$500 GRANT TO JOURNALISM

Whitworthian

VOL 37

[1947] 10

SPOKANE, WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 3, 1947

No. 1

750 ENROLL - UP 103 OVER 1946

Money to Be Used for Books, Papers

SPOKANE.—Prof. A. O. Gray today announced an outstanding aid to the department of journalism in the form of a $500 gift by Mrs. D. A. Hewit, Spokane, to the college. The gift was given as a memorial to her daughter, Elizabeth Hewit, a graduate with high honors in journalism from Stanford and Columbia universities.

Miss Hewit was on the editorial staff of the Spokesman-Review at the time of her death. She had demonstrated unusual journalistic and literary ability.

The money will be used to purchase Journalism books and magazines. Originally it had been made available for a student loan fund. However, because of the limited number of students making use of this fund, and a desire to make the gift more effective, it was decided to make the gift to the Department of Journalism.

Upon completion of the new library, the books will be properly placed, and an appropriate plaque bearing the name of Elizabeth Hewit will be hung in the new Harriet Cheney Cowles memorial library.

Ovanin Expresses Thought About Sincere Musicianship

By Barbara Lee Deemy

Stressing the importance of "thorough, sincere musicianship," Professor Nikola Ovanin, newly appointed head of the Music department, feels that true music is not merely groups of notes on paper, but the thought and feeling behind those notes as well.

His "War Symphony," written in 1939, won first prize at the National Composer's clinic in 1942. A second symphony has recently been completed. He has always been interested in composition, and many of his 77 serious compositions were written for strings and choral groups.

Professor Ovanin was born in Yugoslavia, 100 miles south of Vienna. When he was a year-and-a-half old, his mother brought him to this country, where he has received all of his formal schooling.

While he worked under Ernest Krenek, internationally known composer and specialist in theory, Professor Ovanin received his B. A. and M. A. degrees. At Cleveland Institute of Music he was awarded his B. M. degree and he earned his B. S. degree at Western University in musical education.

MEMORIAL BUILDERS INSPECT WORK

BERTHS OPEN FOR WRITERS

Prof. A. O. Gray announced today that a few positions are now open on the editorial staff of the WHITWORTHIAN. He said, "Any student is eligible to work on the college paper, and those wishing to apply for a berth should see me within the next few days."

He explained that potential news hounds need not have had previous experience in news work, nor need they be journalism majors. However he pointed out that "Naturally a person with previous experience will have a better chance of getting one of the places now open."

Bachimont Returns After S.D. Leave

Prof. Otto Bachimont of the Whitworth faculty took a leave of absence during the spring and summer sessions to become an associate teacher at South Dakota state college at Brookings.

Throughout the spring quarter he taught first and second year German, scientific German, and first year Spanish. During the summer session he taught German only.

Assurance that construction work on the new library would continue at the present rate and the work was "progressing satisfactorily and on schedule" was given this week by President Warren.

"I'm happy to report that we have received word from Pittsburgh that shipments of fabricated steel for flooring and structural steel beams left Pittsburgh Oct. 1. Meantime, brickwork is continuing on schedule."

The library will cost approximately $160,000 when completed. Funds were donated by the family of the late William Hutchinson Cowles, publisher of The Spokesman-Review. Mr. Cowles proposed the building of the library in December of 1945 as a memorial to his wife, Harriet Cheney Cowles, who died in 1938.

Four friends of Whitworth, who have a major interest in the new library, were guests of the school yesterday. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cowles, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Graham of Santa Barbara, California. Mrs. Graham is the sister of Mr. Cowles.

Plans for the library call for a two-story building in old English type of architecture, completely fireproof.

"The new library will provide space for 65,000 volumes and is more than adequate for the present size of the student body," Dr. Warren said. "It will be a tremendous asset as well as a beautiful addition to our campus."

Meanwhile, Warren said construction work on the new science hall was proceeding on schedule.

"Carpenters are working full-time on the building," he said. "It is the hope of the administration department that sometime in the future the new science hall can be bricked the same as the Fine Arts building."

For Research

The new science hall will be the largest classroom on the campus. When completed, it will provide 14,205 square feet of space to the Biology and Chemistry departments for laboratories, classrooms, and storage. The building was placed on a full basement.

First Checks Due After 45-60 Days

Veterans enrolled in schools or colleges should be prepared to finance themselves for 45 or 60 days after registration, before their first checks can be issued, the Veterans administration announces.

In some cases, where registration is completed by Sept. 20, the first check may be received early in Oct., according to VA training officials, but in the majority of cases, first checks will not go into the mails until Nov.

DOCTORS RUSH TO AID FROSH DURING CRISIS

Orientation classes for the freshman students began Oct. 29 in the speech auditorium (dining hall basement).

"These classes are being held so that the freshmen students will learn to adjust themselves to college life," stated Dr. Gustav Schlauch, one of the speakers of the meetings. Merton D. Munn, dean of the college, and Dr. Theon B. Maxson will give lectures on orientating one's self to college life.

These classes will be held during the chapel periods.

OVERCOMES HANDICAP

Victor P. Reis, despite loss of his hands in a land-mine explosion during the war, asks no quarter in his work as a contact representative of the Hartford, Conn., Regional Office of the Veterans Administration.

LIT COURSES GET STRESS

The English department this year is offering courses which have genuine appeal to those interested in the field of literature. Dr. Christiansen's class in world literature, English 21, will study early Greek and Latin works.

The course of Elizabethan non-dramatic literature will consider the works of such men as Shakespeare, Sydney, Spenser, and Bacon. The class in Modern British and American literature will trace the literary and cultural development of the two countries in modern times. The creative-writing class will undertake various projects of original writing.

Dr. Christiansen has stated that he is hopeful and enthusiastic about the program of the English department this year because he will not be required to devote so much time to composition classes and will be able to offer a wider selection of literary courses than formerly.

TOWN STUDES EASILY SHADE CAMPUSITES

Whitworth opens its doors this Fall to 750 students, an increase of 103 over the enrollment of a year ago. Because of this, the largest enrollment in the history of the college, many are looking forward to the greatest year that Whitworth has ever seen.

That Whitworth's influence is being felt throughout our country and even beyond our borders is proved by the students who come from 17 different states as well as those from Alaska, Canada, and Mexico to receive the type of education which Whitworth has to offer. In the minds of most students the sacrifices made to attend a college such as this are small in comparison to the intellectual achievements which they gain through their studies and the high caliber moral and character training which they receive as they make contacts with other Christian young people, who, like themselves, are trying to find their place in the world.

About 40 per cent of the college population are veterans

Women take the lead in the dormitory population with a number of 225 while the men have 143. This makes the dormitory population of 368 almost equal to that of the town students which is a contesting 382.

Two hundred and fifty freshmen dot the campus with their green caps, but upper classmen know that they will not be green long and that innocence is a style that is worn but for a day and then disappears behind the screens of personality, never to appear again. So the hope that the young and ardent frosh will blend in well with the rest of the student body is not without basis.

Of those who expressed preference for a religious denomination 48 per cent were Presbyterians, while Baptists and Methodists raced for second place. About 30 denominations are represented in all.

State Dept. Has Dope on Exchange

Washington, D. C. — Veterans and others seeking information on the Fulbright act, providing for study abroad on a student-exchange basis, should address their queries to the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. VA announced.

Under the Fulbright act, veterans of World Wars I and II are given preference by the 10-man board of foreign scholarships which awards the study grants.

How to Kill Us

If you don't like what we are doing, here is how you can show it: STOP PATRONIZING THE ADVERTISERS. Then the paper will fold up in a month or two because we just can't exist unless the ads placed with us get results.

So if you want to swing the axe on the paper, just go into any business you see who takes space with us and tell them that you wouldn't buy a thing from them unless they discontinue their ad.

Of course if you want a paper every week, then buy from these firms. When we get the ads, we'll publish every day if required. Don't be timid about telling these people that you read their ad. Pound on the counter and yell for the manager — do nip-ups — anything — but let them know you read their ad.

That will make them beg to advertise with us. That will get you a bigger and more frequent paper.

Got Any Potatoes?

The WHITWORTHIAN wishes to welcome back to the campus all its old readers, and to extend a hearty welcome to the freshmen. We extend congratulations to transfer students.

Previous readers have come to place a high degree of faith in the official student body publication because of the fair way in which it reports the news. They know that it takes no sides in campus peanut politics. They know that for the latest news they must turn to these columns.

They have come to realize that this paper will not bow to B.M.O.C.'s nor will it hold back when something needs to be done and others are afraid to touch the "hot potato."

Last year we juggled several of them. Once or twice, we must admit, we had our fingers scorched. This year probably will be no different.

However, with your continued support, we'll keep on stirring the news currents and try to bring you the most interesting parts of it.

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

From the Associated Student Body, to all freshmen and upper classmen, both old and new, comes a hearty welcome. Without you our halls and campus have been deserted and so we're happy to have you back again.

In this, our largest student body ever, there is much to be done, many problems to be worked out, but only with the help of every member. At home each member of the family does his part to keep things running smoothly; we know we can count on you in the same way.

All of the clubs are inviting your participation in their activities, your class officers are making many plans, your teams are doing their best to turn in winning seasons.

Your professors, too, are looking toward a successful year — don't let them down — keep your studies up.

And as we enter this new year, remember also the place which Christ holds in our lives. He must have the pre-eminence in all of our activities in order that we may glorify God. No task will be too great or burden too heavy as long as we are under the direction of our Lord and Savior.

LEN WATSON, ASWC President.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

I think that your paper is run by a little group of glory seekers who aren't able to make news so they have to do their feeble best to write it.

Why don't you open the WHITWORTHIAN to news and articles from somebody besides the journalism department?

I could tell you of good stories that you never print. I am tired of seeing the same old names. Aren't you going to give the "common student" a break ever? NAME WITHHELD.

If you want to go to work, see Prof. A. Gray. He'll give you a position on the staff. We enjoy constructive, critical letters. Write again soon.—Editor.

Test Shows Need For More English

In a recent English placement test given by the English department it was found that a large number of registrants this fall have had inadequate training in this field. Over 26 per cent of the 253 students taking the test made failing grades, while less than six per cent received A's.

The three students who ranked highest were, Kathryn Johnson, Robert Bruce and Bonna Krug. No one student was able to attain a perfect score on the one hundred and fifty points possible in the examination.

YOU MAY COME ON THIS LIST

The following statistics have reached us and it is amazing how few of our church members are doing their best for God. From a percentage basis of church members, the following report is given:

- 10% of reported members cannot be found.
- 20% do not pray regularly.
- 25% seldom read the Bible
- 30% seldom attend church services.
- 40% do not contribute.
- 50% do not go to Sunday school.
- 60% do not go to church Sunday nights.
- 70% do not give to missions.
- 75% do not engage in any church activities.

WARREN'S MESSAGE

Dear Students, new and old:

Well, we are off to a great start, and everything augurs a great and glorious year. Everything humanly possible has been done to make you feel welcome, and by now I am sure you do feel that you are part of this very rapidly growing family. You have come from so many communities and so many different situations, and yet here we shall all be concerned with one great common interest—that of receiving the most that we can by the way of education.

There are certain things ahead of you which, if done well, mean a great year. First is the realization that the past cannot be relived and that we must start in afresh. No matter now what you did last year in college or high school; yours is a fresh page today. You are not thought of by the teachers as an A- or a D-student but rather as one who has come to learn, and now it's up to you what progress you make.

Above everything else let us remember that a Christian college depends upon its student body in the maintenance of its spiritual glow. The beauty of our campus is not first of all its location or its trees but its Christ. For many student generations His presence has been felt as He has challenged men and women to the life that counts. He will come your way, and you will learn in your study, in your friendship with you teachers, and in your associations here the rich joy of His presence. All other things without this are insufficient in the building of a great year.

I pledge you that the administrative staff and faculty have one great desire, and that is to work with you in close harmony. I hope that all of us shall become the best of friends.

FRANK F. WARREN, President.

Color of Hair Gets Men, is Discovery of Galloping Gal

By D-D

Remember me? At the beginning of each quarter I roam around and find interesting newcomers to use in newspaper articles. But you know something? This fall quarter, with our record number of incoming students, it wasn't hard to find someone of interest to write about. I find the usual number of blondes, brunettes and redheads and the usual number of men following them.

But yesterday I started out, my pencil and pad in my hand, a determined look on my face, and vowed I would find something. The commons was my first stop. There, sitting very placidly on a green leather chair, his blonde crew-cut in perfect contrast was George Till, a town student from Spokane. George reluctantly gave out with a little info. His high school was North Central, major: engineering; minor: music. When quizzed about his hobby a dreamy look came into his eye and he sighed as he said, "Fixing the 'Little A' is my hobby." The 'Little A' proved to be a Model A Ford. His opinion of W.C. is "Pretty good school. There are a lot of good kids here and it is a lot different from any other kind of school." Welcome to Whitworth, George, and we know you'll like it.

My next stop was at the library. There studying very diligently (this is only the first week of school; that will wear off) sat Edith Hiskey from Hiawatha, Kan. Edith is a junior and received her first two years at Baker university at Baldwin, Kan. Nursing is her vocation, and music her avocation. She and her roommate were playing scales on their flutes the other night, but I never could see how a B flat scale and a C scale went together. Edith gives a very fine opinion of Whitworth. She says, "It is the finest environment for young people that I think they could have. I find the religious life on the campus very fulfilling and satisfying. I am seeing for myself the many things that others told me Whitworth College had to offer." Thanks, Edith.

- 90% do not have family worship at home.
- 95% make no effort to win others for Christ.

It seems that Lloyd Henderson just missed the bus and I found him sitting dejectedly on the front steps of McMillan hall. Lloyd is a frosh from Berkeley, Calif., and has decided to take a general course at the present time, with a minor in music. An interesting thing about "Lloyd" is that his quartet, (he sang baritone) won the Christian Endeavor musical contest of the State of California. Lloyd's first impression wasn't so good, so get out your billy clubs, girls. He was bold enough to state, "Ninety per cent of the girls in Washington are pretty, and the rest go to Whitworth." That was his first statement, but after a couple of minutes he changed it to, "But now I realize that it isn't true."

On the final lap of my journey, I wandered to the girl's dormitory closest to Whitworth tree, New Hall. Hmm, and you should see what I found there, Hubba. Frannie Anderson came all the way from Duluth, Minn., to arrive at this conclusion about Whitworth. She says, "One doesn't notice the real beauty of the campus at first, but after you live here awhile you begin to see it. I like it here very much." Frannie is a freshman majoring in pre-medics. She has great plans for her future and they point to Japan, where she would like to be either a medical missionary, or teach primary grades. For a hobby she chose the flute and sports.

My feet are tired and my journey is ended, but now maybe you know a few more people than you did before you started reading Good luck to all of you new students.

FRESHIES SET PACE AGAIN BY REMODELING

It was amazement an enjoyment, mingled with looks of relief and pride, which were shown on the faces of students as they viewed the changed atmosphere of the entire downstairs section of the Gymnasium, upon returning to college this quarter.

The looks of pride registered mostly on the faces of the members of the Freshman class of last year.

It was this class, under the presidency of Russ Tuma, which undertook the remodeling of the Commons as its class project. Undertaken on a two year basis, the Class paid for half ($200 a year) and the college the remainder.

Much of the credit goes to Prof. Albert Culverwell, the class adviser. Not only did he supervise the actual remodeling and selecting of the plans, but was seen wielding a mean piece of sandpaper and wicked looking screw driver. Marshall Hodge served in the capacity of laborer and slave driver. It is he who deserves the credit for rounding up all the other people that helped on this project.

Jerry Wilson designed the present set up, and Wayne (Tuffy) Harter and Ernie Major were the carpenters and painters.

The college undertook the enlargement of the Book Nook and the installation of individual mail boxes in a separate postal section.

This work was mostly done by outside help under the supervision of Mr. Douglass, who incidentally, along with Wayne Harter did a great deal of the actual carpenter work.

Book Nook of this year is now under supervision of Mrs. E. E. Whitten, following the leaving of David D. Morris, who is studying at the university of Wisconsin.

Attention, women students! October 17-19 are the days of Women's conference — the week you've been hearing so much about.

The speakers, chosen by the central committee, are Mrs. Eleanor Barrow Chase, Spokane, and Miss Mary Baker, Tacoma, who will speak on the theme of the conference, "What seek ye?"

As a result of the planning and working of the summer, city busses will arrive on the campus on the afternoon of Oct. 17 to carry the girls to Twin Lakes, Ida., where the conference will be held at Twinlow camp. Registration will begin next week.

Univ. Wash. Grad to Help Pre-Legals

Several new history courses, especially designed for pre-legal majors, will be taught this year by Mr. Gordon S. Peek, new faculty member who comes to the campus after graduate work at the university of Washington.

Besides history of Western civilization, Mr. Peek will teach English political and social history, history of the far east, history of Canada, and English constitutional history.

THE CRESCENT

Pirates Finally Humble Missionaries

By H. Bekowies

In a bitterly contested struggle, the Whitworth Pirates scored three times in the final period to defeat a stubborn Whitman eleven 21 to 7 Saturday afternoon, Sept. 27 in the Whitworth Pine Bowl. Hampered by injuries to two of their first string backfield men, the Missionaries held their opponents on even terms for three quarters of play, but succumbed in the final period to a sustained attack led by the Pirates' sensational halback, Vern Tucker, and Pat Clyde, hard-driving freshman fullback.

From the opening kick-off, the play was a defensive battle between a powerful Whitman line and a smaller but faster Pirate line. Kenny Gamble, Jim Lowther and Don Olstad came through several times for bone-crushing tackles to stifle any attempted Missionary drive. Outstanding as a line backer and at pass defense was the Pirates rangy center, Bob Kohlsteadt. Dan Golden, Whitman guard, and Captain Stan Lochrie, center, proved the Pirate nemesis during the first half, as they consistently broke up the Whitworth running attack. A possible Whitman touchdown drive late in the second quarter was thwarted when Joe Gilliam, Pirate quarterback, intercepted a Whitman pass on his own 40-yard line and raced 45 yards before being brought down by the Whitman secondary.

Al Vallarano, starting at wingback for the Whitworth squad, showed himself a versatile player, doing valiant service in pass defense, blocking, and tackling. He paved the way for many gains made by his ball-toting teammates.

Bob Cruzen, who failed to start at his right half spot because of an injured hip, was sent into the game in the second half by coach Jerry Stannard in an attempt to get some scoring punch into the Whitworth attack. Early in the fourth quarter, after the Pirates had driven deep into Whitman Territory, Cruzen took a 10-yard pass from Tucker on the eighty-yard line and raced across the goal line for the first score of the game. Cruzen's place-kick was good for the extra point.

The tables were turned a few minutes later when, on the first play after the Whitworth kick-off, Lu (Lucky) Ross eluded an entire Pirate eleven and streaked 67 yards to paydirt. Baxter, right half, ran the ball across the goal for the extra point, making the score 7 to 7.

From there on it was all Whitworth as far as the scoring was concerned. Vern Tucker climaxed a long march into Whitman territory by plunging, twisting, and tearing his way through three apparent traps to score from 13 yards out. Cruzen's place-kick again was good. On the set-up play for Tucker's drive, Pat Clyde drove 15 yards to put the ball in scoring position on the Missionary 13. He was injured on the play and was taken from the game.

Tucker kicked off after the touchdown and the ball went over the receiver's head. When he did get the ball, Pirate tacklers downed him on the nine-yard line. In a desperate attempt to get back into the game, the Whitman boys unleashed a passing attack which was squelched when Al Vallarano intercepted a pass on the Whitman 15 and ran the ball back to the eight-yard line. From here, Del Schallock, substitute halfback, tossed a shovel pass to Bob Cruzen, who shook off would-be tacklers to score the third and final touchdown. Cruzen's kick from placement was good and the game ended with the score Whitworth 21, Whitman 7.

Vern Tucker again led his teammates in the scoring column, gaining 71 yards net from scrimmage. He completed six of 11 passes to lead in that department. Lu (Lucky) Ross was high man for the game in the yardage column. Bolstered by his 67-yard touchdown run, the Whitman man carried the ball a total of 94 yards.

CORDS—CO-EDS

Corduroy has chalked itself up as a campus "must" for Whitworth co-eds, because it goes to football games and dressier dates alike. Here it is fashioned in a smooth bolero jacket and skirt ensemble. Hat by Madcaps. Bag from Amelia Earhart.

EX-MISSIONARY COMES TO TEACH AFER DUTY IN MEXICAN SCHOOL

Coming to the language department this year as instructor of Spanish is Mrs. T. Baker, former missionary and teacher of Bible in Mexico. Mrs. Baker served as principal of an elementary school in Puebla, Mexico for eight years working under the Women's American Baptist Home Missionary society.

That Mrs. Baker was successful in her work is evidenced by the fact that the enrollment of the school increased from 150 to 400 during her period of service there. In addition to her administrative work, she translated a series of graded Bible lessons from English to Spanish and taught daily Bible classes.

In speaking of her work there Mrs. Baker said, "It was a wonderful experience to train these children and to bring them from darkness into the light of the gospel of our lord and saviour, Jesus Christ."

At the time of the occurrence of the revolution in Mexico, missionaries from the United States were forced to leave the country. Mrs. Baker then began to assist in the training of missionaries from various Spanish-speaking countries at the American Baptist Theological Seminary in Los Angeles. After these missionaries completed their course of training, they re-

Jerry Built Team Takes 12 Years To Get Up Steam

By Ken Briggs

The mighty Whitworth Pirates were the talk of the Campus. Coach Stannard was greeted by more football candidates than the new coach had dared hope for when he took up the coaching reins at Whitworth College in 1934. Seven players donned the pre-war (WWI) football gear, and presented their coach with their bright and shining faces.

Coach Jerry was mighty proud of his brawny lads, especially his rugged 123 pound guard. He didn't mind, for he knew where he could find someone else that was just as big and powerful to fill the other guard slot. Until the day before the first game, all seven of the Whitworth Pirates put in long, hard practice sessions under the new head of the athletic department. The greatest mystery in the history of Whitworth athletics is still unsolved. When the whistle sounded for the opening kick-off, Coach Stannard had eleven red shirts facing the opposition. It is not known to this day whom he drafted, but they say that four men on the faculty came to school with the aid of canes and crutches the following morning.

However, one of the great traditions of Whitworth was established that year. The Pirates did not win a game that season, if you look only at the points at the end of the game. Very few people remember the score of any one of those games. They do remember that the team never quit trying at any time. Every man played and fought with every ounce of his strength from opening kick-off until the final gun. What the squad members lacked in ability, they made up for in determination and fight.

This year, the dreams of our veteran Coach have been realized. Sixty men with the ability and experience that the 1934 team lacked, are battling for starting berths.

In 1934, Jerry Stannard believed that he could build a team that would some day be a top contender among the colleges in the Northwest. It has taken over a dozen years, but the team that the Coach dreamed of is no longer a dream, but a reality. It is up to every loyal Whitworthian to support the team that Jerry built.

Ask Me Another Should the Government Compete with Business?

ANSWER: Not in those fields where business is able and willing to stand on its own feet and do a good job. For example, business-managed electric companies have constantly increased service to the public at steadily decreasing rates — at the same time paying great sums of money as taxes to maintain the essential functions of government, such as education.

A. R. T. DONATES COLLEGE $300.00

By Tripp

The Spokane Athletic Roundtable, the city's zany but generous booster of amateur athletics, last week donated $300 for construction of Whitworth's running track. Last year, the Roundtable contributed $6,000 for construction of the football field.

Coach Jerry Stannard said donations received to date for construction of the track total $600 dollars. A fund-raising on the campus last year netted $300.

"We're a long way from our goal of $3,000," Stannard said. "I hope the students will tell their friends about the project. You can say any checks made out to the athletic department will be greatly appreciated."

Stannard said the $3,000 estimated cost of the track also includes cost of equipment. The track will be a full quarter mile, eight lane oval.

WOMEN'S CONFERENCE BEGINS TODAY

MRS. CARREL REPORTS ON

... Her Trip Abroad

"American boys in England, wherever they were stationed, left friends." This, according to Mrs. Carrel, is one of the noticeable attributes left behind when American servicemen returned home. Mrs. Carrel returned in September from a summer spent in England and on the continent. It was while engaged in music research at the Royal Academy of Music in London that she was able to make her observations.

While abroad, Mrs. Carrel attended the International Music Festival in Edinburgh, Scotland, and traveled in France and Belgium. In Paris she returned to the same hotel where she had been a guest at the outbreak of war in 1939.

One of the greatest difficulties encountered was arranging for transportation, but Mrs. Carrel secured passage on a Constellation flight, making the crossing in thirteen hours.

Travelers are provided with food rations which Mrs. Carrel said were "definitely not ample from our standards." In England the food is restricted in quantity but is not highly priced; the opposite is true on the continent.

Evidence of American aid is seen in the packages of food and clothing received by many English families.

DEAN OF MEN LECTURES TO CHAPEL GROUP

Dr. Theron B. Maxson addressed the upper class chapel Oct. 13 on "History of Religion."

There are 11 major religions in the world today, Dr. Maxson pointed out. One-third of those religions are allocated to Christian discipleship. He said that the uniqueness of Christianity lies in the fact that it has the mind, spirit, and person of Jesus Christ.

BARRETT'S OF WIMPOLE STREET GETS FIRST N. W. PRODUCTION BY DRAMA DEPT. ON OCTOBER 31

Rudolph Beisers Broadway production selected as Homecoming Play.

The "Barretts of Wimpole Street," recognized from the standpoint of construction and audience appeal as one of the finest stage productions, has been selected by the Drama department of Whitworth college as this year's homecoming play. Dates are Friday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 3.

An internationally popular play, it was first produced in the United States, by Katherine Cornell in Cleveland, Ohio, on Jan. 20, 1931 and presented by her at the Empire theater, New York, on Feb. 9, 1931, under the direction of Guthrie McClintic, noted Broadway producer.

Until now all rights have been reserved on the play and only recently has it been released for amateur production. It is believed that it is one of the first times that the "Barretts of Wimpole Street" has been presented in the Northwest by an amateur group.

The play is based on actual events from the lives of Elizabeth Moulton Barrett and Robert Browning.

President's Home Scene of Reception For Mrs. Hopkins

A faculty reception to honor Mrs. Winifred McNair Hopkins, faculty member, was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Warren on Thursday evening, October 9.

A gift from the faculty, an album of records, was presented to Mrs. Hopkins by Miss Marion Jenkins. A crystal sugar and cream set were presented to the young married couple on the Whitworth faculty, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Gray.

Miss Virginia Warren entertained with vocal selections, and Mrs. Anna Jane Carrel gave an account of her experiences in Europe this summer, where she visited in England, France, and Belgium. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. John L. Oakes.

ALPHA KAPPA CHI THROWS PARTY

175 students attended the Alpha Kappa Chi party held on the campus Saturday, Oct. 11, at 8 p. m.

Bill Ainley and Betty Summer-son had charge of the musical games which were held in the Commons. Volleyball was played in the gym under the direction of Dave Finney. Movies were shown in the speech auditorium with Norman McDonald and Bob Bowdey taking charge. Devotions were led by Dewey Mulholland. Refreshments were served in the Commons by Pat Janzen, Irene Clausen, Ken Beeson, and Mildred Lesler.

"I was impressed with the cooperation of the students and hope the future activities of this organization will be as successful," stated Al Christensen, president of Alpha Kappa Chi.

JENKINS HOLDS HIGHEST OFFICE

Representation of Whitworth college in the Washington State Association of Deans of Women and Girls, was doubly assured by the election of Miss Marion R. Jenkins to a two-year term as president of the organization. The vice president of the group, Miss Lessie Rasco of Wapato Senior high school, is a Whitworth graduate, and has a year of her term left to complete.

Highlights of the convention, held at Olympia, October 11, included addresses by Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker, state superintendent of schools recently returned from Japan, and by Mrs. Walter Beals, wife of a Nuremberg trial judge, who reported on the needs among the children of Europe.

The association is open to the deans of women of all high schools and colleges in the United States, both private and public. The convention next year will be at Yakima.

Girls Leave Books For Devotionals

Theme "What Seek Ye?" to Get Answers

The women of the Whitworth campus leave today for Twin Lakes, Idaho, for their annual Women's Conference weekend, and a busy time it's going to be.

Varied Sports

Upon arrival at the camp there will be boating, swimming, hiking, ping-pong, or volley-ball to pass the time until dinner. In the evening after a short get-together, the meetings will get under way with Miss Mary Baker, Seattle, speaking on the subject "What Seek Ye for Your Body?" Other subjects Miss Baker will speak on are "What Seek Ye for Your Heart?" and "But Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God."

Mrs. Eleanor Barrow Chase, the other speaker for the weekend, will talk on the subjects "What Seek Ye for Your Intellect?" and "What Seek Ye for Your Soul?" Mrs. Chase, a well known Spokane contralto, will also sing three meditation sools.

Saturday evening the girls will enjoy a banquet with the program in charge of Lois Waldron and a dedication service by Mrs. Anna Carrel following the regular meeting.

Communion service Sunday morning will be conducted by Rev. W. Barnes. Following dinner the girls will return to the campus.

NEWS HOUNDS TELL PUPS HOW IN LECTURES

Mr. Jack Hauptli, United Press, and Mr. Bill Johnston, Associated Press, told journalism students about the ins and outs of their work during a lecture Tuesday.

The newspaper men were the second in a series of eight who will come to give students the inside story of newspaper work.

First speaker in the popular series was Mr. E. C. French, Spokane Daily Chronicle staff member. He described the editorial side of newspapers.

FROSH HIGH WITH 254

At report from the Registrar's office shows that with the enrollment now at 748, the freshman class is the largest this year with 352. The sophomore class is next with 203, while the juniors have 108 Seniors number 59, and graduates 24.

Included in the current enrollment are representatives from 22 states. Five hundred sixty-five of these are from Washington, and next is California with 101. Idaho has 17 representatives; Oregon, 14; Minnesota, 12; Montana, five.

Foreign students are eight in number. These include three from Mexico, two from Canada, and one each from China, Alaska and France.

Reports on denominational preferences reveal that the Presbyterians have the strongest representation with 322 of those who specified their preference. The Methodists are in second place with 86, followed by the Baptists, who number 81. Other denominations with sizable representations include Lutherans, Church of Christ, Congregationalists, and Episcopalians.

"For thou art my rock, and my fortress; Therefore for thy name's sake lead me and guide me." Psalms 31:3.

Do You Go?

We grow older. We adjust our thinking and living habits. Yet, there is something within us that rebels at anything compulsory.

You who think that you have been "getting by" with something when you skip Chapel are going to be surprised to learn that Chapel is not compulsory. That fact is going to make your argument that something is being "forced down your throat" look silly. Nothing is being forced upon you. It is your privilege to go or not to go.

Wouldn't you think it strange if a college which set forth Christian principles had no chapel hour? Wouldn't you who criticize and refuse to come, criticize even more? Christianity, you know, ought to be a practical thing.

Chapels aren't always interesting. Neither are the entertainments outside of Chapel. You can see a "lousy" ballgame one day, and see one skillfully played the next time. Do you stop going to ballgames?

You haven't time to go? There isn't anyone on the Campus who has much time. College is a place of busy people. The majority of us are here because we want to accomplish certain things. Christ, too, was busy. He was so busy that He drew apart from the multitude into the wilderness for a period of quietness. There are going to be times when it will be impossible to get to Chapel; but let's not make our absence habitual.

You who scoff and make light of Chapel say that you are as good as those who go there. You may be right. It is because of our very lack of goodness in ourselves that we need to draw apart to listen to older, wiser Christians. You say by your absence that you are self-sufficient; we acknowledge our weaknesses and desire to learn by going.

Why not give Chapel a fair trial before making "snap" judgments. Make Chapel the hour that you look forward to and back upon in your "energy-consuming" college days.

SICK CALL HOURS

Announcement has been made of the nurses office hours at the Infirmary. Week days the nurse will be available from 7:45-8:00 a. m., 12:30-1:30 p. m., and 6:30-7:30 p. m. Doctor's office time is 4:00-4:30 p. m.

Exceptions to this are Saturdays 8:00-9:00 a. m., Wednesdays 6:15-7:00 p. m. and Sundays 8:30-9:00 a. m., 1:45-2:15 p. m., and 6:00-7:00 p. m. Emergencies are the only other exceptions.

No tray orders will be accepted by the nurses if they are reported after the following hours:

Breakfast: 7:15 (Nurse will be inside dining hall)
Lunch: 12:00 (Report to nurse at dining hall.)
Dinner: 4:45 (Report to nurse at infirmary.)

FROM THE FILES Wildmen, Warhoops Whacked by W Club

A Whitworthian of March 3, 1928 states that the student body met Dr. W. A. Stevenson, then president of the college at the Spokane train depot at 6:55 a. m. The scene would probably be more conspicuous if the same event were to take place today.

When the first Ballard hall burned and only the steps remained, an "absent-minded" student, who had not been informed about the fire, began to ascend the steps before he noted the absence of the building.

A note from a Whitworthian of 1927 states that the Scribblers' or Writers' club held a banquet at the Desert hotel and then toured the plant of the (Spokane Daily) Chronicle. The menu consisted of a seven-course chicken dinner. And to think that we still have a Writers' club today. (HINT)

In the olden days a trophy was awarded at the end of each term to the class having the highest scholastic average. Records evidence keen competition and great enthusiasm among students, but those were in the days before Whitworth tree came into prominence.

No, your eyes were not tricking you. Those weird characters that you saw on the campus on Oct. 10 were not a fifth column, nor freshmen gone berserk, but new members of the "W" club being initiated.

"Kangaroo" court, under the direction of Dave Barnes, was held in the basement of McMillan hall. Each initiate carried a large paddle, which he was required to produce at the request of a club member. After being spat on he received the paddle back with the name of the wielder endorsed on it. Each new member was also required to be prepared to shine the shoes of any letterman.

Those initiated from the tennis squad were: Les Patten, Bill Heiser, and Jack Schiewe, manager. Baseball letterman were: Tom Patten, Bill McCord, Bod Bradburn, and Mel Unruh, manager. From the basketball team were Clyde Matters, Jerry Mahaffey, and Dan Matsumoto, who played on the '44-'45 squad.

or let a responsible member of your organization get the news to our editor or adviser. We would like to have the names of the persons selected then we will know whom we can contact for that extra news.

It is the desire of the staff to give you the kind of a paper that interests you. By your cooperation, you will help to make your paper.

Darkroom Plans Brought to Light

Plans are being made to open the photography darkrooms of the physics department to all qualified students. These darkrooms are set up and equipped in order to provide facilities for the photography classes of the physics department.

Students desiring to use the darkrooms must have the consent of the college photographer or William G. Wilson of the physics department. Supplies may be either purchased from those on hand or brought by the individual.

Art Dept. Adds New Instructor

With Professor J. Russell Larsen as instructor, an increased enrollment, and the addition of new courses there is much evidence of growth and expansion in the art department.

Professor John Koehler, head of the department, reports a total enrollment of ninety, as compared to an enrollment of about sixty-five or seventy during each of the three quarters last year. Only a few of these are non-majors.

Mr. Larsen is a graduate of the art department of the University of Washington. Mrs. Larsen has a degree from the department of interior decorating at the university also. Speaking of the addition of Mr. Larsen to the art department, Professor Koehler said, "It's a pleasure to have Mr. Larsen working with me again. Mr. Larsen and I attended the University of Washington together and were in many of the same classes together. We belonged to the same art honoraries. It's a real pleasure to work with someone in the field of art who has similar ideas about such a controversial subject."

Homemade Cupcakes

By Frances Lee Barton

MILLIONS of women regularly purchase cupcakes at their baker's and grocer's and carry them home for supper.

But surely some of these will join the ranks of those millions of other women who make their own cupcakes at home after trying this new recipe.

For these Devil's Food Cupcakes are really delights and worthy of an immediate trial.

Devil's Food Cupcakes

1 cup sifted cake flour; 1/2 teaspoon soda; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 3/4 cup shortening; 3/4 cup granulated sugar or firmly packed brown sugar; 1 egg, unbeaten; 1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted; *Milk (see below for amount); 3/4 teaspoon vanilla.

*With butter, margarine, or lard use 1/2 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1/2 cup plus 1 tablespoon milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Turn into greased cupcake pans in moderate oven (375°F.) 20 minutes, or until done. Fill pans only 1/2 full. Makes 10 large or 18 small cupcakes.

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

I feel the WHITWORTHIAN is a paper we can all be proud of. However, it somewhat lacks variety. I believe one added feature would be a miscellaneous column referring to interesting incidents that occur on the campus. This, I am sure would be of great interest to all the students who read the paper.

NAME WITHHELD.

Do you refer to a gossip column?—Editor

Dear Editor:

In the last issue of The Whitworthian, one of the headlines inferred a lack of enthusiasm and drive on the part of former Whitworth football teams. I realize that this was unintentional, and the farthest thing from your desire. Is there a second to the motion?

KEN BRIGGS.

Yes, there is, a loud one from the bungling "head" writer who should sharpen his wits as well as his pencil. The WHITWORTHIAN is proud of past football teams, and apologizes for a stupid error.—Editor.

FROSH KARN IS CREEP PARTY

The class of '51 is presenting its first social event of the year on Friday, Oct. 24th. This party will be known as the "Carnival Creep" and in order to gain admittance all the party-goers must creep through tunnels in which will be placed various obstacles to make their task even more difficult.

The social committee which consists of: Colleen Pickert, chairman; Mary Lou Anderson, Keeva Rupp, Frances Anderson, Dwight Johnson, Richard Cole, and William 'Dick' Denton, all have done an excellent job of planning this party and making it one you cannot afford to miss.

The amusement for the evening will consist of entertainment booths, skits, etc. The party is limited to freshmen and coids, jeans, or slacks are considered appropriate dress for the occasion.

Refreshments will be served and special music and community singing will close the event.

There is very little information to be had in regards to the Sophomore class party. It is definite that there is going to be one Oct. 24th but just exactly where and what kind is unknown at the present.

Chapel Worked on By Philadelphians

The Little Chapel, under the supervision to the Philadelphians, has undergone quite a few alterations in the past year and is fast becoming one of the beauty spots of Whitworth campus.

Those Responsible

Russell Hanson, president; Jacob "Jake" Wong, devotional chairman, and Lester Pontius, building chairman, are the three men mainly responsible for the new program and changes which include:

The building of the steeple by student members during the spring quarter under direction of Leonard Watson.

The seeding of a lawn and installation of a sprinkling system by student members of the summer quarter under the direction of Russell Hanson.

A stone sidewalk now under construction by student members of this quarter under the direction of Lester Pontius.

Future plans include the building of pews, installation of new furniture, and the construction of a fence around the lawn.

Jacob Wong, the devotional chairman, is fast rounding out a program of outside speakers and states that when this is completed it promises to be a program worth every Philadelphian's time to attend.

the present day Ballard Hall was held on December 9, 1927.

The building was named in honor of Capt. W. R. Ballard, Puget Sound captain, who was a senior member of the board of trustees from 1890 until his death in 1929.

TUCKER LEADS VICTORY MARCH

The Whitworth Pirates, led by Vern Tucker, defeated the Carroll college Saints 20-7.

Running, smashing and driving his way downfield, Tucker rang up two touchdowns in the first period and ran a total of 77 net yards from scrimmage as the Pirates chalked up their second win in three games this season.

The scoring started early in the first period when big Rob Kohlsteadt, center for the Whits, intercepted a pass on the Carroll 33 yard line and ran it back to the 30. On the next play, fullback Pat Clyde, returning to the club after recovering from injuries, rolled off nine yards through the center. Tucker then cracked off tackle and bolted his way 21 yards for a touchdown.

The second Pirate score came late in the initial period when Bob Cruzen took a shovel pass from Tucker on the Pirate 22-yard line and raced 61 yards before he was hauled down on the Carroll 18. A series of three plays took it to the nine-yard line, and again Tucker slashed off tackle and raced the remaining nine yards for the T.D. Cruzen, who missed his first placement, made this attempt good, and the Bucs led 13-0 at the half.

Carroll Scores on Interception

The Saint score came midway in the third period when Flynn, guard, intercepted a Whitworth pass and romped 55 yards, unmolested, for the Saints only score of the game.

The final Buc score came after Don Olstead recovered a Carroll fumble. From there, a sustained drive ended in pay dirt when Clyde crashed over from the two-yard line for the final tally of the game.

Outstanding defensive play was performed by the entire Pirate squad. Bob Kohlsteadt, Dave Holmes and Norm Stokke played a great defensive game on the line, and Joe Gilliam played his usual fine defensive game in the secondary.

MUSIC HI-LITES AUX. RECEPTION

Sunday afternoon, the Women's Auxiliary gave a tea for parents of Whitworth students in the new Fine Arts building. A musical program under the direction of N. L. Ovanin, director of the music department, was presented to the crowd of more than 300. Faculty members were introduced to the group.

Jim McConnell sang a baritone solo "Without A Song" which won enthusiastic acceptance. Miss Patty Love played a flute solo that proved to be one of the highlights in the diversified presentation of Whitworth talent.

Dr. Warren addressed the group on the subject "Builders Together". Mrs. Warren, program chairman for the auxiliary, together with Mrs. Tappan, planned this informal meeting between parents and faculty.

Dr. Maxson led the group in prayer.

SEFELO PLANS "OPEN HOUSE"

Saturday, October 25th, SEFELO, which has been recently reorganized to create more unity of all women students, is holding their annual "Open House." All five houses, Ballard, McMillan, Westminster, Westminster Wing, and the New Hall, will spread the welcome mat for all visitors from

GYPSIES PITCH CAMP IN GYM FOR WAA FEED

The gypsy feed, an annual event sponsored by the W.A.A., was held Tuesday, Oct. 14 from 5-7 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The purpose of the gypsy feed is not only to inform the women about the activities of W.A.A., but also to create an interest in sports among students.

In charge were: Miss Dorothea Bartell, chairman; Miss Amber Oakes, games; Miss Mary Anslow,

KNIGHTS SEEK I.K.'s CHARTER

A group of Whitworth men met on Tuesday evening at the home of Professor Culverwell and organized the Whitworth Chapter of Intercollegiate Knights. A petition for membership in the national society is being sent to national headquarters in Logan, Utah.

"The I.K.'s will act as a service organization to assist in all extra-curricular activities of the college," said Bob Ryland, president of the newly-organized group. "Chapters of this organization are already functioning on a number of other campuses of the West." Other officers elected are: Tom Johnson, vice president; Jim McConnell, secretary-treasurer; Howard Lehn, publicity; and Professor Albert Culverwell, faculty adviser.

eight to 10:00 p. m. There will be a continuous program at this time in the dining hall and refreshments will be served.

CHENEY BLOWS WHITWORTH OVER IN 6 TO 0 OPENER

The Pirate's bid for an upper berth in the Winco league received a jolt when the Whits lost their initial 1947 conference game to Eastern Washington C.E. by a 6 to 0 score in a torrid battle at Woodward Field, Oct. 3.

The highly favored Savages, who drubbed the Pirates last year, 45-0, and were expected to do a repeat performance again this year, were able to push across but one touchdown against the stubborn Whitworth defense.

A hard wind, which blew continuously throughout the gridiron struggle, played an important role in the contest.

FROM THE SIDELINES

By Walt Dawson

The WINCO league lost one of its members this year when Seattle College withdrew from conference competition. The league now consists of six active members; Western Washington College of Education, at Bellingham; Central Washington C. E., at Ellensburg; Eastern Washington C. E., at Cheney; St. Martin's, at Lacey (near Olympia); Pacific Lutheran, at Tacoma; and Whitworth, at Spokane.

A six team conference will make it better for basketball this year, as all teams may be active in conference play the same night.

Instead of playing each team twice, as was the procedure last year, each team will play each other member of the conference three times in league play—a 15 game race for the WINCO title. It will be an alternate of two games at home and one away with each team one year and then reversing the procedure for the following year. As the schedule reads now, Whitworth will play the strong C.W.C.E. and Pacific Lutheran five times two games with each here and one game with each on their courts. The Pirates play E.W.C.E. once here and twice at Cheney during the conference play this year.

ELECTION FINALS

Election results for class officers held Oct. 2 are:

The Junior class—L. G. Baker, Spokane, president; Shirley Rosencranz, Yakima, vice president; Walt Dawson, Spokane, treasurer; Dr. Mark Koehler was chosen as class adviser.

The Junior class also elected two of their members to serve as co-editors on the NATSIH. They are Ashley Holden, Jr., Spokane and Solette Stirm, Palo Alto, Cal. Marshall Hodge, Camp Meeker, Calif., was elected president of the sophomore class with, James Carlson, Sunnyside, vice president; Jean Tanner, Morro Bay, Calif., secretary; Betty Follett, Loon Lake, treasurer. Class advisers will be Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Gray.

Home Coming Plans Pyramid

Plans for one of the season's most important events, Homecoming, are being directed by Bob Bradburn, vice president of the ASWC. He is being assisted by a committee composed of the vice president of each class. The committee includes Helmuth Bekowies, senior; Betty Lange, junior; Jim Carlson, sophomore; and Ellen Lockhead, freshman.

The Homecoming banquet, climax of the activities, is scheduled for 7 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Davenport hotel. Due to the increased size of the student body, it will be necessary to reserve two rooms for the occasion. Tickets for the first room, the Marie Antoinette, which seats about 400 persons, will go on sale two weeks in advance. Tickets for the Isabella room will be available later.

TWINLOW CONFERENCE

..... Huge Success

With the theme "What Seek Ye?" the Womens' Conference of 1947 was successfully launched with 145 enthusiastic girls, considerably more than the 11 who attended the first conference in 1934.

Between inspirational meetings led by Miss Mary Baker and Mrs. Eleanor Chase, the girls lounged around the fire, played games, hiked and even went swimming! Due to the K.P. crew (even the faculty served) and the cooks, every meal was delicious.

The banquet Saturday night and the "cuckoo" program was followed by Mrs. Carrel in charge of the dedication and testimony services. Miss Baker brought the Sunday sermon and Rev. Wade Barnes the communion service.

Everyone was tired, their voices hoarse from singing, and their clothes and bedding rather dirty and damp when they rolled through the Whitworth gates again, but they had a wonderful time because they had found what they had sought.

Homecoming Off To A Good Start

Homecoming got off to a good start this morning at the annual Alumni Chapel, which was arranged this year by Mrs. Jack Brown, east side vice president of the Alums.

Rev. Thomas Heath, '36, pastor of the Opportunity Presbyterian church, gave the devotional, and several selections were sung by Eleanor Barrow Chase, '41. Alfred W. Carlson, who is connected with the class of '17, let students of the present in on life at Whitworth in the past.

Call for Literary Material Sounded

Would you like to read a literary magazine in which your own work appeared?

Dr. Christianson wants contributions on or before Dec. 1. This first magazine would be a supplement to the Whitworthian. Contributions would be published at the end of each quarter. As interest grows and more material is submitted, a separate magazine will be published.

An editorial board will be set up to pass on short stories, essays, poems, or articles. There is no restriction on style. Anyone on the campus is eligible to submit original work.

Pres. Warren Visits Famous Cattle Ranch

Dr. Warren was a guest of Mr. Robert Lazear, manager of the Wyoming Hereford Ranch, during his recent trip to Wyoming.

The WHR is one of the five largest and most famous in the United States. Prize Herefords are raised and bred for the improvement of quality in herd strains. Mr. Lazear refused $100,000 for Helmsman III, a prize bull, at a Denver Stock Show, and has paid as high as $50,000 for a new addition to his herds.

Besides being an active cattleman, Mr. Lazear is an active Christian worker. He was the first president of the initial Gideon camp in Wyoming, and taught a boys' Sunday School class in Cheyenne. He practices and promotes Christian doctrines on the ranch.

This week Mr. Lazear was a breakfast guest of Dr. Warren.

PRES. WARREN ASSISTING IN NEW LIFE MOVEMENT OUT OF STATE

Besides the many calls that come to preach Sundays in the churches throughout the Synod, Dr. Frank F. Warren has been able to accept two calls for work in more distant churches.

From Sunday, October 19, through the 24th he was the guest of the First Presbyterian Church of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and spoke each day along the line of evan-

Albert Brown's Death Sobers Gala "Home Coming" Spirit

The death Tuesday, Oct. 28, of Albert Brown, Whitworth alumnus, saddened the preparations for Homecoming activities. A graduate of the class of '45, Al died in Portland as the result of injuries received in a bus and truck collision.

As a student at Whitworth, Al was an outstanding participant in campus activities. In 1944 he won the Pirette inspirational award as captain of the basketball team. Until war forced cancellation of football, he played on the varsity squad. Al was ASWC treasurer, a member of the student council, and listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Warren commented that, "he was a high, moral, clean type of man."

While a student, Al lived with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson He taught at Reardan high school, and this year was teaching at Washougal high school.

He is survived by his mother and sister of Corvallis, Montana.

DAD ELLIOTT WILL BE FEATURED SPEAKER at HOMECOMING BANQUET

Featured speaker at the Homecoming banquet tomorrow night will be Dr. A. J. Elliott, nationally known youth worker, and for many years international secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

Dr. A. J. Elliott
Banquet Speaker

Affectionately known as "Dad" to tens of thousands of American college and high school students, Doctor Elliott is no stranger to the Whitworth campus, having been the leader of Spiritual Emphasis Week a few years ago.

In recent years, "Dad" Elliott has been serving as executive secretary of Christian Evangelism Among Youth, Inc. with head-

The urge to see familiar faces and familiar places is drawing a huge number of Whitworth alumni to the campus for Homecoming festivities today and tomorrow. Between the various activities guests will have time to wander over the campus and observe the "growing pains" of the college in its effort to keep pace with the record enrollment of this year.

Play—Ball Game

A pep rally in anticipation of tomorrow's Pine Bowl football encounter with Western Washington College of Education will precede tonight's presentation by the drama department of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," starring Lawrence White as Mr. Barrett. A repeat performance of the Homecoming play will be given Nov. 6.

Saturday's events include the football game at 2 p. m. and the Homecoming banquet at the Davenport hotel at 7 p. m.

The organization which presents the most novel and attractive decorating project on the campus will be awarded a prize. The best decorated dorm honor, won last year by Westminster hall, will also be awarded. Winners of these contests will be announced later.

quarters in Chicago. In this capacity he has visited campuses throughout the nation.

A star football player at Northwestern in his own college days, he has often been the guest of "Babe" Hollingbery when Hollingbery was head football coach at Washington State college.

Dr. Elliott will be a guest of the campus until Wednesday, speaking at the Sunday evening service, and at a combined chapel and evening service Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Time will be arranged for interviews concerning life work and spiritual problems. Dr. Elliott is speaking to students of Washington State college today.

Will You Be There?

A mad week-end of football, homecoming activities, get-togethers and that ten-in-one-room feeling, that's homecoming. It's a time for renewing the old and meeting the new.

When the class of '16 meets class of '46 school spirit runs high. This same spirit makes treasured memories of the past return to be relived again at the college beneath the pines.

When your heart starts to pining in a lonely sort of way and you yearn for the happiness of another bygone day, it's homecoming time.

If life's path seems hard to follow and you're feeling mighty blue, there's a certain pine-clad hollow with comfort just for you.

Here's where old friends meet again anew and spread forth reunion tonic that makes life seem good to you, at homecoming time.

The spot is where the pine trees nestle in a friendly sort of way and offer one a shelter as they whisper all the day.

All the friends of yesterday most surely will be there, to form again communion with a homelike sort of prayer, when you meet at homecoming time.

Take your pennants out of storage and polish up the old class ring and live again in yesteryear in this alumnater's fling.

When the day is over and homeward bound you go, life will seem a whole lot better with homecoming friends you know. —A.E.H., Jr.

EIGHT-BALLS

It is hoped that the persons responsible for the disappearance of the pictures from the campaign posters have found the cause of their mental frustration.

The act of removing the photos in itself might be overlooked as adolescent campaigning, but the fact remains that the pictures upon being retrieved were found to have been written upon. In ink were the words, "To . . . with all my love . . ." This is clearly a case for a psychiatrist.

Another point not to be overlooked is the fact that the pictures of the candidates which were borrowed for the campaign were the treasured possessions of their immediate families and in several instances the only copies in existence. The tinted photo of Miss Marjorie Scott is an example. —A. L.

The attendance at the last two home games seems to indicate that the student body of Whitworth college exists in name only. If there is a reason why everybody was so conspicuous by their absence, maybe we would all write letters to the football team.

ROOMS OR NO ROOMS! THEY'RE HERE!

My Mother

by Raymond Gouldin*

Who carried me beneath her heart,
 Who in this world gave me my start,
 And from dreams for me would never part?
 My Mother.

When sleep came not for baby eyes,
 Who sang to me sweet lullabies?
 The one who always hushed my cries—
 My Mother.

Who gave to me my Buddy Lee,
 My little doll to play with me,
 And sweetly smiled at childish glee?
 My Mother.

Who'd run to help me when I fell,
 And kiss the place to make it well,
 And then a funny story tell?
 My Mother.

Who taught my boyish lips to pray,
 To love the Saviour and to say,
 "I'll trust His leading day by day!"?
 My Mother.

And as a man I grew to be,
 Who's love was mine most constantly,
 Who helped God's plan for me to see?
 My Mother.

Now she has left us suddenly,
 To be with Him eternally,
 Leaving a lovely memory . . .
 My Mother.

*Inspired by my mother, Helen, and aided by a poem of Ann Taylor's.

"If ye love me, keep my commandments."

St. John 14:15.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

I would like to know whether or not school is going to be dismissed or not this year in honor of Armistice Day. I am of the opinion that at a time such as this, it would not be at all inappropriate to take a day off to honor those who died in the late war, and to contemplate the situation which now surrounds us and may eventually engulf us in confusion, mistrust and disunity.

Maybe the tramp of marching feet, and the beat of a drum may not help our grades any, but they weren't giving any of those the day they raised the flag on Iwo Jima. Name Withheld.

NO BODY KNOWS WHERE HE GOES

On Halloween our thoughts are always turned to weird objects in general and skeletons in particular. Our very own skeleton, Gus, 'tis said, darts up the stairs of the biology lab every Halloween and goes to a local cemetery for a gab fest with some of his friends.

When you consider that this is all the social life that Gus has, you can imagine that he looks forward to Halloween all year long. Gus is an unusually silent skeleton, he hardly rattles at all when the breeze from the open window blows through him. The other day, though, I heard him rasp, "Wonder if the boys would like sardines and crackers this time. It's so hard to know what to bring to these annual midnight potlucks." Then he shook his skull and looked quite dispirited but there remained an anticipatory twinkle in his orbital socket.

So if you hear in the distance a group of ghostly voices harmonizing on "Dem Dry Bones" or "I ain't Got No Body", you should rejoice, for that undoubtedly is Gus and his friends enjoying their annual spree.—B. Deemy.

SPOKANE EDITOR SPEAKS TO CLASS

Rodger Bankson, owner-editor of the Spokane County News, discussed the problems of a "weekly" with the Journalism 15 class Tuesday, September 21.

"There are more and more openings for those who are really interested in journalism to get into the weekly field through openings being made by those editors and publishers who are retiring," said Mr. Bankson.

In his talk, Mr. Bankson stressed the point that a genuine willingness to work was the first essential for success in the weekly newspaper field. He went on to explain how the rising costs of printing have influenced the print shops and made it mandatory that job printing be done to keep up expenses.

Alumni Close Brick Drive; $2000 Raised for Arts Bldg.

The latest project of the Alumni association, and one which was undertaken this summer, is that of bricking the Fine Arts building.

Paul Wickstrom, chairman for the project, in speaking of the endeavor, said, "With the Homecoming celebration this year, Alumni association brings its brick campaign to a successful close. Approximately $2,000 was raised from gifts of friends of the college. This sum paid for the materials used in the exterior remodeling of the Fine Arts building."

Friends who helped in the financing of the program included members of the women's auxiliary, the Board of Trustees, faculty members, and the alumni. Gifts also came from alumni in foreign lands, India, China, Mexico and Alaska.

The last project undertaken by the Alumni association before the one which just closed was the securing of a motion picture projector for the school at a cost of $500. This project was under the direction of Mrs. S. A. Postell.

The next event for the association following Homecoming will be an informal Thanksgiving get-together at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Francis T. Hardwick.

Officers of the group include Dr. Lester R. Hussey, an optometrist in the city, president; Mrs. Jack Brown, vice president, acting as social chairman and representative for the eastern Washington section of the association; Mr. Keith Hickox, vice president and representative for the western Washington section; Mr. George Hendrick, vice president and representative for the Association in the San Francisco area; Miss Tami Nozaki, also vice president, and representative for the group in the mid-West; and Mr. George Van Leuven, vice president and representative for the Atlantic division.

Other officers of the group include Mrs. George (Barbara) Stout, secretary; Mr. Louis Boni, treasurer; Mr. Carl L. Boppell, Trustee representative; and Miss Peggy Cromer, last-class representative.

The publicity staff for the Association includes Miss Hazel I. Barnes, news editor; and Mr. Paul Wikstrom, mail supervisor.

ECUADOR HANDS FREE ORCHIDS TO COLLEGIANS

Free—Orchids to you—is the offer being made by a South American botanical experimental station to WHITWORTHIAN readers.

In conjunction with the college paper, Ecuador is attempting to strengthen hemispheric solidarity by offering orchid seeds and complete instructions as to propagation of the exotic and beautiful tropical flower in your home or dorm room.

These orchid seeds may be had by writing to: Director, South American No. 1, Botanical Experimental Station, Casilla 2220, Quito, Ecuador, South America.

The experiment station says that ten cents in coin will be appreciated to help defray cost of collecting, handling, packing and mailing.

Time of delivery is six weeks via air mail, three months ordinary mail.

CURTAIN SWINGS OPEN ON PLAY BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET

Tonight at 8 the curtain will rise on "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," the presentation being given by the Whitworth drama department as this year's homecoming play.

Rudolph Beiser's Broadway production has been released for the first time for amateur theatricals. The play is a life story of the lives of Elizabeth Moulton Barrett and Robert Browning and has gained international recognition because of its audience appeal.

Betty Lange and Mary Lois Taylor share the feminine lead of Elizabeth Barrett. Lawrence White and Graley Taylor share the male lead in the part of Robert Browning.

Others in the cast include Betty Summerson, Dorothy Leavens, Nearine Marcus, Charles Bovee, Bud Frazier, Donald Smith, Melvin Unruh, Vern Tucker, Arthur Litscher, Lawrence Beal, who are cast as members of the Barrett family. Keva Rupp and Norman Gano play the parts of Bella Hedley and Henry Bevan. James Carlson and Wally Toeves are cast as Doctor Ford-Waterlow and Captain Surtees Cook.

Dr. Young had served as a missionary to Persia for 10 years, and has served on the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian church for 12 years.

Pace In Stagecraft Set By Stage Sets

A necessary and vital part in the Homecoming play is being done by the stagecraft class under the direction of Professor Waltz. Old settings have been patched and painted, and several new backs constructed. Credit for much of the work goes to Mel Unruh, student stage manager.

Practical experience in repairing and constructing stage sets under exacting conditions sets the pace for the course.

ANTOINETTE ROOM READY FOR BANQUET

Developing around the Homecoming theme "and then, tomorrow", plans for the banquet tomorrow night at the Davenport are nearly completed, according to Bob Bradburn, chairman of the Homecoming program.

Bradburn reports that the guest speaker will be "Dad" Elliott, a well known Northwestern University football star of the past, and that Dr. Mark Koehler of the Whitworth faculty will be master of ceremonies.

The banquet will be served in the Marie Antoinette and Isabella rooms at 7 p. m. There will be an intermission following the dinner, after which the guests will assemble in the Marie Antoinette room for the program of the evening.

Dr. Frank Warren, college president, will comment on the Homecoming theme, "And then, tomorrow." Other campus talent on the program will include a trombone solo, vocal numbers, and a humorous reading. The popular Whitworth Radio Choir, under the direction of Professor Anders, will sing several selections.

Decorations of the banquet rooms is under the direction of the A.W.S. Ticket sales are handled by the Pirettes, with Bruce McCullough in charge of alumni sales. Publicity arrangements have been assumed by Alpha Kappa Chi, town student organization.

STAR NAMES IN NEWS WORLD DUE ON CAMPUS

Four local newspaper and magazine workers will address Whitworth college journalism classes in a series of lectures during November, it was announced today by Prof. A. O. Gray, head of the college journalism department. The series include:

Nov. 4—Herb Ashlock, sports editor of the Spokane Daily Chronicle, on "Sports Writing".

Nov. 11—Cecil Hagen, assistant to the managing editor of the Farm Trio, on "Agricultural Journalism".

Nov. 18—Col. Charles Stark, magazine editor of the Spokesman Review, on "The Magazine".

Nov. 25 — Lang Armstrong, head of the art department of the Daily Chronicle, on "Newspaper Art".

October speakers of the series have included Ellsworth C. French of the Daily Chronicle, Jack Hauptli, United Press, Bill Johnston, Associated Press and Rodger R. Bankson, Spokane County News.

The lecturers are being brought to the college classes through the cooperation of the Spokane Press club.

FOOTBALL NEEDS SCIENTIFIC WATCHING; HOW TO SEE PLAYS

Because football is a scientific game, it sometimes confuses spectators who thought they knew a little about the game, and then find out that they don't even know how to watch a contest to get the most enjoyment from it, regardless of score.

Here are pointers that will help if you remember them at the next game:

Eye Blockers

On the kick-off keep your eye on the ball until it is about ready to be caught, then switch your attention to the blockers up field. Some of the most interesting blocking occurs in these few seconds.

When a back fades to throw a pass, switch over and watch the ends and other backs going down the field. Note how they cut, swerve and dodge in-and-out.

LIFE SERVICE INSTALLS AT WARREN HOME

Life Service club, with Helen Parsons as president, held its annual installation banquet at Dr. and Mrs. Warren's home Oct. 23.

The buffet dinner was followed by an inspirational time of testimonies when several of the members told about the fields of their choice for full-time Christian service. Nancy Osborne sang a solo, and Mrs. Warren, the club's adviser, gave the devotional.

At a candle-light service which followed, the officers and committee heads were installed.

Further work on the year's project was outlined at the Tuesday meeting of Life Service when the group was divided into committees. The committees will put to use their knowledge at a downtown mission. Committee heads are:

Arts and crafts, Alice Kelly; publicity, Deedie Marcus, music, Nancy Osborne; and teaching methods, Nancy McFarlane.

The Whitworth journalism department, established in September, 1946, now offers a complete academic major in the subject with approximately 20 separate

EXPERIENCE AND WEIGHT ARE CAUSE OF JAYVEE TEAM DEFEAT

The Whitworth Jayvees suffered a 27 to 0 defeat by the hands of a powerful Cheney team on the Cheney field Friday afternoon October 24.

This was the Whitworth jayvees first game of the season and Coach Lou Boni stated that: "Although Cheney had us outweighed on an average of 11 pounds per man, it was the lack of experience which counted most against our team."

Coach Boni felt quite sure that when the two teams meet again this Thursday afternoon in the Whitworth Pine bowl the experience gained from the last encounter may be all that is needed to give the Jayvee team the game. At any rate, he feels sure that this score will be far different than the last one.

Promoters Plug Queen Candidates

Advertising, orthodox or otherwise, reached a new high on the campus as promoters for the various Queen candidates sought to capture the public eye.

Leading the promotional stunts were the skits at the all-student meeting held last week. The "W" Club gave a big backing, if nothing else, to the candidate, Annie Skeels. Pre-med's have diagnosed the case with an Rx of Frances Anderson. Their signboards, patterned after a well-known shaving soap ad, can be seen at prominent curves on the campus.

Whitworth Players' rendition of "Margie" portrayed the heroine of the song as Marjory Scott. Special telegrams in post office boxes announced Alpha Beta's candidate, Beth Roduner. Coleen Pickert, Philadelphian choice, was the answer to the court case they "heard" before the student body. "I dream of Jeannie —" introduced Jean Tanner, Life Service nominee.

Until some unknown person removed their photographs, posters with pictures of the candidates were prominent.

courses in journalistic technique. Courses offered this quarter are "Introduction to Journalism", "Newspaper Desk Work", "Reporting and Correspondence", "Principles of Advertising", "History of Journalism", and "Research Seminar".

Flying Parsons Organize Club

The first steps in organizing a flying club here were taken this week under the leadership of Russell Tuma. The increasing air-mindedness in the foreign mission fields has been the incentive for the establishment of such a club.

Opportunities for the spreading of the gospel through flying are evident in South America. In Brazil travel time has been cut to 1-90th by the use of air travel.

A flying instructor, also holding a commercial pilot's licence, has volunteered his services, and will be assisted by several students who have flying experience. Mr. Moran, the Western Skyways representative and Stinson dealer for Spokane, is working for the interests of the club.

DEBATING CLUB TO ORGANIZE

Whitworth debaters (not yet organized) are meeting twice weekly to prepare for the tournament season which gets under way next month. Meetings are held at 4:20 on Mondays and 10:10 on Thursdays.

The initial contest between two of our teams is on Thursday Nov. 6, when L. G. Baker and Helmuth Bekowies will accept the challenge of Earl Mortlock and Phil Strawn.

Nov. 21 is the first inter-school

TILL PRESIDENT ENGINEERS CLUB

George Till was chosen president of the Engineer's Club at a recent meeting. Other officers and committee chairmen elected include the following: Vice president, Newton Galloway; secretary, Cliff Taylor; treasurer, Bob Brugge; program committee, Morris Hulin; field trips, Bob Brugge; special events, Bill Butz; technical service, Harold Wimpy.

The Engineers plan to meet during chapel period in the physics laboratory each Thursday of the month except the first. Membership includes all men who are pre-engineers, physics, math and chemistry majors.

A HAUNTING A HOOTIN AND A HOWLING

Merriment and fun were the characteristics of all the class parties held last Friday evening.

A haunted house 10 miles out in the country became the scene of the most successful junior class party in years. Games and singing were enjoyed in a strictly Halloween atmosphere.

The devotions were led by the class president, L. G. Baker, and Lee Raibley and his committee were responsible for the party's success.

The atmosphere frolicked in the basement of the dining hall under the direction of Wes Banta and Marshall Hodge. Skits, folk games, and singing were the order of the evening. Bob Ryland brought the devotions.

Variety was the keynote present at the freshmen class party which was planned by the class social chairman Colleen Pickert. There were booths for fortune tellings, dart throwing, a penny pitch, and a marriage booth, plus a boxing exhibition. Ben Fairchild led the brief devotion at the close of the party.

SWITCH BOARD EASES PHONE SERVICE SNARL

The installation of the new and larger telephone switchboard in the Registrar's office has eliminated a great number of the troubles caused by the old one.

When fully installed it will mean that every department will have an individual telephone line instead of three or four parties on the same line. This will not only serve to speed up the service but will help to keep the three trunk lines from becoming congested.

The staff who operate this switchboard between their class periods are:

Kathleen Boyle, Mildred Thompson, Margaret Neilson, Barbara Deemy, Nadine Lampkin, Mac Sofie, Barbara Aultman, Mrs. Jerry Mahaffey and Mrs. Robert Bowdy.

This will be a practice tournament with Gonzaga and several other northwest schools participating.

The girls who live in the new dormitory have chosen to name it Nason Hall, in honor of Blanche Nason, Whitworth '33. Miss Nason was the founder of the present El Nathan Home, an orphanage in Valdez, Alaska.

Upon her graduation from Whitworth, Miss Nason felt a deep conviction that she should enter missionary work in Alaska. In spite of many handicaps she felt that the way would be opened for her, and on the day she had to either pay for her ticket or miss the last boat she received a check just large enough to cover her ticket and essential supplies.

When she arrived at Valdez, Alaska, a delegation of townspeople was at the dock to meet her. They were without a Christian leader, and begged her to stay there and work in that community. Although her aim was to reach the interior, she agreed to remain in Valdez for at least the winter months.

One day that winter, some Indians who had heard of her, brought a five-year old half-breed orphan to her home, and asked her to care for the child. She agreed, and before long others brought orphans and unwanted waifs to live with her. She accepted this responsibility in addition to her full-time mission work and frequent care of the sick. Thus, the orphanage, which is still in operation was started.

Four or five years later, Miss Nason became ill with a throat infection, and died before she could be taken to the only hospital in that area, which was 100 miles away.

Her dream of going into the interior was never realized, but her work in the Valdez community was such that it shall never be forgotten.

Fourteen Freshmen With Honors Here

Fourteen freshmen are here on scholarships this year, representing four states and one foreign country. They are: Frances Anderson, Duluth, Minn.; Marjorie Garcia, Cilroy, Calif.; Coleen Griffith, Omak, Wash.; Donald Hays, Creston, Wash.; Robert Paulen, St. Regis, Mont.; Lorraine Fiddler, Sequim, Wash.; Clara Belle Hartford, Lenexa, Kansas; Phillip Strawn, Spokane, Wash.; Bonny Krug, Seattle, Wash.; Elaine Plaster, Reardon, Wash.; and Betty Fouta, Athens, Greece.

KLEINBACH "IN" AS PRESIDENT

New officers have been elected for the Modern Language clubs. Prof. O. G. Bachimont, has announced.

German club; John Kleinbach, president; Lester Kirkendorfer, vice president; Dick Carr, secretary-treasurer. French club; Walt Dawson, president; Charlene Boquet, vice president; William Sauve, secretary-treasurer. Professor Bachimont is the faculty advisor.

"CHAPEL HOUR" STARTS 8TH YEAR ON AIR LANES

When the Whitworth Chapel Hour "signs off" its weekly radio broadcast on station KHQ, Sunday, Nov. 2, it will have completed seven years on the air as one of the Inland Empire's most popular religious programs.

Has Choice Spot

The Chapel Hour's first broadcast originated from KHQ in November, 1940. It continued on that station until March, 1946. At that time, the program moved to station KGA, where it was heard until June of this year. The program was not heard this summer, its only period off the air in seven years. This month the Chapel Hour returned to KHQ, where it was delegated the choice listening hour of 9 a. m. each Sunday.

Is Old Hand

The program is under the supervision of Dr. Warren, who usually conducts the service. No stranger to radio, Dr. Warren supervised a similar program over station KOMO, Seattle some years ago, called "The Fellowship Hour." The musical portion of the Chapel Hour features 13 selected voices, under the direction of Wilbur L. Anders, Whitworth voice professor. Strong hymns of the church are sung and occasionally an anthem or a soloist is featured.

Betty Ann Douglass, who last year won an American Legion music award, has often been featured soloist. The Chapel Hour is identified by its signature, "O, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee." The program is usually broadcast "live", but can be transcribed and "played-back" if members of the program have other commitments at air-time.

Returning to KHQ, at the start of its eighth year, the Chapel Hour is assured of a large listening audience on a powerful regional station that not only "blankets" the Inland Empire but also northeast Oregon, north Idaho, western Montana and parts of Canada.

W.A.A. CARNIVAL SET FOR NOV. 8

A W-Club committee under supervision of Jerry Mahaffey, chairman, in conjunction with the W.A.A. will present a carnival November 8, at 8 p. m.

Furnish Soda

"This isn't just a carnival," states Jerry Mahaffey, "it is the carnival!" There, all can enjoy the various concessions and booths that will provide numerous games of skill; each and every one will be able to test his emotional stability by—no, we will not disclose this information—find out for yourselves. Refreshments of quality and quantity will be served; in fact, it isn't even necessary to bring your own bicarbonate of soda—we furnish that.

"The climax of the carnival should be the most entertaining of all," says Mahaffey. "It may be interpreted in any degree, call it a skit, call it a vaudeville; nevertheless, we promise loads of fun and laughter for all as our four-act show gets under way."

CHINESE SNARL HARD TO SEE WHILE IN LAND

Mr. Hugh Walburn, executive for the army and navy Y.M.C.A. in China, told a chapel audience last Monday that it is difficult for one in China to see a picture of the country as a whole because one is in the midst of great chaos. "Everyone," he said, "is trying to work in for himself, and the lack of cooperation prevents progress in the country."

Inflation is one of the greatest hindrances to progress. The ratio of exchange is 90,000-1. Only a few superficial efforts have been made to solve the problem, Mr. Walburn pointed out. Among other conditions which are retarding the country, the speaker cited inadequacy of transportation as being foremost. Also contributing to the chaotic picture is the lack of an efficient importation system.

Mr. Walburn believes that the over-all factor accounting for China's present plight is that as a government she has forgotten her people.

Should the Government Compete with Business?

ANSWER: Not in those fields where business is able and willing to stand on its own feet and do a good job. For example, business-managed electric companies have constantly increased service to the public at steadily decreasing rates—at the same time paying great sums of money as taxes to maintain the essential functions of government, such as education.

THE WASHINGTON WATER POWER COMPANY

PIRATES HOST to VIKINGS at HOME COMING

SEEK LEAGUE VICTORY FROM NORSE

It will be Pirates vs. Vikings as Whitworth plays host to the Western Washington College of Education in the Pirate Homecoming game in the Pine bowl tomorrow afternoon.

Not only will the Pirates be out to grab a Winco contest for their victory-hungry followers, but also to avenge a 13-0 defeat handed them by the Vikings at Bellingham last year.

The Westerners come to Whitworth with a 2-1 record in league play this year, claiming victories over St. Martin's and the strong Central Washington eleven while losing a 6-0 thriller to Pacific Lutheran.

Besides fielding an impressive first team laden with power, the Vikings have ample reserves from which to bolster their strength. Western employs free use of unlimited substitution in an effort to wear down its opponents.

Tucker Honorary Captain

The Pirates will be the underdog in tomorrow's battle, but they have an excellent chance to pull an upset. A dry field will be one of the elements in favor of the Whits. Coach Stannard has elected Vern Tucker as honorary captain for the Pirates in the final home game of the year.

FROM THE SIDELINE

By Walt Dawson

At long last the bleachers for the gymnasium finally made their appearance. School officials were ready to file copies of the requisition past the old files and into the waste baskets when the long-awaited seats arrived. These new roll-away bleachers will be a permanent fixture in Graves Hall, a vast improvement over the old wooden portable bleachers of last year. One can remember the basketball season last year when it was a "life and death" matter to rest upon the wooden structures. The new fixtures will offer a greater seating capacity, and between games they can be easily rolled and folded against the wall.

Gold Dust: Coach Stannard declares Kohlstaedt will stand up to any center in the conference—bar none—and we all agree. An indication of how valuable Big Bob is to the Pirates is try to get along without him, as was evidenced in the St. Martin's game last Saturday - - - It's still a three-way scramble among W.W.C.E., Pacific Lutheran and E.W.C.E. for the Winco championship. The winner won't be known until after the final gun on November 15 - - - Western Washington lost to Pacific Lutheran 6-0. The Lutes tied Cheney, and Cheney dropped the Pirates 6-0. On paper that makes the Vikings and Pirates about even, but remember the Vikings beat St. Martin's 35-6 and C.W.C.E. 4-0. Past scores don't mean a thing. If the Whits play as they did last Saturday, Western can dictate the score, but an inspired Pirate eleven, such as that which stood against Cheney, could pull an upset.

KNIGHT GROUP SEES NEED; DOUBLES SIZE

Motto is "Loyalty, Sacrifice, Service"

The Intercollegiate Knights announce that due to the need for this type of a group and the opportunities for its services on the campus, they will double their membership from 10 to 20 men in the very near future.

All But Seniors

Members for this organization are chosen from the freshmen, sophomore, and junior classmen who have served in the promotion of school activities and have maintained an acceptable scholastic standing.

The motto of the organization is "Loyalty, Sacrifice, and Service".

This organization will provide an excellent opportunity for lower classmen to show their loyalty and willingness to support their school by means of participation in tasks to which they are called, states Robert (Bob) Ryland, the Knight Duke.

PIRATES FALL TO ST. MARTINS ; TIME STOPS FINAL ADVANCE

Whitworth dropped its third consecutive league game last Saturday 25-20 in a free scoring game played in the Pine bowl.

The first half saw St. Martin's take the lead as they scored in each of the first two quarters. Bob Zanala, Ranger fullback scored the Mart's first tally in the first period when he bucked over from the ten, and taking a touchdown pass on the five stepped across for the second score.

The Bucs scored on the first play of the second period when Sam Tague, quarterback pitched an 11 yard pass to Bill Sleeth, who fought his way into the clear and raced 43 yards for the score.

The first half was highlighted by a 60 yard jaunt by Al Vallarano, but the play was nullified by a Pirate penalty. Vallarano played magnificent offensive ball in the first half, ripping the St. Martin's line apart for many sizeable gains.

Tucker Leads Rally

worth ace entered the game in the second half and sparked two Pirate touchdowns. The first a sustained march downfield with Tucker and Pat Clyde carrying on nearly every play with Tucker smashing over from the two on a lateral play.

The second Whit score came midway in the fourth period when Tucker, after leading another drive rifled a 15 yard pass to end Al Good for the final Pirate score.

St. Martins scored two touchdowns in the final period, one as the result of a blocked Whitworth punt, the other one a 32 yard hand-off play to Bob Zanala, who romped to his third score of the day.

Whitworth was on a goal line march in the closing minutes of the game but the clock ran out before it could materialize.

Fine defensive and offensive ball was played by the entire Pirate team, with the return of 127 pound Ernie Cress to the line adding a lot of fire in the forward wall.

NO DAY OFF FOR NOV. 11

Dr. Merton D. Munn revealed today that unless the faculty intervenes, classes will be held as usual Nov. 11, Armistice day.

The college calendar does not call for a school holiday Nov. 11, but Munn indicated that a holiday might be declared if officials approve.

Public schools in the city have observed the day in former years with street parades and observances to honor the war dead.

The next scheduled holiday for the college begins Nov. 26 and extends to Dec. 1. Christmas vacation starts Dec. 12 and runs through Jan. 5, the date when instruction for the winter quarter begins.

ORGAN CONCERT BY FLOR PEETERS

DR. HARDWICK'S WORK HAILED BY ALL THOSE WHO KNOW HIM

By Ed Stutheit

It not so infrequently happens that in a busy institution such as Whitworth the sacrifices by one person made through a period of years for the welfare of others goes unrecognized. While many students and faculty members have a deep appreciation for the services which Dr. Hardwick has rendered to our college, many are not aware that Dr. Hardwick is the member of the faculty who has been with the school the greatest number of years.

These years have been spent in furthering the welfare of the school and in service to others. Dr. Hardwick is beloved by many students who have received instruction and counsel from him throughout the years. An expression of this is found in the dedication of the 1931 Natshil: "To Dr. Francis T. Hardwick, who has caught a vision of the future Whitworth and whose tireless efforts, unselfish service, and loyal support have been expended toward that end."

Dr. Hardwick's field of study has been in the realms of education and psychology; he is also a scholar and teacher of the Greek language. That he is genuinely interested in education is evidenced by the surveys he has made of personality tests and the contributions he has made to various educational societies. An article in a 1930 WHITWORTHIAN has this to say about these endeavors:

"Members of Dr. Hardwick's class in Measurement of intelligence have been making practical use of their studies. Arrangements have been made whereby members of the class may give tests to the students of the Whitworth public schools, and the data that is obtained and worked with is taken under personal observation, thus providing both interest in the course and practical value."

"DAD" ELLIOTT HIGHLIGHTS WEEK

Highlighting campus chapel speakers so far was the series of lectures given by Dr. Elliott "Dad" Elliott, as he is affectionately known, spoke on a variety of subjects drawn from his diversified experiences.

"Will you be one of the eight?" drew wide comment from the student body because of the interest it created, and the way it was developed. "Dad" Elliott commented that more than eight out of every 800 could be successful with the opportunities for advancement given here.

Speaking at night, as well as for chapel, "Dad" brought messages on "temptation" and how to cope with it; the "best defense is a mighty offense"; and "as a man thinks, so he acts in the time of crisis."

The student response to his lectures gives tribute to the esteem with which they hold him. Students turned out in large numbers for each scheduled speech, and many took advantage of individual guidance offered by him.

Pres. Hits Trail East

Dr. Warren left yesterday for Chicago, Duluth, and Minneapolis, where he will speak for several groups and churches. The primary purpose of his trip is to supply the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of Duluth for two Sundays in November, and to renew friendships made in that area. He will speak in the high school and college there, and in the neighboring city of Virginia. Dr. Warren will speak in several churches and at a luncheon of ministers of Presbyterian churches in the Minneapolis and St. Paul area on November 19 through the 21, returning to the campus the evening of Nov. 23.

Foreign Organist Coming Dec. 5th

Flor Peeters, celebrated Belgian musician, will present an organ recital under sponsorship of the Whitworth music department at the Spokane First Baptist Church, at Second and Lincoln in Spokane, at 8:15 p. m., Friday, December 5.

Mr. Peeters, who is the organist at the Metropolitan Cathedral of Belgium, is acclaimed as one of the world's greatest virtuosi. Still a young man, he has a great many successful compositions to his credit. He has been favorably received in all the great cities of Europe. This year marks his second tour of the United States.

Tickets for the organ recital are $1.25. Whitworth students will be admitted for 75 cents with student body cards.

Mr. Peeter's recital will include the following numbers:

- Prelude and Fugue in B Major. Bach
- Three Old Netherland Masters.
- a. Canon in A. Demonte
- b. Gavotte. Rayck
- Prelude and Fugue in F Major. Buxtehude
- Variations and Fugue on an old Flemish Song. Peeters
- Piece Heroique. Franck
- Adagio and Fugue from the Third Symphony. Vierns

Christian College Defined By Warren

Prior to his leaving for a tour of the midwest, Dr. Frank F. Warren, Whitworth president, addressed the student body in a chapel service on Nov. 10 on the subject, "What is a Christian College?"

Dr. Warren stated that such a college is not only an organization, but also an organism, Jesus Christ being its motivating force. He stressed that the Christian colleges of today have an important part to play in the critical world scene.

The policy of Whitworth has never been to "cram" its ideals and religious standards down the throats of its students, but to enroll students who are in accord with the purpose of Whitworth, or at least are willing to cooperate, he said.

Dr. Warren cited instances of many who desire to study at Whitworth, but due to the limited facilities are not able to.

A photograph of all Whitworth students planning to enter full time Christian service was taken following the chapel service. The picture is to be used in the next school bulletin.

Flight Club Approved

The Student Council put their stamp of approval last Friday on the newly organized flying club. Their unanimous decision came after Gene Smith set before them the plans and purposes of the club.

Under consideration now is a contract with the Spokane Sky Ranch which will enable the club to use a Taylorcraft plane for $3.50 an hour. Licensed instructors who have donated their time free are Rob Marvin, a former navy pilot, and Irwin Gallaway, a former Army Air Force pilot and a pilot with T.W.A. for a year. Assisting them will be Bob Knottson and Russell Tuma.

All who are interested in flying for the mission field or any Christian fields of service can contact any of the above mentioned.

LANGUAGE CLUB TAKES 1st PRIZE

French-German club decorations of the Fine Arts building took first prize honors for homecoming. The project was a joint effort of the officers of the French and German clubs. Capturing the spirit of the game, the club used "Vanquish the Vikings" as their decoration slogan. Two Vikings (or reasonable facsimiles) pierced by spears, hung from the sides of a pirate ship topped by a crimson and black sail and flying a jolly-roger.

Chairman of the group was William Sauve, assisted by Charlene Boquet and Walt Dawson from the French club, and John Kleinbach and Lester Kirkendorfer from the German club. Mr. Bachmont is adviser for both groups.

SKYSTREAKS TO RECORD

The Navy captured the world's speed record in August, 1947, and, five days later, broke it with the jet-propelled "Skystreak," shown above. Piloted by Comdr. Turner E. Caldwell, Jr., USN, the plane flew 640.7 miles per hour in the first test at Muroc Field, Calif. Within a week Maj. Marion Carl, USMC, set a new mark of 650.6 miles per hour in the same plane.

BUILDING TO CONTINUE

Trustees Vote Accelerated Program

At the fall meeting of the Board of Trustees for Whitworth College, board members voted to accelerate the money-raising program for the new auditorium and administration building. The auditorium will cost between $250,000 and $300,000. Approximately $70,000 of this has been pledged, and a committee is studying the best methods of raising the additional money.

The auditorium will be built to seat at least 1200 persons.

Construction of the new buildings will result in additional dormitory space in Ballard and McMillan halls. Offices now located in these halls would be given space in the new buildings.

Thanksgiving Day Prayer

Dear God, I'm thankful for the food, friends, fireside, and fellowship that Thanksgiving day brings.
 I'm thankful as the mouth watering aroma of roasting turkey comes to my nostrils. I'm thankful for the warm glow of a crackling fire. I'm thankful for understanding silence between friends. I'm thankful for all these things, Lord. But in this thankfulness,
 Father, how have I brought thankfulness to others?
 Help me this coming year to go aside to thank that one whose smile helped me through a dismal day. To thank that one who aided me when there was need of human help. To reach out a hand and say thank you to the one who has criticized me justly. To thank those who have influenced my life in a positive way.
 Father, help me to express those hard to express thanks that enrich our human relationships. This is my prayer Thanksgiving Day, 1947.

"O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good: for His mercy endureth for ever." Psalms 136:1.

Man's Best Friend

The small brown mongrel licked the harsh hand that reached to grab her collar and thus disturb the tranquility of her dormitory sanctuary. A half-hour later that little dog, who had been everyone's friend, was dead on the dissecting table.
 Someone had decreed that personal feelings for a pet should be disregarded and that she should die.
 That dog was "Bubbles", the pet of the Whitworth campus.

A TRIBUTE TO BUBBLES

She's just another campus hound,
 That little friend of mine.
 A truer pal can not be found,
 Nor one that's half as fine.

Just a friend to have around,
 To welcome one with glee.
 And always make the world abound,
 With happiness for me.

But that happy wag of greeting,
 Has been silenced now by fate.
 And there's no more friendly meeting,
 Since she met that canine potentate

A man's inhuman passion,
 Has triumphed once again.
 But he's mighty out of fashion,
 When he kills a loving friend.

BEEP! BEEP!

If "cow-legs" students insist on "horseplay", maybe someone else should "moo-ve" in.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.
 All contributions must be signed,
 but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHIT-WORTHIAN office.

Those of us who have a faint concept of Liberty, Love, Freedom, and Devotion and those who have a faint recollection of the past five years of turmoil, let us consider our celebrating an Armistice Day. We can be nothing but truthful when we say "that Whitworthia should feel somewhat ashamed as to our reaction on November the eleventh."

On this campus it was nothing but the passing of another day, yet the whole United States celebrated a day of thankfulness for her freedom. Our attitude toward those who are no longer with us was of little value within our hearts and minds.

The unity of our nation meant nothing to us, except going to another class. To those ladies of this institution who lost their husbands we showed no appreciation nor did we feel the vacancy left by these missing persons who were very near and dear to them.
 Is the flag nothing to us but colored cloth waving on a high palce?
 To those boys who so gladly gave every drop of their devotion

NEW WAY TO SHAKESPEARE

Dr. Christianson has been trying a different technique in this quarter's Shakespeare course. He has some records of Shakespeare plays which make study pleasant.
 It is the hope of Dr. Christianson that more albums of records can be obtained and used by the students. At the present time, he has the "Merchant of Venice" and "Hamlet".

PRE-MEDS GO ON FIELD TRIP TO ST. LUKE'S

In their first field trip of the year the Pre-Med club was conducted through St. Luke's hospital on Nov. 10.

Dr. H. E. Alder, adviser to the club, stated that the trip is planned to be an annual event.

that we might have the peace and freedom, we now enjoy, we said nothing. The least we could have done was to thank God for their devotion, whose privileges we are enjoying. Whitworthia, is Armistice day just a passing routine to you?

Respectfully submitted,
 MEL UNRUH.

Campus Poll Favors Demos By Margin; Many Undecided

Democratic and Republican parties have fertile ground to cultivate among college students, according to a poll just taken on the campus, but if elections were held today, the Democrats would win. "Which party would you vote for if national elections were held today?" was the question asked.

Democratic—38%
No choice—32%
Republican—30%

Other polls asking the same question will be conducted on the campus periodically until election time next year.

COUPLE TO BE MARRIED ON RADIO SHOW

Robert Edwards, Whitworth student and Kathryn Dubach, both of Spokane, will be married Monday, November 17, on the Bride and Groom program in Hollywood, California.

Bob and his fiancé left last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yenny who will be the matron of honor and best man at the ceremonies. The program will be at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Pirates to Meet Farragut Vets in Basketball Opener

Whitworth opens the 1947-48 basketball season with a practice game at Farragut, Friday night, November 28. The following evening the Pirates play host to the Vets in a return game in Graves Hall. After these two games the Pirates take a rest before their December 5th encounter with Washington State at Pullman.

Tucker Top Scorer Pushed by Cruzen

Whitworth's speedy halfback, Vern Tucker, continued to pace the Pirate eleven in the scoring parade, having garnered six touchdowns in seven games for a total of 36 points. Bob Cruzen, whose injured rib has kept him sidelined for most of the season, is in runner-up spot with 28 tallies.

In team totals the Pirates trail their opponents 20-16 in touchdowns and 130-108 in total points, but hold an edge in conversions, 12-10.

LEADER SAYS "W" CLUB DEAL BIG SUCCESS

The W-club carnival of Nov. 8 was a great success, according to Jerry Mahaffey, chairman of the committee. "A cheerful and friendly atmosphere enveloped the gym," said Mahaffey, "as approximately 100 persons attended and participated in the fun."

"Not only did the crowd enjoy themselves displaying their skill for winning prizes, but we really 'wowed-em' by presenting the act of the year.

WHITS PLAY LUTES SAT.

The Pirates take to the airways tomorrow for a flight to Tacoma to tangle with the Pacific Lutheran eleven in one of the two Winco gridiron finales of the year. The other contest finds Western entertaining Eastern at Bellingham.

Crucial Test

The conference championship can well be decided by tomorrow's clash. The undefeated Gladiators need this last game to insure them of at least a tie for the title.

As evidenced by their past record, the Lutes are the strongest team in the league. They have tremendous power both in the line and in the backfield. Only Western has scored more points than Pacific Lutheran in league play, but the Tacoma eleven has the best defensive record with only 9 points being chalked up against them in four league battles.

The powerful Lutes have drubbed St. Martin's 35-0 and Central 26-2. Western held them for three quarters but finally gave in 6-0. Only Eastern has dented the Gladiator's record, holding them to 7-7 tie.

Hope for Dry Field

Tomorrow's contest will be played on a dirt field. The Pirates are hoping for a dry playing surface so as to give their speedy backs a chance to run. Not since the Cheney battle have the Pirates performed on a mud-free field.

The Lutes will be heavy favorites to repeat last year's 14-0 performance over Whitworth, but the Pirates are bidding for an upset. With almost the entire squad back in action the Whits are primed for their last but biggest battle of the season.

NEW NAMEPLATE

Our appreciation is extended to Frank Booth, art editor, for the new nameplate making its debut with this issue of the WHITWORTHIAN.

FROM THE SIDELINE

By Walt Dawson

Here and there about this and that: Maybe it was Dad Elliott's dressing room speech or maybe the team took heed of the locker room slogans, but one or the other brought results. That Pirate eleven that stood against Lewiston was the most spirited Whitworth club to take the field since the Eastern game at Cheney. Even in defeat the team looked good. The Lewiston backs found the Pirate forward wall almost invincible. Not one Logger was able to hit pay dirt by a line play. And this same Pirate line was just as impressive on offense. Usually a coach worries whether or not a line can hold the defense from rushing the passer, but not so last Friday night.

The line was giving our passers too much time; Pirate receivers were blanketed before the passers got rid of the ball. Stokke, Kohlstaedt, Olstad, Jones, Swanson, and Watson form the nucleus of our light but potent line . . .

But the Whitworth forward wall will really be up against it tomorrow at Tacoma.

Pacific Lutheran has a line averaging well over 200 pounds per man. In fact they don't have a linesman on the starting eleven under 212. Our only 200-pound starters are Kohlstaedt and Watson.

Last Game

Tomorrow's game will be the last Pirate encounter for Roestel, Holmes, and Watson. All three graduate next spring. "Dr" Jerry Wilson and "Dr." Dave Holmes spent 15 minutes taping Tague's right shoulder before the Lewiston game only to have Sammy return after the game with an identical injury to his left shoulder. The two "docs" got together, diagnosed Tague's case as an acromio-clavicular separation, grabbed some tape and proceeded to make Tague about one-third mummy. . .

It will be a sudden-death finish for the Winco title in tomorrow's games. Maybe the Pirates aren't going anywhere in the league, but they might have a little say about who gets the championship. An upset of the league leaders by the Pirates would do the trick.

NEW GUIDANCE PROGRAM COMING

WARREN RETURNS FROM TRIP TO DULUTH, ST. PAUL AND MID-WEST

Frank F. Warren, president, returned recently from a trip to the mid-west where he renewed old friendships, and made new friends for Whitworth.

The most important part of his trip was the new group of pastors who have received information of Whitworth. Many of these plan on supporting the college with gifts and by sending students.

While in St. Paul, President Warren spoke at the St. Paul Bible Institute to a group of 300 students.

During his stay in Duluth and Virginia, he spoke at several meetings, besides supplying the pastorate of First church in Duluth for two Sundays.

Several athletically and scholastically outstanding students of Duluth and Minneapolis have shown interest in Whitworth and asked for applications

Colonel Stark Gives Advice On Feature Writing

Anyone planning to write a feature article for a newspaper or magazine should first study that publication to determine its style and policies, is the advice Col. Charles Stark, feature editor of the Spokesman-Review, gave to Whitworth journalism students when he addressed them Nov. 18 in the current series of lectures on various phases of journalistic work.

Col. Stark has been affiliated with the Spokesman-Review in various capacities since 1931.

A difficult problem confronting editors is to be able to present news facts without subjecting themselves to libel suits, he said. Only after information has been made public through official channels is the newspaper free from danger of being charged with libelous statements, he explained.

Col. Stark invited students to submit feature articles to his publication, and assured them that if their story is not accepted it will be returned to them with an explanation of why it can not be accepted, or will have notations regarding necessary changes to make it suitable.

FROM KOREA HI WANG PARK

Robert Shrieve, class of '42, will be returning to the campus for the winter quarter to finish his college work.

Having recently returned from Seoul, Korea, where he was stationed, he is bringing with him Hi Wang Park, a Korean student, who will also enter the college in January.

Choir Makes Hit At Chapel Hour

The students were sent on Thanksgiving vacation with a song. A concert was given by the College choir and orchestra during the Wednesday chapel hour.

The orchestra under the direction of Prof. Nicola Ovanin, began the program. The college choir under the leadership of Prof. Anders presented four songs centered around the thought of Thanksgiving.

The final number by the orchestra, "Peter and the Wolf", with Charles Bovee as narrator, was the popular number of the hour.

FLOR PEETERS,

Belgian organist, will be presented in an organ recital tonight at 8:15 at the First Baptist church, 2nd and Lincoln.

Tickets will be available at the door

BEGINS WINTER QUARTER COUNSELLING PROGRAM

Head of Schools Tells Phi Alpha

... Educate for Freedom
John Shaw, superintendent of schools of the City of Spokane, was guest speaker at the Phi Alpha assembly Nov. 21. His subject was "Education for Freedom."

Mr. Shaw emphasized that education of the proper type is necessary to preserve our liberty. He pointed out that there must be no restrictions on the extent of training, and that there must be no element of fear or hatred injected into the minds of the students, as has been done in some totalitarian countries.

A new type of counselling program is to be inaugurated at Whitworth early in the winter quarter, according to Dr. Theron B. Maxson, dean of men, and chairman of the personnel and guidance committee.

Vocational and educational orientation is to be the purpose of the program, which will consist of a series of tests and personal interviews to provide a personality analysis and a survey of an individual's occupational and curricular interests.

Results of the initial tests will be evaluated by Dr. Maxson, who will then interview the student and refer him to another faculty member in whose field the student has shown aptitude. Specialized departmental examinations will be given, and the results of the series will be reviewed by the student with Dr. Maxson.

Applications for counselling will not be accepted until the program is put into effect next quarter, the exact date to be announced later, Dr. Maxson stated. All applications, for which a small fee will be charged, will receive attention in the order in which they are received.

The personnel and guidance committee include Dr. Maxson, Dr. Merton D. Munn, Miss Marion R. Jenkins, Dr. Francis T. Hardwick, Professor Alfred O. Gray and Dr. Gustav H. Schlauch. Dr. Hardwick and his assistants in the psychology department are cooperating with Dr. Maxson in making the plan to be of value to the student body.

Similar guidance programs have been successfully used in many colleges and universities.

TRIO PLAYS AT CHAPEL

The Conservatory trio from the Spokane Conservatory of Music played at a recent chapel.

The trio, composed of Trude Huttenbach, violinist, Otto Huttenbach, cellist, and Hans Moldenhauer, pianist, played two numbers, one Beethoven Sonata and a trio from Mozart.

Dr. Moldenhauer, '45, is one of the first veterans to graduate from Whitworth college under the G. I. bill.

LECTURE BY S. R. ARTIST

Plates for reproducing a picture can be ready 20 minutes after the photograph is taken, stated Lang Armstrong, art editor of the Spokane daily newspapers, when he spoke before journalism students Nov. 25.

In addition to his work on the Spokane Daily Chronicle and Spokesman-Review, Armstrong is on the staff of the Farm Trio magazines and the Spokane Art Engraving company.

CITY STUDENTS PLAN PROJECTS

Three projects were discussed and the committees chosen at the Alpha Kappa Chi meeting Tuesday, Nov. 18 in Graves hall. The chapel program for Dec 5, transportation for the students and a Christmas party are being planned by the town club organization

The chapel program committee is: Bob Farley, chairman, Rose Mary Glass, Genita Christensen, Faith Clark, Elaine Ferry, Norman McDonald and Tom Marsden.

Annie Skeels was elected chairman of the Christmas committee and assisting are, Kathy Martin, Pauline Weber, Jo Summerson and Les Patten.

The project committee which is now working on transportation for the town students is: Chairman, Milton DeArmand; assistants, Paul Schaffer, Gweneth Dors, James Cade, Alene Kanikeberg, Jack Schewe, Margaret Chaffee and Melvin Stevens.

Stage Craft Class Plan New Settings

The Stage Craft class under the direction of Prof. Loyd Waltz, is planning to build a new setting for the stage in the Speech auditorium. The class is doing research work on the possibilities of two types of settings. One half of the class is investigating the possibility of making a cyclorama. The other members are studying the cost of a box set, which consists of flats that are adaptable to a number of scenes. New lighting is also being planned for the stage. This group worked on the stage setting of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

SUMMER TERM CUT IN HALF

Special emphasis will be placed on courses in summer school which will aid the high school teacher, it was announced by Dean Merton Munn.

The summer session will cover a six week period from June 21 to July 30. Students will be able to earn eight hours credit. Course offerings will be announced later.

Dr. Theron B. Maxson states that married couples occupying the college homes, again as of last year, will live in the units during the six week period in order to retain their occupancy.

There will be an approximately seven week lapse between summer and fall quarters during which houses may be vacant.

78 Attend 7th Annual Alumni Party

The seventh annual alumni party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hardwick Saturday, Nov. 29, at 8 p. m.

Seventy eight attended the affair and this was an increase over last years attendance of 65. A replygram was sent to all the alumni with 68 responses.

A turkey trophy won by the class of '34 was the highlight of the evening Mrs. Rosenquist led community singing.

SEFELO CANDLELIGHT SERVICE SCHEDULED FOR DEC. 11th

The Sefelo Candlelight service will be held Thursday, Dec. 11 8-9 p. m. in the speech auditorium. It is an annual event and all campus women attend.

This will be the 16th year for the use of the main, large red candle from which all the girls' candles are lit, and which represents the spirit of Sefelo -- service, fellowship, and love.

What is Christmas?

Is it Santa Claus?
 Is it tinsel, lights and modern high-pressure salesmanship? To tradesmen it might have that meaning.
 But what is Christmas? What does it mean?
 The dictionary says, "... An annual Church festival, kept on December 25th in memory of the birth of Christ." The dictionary, though accurate, gives only the bare cold fact.

The Christian's definition would be essentially different, in that he has experienced the warm and sustaining truth in the verse,
 "For God so loved the World, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

What is Christmas? What does it mean to you?

"When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."
 St. Matthew 3:10.

Our Nickle's Worth

Last fall about a dozen candy, gum, and peanut machines were installed at various places on campus. Since then, in less than two months, $313.14 has passed through those little slots.

We must admit that in odd hours, it is pretty satisfying to have a candy bar or stick of gum to chew on, but honestly, now, what do you think of that deeper satisfaction which could come from helping people who not only haven't candy—but who haven't enough of just plain food? Men, women and children are starving to death not too far away from us, and perhaps even worse, are developing hopeless, desperate attitudes which come with want.

This is what WE as students of Whitworth College, can do about it. If we could send the $300 over to Japan, we could honestly say that we had given 30 people a Christmas present of enough to eat for the month of December. Can you think what that would mean?

Do you feel your responsibility for a world of peace, and do you see how any measure to ease the condition of starving, hopeless people could affect that world peace?

Do you feel your responsibility as a representative of Christ here on earth, and do you realize that He means each one of us when He says, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me?"

Dr. Young, secretary of the board of foreign missions, has promised the Christian Activities Council that he will send them a list of the ministers and missionaries through whom we can work in Japan, and a number of convenient banks will be put up through which YOU can work here at school.

Come on fellows and girls, try sliding that nickle into the little bank marked "food" rather than into the big machine marked "candy", and see if you can't pacify that longing to sink your teeth into a big Hershey bar by thinking some little fellow who, because of you got a bowl of rice today.

We want your support; THEY NEED YOUR HELP.

DORM FLASHES

By Holland St. John

Alpha Chi's annual "Birthday Banquet" was held Thursday, Nov. 20.

Each dorm holds a mid-week prayer meeting in order to promote Christian fellowship and understanding.

Washington Hall

John Peterson, who was just married a few weeks ago, returned from California to resume his studies here at Whitworth... A box has been placed in the reception room for the collection of money to aid some student in a foreign country to gain a higher education. Only a small amount is needed to complete this fund... The president of this hall is Bob Nelson of Tonasket, Wash.

Whitworth Hall

The boys have been kept pretty busy studying these last few days. Even the "mad poets" have been at it... there have been two in particular in the news of the campus, Kenny Gamble and Dick Cole... Pat Douglas recently had a poem published which he wrote for the International Youth for Christ Magazine. The title was "Lord, speak to me."

Lancaster and Goodsell Halls

Jim McConnell and Jim Hardy were recently elected presidents of these halls, respectively... Glenn Ellison left for the East last week to preach at a Congregational church. He also plans to pick up a car while there... Marshal Hodge, who recently fell under the acts of engagement, is now convalescing in our campus infirmary... let this be a lesson to all like-minded persons!

Speech Dept. to Present Play

"Dust of the Road" is to be presented in the speech auditorium Dec. 8 and Dec. 10 during the chapel hour.

The play is under the direction of Mel Taylor. Janene Zimmerman, Mel Unruh, Reece Bille and Vern Tucker, of the Whitworth Players, are members of the cast.

The story revolves around one central character who turns out to be Judas Iscariot. Every year since he betrayed Christ for thirty pieces of silver, he has been given the opportunity to tempt another to sell his soul for silver.

According to Mel Taylor, this is the first of several plays that are going to be given during the school year. Most of them will be under student directors.

Science Hall Aids Expansion

Bright Prospects For Debate Team

"We have the best prospects for debate, as well as other phases of speech work, that we have ever had," is the comment made by Professor Waltz concerning the status of the speech department this year.

Six teams have been organized to work with Helmuth Beckowies for preparatory practice in preliminary debates.

Debate work on these teams is an extra-curricular activity and is separate from the classwork in the course on debate. Although some members of the class are participating in these outside activities.

The question for debate teams this year as set forth by the committee of the National Speech association is, "Resolved, that a federal world government should be established."

Munn Organizes

Dr. Merton D. Munn is helping to organize a Spokane club of members of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity. He has been appointed to the local steering committee and is in charge of advertising and promotion for the first meeting to be held for out-of-town members.

A current construction project which will be of considerable aid to furthering the building expansion program of the campus is that of the science hall.

"The science building is going to take care of our space which is necessitated by the growing enrollment in our science departments," Dean Munn reported. He stated that when the science hall is bricked and landscaped, it will be one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus. Dr. Munn said that plans are under way to have the court around the building landscaped in the spring.

The building will house both the chemistry and biology departments. Dr. Alder, Professor Neustal, and Mrs. Gray have all expressed favorable opinions concerning the increased capacity and facilities of the building.

The chemistry department will be housed on the first floor and basement of the west end of the building, while the biology department will be housed on the first floor of the east end.

Student Arrives From Greece

Ketty Fouta from Athens, Greece, has arrived at Whitworth college where she will study home economics in preparation of a teaching career in her home country.

Get Your Grades To Get Honors

Can you qualify for any of the four types of scholastic honors? Quarter honors are received when a student carrying at least fourteen hours gets a 2.25 grade point average.

Class honors go to the class with the highest general average for the quarter. This class receives the McEachran class trophy.

If a student makes quarter honors all the way through the first, second, and third quarter, he receives Year honors, which entitle the student honorable mention at graduation.

Graduation honors are earned by students who have taken two of their four years here; they are eligible for a cum laude for two and three-tenths grade points, a magna cum laude with two and seven-tenths grade points, or a summa cum laude with two and nine-tenths grade points. These are based on the 180 quarter hours required for graduation, exclusive of P.E. hours.

New Members and Officers In Whitworth Players

PLAYERS PUT ART LITSCHER AT CLUB HELM

Formal initiation and installation of officers into Whitworth Players was held Friday evening, Nov. 14, 7:30, in the new speech auditorium.

Professor L. B. Waltz, the organization's adviser, addressed new members and officers at the termination of the ceremonies. He stressed "the importance of participation in dramatic work as a means of personal development and as a means of appreciating and understanding better one of the great arts."

The program which followed included a piano arrangement of "Deep Purple" by Dee King, a musical reading by Marilyn James entitled "Katy Did", and a reading by Mildred Nelson.

Refreshments were served by Jo Ann Summerson and Dorothy Funk.

New officers of the organization are: Arthur Litscher, president; Dorothy Funk, vice president; Jim Carlson, treasurer; and Nadine Lampkin, secretary.

HOME ECON. WORKSHOP

Hazel Granger, Alpha Beta club president; Elizabeth Lundin, delegate; Marilyn Esty and Miss Mary Boppell, province adviser, attended a two-day conference at Oregon state college on Nov. 21-22. The meeting was the annual workshop of Province 12 (the northwestern division) of the American Home Economics association.

The delegates heard from four foreign students who are working in the field of home economics, preparatory to returning to their native countries. Later the women heard about what is being done in the field in China, Sweden, India, and the Philippines.

Miss Ava B. Milam, dean of the School of Home Economics, spoke. She emphasized the importance of the home, stating that our education of the world in home economics should begin in the home.

SPANISH PARTY SUCCESS, SI

About 50 Spanish students ate chili beans and tamales Monday night, Nov. 24, when the Spanish Club held its first party this quarter in the basement of Tiffany chapel. Pat Jansen and Joanne Thoma were in charge of the party and the singing was led by Joy Taylor. A program of skits and music was put on by the different classes.

SCHOLARSHIPS HELP 40 PEOPLE TO ATTEND W.C.

Over 40 scholarships are available to Whitworth students who can meet the requirements.

Ten freshmen scholarships are given to high school graduates of the Northwest who are in the upper 10 per cent of their classes.

For those who wish to enter the nursing profession, there are 20 scholarships varying in amounts up to $300. These are given upon the completion of nursing work at the Deaconess hospital in Spokane.

There are some scholarships available in art, music and speech. Some scholarships are given to students transferring from junior colleges. They must be in the upper quartile of their class.

In addition to the above scholarships there are the following:

The Alaskan scholarship, for a young man from a Presbyterian church, the James Silliman scholarship, to a worthy student, the Frank A. Magill scholarship for a student from Tacoma, the Nelhe Shepherd Millard scholarship, appointed by Rev. and Mrs. Elton F. Spicer; Athletic scholarship, the Whitworth Bible class scholarship of First Presbyterian church, Seattle, Esther Weitzman scholarship for a worthy student, and the Rex Speelman scholarship for a pre-med student.

BULLETIN GOES ABROAD

Out of a total circulation of 6100, 56 Whitworth College Bulletins were sent to foreign countries last month, which included Canada, China, India, Alaska and Belgian Congo.

The Bulletin, which comes out once a month, is for all parents of students, friends of the college, alumni, former students, and many Presbyterian ministers. Also a list of 1500 prospective students receive it.

The news centers around the progress of the college, and is compiled by Dr. Warren. His secretary, Betty Ann Douglass, does the handling and mailing. All students who know names of people interested in Whitworth or prospective students should leave those names with Miss Douglass to be placed on the office mailing list.

DO BUSINESS FIRMS BACK EDUCATION?

ANSWER: They certainly do. For example, the Washington Water Power Company in 1946 paid $3,107,331.77 in taxes to federal, state, county, and municipal governments, and still maintained low rates. The schools received a good percentage of this large sum, helping to educate a free people in a free country.

Pirates Take Shot at Cougars Tonight

W.S.C. TO BE STAGE FOR FIGHT

The Pirates will try to make it four straight tonight when they meet the Washington State Cougars at Pullman. This is the first time in the history of the college that the Pirates have been pitted against the WSC quintet.

A member of the fast Northern Division conference, Washington State fields a strong team with a reputable record in both conference and national play. Last year the Cougars finished second in league play to the Oregon State Beavers after enjoying a successful early season barnstorming tour.

With three practice games behind them the Pirates will be out to upset the highly touted Pullman five in an effort to add another victim to their list.

The Whits will have a job on their hands in trying to stop WS C's giant center, Vince Hansen. The rangy Cougar pivot man, who stands 6'4", led the Northern Division in scoring a couple of seasons back. He is a good ball handler and a tough competitor.

In an effort to match the towering Cougar five Coach Stannard announced that he would start Wayne Conner and Clyde Matters in the forward positions with Al Good, 6' 4" middle man playing his first season at Whitworth, drawing the center assignment. Earl Mortlock and Bill Roffler are the coach's choice for the guard berths.

I.K.'s PUT ZIP INTO SERVICES

The men's service organization has been kept very busy these first few months of campus life. The Knights, which has limited membership, play an important part in the activities of Whitworth.

A few of the services that they have thus rendered are the setting of chairs for all campus activities; assisting the athletic department in games; and assistance in the speech department in the promoting of our fine plays.

The placing of chairs and song books each chapel time is done by this group. They are planning to enlarge the club so that more service can be rendered.

The organization is based on the interest, school activities, scholarship, and the character of the members.

Any person who is willing and interested in joining see Bob Ryland (Honorable Duke) or come to the meetings every Tuesday evening in the Social Science building.

Whitworth Wins Two from Farragut

The Pirates trailed Farragut for 39 minutes before they were able to overcome the Stags and down them 49-45 in a basketball opener on the loser's court Friday night. But on the following evening the Pirates wasted little time in building up an early lead and easily defeated the Stags 67-38 in a game played on the Graves hall floor.

Clyde Matters, a member of last year's "Freshman Five," canned 16 points in the opener and then came back to score eight field goals for another 16 tallies in the second contest to take scoring honors.

FROM The SIDELINE

By Walt Dawson

Before the basketball season gets well underway let's take one more peek at football. The Pirates didn't exactly set the WINCO League afire as far as the standings go, but one thing we know for sure and all agree on — in Verne Tucker we have one of the best backs in the conference. United Press goes further than that. By virtue of the votes of its sports writers it picked Tucker as the outstanding back in the WINCO circuit. The UP writers published their small college All-Coast football team last week, and they named Tucker as starting back on the second team. Not a single WINCO entry placed on the first squad, but Tucker and Pacific Lutheran's big center, D'Andrea, share league honors on the second mythical eleven. The writers failed to mention a WINCO candidate in their Honorable Mention list.

The Pirates as a team have a few claims to make in regard to their last game with Pacific Lutheran. They were the only team to score against the Lutes on the Tacoma field this season, and they were the only team to score more than one touchdown against the conference champions in league play. Because of transportation difficulties, the Pirates arrived at Tacoma just in time

PIGSKINNERS FAVOR LUTES AS OPPONENT

Pacific Lutheran college, co-holders of the WINCO championship, placed the most men, four, on the Whitworth "all opponent" team recently named by the Pirate coaches and players.

Selections include: Stan Lochrie, Whitman center; J. R. Olsen, guard, Dick Weatherman, tackle, Frank Spear and Jack Guyot, backs, all of P.L.C. Dominic Bort, Central guard; Roy Benefiel, St. Martin tackle. Walt Clayton, end, Art Svidren, back, from Western and Adrian Beamer along with Bud Thropp from Eastern.

WRITERS PICK SAUVE TO LEAD

Bill Sauve was elected president of the Writer's club at a recent meeting. Other new officers are: Muriel Stover, vice president; Faith Clark, secretary; and Barbara Deemy, program chairman. Club advisers are Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Gray.

Membership is to be limited to those only who are actively interested in writing.

to suit up and get onto the field. The Whits were still cold when the Gladiators pushed over two touchdowns, but after the second quarter the Pirates matched TD's with the winners. End Kenny Gamble put on a remarkable exhibition of pass-catching, and Ron Lentes' tackling and Vern Tucker's running and passing earned them guard and halfback positions, respectively, in the Lute's all-opponent team. Del Schalock came up with the play of the evening, intercepting a pass in the last play of the game and scampering 65 yards to score.

NEW SCIENCE BUILDING IN USESUMMER TERM
CALL GOES OUT

Dr. T. B. Maxson, Director of the Summer session, announced that although the 1948 term will run six weeks, June 21-July 30, it would be possible to earn nine credit hours in that period.

In past summers it has been possible to gain 15 hours of credit by taking a full course lasting for 10 weeks.

To assist students "A preliminary announcement is hereby made that nine hours of credit may be earned," Maxson said.

"In a few cases, additional hours will be needed, and all those in this classification must sign up immediately in the Summer school office, stating their need on a prepared blank, which will be available Monday," he declared.

"It is imperative that applications be made at once," the director emphasized.

ALDER MOVES BIO CLASSES IN

As soon as gas installations are completed and shelving is installed, lab periods will be held in the new Science hall by the biology department, an official of the college said early this week.

Having moved his department into what Dr. Homer E. Alder termed "a clean, airy and wholesome" building, lecture courses have begun in the building that has room for 100 students in lecture and will be able to accommodate 96 in the lab at one time under standard conditions.

Was Surplus

The hall was acquired from the old Baxter general hospital. It is formed into a "U" shape, with the biology department in one wing and the chemistry department in the other.

Alder said he was "delighted"

Town Students May Get Break; Want McMillan Room

Hopes that town students would soon have a place "to call their own" on the campus were fanned to a blaze early this week by the announcement of Frank F. Warren, president, that "plans are being considered to utilize the vacated basement section of McMillan hall for a recreation space."

Space Open

Late in the Christmas vacation the Biology department moved into new quarters in the Science hall, leaving vacant most of the basement of the building.

Town students, who have no place to leave their books, coats, lunches and rainy weather footwear, have expressed the wish that the college would provide them a place to use as a "headquarters" while on the campus.

Warren also said that "as soon as the chemistry department moves into their new space, the large room in the basement of Ballard hall may be made into a lounge for town-women students."

For Ping-Pong?

He said "We are going to leave it up to the students what they want done with the vacated space in McMillan." Nothing has been definitely decided. However he continued by saying that he thought it would be a good place for ping-pong tables.

Said one town student: "We out-number campus students, and yet we don't have a place for our belongings. We need a student union building, but we'll be glad to have the basement of McMillan. It's high time something was done about this problem of having to find a place to keep my lunch where the pack of dogs who roam the campus can't find it. I hope the student council will take the opportunity at hand and find some other place for those ping-pong tables."

SAYS WATSON

Students will go to the polls late this month or early in February to consider changes in the student body constitution, according to ASWC President Len Watson.

"There are a lot of things which aren't in writing, having gotten by for years under a verbal front," Watson said, "and we want to get them down in black and white. Some parts of the constitution conflict, and work is going on to iron out these passages," he said.

About seven points are being considered for change Watson revealed, but what they are he did not disclose.

"Work is now going on to get things 'Ship-shape', and we will let the students know what changes are contemplated in time for them to give full consideration to the measures," the president said.

Writers Get Nod

Bill Sauve requested the ASWC to recognize the Writers club as a member of the campus group at a meeting of the council early this week.

The motion passed unanimously. An active program is planned for the club, Sauve said.

V.F.W STATE BONUS WOULD TAX SMOKERS

Vets are picking sides today in the state bonus issue.

An initiative submitted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars to the Secretary of State's office calls for $15 per month for overseas duty and $10 per month for state-side duty between Dec. 7, 1941, and Dec. 7, 1945.

If sufficient signatures are obtained, the measure will go to the voters next Fall. Forms for the signature of registered voters will be circulated on the campus, it is indicated.

Two "catches" are present in the measure. One requires that servicemen must have lived in the state one year prior to enlisting.

Real snag is that money for the bonus, to be paid through $100 million in bonds, will come from an additional tax on tobacco.

A tax of 1 cent will be placed on each 10-cent sale of any form of tobacco. This would mean a virtual 2-cent tax on each pack of cigarettes.

Non-smoking Vets have voiced no opposition, but rumbles come from smokers.

B.B. LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE

There will be a men's intra-mural basketball league organized soon for students. Scheduled games will be played throughout the winter quarter.

In a close intra-mural volleyball race, Whitworth hall, under the tutoring of Dave Holmes, nosed out the '49ers in a two out of three game series for the championship.

GIRL KILLS
2 COUGARS

Experienced game hunters have nothing on Janice Kindall, who managed to bag two cougars while she was home during Christmas vacation.

Having heard that the animals had been seen in the woods where her father works, Janice, along with her brother and father went fifteen miles into the heavy timber near Chehalis in search of them. Their hunting dogs treed the first cougar, and Janice spotted it before the others did. She killed it with the first shot of her 30-30 rifle. The animal measured nearly 6 feet long.

Two days later, they headed for the woods again and found another cougar in the same vicinity. As they came near it, Janice's brother shot at it, but only angered the animal by wounding it slightly. Janice shot once, and it was dead. This one was nearly 5 feet long.

Each cougar brought a $50.00 bounty.

Ski Club Approved

After receiving approval from the ASWC early this week, the Ski club plans a trip to Mt. Spokane tomorrow.

The council heard a petition from Duane Lewis, organizer of the group, that the club be recognized on the campus. It passed unanimously.

In the fall of 1946, 119 students were honored, and top billing went to David Tesarik, straight A's, and 20 hours.

Others having 3.0 average and with 15 to 17 hours are: W. Blair, N. Brunton, Jo Christiansen, I. Clausen, V. Clausen, M. Collard, J. Runner, J. Tanner, J. Thoma, L. White.

Men took 62 per cent of the honor roll places this fall, with 38 per cent going to the women. Veterans make up 45 per cent of the 166 on the roll.

Others on the roll include R. Bruce, G. McLarren, R. Baker, C. B. Hartford, B. Ann Lee, D. Smith, R. Meeker, M. Moos, F. Clark, T. Dorpat, D. Frieske, G. Mahaffey, S. Wall, D. DeArmand, M. Freece, J. Hatrick and George Stouf, all with averages bettering 2.80.

It's Pretty Good Here

The deluge of reading matter in the papers and magazines of late dealing with higher education makes us feel good.

All the writers pick the state supported institutions to pieces, mainly because they fail to produce a person adjusted to the "problems" he'll face when graduated.

Whitworth gets by that in one big jump by centering itself in Christ.

Then, too, those shush-shush, tut-tut things like drinking, immoral conduct, stealing and others are slashed to the bone by the self same stroke.

We don't say all here wear halos, but we wonder why other colleges don't try the idea that has been supporting this one since 1890.

Remember the Lord thy God; for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth. Deut. 8:18.

WRITERS SLATE FULL PROGRAM

The Writer's club will have a well-planned program for the next two quarters. Plans are being made to have club members do various types of contest writing including essay and short story writing. Manuscripts for all types of material will be discussed at the meetings.

Contacts are being made with heads of contest programs, and complete information is being obtained to pass on to members.

Emphasis this year is being placed on personal literary contributions. Club members will work together to publish a volume of their literary efforts.

New members are welcome to attend the next meeting which is scheduled for January 16.

Styles Shown For New Coed Crop

The Associated Women Students presented a fashion show in the Speech auditorium on the afternoon of January 6. Though the program was open for all women, the new women on the campus were special guests.

Barbara Aultman was general chairman, with Virginia Cawthon, program chairman, and Jean Landreth was refreshment chairman.

Number in Classes Stays About Same

The registration, to date of January 5, is 732 students.

Of this group there are 280 women and 450 men. We have received exactly 50 new students.

From this group there are 35 men and 15 women.

$2 OFFERED TO BEST LETTER

We wonder why —

1. There is a definite lack of interest among campus students in working as staff members of the Whitworthian? Town students comprise about 80 per cent of the present staff. Announcement last fall of positions open brought forth no response from campus students.

2. Students of college age cannot of their own accord, maintain quiet in the library?

These are but two of many problems which indicate serious lack in the spirit of cooperation and in the esprit de corps on this campus. The Whitworthian will pay two dollars each for the best letter analyzing the causes and suggesting remedies for the above problems. Letters should not exceed 250 words.

Send them to P. O. Box 528, Whitworth college.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

There are some of our worthy students who are so over-loaded with responsibilities in our C. E. and related organizations they haven't time for much else. It is a noble gesture for these few persons to shoulder the weight of these obligations by themselves, but I think they would find a lot of willing helpers if they would look around.

I think it's too bad that anyone could say he hadn't had a chance to participate, when there are so many capable students who would be more than willing to do so.

Yet, in our dorm prayer meetings, we've had three or four of the same old plugs to lead the devotionals, and now we're starting the same rotation all over again. The same holds for the evening blessings at dinner, for talks in C. E., etc.

I can't see, for the life of me, how some freshmen manage to crack the nucleus and get "in", unless they were raised together down home, or met at Mt. Hermon or Forest Homes.

When the same people are in positions of leadership in all the organizations, there is something lacking in our democratic concept of education, which should imply the active, informed, and intelligent participation of every individual.

Wally Toevs.

DORM FLASHES

WHITWORTH HALL

Things are coming along fine at this hall. With many new students running around here and there it makes the old members feel out of place.

New improvements are the center of conversation this past week. Things are brightened up and with an uplifting job on several of the rooms, life is made a little more pleasant.

WASHINGTON HALL

Fellows are marveling about the nice wash room. While all were home for the holidays it got a painting and ventilating system.

Bob Nelson, who has been our dorm president this past quarter, is now going to EWCE. He is working for a teacher's degree.

Quite a few new faces of course, but several friends from our brother hall, Whitworth. It seems Washington hall is the "Haven for Rest" or would you call it "Rescuing the Perishing"?

Willis (Fig) Newton is now the dorm President. Willis is from California and is a Soph.

LANCASTER AND GOODSSEL

Tom Jones broke all highs over the season holidays. Ambitious is the word. He had to get to California, so he hitch-hiked. Tom reached his destination in around 55 hours.

Jim McConnell, president of Lancaster hall, was married during the vacation.

A group of toughies decided they were hungry. So they demolished the jar of pickles (which

Prof. Scores Hit; Will Write More

Following his provocative article in the Dec. 28 Pacific Parade, supplement of the Spokesman-Review, Prof. Albert H. Culverwell said that he has several other stories dealing with local history in mind for release at an early date.

Given a double-truck spread, and featured with pictures taken by Prof. John Koehler, the first article disputed the recognized location of Spokane House.

Culverwell is working on material about the history of Tucker

ALUMNI NOTES

The class of '34 was awarded the turkey trophy at the Hardwick party. There were 16 out of 18 represented either in person or by reply-o-gram.

Maud Holt, '31, has a regular schedule to talk to her brother Chaplin (Major) Holt, '33, by short wave radio each Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. In Seoul, Korea where Chaplain Holt is stationed it is Wednesday noon.

Dr. Gerald Dean, '44, visited the campus during Christmas vacation. He is now at the St. Luke's hospital in Chicago and will enter the army medical corps this summer for a year's duty.

Stan Gwinn, '47, is working with the credit department of the Standard Oil company.

On a recent visit to the campus George Van Leuven, '45, senior at the Princeton Theological Seminary, brought greetings from four Whitworth graduates at Princeton: Tetsuo Saito, '44, William Chalmers, '46, Ray Moody, '47, and Odin Baugh, '47 and Harry Soloos, a former student.

Wally Brownlee, '47, is pastor at a church in Chicago while attending seminary at Naperville, Ill. His wife, the former Helen Erb, is attending North Central college in Naperville.

Two Whitworthians are heads of church laymen organizations in Spokane. Les Hussey, '34, is chairman of the Spokane Association of Baptist Men. Dr. Kenneth Swanson was recently elected head of the Spokane Lutheran Men's association and Alumni president.

Rev. Philip Walborn, '37, has taken the position of associate pastor in charge of Christian Education at the United Presbyterian church of Richland, Wash.

was secretly hidden behind the picture) and carried away his nice batch of home-made cookies. Now Dick is hungry again.

WOMEN'S WORLD

Olive Walburn spent her vacation visiting her aunt in Eugene, Oregon. While she was there, she called her parents, who are in Shanghai.

Helen Huffman and Janie Williams spent most of their time with "Virus X" — a very unpleasant way to spend a vacation!

Sleeping Beauty

Janet Smith, Westminster's assistant housemother, caught up on badly needed sleep.

Thelma Schoesler worked in a bank in her home town of Ritzville.

Shirley Gilson went roller skating—to parties—had fun.

Margie and Mary Baird had a dinner at their house for all the Whitworth kids of the San Francisco area. Movies and music were the entertainment.

Mary Anslow and Nancy Johnson had a good time skiing at Skokemish Pass.

Phyllis Jean Newton visited her roommate, Barbara Wilson, in Tacoma.

Carol Berg, side-stepped the icy blasts of her native Minnesota and vacationed in California, instead.

McMillan

We heard first-hand information about the nice 8' weather back in Minnesota from Arlene White.

Near Los Angeles Dorothy Leavens had lots of excitement moving into a new home, buzzing around in a blue Buick convertible and swimming and basking under that warm California sunshine.

Sunny Cal

But Jean Runner and Mirium Petrequin didn't find it quite so warm in the San Joaquin-Sacramento valley.

Wenonah Clark enjoyed a very busy holiday, even though she was unable to get back to Wisconsin, by seeing basketball and hockey games and going to parties. In her spare moments she kept the pets of McMillanites well fed.

Naomi Kimball, it seems, was kept busy battling with the dreadful Virus X!

Workers

Among those who worked during vacation are Esther Baker, Enumclaw; Betty Schneidmiller, Burlingame, Cal.; Pat Kelley, Walla Walla; Phyllis Snook, Spokane and Anne Harold, Walla Walla. Anne also had lots of fun on four skiing trips to Spout Springs in the Blue mountains.

Barbara and Sylvia Setters entertained thirty people at a lovely Christmas party in their home.

Prairie, located south of Spokane. Some of the sources, he said, came to him from Howard Lehn, whose relatives were pioneers in the area.

"A Genuine Welcome Here for Faculty and Students"

FOR MEN ONLY; G-2 ON WOMEN

By B. S.

"Calling all men — calling all men—be on the lookout for predatory females — any male over eighteen is considered fair game—all women are to be considered as potential enemies—they may be armed—they are dangerous—that is all."

The above police call was intercepted at midnight, January 1, in a nationwide warning to all eligible males reminding them that this is Leap Year.

As an aid to any uninitiated and unsuspecting male on the campus, the following storm warnings have been hoisted.

Be on the lookout for any sudden southern accent. All is not fried chicken and honeysuckle south of the Mason-Dixon line. Even the most stout-hearted male has been known to fail for the beautiful belle-of-the-south routine. It usually ends up with a chain and ball, with a you-all holding the guide line.

Beware of the baby face. She is usually pretty, charming and clever—and so-o-o helpless. Don't let her fool you. She is as helpless as TNT on a mole hill, and twice as explosive. The first time she asks "Is dweat big handsome oo map at itsy bitsy me?", say "Yes" and get it over with.

Take heed of the outdoor type. After a fast round of golf, an equally fast set of tennis, and a demi-tasse of riding to hounds, she will have you worn to the point where you will say yes to anything she proposes, and brother that's exactly what she will do—propose.

A final word — to the women who read this and shouldn't have —Happy Hunting in 48.

CAMPUS COEDS TO ADVISE GALS ABOUT COLLEGE

During the week January 5 to 9, girls interested in participating in the College Days program of the colleges in the state of Washington are being interviewed.

This state-wide program does not act as an advertising agency for individual colleges, but purposes to give information to high school students concerning everyday campus life.

To do this each of the participating colleges select girls, preferably Sophomores or Juniors, to return to the high school from which they graduated to speak to the students in a meeting such as an assembly or girls' club meeting.

Programs will be presented during Spring vacation from college.

with the new hall, and that it is standard in all respects.

It is expected that the chemistry department will be ready to move into the new hall by next Fall.

Research Possible

Mrs. Nicolin J. Gray, biology, said, "We will be very pleased when the labs are completed." She said that facilities would be available to better enable students to undertake research projects when they are able.

Value of the structure, which stands to the rear of the H. C. Cowles library, is about $100,000, Warren estimates.

CARE PACKAGE SHIPPED TO AID GERMAN CHILD

At a recent meeting of the German Club it was decided to carry out a project planned earlier in the school year, that of sending food packages through CARE to a needy child in Germany.

John Braden, secretary-treasurer of the club, was given authority to send the necessary funds to CARE. The members of the German club will thus be able to engage in correspondence with the beneficiary in Germany.

The club hopes to be able to contribute further to this cause of alleviating suffering in Europe.

Unique Text

"A unique text" is being used in the course dealing with modern Russia, according to Prof. A. Culverwell.

The book is Frederick L. Schuman's "Soviet Politics." It compares the early stages of communism with that of Christianity.

Headings of chapters are "The Apocalypse, The Vision, The Gospel, The Apostles, The Conspirators," and others of similar theme.

Players Banquet At Spokane Hotel

A banquet is being planned for all members and candidates of the Whitworth Players, dramatic group of the campus.

This banquet is to be given tomorrow evening, at the Spokane Hotel, Jan. 10 at 6:30. It will be formal.

The group will have Vern Tucker as toastmaster.

Initiation of new members will take place at the event.

C.E. TO MEET SUNDAY EVE

The theme of Whitworth's Christian Endeavor group for winter term will be "Finding Your Place in a Christian World."

Wednesday night the first meeting of the new term was held in the Speech auditorium. Dr. Warren gave a talk on faith. Sunday at 7:30 p.m. this group will hear two messages in the Tiffany Memorial Chapel. Lavern Brasseur will talk on "Crucifixion of Self" and Miriam Petrequin will speak on "Living a Christ Centered Life."

DULUTH PASTOR CHOSEN TO LEAD SPIRITUAL WEEK

Selection of Dr. Archer Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Duluth, Minn., as speaker for Spiritual Emphasis week, Feb. 15-20, was announced by Dr. Frank Warren, president of Whitworth college.

Dr. Anderson is the father of Frances Anderson of the freshman class, and he visited the campus during the fall quarter.

Several members of the student body list Dr. Anderson's church as their home church. It is one of the strong churches of the west, stated Dr. Warren.

"OPEN DOORS" PREXY URGES STUDENT CON

Using as a text the passage from Revelation 3:8, "—behold I have set before thee a door opened, which none can shut—," Dr. Warren gave the opening address of the new year to the student body Monday, January 5.

Relating the passage to the subject of "Life's Open Doors," Dr. Warren presented four symbolic doors to be opened during the ensuing year.

To open the door of Imperial Thinking he suggested we learn to think. "Education is not determined by the courses completed and degrees won," he stated, "but by the depth of thinking it creates."

The second door, that of Spiritual Growth, may be opened by using the circumstances of life for the development of Spiritual Growth. "Life may not be easy, but it can be good."

"Go forward with God," he continued, "to open the door of Fellowship and Communion. The world needs understanding, love and sympathy, not hate."

In conclusion he suggested we open the doors of Service, contributing to society and life.

"We can't live in the shadows and foothills of last year," he said, "but must learn to climb the spiritual and intellectual mountains ahead."

COLLEGE OPENS WINCO LEAGUE PLAY

Whitworth and St. Maries open the 1948 Winco basketball season with the first of a two game series at Lacey tonight. The Pirates square off with the Rangers again tomorrow evening, then move to Tacoma for a single encounter with Pacific Lutheran on Monday night.

Should Mortlock be unable to start tonight, Clyde Matters will be shifted to guard position to team up with Bill Roffler in the back court. Jack Mahaffey, Sam Bass and Wayne Conner will vie for the forward positions, with Al Good slated to start at center.

Other league openers elsewhere around the circuit find Pacific Lutheran entertaining E.W.C.E. and Western and Central dueling at Bellingham.

The favored Pirates don't expect much trouble from the St. Martin's five. The Rangers have been unable to muster a potent scoring punch during pre-conference play. Whitworth holds an edge by virtue of its 68-56 triumph over Portland, which dropped the Saints by a 63-49 score. The Rangers have nearly the same team this season as that which the Pirates dumped twice in as many starts last year.

Earl Mortlock is the big question mark in the Pirate offense. Coach Stannard might be able to spare his high scoring guard for the Ranger series, but he hopes Earl's finger heals sufficiently to allow him to play in the Gladiator game.

FROM THE SIDELINE

It seems that the old injury bugaboo continues to plague the Pirate ship. During football season it was one Pirate after another sidelined with bruises—the Pirates never being in top physical shape after the league opener. And now it's time for basketball to count its injured toll. Clyde Matters was the first victim, wrenching his back before the WSC game. Then he turned his ankle in the Portland battle at Wenatchee and spent the next four games on the bench. Bass came up with a similar twist Saturday. Mortlock was next on the list, receiving a finger injury in scrimmage play just before the second Montana State tilt. Earl missed the Farragut game, and he will be a doubtful starter in tonight's league opener.

Chitter Chatter

The 1947 All Winco Grid team was published during the holidays. Tucker was named right half on the Lute-dominated squad.

St. Martins should be a push-over even without Mort, but Coach Standard is not going to be too confident. The Rangers were supposed to have had a week football team, too.

WHITS TROUNCE STAGS THIRD TIME IN A ROW

... 47 Fouls Made

With Bill Roffler pacing a second half 42-point scoring spree the Whitworth Pirates came from behind to defeat the Farragut Stags for the third time this season, 55-32, in the local gym Tuesday night. But the game was much closer than the score indicates.

Playing without the services of Earl Mortlock, who watched the game in street clothes, the Pirates started out slowly and seemed bewildered during the first half. Coach Stannard substituted freely in an effort to get a scoring combination set in play. Meanwhile, Farragut's tall center, Casmere Mokeski, who drew 14 free passes to the free throw line, sparked his team to an early lead which they held until the opening minutes of the second half. Mid-game score was 17-13.

Pirates Control Backboards

Starting the second half the Pirates found their marks and sneaked up from behind to tie the Stags at 25 all. Then the fireworks happened. With eight minutes left to play Bill Roffler, Jack Mahaffey, and Nick Faber took turns ringing the hoop and racked up 30 more counters to lead the Pirates to a run-away victory. Fine backboard play by Faber and Gordy Brandt gave Whitworth possession of the ball most of the final stanza.

The high total of 47 fouls were called during the game with three Stags and one Pirate being waved out of the game for personals. But the Pirates blew their opportunities at the free throw line, dropping only seven gift shots through the hoop in 24 attempts.

Pirates Keep Busy During Yule Season

To the Whitworth basketball team the recent vacation meant only a cessation of studies as the Pirate squad remained on campus and continued to hold strenuous daily workouts, sandwiched in with six practice tilts, to smooth out the ragged edges in preparation for the conference opener tonight.

Down Portland

On December 19 the Pirates went to Wenatchee to take part in the two-day invitational tournament held in the apple city gym. Teams from Central Washington, Portland University, Pacific Lutheran, and Whitworth participated in a four-way meet. The Whits drew Portland for the first meeting and promptly subdued the Oregon five by a 68 to 56 score. The following evening Central turned the tables on Whitworth, 55-46. The defeat cost the Pirates the services of Clyde Matters, rangy forward, who injured his ankle and was sidelined for two weeks.

Returning to Spokane the Pirates opened a two game stand with Gonzaga at the Bulldog gym. The Boone Avenue five edged the Pirates 51-45 in the first contest and came back to squeak out a 34-32 decision in the sluggish aftermath.

Lose to Montana State

Montana State cooled the Pirates' New Year's celebration by dropping them twice in a row at Bozeman. In the first game Earl Mortlock scored 18 points to pace a strong Pirate attack, but the Staters won 69-59. The Bozeman quintet won the second engagement 65-50, with Mortlock watching the game from the sidelines as a result of a hand injury.

SNOW PARTY TUESDAY

HISTORY DEPT. STUDENTS ON FIRST COLLEGE BROADCAST OVER KFIO

The first in a series of Whitworth radio programs was presented by six history students Monday evening, January 19, over station KFIO. The students, under the direction of Professor Albert Culverwell, gave a discussion of the topic "What Can We Do to Win the Peace by Economic and Social Rehabilitation in Europe?"

Those taking part were: Ashley Holden Jr., John Christianson, Fred Peterson, Russ Hanson, Wes Banta, and Lawrence White.

Chinese Situations Told by Missionary

Dr. Stanton Lautenschlager, veteran of 25 years' missionary experience, was induced to go there through an appeal given by a Chinese evangelist at a Student Volunteer Movement meeting at Des Moines, he revealed at the Whitworth chapel service Jan. 14.

As an indication of the spiritual hunger of Chinese youth he pointed out that 6,000 students in high schools and colleges had decisions for Christ in four years through the efforts of Dr. Lautenschlager and his colleagues. Some stood for an hour in the snow to hear the message.

Better people will result in a better society and politics, and better people through conversion to Christ is the aim of the New Life Movement of the Presbyterian church, which he represents, Dr. Lautenschlager said.

Seeing wounded Chinese soldiers frozen to the bottom of open railroad cars in their own blood was one of the war horrors which he observed. For China's hundreds of millions there are only 300 hospitals, 250 of these being operated by missionaries, he said.

One of the greatest fears of the Chinese people is that the USA and Russia will engage each other in war on Chinese soil, Dr. Lautenschlager explained. While on the campus he has lectured to several classes on various phases of the political situation of China and Russia.

Writer's Club Plans Literary Magazine

The Writer's club held a meeting Friday evening, Jan. 16 and discussed a program of activities. The club plans to assume responsibility of publishing a literary magazine and to distribute campus club information as a school service.

KNIGHTS ELECT NEW LEADERS

An election of officers of the Intercollegiate Knights was held Tuesday, January 13. The results were as follows:

Duke—Jerry Wilson.
Scribe—Marshall Hodge.
Exchequer—Bob Rinehart.
Recorder—Thomas E. Johnson.

The Intercollegiate Knights is an organization whose purpose is the betterment of the school. Although newly organized, they will begin participating in extra-curricular activities.

SKI CLUB TRIP TAKES 30 TO MT. SPOKANE

Members of the Ski club will trip to Mt. Spokane by bus tomorrow in their third ski outing of the season.

Last Sat. about 30 members spent the day on the mountain. They were:

R. Klefstad, Wallace Toevs, F. L. Peterson, Bev Cox, John Scottford, Betty Lange.

Ross Smith, Kathleen Boyle, Eugene Unruh, Ray Gouldin, Malcolm Wall, Carolyn Erickson, Helen Kristoffersen, Les Kirken-dorfer, Frances Anderson, Shirley Bosworth.

GI's at Whitworth Reported Ignorant Of UMT Provisions

(The Inland Veteran, paper of Spokane's Post No. 9, American Legion, carries the following story. UMT means Universal Military Training.)

Ignorance is one thing we're not supposed to find on a college campus, but take it from a young Spokane veteran, a member of Post Nine, there's plenty of it on the Whitworth college campus so far as understanding of UMT is concerned

The lad who brings us this information is Henry Holter Jr., son of Past Commander Dr. H. L. Holter. Young Henry is a student at Whitworth, and he should know whereof he speaks.

"I was astounded at the ignorance of the veterans themselves out there," he declared. "Most of them seem to think that UMT means something like the old 'boot camp,' where they would be pushed around and given a rough time. I presume most of this is due to ignorance. As you know, Whitworth is a Christian school, and the church is against UMT. I believe if the veterans out there could be instructed in the merits and value of UMT, it would be a great help."

(We wonder how well this position is taken. What do you think?? Letters welcome.—Ed.)

DISCUSSION GROUP ON AIR MON. NITE 7:15

GRADS GATHER FOR JAN. PARTY

Saturday evening, January 31st at 8 p. m., is the date set for the Whitworth Alumni party to be held in the gymnasium.

A variety of entertainment has been planned which will include Mr. Byron Swanson, a noted Spokane vocalist.

A social hour will follow the program and refreshments will be served in the commons.

The committee in charge of the party is as follows:

General chairman — Mr. Les Hussey, president of Alumni, '34.

Program—Mrs. Werner Rosenquist, '40; Mr. Paul Wikstrom, '38.

Publicity—Miss Peggy Cromer, '47.

Refreshments — Mrs. George Stout, '47.

New Home

Ashley E. Holden Jr. and his wife, Hazel, are now living in their newly built home at 2809 W. Crown.

Helping Ashley to move furniture into the new home was Bill Farden. Holden is a senior, majoring in journalism.

New Sign in Dining Hall

Many students and visitors have been wondering about that sign in the dining hall.

The "THANKS BE UNTO GOD", in gold English style letters were given to the dining hall by Miss Sutter, dining hall hostess, as her annual Christmas present. Jerry Wilson made this sign.

SNOW FROLIC ON MT. SPOKANE PROMISES TO BE DAY OF FUN

SCRIBES HEAR 7th NEWS TALK

W. N. F. Child, city circulation manager for the Chronicle, was the seventh in a series of 15 speakers to lecture to journalism students on the campus.

Mr. Child, who has been with the Cowles publications for 30 years, outlined the importance of circulation work in the daily publishing field

"Publishers are beginning to realize the great importance of dependable circulation," he said, "and I think that it offers the greatest opportunities of any of the publishing phases."

SHOW COMING TO HELP FUND FOR BLUE BABY

8 p. m., Friday, February 13, at Graves hall, the curtain will open on a Variety Show, a product of the junior class imagination.

This show, said L. G. Baker, president of the class, is to help in the class project. All proceeds will go to the Spokane County Blue Baby Fund. It will be presented to the public in conjunction with the Garland Kiwanis club, which is helping with the promotion.

In charge of the show is Leonard Raibley, assisted by Larry White and Art Litscher, program committee

The ASWC Student Body will sponsor an all day Snow Frolic on beautiful Mt. Spokane, Tuesday, Jan. 27. This party is to last all day long with classes dismissing at 10:00 o'clock.

There will be skiing, sleighing, and plenty of picturesque settings for the camera fiends. The lodge will be open for Whitworth students only. Everyone is urged to come as there will be a full day of fun for all. The lodge has recreation facilities and eats will be provided. There will be program at the close of the day's activities.

This party, if it turns out to be a success, will be an annual affair. Town people are urged to attend this well planned event. Transportation will be provided by students of the campus. Students who wish to ski, but do not have the equipment, may rent it at a very reasonable fee. The lifts will be running and there will be no cost for the use of them.

The highlight of the day will be the crowning of the "King and Queen of the Snow Frolic of 1948." Each class is supporting a King and Queen for this, and as the days go along, much advertising will be seen.

If you want to meet new friends and have a day of wonderful fun and fellowship, don't miss the all-school snow frolic!

Debate Class Takes Trip to Moscow

Four Whitworth debate teams participated in 32 debate contests at the Inland Empire Lower Division Debate Tournament, at Moscow, Ida., January 16 and 17.

Gonzaga University won first place honors in the tournament. There were no other places awarded to the debating teams. The Whitworth debate teams gained experience that will be valuable in the various tournaments they will enter during February and March.

Making the trip to Moscow were Glen Ellison, Ernest Gentile, Wendell Harder, Bill Johnson, Garner Moore, Don Smith, Phil Strawn, Don Anderson, Helmut Bekowies, and Professor Waltz, the instructor of the team. Helmut Bekowies acted as a judge at the tournament.

Curse You Jack For the Third Time

Thursday, January 29, 2:30 p. m., in the Speech Auditorium, the melodrama "Curse You, Jack Dalton" will again be presented. It is being given for students who may not have seen it on the other two presentations.

KFIO TO CARRY RADIO FORUMS

Whitworth College is presenting a series of radio forum discussions through the facilities of station KFIO as a public service feature.

The forum, which is scheduled to run for an indefinite period, will be heard every Monday at 7:15 p. m. Different topics of discussion will be held each week, presided over by a department head who will choose a topic pertinent to his field. The discussion will be carried on by different students.

Dr. Schlauch, head of the department of sociology, will lead the forum January 26, and Dr. Alder, head of the department of biology, will preside over the discussion February 2.

We Can't All Be Leaders

We can't all be leaders. Some people cannot lead; some people have undiscovered ability for leadership; and some people just don't get the chance.

We come to college to learn how to live spiritually, physically, mentally, and socially. We come to a smaller college because we are individuals rather than only one of a multitude. Maybe those first few months our talents go unnoticed. We aren't asked to do things which we feel that we could handle as well as those that are asked. But if we aren't asked to lead prayer meetings, why not lead out in prayer when the opportunity is given. If we can't head some organizational committee, why not make ourselves a head of a committee to see that every one is having a pleasant time. Soon others will see that you have an honest desire to do your part even if you aren't the leader.

There may be "campus cliques" in a smaller college, but there is also a democratic spirit where each student can develop his abilities. The minor jobs need to be done as well as the jobs of leadership. "They also serve who only stand and wait."

And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. Gal. 6:9.

You Do and I'll . . .

A new and exciting game has come into existence recently that is expected to push into the background all sports and entertainment of an established past. It is entitled, for want of a better name, "Squirt Me and I'll Squirt You". The only equipment necessary is a CO₂ fire extinguisher, an adolescent sense of humor and a complete disregarding attitude towards the safety of property and lives of students.

All of the necessary equipment is to be had at Goodsell and Lancaster Halls. Choice of weapons is of prime importance for the game. The "billy pump" type of fire extinguisher has given away in preference to the CO₂ which during the cold weather as often times, when needed in great haste, is found frozen and unusable.

The next step in this exciting game is to find someone in a state of undress or semi-undress and shower him thoroughly with the "snow" which the instrument discharges when pressure is applied to the handle.

The next play is a tussle for the possession of the weapon, which usually ends at the bottom of the front steps in a flurry of "snow", bare legs and etc.

Naturally enough the attackee, about this time realizes his overwhelming desire for a similar weapon with which to defend himself. Oh joy! The game is really beginning to warm up now, with friends of each player

1 For All and All For 1 College Homes Spirit

Life in College Homes is what utopian writers have dreamed of on a larger scale. Everything is community property, and, as Tom put it, "there is no private business in College Homes."

They do have order, however, and even some law. Order is maintained by Mayor Bob Mills and Fire Chief "Tuffey" Harter. The one law enacted, according to Mrs. Patton, is that when the husband dries the dishes, he must pull down the window shade, lest he set a bad example for the neighbor-wife.

Many household articles have the "co-operative" label. Among these are waffle irons, washing machines, and clothes lines. Four men — Dave Hull, Hughbert Hull, Bob Mills, and Len Watson have "co-op" cow for which they have provided a barn and a pasture.

Four wives — the Mesdames Patton, Watson, Mills, and Bradburns — have allied themselves and their children into a co-operative nursery in order that three of them might attend a ball game, while the other cares for the youngsters. The latter privilege is accepted in rotation.

Missionary Speaks To Sociology Class

Dr. Stanton Lautenschlager spoke on the social and economic problems of China before Prof. Culverwell's Social Problems class January 15. Dr. Lautenschlager has been a missionary and college professor in China for 20 years and has observed the conditions there first hand.

He emphasized the family problem in China. He said the old family system is fighting a losing battle with the new family system. In the old family system all the male relations and their wives live in the same house and are ruled over by the oldest man, usually a grandfather or a great grandfather. The new family system is an adoption of the American system where the male moves into his own home and becomes boss(ed) when he is married.

"China is fundamentally socialistic. This," he continued, "is due, in a large degree, to the fact that 86 per cent of the people in China live off the land."

Comparing the American College student with the Chinese college student, he remarked, "98 per cent of the time, the American and Chinese college students will ask the same questions, whether it be economic, social, or political problems that are being discussed."

He explained various types of Chinese letters and told how these letters had come into usage. Two cheering wildly, ducking quickly when a "snow" spraying nozzle threatens to engulf them, and helpfully tripping one or the other contestant at various intervals.

Yes, it's all a sweet, delightfully pleasant intermission from studies, but what of the piper who must some day be paid.

C.E. Gift Piano Arrives in China

The piano sent last spring to the Chaffee family in Hwaiyuan, China, by the Whitworth Christian Endeavor group has arrived.

In a letter to the group, Mary Chaffee writes: "We couldn't wait to get it inside! Mei Chyang Hai brought a chair, and there in the snow with the interested coolie audience 'your music' became a reality to us. I played 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus.'"

One night, several months after they had cleared official "red tape" to get the piano from Shanghai, they received news that the piano was at Pengpu, eight miles from the Hwai river. Arrangements to have the piano carted in by coolies were made, only to find in the last minute that the coolies wanted $1,600,000 to merely lift the piano on to the carts.

Instead of the first plan, 16 coolies were hired to carry the piano the eight miles and ferry it across the river on a barge. After a difficult time, the much looked for piano stood in the snow before the Chaffee home.

Express Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCullough wish to express their thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown them following the death of their cat Nicodemus.

Nicodemus, the library-strolling cat of the campus, met his demise when struck by a hit and run driver. Noted for his intelligence and wit, Nicodemus was a part of campus society.

When asked as to their future plans for replacement of the cat, Clarabel and Bruce said, "We will have to wait until such time as we can find a St. Bernard that can climb the plank to the window the way Nick did. We were fortunate in seeing that Nicodemus had a decent burial instead of ending up as a specimen in the new Science building."

Philadelphian Breakfast

Yawning and stretching, the Philadelphians met at 6:00 a. m. Friday in the basement of Tiffany chapel where they breakfasted on eggs and little pigs, prepared by chefs Dick Carr and Jim Hardy.

According to Russell Hanson, Philadelphian president, final preparations are being made for the Philadelphian banquet.

interesting words that were explained were "Home" and "Peace." A pig under a roof means a home while a woman under a roof denotes peace.

WOMEN'S WORLD

All red-blooded McMillanites are still trying to win a basketball game. Either that varsity team is really hot or else — well, we won't go into that, will we, McMillanites? Veterans of the games were heard limping and groaning in their rooms afterwards. Somewhere under that huge bandage is Naomi Kimball's finger and Muriel Stover is nursing a bruised knee. Their never-say-die spirit shows typical Whitworth courage in the face of defeat, however!

Betty Jo Childress had all the girls gazing spell-bound while — yes — cut her bangs again.

Although several still have colds, at least everyone is out of bed now and rarin' to go.

The new term finds many changes in roommates and arrangements of furniture. We just can't let well enough alone.

One of the smallest and peppiest McMillan girls, Evelyn Mielke, caused the third floor no end of amusement when she bade not one, not two, but four boys goodnight!

Everyone is mighty grateful to Phyllis Snook's mother for providing them with one gallon of maple-nut ice-cream for Phyllis's birthday. Yummmmmmm!

We'd like to correct an error in the last paper which said that Winona Clark was from Wisconsin. She is a loyal Minnesota citizen!

Joann Larson and Joyce Trail had a hat modeling spree the other night, to the delight of their fellow dorm-mates.

Mary Anslow has an interesting hobby — she makes earrings out of shells — beautiful ones, too.

If Ballard hall girls have impeccable manners — it's because they have periodic discussions on etiquette in their house meetings.

We can see the day coming when Margaret Funk will have to fight her way into her room with clippers and weed killer — her sweet potato plant is flourishing like Jack's beanstalk!

A sign reading "Grand Central Station, crossroads of a million private lives" adorns the door of a corner room in Westminster. Pretty cute, huh!

Marian Venn and her roommate, Betty Follett, took mighty glamorous in their sophisticated new black dresses.

"The sewing machine, the sewing machine, a girl's best friend" might well be sung in Westminster, where the old treadle machine is in use a lot of the time.

It's fun to watch Janie Winter, Fae Eilers and Sally Park clicking away with their knitting needles — knit one, purl two, no, that isn't right — let's see — purl three, knit four, no — oh well!

Lois Scott finally screwed up her courage, went to a friend who has no conscience, gave her a pair of scissors — the result — a pert fluff of bangs.

A Tisket A Tasket An 'Educated' Basket

The Sophomore class is sponsoring an "All School Basket Social," to be held in the Commons immediately after the basketball game Saturday, Jan. 24th.

Rumors seem to have it that not only are the "gals" putting pretty decorations on the outside of their baskets, but also some are planning to have a fried chicken dinner decorating the interior of their basket.

Instructions are: "Girls are to bear in mind that there will be positively no tipping the boy friends off before-hand. Everything is supposed to be on the up and up with the highest bidder taking all. Basket, lunch, and girl!!"

DORM FLASHES

WASHINGTON HALL

This dorm is helping to raise sufficient funds to help the Youth for Christ rallies last week. They are also donating clothes for this cause.

Dewey Mulholland was married during the Christmas season. Gilbert Thiessen and Larry Porter finally realized that they were not in Bongo Bongo and that this is a civilized college; so by popular demand, they shaved their mustaches.

This hall is privileged to have Earl Danielson of Othello. We will be seeing plenty of action from him in baseball as he has had plenty of training as pitcher.

LANCASTER AND GOODSSELL HALL

The Barns were hosts for the Seattle Pacific basketball fellows.

WHITWORTH HALL

Al Turner has just returned to college after being home for the Christmas vacation.

Bob Shove has displayed in his room several oriental flags which he has secured personally. Bob has just returned to Whitworth after being in Korea for some time.

Pat Douglas is directing the Knox Presbyterian young people's choir. If any one is interested in choir work, see Pat.

Paul Parker is writing a book on Economic and Social History of Korea. Paul is a native of Korea.

The boys of this dorm are at it again. They saw a need and got busy. The skating rink to the side of the Gym is due to the help of many Whitworth hall fellows. Among those who helped were: Kenny Gamble, Dick Adams, Alan Miller, Dick Cole, Tommy Thompson, Bob Chamness, Ray Olson, Dwight Johnson, Veral Klein, Bill Lew, Don Miller, Larry Weyrick and Gene Unruh. Walley Toevs was the leader for the group. Those who would have helped but were in the infirmary included: Bill Ainley, Ron Davis, Dave Holmes and Bill Gwinn. Weston Gray was scheduled to help, but they did not wake him (lucky guy!) These boys took shifts all during the night.

Fairchild to Head WSSF Campaign

A campaign to introduce to Whitworth students and faculty members the activities of the World Student Service Fund, will be conducted Jan. 26 to Feb. 6 under the direction of Ben Fairchild.

The WSSSF is a relief organization of the students and professors of American schools and colleges for the assistance of students and faculties of universities of war-devastated countries.

Unless aid is given to many of the 400,000 students in war-torn countries they will be unable to continue their studies as doctors, lawyers, engineers and technicians to help in the reconstruction of their nations, and without these potential leaders the prospect of world peace is diminished, WSSSF officials say.

Nearly five per cent of all students in Europe have active tuberculosis, and at the University of Athens there are over 1,000 tubercular students, they continued. To combat this menace WSSSF is supporting and establishing sanatoria in several European countries.

The four main efforts of the WSSSF include medical care, intellectual relief (books, supplies, etc.), emergency materials (food, clothing, and housing), and international projects.

Since its establishment 11 years ago the organization has received $2,500,000 in the United States alone, and has been supported by students in 18 other countries.

The campaign will include the showing of a film entitled "The Seeds of Destiny" on Feb. 3 and 4 in the speech auditorium, and the chapel period Feb. 6.

The committee includes in addition to Fairchild representatives of several campus organizations. They are Marion White and Junita Christensen, town students; Colleen Pickert, WWA; Gordon Schweitzer, W club; Gilbert Thiessen, Philadelphians; Jim McConnell, I.K.; Carole Berg and Marion Venn, student council.

LEADERS NEEDED IN CHURCH WORK

There are 2,000 Presbyterian churches without pastors in our country, Dr. Jesse Baird, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, told the student body at a recent chapel period. This condition is the result of the lack of Christian leadership, stated Dr. Baird.

This well known Christian educator, who has been the president at San Anselmo for the past 12 years, stressed the subject of "the church of the west."

C.E. News

On Sunday, Jan. 25, the C.E. panel discussion on "In His Steps" will be continued. There will be four different speakers and Margaret Funk will be the leader. All are cordially invited to attend these heart-warming meetings.

If you're in the mood for an exciting evening, you better come to the Scavenger Hunt, sponsored by the C.E. on Friday night, Jan. 30. Everyone will meet in the gym at 7:30 p. m. and be sure to dress warmly.

Nearine Marcus and Shirley Davies are planning the party. The refreshments are in charge of Marion Venn.

GRINNELL COLLEGE

Conference of Presbyterian young people at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa, for a four-day session early last summer was the subject of a report presented during chapel period Jan. 19. Wally Toevs presided at the meeting.

The 2,000 delegates represented 36 countries, and far exceeded the 750 anticipated, Whitworth's representatives reported.

The conference theme was built around the four aims of the Westminster Fellowship. These aims are faith and life, stewardship, Christian fellowship, and Christian outreach. The Whitworth delegates were impressed by the positive emphasis placed on Christianity by the convention.

"Evangelism is a natural part of a Christian's life" was an outstanding statement made during the gathering, Margaret Freece stated. She served as an adviser at the meetings.

Other delegates from Whitworth included Marylyn James, Ruth Toevs and Colleen Griffiths.

Major resolutions acted upon were support of the New Life Movement, approval of the Youth Budget plan, a relief program, and opposition to universal military training.

EVERYTHING?

ANSWER: No indeed! Though prices are way up on most items, some few things actually cost less. For example, the average Water Power residential customer is now getting 61% more electricity for his dollar than he did ten years ago. Electricity has not gone up in price.

PIRATES DROP SAVAGES 58 - 52

After spotting the Savages a 6-0 lead, the Whitworth Pirates come to life to score 11 points while holding the opposition scoreless and then went on to turn back the Eastern Washington five 58-52 in a thriller at Cheney Monday night.

The losers led for the first two minutes but after the Pirates once grabbed the lead they were never headed.

Halftime favored Whitworth by a 30-23 score.

Only once did the Savages come within three markers of the Pirates, trailing 41-38 in the middle of the second period. Then the Whits poured on the steam to widen the gap.

Sets Blistering Pace

It was just a matter of sheer team work that spelled win for the locals. With Gordy Brandt, Clyde Matters and Wayne Conner controlling the backboard and Bill Roffler and Earl Mortlock ringing the hoop with consistency, the Pirates set a blistering pace that kept them out in front until the end.

Roffler led the Pirates in scoring with 18 points followed by Mortlock with 17. The Savages' George Gablehouse canned 13 to lead the losers.

FROM THE SIDELINE

By Walt Dawson

Here and there about this and that: Whitworth and St. Martins must have set some kind of a league record in their conference opener when the two teams committed a combined total of 63 personal fouls—34 for the Whits and 29 for the Rangers. A total of 6 players, three from each team, were waved out of the game.

Little Wayne

A high total of personal fouls does not necessarily mark a player. There probably isn't a cleaner player in the league than Wayne Conner, yet the Pirate pivot man is far out in front with personals, having been whistled down 63 times. Clyde Matters has a remarkable low number of rule infractions — being called only seven times in 14 games.

Bass Makes Good

Coach Stannard remarked that some night Sam Bass was going to cut loose with a bushel of points. Sammy was well on his way last Saturday night collecting 15 counters before personals caught up with him.

FALCON WINGS CLIPPED SHORT BY TWO WINS

In two of the cleanest basketball games played on the Graves hall floor this season, the Whitworth Pirates rolled over the Seattle Pacific Falcons 68-54 and 79-53 in a pair of non-conference tilts Friday and Saturday night.

Gordy Brandt and Bill Roffler paced the Pirates in the Friday night contest while Sammy Bass and Gerry Mahaffey teamed up with Roffler to set the tempo in the high-scoring Saturday play.

Until the last few games foul shots had been the Pirates nemesis. But in the last two outings the Pirates have counted 70 per cent of their free tosses. Ex-Washington Coach Hec Edmundson recently said he would settle for a college team which could make 60 per cent of their free throws.

This column's vote for the most improved Pirate cager of the current season — Gordy Brandt. His backboard play in recent games has been just short of sensational.

It's almost worth the price of admission just to watch North Central's Coach Bob Brumbaly officiate a basketball game. The popular high school mentor nearly throws himself into a fit every time he calls a foul. And there are very few who disagree with his decisions.

BASKET BALL GAME STARTS TONIGHT AT 8

... Loggers Arrive

The Pirates take time out from conference battles to play host to the Northern Idaho College of Education in the opener of a two game series starting tonight at 8.

This will be the first meeting between the two teams this season, and it will mark the beginning of a four game rivalry which will continue when the Pirates play a pair of return tilts at Lewiston February 13 and 14.

The Whits expect little trouble from the Logger five. The visitors have found difficulty in breaking in the win column with any consistency. Last year the Pirates claimed two lopsided victories over the Idaho rivals when they visited here and split a pair of games with them at Lewiston.

PETERSON RECITAL

Mrs. John Peterson, the former Martha Dunlop, will be presented in her senior piano recital Sunday, January 25, at 4:00 p. m. in the Fine Arts building. All Whitworth students are invited to attend.

Mrs. Peterson attended Whitworth last year, and is now taking her senior work at Deaconess hospital, where she is a student laboratory technician. She will graduate at Whitworth commencement next June.

Mrs. Anna Carrel, her piano instructor, is in charge of the recital. Miss Marilyn James will assist Mrs. Peterson by giving a brief outline of each selection between numbers.

TWO WINS SET PACE FOR TEAM ON COAST TRIP

Whitworth Pirates opened their 1948 Winco basketball schedule with a 3 game invasion of the coast January 9-12, copping a pair of victories from St. Martins and losing a single encounter to Pacific Lutheran.

After outscoring a scrappy Ranger squad 63-55 in the conference opener, the Pirates came back the next night to eke out a 32-31 decision to make it two straight over the Lacey five.

Following a day's rest the Whits met the highly touted Pacific Lutherans in a contest at Tacoma. The Lutes had their shooting eye that night and dropped in 30 buckets in 56 attempts to snow the Pirates under 73-46.

U.M.T. DISPUTE AIRED; LEGION SCOLDS X-G.I.'s

Post Nine Offers to Send Speaker Here
So All May Learn

Recently returned from Ft. Knox, Ky., H. L. Rowley, a member of the ORC, described UMT (universal military training) as he saw it in action to members of social problems classes last Tuesday.

Mr. Rowley traced the program of the pilot groups taking a model course in UMT and followed his lecture with a question period.

Last month the college drew fire from the American Legion when its post number nine called campus X-G.I.'s "ignorant" about UMT.

Plans for a speaker from the Legion to explain the bill now before Congress to the entire student body are still tentative, according to ASWC President Len Watson.

WHITE, STRAWN TO CONFERENCE

Major problem discussed at Tuesday's Student Council meeting was the proposed change in the council set-up. The matter, which must be referred to the student body for a vote, was discussed and tabled for future action.

The council voted to send Lawrence White and Phil Strawn, accompanied by Professor Culverwell, to the Pacific Northwest College Congress at Whitman, March 3, 4, 5 and 6. These men will represent Whitworth at the conference.

At a previous council meeting, the vacant space in MacMillan basement formerly occupied by the biology lab was accepted for the student body as a student commons or union. The rooms will be in charge of a committee from the student body who will work with Dr. Munn and Bruce McCullough.

V.A. Here Monday

ARCHER ANDERSON POINTS SIGHTS TOWARD S. E. WEEK

Minnesota Pastor
To Develop Theme
"Christ, Our Life"

A man whose life is devoted to young people's work, Dr. Archer E. Anderson, will lead the week of emphasis on the spiritual life movement at Whitworth college Feb. 15 to 20.

The theme "Christ, Our Life" will be developed by Dr. Anderson. He will speak each morning and evening during the week, and will provide counsel for any student seeking spiritual help and guidance.

Dr. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Duluth, Minn. follows in a line of leaders of the church who have conducted the annual Spiritual Emphasis week.

"Each year," stated Dr. Frank E. Warren, Whitworth president, "this week has been the most important on the campus, and we are certain that this year will be no exception."

Among Dr. Anderson's qualifications as a Christian leader, is his success as a missionary in Guatemala, Central America.

His service there was terminated because of the health of his family. Recently his ability to speak Spanish fluently enabled him to be of great service when he spent a month in Mexico assisting in the organization of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in that country.

Since his return to the United States from Guatemala he has held pastorates in Texas, Pennsylvania, and Minnesota.

The Duluth church of which he has been pastor for the past nine years has 1500 members, and occupies a place of leadership in northern Minnesota. The church has consistently sent large numbers of young people into the Christian colleges and seminaries of the nation. At present there are about 60 members from this church training for full-time Christian service.

Dr. Warren's personal acquaintanceship with Dr. Anderson led him to comment that "no man in America is more successful in sending young people into full-time Christian service."

The Anderson family includes three daughters. Frances is a freshman at Whitworth, one sister is a junior at Wheaton college and the third girl is at home in Duluth.

Other members of the Duluth First Presbyterian church attending Whitworth include Carol Berg, Jake Wong, Mrs. Bill Unti, Rob and Betty Marvin.

DADDY CAN GO OUT TONIGHT!

LAWSON SHOWS OFF CITY HALL

"Democracy begins in your own community," Commissioner Kenneth Lawson told a group of students from the history and journalism departments visiting the city hall last week.

He pointed out that better government in the national realm was a lost hope until people begin to fight the undemocratic policies in local government.

The group visited the radio rooms of the police and fire departments, the jail, the emergency hospital, and the bacteriology departments.

SLIDE RULE CONFUSION AROUND $2 OR $9 STICK; WHO KNOWS??

By F. P.

What kind of a slide rule should engineering students under the G.I. Bill be entitled to, is the current question in the book store-Veterans' Administration confusion.

At the college book store Q. E. Peck said: "We have two prices on slide rules. One sells for $2, the other for $9. We issued the $9 one to engineering students in the past, but the V.A. turned thumbs down on it. They made the college pay the difference between the $9 and $2 slide rule. So now we give G.I.'s the $2 one."

CULVERWELL OPENS CHURCH SCHOOL SERIES

Professor A. H. Culverwell led the study course consisting of a one hour lecture on the organization and work of the United Nations and a one hour discussion period at the "School of Christian Education," Feb. 3, at Westminster Congregational church, in Spokane.

This school is sponsored by the Spokane Council of Churches and classes will be held each Tuesday evening for six weeks.

In his opening lecture Prof. Culverwell said, "Mere recognition that we need to find a way to eliminate war if we are to survive will not achieve international peace. There should be some hard thinking on the part of our people. To so think, we need an understanding of previous attempts and the failures of men to build a general international organization for peace."

W.S.S.F. Closes Campaign Today

The campaign for contributions to the World Student Service Fund concludes today with the Whitworth committee in charge of the program at chapel service. Activities included the showing of the film "Seeds of Destiny" on Feb. 3 and 4, and solicitations by dormitory representatives.

Mrs. Gladys Lawther, regional director from Portland visited the campus during the campaign. She conferred with Ben Fairchild, chairman of the committee, and with other members.

The purposes of WSSF were outlined to members of Alpha Kappa Chi, town student club, at their meeting yesterday.

Receptacles have been placed in convenient places about the campus to enable students to give to the assistance of needy students in foreign lands.

Dormitory solicitors include Shirley Miller, Nason; Mary Tupper, Ballard; Charlene Boquet, McMillan; Margaret Funk, Westminster; and Jane Zimmerman, Westminster wing.

In the men's dorms they are Glen Ellison, Lancaster; Dick Baker, Goodsell; Holland St. John, Washington; and Wally Bekowies, Whitworth.

Biology Dept. On Radio Forum

Discussing the importance of the Rh factor in the blood and its medical significance, three members of the biology department presented the second in a series of Whitworth college forum broadcasts over station KFIO at 7:15 p.m., Monday.

Dr. H. E. Alder introduced the topic, explaining the technical background. L. G. Baker, Jerry Mahaffey, and George McClaron answered popular questions arising from new scientific knowledge on the subject.

"Doctors can now determine if there is danger to unborn infants because of this factor and can have ready a supply of pure, new blood at birth," the students reported. "There is little danger of this complication with the first child," they asserted.

In concluding, Dr. Alder stated that scientists had only begun to exhaust the possibilities of discovery on this topic.

Station KFIO may be heard at 1320 kilocycles. The forum is presented as a public feature.

VOICE PUPILS IN RECITAL

Mrs. Wortes presented her voice pupils in recital at her home Sunday, Feb. 1. The afternoon program was given by Beverly Holmes, Ardis Harris, Richard Guthrie, Fae Eilers and Robert Mills, pupils representing advanced voice training. Refreshments and a social hour concluded the program.

DIFFICULTIES IN STUDENT COUNCIL

A major problem confronting the Student Council is the rapid growth in size of the governing body, and as a consequence, increasing difficulty in meeting the problems at hand.

At present, the council is composed of approximately 60 members. Of these, four are the officers elected by the student body, the others are representatives from clubs and organizations on the campus. Each club, in accordance with the constitution, is allowed two representatives, president and vice-president.

When Whitworth consisted of approximately 150 students, and a greatly reduced number of clubs, the student council set-up was adequate. However, with the rapid growth in students, and an increasing number of clubs representing varied interests, the council has grown proportionately.

The question is this—IS THE STUDENT COUNCIL IN ITS PRESENT SIZE AND SET-UP ADEQUATELY MEETING THE NEEDS OF THE STUDENT BODY?

At any council meeting less than one-third the number of representatives are present. Some clubs are never represented.

(Ed. note—Specific instances can be cited by the editor.) Can something be done about this?

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of Him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace... that publisheth salvation.—Isaiah 52:7.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

In a few days we shall be giving our thought to the important subject of our spiritual life. Each year at Whitworth and traditionally in Presbyterian schools everywhere a week in mid-winter is set aside for this purpose.

What is a Spiritual Emphasis Week? Simply stated, an outstanding leader is brought to the campus who speaks to the entire student body each morning and evening with time during the day allotted for personal interviews. However, the week cannot be summed up in such frugal words, for the program of religious emphasis is far more than just meetings—it is thinking in terms of the spiritual part of man and of man's relation to his Creator.

To be sure, this should occupy more than just a week in a year, for it is a life task to be a real Christian. Nevertheless, it is a good thing to set aside a week when we are brought face to face with the claims of Jesus Christ upon life. We spend months in the mastery of our high school and college subjects, We should indeed spend a longer time than we do in our meditation and contemplation of God. It is not enough to be brought up in Christian homes and to have a Christian legacy. Each one of us must have a personal knowledge of a right relationship between us and God. The purpose of Spiritual Emphasis Week is to make possible in every student's life a high moment of decision, conversion, and consecration.

The administration of the college earnestly requests that this year as in the past the students of our college will avail themselves of every single opportunity to participate in these meetings. Plan your work so that you can hear every address that Dr. Anderson will bring, and come with the thought that you are going to receive something that will enable you to live the Christian life as it should be lived.

Frank F. Warren, President.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the student body for the lovely basket of flowers I received while in the hospital. Your thoughts and prayers, also, meant a lot to me while I was feeling somewhat "low." Believe me, they help. The cheerful "welcome backs" sounded mighty good when I returned to the campus. I really appreciated all these kindnesses so typical of Whitworth.

Mildred Nelsen.

P.S.: Next time I'll pick a closer tree.

Dear Editor:

We read with interest the letter published recently in the WHITWORTHIAN regarding overloading a few students with jobs and not recognizing others. It is a subject which has

SNOW FROLIC LURES SCHOLARS FROM BOOKS TO MOUNTAIN TOP

Snow—(ice)—snow — (ice) — snow is about all 400 Whitworth college students saw on Tuesday, January 27 at the First Annual "Snow Frolic" on Mount Spokane where they were trying to master the fine art of skiing on two planes instead of three.

Mary Baird and Earl Plankenhorn reigned as the Whitworth "Snow Frolic" king and queen.

Classes were officially out at 10 o'clock Tuesday, but there have been rumors that some of the two morning classes were not fully attended.

Once on top of Mount Spokane, the students made a mad scramble for their skiing equipment. In the midst of all this one fellow suddenly remembered that he had forgotten to bring his skis. With a pair of size 11 shoes and an extra pair of ski poles he made out very nicely.

The student reaction to the first annual "snow frolic" was reported very favorably. Here is what four of them had to say been discussed many times in our executive and committee meetings and one about which we also feel that something should be done.

However, we should like to point out the fact that no speaker has been used twice this year in Christian Endeavor meetings, and we have tried to rotate those who play the piano, lead singing, or present special music. On the other hand, we feel that the students who attend meetings want interesting and inspiring programs, and our first thought has been to get the best as well as to use as many students as possible. We often do not know who has special talents. Our friends can be helpful by suggesting names of students who can sing, play instruments, or speak with ability.

We should like to explain to our Town students the reason for changing the time of their program. We were able to get Rev. William Nelsen, who has been working for twelve years with Moslems in India, this week. We had to have him speak then or not at all, and we felt, after much thought and discussion, that such a man would have a message which would warrant changing our first plans. We are looking forward to an excellent meeting from our Town Students on February 25.

We welcome constructive criticism and will be glad to consider carefully and prayerfully any suggestions. Our prayer is that we might do all things "heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men". Col. 3:23.

Sincerely serving in His name, C.E. Executive.

about the event: John Nauditt— Never in my life have I had more fun at a school event as I did at the Whitworth "snow frolic"; Ken Beeson — I believe the "snow frolic" was a huge success and look forward to enjoying it again next year; Mildred Lesler—Ouch! My achin' bones; Bill Johnson— It was wonderful because it gave everyone a chance to show their special abilities in the snow, as well as to give each one a lot of fun and fellowship together.

Whitworth college officials have agreed that the success of the "snow frolic" warrants a continuation of the event.

Bob Bradburn was the general chairman for the event. Working with him were Betty Lange, Ellen Lockhead, Jim Carlsen, and Helmuth Bekowies.

How to Preserve a Husband

Be careful in your selection.

Do not choose too young.

When once selected, give your entire thought to the preparation for domestic use. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, others are constantly getting them in hot water. This makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter. Even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good by garnishing them with patience, well sweetened with love and seasoned with kisses. Wrap them in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peaches and cream. Thus prepared they will keep for years.—Anonymous.

SPANISH CLUB MEETS

With the club's president, Jeff Peasland, presiding over the Spanish meeting on Jan. 21, the following committees and chairmen were appointed:

1. Publicity—Muriel Stover.
2. Service—Naomi Kimball.
3. Project—Ray Gouldin.

The club has decided to buy a record player and Spanish records as a project.

The members decided to have a luncheon during Spiritual Emphasis Week for the missionary speaker from Latin America.

Sophomore Basket Social Wins Student Approval

The Sophomore class basket social, held on the night of January 24th, met with the approval of all those attending and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves, it was reported by Marshall Hodge, President of the Sophomore class.

Bidding on the box lunches reached the three dollar limit in a very short time.

Hodge also stated that the amount cleared by the class from this project, $37.00, and money raised through class dues will be used for paying off the debt which was acquired last year when the class undertook the remodeling of the commons on a two-year basis.

Whitworth Players Wants Members

"Charlie's Aunt" tryouts will begin next week for Whitworth players. There are parts for seven males and five females. All interested in production work see Mel Taylor. Tryouts will be in the Speech Auditorium.

"The Alabaster Box" will be given March 21. Tryouts will be held from 12:00 to 2:00 next Monday, Wednesday and Friday. This play is a religious Easter play in three acts. It will be given Easter Sunday before the C.E. If anyone is interested in production work contact Jane Nash.

SLIDE RULE

V.A.'s Mr. Richards stated: "The V.A. sets no definite price on the slide rule which the college may issue to a veteran student. We just require that it be of normal quality, and the price be fair."

Prof. W. G. Wilson, physics, required his freshman students to have the inexpensive type of slide rule, but students in Physics 77 must have one of "engineer medium quality," which would be the $9 slide rule.

Prof. B. C. Neustel doesn't require his chemistry students to use slide rules. But he does insist upon the use of inexpensive log tables.

Prof. J. A. Carlson, mathematics, wants his students to have a beginner's slide rule for their work.

And X-G.I. students feel they should have a ruler better than the $2 instrument now used if they are majoring in engineering.

HEART SISTER AFFAIR SET

The traditional Sefelo heart sister week for all campus women is scheduled for the week preceding St. Valentine's Day, Feb. 9 to 13.

Women will exchange names to obtain a "heart sister." Their identity will remain a secret throughout the week, as each day they perform various favors for their sister.

A party will climax the events of the week, when each woman reveals herself to her heart sister by a small gift, or in any way she desires.

LUMS FROLIC WITH STUDENTS

A program of magic, imitations, and music scored highly with more than 200 students and alumni who attended the Whitworth Alumni party Saturday night at the college gymnasium.

Coffee and homemade cakes, baked by members and wives of the Alumni association, were served in the Commons at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. George Stout, '47, was in charge of refreshments.

ARCHER ANDERSON

Leaders of Spiritual Emphasis week during the past seven years are:

1941—Dr. A. J. "Dad" Elliott, executive secretary of Christian Evangelism Among Youth, Inc

1942—Dr. Clarence A. Kircher, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Sacramento.

1943—Dr. Jesse H. Baird, president of San Francisco Theological Seminary.

1944—Dr. Dale D. Welch, president of Alma College, Michigan.

1945—Dr. and Mrs. Robert N. McLean, First Presbyterian church, Yakima.

1946—Dr. Robert B. Munger, First Presbyterian church, Berkeley.

1947—Dr. Louis H. Evans, First Presbyterian church, Hollywood.

Dr. Anderson expects to arrive on the campus Feb. 13.

DR. SCHLAUCH LEADS FORUM

The second in the series of Whitworth radio forums, presented every Monday evening over KFIO, was given Jan. 26 by the Sociology department under the direction of Dr. G. H. Schlauch.

Discussing the subject of factors in the home that contribute to juvenile delinquency, the panel came to the conclusion that the first cause of delinquency is unwise or negligent parents.

Members of the panel were Ed Underhill, William Donner, Kenneth Turney, and Norman Dorpat. The discussion was led by Dr. Schlauch.

Faculty Jaunting This Weekend

Three members of the administration and faculty have left on trips for distant points. Dr. Warren is traveling through Washington to California on a lecture tour. Also in California is Dr. Mark Koehler, who is preaching in Oakland.

Dr. Munn is representing the Spokane laymen at the national Presbytery meeting in Chicago, February 10 through February 15. He is visiting in Toronto, Canada, and Oberlin, Ohio, while in the East.

WOMEN'S WORLD

By Bea Dee
Sounds in the night—

Shower room harmonies—some sweet, some low, mostly loud!

Pick up for a dull evening -- pull the Kleenex out of the fire alarm (It plugs it up)—and all fury breaks loose! Gals from all around come dashing to see what gives, anyhow?

The sound of happy laughter accompanied by the loud popping of coke bottles being uncapped on dresser drawer handles.

There is a lot of enthusiasm around Westminster about their forthcoming party.

Shirley Bosworth's plaid taffeta dress has the "new look"—very becoming, too.

Did you know Nancy Johnson has a new nickname? Esther Gray christened her "Feather" after a vigorous pillow fight.

Interesting note: Mimi Van Patten's father was at one time the military governor of the Virgin Islands.

Our girl's basketball team really deserves a lot of praise. The girls are consistent winners and put forth a great deal of effort in making the team the success it is.

Doris Berks finally finished the sleeveless sweater that Eddie now proudly wears.

Acting president during the absence of Dr. Warren is Dr. Maxson.

WHITS FIGHT CENTRAL TONIGHT

PIRATES, CATS MEET TONIGHT IN WINCO PLAY

The Central Washington Wildcats, last year's co-champions of the Winco league, come to Graves Hall tonight for the initial installment of a two game series with the Pirates in the first conference home game of the current season.

The visiting Wildcats, who set a Winco league record for scoring last season when they averaged over 60 points per contest, were pre-season favorites to repeat as conference champions this year, but injuries and illness have kept the Central five below par for most of the current play.

Despite the loss of their high scoring guard, Fred Peterson, who set a league mark in the 1947 campaign when he scored 34 points in a single contest, the Wildcats still have a formidable quintet headed by Dean Nicholson, 1947 All Winco selection, and Chuck Long, their tall scrapping center. These two promise to give the Pirates a busy evening of basketball.

Coach Jerry Stannard has not announced his starting five for tonight's contest but it will probably be Gordy Brandt and Clyde Matters starting at forwards with Bill Roffler and Earl Mortlock holding down the guard positions, and dependable Wayne Conner at the pivot spot.

LETTERMEN GIVEN AWARDS

Twenty-seven varsity football men were awarded "W's" at the special awards convocation held Monday, Jan. 26.

Special recognition was given to Vern Tucker, who was named honorary team captain for the 1947 season.

The Snyder inspirational award was made to Ray Roestel. The award is presented annually to the player voted the most inspirational to his teammates.

In addition to the letter awards, each letterman was given a black sweater. This was the first time in Whitworth athletic history that all men receiving letters were also awarded sweaters. Prior to this, only third-year players were given sweaters.

Those receiving awards were:
Third year: Len Watson and Ray Roestel.

Second year: Norm Stokke, Bob Cruzen, Al Swanson, Vern Tucker, Bob Kohlstaedt, Dave Holmes, Sam Tague and Dick Carr.

FROM THE SIDELINE

As we come to the midway mark in league play the question still arises, "Who's going to stop Pacific Lutheran?" The powerful Gladiators, who already have the conference football championship tucked away, are now well on their way to add the Winco basketball flag to their trophy collection. As the rest of the league continues in a battle royal for the second place spot, the Lutes keep edging closer toward the title. With a record of eight straight wins without a setback, the Tacoma quintet need but four wins in their remaining seven games to cinch the top berth, no matter if any one of the challengers should win all of its remaining games.

The Lutes have tested every team in the league, and only St. Martins and Central have given them a scare, each team having trailed the league leaders by a single goal at the final whistle.

Basketball experts say that the home team has a six point advantage from the opening tip-off. If that holds true, maybe the Lutes can be slowed down yet. Of their remaining seven games, six of them are on enemy courts. The Gladiators must tangle twice with Central at Ellensburg, plus single encounters with Eastern at Cheney and St. Martins at Lacey. Local fans will get a chance to see the pace setters in action when the Pirates will try to upset the leaders' pennant dash in a pair of tilts here February 20 and 21.

SUMMER TERM TAKES SHAPE

Courses and faculty members are being chosen by the administration committee for the Summer School session which will cover the six week period from June 21 to July 30. A special Summer School bulletin will be out about March 1, giving full particulars.

Students have specified certain courses of interest, largely in the field of education. Four separate seminars will probably be offered in teaching, administration, guidance techniques in psychology, and philosophy of education. Many general courses offered during the Winter quarter will also be given.

REV. LAZEAR TALKS IN CHAPEL

Comparing a wheel, revolving about its hub, to a Christian whose life is Christ-centered, Rev. Robert Lazear, missionary to Columbia, South America, spoke in chapel Jan. 29.

An eccentric wheel can't function properly, and neither can a Christian who has not yielded the central place in his life to God, he explained.

Two essentials for success in a missionary life are a good grip on the language and a strong spiritual life, he pointed out.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lazear showed slides of their work at the evening service.

They gathered their rusty 6-inch nail, a 1/2-inch pin, red shoelaces, a horseshoe, an Indian-Head penny and a Rice Crispies box in record time and were given

TWO WINS IN FIVE GAMES RECENT RECORD

The Pirates had to settle with but two wins in five starts during the last two-week span. Playing host to the North Idaho Loggers in a pair of non-conference games on Jan. 23 and 24 the Whits could claim but an even split in the two game series, coping the first tilt, 54-42, and losing the second encounter in a 68-60 scoring duel.

Farragut fell victims to the Pirates for the fourth time this season, 55-52, in another Kings-X contest at Farragut, Jan. 26.

Whitworth returned to league play last Friday with a two game invasion of the coast. The Pirates suffered two reverses at the hands of the Western Washington Vikings, 63-57, and 71-54, dropping the Whits from undisputed runner-up honors in league play.

NEW COUNSELING PROGRAM FOLLOWS LATEST TRENDS

Keeping abreast of current counseling trends, Miss Jenkins and Dr. Maxson attended the Northwest Counselor's meeting last Thursday and Friday at Pullman. Problems were discussed in forum meetings regarding the counseling of students from their entrance as freshmen through the completion of their campus work. Special emphasis was placed on residential, academic, vocational and financial counseling problems.

Maxson On Forum

Dr. Maxson, who served on the financial forum said, "We feel that Whitworth college has much to learn in the field of counseling techniques. Our whole program working through the guidance offices on the campus is following the latest steps, and is abreast

'VARIETIES' NETS
$400 FOR FUND

An enthusiastic audience of nearly 500 attended the "Varsity Varieties" show last week, sponsored by the Junior class and the Garland Kiwanis Club. More than $400 was raised for the Spokane Blue Baby fund.

Larry White and Art Litscher acted as masters of ceremonies, introducing the acts as well as contributing a little by-play themselves between numbers.

Andre' Mercury and his band started the show with several numbers, followed by a one-act play starring Holland St. John and Jean Beaughan. Janet Reece played several piano solos and two "blackout" skills were given.

More music was furnished by a girls' trio and a boys' barbershop quartet. "Vern-ita", Tucker and "her" boy-friend, Larry White appeared in a short episode entitled "G.I. Joe College."

Marge Scott and Kay Perrins sang three duets, and Marge closed the program by singing "Bless This Cause," the words of which were written by Dr. A. A. Litscher.

KNIGHTS WEAR
NEW SWEATERS

The Inter-collegiate Knights of Whitworth college received their new sweaters this week and from all appearances are quite proud of them. These sweaters are red with black and white shields.

They have also initiated six new members into the organization on Feb. 3. Initiates are: Dale Parton, Tom Patten, Don Wilson, Al Clark, Jim Carlson, and George Stout.

Pirette Chapel

"Hope of Earth," by Margaret Lee Runbeck, will be the subject of a book review given by Mrs. Harry Davenport at Monday's chapel.

Sponsored by the Pirettes, the chapel program will also include the presentation of new Pirettes, Mel Taylor is in charge of the program.

Mel Unruh Takes
Grand O.P.S. Job

Newly elected grand director of Alpha Psi Omega is Mel Unruh. Other new officers elected at the last meeting are: Betty Lange, grand recorder, and Lavern Brasard, assistant director and business manager.

During the banquet meeting, the following people were initiated as members in the honorary dramatic organization: Marjorie Haas, Nadine Lamkin, Mel Unruh, Mary Lois Taylor, and Lawrence White.

Student Vote Threatened!

Some members of the Student council are going to lose their right to vote. This is why:

Early next week a special meeting of the Student council will be held. All clubs and organizations on the campus recognized by the college should have their two officers, president and vice president, there.

But only 25 of the 60 who can vote on council matters will show up. The other 35 will be off drinking coffee or studying. The important matter of who will compose the council will come up at that meeting.

Observers are certain that the number of representatives to the council will be reduced. A proposed amendment to the constitution is going to be heard at this meeting. It will call for a reduction from 60 down to about 15-20.

So, club presidents and vice presidents, don't howl if you lose your vote! don't say "Why wasn't I told?"

Come to that meeting—you must—it will be your most important, and perhaps your last.

Announcements will be posted on all bulletin boards giving the exact time and place. Watch for them.

SPECIAL CHAPEL PLANNED FOR FOUNDERS DAY

Attempting to acquaint students with the personality of Dr. Whitworth, a special chapel program will be given March 17 to celebrate his 132nd birthday. The program is planned to tell who he was, what he did, and why this college was named after him.

Displays of pictures and articles of historical interest to the college will be made at different locations on the campus.

Dr. Whitworth's birthday is actually March 15 but the later date was chosen as more convenient.

It is planned that "Founder's day" will become an annual Whitworth event.

Edith Huskey and Marjorie Garcia served as mistresses of ceremonies for the party called the "Leapin' Lena Jamboree." The Speech auditorium was decorated in a Valentine motif. Refresh-

SPIRITUAL WEEK LEADER
CONCLUDES CAMPUS SERVICE

Tonight Dr. Archer Anderson will conclude his Spiritual-Emphasis week message on the theme "Christ, Our Life."

In addition to his 11 messages delivered to the entire student body at the morning chapels and evening services in Tiffany Memorial chapel, Dr. Anderson had scores of personal interviews in the little prayer chapel and discussion groups each evening at 6:30 in the speech auditorium. Dr. Anderson leaves after the service tonight for his home in Duluth, Minn.

Topics for his messages included, "Re-Kindling the Fire," "The New Birth," "Consecration of our bodies to God," "The Sovereignty of God," "The Second Army,"

... Draw Praise

Bulletin boards and walls, these past two weeks, have been adorned with attractive posters publicizing the W.S.S.F. Drive.

These posters were a project of Prof. J. Koehler's poster design class. Producing these posters in two lab periods, the ten students of this class set aside their regular progressive development, in poster design for promotion of the W.S.S.F.

The following students took part in this project: Frank Booth, Ed. Carlson, Dee Hawes, Pat Janzen, Bill Morbey, Frank O'Malley, Bill Reece, Colette Sturm, Jack Warth.

Directors of W.S.S.F. said: "These posters are the best we have seen in any college," and requested photographs of them for use in future campaigns.

Casting for an Easter play, "The Alabaster Box," is being completed. Rehearsals will start immediately.

W.S.S.F. FUND
BUILDING FAST

The recently completed campaign for the World Student Service Fund is one of the most successful ever held on this campus, according to Ben Fairchild, chairman. Contributions are expected to exceed $300, he stated.

The art department's cooperation in making the program a success was acknowledged by Mr. Gladys Lawther, regional director from Portland, when she said that the posters were the best that she had observed on any campus in the Northwest. She requested Fairchild to photograph them to provide models for use in other colleges.

Showing of the film "Seeds of Destiny" and a lecture by Nuno Jorge Dasilva, International Relations student from Cheney, highlighted the campaign. Dasilva, who has studied in Hong Kong, was assisted by W.S.S.F. He spoke about student work in China.

The Whitworthian IS Read, According To Reader Check

DOES THE WHITWORTHIAN MEET YOUR APPROVAL? A limited budget restricts the number of issues and the size of the paper, but it doesn't control what it printed on those pages.

Recent assertions that "nobody reads the Whitworthian" inspired a reader survey, which not only gave the old one-two punch to the charge, but also revealed some interesting and puzzling data.

Here are some examples:

1. The only students contacted who didn't read the paper were town students with no mail box; evidently they were unaware that copies were available in the Commons.

2. An inconspicuous article which concerned comparatively few students was the best-read story.

3. The average student reads 40 per cent of all the articles

4. Articles about men students were generally better read than those about women.

Which all leads up to what? YOU TELL US! How can the staff know your reading tastes if you don't tell them? A letter to the editor with CONSTRUCTIVE criticisms and suggestions would help.

LET'S WORK TOGETHER TO MAKE THE WHITWORTHIAN A REAL VOICE OF THE CAMPUS.

What Has It Meant?

Once more on campus we are going to face the problems that were with us before this week. There will be students who will have matured in their Christian lives because they entered into Spiritual Emphasis Week with an open-minded willingness to learn. There will be the people who enthusiastically listened and will be filled with eager zeal and a desire to convert everyone. Unfortunately, in a couple of weeks these people will need another S. E. week to bolster their emotional fervor. There will be the ones who found that this Christian life was more than mere talk; there will be those who remained indifferent.

But, the group with whom we ought to concern ourselves is the group of students who felt that this Spiritual Emphasis week was just another school activity in which they didn't take part.

We who learn and enrich our lives under sound teaching have an obligation to make "Christ, our Life" instead of merely saying what our lives sometimes contradict.

And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

ANDERSON

"Triumphant Living," "The Only Mediator," and "God—the Father, Son and Holy Spirit."

Anderson Says

Brief quotations from Dr. Anderson's messages are as follows: We conclude that if Christ died for all, all were dead.

The New Birth is a new nature which underlies all the activities of life.

Present your body to God... as your own appreciation of what Jesus Christ has done for you.

We need a second army... equipped with Bibles instead of bayonets to convert men to God instead of destroying the human race.

The Father is the source, the Son, the Mediator, and the Holy Spirit the agent of our salvation. He wants us to receive this salvation in order that we will become so completely anchored in God that we'll never be moved. If I do not obey God, I do not trust Him.

Other Thoughts

Other thoughts in Dr. Anderson's messages are: The value of Christ's ministry as Mediator was explained by (1) His incarnation, wherein He became what we are so that He might make us what He is, and (2) His sacrifice by which we who were polluted may become righteous, and (3) His exaltation by which we who would otherwise live in dying defeat may

BUZZER SYSTEM HELP TO NURSES

No longer do the sick and dying who are in for a stretch in the infirmary have to make the hoarse cry of "RUTH! HEY, NURSE!" when they want something.

Prof. Wilson and several members of the physics department recently installed a buzzer system, which consists of one buzzer to each bed and a light to each two beds. The lights are located in both the nurses apartment and the doctors office.

"When used correctly, it is a great help," commented Nurse Ruth Jaqua, and she added laughingly that when one of the patients sits on his buzzer cord it causes quite a disturbance.

be invincible by the grace of God. We were reminded that just as Timothy was warned by Paul not to step aside from any practices of the Christian faith, so we must be warned and challenge our flame for Christ.

Our inadequacy as human individuals to do His work does not matter when we through Jesus Christ can bring all His power to bear on our efforts.

Student and faculty comments about the entire week indicate that it was very successful.

"It was indeed a week we will long remember," said President Frank Warren.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

In your last editorial you wrote: "Specific instances can be cited by the editor. Can something be done about this?"

Surely—blindfold him. Name Withheld. "A small pinch satisfies." Ouch!—Editor.

Chapel Speakers Bring Messages

Recent chapel speakers brought varied messages to the student body. Rev. W. G. Nelson, missionary to the Moslems in India for 13 years, said that the three freedoms India needs are the freedom from foreign intervention, freedom from famine, and freedom from fear. The true emancipator of India is Jesus Christ.

Victoria Booth Demarest, granddaughter of William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, spoke to the students about "The World Association of Mothers for Peace" of which she is the founder. The controlling purpose of the organization is to promote a finer type of motherhood.

Dr. Mark Koehler addressed the group on the value of Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Heart Sisters Frolic at Party

The reason for those muffled (am I kidding?) noises from the Fine Arts Building last Thursday night, Feb. 12, was the Heart Sisters' Valentine's Day Party. Joyful shouts of pleasure and surprise accompanied the vicious tearing of paper as the presents and names of the Heart Sisters were revealed. The festive decorations provided a fitting atmosphere for those beautiful and corny poems!

On the program committee were: Elaine Plaster, chairman, Donna Spalding and Donna Vander Meer. Participants in the program were: Barbara Top, Beverly Holmes, Edith Hiskey, Jane Nash and Nadine Lampkin.

Roberta Panter led the devotions, Beverly McMorrin was song leader and Margaret Chaffee led the group in prayer. The party was ended with cocoa and cookies.

Seattle Pastor to Speak at Banquet

The Grill room of the Spokane hotel will be the setting for the annual Philadelphian-Life Service banquet March 5. The Rev. Ed Johnson of Seattle will be guest speaker.

Willis Case and Roberta Panter are directing banquet arrangements. Edith Hiskey is in charge of publicity, and Wally Bekowels is ticket sales manager.

Sunday, Feb. 22 — MUSIC NIGHT.

M'Cullough Makes High School Tour

Bruce McCullough, Whitworth Public Relations Director, will participate in a High School Conference Tour next week. Held annually, these tours cover most of the state of Washington. This will be the first tour of the year, and will include Tacoma, Bremerton, and Port Angeles.

Representatives from Washington colleges give information about their schools to groups of high school seniors, and then give personal counselling to those who express interest in any particular institution.

KOREAN MAN BROUGHT HERE BY R. E. SHREVE

Among the new students seen on Whitworth campus this quarter are Robert E. Shreve and Paul H. Parker (Hi Wang Park). Shreve is a former student who attended here in 1942 and who has returned after five years service in the armed forces. Parker is a Korean student whom Shreve met in Korea and induced to come to Whitworth on his return.

When asked how Whitworth of today compared with the Whitworth he remembered, Shreve stated, "I was surprised by its growth but find that the atmosphere and spirit are still amazingly the same. That is one of the two reasons I chose to return to Whitworth, the other being the emphasis it places upon a Christian education."

Parker has had nine years schooling in St. Francis Xavier's college, the equivalent of one of our prep schools, in Shanghai, China, graduating in 1944. He states his intentions are, "to learn more of Christianity and to take a pre-med course with hopes of returning to Korea as a medical missionary to my people."

He is attending Whitworth under a four-year scholarship granted him by the school. His other expenses are being paid by private means, due to the lack of a Central government in Korea which prevents him obtaining aid from his home.

The two men first met in Inchon, Korea, while on official duties. Parker was serving as secretary to the Chief of Police as well as acting as interpreter, and Shreve was working with a U.S. Intelligence unit.

Shreve stated that, "After meeting and working with Paul on several occasions I was so impressed by his intelligence and knowledge of the English language, as well as his willingness to learn more of Christianity, that I decided to act as mediator between Paul and Whitworth thus giving him the opportunity I believe he deserves."

HOPEFUL NOTE ON RESOURCES GIVEN BY FORUM

A note of optimism on the subject "Our Diminishing Natural Resources," was sounded in the forum discussion given Monday, Feb. 10, over station KFIO. Mildred Nelson, Delbert Marshall, Charles Strang and John LeVar were selected as speakers from the business and economics departments.

"The United States still has an abundance of most raw materials and those it does not have will be forthcoming by importation, American ingenuity, more capital for exploitation and more money for research," Dr. Thomas W. Bib concluded.

GALS WORK DOC

Dr. Anderson, who was sent an invitation at his home in Duluth, concluded the evening with devotions.

Included in the program were a flute trio, Frances Anderson, Donna VanderMeer and Edith Hiskey; a vocal solo by Dorothy Hone; a reading and a skit by Donna VanderMeer, Shirley Miller, Shirley Bosworth, and Deedie Marcus.

Other committee members were Mimi Van Patten, Yvonne Stewart, Shirley Bosworth, Frances Anderson, Deedie Marcus, Shirley Miller and Keava Rupp.

SPEECH

Arrangements for a series of speech contests between the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, are under way. Details will be made known to the student body in the near future.

A number of students in the Speech Department have entertained for various clubs and organizations off the campus recently.

Dance Denied

College officials last week denied would-be dance sponsors, the right to hold a dance for Whitworth students.

Informed sources say that the dance was called off when college officials acquainted them with traditional rule of the college banning ball room dancing among students.

Said one highly placed faculty member: "The board of trustees ruled long ago that dancing would not be allowed among students at Whitworth. In acting as we did we were fulfilling the obligation of administering the college according to the wishes of its constituency."

H. E. STASSEN SPEAKS HERE

Harold E. Stassen, Republican presidential hopeful, spoke before an eager and receptive audience of students Wednesday afternoon in Graves hall.

Stassen spoke briefly in a formal manner and then called for questions from the audience for the remainder of his time here.

Education Field Lures Graduates

Mary Ainley, '47, is teaching the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades near Woodlake, California.

Mary states, "I enjoy my work but I find that the most important asset in teaching, and I am sure in any work undertaken, is to be able to adjust to the conditions and the people with whom you are working."

Teaching home economics at the West Wenatchee junior high is Ava Mae Bainard. Lu Alice Wilson, '41, is teaching in the same county.

Eleanor Schell Becker is the home economist for the Houston Power and Light company of Texas. She has been with the company for nearly a year and a half.

Working for her master's degree in home economics education is Barbara De Foe, '47. She will soon practice teaching in the Pullman high school.

Jeanne Henderson, '46, is teaching home economics in Odessa high school. She is also Girls' club adviser and physical education instructor.

"School teaching is a full time job, don't plan to do it unless you enjoy your work and kids," Jeanne advises.

Council Decides

Early next week, Student Body President Len Watson said, the council will vote whether to place the "letter sweater" question and three others before the student body. All are constitutional changes.

They are:

To elect class officers in the spring quarter immediately following student body elections.

Make the increased A.S.W.C. dues $7 a quarter a permanent feature.

Take the May festival from the women's physical education director and place it in the hands of a "chairman...determined by the Associated Women Students."

One measure expected to pass unopposed is an addition to the Men's Athletics section. "A major sports award shall be made to any member of a minor sport team winning a conference championship."

FTA Organizes At Whitworth

Early this month the education students of the college formed a Whitworth chapter of the Future Teachers of America, which is a national organization affiliated with the National Education Association and the Washington Education Association. Those in the local chapter will receive junior memberships in these associations.

Members of the FTA will receive monthly journals of the NEA and WEA and they have the privilege of calling upon representatives of these organizations for counseling and guidance. Services of the NEA placement bureau will also be offered to FTA members.

The local chapter adopted a constitution and elected officers. Those elected include, John Christensen, president; Marvin Moos, vice president; Velma Clausen, secretary; John Rodkey, treasurer; and Morris Nelsen, reporter.

Hot Tamale!

The Junior class will sponsor a chili feed for the entire student body Saturday, Feb. 28, after the Cheney basketball game. The chili feed will be held in the Speech auditorium. A group of singers from Gonzaga will be on the program, and Spanish costumes will be worn by various members of the Junior class.

There will be 500 tickets available at the door for the feed. Betty Lange is the chairman of the party and working with her will be Joy Taylor, Dorothy Hone, Eva Wong, and Bill Ainley.

with the findings of any college or university in the area. "Whitworth has one major advantage. Being a smaller school, it can give more individual attention. Larger schools have such a great number of students it is impossible to reach all. Nevertheless, universities are making a sincere attempt to do a job of accurate counseling by building a large staff of trained counselors in all departments."

Program Increased

It was announced that the guidance program at Whitworth will be intensified to keep up with any intensive curricular program, and will give greater service to students. Among the newer phases of the program will be guidance in personality differences, choice of a delayed major, curricular readjustment, vocational adjustment and spiritual counseling.

The testing program at Whitworth is divided into four steps, which may be varied according to the individual's needs.

Test Steps Listed

Application for testing and counseling.

Actual testing—preference and vocational interest tests—subject aptitude tests.

Personality tests.

Individual counseling with the staff, and if recommended, with instructors.

Counseling service for those interested in choice of subject majors and vocations, or general problems is open through the counseling office Tuesdays and Thursdays each week, from 9 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3:00 p.m. Applications will be received in M-3.

Jacobsen Gives Piano Recital

Katherine Jacobsen was presented in her junior piano recital last Saturday night, in the Fine Arts building by Mrs. Carrel, piano instructor.

Miss Jacobsen, a music major, shows great promise not only as a pianist, but as a composer as well, critics say. She has written several orchestral numbers, one of which was played by the orchestra at the Homecoming play.

Following the recital, Miss Jacobsen and a group of her friends were entertained at a party in McMillan hall. She was presented with an original nosegay made of coins wrapped in gayly colored cellophane.

Included on the recital program were the following selections: Prelude and Fugue in E Minor...

Sonata Opus 2 No. 2...Beethoven
Nocturne in D...Chopin
Prophet and Bird...Schumann
Sonatina...Toecklin
Symphonic Varieties...Franck

Evelyn Vander Sys recently announced her engagement to Al Christensen. No definite wedding date has been set.

WHITS BATTLE LUTES TONIGHT

GAME STARTS AT 8

The league-leading Pacific Lutheran Gladiators wind up their 1948 Winco league play with a three game tour of the Spokane area starting with an 8 p.m. engagement against the Whitworth Pirates in Graves Hall tonight. The Lutes and Pirates mix it up again on the local floor tomorrow night.

Then the Lutes swing over to Cheney to meet the Savages Monday night in what is scheduled as the final Pacific Lutheran showing of the current campaign.

With the exception of the Lutes the Whits have defeated every other team in the league at least once, and tonight the Pirates will be out to upset the favored Tacoma quintet and add them to their plundered list. Not only will the Pirates be striving for a tighter hold on third place, but the locals will seek to avenge a 73-46 drubbing handed them by the Lutes at Parkland early in the season.

Led by Center Harry McLaughlin, who has averaged over 20 points per game this year, the Gladiators floor a high scoring quintet which ran up nine straight conference wins before being tripped by Central last week. Already assured of at least a tie for the league title, the Lutes need but one more victory to establish them as the conference champions.

The starting lineup for the Pirates in tonight's game will probably find Gordy Brandt and Clyde Matters at forwards and Earl Mortlock and Bill Roffler at guards with either Jack Mahaffey or Wayne Conner slated to jump at center.

Evergreen Loop To Replace WINCO

A new intercollegiate athletic conference was formed at a Yakima meeting, Feb. 17, with seven colleges at Washington, former members of the Washington Intercollegiate league and the Northwest conference joining hands on all sports basis.

The schools represented in the new league include WHITWORTH, Eastern Washington, Western Washington, Central Washington, Pacific Lutheran, St. Martins, of the WINCO, and College of Puget Sound of the Northwest Conference.

The league will be known as the Evergreen Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, and it will become effective with full sports competition in the fall.

Chamber Hears

Dr. Theron B. Maxson and Dr. Thomas W. Bibb were speakers Tuesday noon, Feb. 3 at the Chamber of Commerce committee on education meeting. Dr. Bibb spoke on "The Place of Whitworth College in Education" and Dr. Maxson on "The Guidance Program at Whitworth College."

CHOIR TOUR COVERS ALL OF PACIFIC COAST STATES SOON

An itinerary has been scheduled for the annual spring tour of the Whitworth a cappella choir, according to Professor Wilbur Anders, choir director.

When questioned recently about the general progress of the choir this year, Professor Anders asserted: "The general quality of the choir has been steadily improving and promises to be very outstanding, due mainly to the serious interest of the students in the study of voice and to the individual work done by Mrs. Clarice Wortes and Miss Ruby Heritage."

The tour, which will last 15 days, is planned as follows:

- Mar. 20—Yakima, Wash.
- Mar. 21, a.m.—Parkdale, Ore.
- Mar. 21, p.m.—Portland, Ore.

COEDS TAKE ON PLUMMER GALS

The preliminary game to the Whitworth-P.L.C. game Saturday will be played by the girls varsity basketball team and the Plummer, Ida., girls team. So far in the season the Whitworthians have won three out of four games, three of which were played on the home floor.

The girls made their first appearance of the season in flashy new red and white uniforms that were purchased with the aid of the Washington Engineering company of Spokane, who donated $50 toward their purchase.

Making up the team are:

Forwards — Donna Spalding, Shirley Davies, Carol Gray, Amber Oakes, Annie Stueckle, Violet Stueckle, Marjorie Laughlin, and Dorothy Mullen.

Guards — Mary McFee, Dorothy Leavens, Barbara Wilson, Vera Fay Wilson, Dora Stueckle, Betty Speidmiller, and Phyllis Neuton.

The team is coached by Ruth Hull and Bella May is the manager. Mary Lois Taylor, who began the season, received foot injuries in the second game and was forced to drop from the squad.

WHITS POUND OUT THREE TO SHOW POWER

Playing their first home conference game of the season, the Whitworth Pirates turned back the Central Washington Wildcats 55-47 in the first of a two-game series at Graves Hall Feb. 6. On the following night the Wildcats evened up the play with a 50-43 win.

The Whits met Western Washington for the third and final time this year and downed the scrappy Viking five 70-58 in a fighting fast game on the local floor Feb. 11.

Whitworth took a breather from league play for a pair of return matches with the N.I.C.E. Loggers at Lewiston Friday and Saturday. The Idaho quintet won the first fray, 72-60, but the Pirates came back to capture the finale, 64-59, squaring the season series with the Loggers at two victories each.

New Courses Never Before Offered Are on Schedule

Something new has been added! The curriculum for the spring quarter will include some courses never before offered to the students of Whitworth.

The art department, under the direction of Professor John Koehler, will conduct a class in crafts. Prof. Koehler stated that, because of lack of space, the course will be open only to art majors who already have a locker. Projects will include leathercraft, metal work, plastics, wood carving, weaving, and clay work.

Available to seniors will be instruction in Prof. Mark Koehler's philosophy of religion course.

COUNCIL SIZE TO BE DECIDED BY STUDENT VOTE

At a special meeting of the Student Council last week, it was decided to refer a proposed amendment to the constitution to the student ballot for vote.

The proposed bill, which was sponsored in the council by L. G. Baker and Helmuth Beckowies, would reduce the size of the council from its present number of about 60 members, to 17 members.

The new council would be composed of the four student body officers, the presidents and vice presidents of the four classes, and five representatives elected at large.

A nominating committee would select the names of not less than ten persons to be voted on for representatives at large, with the stipulation that a write-in candidate would be permitted on the ballot.

The meeting drew the largest number of council members this year. There were only ten eligible members who did not attend. Balloting on the proposed amendment was not unanimous. One dissenting vote was cast by Fred Peterson, Whitworthian Executive Editor.

Only other major item of importance passed on by the council was allotting more money to members of the Speech department for activities in speech work outside of the Whitworth campus.

BOCK BURNED IN CHEM LAB

Lewis L. Bock, Whitworth senior from Wenatchee, was severely burned about the face while conducting an experiment in the chemistry laboratory, March 2. He is a patient at the Deaconess hospital.

"A" BOMB SHOW PACKS WALLOP

A new approach to the atom bomb problem will be presented when the sound-color film "God of the Atom" is shown at chapel services Thursday and Friday, March 11-12.

The picture has been produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon, director of Moody Institute of Science in Los Angeles, and noted originator of "Sermons from Science."

In the film, actual shots of the Nagasaki and Bikini explosions are featured, as well as the only full-color moving pictures ever taken of the giant 184-inch cyclotron at the University of California.

Delegates Attend College Congress

Whitworth sent three representatives to the Pacific Northwest College Congress held this week at Whitman College.

The delegates are Phil Strawn, Larry White and Bill Sauve. Strawn and White are representing the student body and Sauve is covering the conference for the Whitworthian.

The third annual conference of its kind, PNCC is a meeting of representatives from colleges and universities in the Pacific Northwest and Western Canada. World problems are discussed much in the same manner as in the United Nations Conferences and resolutions are adopted.

Professor Albert Culverwell accompanied the group. They will return Sunday.

RADIO FORUM HAS INTEREST

Recent Whitworth radio forums have included a discussion "The Problems of Security Among Nations" conducted by Prof. Albert H. Culverwell, with Phil Strawn, Lawrence White, students, and Mr. Hobart L. Rowley, who has recently been in Fort Knox, Kentucky studying the experimental Universal Military program, as special guest.

Dr. Mark Koehler led a group discussion on the "Value of a Week of Spiritual Emphasis on a College Campus." Betty Lange, Virginia Cawthon, and "Skinny" Unruh were student participants.

"The Importance of Vocational and Educational Guidance for the High School Student" was discussed by Colin Condit, John Rodkey and Lou Boni with Dr. Theron B. Maxson leading the group.

COMING SOON

Dr. Irwin A. Moon of Moody Bible Institute is shown above in a scene from his sound-color film, "God of the Atom" to be presented at Chapel March 11-12.

Here he is demonstrating the Barkhausen effect, by which the audience is able to hear the movement of groups of molecules within a magnetized steel bar.

Work Starts on Library After Winters Delay

Work has been resumed on the construction of the library, after a period of delay due to bad weather and inavailability of materials. Mr. C. W. Seeger, foreman for the project, states that construction of the building is expected to be completed sometime in July.

The building will be fire proof, with concrete floors, steel windows, and metal doors, with metal trimming, instead of woodwork moulding. The roof is to be metal sheeting covered with asbestos shingles to give the building the best resistance against fire.

On the first floor will be a reserved reading room, 44'x45', and a main reading room of the same size, both joined by a charge counter. Adjacent the main reading room will be a periodical room.

One of the outstanding features of the new building will be typing rooms in which students can use their typewriters to copy from reference and reserved books.

To assure conditions of safety there will be two stairways from the main floor to the basement. There will be stack and storage rooms on the first floor, basement, and attic.

Oh Joy!!

That man is here again—or he will be! Mr. Richards, Veterans administration representative will be in Mrs. McCullough's office Monday, March 8, from 1 to 3 p.m. Any veteran with subsistence complaints may see him then.

PING-PONG ROOM WITH COKE, POOL TABLES ASKED

The committee appointed to develop the basement of McMillan hall into a Student Union room met last week and drew up plans for the much talked about project.

The plans of the committee, which will be presented to the Student council for approval, call for two ping pong tables, a pool table, a coke machine, a candy machine and venetian blinds for one room while the second room is to be furnished for student lounging. The second room will be furnished with davenos, overstuffed chairs, lamps and a wall to wall rug.

The project is scheduled to be supervised by one representative from each dorm on the campus and an equal number of town students.

The two rooms have been painted and are ready to be partially used as soon as final approval is given by the Student council.

Those on the committee are Al Christensen, Evelyn Vander Sys, and Jerry Wilson.

TENSE BATTLE SEEN IN SPRING . . . For Elections

Campus cliques, pressure groups and politicians are looking toward the month of April.

Student body election of officers occurs then.

Although no definite candidates have been named, it is known that behind the scenes activity of organizers is going on with a view to picking candidates for the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

To be placed on the ballot, a would-be candidate must circulate a petition and secure at least 10 per cent of the student body's signatures.

In past years petitions have been circulated before students had time to consider candidates. As a result, many desirable persons have been unable to place on the ballot because a person can sign only one petition for each office.

"This year is going to be different," they say. "We are going to pick the best candidate available to run on our platform and line up signers for our petition long before they are issued. In that way we will be sure of having our candidate on the ballot," said a spokesman for one group.

Opinions Voiced on Amendment

The Student council has decided to place an amendment on the ballot for student approval which would reduce the membership of the council from 60 to 17. Typical reactions, when students were asked what they thought of the move, were:

"I haven't decided as yet." Marie Barnes.

"Getting bureaucratic, huh?" C. A. Steiger.

"I believe that representation should be by proportion of members in different organizations. For example, classes would have about three representatives, smaller clubs one representative, etc." Thomas J. Summerson.

"Student council or no Student council, I am going to run the Ski club my way." Duane Lewis.

"I believe it's good for the reason of being a more effective and always available body under the new plans." T. E. Johnston.

"This will be a great change and with a smaller group they will have more unity and will be more effective." W. H. Banta.

LOST—AN OPPORTUNITY?

Last year Whitworth participated in a college conference which has attracted nation-wide attention—The PNCC (Pacific Northwest College Congress) which met at Reed college last March to study international relations. This was a unique contribution of college youth of the Pacific Northwest to better world understanding.

Our representatives brought back resolutions which contained recommendations "for the study of and a plan for the evolutionary government through the United Nations organization."

Our delegates distributed these recommendations to our student body in ballot form and urged us to cast votes for or against their various proposals since the result of the referendum was to be taken by representatives of the congress to the United Nations council in September.

To stimulate an active expression of thought on world problems by college youth, the congress set up competition among schools on the percentage of returns on this referendum. At Whitworth 65 ballots from a student body of 640 were turned in. Ten percent of our student body voted!

What were the reasons for this disheartening response? (1) the common human fault—carelessness and intellectual laziness, (2) lack of understanding about the importance of the ballot, (3) a lack of knowledge on the questions involved.

Whatever the cause for our failure to respond to the cause which motivated the calling of the congress, the matter should be corrected before our representatives return from the conference being held at Whitman College this week.

If lack of knowledge was the cause of our fiasco, surely we can correct that. It is impossible to determine how many of our students inform themselves on current events, but it is to be hoped that most of them do so. Whitworth's international relations study group would certainly welcome more members or be willing to sponsor new organizations.

Because of our apathetic reaction to the referendum, we could not send our representatives to the United Nations assembly last year. We can plan to do so this year. Let's read, discuss, and inform ourselves and be ready to make a real contribution in terms of the whole student body when our opportunity comes next week to join other college people in this effort to solve the problems of an ailing world.

GAMES, EATS, FUN TO HI-LIGHT EVENING OF PLAY AT Y.M.C.A.

Recreation Leaders Take Reins on Saturday Night

The Senior class is sponsoring another all-school party tomorrow night, March 6, at the YMCA. The committee, headed by Dave Barnes, is planning an evening of swimming, games, volleyball, and movies. A time of refreshments and a short devotional period will conclude the evening's fun.

Come on, you "mumpless wonders," don your jeans and rubber soled shoes, and join in this evening of real recreation.

ARTISTS CAN CHANGE SOUND

The sound defects in the Speech auditorium will soon be remedied when the advanced design class paints a mural covering one side of the room. Small paintings by the students, representing various scenes from Shakespearean plays, will be submitted to the speech department. The most suitable will be selected, to be enlarged for a mural by the design class as a project.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor: Isn't it going to be a thrill to be able to study in the new library with its modern lighting and new furnishings? But how long will it stay new? Its appearance will change, not only from wear, but also from abuse.

Did you ever search for a classroom on the campus where desks and furniture have not been marred? I don't think you will find one. Yet, no one admits he does it; perhaps it is because he does not realize he does it. It is unconsciously — and oh so easily — done.

We pay for misuse of furniture in at least three ways. First, a financial loss; secondly, a less slightly appearance of our campus, and thirdly, a lack of discipline in our character.

Let's check ourselves to see if we have been unconsciously giving misuse to the college property — in the classrooms and in the dormitories.

Counseling Goes Into Gear; 20 Get Tests So Far

Dr. T. B. Maxson, who attended the Northwest Counselor's meeting two weeks ago in Pullman, said today "The new counseling program is proceeding most satisfactorily; 20 students have been given the majority of their tests and individual counseling will begin very soon." The individual counseling will be done through the offices of Dr. Munn, Dr. Hardwick and Dr. Maxson.

A counseling program is not new to Whitworth, but with the present program, the counseling staff will be able to help students in a more direct manner.

NEW COURSES . . .

Dr. Thomas W. Bibb of the economics department will instruct a class in salesmanship.

A new subject for aspiring music instructors is the principles and organization of public school music course.

Radio journalism will provide training in the technique of writing for broadcasting. Prof. Alfred O. Gray will direct the study.

CAMPUS LOOKS TO BIG DAY!

Founder's Day will be celebrated on the campus March 17 with a special chapel program, and displays of historical articles.

This year the 132nd birthday anniversary of Dr. George Whitworth, pioneer founder of the college, will be celebrated. Although the actual date of Dr. Whitworth's birth falls on March 15, it was decided to have the activities on March 17 because of conflicting chapel programs.

Further information about Dr. Whitworth will appear in a later issue of the Whitworthian.

CHOIR MUSIC BRINGS DOWN HOUSE -- CRASH!!

The serious vein in which the Whitworth Choir usually ends its performances was indeed lacking at the program given in Chewelah last Sunday.

All was well until the first strains of "The Benediction" were rudely interrupted by the sudden roar of the collapsing "risers." When the front row turned around to investigate the commotion, they were amused to find themselves standing quite alone!

Professor Anders jumped up on the platform railing and continued directing as though nothing had happened. Gradually, one by one, each choir member got to his feet and attempted to sing. The singing progressed fairly well until it came to the words, "the Lord bless you and keep you," which brought more amusement.

Since the last two choir trips have ended in disastrous happenings, it is hoped the third time, a trip to Wenatchee this weekend, will be the charm.

HOT TAMALES STARTLE COEDS

The chili feed, following the victory over Cheney Saturday, was enjoyed by almost 150 students and faculty in an atmosphere of candlelight and Spanish music. A real treat was the startled looks on the faces of those who ate hot tamales for the first time. Bill Ainley and Lee Taylor harmonized on two well known songs.

The highlight of the evening was the singing of several Spanish numbers by a Puerto Rican student from Gonzaga University. Bill Lew headed the committee which planned the affair.

"S-R" BY-LINER GIVES SCRIBES POLITICAL INFO

"If every eligible voter in every election would cast his ballot, the outcome would invariably be just," stated Ashley E. Holden before the introduction to journalism class March 2. He explained that only through this means can the people expect the inadequacies of government to be eliminated.

Holden is the political editor of the Spokesman-Review, and has interviewed many outstanding national and international political leaders. He is scheduled to attend the national conventions of both the Republican and Democrat parties, which meet in Philadelphia a few weeks apart this year.

Politics is often judged by the acts of some dishonest politicians, he pointed out, but defined real politics as "the system of government under which we live" — a heritage purchased for Americans at a great price, and worthy of their sincere defense. The greatest threat to our country is not Communism, but is the indifference and lethargy of the citizens, he contended.

An effective political writer must believe what he writes, and must write what he believes, Holden said.

Holden is the father of Ashley E. Holden Jr., a member of the senior class and year book editor.

SPEAKERS GET SHARE OF CUPS

Four more awards were credited to the Whitworth speech department last week, when nine students participated in the speech tournament at Linfield college.

Thirty-three colleges from eight states were represented in the tournament. There were over 400 contestants.

Those receiving awards were: Lois McConnell, first place cup winner in Interpretation; second place winners Phil Strawn, one man debate and Betty Lange, acting; third place winner was Mel Taylor in women's oratory. Others who were in the final contests were Phil Strawn, men's oratory; Betty Lange in women's oratory; and L. G. Baker in acting and impromptu.

The group representing Whitworth included Wendell Harder, Bill Johnson, Helmuth Bekowies, L. G. Baker, Mel Taylor, Betty Lange, Phil Strawn, Lois McConnell and Prof. Waltz, director of the team.

L. G. Baker received one of the prized honors for representation of all the colleges. He was elected as Secretary-General of the Student United Nations. Each year the colleges of the Northwest hold a Student United Nations Congress patterned after the United Nations.

Professor Waltz said, "Considering the size and very difficult competition, our team did the best they have ever done. They brought real honor to Whitworth, and they all deserve a lot of credit."

DAVIDSON HAS BAG OF TRICKS

Ken Davidson, internationally known badminton performer and trick shot artist, put on an exhibition that held everyone in the audience spellbound during the chapel period Monday, March 1.

Mr. Davidson was assisted in the exhibition by Merle Corrin of Spokane and Amber Oakes and Mary McPhee of Whitworth. His timing and agility gave some of his trick shots the appearance of the impossible, and still he made them with amazing regularity.

On the serious side he offered pointers on serving and driving that made the game seem easy for anyone to play.

Girls Take Second in Bellingham Torney

The girl's varsity basketball team took second place in a basketball tournament at Bellingham last Friday, February 27. The tournament was held at Western Washington college. The four colleges that participated in the tournament were: Bellingham, Everett Junior College, University of British Columbia and Whitworth. First place was taken by the University of British Columbia. It was a round robin tournament in which each school played four games, playing one school twice. The scores of the Whitworth games were: Whitworth 19, Bellingham 4; Whitworth 50, Everett Junior College 5; Whitworth 28, University of British Columbia 33; Whitworth 24, University of British Columbia 29.

High point girl for the four games was Annie Stueckle with 30 points; second was Marge Laughlin with 28; third was Vi Stueckle with 19; fourth was Carol Gray with 15.

Beat Plummer

The girl's varsity basketball team defeated Plummer here last week by the score of 21 to 7. High point for the game was Donna Spalding with 7; second was Amber Oaks with 6.

Close One

The girl's varsity basketball team lost a close game to Tekoa here last week by the score of 26 to 23. High point for the game was Annie Stueckle with 8; second was Amber Oaks with 7.

Davies High

The girl's varsity basketball game lost a hard fought battle 20 to 17 here last night. High point girl for the game was Shirley Davies with 6 points.

"W" CLUB TOPS O. T.'s HANDILY

The W club finished the intramural basketball schedule undefeated Saturday, Feb. 28 when it beat the Old Timers by a score of 45 to 33.

The Spiders gained the runner-up position in the playoffs by beating the Lead Terrors 42 to 34.

DORM FLASHES

WHITWORTH HALL

Al Buchholz went home to Fairfield over the weekend.

Stan Graham will be director of the Knox Presbyterian young people's choir for the next two months.

Don Miller has charge of dorm prayer meetings at this hall. These meetings are just getting organized and it is felt that great and wonderful things can come from them. The committee has set the meetings for Monday nights.

WASHINGTON HALL

Les Kirkendorfer took his car of student skiers to Mt. Spokane last weekend. The skiing is still wonderful, he reports.

Dick Snell returned from the infirmary after a week of rest and leisure. He will resume his job soon as student janitor for the hall.

A dorm meeting was held last week to discuss the proposed plans of Alpha Chi. The group also decided to have a party in the spring. Don Hayes is in charge of planning.

LANCASTER and GOODSSELL

Lancaster elected officers for this semester. At the helm is Malcolm Wallace, president, Ken Moen, vice president, and Quentin Peck as secretary-treasurer. Jack Schiewe was elected to supply news that might be suitable for the Whitworthian.

Dick Denton has a lot of credit coming for his work in giving news about Lancaster and Goodsell Halls.

SERVING FOOD IS COMMON FUN

It is difficult to imagine life at Whitworth College without that popular gathering place -- the Commons. Many a pleasurable leisure moment is spent there in gossiping over a cup of java and meeting new friends.

At the present time the Commons is operating with Margaret Funk in charge and with Mrs. Harry (Leota) Ruhs as her assistant. Margaret is a student here. Among her other duties, she keeps the books for the "Shake Shack."

Leota, a resident of the community, has charge of the Commons during the day. When asked how she liked her work, she said, "I think there is a grand group of kids whom we serve at the Commons. Everyone is so pleasant to meet. I find that working here is great fun." Leota wishes to thank the students for helping her to get started. She appreciated their helping her to count change, compute the sales tax, and other courtesies. "Oh, be sure to tell them I'm married," she said.

Mrs. Ruhs suggests that "keeping the recreation room clean helps everyone to enjoy his leisure time here. We appreciate student's bringing the dishes back to the counter."

Others working in the Commons are Joy Taylor, Mary Lee Nutwell, and Wally Toevs.

TURN TABLES IN 2ND GAME

Whitworth Pirates bounced back from a 63-43 defeat at Eastern Friday night to turn the tables on the Savages in a 52-48 crowd-pleaser on the Pirate court Saturday night. Played before an overflowing crowd, the game was the league finale for both teams, and it saw the Whits stop a nine-game Eastern winning streak to give them a 2-1 edge over the Savages for the season.

The Pirates wasted little time in hitting the scoring column in the see-saw battle, jumping to an early 9-1 lead before the visitors mustered a delayed scoring punch to pull up to a 10-10 tie. Breaking lose again, the winners moved ahead 23-13, but another drive by the Savages brought them to within five points of the locals at mid-game, as the Cheney quintet trailed 27-22.

Eastern started the second period with another scoring spurt and quickly tied the score at 29 all. From then on until the final minutes of play it was an even ball game with the lead changing 10 times before the Pirates finally pulled ahead to stay.

The score was 44-44 when Mortlock slipped through for a set-up to send his mates ahead. Then Roffler intercepted an enemy back court pass and promptly turned it into another score. After the Badger added a gift toss, Luft hit a long shot for Eastern, making the score read 49-46 for the Pirates with but two minutes to play.

The Pirates iced the game when Bill Hallett, speedy Savage forward, slipped in a drive for the basket, the ball squirting from his hands, and Mortlock picked up the ball, went the length of the floor for an easy lay-in. The Whits successfully stalled for the remaining few seconds.

Clyde Matters and Earl Mortlock share the scoring honors, each eager tallying 14 counters for the evening. George Hering topped the losers with 11.

Jay Vees Conclude Splendid B.B. Year

Sparked by Ray Olson, Cecil Telecky, and John Scoford, the Whitworth Jay Vees closed out their 1948 basketball play with a 62-59 win over Coeur d'Alene Junior college on the local court Saturday night. This was the second win for the Pirates over the Junior college, having beaten the Idaho five at Coeur d'Alene in a game played earlier in the season.

Saturday night's win gave Coach Aaron Remple's junior quintet a season total of ten wins as against only three setbacks.

GIRL HOOPSTERS CLEANED BY TOWN TEAM

The Whitworth girls basketball team lost a 20-17 decision to the Spokaneite Cleaners in a game played on the Pirate court Tuesday night. This was the second meeting between the two clubs this season, the undefeated Cleaners having garnered a 23-22 verdict in a previous engagement.

In a four team meet at Bellingham Friday the Pirate six won two of four games to place second in the day-long tourney. The girls claimed victories over Western Washington and Everett J.C. but lost two afternoon contests to the tourney winners, British Columbia.

Coach Aaron Remple's call for trackmen was answered by a host of interested cinder hopefuls who reported for immediate practice, and a number of them have been holding light workouts during the past week.

After looking over his potential spring squad, the coach has expressed the prospects of fielding a well-balanced team this season. Included in the early turnouts are Bill McConnell, who coach believes should hold his own in the weight events; Dave Braucht, high jumper; Stan Graham, pole-vault specialist; Jim Larson, distance runner; and Dick Wales, sprinter.

Bud Fraser, another high jumper, is expected to join the ranks later this season.

PIRATES HAVE BOUNCED ALL WINCO TEAMS

... At Least Once

The Whits gained an even split with the league-leading Gladiators in a pair of conference duels in Graves Hall February 20 and 21. In winning the initial contest, 74-55, the Lutes cinched the 1948 Winco pennant. Whitworth came back the next night to down the newly-crowned champions 50-45, giving the Pirates a record of having defeated every other team in the league at least once.

The Pirates added their seventh victory of the campaign by drubbing the hapless St. Martins Rangers, for the third time this season, 77-54, in a league contest played on the Pirate floor February 24. Sam Bass, Earl Mortlock, and Wayne Conner paced the Whits in the free scoring win, which saw the Rangers drop their 13th straight contest.

B.B. Tourney Set On College Court

The Northeast District "B" Basketball Tournament for the State of Washington will be held at Whitworth College, March 10-13.

The first, second and third berth winners will go to Seattle to compete in the state "B" tournament.

There will be eight teams in the finals, which begin at 3:30 Wed. afternoon. Four teams competed at Whitworth last week for the eighth spot in the tournament. The teams that had already been selected for tournament play are Newport, Harrington, Fairfield, Colville, Reardan, Mead, and Chewelah.

This Tournament has been held at Whitworth for the last three years and has proved to be very popular. The admission price for the finals will be $.75 for students and $1.00 for adults.

The schedule for Wednesday is as follows:

- 3:30 Newport vs. Harrington.
- 4:30 Fairfield vs. Colville.
- 7:30 Reardan vs. Mead.
- 8:30 Chewelah vs. winner of last week's game.

The officials will be Del Holmes, John Schnell, Bob Fitch and Don Staveley.

There was nothing wrong with the offensive strength of the Pirates during Winco play, the Whits' 808 counters in 15 games being stopped only by Eastern. Playing in the highest scoring games of the campaign, the Pirates numbered six contests in which the combined total score for the evening tallied 120 points or better.

That the home team in basketball has an edge over its opposition was proved very conclusively in the Winco league where the visiting teams could get but 16 victories in the 45 games played. In football it was much closer with the home teams edging their opponents eight games to six, one game resulting in a tie.

The Whitworth gym will be the stage for the Northeastern District Tournament to be held next week. Eight local high school fives will battle for the chance to represent this district in the state tourney scheduled later this month.

The Whits' Gordy Brandt, whose backboard play helped bring about the first Savage defeat early in the season, was again the Cheney Five's nemesis Saturday night. Gordy seemed to be all over the court, and his two game-saving checks in the waning minutes all but scalped the Savage's hopes.

The Eastern quintet really made use of its free throw advantage during the week-end series. The team sank 35 gift tosses in 46 attempts in the two games, missing only three chances in the wild Saturday night tilt.

After a slow start because of an injured ankle, Clyde Matters returned to form in mid-season and came to be one of the most dependable and consistent players on the squad. His steady play making technique and his smooth defensive efforts played an important part in the Pirate machine. Tall Clyde can hold his own in scoring, as was proved in the league finale when he dumped in four baskets in six attempts during the scorching second period play.

PNCC Discusses United Nations

Balloting Scheduled Here on Resolutions To Be Sent to U.N.

BULLETIN

WHITWORTH COLLEGE, March 19—Whitworth delegates to the PNCC presented its resolutions to the student body here at a special chapel program this morning. Delegates Lawrence White and Phil Strawn stated that balloting on the resolutions probably will take place next week on the campus.

(Special to the Whitworthian)

Delegates to the Third Pacific Northwest College Congress held at Whitman College, Walla, March 3, 4, 5, and 6, have returned to their schools to report on recommendations made on the problem of world government. Representatives from the 36 colleges and universities invited to the Congress have drawn up resolutions, relating particularly to the United Nations, which are being presented for student balloting throughout the northwest.

Contributing to the work of the Congress from Whitworth were Phil Strawn and Lawrence White, student delegates, William Sauve, Whitworthian press representative, and Professor Albert H. Culverwell, faculty adviser.

Twelve resolutions were accepted by the delegates from results of section discussion in which delegates participated prior

Whitworth Choir Goes on Tour Tomorrow

Tomorrow morning will mark the beginning of a 15-day choir trip down through Oregon and California. With all their finals "past," the Whitworth choir members will travel 150 miles to Yakima for their first engagement Saturday evening.

Palm Sunday will find them in Parkdale and Portland, Oregon. Other places included on the itinerary, listed in the order the choir will visit them, are Grants Pass, Oregon; Red Bluff, Calif.; Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Visalia, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, San Anselmo, Berkeley, and Oakland. On the way home the choir will sing at Klamath Falls, Oregon, Sunny-side, Wapato, and Ellensburg.

The a cappella choir, under the direction of Professor Wilbur Anders, made its last Spokane appearance prior to the tour last Sunday evening at the Salem Lutheran church, where Professor Anders is minister of music.

Professor Olaf Paus-Grunt, chief, educational liaison, Department of Public Information for UN, is shown discussing differences in educational methods of countries within UN with Phil Strawn, and Larry White, Whitworth delegates to the Pacific Northwest College Congress at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington.

MAHAFFEY AND BAKER TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT

Campaigns for student body officers usually begin after spring vacation, but already two students are beginning to act like candidates.

They are Jerry Mahaffey and L. G. Baker. Both men told of plans to begin campaigns soon for the office of student body president.

Election calendar set by the chairman, Helmuth Bekowies, is:
April—Council nominates committee for representatives.

April 5—Petitions for offices available.

April 13—Petitions due at 4:15 p. m.

April 22—Election assembly, winding up campaigns.

April 26-27—Election and run-offs.

Opening gun in what is expected to be a sizzling battle will be the securing of 10 per cent of the student body's signatures on election petitions so their names can be placed on the ballot.

Berths for all offices are wide open. Requirements are: Vice president, upper class student at beginning of college year following his or her election.

The secretary shall be a woman, having at least sophomore standing at time of her election.

Treasurer shall be at least of sophomore standing at time of election.

AWS Plans Lounge For Town Women

The A.W.S. of Whitworth College is drawing up plans to take over the chemistry laboratory in the basement of Ballard hall. The chemistry equipment will be moved to new and larger quarters this summer.

According to preliminary plans, the A.W.S. will remodel half of the Ballard basement. Elizabeth Lundin, chairman of the committee, said, "The main purpose in the A.W.S. obtaining use of these rooms is to give the women town students a place to rest during the day." Miss Lundin also stated lockers are planned, for the use of women town students.

The A.W.S. committee plans call for a kitchenette in one corner and for the main room to be furnished with davenos, overstuffed chairs and rugs. The rooms will also be available to Whitworth women for teas, receptions, and small dinners.

TALBOT TRIPP AIRS OWN SHOW

Talbot Tripp, upper class journalism major, will be heard in his own news broadcast starting Monday evening, over KHQ at 10:15.

Mr. Tripp, who has been gathering and writing the news script for the program since shortly after discharge from the service, will prepare the script as well as announce it.

The five minute newscast, which covers the latest developments in local news, has an extremely wide audience, according to the latest survey made by the Hooper radio poll. It placed it above network programs such as Bob Hope.

Chapel Program, Special Displays Honor Dr. Whitworth

The 132nd anniversary of the birth of George Frederick Whitworth, college founder, was celebrated this week with a special chapel program on Wednesday, March 17, and by displays in the showcase of old pictures and articles of historical interest. A special display of past Natsihis is being shown in the library.

VACATION TIME

Plans are being tentatively arranged for Easter vacation, which will be from March 25 to April 1. Miss Jenkins, dean of women, states, "We would encourage students to visit friends or relatives if they cannot go home, but adequate facilities will be provided for those who cannot." Meals will be served at regular time. A notice will be posted of dorms open during vacation.

Final exams will be given next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Classes Compete In Speech Tourney

The speech department is sponsoring a inter-class speech tournament to be conducted during the first part of spring term. There will be four fields open for students to enter. These will be oratory, extemporaneous, impromptu, and interpretive speaking.

The individual classes will make arrangements to select one person in each of the fields to represent their class in the finals. Individual awards are planned for the top speakers.

Date for the finals in impromptu and interpretive speaking has been set for May 5, during chapel.

Early College Described

Life at Whitworth shortly after it was moved here from Tacoma was described by Mr. Alfred Carlson, Spokane druggist, and member of the board of trustees, who attended Whitworth from 1914 to 1917. Contrasting the size of the campus today with the campus then, he said, "We had only two buildings at first, later adding a gymnasium. Today there are thirty buildings." He emphasized the change in growth of the faculty from the six or seven of early years to the group of approximately 50 today.

Adding a light note to his reminiscences, Mr. Carlson related the story of a young couple that were discovered holding hands on the campus. A special required attendance chapel program was held, he related, and a stern admonishment that "these meadow meanderings must stop," was given.

Whitworth Bible Used

Scripture passages were read from Dr. Whitworth's personal Bible by Ernest Gentile, who used as his text a passage often used by Dr. Whitworth, Luke 12:31-37, including the verse, "Fear not, little flock: for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom."

A LOCKED DOOR?

The Commons is to be locked during chapel hour. One of the reasons is that too much noise issues forth and disturbs those in chapel. But is a locked door the answer to the problem?

There are some students who have good reasons for not going to chapel all the time. Students working long hours outside of school and trying to maintain passing grades sometimes need that hour for study. If every room is to be locked, where will they study?

Off-campus students find that the Commons is overcrowded between the hours of 12-1:20. Part of that crowd has been taken care of during chapel time.

As for the noise—surely no one ought to be pounding out "Boogie-Woogie" when a chapel service is in session. But if students have no place to congregate, they will be tramping up and down the stairs looking for a place to "wait out" chapel. Because the students who never go to chapel still will not be going. They will only seek other haunts. It would seem far better to have those students on campus than to have them off-campus.

It ought to be each student's responsibility to go to chapel when he can, but we are all adult enough to realize that some days certain things must be done. We have to make the choice between chapel or getting work in on time.

There is a need for improvement in chapel attendance. But, is a locked door the answer?

Will We Have Another Chance?

In spite of Whitworth's fiasco of last year in voting on PNCC resolutions, we have a chance once again to voice our opinion on international affairs. We have an opportunity now to show that Whitworth college is able to take a mature stand in the present world crisis.

Resolutions which have been drawn up by PNCC, at which we were represented, will be submitted to us in ballot form soon. Our votes and those of thousands of students of the Northwest will be carried to the United Nations council and to the U. S. Congress where student voice will have a powerful effect for peace. We here can do a significant service to world organization for peace if we vote intelligently on the issues presented to us.

Norman Cousins, editor of Saturday Review of Literature, says of the PNCC, "This represents one of the most constructive single efforts by citizen groups since the end of the war towards the making of an intelligent and durable peace."

Up until now, from all outward appearances, too many Whitworthians have been living in an ivory tower, an existence which is keynoted by apathetic indifference and complacency. It is time to wake up to realistic life situations to which too many students are oblivious.

Take these resolutions and vote critically and intelligently. Don't forget — the students of today are the leaders of tomorrow. Let us show the others that Whitworth, too, is thinking. BACK UP YOUR REPRESENTATIVES TO PNCC AND VOTE.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress.
 Ps. 91:2.

F.T.A. STEPS UP SPRING PLANS

During the spring quarter the F.T.A. plans to hold one additional monthly meeting. Meetings are regularly scheduled for the first Thursday of each month. Chapter president John Christenson, stated that efforts will be made to obtain guest speakers from the teaching profession to present their views and findings on current problems in the education field.

Highlighting business matters to be dealt with in the immediate future are "the adoption of Chapter projects and the election of officers for the 1948-49 school year."

CHAPEL HOUR

President Frank Warren spoke on the Nineteenth Psalm at a recent chapel service.

He urged students to be "yourselves plus the reality that God is in your heart and you are His."

Classes Enjoy Party Night

The usual class parties at the close of each quarter were held last Friday evening.

The freshmen sponsored an old-fashioned hayride out in the country. The sophomore's "Leap Year Leap" climaxed with a wiener roast out on the point. The Bowl and Pitcher Park was the scene of "The Bonfire Frolics of 1948" with plenty of eats and entertainment for the juniors. The seniors had a gay time playing "hobo" at their hard times party in the Half Moon Prairie Grange Hall. Their games and entertainment were followed by strawberries and cake.

In charge of party arrangements were Colleen Pickert, freshmen; Bunny Gwinn and Joan Leavers, sophomores; Betty Lange, juniors; and Dorothy Funk, seniors.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:
 I would like to take this means of thanking the student body and those individuals whose kindnesses made my brief sojourn in the hospital a time to be remembered with thanksgiving.

STUDENT VOTERS MAKE CHANGES IN CONSTITUTION

The student body of Whitworth college voted on several major changes in the student constitution last week. Every proposed change was given the green light by the majority of the 406 students who voted. The amendment concerning the selection of the chairman of the May Festival met the least opposition, while the amendment with respect to the raising of dues of the A.S.W.C. met the most opposition. The voting was as follows:

Yes 366, No 34, So much as reads "class officers shall be elected during the third week of the opening term" be amended to read "class officers shall be elected in the spring quarter immediately following student body elections."

Yes 300, No 101, So much as reads "The dues of the A.S.W.C. shall be six dollars ($6.00) per member each quarter," be amended to read "The dues of the A.S.W.C. shall be seven dollars ($7.00) per member each quarter."

Yes 388, No 14, So much as reads "The chairman of the May Festival shall be the regular faculty women's-physical director," be amended to read "the chairman of the May Festival shall be determined by the Associated Women Students, whose duty it shall be to plan and present the May Day program."

Yes 383, No 16, Additions to By-Laws. "A major sports award shall be made to any member of a minor sport team winning a conference championship."

Yes 310, No 93, Additions to By-Laws. "It shall be illegal for any member of the student body to wear his or her high school letter on the campus. This policy shall be enforced by the members of the W Club and the W.A.A."

Yes 336, No 58, Proposal: "The Student Council of Whitworth College shall be composed of the four Student Body officers, the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the four classes, five Representatives-at-large, and two faculty representatives."

The Writer's Club will meet on the campus this coming week to read contributions of members and to discuss plans for raising funds, Bill Sauve, club president announced.

Missions Fellowship Established

With the purpose of stimulating and maintaining a vital interest in missionary effort, Missions Fellowship has been established on the campus. Missions Fellowship is not an organization, but a fellowship for all students who are interested in home or foreign missions.

Working through Christian Endeavor, Life Service, Philadelphians, and Alpha Kappa Chi, it is hoped that Missions Fellowship will stimulate interest in missions by promotion and service.

Among the items listed for the program of work is the organization and sponsoring of Prayer Bands in the interest of world missionary needs and endeavor, giving special attention to Whitworthians now on the mission fields. They will also collect and maintain, for the use of all, up-to-date information on the work being done in the many fields of the world, and information of the organizational policies and purposes of many of the mission boards.

Missions Fellowship, which is under the authority of the Christian Activities council, will conduct meetings on Sunday mornings from 7 a.m. to 7:55 a.m.

City School Dep't. Gives "Inside" Story

Mr. Ralph Peterson and Mrs. Sullivan of the Guidance and Counseling department of the Spokane public schools spoke to the Future Teachers of America chapter on March 11.

Speaking on the topic "Education from the Inside", Mr. Peterson stressed the advantages of entering the teaching profession at the present time. He stated that a drive is now on to obtain a $3200-6000 salary schedule for teachers; because of the teacher shortage, new teachers can pick the spot where they may wish to teach and that they can specialize. He further stated that education is presently in a period of great transition and needs young teachers with new ideas and that the subjects, human relations, democracy, history of western thought, chemistry and guidance are in demand in secondary schools now.

Guidance was the topic of Mrs. Sullivan's brief remarks. Guidance workers, she said, should have an interest in children and must be able to gain their confidence. "In spite of intellect, through personality development all people can be made happy and useful," stated Mrs. Sullivan as she stressed personality development as the aim of guidance.

GUESS WHO IS IN WHO'S WHO?

By Rogers Walker

We're thumbing through the pages of the latest edition of Who's Who in America, and the names are spinning past us — Adams, Anderson, Arnold, Bailey, Becker, Bibb — wait a minute, there's something familiar about that name Bibb. Hmm, let's see. It says here that he was born June 28, 1884 at Montgomery, Mo., and after getting his AB at William Jewell college in Mo. he came west where he earned his A.M. and Ph.D. at the U. of Wash. Where have we heard that name? It goes on to say that he used to be at CWCE and a few other places. Let's see, what's that last one? Whitworth? Why, that's here! Of course, that's it—they mean our Dr. Thomas W. Bibb of the economics department.

Well, we're doing all right for Whitworth. Wonder if any more of our faculty is listed here. Wonder about Prexy. I'll ask him. "Haven't heard anything about it," he modestly replies, but he's not fooling me. No, sir. So I peek in the back of the book, and there he is, Dr. Frank Furniss Warren, born Nov. 23, (the year might surprise you). Anyway, he's our Prexy, and if you want to read all about him, look in volume 25 of Who's Who in America.

Former Student Receives Honor

Robert "Mac" Crow, a former Whitworthian, was informed recently by Senator Harry P. Cain of his appointment as first alternate to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland. A resident of Whitworth hall last year, "Mac" was active in dorm activities and majored in engineering. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crow of Oakesdale, Washington. This year "Mac" is a student at Washington State College.

Speaker at Phi Delta Kappa

Dr. Thomas W. Bibb spoke at a dinner meeting of the Phi Delta Kappa, graduate fraternity, which was held Saturday evening, Mar. 13, at the Desert hotel. He spoke on the subject, "The Effect of Changing Economic Conditions on Education."

MONITOR MAN POINTS TO BIG PRESS ISSUES

... At Congress

Donovan M. Richardson, chief editorial writer of the Christian Science Monitor, said in his address to delegates of the PNCC that, "The crude desire to make money by pandering to the worst appetites of the reading public, and the social viewpoint of many publishers, (i.e., those with a country-club complex) are the influences which more than any other keep our press from fulfilling its obligations."

In his talk Mr. Richardson pointed out that the press has a heavy responsibility in world affairs, and a duty to fulfill towards the reading public.

PNCC

to their general assembly. Delegates were divided into five groups, the Little Assembly, Enforcement of United Nations Decisions, the Marshall Plan, UNESCO, and Responsibility in Public Information.

Marshall Plan Emphasized

Although each section was limited in presenting two resolutions before the general assembly, the group discussing the Marshall Plan was permitted to present five resolutions because of the complexity and importance of the subject.

In their resolutions on the Marshall Plan, delegates went on record as favoring the United States to take the initiative in encouraging reciprocal trade by negotiating the reduction of tariff barriers. Second, the law enacting the plan should exclude the demands for strategic materials for stockpiling by this country. Third, the participating nations under the plan should have an active voice in its administration. Fourth, no government shall be excluded from Marshall Plan aid for political reasons, and finally, that purchase of armaments shall be prohibited with funds appropriated under the plan.

Standardization Stressed

Under education, the delegates supported an equalization of scholastic requirements of the educational systems of the world to facilitate a free transfer of students on the international level, and asked that the UN through an appropriate specialized agency inaugurate a program intended to teach news analysis and evaluation, and to promote interest in world affairs through universal education.

Realizing in their discussions that the press and other mediums of publicity were not fulfilling their duties to the world, delegates asked that the UN, through an appropriate agency, facilitate the free flow of accurate information among nations, and prevent the formation of international news carrels which tend to restrain it.

Minority Report Taken

Heated discussion took place over the resolutions presented by

GOSPEL TEAM TAKES WINGS

Whitworth will soon have its first flying Gospel team through the help of the Flying club. It will show the students the effectiveness of air travel on the mission field.

The first trip will be to Wilbur, Wash., three and one half hours driving time or 25 minutes flying time from Spokane. Four services will be held throughout the day.

Bob Hall and Les Kirkendoffer have taken their solo flights.

Next quarter Jim Hardy, Bob Reinhart, Lee Raibly, and Bob Canfield, new club members, will start their instruction.

the Little Assembly group. In close disagreement the group presented a majority resolution followed by a minority report. When the general assembly debated on the resolutions the majority report was discussed, and the minority report accepted. This report resolved that the PNCC is opposed to the tendency of the Interim Committee to apply the pressure of its opinions toward restriction of abolition of the veto power, and the unanimity rule in the UN, and toward weakening the authority of the Security Council, and that the Congress supports the continuation of the Interim Committee only if it is actually constituted as a subsidiary body performing a constructive function, as provided in the charter of UN, and only if it enjoys the voluntary acceptance and participation of all the great powers.

With a number of dissensions, especially among veterans represented, the delegates backed provisions calling for an adequate international military force to enforce the decisions of the Security Council.

Resolutions to Students

Delegates are presenting these resolutions to student groups in all of the schools represented. Balloting will decide which resolutions will be forwarded to appropriate persons in our government, and within the UNO.

Psychology Talked Over on Broadcast

The history of psychology was reviewed in the forum discussion given Monday, March 15, over station KFIO. The study of the soul is the literal meaning of the word, psychology.

Members of the psychology department, Dave Barnes, Norman Dorpat, Dewey Mulholland, and Dr. F. T. Hardwick, instructor, participated.

Class Visits Crescent

The Office Management class recently visited the credit offices of the Crescent department store. Mr. Harley Boyle explained the procedures followed by his company and then took the class on a tour showing them how accounts are handled and the microfilm method of filing.

UN Speaker at PNCC

Key-note address to delegates at PNCC was given by Professor Olaf Paus-Grunt, chief, educational liaison, Department of Public Information, UNO.

Mr. Paus-Grunt, a Norwegian professor, stressed the means by which the Nazis, Fascists, and Japanese had made use of education of the masses to further their own interests. He pointed out that educational, political and social systems in a country should be closely related, but not to the point of indoctrination in the state.

Whitworth was moved to its present location in 1914.

Biography Given

A short biographical sketch of Dr. Whitworth's life related some aspects of his personality.

Dr. Whitworth was born in Boston, England, March 15, 1816. He came to this country when he was twelve years old. The Whitworths settled first in Ohio, later moving to Terre Haute, Indiana, where he received his elementary schooling. He graduated from Hanover college in 1838, taught school for a short time, and later turned to the practice of law.

From an early period in his life, Whitworth felt a calling to establish missions and a protestant school in the Pacific Northwest. In May, 1853, he organized a colony of people interested in settling in the West, and set out on the hazardous cross-country trek.

Rev. Whitworth was the first Presbyterian minister to cross the Columbia River to work among white people in the newly organized Washington Territory. He was active in organizing Presbyterian churches in the territory, at the same time doing outstanding work in civic affairs.

It was through the efforts of Whitworth that Sumner Academy was established. From its beginning, he served as president of the board of trustees.

In recognition of his services to the academy, the board changed the name of the school in 1890 to Whitworth college. During the same year he was presented with an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Hanover.

Dr. Whitworth died in October, 1907.

WOMEN'S WORLD

By Babs

Barbara Aultman and Helen Parsons, brides-to-be, were feted at showers this week. A shower for Helen was held Tuesday night in Ballard Hall. Vera Fay Wilson had a shower for Barbara Thursday night in Westminster hall. Both weddings will take place next week.

Dorothy Funk introduced an interesting idea when she led prayer meeting the other night. She played several religious records instead of having group singing, as is the usual procedure.

The engagement of Marge Scott and Mel Unruh was announced at dinner Tuesday night, by tiny match holders and bowls of jelly beans on the tables. On the match folders were written: Mel and Marge—We're spilling the beans — it's a match! Mel's brother, Skinny, then sang to the couple.

A number of girls from all the dormitories will participate in the annual college day over Easter vacation. They will give talks about Whitworth in their home town high schools.

How two girls got into their dormitory and stacked their rooms, is a question on the minds of Whitworth hall fellows.

First it was peroxidizing — now it's cutting hair. Next?

McMillan hall's new addition for men has been tagged "McMillan hole."

36 ANSWER CALL TO BASEBALL

NINE LETTERMEN RETURN FOR ANOTHER SEASON OF PLAY

Nine lettermen were among the host of diamond hopefuls who reported to the gym Wednesday in answer to Coach Jerry Stannard's first baseball call of the new year.

Returning for another season of play are outfielders Bill Roffler, Don Simonsen, Bob Cruzen and Tom Patten; infielders Nick Faber, Earl Mortlock and Vern Tucker; and battery mates Bob Bradburn and Bill McCord.

From pre-season indications it appears that there will be a battle for positions this year with a number of new players threatening to edge the veterans out of the starting roles.

Twirler Crop

Biggest addition to the baseball roster is in the pitching department. Among the new hurling prospects are Ted Hussey, a fast ball chucker from Medical Lake high school where he won six out of seven last spring, and Joe Gilliam, who helped pitch Walla Walla high school into the state championship in 1944. These two twirlers along with Earl Danielson, Bill McCord, and portsider Sam Bass have been holding light indoor workouts during the past two weeks.

Coach Stannard is pleased with his new array of talent and is in hopes of the newcomers bolstering the squad to a winning team. Last year the Pirates finished second in the eastern half of the Winco play.

Workouts will be held in the gym until weather permits outdoor practice.

GYM SCENE OF CHAMP GAMES

The Harrington Panthers were crowned Northeast District champions for 1948 after defeating Reardan in the final contest of the four day meet in the Whitworth gym. Facing the rival Indians in the title play the Harrington five avenged an earlier 41-40 defeat handed them by the Reardan squad in county play and dumped the Redmen second place in the district play.

In a consolation preliminary Fairfield smothered Ritzville, 55-35, to grab the tourney's third spot.

The Harrington quintet along with Reardan and Fairfield are representing this district in the state class B tournament which opened in Seattle Wednesday.

Party at "Y"

Whitworth students attended the yearly party at the Y.W.C.A. last week. The small crowd participated in the activities which included swimming, volleyball, ping pong, pool and basketball.

Afterwards refreshments were served. A program and devotions were led by Kenny Gamble. Dave Barnes was in charge of the plans for the party.

MUMPS "TOLL" 16, NOW OVER

According to Dr. Frazer, the campus doctor, the worst of the mumps is over, with most of the cases in the final stages.

The highest number of cases in the infirmary at any one time was 16.

The two nurses, Ruth Jaqua and Edith Garrison, became patients also. Faculty members as well as students have helped to get the work done. No visitors are allowed yet, because of the cases yet remaining.

Those still with the mumps are: Ruth Jaqua, Edith Garrison, La Vern Brassard and Bob Dudley.

SPAGHETTI FEED FILLS B.B. BOYS

Coach Jerry Stannard put on his annual spaghetti feed for the basketball players, their wives and girl friends Tuesday night, March 16.

There were 13 of the players, along with their wives and girl friends, in attendance. Also attending was Dr. and Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Roffler.

It was reported that everyone had a good time and Jerry stated that for once both Jack Mahaffey and Al Good seemed to get enough to eat.

Culverwell Visits Whitman Ruins

While Whitworth's delegates to PNCC talked their way through long sessions of discussion on international problems, Mr. Culverwell, adviser to the group, made a few side trips to points of historical interest at Walla Walla. He brought back an adobe brick and a piece of charcoal from one of the early buildings that had fallen into ruins, and which is now being excavated.

Mr. Culverwell reports there may be opportunity for students interested in work in excavations to help there this summer.

Golfers Sport Low 40's on Link Tours

Taking advantage of the lift in the weather the Whitworth Pirates golf squad got in a few early practice swings on the Downriver golf course with the group coming through the nine-hole game showing good form in registering a number of moderate scores.

Homer McCordle paced the team with a 40 followed by Ben Fairchild's 42 and Bert Waldrop's 43. Coach Homer Alder joined in the short game, stroking a 40 in the afternoon play.

Dr. Alder already has expressed favorable possibilities for his 1948 golfers and he considers his team a definite improvement over last season's squad.

Playing a full Winco schedule this season, the Pirates will field their three top men in conference play, while five members will participate in the non-league matches.

DORM FLASHES

WHITWORTH HALL

Weston Grey has returned from the hospital where he underwent an operation.

This hall has been host to a number of out-of-town basketball boys who have been engaged in the district BB tournament here.

Delbert Moore, a Whitworth student last year, returned to visit Pat Douglas, his former roommate, and some of his other old friends.

Larry Henderson has returned from the infirmary after being down with the mumps.

WASHINGTON HALL

Vern Brassard went to his home in South Valley over the weekend. He has been helping in the Methodist church there as Sunday School superintendent. This week he has the mumps.

LANCASTER AND GOODSEL HALLS

Marshal Hodge is getting married during the Easter vacation. Last week Lancaster hall voted and approved the newly made constitution of the Alpha Chi.

Tourney Notes

Those who viewed the eight prep fives in action during the tourney saw some of the closest scoring battle royals of the season. Of the 12 games played in the four-day meet three were won by two points, two by one point, and all but four contests were decided by three buckets.

Ritzville's coach Rex Thomson could have used some family assistance during the tourney. While his team was losing a one-point teaser to Reardan, son Dale was in Seattle helping Central Valley set a state tourney scoring mark.

Dan Slavelly, who shared in the officiating duties during the district play, was quite amusing to the spectators in carrying out his whistle work. When Dan called a foul he vigorously shook an indicating finger at the offender and then planted himself squarely before the player and vociferously detailed the default after screaming out the individual's number.

Maybe it was "big-game" tension, but most of the players in the tourney had difficulties in sinking their free shots. Newport lost two heartbreakers, 47-46 and 38-36, despite the fact that it out-scored both opponents from the floor. The Grizzlies could sink but eight free tosses in 33 tries. Even a fair free throw average could have reversed the decision in six games.

Competition is really going to be keen in baseball this spring. If the Pirates were to field a team tomorrow, Coach Stannard could have his choice of a half-dozen experienced catchers, seven pitchers, three sets of infielders, and a bushel of outfielders from which to select a starting nine.

It will be interesting to see who win the race for positions.

Let's Go ROLLER SKATING

WEDDING BELLS RING OUT FOR THREE PAIRS

By Irene Merkel

Easter vacation this year will bring three weddings which concern Whitworth students. On Wednesday, March 24, at 8 p.m., Barbara Aultman will become the bride of Marshall Hodge in an informal candlelight ceremony. Rev. A. R. Hodge, father of the groom, will perform the ceremony, which will be held in Tiffany Memorial chapel. Attendants will be Nancy McFarlane, maid-of-honor, and Bill Hiser, best man. Dr. Mark Koehler will give the bride away. A reception will follow in the church parlors.

Helen Parsons and Arthur Weaver will be married at the Lake City Presbyterian church in Seattle on Saturday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. The semi-formal candlelight ceremony will be performed by Rev. S. D. Goodale. Nancy McFarlane will be the maid-of-honor, and Ivan Weaver, father of the groom, will be best man. There will be a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mary Lou Atkinson, Lemoore, Calif., will be married to Willis (Fig) Newton on Tuesday, March 30, at 8 p.m. in Lemoore, in a formal candlelight ceremony. Upon their return to Whitworth, the couple will live at Pleasant Prairie.

All three couples will continue their studies at Whitworth and will be making their homes in and around the city.

Mrs. Wartes in Costume Recital

Mrs. Clarice Wartes, voice instructor, sang before delighted student audiences during chapel period on March 9 and 10 in the speech auditorium.

Funds Roll In to Build New Tennis Courts; Three Needed

A plan to build three new tennis courts on the vacant area west of the gym was launched in chapel Wednesday morning.

Student Body President Len Watson announced that the board of trustees which met here recently approved a plan to match dollar-for-dollar funds raised by the students for the new courts.

Total cost for the three new courts is set at $3000, of which the student body must raise $1500. If each student would give $2.25 toward the project in the next week, it would insure the building of the courts in time for use during the present season.

On the first day $600 was pledged and $115 paid.

Whitworth now holds the WINCO championship in tennis, but the courts are in such bad shape that important games must be played elsewhere.

Patten Says

Said tennis champ Les Patten: "If we have these new courts this year, I am sure that we will retain the championship."

Last year a campaign to raise funds for the courts and track brought in $300, but all of it was applied to work on the running track-around the football field.

Contributions are coming in very rapidly, said Watson.

SPEECH TESTS DUE NEXT WEEK

By Dean Gammell

The first Inter-Class Speech tourney will begin next week with the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes holding speech contests in four divisions; impromptu, oratory, extemporaneous, and interpretive speaking, according to L. G. Baker, general chairman of the tourney.

One entry from each class in each division will be selected for the final contests to be held during the first week of May. There will be sixteen students participating in the final contests for individual and championship honors. The four top winners will be acclaimed champions of Whitworth in their speech division and awarded individual trophies.

All students with inter-college speaking experience will be disqualified from entering the tourney.

Those who are interested should see their class chairman. They are: Freshman, Phil Strawn; Sophomore, Dick Terry; Junior, Ray Gouldin; and Senior, Helmut Bekowies.

The preliminary contests are to take place on Tuesday's and Thursday's during chapel period. Students entering the tourney should watch the bulletin boards for the time and place of contests.

All contests before the finals are in the hands of the individual classes. The arrangements for the final contests are in charge of the speech department and the judges will be faculty members and per-

BAKER WANTS MORE SPIRIT, CAMPUS UNITY

Campaign Platform Has Five Points

Bands will play, crowds cheer, air planes shower the campus with leaflets and candidates pass out all-day suckers when pre-election band wagons begin to roll next week, if the student body elections are as heated this year as they have been in the past.

All indications point to a good natured but stiffly contested battle.

Running for president are Jerry Mahaffey and L. G. Baker. First out with a campaign platform, "El Gee" has built his machine around five main points:

1. The creation of an active "Pep" committee
2. Complete and constant recreational facilities, available to all students.
3. Increase and implementation of facilities for town students
4. Creation of annual inter-class sport, speech and music tournaments.
5. Activation of a faculty-student mediation board (gripe committee).

"Of course," said candidate Baker, "we intend to enlarge upon these points as the campaign goes along, but my main desire is to increase the college spirit and unity of the campus by putting into practice these general points. More details on these specific points will be forthcoming soon."

Baker pointed out they had been decided upon after a study by his advisory board.

MEN OUTNUMBER GIRLS BY TAKING 85 HONORS AND 17 A's

Winter quarter honors have been granted to 140 Whitworth students, it has been announced. Of these, 85 are men students and 55 are women.

To be eligible for honors a student must carry 14 or more hours, and maintain a grade point average of 2.25 or better.

A straight A average was earned by 17. William Anley made the highest total grade points, 54 for 18 hours.

A.S.W.C. BANQUET SET

Choir's Tour Proves Triumph

By Bill Gwinn

The A Cappella choir closed its 16-day tour with a performance at Ellensburg last Sunday evening. According to Helmut Bekowies, business manager, "The choir averted the tendency to let down at the last, giving the most excellent performance of the trip." Bekowies had charge of planning and executing the entire tour.

The choir returned to the campus 2 a.m. Monday following performances in three states and 19 programs. School officials consider the tour the most successful in the history of the college.

Success Evidenced

Success of the tour is evidenced in the number of reports which have been coming to the college during the past two weeks in the form of letters, telegrams, and phone calls. Among the many messages received were the following:

Lake Avenue Congregational Church, Pasadena, California: "Professor Anders has splendid control of his choir and it reveals admirable training. Their selections were very well chosen and the in-

MAHAFFEY TO BUILD PARTY ON 5 POINTS

Jerry Mahaffey, presidential hopeful, announced yesterday his platform and policies for the coming election. Using the slogan, "A UNITED CAMPUS—IN WORK. IN PLAY, IN CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP," Mahaffey said he hoped to unify the campus through a well co-ordinated program of activity. According to the platform, the following would take place:

1. Administration will be open to suggestions by means of petition. Petitions will be presented to the student council in the order drawn up. Report will be required of the council within 24 hours of presentation as either positive, negative, or otherwise.

Seeks Activities

Jerry said, "We feel that there are many things which the students would like to have done such as school activities, student-faculty relations, chapel programs and athletics."

2. More participation by all the students in student activities. More student body meetings in which the mass of students participate in matters of interest, problems, entertainment and so forth. Advocating more participation of students in leadership of chapel programs.

3. A clearer relationship between students and faculty on all phases of campus life.

4. Full backing of larger and more aggressive athletic program in all major and minor sports in intercollegiate competition.

Wants Unity

5. Co-ordination between discordant factions on the campus which are tending towards an uncompromising split.

According to Mahaffey, his campaign board has an all out campaign planned that will get into full swing next week.

SADIE HAWKINS FUNFEST HELD

"The most unusual boys' quartet you've ever heard" is a feature promised for the all school Sadie Hawkins party on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The party is sponsored by the C. E. and will be held in the gym.

All Dogpatch citizens are invited to come in costume and join in the Sadie Hawkins race. Program chairman Shirley Davies, also promises a humorous skit entitled "Little Nell."

LANGLIE TO SPEAK HERE

Arthur Langlie, former Seattle mayor and Washington governor, plans to speak at Whitworth college in his campaign for re-election as governor, Dr. Warren announced. Langlie is a member of the college board of trustees.

"Springtime" to Be Theme of Affair

The date: April 17.

The time: 6:45 p.m.

The place: Eagles Lodge, S. 174 Howard St.

The event: ASWC Spring banquet.

The price: $1.75.

Your date: Your gal or her roommate.

There you have the essential facts concerning this important campus event. This year's banquet is under the direction of the ASWC social committee, composed of the student body vice president, Bob Bradburn, and the vice presidents of each class. They are Helmut Bekowies, senior; Betty Lange, junior; Jim Carlson, sophomore; and Helen Lockhead, freshman.

Sports awards formerly were given at the spring banquet, but due to a recent ruling of the student council, the practice has been discontinued. Letters and recognition are now given to athletes in student body assemblies.

STEAK EATERS WORK HARD TO CLEAN CAMPUS

Assassinated Press Dispatch

—Spokane, Wash., April 9.—

The beef consumption of Spokane county has taken an 85 per cent increase overnight. F.B.I. men are being called to the scene to investigate the sudden increase. Several Whitworth students are being questioned.

Four hundred or more students and faculty members appeared this morning to participate in the annual Field and Campus day. The first piece of work attacked by the students was a steak breakfast sponsored by Alpha Kappa Chi, or town students. The breakfast was at 7 and students reported for work assignments at 8.

The majority of the volunteers were put to work cleaning up the rubbish that has been collected on the campus during the fall and winter. Others helped in cleaning out dorms, washing windows, and even wielding a paint brush here and there.

Through hard work and planning by committees, the students had the campus in shape by noon. At this time a picnic lunch was held for the tired, remaining students. The lunch was served under direction of Mrs. Sutter and her crew from the dining hall.

This is the first year that the Field and Campus Day has begun at 7 a.m. In past years the event has always started at 6:30.

Watson, This is For You

Student body presidents are a funny brand of guys. A quick look over the field shows that they think no one appreciates their efforts in looking after student interests.

He may not feel that way, but this is to let Len Watson know that although he catches more brick bats and curled lips from the knot heads than a baseball umpire, his work in promoting our interests has not gone unnoticed.

Len will soon be going "out into the cruel, hard world" (with his wife and two children), and before he leaves we want to give him a hearty and sincere thanks for all his work. Why don't you do the same?

Boy and Girl Whisper Alone Off in a Corner

Here's part of a little gem from the Huntington college paper back in Indiana.

"A new fella comes to school. He wears the little gold pin of the ex-service man. He comes to classes, shyly tries to mix. You get off in your corner with the girl friend and whisper, 'He's not Christian.' You pigeonhole him, classify him, lick your lick and stick it on him and there he is!"

They must think it's pretty good, because they reprinted it from the Pacific college Crescent. We think it stinks. It doesn't stick at Whitworth. The veteran student has proved that he is the best student on this, or any other, campus.

And about the general run-of-the-mill vet being a "non-Christian," that's not so, either. The veteran student does mix on this campus. Not only that, he has consistently taken the lead and promoted activities in a successful manner which made the non-veteran gape with awe.

It's time this whispering campaign to discredit the X-G.I. came to an end and someone stood up and called a spade a garden implement.

Let integrity and uprightness preserve me; for I wait on thee. Ps. 25:21.

STEAK EATERS

(Continued from page 1) State College is scheduled this afternoon on the Whitworth diamond. The showing of the Whitworth baseball nine may be some indication of the strength they will show during league play. The handling of today's program was done by Len Watson, general chairman. The breakfast committee included Al Christenson, L. G. Baker, and Norm Dopat. In charge of the work crews were Betty Lange and Jim Carlson. Dave Barnes was in charge of advertising and Willis Case had charge of the married students.

Marshall Hodge and Ben Fairchild were in charge of campus cleanup.

CHOIR TOUR...

terpretation was splendid. Some of us who have heard St. Olaf's choir spoke of the fact that they do, in comparison to that choir, very credible work — and that they might well be considered the St. Olaf choir of the Northwest, inasmuch as Professor Anders had been trained and served there."

First Presbyterian Church, Yakima, Washington: "Your choir was wonderful. They came as near to Westminster choir quality as anything that I have ever heard."

The Yakima Presbyterian: "For a choir to reach such a high standard of excellence in one year is little short of miraculous and high praise is due Professor Anders for the results he has achieved in that short period. Each section sounds like one voice and all sections blend together in a truly harmonious way. Under Mr. Anders' leadership Whitworth has an A Cappella choir of which the college and the Synod of Washington can be justly proud."

Trinity Presbyterian Church, Santa Cruz, California: "I want to express the thanks of the people of this church for the excellent presentation by the A Cappella choir on Monday evening. Our people were thrilled with the spirit in which the young people presented their testimony in music. They were equally as thrilled to have the young people in their homes as overnight guests, as they are such a wholesome group. In comparison with other choirs we have heard, the A Cappella choir of Whitworth stands out far above them, and it is a choir in which you can justly be proud."

Tour Lively — Many interesting incidents gave life to the tour. "Car sickness" encountered some of the members in the early stages of the trip. Rosemary Glass was the only choir member unable to complete the entire tour.

Hot Time Had While on a sight-seeing trip at Visalia, California, a fire broke out in the baggage compartment of the first bus. Three suitcases were lost, although the quickest possible attempt was made to put out the fire with pails of snow. (Ed. note—Not snow in sunny Cal! tsk, tsk.) Those who incurred the greatest losses from the fire were Helmuth Bekowies and Bob Bradburn, who lost all their suitcases, and Joy Taylor, who lost some of her best skirts and sweaters.

Norm Gano escaped near disaster when a huge rock struck just above the windshield of the bus in which he was riding.

Choir members report that the highlight of the trip was the wonderful hospitality shown by all the churches and homes visited by the choir.

DORM MEN GET TIGHTER GROUP

Alpha Chi, an organization consisting of the men students of Goodsell, Lancaster, Washington and Whitworth Hall dormitories, has recently adopted a proposed constitution.

"Under this constitution," says President Jim Hardy, "Alpha Chi shall be a service organization with such purposes as, (1) coordinating all men's activities on the campus, (2) planning and directing a program to unite all dormitory men students, (3) providing a means for the men dormitory students to express opinions on matters of interest to them, and (4) finding the interest of all new men in the dormitories and directing them into existing organizations that appeal to them."

The organization is conducted with democratic procedure, he says. An executive board, which is composed of the four major officers of the organization; an advisory council, made up of the officers from each dormitory; committees, formed upon necessity; and the adviser, who is the Dean of Men, constitute the form of organization and management of affairs.

"We have been unable to form as an organization until now," Hardy explained, "and in the future we shall strive to be a more united organization."

J. C. PETERSON GIVES PIANO RECITAL AT 8

Whitworth college will present John Christian Peterson, '48, in a piano recital on Friday, April 9, at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts auditorium. A varied five-part program will be presented with selections by Brahms, Chopin, Beethoven and other favorites. Laurence W. Van Hise will collect program notes. Martha Dunlop Peterson will assist at the second piano during the opening number. The concluding offering will be a horn trio with Mr. Peterson playing the french horn, Harold Paul Whelan, violin, and Trula Polworth Whelan at the piano.

- The program follows:
- I. Prelude and Fugue in E Major ... Bach
 - II. Sonata, Op. 10, No. 1 in C Minor ... Beethoven
 - 1—Allegro molto con brio
 - 2—Adagio molto
 - 3—Prestissimo
 - III. Intermezzo, Op. 76, No. 7 in A Minor ... Brahms
 - Ballad (Edward) Op. 10, No. 1 in D Minor ... Brahms
 - Polonaise in C Sharp Minor ... Chopin
 - IV. Lake at Evening ... Griffes
 - Bells, from "Little Suite" ... Roy Harris
 - Rondalla Aragonesa ... Granados
 - Horn Trio, Op. 40, in E Flat Major ... Brahms sons from Spokane with speech background.

The rules drawn up by the tourney committee are:

1. Impromptu—not less than 3 nor more than 5 minutes. The judge will give the contestant a question which he must answer immediately. General subject: Campus Problems.

2. Oratory—not to exceed 8 minutes. A persuasive speech on any subject.

3. Extemporaneous — not less than 4 nor more than 5 minutes. Each contestant will draw three topics and will be given 30 minutes to select and prepare one. No speaker shall listen to any previous speaker. General subject: The place of Religion in Modern Society.

4 Interpretive reading—not to exceed 5 minutes. Any selection.

A. Any person with inter-collegiate speech experience is disqualified.

B. Each class may have but one entrant in each division of the finals.

C. A contestant is limited to but a single field in the finals.

D. Time, place and judges for the preliminaries shall be determined by the individual classes.

"This tourney, sponsored by the speech department, will be an annual affair if the Whitworth students give it the cooperation they have given other speech department activities in the past," Baker said. "The tourney is designed to give all students competitive speaking experience in any one of four fields. With those students who have participated in inter-college meets disqualified, students will be on a merely equal basis."

SCRIBES MEET TO HEAR MARKS

... at Banquet

Approximately 40 persons are expected to attend the Writer's banquet April 23 at 7 p.m. The turkey dinner will be served in the private dining room of Elizabeth Ann's in Country Homes.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Callison Marks, Sunday magazine editor of the Spokesman-Review. There will be several other program numbers.

The semi-formal affair will be attended by members of the Whitworthian and Natsihi staffs, members of the Writer's Club, and other personnel in the journalism department.

HOBBY TEA IS A.W.S. FEATURE

An interesting assortment of hobbies was displayed at the "hobby tea" held Friday, April 2, in the reception room of Westminster Hall. The tea was sponsored by the AWS.

Clever hand-made jewelry, "Candled bottles" and samplers were only a few of the hobbies shown. Records from Nadine Lamkin's collection provided background music for the afternoon. A special welcome was given to the new women students.

Serving at the tea table were Mrs. L. E. Anderson, mother of Donna Jean and Mary Lou Anderson, and Mrs. Benjamin Neustel, both members of the Whitworth Ladies Auxiliary. Janet Young was general chairman, and assisting her were Betty Summerston and Mrs. Clyde Matters.

Wendell Harder is the publicity chairman of the tourney.

GOOD AT TESTS? YOU'LL FLUNK THIS ONE WITHOUT ANY TROUBLE

By Pete

Do you feel about tests the way I do? You know the kind I mean. Get out your pony and ride with me. Here's a sample question from the professor who can't make up his mind:

The Moon is—

- A. Made of green cheese
 - B. A Russian satellite
 - C. Something song writers love
 - D. Something lovers love
- Or he tosses a trick question. George Washington was one of these:

- A. The Father of his country
- B. The First President
- C. The general who beat the British
- D. A man who wore uncomfortable false teeth.

The silent type of prof who writes one question on the board and looks disturbed if anyone asks about it might do this. "Three specified ways by which an office holder may be removed after his election. Considering this, discuss in detail, with dates, the first 2000 years of Chinese history and its influence on the new look."

Completion type questions cause students to throw away their crib notes and start thinking about the type of letter they are going to have to write home.

Here's a popular one. "_____ is the _____ of _____ but _____, _____, _____, except when _____ it doesn't."

Oral questions are the snags, though. Prof: "On page 274 the author mentioned a significant factor regarding the problem he presents in his first two text books on the subject. What are they? Oh, come now, you know that."

But don't you worry about it. Remember the old saw about "Grades don't mean nothin', it's the coeds what count."

Quick, pass me another blue-book before we all make Phi Beta Kappa.

BOOKS ON PUBS GET NEW HOME

Two birds were killed with one stone when a set of new shelves were installed in the journalism office. Professor Alfred O. Law case books and Supreme Court reports are also on file in the room.

Dr. Warren baptised his granddaughter, 17-month-old Cynthia Starrett at Manito Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Starrett, both Whitworth graduates.

GILLIAM STARTS DOUBLE HEADER MOHR TO PITCH SECOND GAME

Still smarting from the double setback by Farragut Tuesday in the season openers, Whitworth will try to break into the win column this afternoon when it tangles with the University of Montana on the Pirate diamond.

A twin bill is scheduled with the first game due to get underway at 1:30 o'clock.

Coach Jerry Stannard has stressed defensive play in the last two workouts in hopes that the Whits may cut down in the error column today. In Tuesday's starters the team committed a total of nine miscues in the two games, six of them figuring in the Farragut scoring.

Gilliam To Start

Stannard has named Joe Gilliam, victim of the first game Tuesday, as his pitching choice for today's opening contest. The big righthander worked three frames against the Stags, giving up two scratch hits and two unearned runs.

In the infield Nick Faber, back at his first base job, is the only sure starter. It will be either Earl Mortlock or Sammy Tague at second base with Mickey McDougall, Vern Tucker, and Eugene Elias vying for the shortstop and third base roles.

Mohr to Hurl

The outfield berths will include Bob Cruzen in left, Don Simonsen in center, and Bill Roffler in right.

Pat Clyde will take the first turn behind the plate. Stannard has Bob Bradburn and Sam Contos available to relieve him.

The Pirates' mound choice for the second tilt is Al Mohr, little lefthander from Central Valley.

B.B. Boys Chapel

Members of the basketball squad were in charge of the chapel period last Monday, bringing personal testimonials and a musical number.

Jerry Mahaffey led the group in hymns. Bill Roffler gave the devotional, and a trumpet duet was played by Earl Mortlock and Wally Moore.

"Hoppy" Fraser was the featured speaker, and short talks were given by Al Good, Jack Mahaffey and Earl Mortlock.

Clyde Matters Is Honored by Award

Clyde Matters, Pirate basketball forward during the recent season, was awarded the Pirette Inspirational trophy for the second successive year.

The occasion was the lettermen awards' chapel Wednesday.

CLYDE MATTERS

Coach Aron Rempel, junior varsity mentor, gave out letters to nine members of his squad, winners of 10 out of 13 games during the season play.

The varsity awards were presented by Coach Jerry Stannard and Professor Culverwell. Sam Bass, Virgil Kuhn, and Al Good received first year letters, while Gordy Brandt, Nick Faber, Hoppy Fraser, Clyde Matters, Jack Mahaffey, Jerry Mahaffey, Wayne Conner, Bill Roffler, and Earl Mortlock were presented with their second awards.

Bill Roffler, sophomore guard, was elected honorary captain for the year by his team-mates.

Matters and Roffler along with Mortlock were named on the All-Winco teams this year, Mortlock placing on the first five with Matters and Roffler being named second team choices.

With nary a senior on the team, all 12 lettermen will be around for another year of competition.

No New Tests

The Guidance office has issued a statement that no new tests will be administered until the second week of the Spring quarter.

According to Dr. Maxsen, so many applicants have received tests that the counselors are now giving private interviews to those who have completed. The process is extensive, he said, and takes much time.

Those who have additional tests to take are asked to report as soon as possible to M-1.

About the only thing the Pirates got out of the Farragut series was experience. The Whits were soundly trounced in that Tuesday double header, and the players know it and offer no excuses. Not only were they outscored, and outhit, but the Pirates were outplayed in the field. Their physical and mental miscues were costly in both contests.

The team has been stressing defensive play in practice during the last two days in an effort to cut down today's errors, both afield and between the ears.

Bob Bradburn was one of the Pirate bright spots in those openers. The veteran catcher reported for play for the first time Tuesday, having been away on the choir trip for two weeks, and without any pre-season workout.

stepped up to the plate twice in the first game, and banged out a line single and a long double. In his only appearance in the second contest as a pinch hitter, he drew a base on balls.

Eugene Elias had a good day in the first game. The new Pirate third baseman cashed in on two singles in three trips.

And centerfielder Don Simonsen proved that his shot-gun arm is still quite effective in throwing out two runners the hard way, one at home and one at third, in the first two innings of play.

In the second game the visitors had difficulty in coping with Ted Hussey's offerings. The Pirate righthander faced but six men in the two innings he worked, striking out two and walking none

WINCO CUP TO STAY AT HOME

... Team Hopes

Four Pirate lettermen from the 1947 tennis squad are on hand to defend the Winco league title which they won last spring in their first season of conference play. The quartet of veterans includes Les Patten, ex-Spokane city champion; Bill Hiser, Vancouver, Wash; Dave Barnes, Spokane; and Wally Moore, Omak.

Coached by Dr. Mark Koehler, a Pirate tennis star during the late 30's, the team breezed through the Winco tourney match at Ellensburg last year, lifting the league crown from Western Washington on the strength of Les Patten's 6-0, 6-0 whitewashing of the Viking's Don Brown in the singles finale Patten teamed with Wally Moore to stroke the Pirates to the finals in the doubles play.

TRACK SEASON OPENS APRIL 17

With the new track nearly completed, Aaron Remple has his trackmen working out daily in preparation for their season's opener April 17, against Cheney and Gonzaga. According to Coach Remple now that the cinders are down and the hurdles are built the track should be ready for complete use in time for the first meet.

There are twenty-four men turning out regularly, three of which are lettermen. Several of the boys are showing promise.

The Whits will finish their schedule with the conference meet at Tacoma on May 30. In addition there will be a combined meet with Lewiston and Walla Walla on the 1st of May, and dual meets with Gonzaga on the 24th of April and the 15th of May. All meets other than the conference will be held on the Whitworth track.

WHITS GO DOWN IN FIRST TESTS

The Farragut Stags dampened Whitworth's 1948 home debut in baseball Tuesday by dropping the Pirates twice, 7-1 and 6-1 in a twin bill on the local field. Played on a damp diamond and in chilly football weather, the two games were season openers for both nines.

Starting off fast, the Stags wasted little time in jumping to a 1-0 lead in the initial inning of the first game. The Whits made it 1-1 in the next frame on Elias' one baser, followed by a wild pitch, an infield out, and a bad throw by the Farragut third baseman on Clyde's ground ball.

The Idaho nine moved ahead to slay in the third, scoring one run, then iced the game in the sixth with a five run uprising.

Eugene Elias, with two hits in three trips, and Bob Bradburn, hitting two for two, paced the Pirate hitters.

The Stags' righthander, Cal Johnson, received credit for the win, giving up six hits. Joe Gilliam, who pitched the first three innings for the Whits, was charged with the defeat.

Second Game

In the second tilt, the Pirates' Al Mohr and Farragut's Roger Marshall were locked in a duel of lifthanders for the first couple of frames, each pitcher setting down the side in order. Then the Whit infield fell apart as the visitors chased across five runs in the third to cinch the victory.

Whitworth got its lone tally in the sixth on an infield error, a walk, and a passed ball.

The short score:

First Game	R	H	E
Farragut	7	7	3
Whitworth	1	6	5
Batteries: Gilliam, McCord (6) and Clyde, Bradburn (5)
Johnson, Marshall (9) and Ziganti
Second Game	R	H	E
Farragut	6	5	3
Whitworth	1	4	1
Batteries: Mohr, Danielson (4), Hussey (5) and Clyde.
Marshall, Hill (4), Hammond (6) and Ziganti, DeMouth (6).

Everyone is talking about the dorm party they hope to have a short time from now. It seems it will be the biggest affair of the year for the Dorm. Don Hayes, vice president, is in charge of the entire planning.

STUDENTS GO TO POLLS MONDAY

TENNIS DRIVE LAGS SUPPORT NEEDED

By Dean Gammell

Over $800 in cash or pledges has been turned in towards the tennis court fund, according to a report given by LAVERN BRASSARD, ASWC treasurer. At the same time he announced that approximately $350 has been collected in cash, the remaining being outstanding in pledges.

Student leaders are unanimous in their support for the fund raising campaign. Len Watson, ASWC President says, "Active participation in this drive will assure Whitworth of three excellent tennis courts this spring." He has been instrumental in backing the campaign for funds.

Tom Summerson, W Club president enthusiastically said, "With new courts, we should be able to maintain our lead in this field of sports. Everyone can make use of the courts, and everyone should give."

According to the backers of the drive, all funds should be in by May 1. The courts will be modern, well-constructed, and ideally located. At a later date lighting, fencing, and bleacher grandstands will be discussed and formulated.

For those who have not contributed and wish to do so, Brassard and Watson will accept pledges and cash donations.

Spring Banquet Attendance Small

The Whitworth Spring Formal banquet April 17 was highlighted by an address by Edwin Adams, professor of radio speech at the University of Washington. He spoke on "Reading for Fun," and pointed out that literature can be entertaining as well as being informative.

He quoted a number of poems and jingles, most of which were humorous. Some of them were his own compositions.

Professor Adams is a former resident of the Inland Empire. He was a member of Knox Presbyterian church, and was graduated from Washington State college.

The banquet program, with Dr. Theron Maxson as master of ceremonies, was developed about the theme, "Suddenly It's Spring." Marge Scott and George Stout sang a duet, and Helmuth Bekowies presented a vocal solo.

Professor Loyd B. Waitz gave an interpretative reading on a scene from the life of Abraham Lincoln. The audience was also entertained by a magician, John Greenley.

A trio composed of Collette Stirm, Marian Venn and Jane Winters sang the theme song, "Suddenly It's Spring."

The banquet, held in the Eagles Lodge, S. 174 Howard street, was attended by nearly 150 persons.

SPEECH TESTS NOW UNDER WAY

The Inter-Class Speech tourney got under way this week with most of the classes holding the first preliminary contests in one or more of four divisions. But, there is still time for students to sign up for any one of four divisions: impromptu, oratory, extemporaneous, and interpretive speaking.

All contests down to the finals, which are to be held the first week in May, are within individual classes.

The tourney chairman for each class is responsible for the preliminary contests of his class and anyone interested in entering the tourney should see him. The class chairmen are: freshmen, Phil Strawn; sophomore, Dick Terry; junior, Ray Gouldin; and senior, Helmuth Bekowies.

Students with inter-college speaking experience are disqualified from entering the tourney.

Individual trophies will be given to the top four persons in the tourney.

CAMPUS SENDS 20 TO CONFAB

A large delegation of Whitworth students attended the annual Young Life Leadership conference at the Lutherland grounds near Seattle April 16-18. Jim Rayburn, national director of the movement, was at the gathering.

Included among the Whitworth representatives were Lewis Bock, Chuck Bovee, Jim Hardie, Leigh Taylor, Dick Terry, Ted Haney and Lee Raibley.

Others were Jim Slattery, Dick Patterson, Bob Dudley, Dale Par-ton, Don Smith and Bill Ainley.

Women attending were Roberta Panter, Lois Scott, Ruth Jaqua, Marjorie Laughlin, Shirley Davies, Nancy Osborne and Mrs. Sutter.

Diebler Speaks on "God in History"

"God controls godly nations and uses them as well as He does godly nations and individual lives," pointed out Rev. E. C. "Ted" Diebler when he addressed the Whitworth student body April 16. He spoke by request on the subject, "God in History." Mr. Diebler, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, emphasized that the individual should seek to find his place in God's plan for the world.

QUEEN TO BE ONE OF SIX

Highlighting the women's phase of election activities are the candidates for May Queen. Six women have been nominated by petition for the position of May Queen and attendants.

Active campaigns are being conducted for Marjory Haas, Mel Bovee Taylor, Miriam Petrequin, Betty Summerson, Ruth Jaqua, and Janet Reese.

Signs acclaiming the merits of the prospective court have blossomed faster than the spring flowers on the campus. Parades of festooned cars, picture posters, and word-by-mouth campaigns are lending color to this phase of elections.

Unique signs that must have taxed the ingenuity of the art majors are being posted on walls and trees and any object that remains stationary for more than five minutes. If you hear a resounding "Ouch," you will know that some unsuspecting soul caught in the grip of spring fever has loitered too long in one spot.

Twelve Named on Council Ballot

Twelve people have been nominated as candidates for the Student Council. This is in accordance with the new provision voted by the student body. There is also provision for a write-in candidate.

Among those whose names will appear on the ballot are Irene Claussen, Phil Strawn, Junita Christensen, Norman McDonald, Norman Dorpat, Clyde Matters, Joann Larson, Virginia Cawthon, Colleen Pickert, Al Good, Bill Roffler, and Don Cornish.

The student body will vote for five of these people, the top five being elected as student body representatives-at-large. These five, together with the officers of ASWC, and class officers, will compose the new Student Council.

N-G INSTRUCTOR URGES TO JOIN

The purposes and advantages of the National Guard were reviewed before an assembly of men students April 13 by Col. George Muller, army instructor of the Spokane unit. Col. Muller attended University of Idaho, and was graduated from West Point in 1940.

Joining the National Guard is not a means of dodging the draft for those who will be affected by the renewal of the program, but is an alternative, he explained. He emphasized that students could continue their studies and at the same time participate in guard activities. All members are paid for each drill they attend. Col. Muller said.

Ten Seeking ASWC Positions Five To Be Elected

The field is wide open in what promises to be a spirited election when Whitworth voters take to the polls next Monday and Tuesday. Heading the list of candidates for student offices in the presidential race are L. G. Baker and Jerry Mahaffey.

ENGINEERS TO LEAVE ON TOUR OF LOCAL DAM

... Guest of W.W.P.

The Springfield trip, an all-campus event and sponsored annually by the Whitworth Engineers' club, will leave the campus tomorrow at 8:00 by chartered buses for Long Lake, 42 miles away.

Long Lake is formed in the Spokane river by one of the large hydro-electric dams of the West. The lake is 42 miles northwest of Spokane and 15 miles north of Reardan.

Adds to Power

Students who wish to climb the 185 steps from the upper floor of the powerhouse to the crest of the dam will be able to look upon a view that is not easily forgotten. From this vantage point, one may look up the beautiful pine-bordered lake and also down the 274-foot plunge that the water takes as it escapes over the spillway or through the penstocks to the turbines below. Another novel feature of this plant is the system of utilizing the cold water in the penstocks to cool the air with which to ventilate the great generators. This process adds approximately ten per cent to the amount of power generated.

W.W.P. Is Host

Students on the trip will be treated to a dinner at the Washington Water Power clubhouse at Little Falls. Little Falls was once a popular Indian fishing spot and is now the site of the power project.

Bob Brugge is the chairman in charge of the trip.

JOHN KOEHLER WINS AWARD

Professor John Koehler, art department head, won honorable mention for his water color entitled "Abstraction in Warm Colors" at the Third Annual Art exhibit of Spokane artists last week. The exhibits were displayed from April 3 to April 17 at the Golden Gate building.

Professor Koehler also exhibited three other water colors entitled "Opus 37," "Approaching Dust Storm," "Composition with Fishermen" and "Composition with Horses," and an oil painting called "Steamboat Rock."

Both candidates have had ardent backers actively campaigning for them. Candidates Baker and Mahaffey have announced party platforms, which, in the light of observers, seem to reflect each other. There are few really new issues coming before the student body, but both sides are stressing student activities and student benefits.

Vice-presidential petitions were slow to be circulated, but two strong candidates emerged at the last minute. Mel Unruh, active campus student, W club member, cheer leader, and stage worker was first to announce his availability. This was closely followed by the petition filed in behalf of Al Christensen, town student, president of the town club, and present member of the student council. This position is considered by many to be as important as the office of president in view of the fact that the vice-president is in charge of all campus social functions.

Two outstanding women students are in the fight for the position of student body secretary. Collette Stirm, co-editor of the Whitworthian staff was first to file. Mary Leavens, active in campus affairs, filed her petition before the 4.30 p.m. deadline last Tuesday.

Bill Gwinn, Jack La Rose and Sam Tague are the three candidates for ASWC treasurer.

From a casual observance it would appear that Al Christensen, Mary Leavens and Jack La Rose have lined up in a solid campaign front, although most candidates are avoiding any affiliations.

Bill Sauve, news editor of the Whitworthian, is the only candidate for executive editor.

C. E. Execs Dine

Against a background of daffodils, and music, members of the Christian Endeavor executive committee enjoyed a committee dinner Monday evening, April 5, in the Speech auditorium. The dinner honored all married and engaged members and particularly feted Mr. and Mrs. Willis Newton.

Emceeding a varied program, Louis Bock introduced a duet by Nancy Osborn and Bill Ainley, a reading by Nearine Marcus and a solo by Edith Mulholland. Dewey Mulholland led the devotional and Edith Hiskey, at the piano, furnished dinner music.

No Moustaches, Please!

In every election campaign there is a certain amount of foul play. Sad to state, this is also true of conditions at Whitworth. It is a deplorable state that exists when certain members of the student body cannot restrain their actions enough to refrain from defacing posters and campaign material that is placed about the campus.

This is not being done by persons directly connected with any of the campaigns. It is rather the childish by-play of individuals who find a sadistic glee in destruction of property.

If there is any person who is desirous of getting his name on posters, or securing some of the posters that are all ready up, we are sure that those actively involved in campaigning will be happy to provide them.

Whoever your are — Grow Up.

Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity. I Cor. 13:13.

CADET TEACHERS WORK IN TOWN

Fourteen students from the college are doing their cadet teaching in the Spokane public high and junior high schools. Dr. G. H. Schlauch, director of cadet teaching, has announced.

All have at least two classes and will teach until June 4.

Students are at the following schools:

Hazel Granger, Havermale junior high.

John Carter, John Schuler, Rogers.

Colin Condit, John Christenson, Earl Gage, Morris Hulin and Mrs. Betty Messer; Lewis and Clark.

The six at North Central are Louis Boni, Marvin Moos, Miriam Pettrequin, John Rodkey, Donald Schmirler and Elizabeth Summer-son.

CHAPEL GETS A FREEDOM TALK

Speaking before a small chapel gathering, Spokane attorney Arthur A. Lundin stressed article 2, section 32, of the state constitution in connection with the Freedom train visit last week.

"A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is essential to the security of individual rights, and the perpetuity of free government."

Mr. Lundin came in behalf of the Mayor's Committee for the Freedom train.

Keep Your War Bonds

KNIGHTS ADD NEW MEMBERS

The Intercollegiate Knights were active once again in the initiation of new members into the organization.

The worthy new members initiated Wednesday, April 21, consisted of Bob Chamness, Ben Fairchild, Arnold Fosse, Verle Klein, Harvey Polley, Bill Reiff, Bill Sauve, and Mydleton Schindler.

New members are eligible for membership providing that they have displayed their sacrifice, service, and loyalty to the college.

DAISY CHASERS NET 30 ON TRIP

A 15-hour field trip produced nearly 30 botanical specimens, as well as such zoological materials as two horned toads, two rabbits, crow bones and fossilized snail shells.

Nearly 30 students and faculty members participated in the outing, which took them to the Grand Coulee area April 15. Mrs. Nicolin Gray, botany teacher, was in charge.

The group, travelling in four cars, ate breakfast in Davenport, lunched at Dry Falls, and visited the home of Muriel Stover at Coulee Dam, where they were served refreshments by Mrs. Stover. They left Spokane at 5:30 a.m. and returned at 8:30 p.m.

The annual botany field trip to Spirit lake will be made soon.

Campaigns Brought Before Students

Electioneering reached its peak yesterday morning in Graves Hall when candidates for student body offices presented their qualifications and personalities before the student body.

Queen candidates monopolized the opening portion of the rally. "Ring the bell for Mell" gave a ringing note to the bell float sponsored for Mel Bovee Taylor. A spring flower skit complete with rising and setting sun (per Dick Adams) attracted voters to Jan Reese. A harmonious (?) quartet expounded the virtues of Betty Summer-son. Backers of Miriam Petrequin had a skit complete with baby lamb getting votes for "Pet." A pirate squad in full regalia searched out Marg Haas as their choice for queen.

Presented to the student body as the only candidate for the office of Executive Editor was Bill Sauve.

Seeking office as treasurer were Bill Gwinn, Jack La Rose and Sam Tague. From the skits presented, candidates virtues ranged from tight-fisted to "easy picking."

Colette Stirm was given as the girl the college couldn't get along without as secretary. Mary Leavens' skit stressed the importance of "leavening" in any product.

Three men gave skits seeking the office of vice-president. Mel Unruh, supporting the tennis fund, Bill Lew advocating a "Successful operation," and Al Christensen, with a whole menageries of ballot-getters.

Most important of the election events given were the campaign speeches and programs of the two candidates for president.

Jerry Mahaffey spoke to the students for the first time since he announced his candidacy for president. He was assisted in his visit by the girl's trio—Colette Stirm, Marion Venn, and Janie Winters. They sang "Somewhere on Whitworth Campus," to the tune of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," and a short song to the tune of "Pass that Peacepipe."

L. G. Baker, second presidential candidate, was away in Montana for a speech event, but was represented by Dick Carr, Kenny Gamble and Jim Carlson, "The man with the rabbits."

Bob Bradburn, outgoing vice-president, was in charge of the program.

OH WELL, IT WAS EARLY!

First it was flying saucers, now it's flying balloons. At least that is what Shirley Bosworth and "Dee Dee" Marcus claim they saw Wednesday morning. Seems the two young ladies were playing an early morning set of tennis when suddenly they saw "This huge shadow," crossing the ground. Looking up they saw a red sausage-like balloon crossing overhead.

Engineer's Club Brings "Fun With Science" Chapel--Show

Mystery and thrill, mingled with truth and enlightenment will be on tap for students attending next Wednesday's chapel period, April 28.

TIMES DON'T CHANGE MUCH!!

In the spring of 1928 Whitworth students were interested in more animate things than books. In a WHITWORTHIAN of that season an editorial was published complaining of the lack of library circulation. Times don't change much!

Whitworth became noted in some fields, if not that of the aristocratic intellectual, for in that same year our school took high honors in the Columbia Valley oratorical contest. Phillip Laurie and Karl Rupp were the winners. Rupp was on the WHITWORTHIAN staff. He also became the father of a girl who entered Whitworth portals in the fall of 1947.

We also discover that in the spring of 1928 the brick of what is now Ballard hall was laid and the senior class gave the pillars to the school which mark the Wall street entrance to the college.

Another faithful "Whitworthian" who has been with the college since 1928 is Mr. Albert Arend, who is still a member of the board of trustees.

In the twenties scholarship competition between classes seems to have brought as much enthusiasm among the students as our current elections. A scholarship was awarded the class having the highest grade point average at the end of each quarter.

Home EC Dept. Members on Air

Attention, all present and future home-makers! You should have heard the Whitworth radio forum April 12 over KFIO. The subject was "How to Make the Food Dollar Stretch."

Miss Mary Boppell, home economics teacher, and three members of the Advanced Food Preparation class, Beth Roduner, Barbara Gwinn and Phyllis Cosman, discussed the results of their studies on various methods of economy. The comparative costs of bulk and packaged foods, and of home-prepared and commercially prepared materials were reviewed.

The thriftiness of home-freezing was pointed out, and practical suggestions for food preparation methods were made. These included peeling vegetables thinly, avoiding excessive soaking of vegetables and cooking meat at less than 350 degrees F to reduce shrinkage.

C. N. Key, demonstration engineer for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, will present to Whitworth students a specially arranged program, "Fun with Science." Using equipment built especially for this show, Mr. Key will demonstrate telephonic science, radio, and radar.

The future of the new mobile telephones, which are designed for use in automobiles, will be discussed during the program. These mobile telephones are already in use in Seattle and are now being introduced to Spokane.

Just think fellows, when a mobile phone is installed in your car, what a lifesaver it will be. When you are hurrying home with your date, to meet that 12:30 deadline and have a flat tire, you will have a way out. You can call her house-mother, explain the situation and if she won't believe you, all you have to do is to tell her to listen and she can hear the air still escaping from your tire. To all this she will probably reply that she thought you were just an old flat tire anyway and to stop hissing like so much hot air and bring your date home.

The ultra-short waves of radar will be twisted, turned, and bounced about the auditorium for the entertainment of the students during the presentation of the chapel program by Mr. Key.

Prof. Wilson, faculty adviser to the Engineer's club, which is sponsoring the program, said today, "A previous knowledge of mathematics and science is not necessary to enjoy this demonstration."

One of the highlights of activities on the Whitworth campus in 1944 was a demonstration of this same general nature.

Chapel To Start Early

The morning periods on the 28th of April will be shortened by five minutes in order to permit chapel to start promptly at 10:50 o'clock. Early comers will be given the "ringside" seats.

Campus students making arrangements for the program are Morris Hulin, Harold Wimpy, Cliff Taylor, Doug Newton, and Bob Brugge.

DR. DAVID COWIE TO PILOT MEN'S CONFERENCE, MAY 7-9

Dr. L. David Cowie, prominent youth leader from University Presbyterian church, Seattle, has been secured as leading speaker for the Men's Conference. The Conference is being held May 7, 8, and 9, at Fan Lake. Tom Summerson is general chairman.

Fan Lake camping facilities are reported to be excellent, giving better opportunity for recreation than other conference camps in the past. According to Dick Carr, planning chairman, there will be an opportunity for swimming, boating, baseball, riding, tennis and hiking. Dave Holmes is in charge of recreation.

Theme of the conference is "I Am The Way." Special emphasis will be made on the evidences of the reality of Christian life. Dr. Cowie will conduct an important seminar there, and a student seminar will be conducted by "Hoppy" Fraser. The final message will be given Sunday morning by Dr. Warren.

Fergie Cooks Again

Mrs. Ferguson will again be in charge of meals, and do the cooking for the group. On the food committee are Dave Barnes and Vern Brassard.

Transportation is in charge of Les Patton.

Music will be furnished by the Whitworth quartet, special numbers by Helmuth and Wally Bekowies, Jim McConnell, and instrumentals by Wally Moore and Earl Mortlock.

Cost of the conference is $3.00. All men attending will need sheets, blankets, and personal effects.

As a last reminder for the women, this is for MEN ONLY.

Choir Members Tell of Tour

Report on its recent tour was made by the Whitworth choir before the student body April 19. Professor Wilbur Anders directed the choir in several numbers during the chapel hour.

Helmuth Bekowies, business manager, conducted the report, calling upon several members to tell of interesting incidents during the trip. Norm Gano, choir president, told of a narrow escape when a rolling rock struck the bus at Satus Pass. Evelyn Mielke gave an account of several students being stricken with flu. Three members lost their clothing when fire broke out in the luggage compartment of one of the buses, Bob Bradburn reported.

Although it was thought to be a secret, news of the engagement of Nancy Osborne to Bill Ainley leaked out during the trip, Nancy said. Nevertheless, the surprise party at which they had planned to make their announcement was held at Bill's home in Woodlake, Calif.

The chapel program was concluded with one of the choir's favorite numbers, "God's Son Has Made Me Free." The applause which followed gave an idea of the enthusiastic approval by Whitworth of its choir.

DORM FLASHES

WHITWORTH HALL

Wally Bekowies is back again from the hospital and the infirmary after another operation on his leg.

Ralph Clausen is in the infirmary.

Wes Banta left the hall to live in town. He had been in the dorm for the past two quarters.

Veral Klein and Ron Davis have been taking advantage of the weather lately. Whenever it is sunny out you can nearly always see them stroking golf balls off the lawn.

WASHINGTON HALL

Nothing but talk about the dorm party this hall had in the Music hall last week.

Mr. and Mrs. "Fig" Newton were the guests of honor. Willis was the past Dorm prexy. After Mrs. Newton was introduced to the large turnout, a gift was presented to them.

The evening consisted of games, stunts, and program and closed with refreshments. Don Hayes was in charge of arrangements. Devotions were led by Russ Hanson, Dorm Proctor. Les Kirkendorfer planned the program.

"Corn and Music" was the theme of the program and skit. With jokes and laughs and German quintet, the guests had lots of fun.

Dick Snell was at the guitar, accompanying several songs, both sung by boys and by the entire group. The German quintet consisted of Jim Dowdy, Don Hayes, Mel Unruh, Les Kirkendorfer, and Gilbert Theissen. The song was sung in German.

The skit centered around a barber shop scene. Those who had leading roles: Earl Plankenhorn, Gilbert Theissen, Mel Unruh, Bob Bruce, Dick Snell, and Les Kirkendorfer. All the fellows joined in the group singing afterwards.

They plan to make this an annual affair.

Dog and Cat Act Amazes Student

The top animal trainers of Ringling Brothers Circus have nothing on local talent. Dudley Puryear, a resident of Ball and Chain Lane, is the proud owner and trainer of a brilliant performing cat and dog team.

The dog, Fido (pronounced "feedo"), obtained from the Spokane Humane Society Kennels, is a small brown intelligent looking animal of the popular breed known as "Heinz 57 Varieties." Her repertoire consists of: shaking hands, rolling over, lying down, playing dead, answering with a bark to the query "do you like (whoever is indicated), praying, sitting down, jumping through a hoop, playing catch, saying please, standing up, etc. She is very affectionate.

The Puryears obtained the cat, "Kitty" nicknamed "stupid," in Alabama. She is a small, chubby, yellow, independent creature, who complains orally all through her act and bites whenever the opportunity presents itself. "Kitty" rolls over, jumps through a hoop, and stands up. She performs best when hungry. She learned to roll over when very young but did not learn the other tricks until she had attained full growth.

Desert Supper

Mrs. George Stout has invited members of the Pirettes, women's honorary, to attend a desert supper at her home Monday evening. This is the regular meeting of the Pirettes.

Among the business on Monday evening's agenda will be further planning for the Pirette alumni breakfast to be held this Spring.

in Worley, Idaho.

Jack Eccles is one of the radio operators of the Washington State Patrol. This is a full-time job for him, besides going to school in the day time.

Goodsell Hall is keeping up in the news also. The dorm has decided to play host to a picnic later this spring. The plans have not been completed yet.

Eddie Kienholz went home over the weekend to Fairfield to visit. Jim Hardie, Lewis Bock, Don Smith, and Ted Haney went to the Young Life's conference from this dorm. They returned Sunday night from a "very successful conference."

RATHER DO "NOTHIN'" THAN BE THE PRESIDENT; NEW WEEK ASKED

By Pete

If I were running for student body president, I'd be sure to win by just advocating one thing. All the other hopefuls missed the boat on this one, and since I am not up for election, and it is too late for them to steal my baby, here's what I'd have plugged for.

A "No Nothin' Week." Let me explain: We have this week and that week, one for spiritual emphasis, one hi-lighted by a big, expensive banquet, another to clean up the campus. These are all swell, but just consider this.

Think what that would mean! You wouldn't have to skimp and save for a new formal, or put off doing that assignment which should have been in two weeks ago, or worry about making it to that "function" and still get the required four hours of collegiate sleep.

Biggest part of the "No Nothin' Week" would be Thursday when there would be no class meetings, no dues collecting, no fund soliciting drives--just "No Nothin'."

Congress might even investigate us, and a few honorary doctorates could be passed out to the visiting congressmen but that would have to wait until after "no nothin' week" had passed and done a lot.

Why not have a week when all meetings are called off, no social affairs, like $1.75 a plate and $10 orchid banquets are held, and the students can just go to class and then come home to study or rest?

Think what that would mean! You wouldn't have to skimp and save for a new formal, or put off doing that assignment which should have been in two weeks ago, or worry about making it to that "function" and still get the required four hours of collegiate sleep.

WHITS-ZAGS CLASH TOMORROW

DOUBLE-HEADER STARTS ON HOME GROUND AT 1:30

Gonzaga and Whitworth resume their city series tomorrow afternoon when the two diamond squads engage in a scheduled double bill on the Pirate diamond. The first game is due to get underway at 1:30 p. m.

Saturday's opener will be the second meeting between the two clubs this year, the Zags having grabbed the first tilt, 3-0. Five contests in all will be played before the final curtain in May.

Coach Stannard said he is undecided about his pitching choices for tomorrow's games, but indicated that Bill McCord, Joe Gilliam, and Lefty Sam Bass are all ready to hurl.

The infield will open with Nick Faber at first, either Earl Mortlock or Sam Tague at second, Mickey McDougall at short, and Eugene Elias at third.

In the outfield will be Bob Cruzen in left, Don Simonsen, center, and Bill Roffler in right. Pat Clyde will start behind the plate.

CHENEY EASILY TAKES FIRST; WHITS IN LAST

Grabbing first place honors in 13 of 15 events, Eastern Washington easily won the triangular track meet held on the Pirate field Monday. The veteran Cheney cinder men scored a total of 98 2/3 points to more than double Gonzaga's runner-up total of 48 1/6. Whitworth finished last with 15 1/6 markers.

The Pirates gained only one top spot in the meet, and they had to share that. Stan Graham tied with two Savages for first place in the pole vault event, each contestant leveling off at 11 feet.

Fig Newton paced the Whits in individual performance, copping a second in the broad jump and a third in the low hurdles. He also ran a lap in the mile relay, in which the Pirates finished second.

Stan Graham's pole vaulting efforts netted him 3 1/3 points, while John Byrnhil scored three counters in the two hurdle events. Other Pirates reaching the scoring column were Bill McConnell, in the discus; Dick Wales, in the pole vault; and Dave Braucht, who placed in the high jump.

The relay quartet, Fig Newton, Tom Jones, Dick Wales, and Jim Larsen, divided three tallies for second place finish in the last event.

ROCKY TOPS COAST RECORD

Rock Hutchings, Whitworth student and an instructor at the downtown Y.M.C.A., set a coast record in weight-lifting last week when he lifted 235 pounds in the difficult pull-over press event. The previous top weight lifted in this stunt was 222 1/2 pounds.

On the same day Rocky came within five pounds of establishing a new mark in bridge press lifting.

Pirates Ground Air Force Nine

Staving off a last inning rally by the Air Force nine, the Pirates held on to their game-long lead and mipped the soldiers 11 to 8 in a slow contest Tuesday. Played on the local diamond, the tilt was the second straight win for the Whits.

Al Good started on the hill for the winners—the first time out for the tall right-hander this season. He was relieved in the fifth inning after hurling a four hit performance. Lefty Al Mohr took over the pitching chores at this point.

Whitworth opened the scoring in the very first inning when Sammy Tague walked, moved up to second on an out, and scored on Bob Cruzen's circuit blow to left.

Batting around in the second frame, the Pirates iced the contest with a seven run rally. Pat Clyde and Nick Faber each drove a pair across the plate with timely singles.

The losers chopped away at the Pirate lead, tallying twice in the second and adding another pair in the sixth. They broke loose in the final frame with a rash of hits good for four runs, but their uprising fell three runs short.

Mickey McDougall and Eugene Elias, with two hits a piece, topped the Whitworth stickers, while Cruzen's homer was the longest blow of the game.

Pirate Netmen Meet Grizzlies

The Whitworth tennis squad left for Missoula yesterday for a two-day meet with the University of Montana.

The proposed construction of three new tennis courts is a good deal, but it's going to take more than just pledges to see the thing through.

Various ways in which to help promote the building fund have been brought to the attention of this column by a number of individuals. One of the best bets was made by a veteran student who suggested that those who use the present playing area contribute a dime or 15 cents for a turn on the court. This same scholar, whose name will remain anonymous, plays on the average of 3-4 sets a week, and he plans on contributing a nominal fee for each future outing.

The two present courts are not sufficient to accommodate the student body. And at present our Winco home matches must be played on foreign courts because of lack of facilities here. As it has been said, we have the conference champs, but we won't get to see them in action unless the new courts are made a reality. It's up to the students.

Getting along to baseball, the way Bob Cruzen has been pounding the ball lately points to a fruitful season for the Pirate left fielder. At the present his .444 stick mark is about double his early season performance in 1947. And last year Bob was cut down a number of times by the strike-out route. But 1948 is a different story. In nine games thus far Cruzen has whiffed only once in 27 times at bat.

As the season goes on, Mickey McDougall becomes more and more a permanent fixture at short. The peppy infielder has been a mainstay in the Pirate defense to date, and has delivered well at the plate. Mickey can run, hit, and field. Watch him, he'll be playing a lot of ball for the Whits this spring.

L. PATTEN TAKES LONE W.S.C. WIN

The Pirate netmen opened their 1948 season with a 4-1 loss to Washington State in a match at Pullman Friday. Play was cut short when the doubles events were rained out late in the afternoon.

Les Patton, Winco singles champ, saved the Whits from a shutout when he downed the Cougar's Art Evett 6-1 and 6-4 in straight sets. In other singles action John Scottford was cut down 6-2, 6-0, and Wally Moore lost 6-1, 6-2. Dave Barnes was blanketed 6-0, 6-0, while Bob Canfield was defeated, 6-0, 6-3.

LINKS TEAM OPENS SEASON

Golf makes its 1948 debut in Whitworth sports this afternoon when the Pirates meet Gonzaga in a duel on the Indian Canyon course.

Under the direction of Dr. Homer Alder the links team has been holding regular workouts for the past three weeks. Today the squad gets its first real test.

Homer McCardle and Ben Fairchild, who have shown the best performances in practice of late, will lead the team in action today. This is Fairchild's first season with the Whits. McCardle, who was a standout last year, starts his second term with the Pirates.

"LEFTY" S. BASS STOPS LOSSES WITH 6-2 GAME

... Wins Whits' First

The Pirates' baseball team halted a seven game losing streak Saturday when Lefty Sam Bass pitched the Whits to a 6-2 win over Whitman in the finale of a three series at Walla Walla.

In the two previous contests the Missionary nine had turned back the Whits 10-8 and 4-1.

Whiffs Four

Making his first start of the year in the role of pitcher, Bass struck out four and walked two in hurling his mates to their first win of the current campaign. After a shaky start the tall left-hander settled down in mid-game and coasted to a four run win.

Veteran Bill McCord was the victim of the 4-1 loss although the Pirate fireballer gave up but five bingles while Whitworth was collecting seven.

Outfielder Bob Cruzen connected for six safeties, including a double and a triple, to pace the Whits at the plate in the series. Dutch Elias banged out five hits during the three game play.

The short score:

MEN LEAVE FOR SPRING CONCLAVE

EDWARD YATES JOINS FACULTY

Announcement was made this week by Dr. Warren of the addition of Lawrence Edward Yates to the faculty. Mr. Yates will teach philosophy and Greek.

Mr. Yates received his B.A. degree from McGill university, Montreal, B.D. degree from Presbyterian Seminary, Montreal, an M. A. degree from the University of Toronto, and is studying at Princeton where he will receive his Doctor of Theology degree in June.

Many outstanding recommendations have been given for Mr. Yates. Ray Moody, former Whitworth student who is studying at Princeton says, "I had him for a Greek instructor last term. His human approach and fine instinct for teaching took the rough edge off this difficult subject."

Dr. Otto A. Piper, Princeton faculty member has this to say, "He combines in himself high standards of scholarship, a definite Christian outlook, and true educational abilities."

Mr. Yates took an undergraduate major in philosophy. He has taught Greek for six years, and has had graduate work in psychology. He is an ordained Presbyterian minister.

Coming with Mr. Yates to Whitworth will be his wife and baby daughter.

GAVEL WELDERS ATTEND CONFAB

Passengers on an out-bound airplane from Spokane Wednesday afternoon included two delegates from Whitworth to the conference of student body presidents at Arizona State college, Tempe, Ariz. Jerry Mahaffey, the president-elect, was accompanied by Len Watson, incumbent. The conference lasts through Saturday, and the men expect to return Sunday. The student council voted to send these representatives to the meeting.

Watson, who is subject to airsickness, expressed his hope for good flying weather.

WOMEN PLAN LAKE OUTING

"While the men are away, the women will play" is the slogan for the annual AWS picnic to be held tomorrow afternoon at Liberty lake. All women students of the college are invited.

A picnic lunch will be furnished and entertainment will include fishing, softball, and group games. The general chairman of the outing is Georgene Summerson.

The menu will be under the supervision of LaVonne Carter and Marie Barnes. Transportation, location and entertainment are being arranged by Elaine Jenkins, Maxine Johnson, and Miss Summerson.

College Benefactor Dies

In the death of J. P. Graves, April 27, Whitworth college lost one of its best friends and a staunch supporter. The growth and development of Whitworth was one of Mr. Graves' primary interests. He had envisioned and worked for its growth as a great Christian college since his own student days at Carthage college in Illinois.

It was through the generosity of Mr. Graves that Whitworth was brought to Spokane from Tacoma. He gave the college the 100-acre campus and other endowments. He was an active member of the board of trustees until his death.

Many present improvements on the campus are a direct result of his action both in time and money. He took charge of the planting of locust trees and hawthornes, and the landscaping between Ballard Hall and the gymnasium.

Jay P. Graves Gymnasium was named in his honor when built in 1941, as a tribute to his hard work and unselfish efforts in devoting himself to the betterment of the college.

BAKERY GIVES COLLEGE GIFT REPRODUCTIONS OF DOCUMENT

A number of full size lithographic reproductions of the Declaration of Independence, the work of Czech-born Theodore W. Olman, were recently presented to the college as a gift of the Silver Loaf Baking Co., of which Mr. L. L. Francis is president.

Learns of Tragedy

Mr. Olman first learned the trade of cartography in his native Bohemia, and years later, when he had become a citizen of this country, he visited the Library of Congress to see the document which had fired his imagination for so many years. However he discovered it had been irreparably damaged in 1823 when 200 copper plate facsimiles were ordered made from it.

Original Damaged

During the transfer of the original document to copper plate, most of the signatures and some of the original script peeled off, leaving the original damaged.

Delicate Work

Olman, working from one of the facsimiles and an old negative,

TREE LURES TRAIL BLAZERS

Blazing and marking of the well-worn trail to Whitworth Tree will be made by the I.K.'s soon. Recognizing the need for landscaping and cleaning around the area, the club has taken the responsibility of improving the attractive site.

For those in doubt (if any) as to the tree's location, signs will be erected leading the way. Besides cleaning the area up, grass will be planted in the immediate vicinity of the tree.

A committee of I.K.'s has been surveying the situation nightly. It has been reliably stated by an unimpeachable source that the committee has doubled in size since its appointment.

FAN LAKE CONFERENCE TO START SERVICES THIS EVENING

The exodus of men from the campus this afternoon isn't so disastrous, girls—they'll be back. Now you just stop crying and listen to me.

You see, they're going up to Fan lake for their three-day men's conference. You had your turn last fall, remember? I know, there'll be about 120 of them gone, but couldn't you spare them for just three days? Please!

W Club Sponsors

This year's Men's conference will convene at the YMCA's Camp Reed at Fan lake in one of the highlights of the religious activities of the campus during the year. Sponsored by the "W" club, the gathering will be addressed by Dr. L. David Cowie of University Presbyterian church of Seattle—one of the Northwest's outstanding youth leaders. Dr. Cowie will also direct a discussion group on Saturday.

The recreation program, with Dave Holmes in charge, will include the annual softball game between the "W" club and a team selected from among the other men students. Boating, hiking, riding, tennis and swimming (brrrr!) facilities are also available.

Fergie to Cook

Will there be food? Dave Barnes and Lavern Brassard are arranging for it, and Mrs. Ferguson will cook it.

Sam Tague is directing the extraction of three dollars from the wallet of each man expecting to attend. This amount covers food, transportation and lodging. The men are advised to bring their own bed roll.

General chairman is Tom Summerson, and Dick Carr is program chairman. Several musical numbers have been arranged, and a student seminar will be directed by "Hoppy" Fraser.

The reality of the Christian life and its evidences will be stressed in the conference, the theme of which is "I Am the Way."

Dr. Charles Koehler, faculty member, will bring the Sunday morning message.

Mothers Honored At Annual AWS Tea

Mothers of Whitworth women will be honored at the annual mother-daughter tea, to be held May 15, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Fine Arts building.

Mary Leavens, general chairman of the tea, reports that many guests are expected to attend.

Students Appear In Music Conclave

Eight Whitworth students, as well as the a cappella choir, will appear in the greater Spokane Music Festival being held this week.

The music festival will be climaxed Tuesday night by a Spokane Philharmonic orchestra concert.

Coronation of the queen will be conducted by Len Watson, past ASWC president. She will be crowned with a white floral headpiece. In traditional manner she

Train Bearers

Being initiated into traditional Whitworth rites during May Day ceremonies will be Lorena and Marile Baker, daughters of L. G. Baker, train bearers for the Queen. Little Miss Elaine Smith, daughter of Gene Smith, flower bearer, and Tommy Watson, son of Len Watson, who will be crown bearer.

Draft Law Questioned

Once again the politically-minded patriots have an issue to stir the American public. Playing on the post-war fears of the nation they are seeking to pass a new draft law under the guise of national security. As it happened during the war years, the draft will take the cream of youth who are embarking on the period of life which is the foundation for their living in years to come. Militarists are building up a mass hysteria to back the plan. They have evidently contacted every lobbying group in Washington to aid them in their scheme. High minded military leaders plead for a draft law, and as a secondary procedure, they ask for fantastic millions and billions of dollars to use as military expenditures.

We question their motives. Why not find out from the young men of America why they aren't enlisting in mass numbers? Why isn't there a concerted effort towards the lasting peace which has been fought for in two world wars? Why can't the money which would be needed for military training be devoted to aiding the world in its quest for peace?

Perhaps the blood that flowed at Tarawa, the broken bodies at Anzio, and the calls of the mortally wounded in battles all over the world haven't penetrated the dense fog that surrounds Washington, but if they do they will not be calling for another draft law. Those voices will call for peace, and the peaceful way of life that symbolizes America.—W. F. S.

Dr. Isle Says . . .

"America, since World War II, has changed from being the advanced guard of liberalism to being an exponent of conservatism and reaction.

"We have ceased to be the champion of the oppressed and have become instead the defender of the privileged."

These are not the words of some crack-pot, soap box screamer. They carry weight because they contain truth. They were made by Dr. Walter Isle, president of E. W. C. E. at nearby Cheney.

Read his words again. Think about them — then ask yourself: "What part have I played in this change?"

How hard it is for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! Mark 10:24.

The baking company has distributed over 3,000 copies of the reproduction through schools and young peoples organizations in the county.

Alpha Beta Banquet Will Initiate, May 8

Three senior members of Alpha Beta, Dorothy Funk, Hazel Granger, and Dorothea Bartels, will be initiated into the national Home Economics association at the Alpha Beta Banquet, May 8 at Elizabeth Ann's in Country Homes. The program for the evening will also include the annual installation of new officers for the coming year, a reading by Nadine Lampkin, and Mrs. Wartes speaking on "The Fun of Being a Homemaker."

The banquet is for home economics majors and their friends.

Queen Marjorie I

The theme of the celebration, "The Magic That Is May," will begin with the ancient May Pole rites by Whitworth grade school fourth grade students.

The program will continue with a musical selection by a trio composed of Fay Eilers, Joy Taylor, and Shirley Gilson. This will be followed by a short dramatic fantasy.

Popular George Stout and Marjorie Scott will sing a duet preceding the lilac ring through which engaged couples will pass. They will sing "Sweethearts" during the ceremony.

The program will conclude with the recessional. Immediately afterwards the queen will plant a small flowering bush on the campus. This is a new feature of May Day, and one which the Associated Women Students hope will become traditional.

For the first time since its inception, May Day festivities will be held under the direction of the AWS. General chairman of the affair is Dorothy Leavens.

Assisting her in preparations are Shirley Freeburn, program; Mary Nutwell, decorations; Marie Barnes, publicity; Carol Berg, hospitality; (Carol will provide escorts for the visiting princesses, and former queens.) Marian Venn, refreshments; Barbara Wilson, procession; Barbara Deemy, programs; Dorothy Mullen, flowers; Esther Gray, usherettes; Amber Oaks, May Pole; Viola Goodale, lilac ring.

The Inter-Collegiate Knights, under the leadership of Duke Jerry Wilson, will have charge of stage, traffic, seating, props, and the public address system.

WHITWORTHIAN GIVEN AWARDS

The Whitworthian is first place winner in its division in a contest sponsored by the Oregon Journal. Seeking to promote better journalism in colleges throughout the Northwest, the Journal invited schools participating in the Pacific Northwest College congress to enter their newspapers in the contest.

The contest was judged on the basis of general coverage, editorial content, and relation of the news to other campus events. Entries were divided into dailies, weeklies, and those less frequently published.

Prizes include a plaque for the school, a plaque to Fred Peterson, executive editor, and a plaque to William Sauve, designated as the person contributing the most towards the winning newspaper. Sauve attended the congress as press representative for the Whitworthian.

Art Litscher wrote the editorial on P.N.C.C. which appeared in the prize winning issue.

PROFS AREN'T UN-AMERICAN SAYS THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT HEAD

Representative Albert Canwell's un-American Activities committee which is looking into reported Red activities at the University of Washington drew condemnation from a Whitworth faculty member recently.

"The professors there are no more un-American than I am," said Dr. V. C. Christianson.

Dr. Christianson is head of the English department here. He took his doctorate at the state university and in the fall of 1946 came to the college to head his present department.

Speaker Lauds Galilean Accent

"The Galilean accent, I suppose, is what we need today more than any other thing," Dr. Maxson said in a chapel address recently.

He reminded that men can hide their character, but that they cannot enter into a conversation without revealing their interests and their ideals. Emphasizing the importance of ideals, Dr. Maxson stated, "What we think about people and what we think about God determines our actions."

The speaker pointed out that personalism is the philosophy which underlies the counseling and educational program at Whitworth. This philosophy views man as a dualistic force, having both human and immortal qualities. Dr. Maxson pointed out that instead of recognizing their immortal qualities many men live as though there were no God.

Electees Get Keys At SWC Meeting

Newly-elected officers of the Associated Students of Whitworth college and the new student council members were introduced to the student body in an installation ceremony April 29. Gold keys were presented to each of the outgoing ASWC officers by Len Watson, retiring president, and a key was tendered to Watson by Jerry Mahaffey, who succeeds him.

Each of the new officers was introduced by the one whom he succeeds. Mary Leavens, secretary, was presented by Lois McConnell; Jack La Rose, treasurer, by La Vern Brassard; Al Christensen, vice president, by Bob Bradburn, and Mahaffey by Watson.

Student council representatives were Clyde Matters, Norm Dorpat, Al Good; Bill Roffler and Phil Strawn. This year's May Queen-elect, Marge Haas, "took a bow."

The incoming officers were challenged by Dr. Merton D. Munn.

The "Student Executive" keys presented have the Whitworth seal on the face, and on the back the initials of the recipient are engraved. The office which he held, and the year in which he held it, are also designated.

Last Sunday brief memorial services were held by Dr. Warren before a small group of close friends and relatives. Following the services in the president's offices, the ashes of Mr. Graves were taken to a far slope of the campus. Here, overlooking Waikiki, the estate which he built on the Little Spokane, and near the wooded campus which he loved so well, his ashes were scattered.

Commenting on his last visit with Mr. Graves, Dr. Warren stated, "When I visited him in Pasadena during his last illness, he made a comment which has been in the minds of many great men. It was his belief that the world should be better off because of every man's life. He expressed doubt that he had achieved his ambition, but I told him that Whitworth would remain a monument to him for generations to come as it trained leaders of men and sent them into the world.

"Whitworth was his contribution to the community, made entirely outside his efforts to build his own livelihood."

Night Train

It sped along
Close to the ground
A moving streak of light
With human cargo as its freight.
But, even as I watched,
It disappeared
Into the night from where it came;
And all that told me it had passed,
Was the ribbon of smoke
Suspended in the starlit sky.

WOMEN'S WORLD

By Babs

It's spring, when every girl's fancy turns to thoughts of bright print dresses and peasant blouses and skirts. Whitworth women are no exception — they've been appearing in some very attractive spring clothes.

We sympathize with Megs Thoming—she got so discouraged with her shorthand the other day that she went downtown and bought herself a new dress!

Westminster women spent a recent Saturday beautifying their back yard. When the flowers they planted start blooming along the white-rock bordered path they made, it will be a pretty place.

Vi Stueckle's brother lent her that smooth '48 Chev' she's been driving around. Wish we had a brother like that!

Doris Berks and Eddie Kienholz were married in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho last week.

Mary Leavens wears her scarf collection around her waist—one at a time of course—and it's very effective looking.

Nowadays, when you see someone's slip showing, you never know whether to say "Your slip shows," or "Ohh, how pretty!"

Peggy Ridsdale, Marilyn Spence and Joan Thompson greeted one of the first sunny days in just-alike striped cotton dresses. Just alike except for the colors, that is, which are in different combinations.

Bev Cox is teaching her roommate, Gerry Knobel, how to play badminton. They tried it for the first time the other night and Gerry is coming along very nicely.

If you're tired of the color of your glasses rims, hurry down to Westminster Wing. They'll fix you up with red, green, blue, or black nail polish—a shade for every outfit!

Testing Program Deadline May 13

Announcement is made by Dr. Maxson that the last day of testing under the Guidance program will be May 13. No new applications for testing during the Spring quarter will be accepted after that date. He has asked all students who have applied for testing, but who haven't completed the program of testing to do so as soon as possible.

BRECKENRIDGE CHOSEN TO BE N-W DELEGATE

Eugene H. Breckenridge, graduate student in education, has been chosen as a lay-delegate to the 33rd general conference of the African Methodist-Episcopal church.

He will represent the Puget sound conference, which comprises Washington, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia.

Date of the conference has been set May 4-15 in Kansas City, Kan.

The church has a membership of well over one million, and it is expected that 1,900 delegates will attend from all parts of the world.

SPEAKERS COP SWEEPSTAKES

"Consistently good in all fields" was the tribute paid to the Whitworth college speech team by Professor Ralph McGinnis, in awarding the Whitworth team the Sweepstakes trophy at the Northwest Intercollegiate invitational speech tournament. The tournament was held at Montana State university, at Missoula, April 23 and 24 with the top teams of 24 colleges and universities from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Utah participating.

Enter Four Fields

The Whitworth speech team won the sweepstakes trophy by placing at least once in debate, literary interpretation, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking, which were the four fields of contest represented at the tournament.

A total of twenty-two points were received by the Whitworth speakers with Brigham Young university, its nearest competitor receiving eighteen points for second place honors.

The Whitworth speech teams, under the direction of Prof. Loyd B. Waltz, have placed high in all major speech tournaments in the northwest during the present school year.

Spring Play Set

"Charley's Aunt" is coming to the campus. "Charley's Aunt" is a three-act comedy written by Brandon Thomas, prominent playwright. The first performance will be given May 15 at 8:15 p.m. in the Speech auditorium, and is for town students and campus visitors. Repeat performances will be presented May 21 and 22 for dorm students.

Vern Tucker, "no ordinary lady," has the lead as Charley's aunt, and is supported by a cast which includes Dick Terry and Keith Orson as roommates at St. Old's college in Oxford, England. Joan Leavers and Deedie Marcus play the parts of the girl-friends of the two college men, and Jim Hardy is a butler.

Other cast members include Dick Cole, Ben Fairchild, Milton DeArmond, Jan Reece, and Donna Anderson.

SON BORN

Born, to freshman student Joseph A. Cardarelli and wife Glenda, a boy, Michael, May 4 at the Deaconess hospital where Mr. Cardarelli works as an attendant after college hours. The future Whitworthian weighed 7 pounds and 4 ounces.

Language Head To Take Position At Tacoma School

Prof. Otto G. Bachimont, head of the department of modern languages, has accepted a position in the German department of the College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, it was announced today by President Warren.

This change in positions will afford Professor Bachimont an opportunity to complete work for a doctorate at the University of Washington.

Mr. Bachimont, who holds degrees from Wartburg college, and the State University of Iowa, has been a faculty member of Whitworth college for 12 years. Mrs. Bachimont has also taught languages at Whitworth.

"Professor Bachimont has given splendid service for a long time here at Whitworth, and we are extremely sorry to have him leave," commented President Warren.

Betty A. Douglass Presents Recital

Betty Ann Douglass, '47, mezzo soprano, will be presented in a song recital May 18, 8:15 p. m., in the Women's club for the World Association of Mothers for Peace, Inc.

J. MAHAFFEY ELECTED PREXY

Although election results have been known for some time, a complete roster of the Associated Student Body officers has not been published.

Jerry Mahaffey, president, edged L. G. Baker by a small margin. Al Christensen took a commanding lead over the other vice presidential candidates.

Only woman member of the council elected thus far is Mary Leavens, secretary. Jack La Rose took over the duties of treasurer.

Five men were elected to council membership. Bill Roffler, Phil Strawn, Clyde Matters, Al Good and Norman Dorpat led the field of twelve candidates.

Bill Sauve was the only candidate for executive editor, securing a unanimous ballot.

Mel Taylor Presents Senior Speech Recital

Mel Bovee Taylor will be presented in her senior speech recital May 14 in the speech auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

The program will be divided into four groups.

Viola Goodale, accompanied by Joan Larson, will sing several solos. Following the program there will be a reception. The public, as well as all Whitworth students, is invited to attend.

Queen to Float In Lilac Parade

The Inter-Collegiate Knights are continuing their program of school service during this quarter. Duke Jerry Wilson announced the I.K.'s will build a float for the Spokane Lilac Festival parade next Friday. The float will display Whitworth in prominent letters, and will feature Marjory Haas, May Queen.

The club will have a major share of May Day activities. I.K.'s will have charge of seating, stage-work, and parking. They will be working in co-operation with the planning committee.

(For news of a proposed I.K. sports award see the sports section.)

Future Students

Of interest to Whitworthians are the announcements of future Whitworth prospects. Looking ahead to the class of 1968 we have:

A girl, born April 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blumhagen.
A boy, born May 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Woods, in Yakima.
A boy, born May 4, to Mr. and Mrs. William Bacon, St. Charles, Missouri.

Dr. Ashton is the brother-in-law of President Warren.

Speech Translated

Senor Coffin is the moderator of the Presbyterian church in Mexico, and because he speaks no English, his message will be translated by Norman Taylor.

When Senor Coffin arrives on the campus he will carry the honorary D.D. after his name, President Warren said. "At the General Assembly of the church in Seattle this month the college is bestowing the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity on this distinguished leader."

It will be the first time in the history of the college that an honorary degree has been given to one not holding American citizenship.

The Rev. Mr. McConkey is the pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Seattle. His church will be the host church to the general assembly to be held there. It is the fourth largest church in its denomination.

PIRATES DROP SECOND GAME TO SAVAGES; ONE RUN MARGIN

Eastern Washington handed Whitworth its second straight conference loss Wednesday, winning another close one by a 3 to 2 score. The Savages had turned back the Whits by a one run margin, 4-3, in the league opener.

Bill McCord went the route for the losers, giving up three earned runs while being nicked for seven hits. He struck out four and walked one in suffering his first Winco loss of the new campaign.

The Savages started the scoring in the second inning when a single by Don Cobb and Bud Thrapp's double brought in the first run of the day.

Whitworth scored both of its tallies in the fifth. Nick Faber walked and Mickey McDougall reached first on an error. After McCord sacrificed the runners along, Dutch Elias put the Whits ahead, 2-1, on a single to left which scored Faber and McDougall.

Eastern came back in its half of the frame for a pair of runs and the ball game. Tom Tyrrell's single with the bases loaded to chase Thrapp and Stine across the plate with the tying and winning runs. Both teams were held scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

Dutch Elias and Mickey McDougall were the Pirate heavy hitters, each collecting a pair of singles for the day's effort. Bud Thrapp, who pitched the Savages to a 4-3 verdict over the Whits last week, scored one run and drove in another to bring about the Pirate defeat in this game.

The short score:

PATTEN SAVES PIRATE SHUTOUT

After having meets with Gonzaga and Eastern rained out, the Pirate tennis squad finally got to open its league play in a meet with Central, but the Whits dropped six of the matches in suffering a 6-1 loss. The Winco champs were able to salvage one singles triumph on the strength of Les Patten's fourth straight win.

Another league match is scheduled for Tuesday, with Eastern furnishing the opposition.

Baseball Today

Whitworth and North Idaho square off in a twin bill on the local diamond this afternoon. Today's games will mark the only appearance of the Logger nine on the Pirate field this season. Another pair of contests are slated for play at Lewiston later this month. Coach Stannard said that he would start Ted Hussey, fastball right-hander, in the first tilt, with either Al Mohr or Earl Danielson to get the nod for the second fray.

The opening game is due to get underway at 1:30 p.m.

REMPEL HEADS GRID SEASON

The athletic board announced Wednesday that Aron Rempel has been appointed head football coach for the coming grid season. The move was made to alleviate Jerry Stannard of a heavy coach burden. Since coming to the college in 1934 Stannard has coached at least three sports each year.

A graduate of the College of Pacific, Rempel came to Whitworth last fall for graduate work and to assist in teaching and coaching. Besides lending a helping hand in football, he coached the JV basketball squad to a 10-3 record during the winter, and is now heading the track program.

Football is not new to Rempel. He studied and played under the famous Alonzo Stagg and assisted him during the 1942 season. Rempel was a three-year letterman at COP and in 1941 was given honorable mention as tackle in the all-California Collegiate Conference. He spent four years in the Army as a physical training officer during which time he coached and played on the Tonopah Army air base football team. Before coming to Whitworth Rempel coached football, basketball and baseball at Williams high school in California during the 1946-47 season.

Jerry Stannard will continue as Director of Athletics and will serve as basketball and baseball coach, while Rempel will handle football and track.

In completing his eighth season as football mentor at Whitworth Stannard said, "I am very happy to have Rempel receive this promotion and feel we are very fortunate to add a man of such high calibre to our staff. Having worked with him last fall, I know he can do an excellent job as head football coach."

Stannard, along with Bruce McCullough, will assist Rempel on the gridiron this fall.

Pirates Second In Track Meet

Winning both the mile and two-mile runs, Pirate distance star, Jim Larsen, racked up 10 points in pacing his team to a second place finish in a triangular track meet here Saturday. The final tally favored Whitman with 89 counters, while the Whits claimed runner-up spot with 53½. North Idaho, the third entry in the meet, was last with an afternoon's total of 19½.

The victorious Missionaries took 12 first places and tied with the Pirates for another. Whitworth grabbed three undisputed firsts and placed in all of the events except the javelin. North Idaho failed to score higher than a second in any performance.

Larsen easily breezed through the mile, finishing 30 yards ahead of his nearest rival. After a short rest the sophomore ace came back for the two-mile test. He held a commanding lead at the end of the first lap and then went on to run away from the rest of the pack.

Whitworth nearly made a sweep of the broad jump. Fig Newton took top honors with a leap of 20' 11", and Tom Jones and John Brynhi pressed him with third and fourth place efforts.

Stan Graham tied for first in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 11 feet.

Take a Rain Check

A conference double header between Whitworth and Central Washington, scheduled for last Saturday at Ellensburg, was rained out. A new date for these games will be announced next week.

FTA CHARTER GRANTED WED.

Dr. Munn presented the charter of the Whitworth Future Teacher's Association to President John Christianson last Wednesday during a program attended by 50 club members. He acted on behalf of the National Education Association.

Featured as speaker on the program was Mr. John Shaw, superintendent of the Spokane city schools. Mr. Shaw gave a bird's eye view of the building program and salary schedules in Spokane schools.

MEN TO TAKE NASON HALL

Men students will take over Nason Hall when the Fall quarter begins. This announcement was made by Dr. Maxson this week. He said that it is too early to decide to whom residency will be given because of government restrictions regarding the use of Lancaster and Goodsell halls. However, over 30 men applied for admission to the dorm on the pre-registration blanks last week.

No announcement has been made on the appointment of a dorm proctor for Nason.

SAVAGES TAKE WINCO OPENER

Baseball made its 1948 debut in the Winco league circuit, April 27, when Eastern Washington, defending eastern division champs, edged the Pirates 4-3 in a contest played on the Whitworth diamond.

Right-hander Joe Gilliam started on the mound for the Whits. Although he was nicked for nine safeties in the four innings he worked, he issued only one base on balls, but it came with the sacks filled, and forced in the winning run for the visitors. Bill McCord took over with the bases jammed and none out and hurled shutout ball for the rest of the game.

Whitworth started the day's scoring in the first inning. A walk to Earl Mortlock, an infield rap by Bob Cruzen and a pair of Savage errors gave the locals an early 1-0 lead. But this margin was short-lived as Eastern came back to tie the score in the next frame. The Cheney nine moved ahead with a pair of tallies in the fourth and then added their final counter in the fifth.

Successive singles by Bill Roffler, Nick Faber, and Mickey McDougall, and Joe Gilliam's long fly gave the Pirates their second run in the fourth. Whitworth closed the afternoon's scoring in the sixth when Thrapp walked McDougall with the bases loaded to force in Faber.

The Pirates threatened in the last of the ninth. Bob Cruzen lned a long triple to left after two were out, but a lazy fly to center ended the uprising.

The short score.

DEACONESS HOLDS GRADUATION FIFTY NURSES END TRAINING

Congratulations to the fifty graduating senior nurses who this month mark the end of their training at the Deaconess hospital. These nurses all started their training at Whitworth and have continued it at the hospital.

Sunday night Baccalaureate services were held at the Whitworth chapel with Dr. Mark Koehler giving the address. He spoke on the class motto which is "By love, serve one another."

Tuesday night the nurses held their Commencement services at the Central Methodist Church with the Rev. Thomas Atcheson giving the address on "Professions That Matter." The glee club sang two numbers, "The Holy City," and "Lord, Give Us Faith."

During the last two weeks, the nurses have held many senior activities including the junior-senior banquet, teas, picnics and class night.

Heart Specialist Talks to Meds

Forty members of the Whitworth Pre-med club attended a waffle supper Thursday, May 13, in the Science building and heard Dr. R. K. Keene, heart specialist, discuss the human heart and its functions.

A member of the American Heart Association, Keene is constantly searching for new and late developments in heart medicine.

The doctor has donated to the Whitworth biology department a microscope and one of the latest books on the heart, published by the American Heart Association.

Dr. Keene emphasized the fact that Christian living and medicine are inseparable.

A pioneer in the study of the heart, Dr. Keene was one of the first to use an electrocardiograph. By the use of slides and motion pictures he cleared up many false notions concerning the heart, as well as supplied the students with additional and valuable information.

Dr. Keene spent the early part of his life in Minnesota working with his father, first in their sawmill, and later on their farm. According to the doctor, those were difficult years. Their sawmill was destroyed twice, once by Indians. Then came grasshoppers which de-

JUNIOR CLASS WINS FIRST PLACE IN INTER-CLASS SPEECH EVENT

Scoring a total of 15 points, the junior class won first place in the inter-class speech tournament yesterday. Runner up was the senior class with 12 points, followed by the sophomores with 6 and freshmen with 7.

Winners of the first two contests held last Tuesday were Marshall Hodge, junior class, impromptu speaking; and Marilyn Patten, junior class, interpretive reading.

Yesterday's winners were Gene Smith, junior, oratory; and Milton DeArmand, senior, extemporaneous speaking.

Dave Barnes, Bill Gwinn, and Ben Fairchild represented their classes in impromptu. Nadine Lamkin, Bunny Gwinn and Marilyn Nelson entered interpretive reading. Ruth Jaqua, Graley Taylor, and Irving Elder were contestants in the field of oratory, and Bill Ainley, Bob Shrieve and Kenny Gamble entered extemporaneous speaking.

First place winners are to be awarded a gold cup from the speech department.

General chairman for the event was L. G. Baker, who engineered plans for establishing it as an annual event.

LARSON LEADS PIRETTE GROUP

Newly elected prexy of the Pirette honorary organization is Jo Ann Larson. Marg Scott is the new vice president; Viola Goodale, secretary and Maxine Johnson, treasurer.

This year the Pirettes held two special breakfasts, their regular initiation and also enjoyed several meetings at homes of members.

BAKER, CARR, TAKE TOP SPOTS CHRISTENSEN, FREEBURN IN TOO OTHER CLASSES NAME OFFICERS

L. G. Baker, former Junior class president, has been elected by the Junior class to succeed himself at president of the Senior class next year. Other officers of the incoming Senior class are Dick Carr, vice president; Jim Larsen, treasurer; Junita Christensen, secretary; and Shirley Freeburn, social chairman.

Junior class president for 1948-49 will be Dick Terry. Other officers are Joan Leavers, vice president; Bev McMorrin, secretary;

Charley's Aunt Promises Laughs

Unusually effective character interpretation characterized Whitworth's initial production of "Charley's Aunt" last Saturday evening. Comic lead Vern Tucker drew merriment and applause through use of facial expressions as well as speaking the witty lines of playwright Brandon Thomas. Tucker must also be complimented for his unusual stage composure.

James Hardie also won special commendation for presentation of the character Brasset. Leading feminine roles were taken by Joan Leavers and Nearine Marcus. Supporting roles were filled by Richard Terry, Keith Onsum, Ben Fairchild, Milton DeArmand, Richard Cole, Jan Reece and Donna Anderson.

Outstanding in the supporting roles was Milton DeArmand, cast as Stephen Spettigue. He gave a well portrayed contrast of a comedy character and the everyday Mill.

The three-act play is particularly adapted to college audiences and to the difficult staging of penthouse production. The stage was centered in the room and the capacity audience occupied raised platform seats around the stage. Effective stage settings were achieved by William Sauve and his committee.

Considerable credit for the success is due Professor L. B. Waltz, director, and his assistant, Mel Taylor.

Performances of Charley's Aunt will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the speech auditorium. Tickets must be secured in advance.

McConkey to Give Baccalaureate Talk

Dr. F. Paul McConkey, pastor of 1st Presbyterian Church, Seattle, will give the baccalaureate sermon on the subject, "The Great Adventure." Baccalaureate services this year will be held Sunday evening, June 13, in First Presbyterian Church, Spokane.

Hears Ad Expert Tell How to Sell

Representing Whitworth, Prof. A. O. Gray attended a meeting of advertisers and retailers sponsored by Cowles Publishing Co., Wednesday, at the Marie Antoinette room of the Davenport hotel. The meeting introduced Will S. Townsend, famous advertising expert from Chicago. He discussed his system for pre-evaluating newspaper ads.

Mr. Townsend will show movies depicting his plan next week and members of the Whitworth journalism classes have been invited.

Baseball Tomorrow

Whitworth and Central Washington meet in a league double header on the local diamond tomorrow. These games will mark the only appearance of the Wildcats on the Pirate field this year. A return double bill has been scheduled for play at Ellensburg next week.

Stannard has not named his starting hurlers for tomorrow's clashes but it is likely that Bill McCord and Joe Gilliam will get the assignments.

The first game is set to start at 1:30 p.m.

TENNIS TO BE PLAYED SOON

'LUM DONATES SEATING WOOD

With but a few details left to finish, the tennis courts are completed.

Construction of the frames for the fence, was finished this week, and work on the bleachers should be finished long before the quarter ends, workmen said.

Lumber for the bleachers, which will be six rows deep and 80 feet long, was donated to the college by an alumnus. They will seat about 240 spectators.

Made of asphalt, the three newly constructed courts will be the finest in the west. WINCO tennis champ Les Patten said that asphalt courts, in his opinion, are the best type of tennis courts, and they are in favor throughout the nation. The older type of concrete court is giving way to the new asphalt court.

No Eye Strain

One of the reasons for this, netters say, is that visibility is increased because of the contrast between the ball and the dark court, thus reducing eye strain. The yellow line markings, which are being painted on by the tennis team, stand out better against the black court than on a light concrete surface.

Bill for Pledges

Financing of the project, which was done on a dollar-matching basis between the board of trustees and the students, is lacking about $75, student body president Len Watson said. Any unpaid pledges will be added to the students tuition bills at the end of this quarter, Watson said, because this had been agreed upon when pledges were signed by the students. Cost was $3000.

Students Decide

Steam to put the drive over the top came when the student body voted not to spend $300 in the treasury for a boat trip up Lake Coeur d'Alene, but apply it instead on the tennis courts.

Ice Skating

Ice skaters are looking forward to next winter when the courts can be flooded and a skating club formed.

High Fences

Back fences for the courts will be 10 feet high, and along the sides slightly lower.

No Lights

Plans to install flood lighting are being shelved for the present, college officials indicated, but student body promoters say that they will begin a drive in the fall to install adequate lighting.

Auf Wiedersehen, Herr Bachimont

Professor Otto G. Bachimont, head of the modern language department, is regarded by his students as what a professor on this or any other campus should be. He will soon be leaving to take up his duties at Puget Sound college.

Before he goes, we want to thank him for his 12 years of service to the ideal that Christianity and education go hand-in-hand.

Professor Bachimont knows the secret of all great teachers. He knows that any subject, no matter how difficult, becomes easy for the student once he comes to like it.

But where this brown-eyed, soft spoken professor departs from others is that he knows just how to arouse that interest in the subject.

Of late the requirement of language has come under attack from all directions, but opponents of language would surrender their position if they could be in this professor's classes.

They might continue to believe that a knowledge of a foreign language may not be of practical use in day-to-day living. But they could not fail to grasp the bigger point that language opens the door to the heart of any nation.

There is a "something" in having a knowledge of any language that gives the pupil an insight into the humanity which at the same time binds and separates nations.

By emphasizing the points of unity, surely a step toward the desired ideal is taken.

Professor Bachimont, with his wife, will be remembered by students past and present for their patient, understanding, and firm guidance which has pointed the hearts of all their students toward this ideal.

Pray without ceasing.—I Thes. 5, v. 17.

Lewis and Clark Choir at Chapel

A large ninety-voice choir from Lewis and Clark high school gave a program during the regular Wednesday chapel hour. Their program consisted of religious, classical and humorous selections. The audience reacted warmly to the two vocal solos, and the program in general. Prof. Anders, in introducing the choir called it "the outstanding high school choir in the Northwest, if not in the entire country," an opinion shared by many following the program.

"SOB SISTERS" OFF TO CLINIC

Girls from the five Spokane high schools met Saturday afternoon with representatives of nearby journalism schools and women journalists in the various fields at a special news clinic in the Spokane Press club. Maxine Johnson represented Whitworth at the clinic. The clinic was sponsored by the Press club and gave prospective women journalists a chance to ask questions and present their problems. Miss Guther of the Spokesman-Review staff was in charge.

MAHAFFEY HAS SNEAK PREVIEW ON "EQUALIZE THE LOAD" PLAN; "ALL CAN WORK," HE SAYS

President-elect of the student body Jerry Mahaffey this week gave a sneak preview of what students can expect from his administration when it takes office officially next fall.

Mahaffey outlined a plan which will put extracurricular activities into a new classification.

Equalize Load
"Our idea," he said, "is to do away with this conception of extracurricular activities. Instead they should be considered as co-curricular. As it is now, a few students are carrying the entire load of college activities, and we want to equalize the load."

He went on to say, "There are many people on the campus who could, and should, be taking part in the varied programs which the student body carries out, but for some reason or other the job seems to fall on the over-worked few who carry the whole load." In part, Mahaffey indicated, this is because some of the talents students have do not come to the attention of class officers and others who plan the social and student affairs of the college.

Plans Cards
Next fall when students register, the ASWC will have a table in the registration line, and students will fill out cards indicating their abilities, likes and dislikes, and their desire to take part in specified activities.

With such a plan, Mahaffey said, it will be possible to know what type of activity any student is interested in, and he can be called upon to work in that field.

ON GUARD EVERYBODY --- THEY'RE COMING AGAIN

No Damp Spirits At May Day Fete

A cool wind and threats of rain from a cloud-covered sky did little to lessen the May Day festivities last Friday. Queen Marjorie Haas reigned from a white dais over the crowd of approximately 250 persons that gathered to watch the afternoon program.

Dorothy Leavens, general chairman, had a well planned program. Lack of many spring flowers was compensated for by the pretty co-eds who took part. Gay pastel formals formed a human floral path with vine-entwined hoops under which the queen and her entourage passed.

Bouquets fashioned by Dorothy Mullen were carried by the queen and her attendants. Flowers were scattered over the path by little Elaine Smith, who emptied her flower basket long before the end of the procession. Together with Lorena and Marile Baker, and Tommy Watson, she literally stole the show during the march to the throne.

Fourth grade girls under the direction of Amber Oakes performed the May pole dance, winding the gold and pink streamers in a latticed design on a white pole.

The program of music and drama provided an even balance for the festivities. Background music by the band under the direction of Nikola Ovanin helped create the Maytime mood.

Put on a pot of Joe, get out the No-Doze tablets, and say a prayer for the fiendish Frankenstein who made out the examination schedule. Exams carry through until the afternoon of commencement day, Monday, June 14, and brother that's not far away! People unlucky enough to have English Composition are gnashing their teeth facing the prospect of having their exams the last day from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m.

Seniors who find they would have a Monday afternoon test will be able (aye, even compelled) to take their exams the previous Wednesday morning.

Oh, yes, regular classes are scheduled to meet until 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 9.

Music Groups Are Given High Praise

More laurels went to the Whitworth music department when five soloists and the a cappella choir participated in the Greater Spokane Music Festival.

Dr. Thirlow Lieurance, of the University of Wichita in Wichita, Kansas, acted as judge and after hearing our choir he commented that of all the fine a cappella choirs in the country that he had heard, ours was one of the few that he wouldn't forget. Dr. Lieurance is the Dean of the college of fine arts at the University.

Whitworth soloists and the ratings they received were: Viola Goodale, Superior; James Dowdy, Excellent; Tommy Thompson, Excellent; Marian Venn, Superior; and Dick Guthrie, Excellent.

A great deal of credit was given to the accompanists, who were Mary Baird, Betty Follett, Joan Larsen and Jean Tanner.

Ovanin's Work Wins Prize; Compositions Heard Here

The first movement of the Second Symphony by Professor Nikola Ovanin won second prize in the K.H.Q. composition contest of the Greater Spokane Music Festival. The judges were Howard Hanson of the Eastman School of Music, the Julliard staff, and Halsey Stevens of the University of Southern California.

Last month, the Spokane Philharmonic performed the "Prelude Moderne," a composition of Professor Ovanin's, which was published for concert band. The Spokane Philharmonic played a symphonic transcription of the work at the last "Pops" concert.

Modern Composing

When Professor Ovanin explained his inspiration in modern composing, he said, "When a composer writes today, he writes because he's musically sensitive, and something inside requires him to write. His sensitivity makes him very much alive to the mechanical and scientific world; he is impressed by the speed of civilization and his compositions reflect the life around him. Because of this, composers of today cannot write like the composers did 100 years ago, when life was more placid and less disturbed.

"The reason we still like to listen to Mozart and Beethoven is because human inertia forces us to hold on to the familiar, and exclude the unfamiliar. The keynote of all life is changed. New things — spiritual, artistic, and utilitarian — will constantly take the place of old and worn-out forms which have outlived their usefulness," he said.

Educational Background

Professor Ovanin holds many degrees, such as B.A., M.A., Hamelin University, St. Paul, Minn.; B.S., Western Reserve University; B.M., Cleveland Institute of Music; graduate work at the University of Michigan, Grinnell, Iowa; research work at Northwestern University and also the Cincinnati Conservatory. "This coming summer," said the Professor, "I am seriously thinking of beginning work for the doctorate."

CLAUSEN WINS F.T.A. POLLING

On May 5 the Future Teachers of America chapter at Whitworth College chose their officers for the 1948-49 school year.

Those elected are, Irene Clausen, president; Howard Mitchell, vice president; Maryon White, secretary; Earl Mortlock, treasurer; Phil Strawn, reporter and Lillian Stokes, librarian. The newly elected officers will formally assume their duties at the next F.T.A. meeting, retiring president John T. Christenson announced.

Mel Taylor Excels In Speech Recital

The speech department featured Mrs. Mary Lois Taylor, senior in speech, in recital Friday, May 14. Mrs. Taylor gave three groups of interpretive readings, including light or humorous sketches, a group of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning poems, and Biblical sketches.

The dialect readings given by Mrs. Taylor were superior both in content and in performance. The classical "Sonnets from the Portuguese," by Browning, and the poems by Mrs. Browning were well portrayed.

Excellent interpretation was given by Mrs. Taylor to the sketches from the life of Christ. Subdued lighting and effective costuming provided a suitable background for the scenes. Background music gave an air of beauty and reality to the latter group.

Miss Viola Goodale gave several vocal selections during the program. Both Miss Goodale and Mrs. Taylor were accompanied by Joann Larson at the piano.

Bouquets of snapdragons and carnations, gift of the Pirettes, were given to Viola and Mel after the program. Guests were received in the dining hall at a reception which followed.—W.F.S.

NINE COUPLES IN LILAC RING

Nine couples carried on the annual May Day tradition this year, and participated in the lilac ring ceremony at the close of the May Day program.

The couples were: Marjorie Scott and Mel Unruh; Dorothy Hone and Glen Ellison; Marilyn James and Laurence Van Hise; Joan Tanner and Tommy Thompson; Jean Landreth and Fred Merrill; Margaret Thoming and Homer Cardle; and Ellen Lochhead and Roy Dimond. The last couple to go through the ring was Vera Fay Wilson and Al Clark, who announced their engagement at that time. Each couple was questioned as to their future plans as they passed through the ring.

Dr. Maxson to Address Graduates

Dr. Maxson will be speaking at three commencement exercises this coming week. Tuesday evening he will address the graduating class at Newport high school. Wednesday morning Dr. Maxson will be commencement speaker for exercises at the North Idaho Junior College in Coeur d'Alene. Thursday evening he will travel to Reardan to address graduating seniors.

MOTHERS TEA HAS RECORD ATTENDANCE

The Mothers' Tea, under the direction of Mary Leavens, attended by almost 300 mothers and daughters, was the largest tea in the history of Whitworth. In past years the tea has been sponsored by Sefelo, but this year the A.W.S. took it over.

The Fine Arts building was festively decorated with tulips and forsythia. Mrs. Carrel, Mary Leavens and Miriam Petriquin were at the door to receive the guests. At the tea table Mrs. Oakes, Mrs. Warren, Miss Jenkins, Miss Baldwin, Kay Boyle, Mary Anslow, Marge Haas, Marilyn James, Barbara Setters, and Mrs. Sutter were serving.

Miriam Petriquin, president of A.W.S., gave a welcome to everyone, and Mrs. Gwinn responded, representing the mothers. During the two-hour period, Marilyn James and Deedee Marcus gave readings; Marjorie Scott sang two selections, and Joann Larson and Janet Reece played several two-piano numbers. Others who helped were: Dot Leavens, Laurel Fraser, Ruth Toevs, Dorothy Funk, and Clara Belle Hartford.

After graduating from high school, Dr. Keene taught school for two years in Bozeman, Montana, and then attended the University of Minnesota. Here in his second year he played left half-back on the football team until he received an assistantship in the chemistry department.

After medical school Dr. Keene set up a general practice. Upon coming to Spokane, his services were requested by the Prudential Life Insurance Co. as an examiner. It was while serving in this capacity that he became interested in the heart as a field of study and began his great work. Assimilating all the material he could find, he became outstanding as a specialist, making the first diagnosis of a "Fibrillating Auricle" a condition in which the left chamber of the heart tremors. Said Dr. Keene, "Most of the work done on the heart was accomplished after the first world war."

VERSE TELLS ENGAGEMENT

Dolores King announced her engagement to Dick Engen, Seattle, Wash., last Saturday at a surprise luncheon. The main decoration was a large pink crepe paper umbrella hanging from the ceiling with green streamers to each place.

As each girl pulled down her streamer she found a verse of a poem on the end. It wasn't till the last verse was read that the girls learned of the future plans of "Dee and Dick."

Others present were Janet and Patty Young, Joan Leavers, Barbara Gwinn, Ellen Lochhead, Peggy Ridsdale, Joan Thomson, Janie Winter, Colette Slirm, Janet Marion Venn, Betty Follet, and Nadine Lampkin.

In the fall Dick will enter the School of Journalism at Northwestern University. Following their wedding in December, they plan to live in near-by Evanston.

I.K.'s to Elect New Officers

Intercollegiate Knights will ballot Monday at chapel time for new officers, according to Duke Jerry Wilson. Nominations were made at a meeting held last Tuesday. Offices to be filled besides that of Duke, are vice president, secretary or scribe, treasurer, and historian.

Gold pins have been ordered by many members, and some new members have been measured for official sweaters. Latest project of the club was to assist in May Day activities.

'W' CONFERENCE HUGE SUCCESS

Dr. Cowie was great, the food wonderful, and the recreation wet."

This was the account given by 140 men who attended the Tenth Annual Men's Conference at Fan Lake May 7, 8 and 9.

The conference speakers, Dr. L. David Cowie, pastor of the University Presbyterian Church in Seattle, and Dr. Charles Koehler of Spokane, directed their messages along the theme "Christ The Way." "The inspiration and challenge received from these men will be remembered at Whitworth for some time to come," stated Dr. Mark Kohler, college chaplain.

Many expressed the feeling that Dr. Cowie offered solutions not only to some of Whitworth's problems, but also to the individual needs of each person. The coined expression of the entire conference, emphasized many times by Dr. Cowie, was that "we must get off the dime for Christ."

Fan Lake, a YMCA camp, is situated 30 miles north of Spokane, and offers excellent recreational facilities for fishing, softball, horseshoes, and boating (especially war canoeing).

The success of the conference was due to the planning of the "W" Club's Conference Committee, which included Tom Summermon, general chairman; Dick Carr, Program; Sam Tague and Larry Baskett, promotional; Dave Barnes and LaVern Brassard, food; Dave Holmes, recreation; and Les Patton, transportation. Mrs. Ferguson was conference cook.

WHIT HOMERS BEAT EASTERN: 5-4

McCORD TWIRLS FIRST WIN; SIMONSON, CRUZEN, CLYDE HIT

By Walt Dawson

A home run by Pat Clyde with two runners aboard in the eighth inning gave the Pirates a 5-4 victory over Eastern Washington Wednesday afternoon. The win was the Whit's first in league competition and moved them into second place in the Winco race, a half a game over the idle Central Washington nine.

Bob Cruzen, making his first mound appearance of the year, started on the hill for the Pirates and pitched three innings before Bill McCord relieved him. The Savages reached McCord for a walk and two singles, good for a pair of runs in the fourth, and then the veteran right-hander pitched no-hit, no-run ball for the remainder of the game, retiring 17 men in succession.

Whitworth opened the day's scoring in the first inning on a double by Cruzen and an infield error. After Eastern came back to tie the score at one-all in the second, Don Simonson put the winners out in front once again with a long home run to right center.

Simonson Snags One

In the third the Savages again knotted the count with a single tally. They had the bases loaded with two out when Gene Burke drove a liner to deep center which Simonson snagged one-handed on the dead run with his back to the infield.

The visitors pushed ahead in the fourth and held a 4-2 lead until the eighth when an infield error, which allowed Tom Patten to reach first and Bob Cruzen's single set the stage for Clyde's game-winning blow.

Bob Cruzen's three hits in four trips and Earl Mortlock's two-for-three paced the Whitworth stickers, while Simonson's and Clyde's homers were the longest blows of the game.

In chalking up his first victory of the current campaign, McCord struck out five and walked but one. Cruzen issued a trio of passes and fanned one in the three innings he worked.

Pirate Golfers Beat Cheney 9-6

In their first league try of the new season, the Pirate golfers turned back Eastern Washington 9-6 in an 18-hole match at Indian Canyon. Jerry Wilson, firing in the number four position, swept all three points from his opponent to pace the Whit victory.

The scoring:

CRUZEN ON TOP WITH .388 B.A.

Bob Cruzen still retains the Pirate batting leadership which he has held all season, claiming a .388 mark for 20 games. But the rangy outfielder is being pressed by Sammy Tague, whose rash of base hits has boosted his average to .385, moving him within three percentage points of the top spot. Veteran Earl Mortlock is third among the Pirate regulars with a .302 record. Off to a slow start this spring, the little infielder has found the range of late and has been clouting over .500 in the last six games.

Besides topping the hitters Cruzen leads the team in runs scored with 14 and hits with 26.

Following are the averages of those batting .200 and over as of Tuesday, May 18:

Newton Carries Top Track Points

Pirate cinder star Fig Newton continues to show the way in individual track performances, having scored a total of 21½ points in three intercollegiate track meets to date. Newton has grabbed two firsts in the broad jump and has shared in a single relay win. Second place efforts in the 220 have helped boost his total over the 20-point mark.

Runner up in scoring is Jim Larsen, the Whits' long distance pacer. A pair of wins in the two-mile and a victory in the mile have set the tempo for Larsen's 16½ tallies.

Stan Graham's 14 1/3 counters are good for third spot. Undefeated in the pole vault this spring, Graham has racked up three straight wins, although he has had to share top honors on two occasions.

The I.K.'s have proposed the awarding of an inspirational trophy to an outstanding track athlete at the end of this season. This award, which the Knights hope will become an annual presentation, will be comparable to the Snider Inspirational trophy given for football and the Pirette Inspirational trophy given for basketball.

In a way it will be a promotional stunt for track. Although labeled as a major sport, track has always been an anti-climax after basketball, and interest has not always been too keen. A trophy award would add a little polish to the cinder sport.

Another award is in the making; this one for baseball. Members of the Pirates' 1943 basketball team have been approached with the idea of backing an "Al Brown" trophy for presentation to a selected baseball player in memory of the late Al Brown, who as Whitworthians will remember, was killed last fall in a bus accident while driving a group of high school players home from a football game. Al was a starter on the '43 Pirate quintet.

Pirate Patented

Tom Patten played only the last two innings in the second contest against Gonzaga Saturday, but the Bulldogs knew he was in the game. All the speedy outfielder did was bang two singles in as many trips, swipe two bases, the first a steal of home which tied the score, and drive in a pair of tallies to spark a rally that gave the Whits a 6-3 win. Easily the fastest runner on the squad, Patten has had a good year in burning up the base paths.

Track Today

The Pirate cinder team plays host to North Idaho in a dual track meet here this afternoon. Today's go will be the second meeting between the two clubs. In an earlier engagement the Pirates and Loggers finished 2nd-3rd, respectively, behind Whitman in a triangular track meet on the local field. In that action the Whits outscored the Idaho tracksters 53½ to 19½. First event is slated to start at 2:30 p.m.

SAVAGES ARE!! SO IS PATTEN

Eastern gave Whitworth its second straight tennis setback last week, grabbing four out of five singles matches to eek out a 4-3 win. The Whits took both doubles play on the strength of Les Patten, Wally Moore, Dave Barnes and John Scotford.

Les Patten was the only Pirate to win in the singles action. His triumph ran his victory skein to five straight for the season. In another singles go Bill Hiser dropped his first set by a 6-3 score and then came back to work the count to 9-11 before losing the decision.

How the Whits scored:
Singles
Les Patten—6-0, 6-1.
Larry Van Hise—3-6, 4-6.
Bill Gwinn—7-5, 0-6, 6-8.
Bill Hiser—3-6, 9-11.
Doubles
Patten and Moore—8-6, 6-2.
Barnes and Scotford—6-4, 6-1.

MARRIED MEN CLUB-OUT WINS

With two top-sided victories in as many starts, the married men's Ball & Chain softball team has set the pace in the college intramural play.

Behind the effective hurbing of Aron Rempel, the husbands have slugged out a 19-3 win over Lancaster and a 13-7 verdict over the Bushers to claim first place in league race.

The Spiders I team is also in the undefeated bracket, having a 1-0 record as a result of dumping its 5-3 score. In other league action its country cousins—Spider II—by a the Bushers have turned back Mel Unruh's nine 8-7.

NICK FABER TO BE PRESENTED BASEBALL INSPIRATIONAL AWARD

By Walt Dawson

In a secret vote among members of the baseball squad Tuesday afternoon, Nick Faber, popular Whitworth first sacker, was elected by his teammates to be the first recipient of the Al Brown Inspirational Award. The presentation will be made at commencement exercises June 14.

The tall, shining trophy, which was purchased by members of the 1943 basketball team, will be given in the memory of the late Al Brown, who was killed last fall while driving a bus-load of football players home from a high school game. Al was a starter on the Pirate '43 quintet.

After the presentation, the award will be placed in the trophy case and each following year another baseball player will have his name engraved on the trophy standard.

Hits Long Ball

Faber recently completed his second year as the Pirates' first baseman. Although he hit but .230 Nick's long ball clouting drew respect from opposing hurlers. He made his blows count in the pinches, a fact which accounted for his high runs-batted-in total. Another one of the long list of sophomore stars, Faber was considered by many to be the most improved player on the squad.

D.D. Degrees Awarded Brown and Top June 14

On commencement morning, President Warren will confer the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon the Rev. David Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Clarkston and the Rev. Evert Top, minister of the Manito Presbyterian Church of Spokane.

REV. EVERT TOP

Both men have spent many years in the ministry of the church, and have been recommended by the Whitworth faculty and board of trustees

'Lums Banquet

Members of the Alumni association of Whitworth college will gather at the college dining hall June 12 at 6:45 p.m. for their banquet.

Mrs. Jack Brown of Spokane is directing arrangements for the affair.

Dr. Jesse Baird is Elected Moderator

In the most dramatic election of the history of the Presbyterian General Assembly, Dr. Jesse Hays Baird, president of San Francisco Theological Seminary, was elected moderator for the coming year.

Five ballots were taken before the final choice was made, and an excited crowd of over three thousand applauded the new moderator as he approached the speaker's platform. Immediately following his election, Dr. Baird received the official gavel from the retiring moderator, and delivered a short message of acceptance.

Mary and Margaret Baird, Whitworth students, are daughters of the administrator. Margaret, who is a member of the choir, spent some time with her parents, but Mary, also a choir member, was unable to go because of illness.

Dr. Baird's election will necessitate his taking a year's leave of absence from his seminary duties.

FACULTY FETES SENIORS

A record-breaking crowd is expected this year at the annual Senior-Faculty Breakfast, to be held in the Dining Hall, Monday, June 5, at 8:30. Given by the faculty and their wives for the seniors and their husbands and wives, the breakfast will feature an interesting program planned by Miss Evans

Dr. Schlauch, toastmaster, will introduce the five seniors who will give brief talks, a mixed quartet under Mr. Ander's direction, and Helmuth Bekowies, who will sing two selections. Dr. Warren will speak briefly in closing.

Son of Dr. Sun To Enroll Here

Dr. Sun, dean of the Shantung Christian university in Tsinan, China, and recent visitor to Whitworth, said his son Ted would probably enter the school of Journalism at Whitworth next year.

Ted is 18 years old, and attending the Railway high school in Tsinan. This school is non-Christian, operated for children of the railroad staff in co-operation with the university.

Dr. Sun spoke to a number of people interested in work in China. He related the problems and difficulties in China, and told how people who are interested could find teaching positions or work in the missionary field there.

"Regretably," he said, "a Ph.D. is more or less of a union card nowadays, making it desirable for educators who wish to work in China to possess that degree, although there is a place for those with bachelor or master degrees."

FRENZY! EXAMS!! FROLIC!!!

CHURCHES IN RURAL MEXICO

The Rev. Dr. Jose Coffin, recent recipient of an honorary degree from Whitworth, who spoke at Senior Investiture today, has spent almost a half century ministering to rural congregations in various parts of his native Mexico.

JOSE COFFIN, D.D.

It was this leadership which prompted the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of Mexico to elect him its first moderator.

Dr. Coffin, born on a ranch in Tabasco, was the son of a Confederate soldier from Covington, Ky., who refused to accept defeat in the Civil War and emigrated to Mexico with friends.

Dr. Coffin's maternal grandfather, Captain Antonio Sanchez, was in the Mexican army during the Mexican-American war. He was converted just before the middle of the 19th century and his ranch at Tabasco became the center of evangelical work. When Dr. Coffin's father reached Tabasco, he soon heard of Captain Sanchez; he visited the ranch and later married the captain's daughter.

When Dr. Coffin was 14, he began to study for the ministry under the guidance of one of the veteran ministers, the Rev. E. N. Granados, and soon began to preach. At 15 he was placed in charge of the church at Rancho La Asuncion and the work of the surrounding district. Later he attended the Presbyterian school at Coyoacan and the seminary there. Upon graduation in 1900, he began his rural service which he has continued to this day. He refused many calls to city churches since he felt a special call to work among the rural people.

When Revolution broke out in 1910 he was in Tabasco and immediately organized a Red Cross unit there. So acceptable was the service of this group that it ministered to both the Federal and the Revolutionary forces.

During 1926 to 1938 when the state of Tabasco went Red and the governor closed all Protestant and Catholic churches, Coffin made his home in Chiapas, but periodically visited the harassed Christians in Tabasco. For a great part of this period the Christians worshipped in hiding and were the object of persecution on the part of the Secret

"Last Days" Schedule Lists Many Events; Parties Held

In addition to feverish preparation for final exams, the remainder of the spring quarter will be packed, with activities, not only for graduating seniors, but also for all students and faculty.

President Honors Seniors at Reception

Graduating seniors will be honored at the annual President's reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Warren Sunday, June 13, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m.

Parents and other friends of the college, as well as students, are invited to attend. The reception will be held on the lawn if the weather is pleasant.

"The Great Adventure" is Baccalaureate Talk

On June 13 at 8:00 p.m., baccalaureate services will be observed for the Senior Class of '48 in the First Presbyterian Church. The baccalaureate sermon, "The Great Adventure," will be delivered by F. Paul McConkey, D.D., who is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Seattle.

F. PAUL McCONKEY, D.D.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Anders, will present two selections; "Jesu, Priceless Treasure," by Cruger-Beah, and "Send Forth Thy Spirit," by Schuetky.

Baccalaureate will be one of the highlights of the year and everyone is cordially invited to attend the services for the 98 graduating class members, who will receive diplomas and degrees at Commencement on June 14.

98 to Receive Degrees June 14

Ninety eight degrees will be awarded as the largest group of graduates in Whitworth history to receive their diplomas at commencement exercises Monday, June 14.

Miss Velma Clausen will graduate Magna Cum Laude. She is a Social Science major, and English minor.

Eleven persons will be granted their degrees Cum Laude. Included in this group are Carol Berg, Nolan Brunton, Margery Haas, Howard Lehn, John Peterson, Edward Underhill, Maria Wolff, Lewis Bock, Mary Ito, Anna Jantzen, and Norma Jean Reames. Masters degrees will be given to Miss Janet Smith, and Mr. Dewey Mulholland.

Phew!

The aroma of oven-browned roast and fresh rolls is not the only smell that seeps from the dining hall. There is a stench far more pungent that floats over the campus with the prevailing winds. We refer of course to the nauseating odor of decay or garbage that permeates the atmosphere. It is not conducive to good eating. It is hardly the proper smell to mingle with the pine and lilac on campus. Furthermore, it most certainly is not a good advertisement for the Whitworth dining hall.

The problem is not one of recent development. It has been with us for some time. In our opinion, it is needless and shameful. As far as eating morale goes, it is a minor crime.

What is the cause of the stench? Perhaps a committee is needed to study the cause. We think the cause stems basically from unsanitary disposal facilities for waste material. If the garbage cans are to blame, we say clean them up. If the traps in the sinks are to blame, clean them up. If there is some other cause, let's find it out and clean that up.

Mere words will not alleviate the situation. We would like to see immediate action. That stench has no place on Whitworth campus. Let's get rid of it now!

Recruiting Office Open

On sale on newsstands over the nation is the latest edition of "Varsity" which carries a significant report on college newspapers by Armand Schwab, Jr. Varsity takes this opportunity to commend a handful of progressive college newspapers and also recommends work on the college newspaper as a means to "learn to get along with an assorted bunch of people."

"... collegiate journalism has shown itself to possess tremendous real and potential vitality. On the whole, it is the healthiest, liveliest and hardest thinking element in college life today — and its undergraduate editors include, as in the past, some of the most talented young men and women in the country."

In this respect, Varsity agrees with what we have always believed. The student who joins the newspaper staff receives invaluable training and opportunities. Greater newspaper interest and participation is anticipated and desired of the student body next year.

Skiers Elect

Recently the Ski Club elected their new officers for the coming year. They include Bob Chamness, president; Floyd Clemans, vice president; Ann Harold, secretary; Bill Gwinn, treasurer and their publicity chairman is Les Kirken-dorfer. Bruce McCullough serves as adviser for the club.

On-campus ski instruction and other special privileges for the members are being planned for next year.

Choir to Sing

The a cappella choir, under the direction of Professor Wilbur L. Anders, will present a sacred concert June 11 at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church.

The choir has made appearances the past year in many of the churches in Spokane and the Inland Empire. Recently, the choir returned from the General Assembly in Seattle, and previously from an extended two-week tour of California.

Letters to the Editor

All letters should be short and to the point. Any subject is open for consideration which is of interest to the campus.

All contributions must be signed, but names will be withheld upon request. Leave letters in the WHITWORTHIAN office.

Dear Editor:

With sunny weather here, it is only natural to get out of doors and enjoy God's radiance by soaking up some of Good Old Sol.

But is it necessary for some to completely disregard the fundamental laws of good taste and disport themselves in a semi-nude condition which smacks of vulgarity?

There is a time and a place for everything, but so that none may mistake my meaning, it does not seem in keeping with the mode of this campus for anyone to plop themselves down in the heart of the loop and then assume positions which are grotesque, obscene, and lacking completely any degree of good breeding.

I think that if co-eds desire to get well tanned, let them do it in a way which will not make a visitor to the campus think that peep-shows, belly dancers and burlesque queens are the forte of the campus.

DOCS' LATEST TEXT BOOK IS "TAILOR-MADE"

"Elementary Statistics for Students of the Social Sciences" is the latest text book to be written by members of the college faculty. Authored by Dean Merton Munn and Dr. G. H. Schlauch, the work fills a gap left by other writers.

All of the texts on the subject today deal with one particular phase; education, psychology, sociology or economics. "Therefore," explains Dr. Schlauch, "in the smaller college such as Whitworth, which cannot offer a separate course in each of these fields, has to use a text made for just one of these four subjects."

But the text, which covers all four fields, is tailored for the small college. It contains over 20,000 words and has numerous tabulations and graphs. Now the book is in a two section mimeograph form, but offers to publish the work have come to the doctors. So far all have been declined until the text has another test run, which will come next fall when the course is given again. After that, the authors feel, they will have most of the "bugs" worked out and will be ready to offer to a publisher.

Before actual writing started Schlauch and Munn queried 100 college department heads to find out just what they thought should go into a work of this type.

D.D. DEGREES

Mr. Brown has spent most of his ministry in the state of Washington and is a well-known counselor of youth. Mr. Top is recognized in Spokane for his able Christian leadership.

Leigh Taylor Takes Over C.E. From Ainley

Leigh Taylor has been elected president of Christian Endeavor for the coming year. He takes over from Bill Ainley, retiring president. Leigh was co-chairman of the program committee, former chairman of the Pasadena Christian Endeavor, and a past president of the Pasadena Sunday school.

Vice president is Dick Patterson, who has been active in C.E. activities in high school and at Whitworth.

Newly elected program co-chairmen are Marjorie Reedy and Mary Ann Schmatjen. Bob Dudley is the new music chairman, and Arlo Robbins, treasurer.

Missionary money from the organization will be equally divided between Anita Lewis in Africa, Art Sanford in India, Miss Travielle in Thailand, Carl and Muriel Blanford in China, and Minnie Davie in Korea.

The organization went on record as being in favor of pledging $100 to the Washington State Christian Endeavor Union.

Just Two Days

It seems to us that the college might well reconsider readjusting the days which students attend class. Many have expressed regret that classes were held Memorial Day.

Since the majority of students live close enough to the campus to take advantage of the day to decorate the graves of their loved ones, should the college grant them the time, surely an extra day could be found some place.

We suggest that college start two days earlier in the fall, or else some of the time be chopped off the Christmas vacation which is overly long. We use the word "overly" with tongue in cheek.

These two days could be used to release classes on Armistice Day, and also on Decoration Day.

We are not asking "Banker's Holidays," but there seems little sense in compelling attendance on days such as these when the student's heart is far from the realm of books and classes.

W Club Picnic

The annual W Club picnic tomorrow will again be held at White's cabin on upper Twin Lakes, Ida. The tradition of holding the picnic there has been upheld by Mr. and Mrs. White, who have donated the use of the cabin and grounds. Over 40 plan to attend the all day affair. Tom Summerson, retiring president, is in charge.

W Club Elects Tague

Sam Tague, football and baseball letterman, heads the W Club for the coming year. Tague was elected president at a recent meeting to succeed Tom Summerson. Nick Faber, triple letter winner, will serve as vice president. Gordy Brandt, basketball letterman was elected secretary. Jim Larsen, football and track man succeeds Dick Carr as treasurer. Bob Rettke, will act as public relations man, and Pat Clyde, sergeant at arms.

Retiring officers include Jack Mahaffey, vice president, and Larry Basket, public relations.

Formal installation of officers will be held at the annual W Club picnic under the direction of Dr. Mark Koehler.

President Tague says, "We hope to carry on the great job that this year's officers have done, and try to do as well next year."

Carlsen I.K. Duke

Jim Carlsen was installed as Duke of the Inter collegiate Knights at ceremonies held Tuesday evening. Others installed were Dale Parton, treasurer, Bob Rhinehardt, scribe, and Arnie Fosse, historian.

Jerry Wilson, retiring Duke, served during the period of organization on the campus, helping the club to become an active part of campus life.

It's That Way

All the signs point to Whitworth tree. Attractive signs in the shape of a tree, painted white, with a red "W" tree, and a heart pierced by an arrow have been conspicuously placed about the campus to point directions to the famed tree. This is a project sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights. The I.K.s have also cleaned the area around the tree, landscaped it, and are developing it into an attractive site. Further surprises are promised by the I.K.s according to Duke Jim Carlsen.

WOMEN'S WORLD

By Babs

Mary Anslow is home in Seattle this week-end. She will be maid of honor at her sister's wedding.

If Bill Gwinn's cords look a little queer, it's because Bunny irons them and she just can't seem to get the crease straight!

Yvonne Steward became engaged over Mother's day week-end at her home in Lamont. Her fiancé is Russel Kruip of Reardon. The wedding will take place sometime this summer.

Bev McMorrin was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party at the home of the Anderson (twins). Others present were Dodo Funk, Kelly Fouta, Vera Bukah and the Anderson family.

Each room in Nason Hall has a name. Some of them are: Well Come Inn, We're Never Inn, We're All Inn and Study Inn.

Edith Hiskey didn't catch anything on her fishing trip to Deer Lake, but she came back with a fiery sunburn.

Those people you see kneeling out on the lawn next to the gym aren't worshipping some pagan god, as you might think. They're quite normal, really, and are just looking for four-leaf clovers!

Pirettes to Hold Reunion Breakfast

On Saturday, June 12, at 9 a.m. there will be a Pirette Reunion Breakfast in Elizabeth Ann's Tea Room. The 18 members will be present to honor the 12 alumni and together they will install the new officers.

A program has been arranged in which Marge Scott and Violet Goodale will sing a duet and Lois McConnell will give a reading. A Quiz Program is to be conducted by Joann Larson, and former Pirettes will give brief talks.

PATTEN RETAINS SINGLES TITLE

PIRATE NET ACE WINS SECOND SINGLES CROWN IN TACOMA GO

By Walt Dawson

Les Patten drubbed Bob Meyer of Western, 6-1, 6-1, in the title match to cop the Winco singles crown for the second successive year in the league sports conclave at Tacoma last weekend. Patten came through with three wins in as many starts in the two day meet to run his victory skein for the season to nine straight.

Wins Opener 6-4, 6-3

In the opening action the Pirate netman polished off another Western ace, George Sutherland, 6-4, 6-3. The Viking star was the only opponent to rack up more than one game against the Spokane champ and the first to get as many as seven for the season.

Patten easily got by Bill McCannon of Eastern in the semifinals 6-0, 6-1, to set the stage for his title go with Meyer.

Lose Team Play

Although the Whits retained the singles crown on the strength of Patten's trio of wins, they surrendered the team title to Western, The Vikings tallied five points for first place honors, while Whitworth and Eastern tied for second with three points each.

Patten went into the league play-off with a 6-0 season record, in-ord, including wins over Washington State, Gonzaga, Montana (twice), Eastern and Central. In each of Patten's starts this season it has taken him but two sets to bring about his rival's downfall, the Pirate star having won eighteen consecutive sets.

Larsen and Newton Place

In other sports action at the Tacoma meet the Pirate golf team finished fifth in the league team play, and the track squad were forced to settle for last in the Winco track and field meet. Jim Larsen's third in the mile and Fig Newton's third in the broad jump were the best Pirate single efforts, while Don Cornish, Dick Adams, Fig Newton, and Tom Jones teamed up for a fourth in the mile relay.

Track Here Next Year

The conference track and field meet along with the tennis finals will be held at Whitworth next spring, according to Professor Culverwell, secretary-treasurer of the Evergreen league.

Mr. Culverwell said the decision for the move of these athletic events to Spokane was made at the league board of directors meeting in Tacoma last week.

NICK FABER . . .

Wins Three Letters

He is the only athlete in school to win three major letters this year, having garnered big "W's" in football and basketball along with his second baseball award. Faber probably could have earned a track letter in tossing the javelin had he been able to work the two spring sports together.

Missed Season Openers

Nick missed the Pirates' spring training and was absent for the first two contests because of his tour with the choir in California. Upon his return to the team he got off to a slow start and then started to pound the ball hard, eventually numbering four solid doubles among his season total of 17 hits.

CRUZEN TAKES BATTING TITLE

Banging out 39 hits in 92 times at bat, outfielder Bob Cruzen completed the season baseball play with a .424 mark to finish far ahead of the field in the batting race. Cruzen had led the hitters since the opening game, with the exception of a brief period two weeks ago when he dropped to second for a pair of contests.

Sammy Tague's .333 average was good for second among the Pirate regulars, while veteran Earl Mortlock, last year's leading sticker, was third with a .311 figure.

Bob Bradburn had a 500 record but made only four appearances in the batter's box.

Mickey Just Misses

Shortstop Mickey McDougall just missed the charmed .300 circle by a single percentage point, his .299 average giving him fourth place honors. A 60-point spurt in the last two weeks boosted Tom Patten from ninth to fifth among the hitters, the speedy outfielder finishing with a .283 mark for the 19 games in which he worked.

Cruzen Takes Bow

Besides topping the batters at the plate, Bob Cruzen had quite a year for himself in individual performances. He led the team in games played with 27, times at bat 92, runs scored 21, hits 39, singles 29, and total bases 55. In extra base clouts the sophomore fly-chaser garnered the most doubles 5, the most triples 4, and tied with three teammates in home runs with one.

Nine No. Stevens

Taking a look at the baseball statistics for the year it appears that the Whits can't be blamed for fewer numbers in the win column because of poor hitting. As a team, the Pirates amassed 213 hits in 827 tries for an over-all mark of .258. Not bad for a team average. Six of the Whits' regulars bettered that record for the season.

No Award

There will be no award this spring for the "Outstanding Athlete of the Year" such as Earl Mortlock was presented in 1947. When Earl got the tall trophy last year at the spring banquet there were a number of athletes who had their eyes on the award for '48. Too bad the trophy can't be given again this time as it would probably be a close and interesting race for the cup, some of the leading contenders being Vern Tucker, football and track; Bob Cruzen, football and baseball; Earl Mortlock, basketball and baseball; Clyde Matters, basketball; and Les Patten, tennis. Besides these the students vote would be further divided among a handful of "write-in" candidates.

Tennis Is Bright Spot

In brief review in the year of sports shows that the Whits finished last in the league in football, fourth in basketball, and fifth in track. They successfully defended the Winco singles crown in tennis, a la Les Patten, but had to settle for second in team play. A fifth in golf and a second place finish in baseball in the eastern division rounds out the Pirate efforts for the year.

So goes the sports at Piratville for 1947-48. Next game football, North Idaho vs. Whitworth in the Pine Bowl, September 25.

Spiders Win Third Straight; Take Lead

The Spiders' softball nine took undisputed leadership in the intramural play with a 13-9 win over the married men's Ball and Chain team last week.

In other action, the undefeated Spiders checked in another two wins at the expense of the Bushers and Lancaster while the husbands and Lancaster took turns walloping the cellar-dwelling Jokers by scores of 16-5 and 15-3

Vote UBC Into Evergreen League

The Evergreen league has been expanded to eight members as a result of the acceptance of the University of British Columbia into the fold last week. Conference officials announced the move in a meeting of the board of directors at Tacoma.

The Canadian school will not field a football team in the Evergreen competition this fall, but will begin its athletic program with basketball in January.

NEWTON TOPS CINDER STARS

Fig Newton, Pirate broad jump artist, topped his track mates in individual performances for the season with a total of 38 1/4 points in five intercollegiate meets. Besides his field action, Newton posted winning tallies in the 100- and 200-yard dashes, and ran a leg on the relay team.

Runner-up in the cinder scoring was Jim Larsen, who finished the year with 29 1/4 markers, while Vern Tucker's 24 points were good for third.

Larsen paced the distance men during the regular campaign with a combination of five wins in the mile and two-mile runs. Tucker, who grabbed three firsts in the spring meets, ran the dashes in the track events and hurled the discus and tossed the shot in the field action.

How the tracksters scored:

	Places				Total
