to college with some damaged ribs. Oh, well, there's probably nothing to it, but we just thought we'd tell you anyhow.

Of course you've all heard the one about the blonde who went for a ride with Dale Snedden, and got back too late to go to her 2 o'clock class.

Our personal nomination for an "A" in Sociology is Edabelle Hall. She knows almost everything. She told Professor Husson the other day that "parole" is "the money you get at the end of the month."

We received this letter the other day, and we thought you might be interested:

Dear friend (?)

I'd like to ask you a question. After you've gone with a girl for a while, and you've told her all about yourself, and she's told you all about herself—well, what do you talk about?

Dave Huntley.

There's always the weather.

We noticed the first sign of cold weather the other day: Ruth Wier and Kemp Rotan have postponed their 8 o'clock conference in the telephone booth.

It appears that Wendell Taylor prefers Eastern chocolates, especially those which Anne Kamm received from Princeton.

Georgia Patterson isn't interested in any men at Whitworth, because she has a preacher back at home.

Don Dickson wants a girl to bid him an affectionate farewell when he goes home at the semester end, and says that two young women have already applied. Do your shocking' early, girls.

When a reporter asked Dwight Calkins if he, as president of the sophomore class, had any news about its activities, he said, "No blondes—no business." He's the one who said: "Margaret Robbins proposed that I either give her a dime or take her home. And my mother doesn't like for me to bring girls home!"

Larry McDonald, the "charming Larry," quoting Miss Buxton, blushed rosily when he proposed to the bust of a Grecian lady at the freshman party. He ended his declaration most touchingly with a kiss on her pale cheek.

While sitting in the window seat of McMillan, we heard that:

"Jean Campbell has her moments. She likes them big and bad."

"Earleen Schiewe carries a camphor bottle."

"June Seaberg has been called June Seifert."

"Larry McArthur wants to be known as being desperate. He's good here (so he says), but he's bad in his home town."

"Bill Davis, the young man who rates a pre-postal delivery service, says that he resembles a Greek statue, and that he looks more like Venus de Milo every day."

By the way, is Phil Walborn making a curiosity collection, or what?

When Dr. Countermine mentioned polyandry, Bill Williams became intelligent and asked, "Who is he, or is it a woman?"

Would you be interested in knowing that the dignified Kenneth Smith did not get home until after 3:30 on New Year's morning?

Glancing over the cover of Nell Blair's notebook, we found the following jottings: "Bill Reel, my hero; Emmett Ross, Bing Crosby to you; Lowell Poore, my one and only; Dumm and Trunkey, lawyers; Don Dickson, my fiance; Timm, my worry; T. C. McFeron, my inspiration; Roger Hale, my Rudolph Valentino; Aimee Russell, my ideal; G. Beckler, my secret passion; Dale Snedden, my pal, Joe."

Sunny Pillers, while skiing the other day, thought the snow was awfully rough, but it was only a snag in the traditional red flannels.

P. S. I love you.

Prominent Speakers Presented in Chapel

Dr. J. W. Bailey, a professor in the Baptist seminary at Berkeley, spoke in chapel January 8. His talk was made doubly interesting by vivid descriptions of his extensive travels.

Dr. J. A. Stevenson, of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, gave a talk concerning the field of service as Christian leaders, at chapel, January 2.

His talk was especially inspiring to those who are planning to go into active Christian service.

The Reverend Anderson Crain delivered an inspiring Christmas message to the student body in chapel on December 18. The service included songs and scripture readings, which were illustrated with colored slides.

TREMOR HITS McMILLAN HALL

Cast of Characters: Six upper classmen and fourteen freshmen.

Scene: Any frosh bedroom in McMillan hall.

Time: First scene is at 12 midnight; second scene is at 3 a. m.

"There, Elizabeth, I can't trust you to do anything. Here it is time to get up, and you didn't wind the clock. Look at it."

The preceding sentence is devoid of humor unless one has a mental picture of Marcia Crockett sitting on her mattress in a welter of blankets, with an upturned bed beside her. Not awake enough to realize just what has happened, she is thinking that this must be some new way in which to arise.

At 3 a. m. an unearthly shriek is heard on the first floor. The upper classmen are again at work; the job must be finished in one night. Jean Campbell stumbles into a room and, loath to leave without doing some damage, she dumps and awakens Ruth Wier, who thinks that an earthquake has risen to strike her down.

In general, the participants in the dumping act agree that the frosh showed themselves to be the best of sports.

NUMBER PLEASE?

A new page in the Whitworth college telephone directory was prepared by workers in the FERA during the Christmas holidays when they calcimined the college telephone booth. All old numbers were destroyed. Several students have already started the new page. Who knows how much romance lies beneath the coat of calcimine?

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

You wonder? Well, listen to this: We saw Vicker Craining his neck. And did you know that someone is getting Close to Morris Wilson? and is she Wilson!

Bob Nordmark, we are told, feels the need of a Campbell.

Paul's roof must leak, for he is always hunting the Carpenter.

Have you Hood about Bob? He likes Tena little things.

Jane Carpenter has a lot to Kope with.

Could it be that Anne Kamm needs a Taylor?

Does Roger Hale ever get Crockett?

Jeanie MacDonald is always Rossing about.

Ruth Wier has some very Rotan ideas.

Elise has at last chosen a Pen name.

Huntley seems to have changed all of a Sutton.

Miss Paul Visits In California

California is all that its enthusiasts claim it to be,—or at least that is the opinion of Miss Vera Paul, who visited friends in the Southern state during the Christmas holidays.

While Northerners shivered, Miss Paul basked in the usual California sunshine, although fur coats seemed to be the necessary thing for evening wear.

"The Tournament of Roses was beautiful," said Miss Paul. In answer to a query as to her enjoyment of the Rose Bowl game, she mourned the fact that she did not have time to see it.

Miss Paul visited San Francisco, Pasadena, Los Angeles, and Catalina. She liked the Spanish type of architecture especially prominent on Catalina. Pasadena was a "grand place." While there, she visited the Community theatre and witnessed a "charming performance" of Moliere's "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme." She saw one mission, the Dolores. Her one great sorrow was that she just missed seeing Kathleen Norris' "Sun Up," which ended in San Francisco the day before her arrival there on her return.

Her entire trip was made by train. It was her first visit to the southwestern part of the United States.

The soft strains of "Come All Ye Faithful" filled the halls of McMillan at 9 o'clock on the evening of December 20. Quietly all the Sefelo women gathered in the dimly lighted lobby.

First, they listened to Christmas carols played by Margaret Clapp on her violin. The services were opened with a prayer by Miss Jenkins. Genevieve Glenn gave a reading called "The Peasant's Coat." Anne Kamm sang "Stille Nacht" to the music of her guitar. A portion of the "Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, was read by Nell Blair. Ann Pillers presented gifts from the Sefelo girls to Dean Jenkins and Mrs. Hardwick. Earleen Schiewe read the Christmas story as told by St. Luke. She then retold the Sefelo Christmas traditions.

Each Christmas the large red candle of Sefelo is lighted. This candle symbolizes the light of Christ, who is the guiding light of Sefelo. Each woman was given a small candle, which she lighted from the large one. After all the candles were lighted, the women began to sing "Silent Night" and the president led them around the hall in single file. The stillness and the darkness of the building seemed to emphasize the reverence of the holy song and the symbolic little lights. Downstairs, and then upstairs the women filed, still singing. The second time that they went through the upper hall, the girls who lived there stopped at their own doors. The remainder filed back downstairs and down the hall until each was at her own door. The building echoed the words: "Christ, the Saviour is born, Christ, the Saviour is born." As the last echo faded away, Miss Jenkins called a "Merry Christmas," and was answered by all.

Sell Christmas Seals

Claney Installed Master Councilor

Harrison Claney, Whitworth's yell leader, was installed as Master Councilor of the De Molay at the regular installation program in the Masonic Temple on Saturday night, January 12. This is the second highest honor that can be bestowed on a De Molay, the highest being the Legion of Honor Degree, which is given to Past Masters only.

Lee Peregrine, the outgoing Master Councilor, is a former Whitworth student.

MUSICAL NOTES

The work of the music department continues at a vigorous pace. Sunday night, January 13, the chorus sang at the First Baptist church.

The mixed chorus gave three numbers: "The Glory of the Land" from Handel's "Messiah," "The Gloria" by Mozart, and "Dear Land of Home" from "Finlandia" by Sebelius.

The men's quartet—Loren Hatcher, Paul Koper, Mark Koehler, and Keith Murray—sang two numbers. Solos were sung by Emmett Ross and Bertha Davie.

Mr. Williston was the accompanist at the piano and Mrs. Davis, of the church music staff, assisted at the pipe organ.

During the month, the men's quartet have appeared at the Lions club and at various churches. For the Lions they sang "The Green-eyed Dragon," "The Gospel Train," and "The Battle of Jericho."

Sunday morning, January 13, their numbers at the Knox Presbyterian church were "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" and "How Bright Appears the Morning Star."

For union services at the Central Christian church, January 6, the quartet sang "How Bright Appears the Morning Star," "He Always Is There," and "The Foundation of God Standeth Sure."

Patients of the Eastern State hospital at Medical Lake were the audience for a program of Christmas carols by the college chorus on December 20. Mrs. Hopkins and Mr. Bailor were in charge.

Several traditional carols, "God Rest You, Merrie Gentlemen," "Here a Torch," "Silent Night, Holy Night," were sung by the women's quartet.

The male quartet presented "O Holy Night," "The Battle of Jericho," "The Open Road," "The Gospel Train," and "Keep in the Middle of the Road."

Four members of the Whitworth women's glee club assisted the quartets in two numbers: "Joy to the World" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." Mr. Williston was accompanist.

Miss Jessie Mungor, of the staff, said that the patients enjoyed the program very much and that they liked to see young people.

Volunteer Fellowship Party Is Successful

Mary Baker was chairman of the committee which planned a very successful Volunteer Fellowship party, given in the library on January 11. Helen Ludvigson assisted with the games, which were new and clever. Ann Pillers had charge of the refreshments, pineapple cream pie and coffee.

Following the social program was a short devotional service led by Harold Penhalurik, president of the group.

MR. PIERCE OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mr. H. H. Pierce, who resides at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan, observed his eighty-fourth birthday on Friday December 21.

Mr. Pierce was born at Rochelle, Illinois, in 1850. He attended Wheaton college in Illinois and in 1878 moved with his wife to Russell, Kansas, where he raised wheat for fifty years. He still owns a wheat farm in Kansas, on which an oil well is being drilled.

Mr. Pierce says that when he moved to Kansas, the last of the buffalo herds could be seen roaming the country, and the settlers sometimes experienced Indian scares. He recalls one occasion when all the settlers near Russell gathered at the town for protection against the Indians. A rumor had gone out that the Red Men, were near.

But the next morning all were safe: no Indians could be seen. A number of the settlers then gave the excuse that they had come to town to attend the Sunday school convention, which was being held that week.

In 1928 Mr. Pierce came to the Northwest, where he has lived since.

Three other birthdays besides Mr. Pierce's were observed at the Sullivan home during the month of December: Mrs. Sullivan's, on December 26; Dr. Sullivan's, on December 27; and their son, Harold's, on December 17.

McMillan Open House

The Whitworth Women's auxiliary have, indeed proved themselves the benefactors of the women in McMillan hall. During the Christmas vacation, the upper hall and the stairs were covered with carpet; and on Friday, January 10, a furniture van drew up before McMillan and unloaded two beautiful American-Oriental rugs and a day-venport-chair-and-footstool ensemble for the second-floor lobby.

On Sunday afternoon, during the hour between three and four, the lobby was open for the Ballard residents to see and envy. The men are now eager to form an auxiliary.

GIRLS SPREAD CHRISTMAS CHEER

On December 20 the members of the Pirotto club took a box filled with many dolls, games, balls, and various other toys to the Children's ward at the Deaconess hospital. The girls had collected and rejuvenated old toys and dolls and had also purchased new things.

PIRETTES PLAN PARTY

On February 1, the Pirotto club is to have a party. As plans are now, a sleigh ride is in order—provided there is some snow. If the sleigh ride is impossible, the club will have a progressive dinner. The senior and the alumni members are to be included.

TRIPLE TESTS FOR PHYSICAL ED. GIRLS

Triple tests for women in the physical education classes were given Monday and Tuesday, January 14 and 15, by Mrs. Leslie Hedrick, instructor in the department of physical education.

The tests were the same as those given at the beginning of the semester and all those who showed improvement in posture were awarded 25 points, entitling them to membership in the Women's Athletic association.

Ross Presents Musical Program

To Emmett Ross and his fellow musicians goes the credit for one of the finest chapel programs presented this year. The orchestra, with the addition of two guest players, Darrell White and Marvin Henderson, and assorted talented Whitworthians, presented the following program:

- Orchestra, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."
- Piano solo, Jim Stundon.
- Violin trio, "One Night of Lays" and "Flirtation Walk," Fred Winkler, Art Rorberg, and Paul Gustafson.
- Vocal solo, "Stay as Sweet as You Are," Earleen Schiewe.
- Saxophone, duet, "It's Winter Again," Mack Hamley and Emmett Ross.
- Collo solo, "Happiness Ahead," Phil Walborn.
- Orchestra, "Sophisticated Lady."
- Women's trio, "Lost in a Fog."
- Piano solo, "Lazy Rhapsody," Eliso Aldrich.
- Male quartet, "Sweet Sue."
- Harrison Claney and Graham Potter put on an interesting skit depicting the life of a so-called imitator of song birds.
- The program was well received and, if the volume of applause is any indication, there will be another before long.

LANGUAGE STUDENTS GREET "PETIT NOEL"

With a background of a beautifully decorated Christmas tree, and a fireplace with shoes placed in front of it for the "petit Noel" to fill,—representing Germany and France respectively,—the following interesting program was given on December 7 by the Modern Language club:

- Duet: "Schlummerlied" ("Slumber Song"), Margarito Moseley and Margaret Robbins
 - Clarinet Solo Mack Hamley
 - Solo: "Schoene Zeit" ("A Happy Time") Margaret Robbins
 - "German Christmas" Myrle Manworch
 - Solo: "Cantique de Noel" ("Song of Christmas") Margarito Moseley
 - Piano Solo Professor Williston
 - "French Christmas" Ethel Dawson
 - Solo: "Mon Coeur s'ouvre a ta Voix" Margarito Moseley
 - "French and German Christmas Stories" Wilma Finn
 - Duet: "Stille Nacht" ("Silent Night") with guitar accompaniment
 - Anno Kamm and Keith Murray
- The Modern Language club is much indebted to Mr. Williston for the success of the program; he furnished not only his beautiful solo, but also the accompaniment for the voice numbers.

The program as a whole was very good. The attendance of students and visitors was appreciated. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone interested in French or German to visit the monthly meetings of the Modern Language club. The program given by the Club on January 18 consisted chiefly of numbers by students majoring in sciences and studying scientific German. There were also interesting musical numbers.

ALPHAS ENJOY DESSERT SUPPER

A dessert supper was enjoyed by the Alpha Beta club December 17 at the Dessert hotel. Miss Conah Mae Ellis, girls' adviser at North Central high school, was the guest speaker. Her topic was "International House." The Christmas motif was used for favors and decorations, and the entire program was given by candlelight. Jean Campbell, assisted by Dorothy Monk and Grace Sutton, had charge of the arrangements.

The club prepared a Christmas basket for a needy family. Dorothy Monk and Grace Sutton had charge of this project.

Pirates Rally To Victory

Williams High-Point Man With 10 Points.

Leading 18-11 at the end of the first half, the Pirates went on a final rally in the last half to defeat the Coeur d'Alene Junior college 29-25, in a game played Wednesday, January 16, on the Whitworth floor.

Although making several nice short shots, the Lake City men had considerable trouble in finding the basket.

Hard luck faced the Pirates when several of their long shots managed to hit the ring a few times, only to bounce out again.

The work of Bob Dumm, a first-year man, in handling the ball proved to be a great help in winning the game for Whitworth.

Williams, high-point man for Whitworth, totaled 10 points, while McCall of the Junior college scored 8 points.

PIRATES DOWN RATHDRUM FIVE

Defeating the Rathdrum town team 38-19, the Pirates won their second game of the season on Thursday, January 3.

Penhalurick and Allison led the scoring, with 12 points apiece for the winners, and Koehler scored 10 points. Coon was the scoring ace for Rathdrum, with 8 points.

PLAN TURF FOR FOOTBALL FIELD

Through the efforts of the "W" club, the football team in the future will play on a turfed field. It is now being fertilized, preparatory to being seeded in the spring. This added touch of green will enhance the beauty of the campus.

Choose Honorary Captains for 1934

Allison and Koper Receive Honor.

Paul Koper, a three-year letterman, and Bob Allison, a two-year letterman, were elected by the members of the football team as co-captains of the 1934 football season. Both men were outstanding among their teammates. Allison played in the back-field both at half-back and at full-back; Koper played in the line at guard.

G. A. C. DEFEATS HOME TEAM

The Pirates had the tables turned on them when they played the Greenacres Athletic Club, Thursday, January 10.

Unlike the 33-26 win of last year, Whitworth was defeated 30-18.

E. Ulowitz of the Club was high-point man with 7 field goals and 1 free throw to score 15 points. Koehler scored 6 points for the losers.

PIRATES TAKE ST. PAUL M. E.

The Whitworth quintet downed the St. Paul Methodist's "A" team of the church league to the tune of 37-25 in a basketball game played on the Whitworth floor, Tuesday, January 8.

ART DEPARTMENT DOES POSTER WORK

The fine arts department has been very active in the support of college activities. More than thirty-three posters have been made this semester. Edabelle Hall and Eleanor Henderson deserve special mention for their willing service and excellent work. Other students in the department are interested in poster work and are showing excellent ability.

VISIT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The fine arts classes spent several hours Saturday, December 8, in the art reference room at the Public Library, becoming acquainted with a few of the beautiful and choice art books. Mr. Fuller, the librarian, is an artist of international reputation in the designing of book plates, and has assembled an exceptionally fine collection of art books for the library.

LEWISTON TAKES PIRATE QUINTET

Varsity Hampered by Injuries.

Playing their first intercollegiate game, the Pirates were defeated 37-30 by the Lewiston Normal quintet on the home floor, Saturday, January 12.

Erickson, left-forward for Lewiston, started the scoring in the half by a nice close-up shot.

Close checking on the part of the Normal five prevented the Pirates from scoring more than 16 points in the first half.

The score at the half was 32-16 in favor of Lewiston.

The Whitworth men came back in the second half, determined to overtake the teachers, but rang up only 14 more points.

Injuries received in previous games prevented two Whitworth regulars from being in the line-up. Vicker and Luenow sustained knee injuries.

Erickson was high-point man for the winners with 17 points, whereas Penhalurick scored 10 points for the losers.

Hold Interclass Games

Crash! Bang! and another substitute entered the game. Thus began the basketball season among the interclass teams.

The sophomores tangled with the yearlings for the first game, and won it by a close score of 32-30.

The upperclassmen hold the lead in the series, having won 3 out of 3 games. So far they have defeated the second-year men 21-17, the green dinks 20-10, and the sophomores in their second game 44-32.

The freshmen have had hard luck in winning their games, but they have given plenty of competition to the other two teams.

Seifert, a freshman, has proved to be a speed demon: seems to be everywhere at once. Hatcher, a scoring ace of last year, has kept his title so far, but Roger Hale is giving him some good competition. The green "Flash" (Chatterton to you), an ex-spart. Casaba tosser, has been a shining light (off and on) for the upperclassmen.

WHITWORTH TEAM DEFEATS HILLYARD

Williams Takes Honors.

The Whitworth men opened the basketball season with a win over the Hillyard Independents by a score of 34-32, in a game played in the Whitworth gymnasium on Thursday, December 20.

The Pirates led the Independents in the first half and stayed at the top for the remainder of the game.

The scoring honors for the winners went to Williams, who rang up 12 points. O'Malley, Miller, and Sandstrom scored 6 points apiece for the losers.

CHENEY TAKES HOME QUINTET

Team Has Injuries.

Injuries sustained by four members of the Pirate team in previous games accounted somewhat for the defeat handed them by the Cheney Normal Papooses in a game played in the Normal gym, Tuesday, January 15.

The Papooses piled up a 14-2 lead in the first half and kept up the steady drive to score 22 more points in the second half.

Pallard was the scoring ace for the Papooses with 11 points to his credit. Penhalurick scored the same number of points for Whitworth.

The Pirates' foul shooting was not up to the usual standard as they were able to sink only four out of fifteen free throws.

Henderson Tops Honor Roll

College Average 14.3.

Twenty-one students distinguished themselves in scholarship for the semester ending January 25.

Class honors went to the seniors, who averaged 16.8 grade points. The junior average was 14 grade points, the freshman, 13.8; the sophomore, 12.8.

PAY CONVOCATION IS BIG SUCCESS

Money To Buy Medals for Snider Cup Winners.

One of the most entertaining programs of the college year was given Friday morning, February 8, at a pay convocation held in the auditorium. The program, which was sponsored by the "W" club, was held for the purpose of raising money to buy medals for the winners of the Snider Memorial cup.

Mark Koehler, as chairman, introduced the mistress of ceremonies, Jo Schrap, who announced in rhyme each number of the program.

Included on the program was a piano solo by Prof. George Williston, a faculty skit given by Mrs. K. W. Wegner, Prof. R. W. Weaver, and Dr. Leslie Hedrick; and a vocal solo by Loren Hatcher. A reading was given by Robert Allison; and the varsity male quartet, including Mark Koehler, Paul Koper, Loren Hatcher, and Keith Murray, sang several numbers. Mack Hamloy gave a clarinet solo.

A faculty quartet, composed of Mr. Ford L. Bailor, Coach Gerald Stannard, Dr. K. W. Wegner, and Prof. George Williston, sang three numbers. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins. Each of the members of this quartet impersonated one of the members of the varsity quartet as he will look ten years from now.

The concluding number on the program was a skit by the initiates of the "W" club. Those in the skit were David Stowell, David Trunkay, John Gay, Robert Dumm, and Ray Cramer.

Derby Committee Ready For Work

Saturday, March 16, is the date set for the annual Green Derby that is given by the members of the Pirotto and the "W" clubs. This year a novel idea, a derby, is being planned: the entertainers, the program, and the scenery will keep the scheme of a horse race.

Mark Koehler is the general chairman of the executive committee. The other committee chairmen are Ward Fancher, ways and means; Eleanor Henderson, decorations; Dan Fleming, business manager; Dorothy Cramer, publicity; Christine McDonald, food; and Scott Chatterton, program.

QUARTET TRAVELS

Quartet Making Extensive Tour

Travel for Several Weeks.

The Whitworth Men's Varsity Quartet is now making an extensive tour of the Coast. The trip is under the direction of Ford L. Bailor, director of promotional activities. It is his plan that the group shall make several appearances a day, from Thursday, February 21, to Wednesday, March 13. Besides the regular schedule which is already set up, they plan to sing in high schools and for civic clubs along the way.

The personnel of the quartet, which includes Loren Hatcher, first tenor; Mark Koehler, second tenor; Keith Murray, baritone; and Paul Koper, bass, is quite versatile. Mr. Murray, as the quartet reader, has several monologues prepared with which to diversify the program. Mr. Hatcher is to be featured as the soloist. The first scheduled program will be given at the Bellingham Christian Endeavor Convention, February 22 and 23. The quartet will sing several numbers, and both Mr. Murray and Mr. Koper will speak.

The repertoire includes groups of Gospel music, spirituals, twilight numbers, modern songs, vocal solos, piano solos, readings, and comedy

Appear Many Places.

Their complete itinerary is as follows:

- February
- 22 and 23, Bellingham Christian Endeavor Convention at Anacortes
 - 24, Vesper service at Mt. Baker Presbyterian Church, Seattle
 - Evening service at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Seattle
 - 26, West Seattle Presbyterian Church, Seattle
 - 27, Renton Presbyterian Church, Renton
 - 28, Ballard Presbyterian Church, Seattle
- March
- 1, Rainier Beach Presbyterian Church, Seattle
 - 3, Woodland Park Presbyterian Church, Seattle
 - 4, Puyallup Presbyterian Church, Puyallup
 - 5, Bremerton Presbyterian Church, Bremerton
 - 6, Bremerton-Summit Avenue Presbyterian Church, Bremerton
 - 7, Tacoma First Presbyterian Church, Tacoma
 - 8, Sprague Memorial Church, Tacoma
 - 10, Tacoma Bethany Presbyterian Church
 - 11, Sumner Presbyterian Church, Sumner
 - 12, Port Orchard Christian Church, Port Orchard, Washington

Queen To Be Selected From Five Nominations

Snider Memorial Awards Given

The James Snider Memorial medallion awards were presented to the cup winners on Friday, February 22. The men who received the medals are Howard Kroske, winner of the Memorial cup for 1934, Bill Rasco, 1933; Tommy Ventris, 1932; and Ray Lavender and Art Roberts, co-winners, 1931.

COLONIAL TEA FOR AUXILIARY

Many in Colonial Costume.

A colonial tea complimenting members of the Whitworth College Women's auxiliary for furnishing the alcove in McMillan hall, was given Monday afternoon, February 18, by women students of the college. All the young women were dressed in colonial costume, as were a number of the auxiliary members.

Hostesses for the tea hour were Marguerite Moseley, Jo Schrap, and Marian Minnich. Those who poured were: Christine McDonald, Mary Baker, Anna Pillers, and Audrey Simmons.

Frances Johnson had charge of the serving; her assistants were Junie Seaberg, Dorothy Monk, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Gyneth Chapman, and Jane Carpenter. Committees in charge were: Decorations, Majorie Harrison and Evelyn Morgan; refreshments, Elizabeth Northrop, Grace Mills, Lorraine Rasco, and Hazel Barnes. Dean Marion R. Jenkins assisted the women with arrangements.

The auxiliary business meeting and program preceded the tea. In the receiving line in costume were Mrs. E. J. Peterson, president, dressed as George Washington; Mrs. M. D. MacLeod, Mrs. J. M. Richardson, Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan, Mrs. C. W. Hays, Mrs. William Somerville, Mrs. Francis T. Hardwick, and Mrs. F. R. Fursey.

One-Act Play Given.

The program included numbers by the women's and the men's quartets of the college and a one-act play by Aimee Russell, Audrey Simmons, and Tena Lathrop. At the business meeting plans were announced for the group's major project for the rest of the year: the establishing of a sinking fund for refrigeration for the college. The group has just finished the project of furnishing the alcove and the town women's study rooms in McMillan hall.

A number of unusual costumes were worn by members of the auxiliary. Mrs. J. M. Richardson wore a gown of her mother's which is 80 years old; Mrs. F. R. Fursey had a dark blue hand-made silk dress with a long train, which is more than 75 years old; Mrs. O. C. Miller had on her mother's wedding dress, which is about 65 years old; and Mrs. W. L. Livingston wore her graduation dress.

Each Ticket Good for 100 Votes.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown" may be a correct quotation in other monarchies, but at Whitworth all heads are uneasy over the great problem of crowning the queen of the Green Derby. This event, the high-light of the year's most important social event, is the main topic of conversation everywhere.

All else has been forgotten as friends of Jo Schrap, Elise Aldrich, Eleanor Henderson, Dorothy Clifford, and Gyneth Chapman, the five women nominated for this honor, busily argue their favorite's virtues. The smiling unconcern (real or simulated) of the girls involved is not transmitted to these rabid partisans. Each group is determined that its candidate is to be the one to have a full-page portrait in the Natsih, and all the other honors that go with being queen of the Green Derby.

Since each ticket to the Derby entitles the purchaser to 100 votes, reservations are already beginning to pour in. Not until the great event, however, will the winner be announced. Then the five princesses will be called forward; and amidst the cheers of the crowd, a crown will be placed on the head of Whitworth's most popular coed. Long live the queen!

Award Points For Activities

The point system committee has, after a great deal of hard work, made out the following table of point awards to be made for extra-curricular activities. The awards will be made on the basis of membership; that is, more points may be made in an organization having a large enrollment than in one having a small enrollment.

The total number of points that a student may earn are listed as follows:

A. S. W. C.	points
Honor student, 20; "C" student, 15; "C—" student, 10
If a student is carrying more than 16 hours of academic work, his total number of points is reduced by one for every hour exceeding 16.
The following table shows what points may be earned

THE LIBERAL ARTS COLLEGE

The Liberal Arts and Science college is the central core of the American system of higher education. The small liberal arts and science college, such as Whitworth, is the true college of higher learning in America.

The Liberal Arts and Science college has definite aims and purposes, which may be summarized under the following four heads:

1. Cultural Training—The Liberal Arts and Science college offers further training beyond the high school in the great fields of knowledge. It orientates the individual in the complex scheme of the universe; it develops refinement of manner in all aspects of human living—physical, mental, and spiritual; it creates a sympathetic understanding of life and human relationships; and it establishes in one a realization of a dependence on a power higher than himself and of the natural forces around him.

2. Pre-professional Training—This type of college offers training in the so-called tool subjects such as mathematics, chemistry, biology, physics, English, and languages; in fact, all courses generally offered may be considered tool subjects for professional or technical training. Two years of study in these subjects is a requirement in most professional and technical schools, and some schools such as those of law and medicine require four years.

3. Professional and Technical Training—Graduates of liberal arts and science colleges are prepared in most instances to step into positions of leadership and responsibility, whether they be professional or semi-professional in nature. This type of college prepares for certain definite lines of professional and technical service, such as teaching, chemical engineering, and civil service.

4. Development of Personality and Leadership—The Liberal Arts and Science college, especially the small church-related college, lays particular emphasis upon the development of the individual as a human personality and as an effective citizen in society. This development is brought about through the organization and co-ordination of the curricular and extra-curricular programs, and through the spiritual life as determined by the "set of the soul" of the college in its highest ideals. The extra-curricular activity at Whitworth is carefully directed, yet the student is left with opportunity for development of initiative and originality. Such a program develops the individual and helps him fit into a world of human beings.

Whitworth college is endeavoring with all of its powers to carry out to the fullest extent the aims and purposes as set forth above.

—WARD W. SULLIVAN.

MR. AND MRS. IS THE NAME

Were we surprised when we heard the news! The person who told it to us thought the idea a good one, —and so do we.

Anyway, it seems that two of our number took a notion that college life is rather dull and monotonous as a usual thing. So in order to make it bright and glamorous, the two "up and got married" before we had time to let anyone know about it except our worst enemies.

Then it was too late to do anything about it, anyway; so we had to let it go as a bad job. At least that is our opinion.

Mr. Vicker, however, states that he would gladly wring our neck for us (for we hinted as much to him).

Mr. Shanks could only say, "Golly, I'm glad that's over!" while we stood around on our toes and laughed loudly as he shook rice out of his ears and did the best he could to ward off old shoes, pineapple cans, and other extempo-ranous weapons of bombardment. His wife, seeing the danger of remaining in the presence of such missiles, could only say, "Quick, Ralph, let's get out of here!"

Mrs. Vicker's attitude gave us quite a shock. "She said: 'I never knew what liberty looked like till I married this big polooka! He seems to enjoy it, too. Just see how his knee has improved since I came around!'"

Then suddenly and wholly unexpectedly: "Kiss me, Big Boy, and show 'em!"

But we turned our back and slunk out the back way.

NEW SEFELO OFFICERS

Sefelo elected its officers for this semester on January 28. Ann Pillers was chosen president and Tena Lathrop, secretary-treasurer. The committee chairmen chosen were; Jane Carpenter, social; Genevieve Glenn, laundry room; Margaret Clapp, reception room; and Esther Miller, house.

Spotlite Review

Here we are, folks! The first one this year! Yowah! Turn the switch and let's see who's here! Why, of course. Miss Janet Jackson, to be sure!

O. K., Janet, let's have a speech! "Hello, fellow convicts! First I want you all to spit out your gum. Then I can talk better. I have to chew gum to keep my teeth white. You know A. C. Spark Plug? Well, someday I hope to win a prize for a smile like that.

"I think it's quite warm in here, don't you? I really detest green jackets but my mother told me that I had to wear this so that people would know my rank! I think that they would know anyway, but I always obey my parents. I think green jackets are so much more cuddly than the yellow variety, too. Or perhaps you have never been warmed by the yellow ones?"

"Someone asked me my age the other day, and I told him to guess. He said, 'Sixteen, to say the least.' Now is that complimentary, I ask you?"

"Don't you think Francis Lederer is divine, though? I think he'd make an ideal husband!"

"Even though chewing gum is my favorite sport, I like to shoot craps when I have nothing else to do. At other times I like to play anything—but perhaps that is what you'd call puppyism, and I think dogmatism is so much more romantic, don't you?"

Just look who's here, girls: the answer to a madman's prayer—we mean "maiden's". (Glenn Barns shoved our elbow with a book that he had been studying, and we hit the wrong keys—Just imagine Glenn studying!)

Back to the answer. He has curly hair and pearly teeth, and soothes away your grief on either a clarinet or a sax. There are two things that he just don't do—run competition with the radio or a crying baby. Now who could this Romeo be? You guessed it right the first time—Mac Hamley.

Mac told us that his curly hair was the result left after a tornado had torn everything else up by the roots.

This young gallant was born in the "land of corn and wine." For proof, he has a bottle of old Port and a can of corned beef in a glass showcase which he will be glad to exhibit to anyone who does not know what either one looks like. The only reasons we couldn't have a taste of each are that the bottle is made out of safety glass and cannot be broken, and the corned beef can had a hole shot through it while Mac was smuggling it into the country and therefore the meat is poison.

Mac spends all his spare time waving his hair. He says that he prefers blondes because he gets tired squeezing blackheads. His interests are mostly financial. He states that he is going to own a "hock shop" as soon as he can get on his feet; but up to the present time his feet have been too big to see over, much less to mount.

And now, peepuls, behold the little scarlet menace, the blonde in red! Let us rise to the occasion! You know whom we mean—Eleanor Henderson, of course. Judging from the attention she receives at the hands of certain young gentlemen at the chapel service each morning, she must be very popular.

Listen, folks, we got this "info" by dint of hard work and sworn secrecy; so please don't tell a soul what we are going to tell you now. We asked Eleanor to tell us all about herself, and so here is her story:

"I have one father and one mother. My brothers and sisters are married; so they're hopeless. I was born in the year McMillan hall was built, in a little district south of the north pole. (She or McMillan hall—take your choice.) My father was a blacksmith; so I can't understand why I'm blonde. He used to call me "a little horse," and I guess he did that because I always had a cold and I suppose that came from the pole. Well, anyway when I was three years old we moved to Spokane in an old model-T. (I don't know why they call it that. I can't see any difference between 1916 and 1935 T's.)

"I attended the Hawthorne school irregularly. Then I went to Rogers. Of course I didn't know Roger Hale then, but I liked his shack anyway. I degraded from there in 1933; so they had to send me to this institution. My grades here are rather steep. I coast a lot in the winter, but in the fall I rise again. (You know I have to get up early to study.) I find plenty to do in the spring—and it isn't turning other people's fancies either! My favorite sport is playing miniature billiards with BB shot and toothpicks on the police chief's blotter. My hobby is collecting dues. My chief aversion is snoopy news reporters who want to know why I haven't joined the Liar's club long before now. And if you want to know any more, you'll have to read that new book called "Information for People Who Ask Dumb Questions and Want Foolish Answers."

BARNSTORM

This section is privately referred to as the "dirt column"; but have no fear: most of it is thoroughly laundered before the paper goes to press.

Old sayings are sometimes changed to fit cases. For instance, in Dean Hardwick's classes the early bird may not catch the worm, but the worm who is late to class certainly gets the bird. Or is that too punny to mention?

Gyneth Chapman promised to provide a cute saying for this space, but it has not put in an appearance. Can Gyneth have suddenly grown up?

Lots of fellows gave their girls candy on Valentine's day, but Bob McCreary was the only one with enough presence of mind to wait until the week-end so that he might visit her and eat some of it.

Bob Dumm gets our vote for being the most thoughtful man in college. The first day after his own initiation big-hearted Robert was heard kindly instructing a new frosh about the things he could and could not do. That merely proves what evolutionists have claimed for some time. It doesn't take long for a lamb to turn into a lion. Or are we doing Mr. Darwin an injustice?

Some people seem not to have much of an ear for classical music. In other words, who started clapping as soon as the string quartet had finished tuning?

That rasping noise you heard at the beginning of the semester was only the creaking of Maurice Peterson's joints as he got up from a chair after the first day of gym. However, he was lucky. We couldn't even move after the first day.

One agreeable thing about writing this column is that we never have to insult ourselves. The readers do that for us.

Bob (he's in again) Dumm says that he owes his success to the fact that he always stays away from women. John Gay attributes his to the fact that he never does.

If you see five girls hanging around Mel Fariss this week, don't worry too much about the secret of his manly charm. Mel is buying four tickets to the Green Derby and that means 400 votes. The girls realize that many elections are won by a good (we're sorry, Mel) baby-kisser.

And that's about all for today.

"Children of the Moon"
To Be Presented

The dramatics organization, The Whitworth Players, has chosen the play, "Children of the Moon," to be presented late in the spring.

At the meeting of February 8, a one-act play, "For Distinguished Service," was given. Those taking part were members of the play-production class: Aimee Russell, Tena Lathrop, and Audrey Simmons.

It was decided that the club should give four one-act plays soon so that every member might have the opportunity to take part in dramatics.

LITTLE THEATER ON ART CLUB PROGRAM

The Little Theater group of Spokane presented a one-act play as a feature of the Art club program, Saturday evening, February 16, in the college library. Those taking part were Mrs. Hazel Beil, Margaret Wittman, John Hartley, and Ray Penning. A group of Shakespearean vocal numbers was given by Mrs. Ruth Phair, accompanied by Miss Agnes Becher. Prof. George B. Williston gave several piano selections, and the college varsity male quartet sang a group of numbers.

LANGUAGE PROGRAM IS SCIENTIFIC

On January 18, the Modern Language club gave an interesting scientific program consisting of a paper written and given by Genevieve Glenn, and experiments demonstrated to the club members by David Stowell and Jewell Pyles. There were also musical numbers by Charles Weimer and the Crockett sisters.

After the program the club, chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. Hedrick, enjoyed a skating party at Wandermere.

The club is planning an interesting double program for March.

ALPHA BETA HOLDS FORMAL INITIATION

Alpha Beta held its formal initiation and installation service Saturday, February 23, at the home of June Seaberg, vice-president of the club.

The installation ceremony was a candlelight service. The officers installed were: Audrey Simmons, president; June Seaberg, vice-president; Frances Johnson, secretary, and Elizabeth Baumgartner, treasurer. Miss Leila Moore is the faculty adviser.

After the installation, these new members were initiated: Gyneth Chapman, Hazel Barnes, Edna Allen, Grace Jacobs, Evelyn Morgan, and Eileen Hastings.

The rest of the evening was taken up with a program, after which refreshments were served.

ALL IN A NAME

One bright SOMMER'S day, a MERCHANT went into the KING'S LAND to buy some HAY and WOOD to store in his BARN. As he entered the KING'S LAND, he saw JACOB'S well, a little brown BAER, some REED(s) in the swamp, and a beautiful white SWAN(n). He could not CROS(s) BY JOHN'(s) SON because he was guarding the COL PITTS and would let NUTTING pass by. The MERCHANT was soon overcome by the heat because he had TU VES(ts) ON. His HARR IS wet with perspiration, and he GRO (a)N(s), "Oh MI ER." He decided to leave the KING'S LAND, and he was guided homeward by the FANCHER beacon.

HOLD "COLLEGE NIGHT" AT ART EXHIBIT

An outstanding exhibition of American paintings, showing the development of art in America, was on display at the Grace Campbell Memorial museum, from January 30 to February 16. The exhibition was sponsored by the Spokane Art Association.

The Whitworth College Auxiliary, assisted by Miss Mabel Goodfellow, arranged for a special "College Night," February 9, for the local colleges.

MUSICAL NOTES

The music department will present the opera "Pinafore," by Gilbert and Sullivan, sometime in May.

A new women's quartet, consisting of Margaret Robbins, Lucile Nutting, Marguerite Moseley, and Bertha Davie, made its first appearance at Bethany Presbyterian church, February 15.

Mrs. Ina Wright Herbst has announced that a new vocal class may be started for any students who are interested and who did not enroll last semester. It is emphasized that this class is not choral work, but a study of voice training, with much individual help.

ORCHESTRA HAS NEW INSTRUMENTS

The orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Gardner Morgan, has, for the first time in its history, both a French horn and a flute. Katherine Crosby plays the French horn, and Helen Jean Merchant plays the flute. There are two other new members—Tena Lathrop, trombone; and Marion Harris, violin.

Mr. Morgan recently said, "The variety of instruments in the present organization allows the possibility of producing more tonal variety than ever before possible with the Whitworth orchestra."

Much will be expected from the orchestra. Under the expert direction of Mr. Morgan, it should achieve outstanding success at every performance.

"W" Initiation A Laugh Riot

Shift! . . . Shift! . . . Naw, that's too slow! Give me the paddle and grab your ankles! S-s-s-swatt! S-s-s-swatt!

Just a quaint way of encouraging each "W" club initiate to do better next time. Do you think that you or I could stand the heat in the southern hemisphere? Anyway, it seems that the Messrs. Dumm, Trunkey, Gay, Stowell, and Cramer came through the fire unscathed. But maybe they were just lucky.

If they weren't, we certainly were! We thought that we would butt in on their little party one afternoon, but our mind was soon changed for us. "Two-Gun Pete," alias Trunkey, glared at us and threateningly pointed two guns in our direction; so we hid ourselves where we could watch proceedings without fear of being weighted down with lead. This precaution, however, seemed unnecessary, for our pirate had suddenly changed from a dangerous biped to a mild make-up artist and was soon busying himself at drawing pretty pictures upon the fair countenance of Cramer, who was forced to submit to the soothing application of brown shoe polish upon the delicate surface commonly known as "map." "Pete," not having lost all of his piratical characteristics, gingerly marked the spot of the hidden treasure upon the map by daubing an extra portion of shoe polish on the aforementioned spot.

This piece of fine art was soon completed; so something else had to be done. Mr. Fleming, member of the club, asked Cramer what the time was. Cramer gave the following answer as best he could, punctuating his exposition with shifts of the walnut in his mouth.

Tells Time.

"Sir, I am deeply embarrassed and greatly humiliated that because of unforeseen circumstances over which I have no control, the inner workings and hidden mechanisms of my chronometer are in such discord with the greater sidereal movement by which time is commonly reckoned, that I cannot with any degree of accuracy state the exact time; but, Sir, without fear of being very far off, I will state that it is 28 minutes, 15 seconds, and 4 ticks after the twelfth hour."

Asks What Leather Is.

"Boo" Miller then asked Gay what leather is. (We thought that we could remember this definition—but not so: we had to look it up.) This is what Gay told us:

"If the fresh skin of an animal, cleaned and divested of all hair, fat, and other extraneous matter, be immersed in a dilute solution of tannic acid, a chemical combination ensues: the gelatinous tissue is converted into a non-putrescible substance impervious to and insoluble in water. This, Sir, is leather."

Crowd Gathers.

By this time such a crowd had gathered that we had to come out of hiding in order to see or hear anything. We were safe enough, though, we didn't feel any bullets.

The sun was shining brightly, and so someone suggested a program. No sooner said than given. The first number was "Show Me the Way to go Home," by Gay. The arrangement was novel in that it gave Gay a good chance to show his prowess at shifting his walnut from cheek to cheek. The second song was by Cramer, who thrilled us with the beautiful strains of "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here." "Frannie" then requested "Stay as Sweet as You Are." This number was given as a duet by "Pete" and Gay. Gay was incidental soloist because Pete didn't know the words. The song was dedicated to the "W" club.

The program ended with a few finishing touches given by each member of the club to each initiate. The audience dispersed while reverberations from the paddles echoed through the sunny atmosphere.

BEELZEBUB IS HERE

Unless you are rather a courageous soul, avoid the biology laboratory. Beelzebub has come at last. Cold and white, he lies in state beneath the cover of a long dark box. Who is he? What is he? Ask Dr. Hedrick.

But wait! It won't be necessary even to peep under the lid—if you have patience, for Beelzebub is to be relegated to a position of honor in the laboratory. This human skeleton will stand erect within a locked case, safe from any intruder whose inquisitiveness might not be to his best interests,—for Beelzebub is frail. Though he may not stand rough handling, his appearance is enough to frighten many a brave heart.

Welcome to Whitworth, noble Beelzebub. We know that you'll be a credit to the college.

DR. OXTOBY SPEAKS

Dr. William Henry Oxtoby, from the San Francisco Theological Seminary of San Anselmo, spoke in chapel on February 11. During the day he interviewed many students who are interested in full-time Christian service.

Miss Paul Attends Drama Conference

Miss Vera Alice Paul returned to Whitworth Sunday night, February 17, from Seattle, where she attended a three-day National Drama conference. The conference, which included the northwest section, had headquarters at the Edmond Moany hotel.

Glen Hughes, director of dramatics at the University of Washington, was director of the conference, and Barrett H. Clark, of New York City, was the guest speaker.

Round Table Discussions.

Miss Paul stated that general sessions were held, at which time discussions were carried on concerning high school, college, and community drama. Round table discussions on problems relating to play writing, production, and direction were also a feature of the meet.

Plays Given.

Those attending the conference were guests at a number of dramatic productions given by Seattle organizations. The Penthouse Players of the University of Washington gave "Dulcy," by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, in the ballroom of the Edmond Moany hotel. "Three-Cornered Moon," by Gertrude Tonkonogy, was presented by the Cornish Players of the Cornish School theatre. The Cornish Players also gave "The Wizard of Oz," a marionette production. This was given at the Egyptian theatre in Seattle.

The Studio Players of the University of Washington presented "Alien Corn," by Sidney Howard; and Albert Beine's "Little Ol' Boy" was given at the Seattle Repertory Playhouse. The delegates were also guests at a first showing of the European musical film, "Waltz Time in Vienna."

A tea was held for the delegates by the dramatics department of the University of Washington, and a reception was given for them at the Cornish school.

Miss Paul reports that she had an enjoyable time at the conference and that it was very much worth while.

SEMINAR COURSE FOR BIOLOGY MAJORS

This semester the biology department is offering a seminar course for junior and senior zoology majors. The work is divided into units of two weeks each, including the discussion of theories, principles, history, and geographic distribution of biology. Each member of the class recommended four articles for the others to read, and a bibliographic reference card is kept on file in the department. The last two units are made up of a comprehensive examination covering the whole field of biology.

Student Projects.

Each biology student is working on either a laboratory or a field project counting for one hour of credit. Some of the projects being carried out are the investigation in methods of technique, histology, and pathological material, and continuation of work on technique begun last semester.

The department is also offering for the first time a three-hour course in human anatomy.

New Mechanics Course

Interclass Tournament Vies With Football For Thrills

Upperclassmen Have Winning Team

"Baseball, football, swimming in the tank; the best sport of all is putting money in the bank."

Many of the fellows are beginning to believe that this doggerel contains truth—after coming out of some of these interclass brawls.

Macintyre has the ball; he is up; he is down. Kroeske made that tackle. The upperclassmen are lining up, the ball is snapped and—oh, excuse me: I thought it was a football game.

Those who do not believe that all this happened should have witnessed the last upperclassmen-sophomore game, in which the upperclassmen won 28-24. "Doc" Hale was the main cog for the upperclassmen, scoring 9 points; whereas Hatcher, living up to his scoring ability, rang up 8 points.

The following afternoon the frosh were severely drubbed by the upperclassmen to the tune of 36-28. Chatterton was the scoring threat for the upperclass with 12 points to his credit. Trunkey rang up the most scores for the green dinks.

One of the features of the game was the dribbling of M. Hale. His only drawback was that he could not stop long enough to shoot when he was near the basket.

Pirates Defeat Lake City Men

The Pirates journeyed to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and met the Coeur d'Alene Junior college in a return game, Thursday, February 7.

The Lake City men were able to close check and hold the Pirates to an 18-13 score in the first half; but Penhalurick and Koehler started on another of their scoring sprees in the second half, and did not stop until they rang up 13 and 16 points respectively.

The passing attack and floor work by the Whitworth men proved to be a great aid in their 48-23 victory.

Cheney Defeats Pirate Team

Play Series of Three Games.

The Cheney Papooses have scored three successive victories over the Pirates in the last three games.

Two of the games played in the Normal gym ended 37-25 and 35-23 respectively.

In the first game, a quick passing attack and long shots put the Papooses in the lead, which the Pirates were not able to overcome.

Cross and Pollard were the scoring threats for Cheney, and Williams and Koehler were high for Whitworth.

Play Second Game.

In the second game, the Papooses led in the first half only 3 points, but they outclassed the Pirates in the second half and scored 18 more points.

Penhalurick sank another of his one-hand tosses to tie the score 21 all, but the Pirates could not keep up their fighting spirit.

Last Game Close.

The last game was played in the Whitworth gym Tuesday, February 19, and proved to be a more even battle.

The half-time score favored the Papooses 16-8.

The Pirates clicked in the second half to sink most of their short shots, but a poor passing attack was a handicap to them.

It looked as though it were going to be an overtime game, when Moss sank a long shot for the teachers to break the 24-24 tie, and to clinch the game for Cheney.

Penhalurick garnered 10 points for Whitworth; Cross and Dollard were the scoring aces for Cheney.

The game ended with a final score 26-24.

Koehler played his last game for Whitworth on the home floor in this game, and his absence leaves a position which is going to be hard to fill.

Lineup of games:

Papooses	Whitworth
Pollard	RF	Allison
Haller	LF	Reed
Hibbs	C	Penhalurick

LEWISTON BOWS TO HOME QUINTET

Staging a final rally in the last few minutes of play, the Whitworth quintet beat the Lewiston Normal five in the Normal gym Friday, February 15, by one lone point.

The Normal team led in the first half 16-12, and from then on both teams put up an even battle.

Penhalurick Stars.

With a quick one-hand shot followed by another spectacular shot Penhalurick evened up the score, and a free throw put the Pirates in the lead to win the game 34-33.

Koehler was the scoring ace for the winners with 14 points, and Gaskill scored 15 points for the losers.

Reed was removed from the game with four personals called on him.

The Normal five benefited from the personal fouls called on Whitworth by sinking 6 free throws.

Local Hoopsters Defeat K. B. U.

The Whitworth men handed the Kinman Business University team a 36-16 defeat in the home gym on Friday, February 8.

The Pirates started off swiftly and led in the first half 20-11.

The visiting team lacked the scoring punch to break through for counters and also lacked defensive playing, allowing Whitworth to score 16 more points.

Allison held the scoring honors for the evening with 9 points, followed closely by Koehler with 8 points. Ramey and Lund, of the Business College, scored 4 points apiece.

C. E. To Hold Convention

The Spokane District Christian Endeavor will hold its annual convention on March 8, 9, and 10, at Knox Presbyterian church to elect district officers for the new year. The Campus Endeavor is boosting the convention one hundred per cent.

DANCE VIRGINIA REEL AT COLONIAL PARTY

Powdered wigs, knee-breeches, silver shoe buckles, and long skirts featured the annual all-college Colonial party which was held on Friday, February 22, in the college library.

During the evening the guests danced the Virginia Reel, Skip to My Lou, Pig-in-the-Parlor, and Pop Goes the Weasel. At the close of the evening, following the grand march, the first prize for the best woman's costume was awarded to Esther Miller, and Jo Schrap received honorable mention. Charles Weimer received first prize for the best man's costume, and Lowell Poore was given honorable mention.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

The new tennis class for women, started this semester by Mrs. Hedrick, has nine enthusiasts enrolled. They are practicing in the gym until the courts are ready for use. At present, they are doing concentrated work on the forehand drive, but expect to practice on the backhand drive and service before going out on the courts.

Nine have signed up so far for hiking, which comes under the W. A. A. Dorothy Reed, who is in charge, plans to form one group of dormitory women and another of town women, so that it will be easier for all to make the required sixty miles. The hiking must be done in a group of at least five, and three miles must be covered at a time. One hundred points are given for those turning out for the first time, and 75 for each successive time.

One hears groans and mutterings about sore muscles from students in Mrs. Hedrick's P. E. 2 class. The cause for these aches seems to be the Danish gymnastics which the class has taken up. The Danish system is based on rhythm and relaxation instead of static contraction as is the Swedish system, which was used last semester. The Danish gymnastics also are apparently much more strenuous, as evidenced by the "muscle-consciousness" of the members of the class.

The debate team is planning a few practice debates to be held with Gonzaga university. Arrangements are also being made for a debate with Spokane Valley Junior college the latter part of the month.

Student Makes Skeletons

Paul Gustafson has been doing very creditable work in the biology department. He has made skeletons of a turtle, a chicken, a frog, and a rabbit; he also made some slides for the department. At present he is working on a herbarium to be made up of the many plants in this region and around Moses Lake and the Grand Coulee. He is also making a herbarium of ornamental native trees.

NATURE 1935 NATSIHI THEME

Work on the "Natsihi," Whitworth college annual, is progressing under the direction of Florence Moore, editor-in-chief. Nature will be emphasized in this year's annual. "Natsihi" means "among the pines." It is planned to have the year book ready for publication about the middle of May.

GREEN DERBY HUGE SUCCESS

Whitworth's annual green derby was very successful this year, with about 200 persons attending. The feature of the program was the crowning of the queen—Eleanor Henderson. Mark Kochler, master of ceremonies, had charge of the coronation ceremony.

As the winner of the queen contest was not announced until the final event of the evening, there was much suspense in regard to who would be queen. Other contestants for the honor, who acted as princesses, were: Elise Aldrich, Jo Schrap, Gyneth Chapman, and Pauline McCallum.

Green and silver were used for decorations for the college gymnasium. The affair was cabaret style.

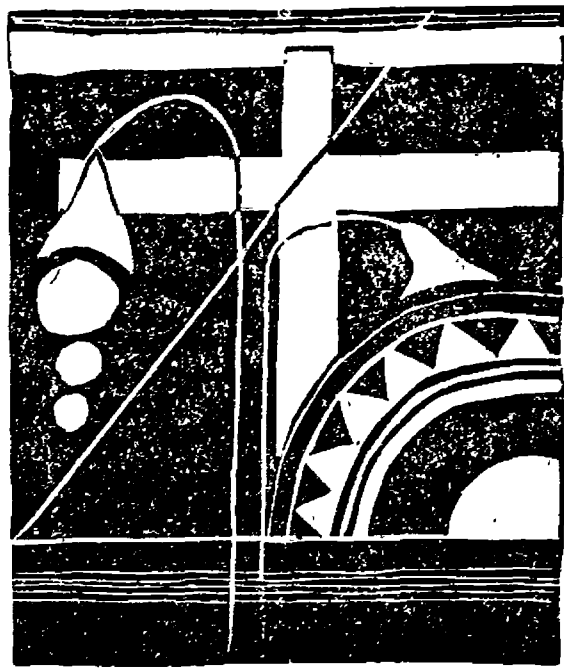

The program was as follows: Selections by the varsity male quartet; comedy solo, Burton Alvis; musical skit, "Two Little Girls in Blue," Earleen Schiewe and Elise Aldrich; colored act, Dale Sndeden and Dave Trunkey; piano solo, Paul Gronemeier, vocal solo, Milton Haywood; numbers by the brass quartet composed of Osmer Jenson, Katherine Crosby, Bob Dumm, and Milton Haywood; vocal selections by the Women's trio, composed of Anne Kamm, Elise Aldrich and Earleen Schiewe, numbers by the mystery lady—Florence Moore, questions answered by Yogi Yorgenson in the person of Mel Fariss; and vocal numbers by the faculty quartet, which includes Mr. Bailor, Mr. Stannard, Dr. Wegner, and Mr. Williston.

The Green Derby, given March 16, was sponsored by the Pirettos and the "W" club. Scott Chatterton was general chairman, and committee chairmen were; Christine McDonald, refreshments; Dorothy Cramer, publicity; Dan Fleming, business manager; Eleanor Henderson, decorations; and Ward Fancher, ways and means.

CAMPUS DAY TO BE LATE IN APRIL

Preparations are being made for Whitworth's annual Campus day to be held late in April. The date has not been definitely set. On this occasion everyone turns out in old clothes, armed with rakes and Bon Ami, and does his share in giving the campus and the buildings the annual spring cleaning. At the completion of the work the students are guests of the college for a cafeteria luncheon.

Includes Four New Buildings

Dr. Sullivan, J. P. Graves, and Albert Arend on Campaign Committee.

Whitworth college is projecting a $440,000 development program this spring, according to authorization by the board of directors. Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president of the college, J. P. Graves and Albert Arend were appointed by the board as a committee to head the campaign. They in turn are authorized to appoint to committees, men and women of Spokane who are interested in the college.

Whitworth's proposed development program is sponsored by the Spokane Chamber of Commerce and leading business and professional men of the city. Details of the building program include:

Building program:
Women's dormitory	$75,000
Science hall	50,000
Central heating plant	25,000
Home arts building	50,000
Campus development	7,500
Enlargement of auditorium	7,500
Total	$215,000
Sustentation fund	25,000
Endowment	200,000

Grand Total $440,000

Chamber of Commerce Interested.

J. I. Kimman, president of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, says: "The Chamber of Commerce recognizes in Whitworth college one of the institutions of which Spokane can be proud. Any educational institution with an enrollment of 264 students is as much an asset to the community as an industrial payroll. It is also a cultural and social asset whose value cannot be overestimated. For these reasons the success of Whitworth's development program, which has received the unanimous indorsement of the chamber's educational and executive committee, is of prime concern to the community and to the Chamber of Commerce."

Dr. Sullivan and the board of directors feel that Whitworth has thoroughly established itself as an educational institution, necessary to the community, and that it is ready to enter upon its second phase of development. It is a fully accredited co-educational institution, offering four-year courses in liberal arts and sciences.

Will Increase Enrollment.

Whitworth college, when its development program is accomplished, will be able to double its enrollment—will be able to accommodate more than 500 students and a

NEW SWITCHBOARD BIG IMPROVEMENT

"Office—Just a moment, please and I'll give you outside."

What is the meaning of the foregoing clipped expression?

A new switchboard has been installed at the college and is being operated by Miss Estella Baldwin. There are extensions in Dr. Sullivan's office, Mr. Bailor's office, the main office, McMillan booth, the town women's room, and Miss Jenkins' apartment. This is a decided improvement over the former method of telephoning.

Sr. Carnival Holds Many Attractions

Games of skill and various side shows lured the pleasure seekers to "shell out their money" at the annual Senior Carnival April 12 at the college. Mrs. Hardwick showed her shooting ability and walked away with a dog. The blanket offered as a door prize was won by Zona Norton.

The jar of beans which aroused the curiosity of many as to the exact amount of its contents proved to contain 3,929 beans, by exact count. Howard Kroske was the lucky person in this contest and won a number of tickets by guessing the nearest number.

Nell Blair won enough hand lotion to keep her supplied for some time. All in all, everybody had a "roaring good time."

Preston Swann was in general charge of the affair, assisted by Mel Fariss, president of the senior class. Proceeds from the carnival are to be used to purchase a gift for the college.

BALLARD MEN OPEN ROOMS

The annual Ballard Hall Open Dorm was held on April 2. A program was given in the auditorium before the rooms were opened to the public. Morris Wilson was master of ceremonies, announcing the following program. Two numbers by the Varsity quartet: "Song of Songs" and "The Flea Song"; a reading by Burton Alvis: "Among the Lassies", an accordion solo by Clark Copple, "Twelfth Street Rag"; a reading by Neil Merwin, "Wit"; a number by a trio consisting of Roger Hale, guitar; Clark Copple, accordion, and Morris Wilson, banjo.

The final number of the program was the first and perhaps the last wedding ever to be held in the auditorium. Howard Culp was the blushing bride; Allen Banfield, the palsied groom, Morris Wilson, the dignified father; Burton Alvis, the best man; Bill Williams, the loquacious preacher; Ray Wotring, the ring bearer, Edwin Nasburg and Lowell Poore, the sweet and innocent flower girls, Bob Hood, Neil Merwin, Roger Hale, and Larry McArthur, the simpering bridesmaids who had ideas of their own about such ceremonies. The bride was dressed in an antique white net dress, over which fell the fluttering, hip-length curtain veil. The bridesmaids were summery frocks of pastel shades.

After the wedding, the guests were taken to Ballard hall, where the men proudly displayed their immense and beautiful cake which "Prof" Wilson had made and decorated for the occasion.

The rooms were opened at 9:30, and the guests wandered at will, enjoying themselves eating candy and passing judgment on the men's qualifications as housekeepers until 11 o'clock, when Ballard hall closed its doors to women for another year.

Whitworth Honors Dads and Mothers

Friday, April 5, Whitworth college, under the auspices of the social activities committee, held open house for the fathers, mothers, and friends of the students. The program, which consisted entirely of numbers sung by the varsity male quartet was held in the auditorium. Joen Schrap, who acted as mistress of ceremonies, introduced Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, who gave his greeting and spoke concerning Whitworth's standards and future developments.

After the program the visitors were conducted through the buildings, where they were given an opportunity to meet the faculty and see the displays of the different department. Alpha Beta, the Whitworth home economics club, presented a style show and served refreshments in the library.

Those on the general committee were: Joen Schrap, chairman; Eleanor Henderson, Scott Chatterton, Osmer Jenson, and Hedley Vicker.

Those serving on the Alpha Beta committee were: Audrey Simmons, president; Elizabeth Baumgartner, Frances Johnson, June Seaberg, Tena Lathrop, Jane Smith, Dorothy Monk, Grace Sutton, Gladys Halstead, Evelyn Morgan, Gyneth Chapman, and Eileen Hastings.

STANNARD LAUDS BASKETBALL SQUAD

Coach Gerald Stannard made the following statement concerning the fine basketball squad we had this year:

"The success of our basketball team was due to the splendid coordination of the members of the squad and the student body.

"The men of the squad worked hard and loyally and with the determination to win.

"The highlights of our season were wins over Lewiston Normal at Lewiston 33-34, and over Yakima Junior college here 34-38. In both of these games the team showed their mettle by coming from behind in the closing minutes to win.

"It takes courage, vitality, and team spirit to win ball games in that manner, and our team had them on those occasions.

"I'm proud to have worked with such a loyal group, and am sure that the past season, which was so successful, is but the beginning of a new era in the development of better teams in our college."

Drama Club Gives Series of Plays

Recently the Whitworth Players have been very active; within the last month they have presented four one-act plays. On Friday evening, March 22 they presented "The Wedding," by John A. Kirkpatrick, in the college library. On Friday evening, March 29, in the auditorium; they presented "The Drums of Oude," by Austin Strong, and "Grandma Pulls the Strings," by Edith Barnard Delane and David Corb. They presented "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, in the auditorium during the chapel period on Friday morning, April 5.

Miss Vera Paul, head of the speech and dramatics department of the college and faculty adviser of the Whitworth Players, was the chief director of these plays; she was assisted by student directors.

"The Wedding" tells of the unpleasant complications which may arise from very trivial mishaps and which may prevent a wedding from taking place. The Whitworth Players adopted a new form of staging for this play; they laid the scene, which was the country home of the bride's father, in the center of the college library, and seated the audience around the area. This form of staging is being used by the Penthouse Players of the University of Washington at Seattle.

Audrey Simmons was the student director of this play. The cast of characters was as follows:

Bob, the bridegroom David Trunkey
Archie, the best man Robert Dumas
Ted, a friend of the bridegroom
..... Harold Luck
Alice, the bride Eleanor Henderson
Aunt Julia, the bride's aunt
..... Genevieve Wilson
Mr. Grayson, Alice's father
..... Morris Wilson

Bob's mother Edabelle Hall
Helen Wilson, violinist, played incidental music: "O Promise Me," and the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin."

"The Drums of Oude" vividly portrays the terrors into which the atmosphere of India can betray the imagination. A notable feature of this play was the beat of the drum, which one could hear throughout the performance. The scene was the interior of a palace in northern India occupied by British troops.

Florence Moore was the student director of this play. The following is the cast of characters:

Captain Hector McGregor Fred Winkler
Lieutenant Alan Hartley Larry McDonald
Sergeant McDougal .. Murdock Hale
Stewart, the sentry .. Howard Culp
Two Hindustani servants Charles Frazier, Allen Bandfield
Mrs. Jack Clayton, Hartley's sister Elizabeth Northrop
The drum rhythm was played by William Reel.

"Grandma Pulls the Strings" tells of the various methods of Hildegard and of Grandma Blessington in trying to bring about the engagement of Julia Cummings and William Thornton. The method of William's proposal satisfied both Hildegard and Grandma Blessington. The scene is the Cummings' living room on a winter evening.

The student directors were Harold Luck and Aimee Russell. The cast of characters was as follows:

Hildegard Janet Jackson
Nona Helen Wilson
Mrs. Cummings Evelyn Morgan
Julia Cummings .. Pauline McCallum
Grandma Blessington .. Marie Summers

William Thornton Glenn Barnes
"Thursday Evening" tells of a quarrel between a man and his wife and of the method of their mothers in reconciling them. The scene is the kitchen of the Johns' home any Thursday evening. Fred Winkler was the student director. This is the cast of characters:

Gordon Johns Robert McCreary
Laura Johns Dorothy Monk
Mrs. Johns, his mother Olive Clarke
Mrs. Sheffield, her mother Ann Pillers

The Whitworth orchestra, under the direction of Gardner Morgan, and Genevieve Wilson, pianist, furnished the music during the intervals at the two one-act plays on March 29. The acting and the staging of all of these plays were very commendable for effectiveness and vivid reality.

Building Program

responding faculty. The enrollment can be cared for at an increased cost of only 25 per cent per capita. Whitworth possesses grounds of 200 acres; a campus of 40 acres, of which five are in grass; Ballard and McMillan halls; a gymnasium; an athletic field; the president's home and two faculty residences; and an endowment fund of $40,000. The operating budget of the college for 1934-35 is $65,000.

Whitworth is the recipient of the McMillan estate of $100,000, which will be forthcoming as soon as its affairs are settled. Last year Whitworth received two other bequests from friends of the college: $10,000 from a Pittsburgh donor and another gift of $18,000.

The accomplishment of this development program will bring many benefits:

It will cause a lower unit cost of operation.

It will increase educational opportunities for young men and women of the Inland Empire.

It will more than double the money which Whitworth already puts into circulation in the city.

It will mean the progressive development of Spokane as a cultural center.

It will focus attention upon Spokane as an educational center.

AUXILIARY PLANS BENEFIT BAZAAR

Members of the Whitworth college women's auxiliary are making big plans for their luncheon and bazaar April 23 at the First Presbyterian church. Proceeds will be used for the sinking fund for refrigeration for the college, which the auxiliary started this spring.

Mrs. M. D. MacLeod, chairman of the ways and means committee of the auxiliary, is in general charge of the bazaar. Luncheon will be served from 12 to 1:30, with Mrs. G. W. Petsch and Mrs. Francis T. Hardwick in charge of arrangements. The dining room will be in charge of Mrs. Clyde Allen, and the food in charge of Mrs. F. D. Allison.

The program following the luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. W. Morgan Allen. It will include numbers by the college varsity male quartet, the women's trio, a saxophone duet by Emmett Ross and Mack Hamley, and a faculty skit. The college women's physical education department will also take part in the program. Mrs. Hedrick has charge. The members of the folk dancing class will give several English dances, including a sword dance, a country dance, and a morris dance, as well as several comic dances.

Those who will take part are Elizabeth Baumgartner, Mary Briggs, Sara Clapp, Gyneth Chapman, Eleanor Henderson, Esther Miller, Marian Minnich, Audrey Simmons, and Jane Smith. A badminton demonstration will be given by Christine McDonald, Virginia Larsen, Margaret Clapp, and Dorothy Reed.

On Sunday evening, April 7, the chorus gave a program at the Grace Baptist church: "The Holy City."

One of the outstanding features was the "Angels' Chorus," with solos sung by Lowell Poore and Earleen Schiewe. Other soloists were: Charles Weimer, tenor; Paul Grömeier, tenor; Bertha Davie, contralto; Emmett Ross, barytone; Marguerite Moseley, mezzo-soprano; and Margaret Robbins, soprano.

DR. ROSE TRAVELS IN CALIFORNIA

Dr. Frances E. Rose, Spokane physician, who is in charge of the women's personal hygiene class at Whitworth, returned last month from a visit of four weeks in California. She spent some time with her daughter, who lives at Vallejo, California, and she also made a trip to Honolulu.

At a number of meetings during her trip, Dr. Rose contacted the medical women of Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Portland, Oregon.

An Interview With Our May Queen

"Number, please."

"Lakeview 0996."

"Thank you." (pause)

"Hello, is Miss Helen there?"

(pause)

"Hello, Miss Helen, this a reporter from the Whitworthian. It is such an honor to be chosen Whitworth May Queen that we should like for you to tell us some things about yourself. Where were you born?"

"In Spokane."

"How old are you?"

"Oh, gracious! Twenty-five."

(pause) No, really I am twenty-one."

"How long have you studied at Whitworth?"

"All my life—all my college life. This is my fourth year."

"What offices have you held in the college?"

"Oh, I haven't—let me see—oh, yes, I'm secretary of the W. A. A. and secretary of the senior class."

"Are you interested in dramatics?"

"Yes, to a certain extent."

"What college productions have you played in this year?"

"In just the one the other night: 'Grandma Pulls the Strings.'"

"Does music interest you, and do you play any instrument?"

"I enjoy music immensely. I play the violin."

"What programs have you participated in this year?"

"Oh, I've played a solo once in a while. I've played on several of the women's quartet trips. Oh, and the Trio: we played at the Homecoming banquet and lots of other places—but is that really important?"

"What college clubs do you belong to?"

"I'm an honorary member of the Pirettes now! And I belong to the W. A. A., and the Art club, and also the Whitworth Players. Oh, yes, and the Alpha Beta club. My word, I didn't know I did belong to so many!"

"How were you chosen May Queen?"

"By the vote of the student body, I guess."

"In what way were you notified of your election?"

"Oh, everybody started congratulating me and so I decided that I must be May Queen."

"What was your reaction when you found out that you were elected?"

"Why, I was surprised! It was a very pleasant feeling—you know—I was what you might call—thrilled." (pause) Yes, I was very much thrilled."

"What do you think of Whitworth?"

"Oh, I think it's a grand college."

"Well, Helen, Whitworth thinks that you are a grand girl and we are proud to have you as our May Queen for 1935."

BARNSTORM

Some critics don't like the name of this column. A more appropriate heading, they think, would be "Brainstorm."

Othrs says that there is more in the column that they dislike than the name; but we have no sympathy for people like that. After all, we get a grade for writing the thing, and there is absolutely no reason for anyone's reading it if he doesn't want to.

An apt one-word description (used by all the girls) of Dave Trunkey's acting in "The Wedding"; "CUTE."

Yogi Mel Fariss, the self-styled "Presbyterian Mistake," is rapidly becoming one of Whitworth's most talked-about young men. Mel promises to rival the prominence of his protege, Dwight Goodwin.

Don Colpitts, his green-hat days behind him, is looking for a "best girl" (and maybe an understudy). Only blondes, brunettes, or red-heads weighing between 100 and 200 pounds need apply. Being a Lewis and Clark graduate, Don is particular.

Phil Walborn is said to have a new interest in life, but we're afraid to publish her name. Phil being Phil, the news will probably be out of date before it is published.

There is no truth to the rumor that Dean Hardwick is making the "W" club take up dramatics. No, the Dean merely told some of the more prominent members that they must learn how to act around college.

Wouldn't it be delightful if the copy reader would let us print the names of the two lads who donated 75 cents for Eleanor Henderson's campaign posters? And the name of the fellow who still owes 40 cents? All we can say is that one of the men was quite the "center" of interest during the football season, and that the teammates of the other thought him a very "inspirational" player.

Ray Cramer is generally regarded by the faculty as the most promising young man in college. They say that he will always promise to get his lessons in on time, BUT . . .

Emmett Reed gets our vote for the freshest remark of the week when we saw him loafing in the hall the other day.

YOURS TRULY: "Emmett, you waste more time than I do."

EMMETT: "Oh, no I don't. I don't have that much time."

Someone must resent Snedden's sudden popularity as president of the Anti-slang club; who was it that nominated Scott Chatterton for president of the Anti-anti-slang club?

This column is even more uninteresting than usual because our new motto is: "SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL, SPEAK NO EVIL." And with that as a standard, what is there to write?

Women's Quartet Has Many Engagements

The Misses Elise Aldrich, Dorothy Clifford, Anne Kamm, and Earleen Schiewe, composing the women's varsity quartet, accompanied by Genevieve Wilson, have been very active lately. Following are listed a few of their appearances:

February 27: Loyalty Chapter of the Eastern Star; March 3: Central Methodist League; March 4: Self-Development Club; March 4: W. A. A. Tea for new women; March 4: White Rose Chapter of the Eastern Star; March 17: Professional Women's Tea; March 20: Manito Masonic Temple—Eastern Star; March 25: Masons; March 29: Woodmon Lodge; and March 29: Bethel Church.

Pirettes Make Plans For Spring Tea

The Pirette club held a popcorn ball sale in the McMillan hall booth Tuesday, April 2. The club is now planning a party for Saturday, April 13.

Plans are also being made for the spring tea. It is to be a formal affair, to which all the alumnae of the club will be invited. Those on the committees for the tea are as follows: Publicity, Eleanor Henderson and Elise Aldrich; decorations, Margaret Close and Earleen Schiewe; refreshments, Ann Pillors and Jo Schrap; program, Mary Baker, Pauline McCallum, and Dorothy Cramer.

Variety Program Given by Art Club

A fine program was presented Saturday evening, March 23, under the sponsorship of the Whitworth Art club, with the following artists from Spokane taking part: Miss Marjorie Eleanor Clark, whistler; Miss Ruth Sampson, vocalist; and Miss Marie Sweeney, dramatic reader. Eleanor Henderson, president, and Clark Copple, program chairman, had charge of arrangements.

The program was as follows: "The Star" (Rogers), "The Japanese Maiden" (Gaynor), "In the Luxembourg Gardens" (Manning), "Summer" (Chaminade), by Miss Clark with Mrs. Ila Smith Blake as accompanist.

Miss Sampson's numbers included: "Songs My Mother Taught Me" (Lvorak), "Fogels Visa" (Swedish folk song), "Eli, Eli" (Traditional Jewish song arranged by Schindler), "When You Are in My Heart" (Lawson), "The Fisher's Widow" (Clara Edwards), and "Take Joy Home" (Bassett). Mrs. Laura B. Luke was her accompanist.

Dramatic readings were given by Miss Sweeney as follows: "The Fawn," "Inland," "The Departure," and "Wraith," by Edna St. Vincent Millay; and "Who's Afraid?" and "The Alphabet's Vacation."

FORENSIC TEAM HAS BUSY SEASON

This year's debate season has been busy so far. Recently Keith Murray and Graham Potter went to Tacoma and Nell Blair, Mel Paris, Graham Potter, and Philip Walborn went to Lewiston for practice debates. Keith Murray and Graham Potter engaged the Intermountain Union team in a practice debate here.

On Friday, April 5, there was a decision debate between the Pacific Lutheran and the Whitworth college teams. The speakers representing Whitworth were Nell Blair and Philip Walborn.

Before the season is over, debates will be held with Washington State college and the University of Idaho.

On May 1 there will be a decision debate between Keith Murray and Graham Potter, representing the upperclassmen, and Nell Blair and Philip Walborn, representing the freshmen and sophomores of Whitworth.

Dr. Bowersox is the debate coach, and Graham Potter is the manager. The debate question is: Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions.

The Rev. G. B. Baldwin spoke March 12 and March 19 on attitudes, motives and ideals of Christian young people

Easter Service By Volunteer Fellowship

At 8:30 on Tuesday evening, April 16, in the college auditorium, the Volunteer Fellowship conducted an Easter service. The feature was the presentation of the earliest English Easter mystery play, "Whom Seekest Ye" ("Quem Queritis trope.") Members of the Volunteer Fellowship took the roles in this play, which Miss Vera Paul directed; and the music was by the Whitworth chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins, and the string quartet, under the direction of Prof. Gardner Morgan.

The Easter play was the earliest form of religious drama generally adopted by the Christian church. It began in the Middle Ages as a wordless sequence added to the Easter liturgy. Later, Latin words were added, and the play was presented before the high altar on Easter morning. The scene of "Whom Seekest Ye" is the tomb of Jesus in the garden of Joseph of Arimathea, and the time is the first Easter.

Mary, the mother of Jesus
..... Marjorie Harrison
Young man (or angel)
..... Virginia Larson
Salome Mary Baker
Mary Magdalene..... Lorraine Rasco
Peter Burton Alvis
John Robert Reese
James, son of Zebedee
..... Harold Penhalurick
Thomas Lowell Poore

This presentation of Louise Henry de Wolfe's adaptation of "Quem Queritis trope" the Volunteer Fellowship will repeat during the chapel period on Thursday morning, April 18.

ALPHA BETA PLANS SOCIAL EVENTS

Alpha Beta, home economics club, has planned a number of coming events. The first will be a bacon bat, on April 28. Those on the committee to arrange for food are Hazel Barnes, Marjorie Harrison, and Helen Wilson. Gladys Halstead and Evelyn Morgan have charge of transportation arrangements.

May 4 is the date set for the annual club banquet, which is the culmination of the year's activities. This is to be a formal affair, at which time a gift will be presented to the college. The club is considering the presentation of a style show to raise money for the banquet.

The group enjoyed a fireside and initiation party at the home of Helen Wilson March 30. The initiates were Hazel Barnes, Eileen Hastings, Edna Allen, and Grace Jacobs. Those on the committee for this affair were Grace Sutton, Dorothy Monk, Marjorie Harrison, Katherine Crosby, June Seaberg, and Frances Johnson. Fifteen women were present.

DOUBLE QUARTET TOUR MADE

Ford L. Bailor, director of Whitworth promotional activities, arranged a double quartet tour to the Okanogan Valley and Central Washington for April 12 to 19.

The members of the men's quartet who made the trip were: Mark Koehler, first tenor; Loren Hatcher, second tenor; Keith Murray, first bass. Philip Walborn accompanied the quartet. The women's quartet is made up of Earleen Schiewe, first soprano; Anne Kamm, second soprano; Elise Aldrich, first alto; and Dorothy Clifford, second alto. Genevieve Wilson accompanied them. Miss Marion R. Jenkins, dean of women, also made the trip.

The repertoire of the quartets includes sacred numbers, spirituals, modern numbers, and a group of twilight selections. The quartets gave double concerts as well as separate ones.

Both of these quartets are very popular with civic, religious, and social groups in eastern Washington. The men's quartet recently enjoyed the hospitality and praise of cities on the Pacific coast on a three-week trip. The present tour is the first experience of the kind for the women's quartet.

The itinerary for the quartets is as follows: April 12, Republic; April 13, Curlew; April 14 and 15, Omak and Okanogan; April 16, Twisp; April 17 and 18, Wenatchee; and April 19, Sunnyside.

Tau Sigma Plans Reorganization

Tau Sigma, Whitworth science club, has made definite plans for reorganization. Preston Swann is the newly elected president. The requirement for membership is at least one year of mathematics, physics, chemistry, or biology.

The old constitution is being revised, and plans are being formulated for programs which will include moving pictures and talks of special interest to students of science. Meetings will be held monthly.

Dr. Hedrick, Dr. Wegner, and Mr. Neustel are the faculty advisers.

"IN THE SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY—"

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter."

If you don't believe spring is here, just take a peep around the campus and see how many couples you can count strolling aimlessly about. It's a sure sign. Blue skies, sunshine, and balmy breezes all go to help the cause along. Another sign is the preparation for baseball. The men are practicing every night. It's too bad, girls, that they have to waste so much time in that way. It is lovely weather for hiking; but, oh well, wait till your man of the hour is a baseball hero!

So far there hasn't been much evidence of spring fever. Maybe it's too early for that. Anyway, it's a good idea to have mid-semester tests over first.

Practices are well under way for the opera, "Pinafore," which is to be given by the music department on the evening of May day.

Extension Department Makes Many Trips

More than sixty students are participating in the extension department work under the direction of the Rev. G. B. Baldwin. Every week-end teams from the college discuss problems of Christian youth with young people in Inland Empire towns.

The Rev. Mr. Baldwin recently has taken students to conduct meetings in Tokoa, Marcus, Newport, Oakesdale, Greenacres, and Sprague.

Faculty Members College Guests

Members of the faculty were guests at a hard-time party given Monday evening, April 1. Mrs. F. T. Hardwick was in charge of the affair, and President and Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan were host and hostess for the evening.

The guests, each of whom dressed appropriately for the occasion and carried a tin plate and spoon, gathered at 6:45 in Prof. H. L. Husong's room, where they were interviewed by a representative of Settlement House. The purpose of the interview was to determine which of the guests were eligible to receive help. To each who was worthy, the representative gave a fool's cap on which was printed his name for the evening. The fool's cap also served as an admittance slip to the dining room.

Tablecloths for the long dining table were of newspapers, and place cards were made of wrapping paper. The room was lighted by oil lanterns and by candles in tin cans.

First, each guest was served with a cracker, a marshmallow, a toothpick, and a glass of water. Following this course, a chicken dinner was served. At the close of the dinner the guests retired to the reception room, where April Fool's games and stunts were held. About forty persons attended the party.

W. A. A. APRIL FROLIC PLANNED FOR APRIL 26

The W. A. A. will hold their April Frolic this year on April 26. The women (half of them dressed as men) leave the college late in the afternoon and go down to the Little Spokane to cook their dinner on the rocks. The meal usually consists of wieners and buns, salad, pickles, cookies, and coffee.

After dinner, the women come back to the college auditorium, where they have a general good time during the evening.

C. E. NEWS

Robert Reese, president of the Campus Christian Endeavor, was operated on for appendicitis at the Deaconess hospital on March 27. He made rapid recovery and has returned to college.

Miss Luella Dyer, field secretary for the Washington Christian Endeavorers, with Miss Julia Adams, former president of the Spokane district, visited the Campus C. E. on March 10.

The Pre-ministerial group has planned a retreat at Franklin park in Spokane on Sunday afternoon, April 28. A picnic lunch will be featured.

BASBALL SEASON OPENED APRIL 1

The baseball season opened in full swing, Monday, April 1, when fifteen baseball enthusiasts turned out.

The lettermen reporting this year are Chatterton, first baseman; Kjoske, second baseman; and Allison, third baseman. Farris, a pitcher, and Pancher, an outfielder, from the 1933 team, are turning out.

Fackenthal, Seifert and Cramer, reserves from last year's team are also reporting.

The new men who are turning out are Nasburg, Sommer, and Reed, who were high-school lettermen. The others are Gay, Vicker, Stowell, Shadden, Jensen, Dunn, Williams, and Miller.

"W" Club Initiates Jensen and Reed

Emmett Reed and "Osie" Jensen certainly enjoyed themselves last week, for they alone were the ones to participate in the life of "W" club initiates. Since there were but two of them, they of course could receive more personal attention than is common.

Several times we noticed them bending low while the paddle descended, stroke after stroke. We also noticed that as style leaders, they might be classed as the last word in fashion. Along with the advanced styles, we found the customary eggs, shoe polish, walnuts, and the like.

Later, we saw Emmett and Osmer enjoying the "finest" refreshments at the home of Bob Allison. As incentive to appetites, there were the usual hay ride and the ensuing hike back to civilization.

On Friday we all looked at the two boys knowingly, and innocently asked, "Well, boys, how do you feel this morning?"

FROSH NO LONGER FEAR "W" CLUB RULE

Those queer sounds that were heard at the beginning of last week were sighs of relief issuing from the throats of the new freshman men. Now that the first nine weeks are over, these men have been given a new lease on life, in other words, the tyrannical reign of the "W" club is over.

Up until now the close association between the "W" club members and the frosh has meant nothing to the new men but bad dreams. Now the little green telltale caps have been discarded for ever and ever, and the freshmen are allowed to use the front door of the chapel with the upperclassmen.

The frosh have been "warmed" for the last time and they are all set to enjoy college life to the fullest extent. They are free to stroll through the college halls or to wander over the campus with any fair co-ed without fear of coming into too close contact with the lusty whack of the paddle. The frosh are now active members of the student body and are eligible to enjoy all the rights and privileges of true Whitworthians.

Stowell says that he could hit a baseball if Chatterton would throw it closer to the bat.

Surts From Sports Hoop Season Ends

We want to congratulate "Mike" Koehler and "Bob" Allison for their fine basketball playing this season. We want them to know that we, as well as the team, appreciate their efforts.

The gym classes, directed by Coach Stannard, have been playing volley ball. There should be some good competition if interclass games are held.

The date for the track and field day has not been set; but we have seen some of the fellows doing a bit of cross-country running, getting in condition for the main event of the day, which is to be a cross-country run of about three miles.

"We Willie" Williams didn't know his own strength the other night in practice. He had to break the first bat of the season.

From the baseball uniform "Scotty" Chatterton is wearing, it looks as if he has already received a good offer.

BANQUET HONORS BASKETBALL MEN

On Thursday, March 28, a banquet was held at the Westminster apartments in honor of the members and the coaches of the Whitworth basketball team.

Invocation Paul Koper
Introduction Boo Miller
Toastmaster Mr. Ford Bailor
Piano solo Philip Walborn
"Co-ordination" Dr. Hardwick
Saxophone duet

Maek Hamley and Emmett Ross accompanied by Paul Gronemeier
"A Goal" Dan Fleming
"A Tight Place"

Harold Penhalurick

Varsity Quartet

Awards and rewards. Coach Stannard. Bob Allison was voted honorary captain by the squad, and Mark Koehler was given the Inspirational Medal from the Pirette club.

Dr. Hardwick Speaks For Soroptimists

At the regular luncheon meeting of the Spokane Soroptimist club held Friday, March 29, at the Desert hotel Dean F. T. Hardwick spoke on "Individual Differences." Dean Marion R. Jenkins, who is chairman of the Educational committee of the club, presided during the meeting.

The organization, which is a women's service club, holds weekly meetings, one meeting a month being under the direction of the Educational committee.

During the luncheon Professor Williston played three piano solos: "Polichinello," "Chopin's 'Valse in A Flat,'" and Brahms' "Valse."

Penhalurick led in the individual scoring with a total of 164 points to his credit. He was followed by Williams with 147 points, and Koehler with 141 points.

In the final game averages, Koehler averaged 9.4, his being the highest average. Penhalurick ranked second with an average of 7.8, and Williams took third honors with a 7.35 average.

Name	Points	No of games played
Koehler	141	16
Penhalurick	164	21
Williams	147	20
Allison	103	18
Reed	34	12
Dunn	25	18
Fleming	18	19
Vicker	6	4
Jenson	4	15
Hale	2	6
Luenow	2	10
Total	646
Whitworth opponents	624

Tennis Men Turn Out Soon

Unfavorable weather conditions have prevented the tennis men from getting out, and limbering up. The first tennis turnout, however, will probably come in the near future.

There will be only three lettermen back from last year's team, but there should be some tennis players among the new members of the student body.

Form Anti-slang Club

Have you the slang habit? Do you wish to rid yourself of it? If so, join the Whitworth Anti-slang club. Many members of this organization have already been fined for lack of respect for the King's English, the proceeds go to benefit the art department.

Oliver Wendell Holmes once said in this connection, "Slang expressions come to be the algebraic symbols of minds which have grown too weak or indolent to discriminate. They are the blank checks of intellectual bankruptcy;—you may fill them in with whatever idea you like, it makes no difference, for there are no funds in the treasury upon which they are drawn. Don't think I undervalue the proper use of a cant word or phrase. It adds piquancy to conversation, as a mushroom does to a sauce, but it is no better than a toadstool, odious to the sense and poisonous to the intellect, when it spawns itself all over the talk of men and youths capable of intelligent expression."

Executive Board Retires After Successful Year

The six retiring members of the Whitworth executive board leave behind a record of loyal and efficient service, a record which will set a high standard of attainment for their successors to follow. Those whose terms of office expire this year are: Keith Murray, Paul Koper, Murdock Hale, Graham Potter, Jo Schrap, and Ann Pillers. Four of these are seniors who have done all their college work at Whitworth.

Keith Murray, a senior from Wenatchee, has been president of the Associated Students for the past year. He is prominent in debate activities, and is a member of the varsity men's quartet.

Paul Koper, a senior from Tacoma, has been vice-president of the Associated Students and president of the upperclass men's association. Besides being a three-letter man in football and honorary captain of this year's team, Mr. Koper is a member of the varsity quartet.

Murdock Hale, a senior from Chehalis, has been secretary of the Associated Students. He is chairman of the traditions committee and is a letterman in football and basketball.

Graham Potter, a senior from Spokane, has been the senior representative on the promotional committee. He is a member of the debate team and has been debate manager for the past year.

Jo Schrap, a sophomore from Greenacres, is a member of the Pirette club and has been chairman of the social activities committee. In this capacity, Miss Schrap had charge of the arrangements for the home-coming celebration, the colonial party, the Christmas program, and all other Whitworth social events.

Ann Pillers, a sophomore from Prosser, has been chairman of the promotion committee, which is responsible for all advertising and sale of tickets. She is also a member of the Pirette club, and is president of Sefelo, the women's organization of McMillan hall.

During their terms of office, these six Whitworthians have earned a reputation for working harmoniously with their fellow board members and with the faculty, and for having in mind at all times the best interests of the student body as a whole.

Religious Week Held Dr. Stoute, Speaker

The Volunteer Fellowship sponsored the annual Religious Week the last week in February. Dr. Maurice Stoute of Wenatchee was the speaker of the week.

Baby pictures came pouring in to Whitworth on March 1 for the Volunteer Fellowship party. Mary Baker, Dorothy Keed, and Pauline McCallum composed the committee in charge. Guests enjoyed guessing "Who's Who."

Plans are being made for the annual Volunteer Fellowship picnic to be held May 10 at Loon lake.

INTERESTING SPEAKERS GUESTS IN CHAPEL

Dr. E. W. Petticoard, of the Evangelical church at Salem, Oregon, spoke March 16; and Mr. Jones, of Intermountain Union college, spoke and sang March 25.

On April 1 and 3, the Rev. Alexander Hood told of his work with the Indians of North Park, Colorado.

"W" Club Active in College Affairs

A summary of the "W" club activities for the past quarter shows that Whitworth may well be proud of this organization. Following is a record of some of its activities:

The club sponsored a pay convocation for the purpose of raising money with which to buy medals for the winners of the Snider Memorial cup. The club, with the assistance of the Pirettes, arranged for and financed the Green Derby.

The basketball game between the "Faculty" and the "Invincibles" was planned for the purpose of raising money for the basketball banquet. Both the game and the banquet were successful.

The big project being worked out at present is that of improving the football field. The proceeds from the Green Derby were put into the fund for this project. At present there is about $75 in the fund, according to Scott Chatterton.

As another interest, the club is planning its annual spring picnic. The club election will be held soon.

JUNIORS HONOR SENIORS WITH ANNUAL BANQUET

The seniors were guests of honor of the junior class at a banquet given April 22 at the Westminster hotel at 7:30 p. m. The appointments were in yellow and white. A three-course dinner was served in excellent style.

At the conclusion of the banquet there was a program, of which Harold Penhalurick was toastmaster. Marguerite Moseley sang a solo, and Genevieve Wilson gave two readings. President Sullivan gave an address, urging the students to take their tasks seriously, for the present generation is passing on difficult problems to the next generations.

Melvin Fariss, president of the senior class, made a short talk, in which he said, "To make a better Whitworth, the students must cooperate." He made it plain that it is up to the students being graduated to make a name for themselves and show what Whitworth students are capable of, and that it is the duty of the seniors of next year to be leaders of the college in 1935-36. This is the only way to the ideal Whitworth of the future.

Present Novel Folk Dance

Members of the folk dancing class will have an important part in the May day ceremonies Friday afternoon, May 17. They will present a sword dance as shown in the picture above, a morris dance, and several country dances of England of the fifteenth century. They will be dressed in costumes of the time of Robin Hood for the English folk dances. This group also presented several dances at the recent luncheon and bazaar of the Whitworth college women's auxiliary. In the picture, left to right, are: Audrey Simmons, Marian Minnich, Eleanor Henderson, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Jane Smith, Mary Briggs, Sara Clapp and Esther Miller.

First Investiture For Senior Class

First Investiture for the senior class was held Friday morning, May 10, at the regular chapel hour. Members of the class attended in caps and gowns. The speaker for the morning was Dr. George H. Sepfield, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Walla Walla.

Dr. William S. Middlemass, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Vancouver, will be the speaker for second investiture, which will be held Friday afternoon, May 17, immediately preceding the annual college May Festival Arrangements have not yet been completed for the third investiture to be held Friday morning, May 24.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class are scheduled for 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, May 26; and Commencement exercises will be held at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, May 29.

GUSTAFSON TOPS HONOR ROLL

Seniors Average 13.8 Points

First place on the honor roll for this quarter was achieved by Paul Gustafson with 16 hours and 42 grade points. Waceo Wooster placed second with 14 hours and 41 grade points. Christine McDonald and Dorothy Reed tied for third place with 16 hours and 39 grade points. Others on the honor roll in order are: Hazel Barnes, Eleanor Henderson, Helen Jean Merchant, Harold Barnes, Burton Alvis, Harold Penhalurick, Ann Pillers, Lowell Poore, Newton Brunton, Genevieve Glenn, Lorraine Rasco, and Lucile Nutting. Class averages are as follows: seniors, 13.8; sophomores, 13.1; freshmen, 12.8; juniors, 11.1.

"Whom Seek Ye?" Most Effective

One of the simplest, yet most beautiful productions of the dramatics department this year was the interpretation of the old miracle play "Whom Seek Ye?" which was given three different times during the Easter season.

Members of the Volunteer Fellowship took the parts. Mary Magdalene was played by Lorraine Rasco; Salome, Mary Baker, Mary, the mother, Marjorie Harrison; the angel, Virginia Larsen; John, Bob Reese; Peter, Burton Alvis; Thomas, Lowell Poore; James, Harold Penhalurick. Miss Vera A. Paul, head of the speech and dramatics department, directed the presentation, assisted by Tena Lathrop and the class in play production.

One of the strongest features of the play was the unusual lighting, which was arranged by Bob Hood. Through an archway at the back of the stage, the rising sun could be seen "gilding yonder mount"; and the golden radiance in the tomb, which grew brighter and then faded away, added much to the general effect. The stage proper was kept rather dark, with the exception of the one bright spotlight signifying the presence of the Christ.

The scenery was prepared by members of the play production class, under the direction of Miss Paul. The set was quite simple, the main features being the steps and lighted archway on one side and the tomb and palm trees opposite. The costumes were designed by members of the class, with definite color schemes carried out.

The reverent spirit in which the players took their parts and in which the chorus sang helped to create the atmosphere necessary for the successful production of such a play. Solos were sung by Marguerite Moseley and Margaret Robbins.

Schedule Two Five-Week Terms

Terms To Begin June 17 and July 22.

Plans for the Whitworth college summer session have just been announced, by President Ward W. Sullivan. Two five-week terms are scheduled, the first term to begin June 17 and to end July 19, and the second to begin July 22 and to close August 24. A full semester's course may be completed in one term. A student may carry five hours in one term. By intensive study, he is able to accomplish the required work in the given time.

Officers of administration are: Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president; Dr. Francis T. Hardwick, dean of the college and director of the summer session; Miss Marion R. Jenkins, dean of women; Mr. Ford J. Bailor, registrar; Miss Eva Maus, financial secretary; and Miss Jeannette E. Foster, office secretary.

Offer Many Courses

Courses offered are as follows: Chemistry—General Chemistry (5 hours); Advanced Qualitative Analysis (5 hours); Quantitative Analysis (5 hours); and Organic Chemistry (4 hours).

Education—Educational Psychology (3 hours); Tests and Measurements (2 hours); Child Study and Adolescence (3 hours); Educational Sociology (3 hours).

English—Survey of American Literature* (3 hours); Survey of English Literature* (3 hours); English Composition (3 hours); Survey of Shakespeare (3 hours).

Sociology—Introduction to Sociology (5 hours); Social Dependence (Social Pathology) (3 hours); Social Psychology (Group Behavior) (3 hours).

*One of the foregoing courses will be given according to the demand.

Other courses may be added according to the requests for such and the number of students wishing them.

HEDRICK WRITES SCIENCE PAPERS

Dr. Hedrick is planning to attend the summer session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Minneapolis. He will present two papers, the first on special methods in microtechnique, and the second on spiroxys. Paul Gustafson is helping to prepare this material. The paper on microtechnique is to be published this summer.

Work on the herbarium for the biology department is progressing rapidly. It will include many specimens from the Grand Coulee, Moses Lake, and coastal regions of Washington.

A sunrise service was held in the Social Hall Easter morning at 6:30.

Annual May Day Festivities Planned

Helen Wilson Queen

The annual May Day festivities of Whitworth college will be held on Friday, May 17, under the direction of a joint faculty and student-body committee.

The members of the faculty committee are: Dean Marion R. Jenkins, chairman; Mrs. Oipha Helm Hedrick; Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins; and Miss Vera Alice Paul. Miss Paul has charge of the processional march and the Maypole dance; Mrs. Hedrick's folk-dancing class will present four dances during the program; and there will be selections by the chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Hopkins.

Charles Frazier Chairman

Charles Frazier, general chairman of the student body committee, has appointed Christine McDonald, Earleen Schiewe, and Ann Pillers chairmen of those committees under him. The publicity is in charge of Hazel Barnes and Edabelle Hall.

Plans are being made for an unusual May Day celebration. First, the Investiture Service will be held outdoors beginning at 1:15, and following this will be the festival proper. The May Queen is Helen Wilson, of Spokane. Her attendants are: Earleen Schiewe, Portland; Marguerite Moseley, Vancouver; Dorothy Cramer, Spokane; and Genevieve Wilson, Spokane.

The program will begin with the processional. After the formal opening of her court, Queen Helen the First will be crowned; and then entertainment will be presented for her pleasure by her subjects. The program will consist of folk dancing, tumbling acts, selections by the chorus, numbers by the band and the orchestra, and lastly, the winding of the Maypole.

LET US KEEP THE CAMPUS NEAT!

At this particular time of year when the natural beauty of the Whitworth campus is displayed to greatest advantage, it seems a shame to have the landscape defaced by papers and fruit peelings scattered by careless lunchers. The number of conveniently located garbage containers makes it unnecessary for anyone to go to much trouble to avoid this defacement, and it does make a tremendous difference in the appearance of our grounds.

Visitors seeing the college for the first time always notice such characteristics as neatness. LET US KEEP THE CAMPUS TIDY!

COURTESY

Something valuable that everyone may possess, whether he be old or young, rich or poor, influential or insignificant, is good manners. Our true rank in society is based partly on the courtesy we show towards others. We are always under the scrutiny of someone. The role of good manners is, then, of the greatest importance.

Crude manners are often the result of ignorance. We have good manners only when we are considerate of others at all times, under all circumstances. This means, for example, that in classes, in assembly, and elsewhere, when another person is speaking, we should be very quiet, attentive, and respectful. Unselfishness and self-control are fundamental to courtesy.

One formula for good manners is, "Do the kindest thing in the kindest way." At every turn, we have opportunity to practice good manners, which are merely habits of courtesy and kindness.

ACADEMIC WORK VS. ACTIVITIES

With the coming of warm days, outside activities tend to crowd out academic work. Of the college year, only two weeks are left. Is your work up to date? It's a poor plan to leave anything until the last week. Get your work in now so that you won't have to worry at the ninth hour. Save those last few days for fun, instead of having required work hanging about your neck like a millstone. The last weeks will be much happier if you are free.

WHITWORTH STANDS FOR SCHOLARSHIP

It has been proved definitely that Whitworth college has a student body of above-average intelligence. The Army Alpha tests, given last semester to the class in General Psychology, showed exceedingly high ratings. The median for the class was 152; the score of the majority of Americans is between 90 and 100.

The results of these and similar tests show that Whitworth has the possibility of achieving a reputation for the very highest standards of scholarship. It should be our aim to develop scholarly ability to its greatest extent. Knowing that Whitworth already ranks high among colleges and universities, we ought to work even harder than we have in the past to attain the high standard of which we are capable.

DR. ROTT LECTURES ON DISEASES OF EYE

Dr. O. M. Rott, Spokane specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose, and throat, gave a most interesting talk to members of the women's personal hygiene class on Thursday, April 25. He explained the causes of nearsightedness, farsightedness, and other defects of the eye. He also showed in diagram form how the ear is affected by different diseases.

Dr. Rott was accompanied on this trip to the college by Dr. Irene Grieve, who is in charge of the class this semester.

AMONG OUR VISITORS

Helen Wilson Queen of the May

New Course Has Largest Enrollment

A new course offered at Whitworth this semester has the largest enrollment of any course in the whole college. Mrs. Nature is in charge, and all class sessions of "Campus-try" are taught out of doors.

This course of study requires each man and woman to assume responsibility as guards of the "paths of learning." (These paths are well protected: at least four couples can be seen strolling hand in hand over them at any time during the day.)

It is rumored that Dr. Counter-mine will present "diplomas" to some of the young people taking "Campus-try" during the first weeks of June. Is your name—and hers—on his list? Make reservations early!

Campus Day Proves Success

Dan Fleming In Charge

The Whitworth campus was an unusually busy place Friday, May 3, the annual Campus Day.

Chapel service was held at 8:30; duties were assigned; and then after singing "Work for the Night is Coming," all the students set to work. Included in the numerous activities were rolling the far end of the campus, raking and cleaning the grounds outside the campus lawn, cleaning the chemistry and the physics labs, and washing windows. Dan Fleming, president of the Associated Students of Whitworth college, was in general charge, assisted by Charles Frazier and Christine McDonald.

At noon all work was stopped, and everyone was glad to enjoy a fine picnic lunch given by the college. In the afternoon Coach Jerry Stannard had a number of field-day events lined up, including volleyball games, the baseball throw for distance, and the football kick.

MORGAN IN SYMPHONY

STREAMLINED TRUCK EXHIBITED HERE

(We don't guarantee this information to be exact in every detail, but perhaps you may get some idea of what we are trying to describe by consulting a dictionary of automobile terms.)

We heard that the Texaco company was sending out a streamlined tank truck for inspection. Dr. Hardwick stated that classes would not be dismissed but that those who were practicing "campus-try" at the time might view the truck.

The huge vehicle has the general appearance of a large red caterpillar. It is fully streamlined. As the motor is mounted in the rear, the front is gracefully and effectively rounded. The "tail" is nicely tapered to a neat finish. The front compartment is conveniently equipped for the driver and one or two passengers. The forward construction has the advantages of affording exceptionally clear vision, quietness, and freedom from fumes and other conditions which impair driving ability. Ease of driving is further conditioned by the use of air brakes, air-controlled clutch, air-boosted steering, and air-controlled gear-shifting.

The six-cylinder Hercules motor is of the 110-horsepower rear-mounted type. The truck body is built upon a Diamond-T chassis and has an over-all length of about 23 feet, with a wheelbase of 146 inches. The capacity of the gas tank is 1400 gallons. The total weight of the truck is 22,000 pounds. Of particular note is the exceptionally attractive cab, which is unusual in the beauty of its instrument panel, and in its convenience and its comfort-giving qualities.

*Note: We were not, however, practicing "campus-try." We skipped part of a class so that we might see the truck and perhaps get a "scoop."

Dr. Tiffany At Wheaton

Dr. O. E. Tiffany, former dean and acting-president of Whitworth, now head of the department of history at Wheaton college, reports that conditions at Wheaton are excellent in all respects and that seven new teachers will be added next year.

Yes, I've noticed. It is warming up a bit, isn't it!

You mean, "They are, aren't they!"

Whitworthians Married

Miss Faith Helms and Wilson Rasco, former students of Whitworth, were married in the First Presbyterian church in Yakima before a beautiful setting of lilies and white roses on the afternoon of April 21. The bride and groom were accompanied by Lorraine Rasco, bridesmaid; Paul Koper, best man; and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rasco, parents of the groom. A wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents in Sunnyside after the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Rasco are at home at 307 West Sixth Avenue, Spokane.

ALMA LAUDER MARRIED

Miss Alma Lauder, former Whitworth student, was married last December to the Rev. George P. Keeling, pastor of the Community church at Kamiah, Idaho.

The bride is an ordained minister. She attended the University of Idaho after leaving Whitworth.

Mr. Baylor, assisted by other faculty members, is representing Whitworth at the sportsmen's fair, which began May 18. Students will act as attendants at the booth throughout the week.

Change Date of "H. M. S. Pinafore"

Because of a change in the events on the college calendar, the nautical come opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," will be presented on the evening of May 28 in the college auditorium. It had been planned previously that members of the Whitworth Players should give the drama, "Children of the Moon," on May 28; but since there are so many other activities scheduled for the end of the college year, the play has been dispensed with.

The two-act opera, by Gilbert and Sullivan, is being presented by members of the music department, under the direction of Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins.

Freshmen Have Quartet

Seniors Stage Annual Sneak

The seniors sneaked off and left the juniors at 2 a. m. Wednesday, May 1, on the annual sneak day of the class. They eluded the juniors by going to Hauser lake to the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Picton; they did not leave until 10:30 Wednesday evening. The seniors tried to find a suitable place to play indoor baseball, but they could find only an old alfalfa field. Several tried fishing, but the fish were so small that they had to be thrown back into the lake.

The baffled juniors, on the other hand, went to Snyder's resort on Deer lake. There the men found an excellent place for playing indoor baseball, and the women found an abundance of wild flowers which pleased them. Several of the girls went swimming, but the rest thought the water a bit too chilly. Both classes boasted about an abundance of food; each class came home thinking that it had had more fun than the other.

NEW MAJOR OFFERED IN SCIENCE DEPT.

Beginning next September, the college will offer a new major in the science department. This will be a mathematics-physics combination. General physics, general mathematics, and calculus are required, plus additional credits in mathematics and physics. At present the college does not offer a straight physics major; hence this course is designed for those who are interested in science but do not wish to major in plain mathematics. It is expected to attract a considerable number of students.

New Courses In Economics

The economics department is to be enlarged next year with the addition of several new courses. Prof. Ray A. Weaver, head of the department, has announced that there will be offered courses in accounting, nation's markets, and international commercial relations.

Students and Faculty Entertain At Bazaar

Students and faculty members of Whitworth college presented a fine program for the April luncheon and bazaar of the Whitworth college women's auxiliary, April 23, at the First Presbyterian church. More than 100 persons attended. Proceeds will be used for refrigeration for the college.

A comedy skit, "Prince Charming," was presented by the following faculty members: Mrs. Wegner, Dr. Hedrick, and Mr. Weaver. Mack Hamley and Emmett Ross gave a saxophone duet. The freshman quartet, composed of Burton Alvis, Emmett Ross, Lowell Poore, and Mack Hamley, with Paul Gronomeier as accompanist, gave several numbers. The women's trio, consisting of Elise Aldrich, Anne Kamm, and Earleen Schiewe, with Genevieve Wilson as accompanist, also gave several numbers.

Ballard Offices Very Convenient

During the past month a number of changes have been made on the first floor of Ballard hall. The large room formerly known as the Men's Parlor has been remodeled into two offices. Dean F. T. Hardwick has his private office in the inner room; Miss Estella Baldwin, secretary to the dean, works in the other, which is known as the outer office.

The new switchboard has been installed in the outer office. Students wishing to confer with Dr. Hardwick or Mr. Bailor should call at Miss Baldwin's office and tell her whom they wish to see. Through the switchboard, Miss Baldwin will then inquire of the person designated whether it is convenient for the student to call.

Dr. Hardwick's old office is being used at present by members of the classical language department, under Dr. C. W. Hays. The room immediately adjoining it is being used as office for the Whitworthian and the Natshi staffs.

Whitworth Players Hold Last Meeting

The last regular meeting of the Whitworth Players was held Friday, April 27. Wacele Wooster, Bob Allison, Charles Frazier, and Glenn Barns took the parts in the reading of "Sham," a play by Frank G. Tompkins. Margaret Close read the stage directions.

With Miss Paul as advisor, the club has finished its first year, distinctive for progress and achievement. Great interest in dramatics has been shown, and new talent has been developed.

W. A. A. ENJOY APRIL FROLIC

Friday afternoon, April 26, the W. A. A. and the faculty women assembled for their April Frolic.

They hiked to the bluff overlooking Wandermere, where they ate a picnic supper.

At 8 o'clock that evening a program, arranged by Mary Briggs, was given in the auditorium. Mrs. Hedrick presented the W. A. A. letter awards to Zena Norton and Jean McDonald. Christine McDonald, president, gave Mrs. Hedrick a ring from the W. A. A. in appreciation of her service.

Georgia Patterson played for the dancing (women only) which followed the program. Ice cream was served at 10 o'clock and the party closed.

Trio and Quartet Make Joint Trip

The Whitworth music group consisting of the varsity male quartet, the women's trio, Mr. Ford L. Bailor, Dean Marion R. Jenkins, Philip Walborn, and Genevieve Wilson recently returned from a tour of the Okanogan, Methow, and Wenatchee valleys. Mr. Bailor was in charge of the concerts given by the women's trio and its accompanist, Genevieve Wilson; and Miss Jenkins supervised the concerts given by the men.

Of the sixty-three appearances, the men made thirty-one and the women thirty-two. Concerts were given in both high schools and churches in all of the major towns in these valleys.

Mr. Bailor reports that the reception everywhere was splendid and that a great deal is being gained for Whitworth by these musical presentations.

SEFELO HONORS MOTHERS AT TEA

A lovely tea honoring their mothers and women members of the faculty was given Monday afternoon, May 13, by the members of Sefelo. Decorations were in yellow, green, and lavender. The program included Hawaiian guitar numbers by Katherine Crosby, violin selections by Margaret Clapp, vocal numbers by Earleen Schiewe, and readings by Margaret Close.

Audrey Simmons was in general charge. Hostesses were Eileen Hastings, Dorothy Monk, Jane Carpenter, and Jo Schrap. The committee in charge of preparations included Esther Miller, Nell Blair, Sara Clapp, Marjorie Harrison, Ruth Wejr, Grace Mills, and Katherine Crosby. Members of the cleanup committee were Genevieve Glenn, Lorraine Raseo, Virginia Larson, and Marian Minnich.

DINNER PARTY IN HONOR OF MRS. HARDWICK

Mrs. F. T. Hardwick was honored at a birthday dinner given by the Ballard and the McMillan hall groups on Wednesday evening, April 24. One of the most pleasant of Whitworth traditions is that of celebrating Mrs. Hardwick's birthday.

Tena Lathrop was hostess of the dinner; Keith Murray was toastmaster; Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan and Emmett Ross were guests. The seniors and their partners sat the head table.

The tables were decorated with daffodils in bowls and daffodil place cards. The color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the decorations and the menu.

After the last course, the Sefelo women presented Mrs. Hardwick with a beautiful butterfly corsage of Japanese iris and yellow violas. Morris Wilson, Ballard Dorm manager, presented to her a magazine rack, with the thanks of the Ballard men for her many acts of kindness to them. Paul Koper gave her a mammoth key chain; as he is leaving Whitworth this year, she won't have anyone to hunt for her keys.

Nell Blair gave a reading. Mrs. Hardwick spoke, thanking the men and women for the lovely dinner and the gifts. She reviewed the years that she has spent at Whitworth, told of the growth of the college during these years, and expressed the wish that she might have more time to know each student individually.

The freshman male quartet sang three numbers, and the dinner was closed with the whole group singing "Let me Call You Sweetheart." Tena Lathrop baked the beautiful birthday cake. It had three layers, one each of pink, green, and white; was frosted with daffodil-yellow icing; and was decorated with tiny white candles. Everyone had a piece of it.

Tena Lathrop was the general chairman of the dinner. Marjorie Harrison was chairman of the decorations committee, which consisted of Genevieve Glenn, Virginia Larson, and Jane Carpenter. The serving committee was Margaret Clapp, Dorothy Monk, Eileen Hastings, and Esther Miller.

Volunteer Fellowship Nominates Officers

The Volunteer Fellowship election of officers is coming soon. The nominations are as follows: President: Charles Frazier, Newton Brunton; vice-president: Lucile Nutting, Lorraine Raseo; treasurer: Burton Alvis, Neil Morwin; secretary: Marian Minnich, Mary Briggs.

The nominating committee was Harold Penhalurick, Robert Raseo, Burton Alvis, and Dr. Countermine.

A Volunteer Fellowship team consisting of Raymond Wolring, Dorothy Clifford, and Robert Raseo made a trip to Kettle Falls on May 5, and held meetings there.

Teams Visit Many Towns

Two recreational services in the past month varied the customary work of the extension service department, under the Rev. Mr. Baldwin. Groups gave a planned party at East Greenacres on April 5, and one at Sprague on April 20.

Teams have visited the following towns recently: East Greenacres, April 6; Sprague, April 7; Oakesdale, April 14; Sprague, April 20; Rockford, April 28; Sandpoint, April 29.

SPORTS

SOPHS VICTORIOUS IN FIELD EVENTS

The sophomore class outranked the other classes in the interclass tournament held on Field day, Friday afternoon, May 3.

Relay Close Event

Scott Chatterton took the shot put event with a throw of 44.4 ft. Fackenthal and Dumm took second and third places respectively.

Kroske scored 25 points out of 25 throws in the horseshoe pitching contest for first place. The second honors were divided among Fackenthal, Stowell, and Fariss.

	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	T.P.
	Pl.	Pl.	Pl.
Freshmen	1	1	1	10
Sophomores	2	3	0	20 1-3
Juniors	1	0	2	8 2-3
Seniors	1	0	0	6 2-3

BASEBALL HAS GOOD LINE-UP

Severely handicapped by not having a field of their own this season, the Varsity baseball team has not been able to get in much practice other than the practice games with the city high schools, and a few practices at Franklin field whenever it is not otherwise in use.

The team has played two practice games each with North Central, Lewis and Clark, and Coeur d'Alene High School.

As difficulty has arisen concerning the schedule with other colleges, the team has not been able to take any trips as yet.

Margaret Johnson Wins Automobile

The car is a new Standard De Luxe Ford Tudor Sedan with radio and other accessories.

The Easter Play was presented at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist Sunday night, April 28. It was a very beautiful production and was well received.

Sports From Sports

In the Coeur d'Alene contest, Chatterton made a home run to score the only run of the game. We have been wondering whether "Scotty" has been promised anything for all the home runs he makes this season.

As Macintyre is convalescing in the hospital from an appendicitis operation, he will be unable to finish the season with the tennis team.

On Field day, Roger Hale got off to a false start in the 60-yard dash and was too tired to forge ahead in the second run.

Either our versatile first baseman belongs to a girls' club, or the promises hold good that he will belong, if he sells a certain number of tickets.

Koehler was certainly an eyewitness to the batting practice the fellows had at the beefsteak breakfast.

The way Fancher has been catching the high fliers lately, we think he could get most of them blindfolded.

Psychology Class

Good Salesmen

On the morning of Wednesday, April 24, at exactly 8:10 o'clock, the students of Dr. Hardwick's applied psychology class were all seated at their usual places—at least, most of them were. This morning they were expecting—well, almost anything.

They were given a salesmanship test. For most of the period each student did his best to remember names and faces, to answer correctly questions about phonograph records, coats, and even sleds. But still there was more. Each student had to fill out a sales slip exactly according to directions, and that was hard to do—to follow directions. And to finish things properly, each one was requested to juggle a few figures; but it seems that even these were not enough to baffle these ingenious individuals, for returns indicate that most of the questions were answered correctly. The highest score made was 147 out of a possible 150. The median was 128; the lowest 87. The median for other colleges is 127.

We think that Whitworth "can show 'em"!

Beefsteak Breakfast Beside Little Spokane

Seventy pounds of beefsteak, 25 dozen buns, and 25 dozen cookies, together with many gallons of coffee, disappeared down the throats of the students and the faculty of Whitworth college last Wednesday morning, May 8.

At 6 o'clock many droopy-eyed students found their way to the brightly glowing camp fires beside the Little Spokane River. The brisk morning air whetted the appetites of everyone present, so that in little more than an hour most of the food had been consumed.

Tennis Team Meets Bulldogs

The tennis team, consisting of Koehler, Penhalurick, Macintyre, Trunkey, Barnes, and Tooke, met the Gonzaga University team in a match at the Mission park courts, Wednesday, May 8.

Backman defeated Trunkey, 6-0, 6-0.

Trunkey and Barnes were defeated by Hargreaves and VanVorhis, 6-1, 6-3.

Many Schools Are Represented Here

A study of this year's enrollment at Whitworth college shows to a remarkable degree the attention which the college is attracting in many parts of the country. Although nearly half of the students are graduates of the three Spokane high schools, the others come from sixty different high schools in widely scattered areas.

One of the striking examples of Whitworth growth is seen in the extension department, conducted by the Rev. G. B. Baldwin. This department, which began just last fall, already has an enrollment of fifty-nine.

SOPHS ENTERTAIN FROSH WITH PICNIC

The sophomore class has decided to have its annual picnic at Loon Lake on Wednesday, May 15.

Arthur Rorberg is in general charge of arrangements and Margaret Close is working on the food committee. The menu will consist of spaghetti, rolls and butter, pickles, and ice cream.

The sophomores, according to custom, are inviting the freshmen; and everyone expects to have a good time.

Present Annual Concert

Whitworth college will present its annual spring concert Tuesday evening, May 21, at the First United Presbyterian church, corner of Third and Adams streets.

The a cappella choir of about twenty voices, the quartets and the trios; the string ensemble, and other groups will take part in the program. Prof. George B. Williston and Prof. Gardner Morgan will present piano and violin solos. Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins is directing the various groups.

Alpha Beta Very Active

On Saturday evening, May 4, at "A Bit of Sweden," Alpha Beta held its annual banquet. Dean Jenkins was guest of honor.

At the banquet, which virtually closes a busy year, a Silver Tea Service Fund was started. By the end of next year, the members hope to have enough money to present to the college a Silver Tea Service.

In appreciation of her work as adviser, the club gave Miss Moore a guard for her Alpha Beta pin.

There were several surprises during the evening, one of which was the voting for the woman who best represents the ideals for which the club stands. "Fannie" Johnson and Audrey Simmons were the women chosen. Each received a beautiful evening bag.

"Fannie" Johnson gave a summary of the year's activities. Miss Moore read the candle-lighting service. The program was as follows: an Hawaiian Guitar number by Katherine Crosby; a reading by Grace Jacobs; a duet by Eileen Hastings and Dorothy Monk; and a violin solo by Helen Wilson.

PATH' CLASS TOURS TO MEDICAL LAKE

An inspection tour of the state custodial school at Medical Lake was made by students of the Social Pathology class Wednesday afternoon, May 15. Those making the trip were Professor H. L. Hussong, Edna Allen, Elizabeth Baumgartner, Margaret Close, Donald Colpitts, Howard Culp, Ray Cramer, Charles Frazier, Edabelle Hall, Gladys Halstead, Milton Haywood, Robert Hood, Janet Jackson, Grace Jacobs, Osmer Jensen, Larry MacDonald, Christine McDonald, Jean McDonald, Dorothy Monk, Evelyn Morgan, Zena Norton, Maurice Peterson, Ann Pillers, Dorothy Reed, Earleen Schiewe, Jo Schrap, Audrey Simmons, and Bill Williams.

Pirettes Give Formal Tea

Honor Mothers of Members

A formal tea honoring mothers of active members and honorary members of the club, was given Saturday afternoon by the Pirettes at the home of Dorothy Cramer, E 826 26th. The program included a welcome talk by Mary Baker, president of the group; numbers by the trio composed of Elise Aldrich, Earleen Schiewe, and Anne Kamm with Genevieve Wilson as accompanist; readings, Anne Kamm and Ann Pillers; violin numbers, Helen Wilson; and a pianologue, Elise Aldrich.

Each of the mothers and the president and the adviser were presented with a red rose bud, the symbol of the club. Committees in charge of the tea were as follows: Arrangements—Florence Moore and Christine McDonald; publicity—Eleanor Henderson and Elise Aldrich; decorations—Jean Campbell and Earleen Schiewe; refreshments—Ann Piller and Jo Schrap; and program—Mary Baker, Pauline McCallum, and Dorothy Cramer.

CLARKSTON HEARS VARSITY QUARTET

The Whitworth College Male quartet spent the last week-end of April in Clarkston at the district Christian Endeavor convention. The quartet, with Paul Gronemeier, accompanist, and Mr. Ford L. Bailor, left the college Saturday morning, April 27, at 6 o'clock and returned to Spokane late Sunday afternoon.

The convention was held in the Christian church at Clarkston, where the men sang at the afternoon meetings and again in the evening at the banquet which officially culminated the convention activities. Sunday morning they sang at the 11 o'clock service of the Presbyterian church in Clarkston by invitation from the Rev. David Brown. The quartet made, in all, six appearances on this trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Williams of Clarkston entertained the Whitworth group in their home; and judging from the amount of cherry pie Mark Koehler ate, we conclude that Mrs. Williams is as good a cook as Bill says she is.
