Our Community in the Pines

We are a diverse group we who come to Whitworth. The buildings facilitate our activities and become our home; without us there would be no Whitworth. We are a community. We are a group that gathers together for a common purpose. We gather to learn and to grow in an environment where Jesus Christ is exalted as Lord, Savior, and Friend.

Student Owned — Student Operated . . .

The Associated Students of Whitworth College forms the framework for the entire student body. This year's ASWC executives are Mike Wendlandt, Mitzi Pickard, and Tom Cardle. They act as the communities voice to the administration, expressing our concerns, opinions, and ideas. They also coordinate activities, councils and committees that benefit and serve the student body. The distribution of student fees concerns all students. The executives balance the budget, distribute funds, keep the books, and help the dorms with their individual accounts. The time spent by these leaders often goes unnoticed by the rest of the student body.

President's council functions as the communities decision making body. Dorm presidents, off campus representatives, and the ASWC executives meet each week to vote on new resolutions, and to decide on requests for additional money for various causes. The presidents keep their own dorm informed as to what is going on in the council and represent their dorm's views. The council keeps the communication lines open between the students and the administration.

The SAC managers — held together by Lunnell Haught, student activities coordinator — organize the various activities and services available to the student body. This vital group of students works many hours keeping the Hub running smoothly. Supported by student funds, they insure that the community remains informed and entertained in their free time.

The Whitworthian . . . a Reflection of Student Concerns

During the 72nd year of publication, The Whitworthian has had an exciting year. An increased budget has expanded the Whitworthian to become a weekly paper, and the purchase of a new typesetter and Video Display Terminal has aided in the training process of new reporters.

The staff, led by Marc Kubota and Bill Stewart, has gained access to information and sources by assigning specific reporters to special areas. Improvement has also been noticed in student support, especially in the letters to the editor.

As to the direction of The Whitworthian, Marc Kubota conveyed confidence that the Whitworthian would continue as a strong student paper, always looking for the best news that would affect the students of Whitworth College the most.

1: The Whitworthian has informed the students about many controversial issues including the proposed termination of football.

Trustees Provided Stability

Our Trustees are very vital to the existence of Whitworth. Not only do they guide college policy, but they also serve as ambassadors in such diverse areas as student recruitment and financial advisement.

There is a broad misunderstanding around campus about the actual functions of the people in the administration building. It is more than a place where bills are paid and checks cashed. It is filled with people undertaking various jobs which directly and indirectly involve students. Here the Cabinet of the college can be found. But don't count on them always being in their offices. Like many others in this building, they are often associating with students around campus. The Cabinet consists of Dr. Robert Mounce, President; the Vice-Presidents — Dr. Richard Ferrin, Academic Affairs; Mr. Mike Goins, Business Affairs; Mr. Richard Matheny, College Development; and Dr. Bill Peterson, Student Life. Also in the Administration building, adjacent to Cowles Auditorium, are three people whose assistance affects many students. They are Paul Olsen, Registrar; Bill Rusk, Financial Aid; and Shirlene Short, Director of Admissions. Alumni Relations, Pub-Relations, the Whitworth Foundation, along with many others who offer their services, are found here. It is obviously a building in which much happens to contribute immensely to the Whitworth community.

Our Community Captains

1: President Mounce, our fearless leader, arranged and added to his busy schedule. 2: Dr. Robert Mounce, Dr. Richard Ferrin, Dr. Bill Peterson, Mr. Richard Matheny, our trusty Cabinet, spared a minute for a cheery pose. 3: Richard Matheny presented Kaye Brown with an award of appreciation for his years of service as Alumni Director at Whitworth.

'A Hundred Yesterdays'

Various events were held during homecoming week to increase school spirit. Besides attending the usual sports competitions, concerts, and banquets, alumni and students were offered a wide variety of other activities. These included the Great Tricycle Race during halftime at the game, viewing antique cars during lunch in the loop, and a memorial service for Dr. Marion Jenkins, Whitworth's Dean of Women from 1931-1965.

Homecoming week gave students a chance to interact with the "behind-the-screen" members of our community, the trustees and alumni.

1: Antique cars were displayed in the loop during a picnic put on by SAGA. 2: Students and alumni bunny hopped through "A Hundred Yesterdays" at the Homecoming Dance. 3: Rich Lindstrom and Jerry Elmer enjoyed the Homecoming dance arm-in-arm. 4: The football team showed team spirit at the pep rally during Homecoming weekend.

SAGA and Maintenance Provide Needed Services

1: Jay Schrader chatted with SAGA manager Steve Clark, during the first outdoor picnic of the year. 2: Nikki Faber took this winning photo of Cook Connie. 3: Ballard's first attic clean-out looked like a maintenance nightmare.

College students aren't known for their cleanliness. Cleaning up after over 1400 people is not an easy job; mopping floors, shampooing carpets, washing windows and replacing light bulbs are only a few of the many jobs our Whitworth Custodial Staff does. The staff consists of a full time day and graveyard crew, supervised by Ed Eccles. They work hard around the clock doing a great job keeping the campus clean.

Students have always seemed to poke fun at campus food. At Whitworth, SAGA food service has been nothing to joke about. Bob Ward and his staff have provided a warm, personal atmosphere which makes dining at SAGA a positive experience. Working hard to provide nutritional meals, SAGA has tried to meet student needs for variety by serving a diverse menu. Nutrition 1985 is an effort to meet student needs for nutritional education and world-awareness. Through such efforts the staff at SAGA have worked hard to create an enjoyable dining experience with a wide range of options for students.

Natsihi Staff Struggled to Gain Respect

This year's 1981-1982 Natsihi staff has worked very hard at upgrading Whitworth's yearbook. We chose the theme "Community" because we wanted to include the entire Whitworth community in this year's edition. With the addition of color photographs, and more pages than ever before, we have hoped to make the 1981-1982 Natsihi a memento everyone can be proud of!

1: Mary waited patiently for the arrival of the 1981-1982 Natsihi yearbook. 2: Joyce Brown, Scott Gee, Diane Dalla Lasta and Laura Olsen worked hard on layouts. 3: Patrick Rose and Mary Hornaday put their ideas to work.

KWRS Grew Stronger

KWRS celebrated its 5th year in operation. After only 5 years, the FCC granted Whitworth College a license to expand its listening audience by increasing power from 10 watts to 100 watts. Appropriately this year's slogan became "KWRS . . . getting stronger every day." The FM 90.3 offers a wide variety of music including popular, christian contemporary, and jazz. Special programs aired on KWRS included the album review, the jazz show, the mid-week special, and many interviews with people from our community at Whitworth College.

1: Station Manager Ronna Detrick hoped to air music over the bell tower in celebration of the increase of power to 100 watts.

Row 1: Empty chair (Mr. 100 Watts). 2: Angie Eccles, Julie Marsh, Kevin Brown, John Owen, Beth McClun, Ermal T., Ronna Detrick, Scott Robberson. Library Provides Growth

Dear Mom and Dad,

Hi! Here it is, another day spent in the library. Actually the library is becoming a favorite (and quite popular) place to study. There is a wide variety of study areas, such as individual desks, tables, conference rooms, couches, and usually windows to look out of to refresh myself with the beautiful campus view. Also available is a wide arena for learning . . . not in the sense of information, but in the growth that comes from the interaction with other students and faculty. There is the constant challenges, encouragement, and helpfulness from the library staff, which aid in the growth process. Yes, the library offers one the opportunity to explore ideas, to raise questions, and to find out more about God's world! Well I must close for now.

much love, your book worm.

Chaplains Promote Unity

“But you are Christ’s body and individually members of it.” I Corinthians 12:27

The Chaplain’s office, located in the Chapel, is an important resource within the Whitworth Community for encouraging spiritual growth. The Chaplain’s staff is a caring and enthusiastic group committed to meeting individual needs and strengthening Whitworth’s unity in Christ. Bible studies, weekly Compline, and a yearly fall retreat are just a few of the opportunities available to promote individual growth. Campus worship is a weekly celebration of Whitworth’s “oneness” in Christ. Programs such as Diakonia, fasts, and world-awareness seminars are offered for students who desire to explore new possibilities in the world around them. All-in-all, the Chaplain’s staff is an exciting, dynamic influence at Whitworth College as they continue to challenge individuals and work to strengthen our unity in Christ.

International Student Banquet

On November 7, 1981 the Cosmopolitan Club, comprised of the international students at Whitworth College, hosted an International Banquet. In a gesture of thanks, the banquet provided an opportunity for the international students to share the rich diversity of their cultures with the Whitworth Community. Many "exotic" dishes were served from countries as varied as Saudi Arabia, Japan, Greece, and China. After-dinner entertainment was also provided, consisting of a Japanese flower arrangement, karate, and special music performed by the students. Overall, the dinner promoted an appreciation of the diversity in our world — a success indeed!

As I think about the 3 months I have spent traveling and living intensely with these 30 people, my overwhelming reaction is joy. This group of people has given me a glimpse of how the body of Christ works. Each one of us is necessary for this group to function properly. Although we started out as individuals, we have come together to form a group — a family.

We have also come to a realization that we belong to a world community, a community where our differences are shallow in comparison with our common desires and needs. I believe this unity calls for a radical change in the way we have been living. Perhaps I am an idealist — not blind ignorance, but an idealism from one who has considered the realities and complexities of the world we live in. These 30 people challenged me with the task of expressing this idealism, this sense of unity, in authentic, creative ways within my world, in places where I can be effective. And it is here, at the grass roots, where effective change must begin.

Barb Murray

Whitworth's soccer team, coached by Spike Grosvenor and Jeff Heimbigner, finished the 1981 season with an impressive 8-4-2 record. Although the team lost the league championship in the second to last game against Central Washington University, the players showed their skill in beating EWU in the Indoor Soccer Tournament. The team scored 28 goals and had only 1 goal scored against them. The team was made up of many outstanding players including leading goal scorer, Mark Henry, and leading assists, Kevin Peck.

Bucs Play Tough

The Whitworth Pirates had an exciting season in 1981. Finishing in a three way tie for third place in the North West Conference, they had an overall win-loss record of 4-5, 2-3 in the conference play. The Bucs displayed their strength in coming from behind with a victory over Lewis and Clark College in their last home game of the season. The Pirate offense scored 17 points in the last seven minutes of play for the win. New school records were set by Rick Pearson's 59-yard field goal, and Brian Hayne's 100-yard kickoff return. This year's team consisted of many talented players, such as Curt Carr who was given honorable mention in the Associated Press College Division and 2nd team in Small College All Northwest. Perhaps the major highlight of the season was President Mounce's decision to continue the Pirate football program after an extensive campaign directed by head coach Bruce Grambo and many other Pirate supporters.

The Pirate basketball team won their first Northwest Conference Championship in 21 years this season, and came within a game of the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City.

It took the Pirates until mid-January to unleash their attack, but when they finally did no one could get in their way. The Bucs ran off a string of 11 straight victories in route to their championship and an NAIA playoff birth.

A win over Simon Fraser advanced the Pirates to the deciding game against Central Washington, which they dropped, 77-67. The Bucs' 18-11 record comes in just the second year under head coach Jim Larson.

Earning All-District honors for the Pirates were Terrel Landry, the team's only senior, and sophomore guard Bob Mandeville, who led the team in scoring with 12.2 points a game.

Women's Teams Excellent

The 1981 volleyballers were described by their coach, Jo Anne Atwell-Scrivner, as her best team ever — quite a compliment considering the success she's had here as a coach.

The team's season record reflected her sentiments. At 33-4, the Bucs went undefeated in the Inland Valley Conference and entered the regional tournament as the number 1 seed.

Unfortunately, the Pirates' bid for a fourth consecutive national tournament appearance was halted by back-to-back losses to Puget Sound and Linfield.

Three seniors led the Bucs' attack this year. Doris Hoffman led the team in kills with 312, and Sally Scrivner was second in that category with 258. Lynn Becker was the team's most accurate server with a 95 percent accuracy.

The Whitworth Women's basketball team had another fine season under head coach Jean Anderson. After finishing second in the Willamette University tip-off tournament, the Pirates went on to finish fifth in region 9, Division III play and seeded fifth for this year's regional tournament. The young Buc's were led behind the strong play of Jennifer Tinkle, Kathy German, and Toni Swanson. The Buc's regular season overall win-loss record was 14-13, 12-7 in Division III play.

To a Passing Acquaintance
Forgive my indiscretion
there wasn't time to be proper if we'd waited until everyone left or until our acquaintance had lengthened we may've never managed to meet.
I have a habit of scorning
such short-order attempts at intimacy
but I trust your friends will forgive me for taking this chance to taste you.

— Laurie Bowers

I have a choice:
To dwell upon the Autumn of my youth:
or to dwell upon the Spring of my adulthood.

I will choose the former.
But let me not be too sorrowful
over losing my youth;
For it shall be the spice of my adulthood.

The Whitworth men's cross country team had a good season finishing second in the North West Conference championships and fourth in the NAIA District 1 finals. Charlie Lewis finished the season as the Bucs top runner followed by Craig Deitz and Ken Clark. The women runners also did well finishing sixth in the AIAW regional championships. Carol Lewis was the top runner on the team finishing ahead of all other Pirate runners in all eight meets. She is also the sister of Charlie, the men's runner. Susan Jeffreys and Anette Swanson also turned in fine performances this season.

Relative of George Whitworth Found.

Mr. Richard I. Whitworth McCollum, fondly known as Dick by his friends, is a descendant of George F. Whitworth. His grandmother on his mother's side is Clarabell Whitworth. Her grandfather was George F. Whitworth, our founder.

Dick was located residing in Bellingham, WA. He sure was elusive though. For 25 years he served in the U.S. Army. He retired as a Colonel. He is now employed as Personnel Banking Manager of Seattle 1st National Bank in Bellingham.

We thank Dick, the great, great grandson of George F. Whitworth for sponsoring this page.

Well, it's finished. I'm sorry I was unable to coerce all of you into getting your photograph taken, especially faculty & staff. This last section wasn't as complete as I'd have hoped. I shot high. Though I didn't reach the moon, I was able to grab a few stars.

Thanks for giving me the opportunity to fulfill my dream. Without you out there supporting me I would have never made it.

I dedicate this book to all you dreamers out there who are not afraid to work to put feet on your dreams, who are not afraid to try to raise sinking ships and rescue drowning people.
