MANY MARK FATHERS' DAY

Wear Red Carnation in Token of Respect for "The Old Man."

Es Honoring their fathers, as they honored their mothers several weeks ago, many persons in this city observed yesterday as Fathers' day, each wearing a bright red carnation as a symbol of respect and affection for him who brings home the pay envelope on Saturday night and buys the children's shoes.

Although the number of persons who wore the the red flower was not inconsiderable, it appeared yesterday that the public in general has not quite become accustomed to the Fathers' day idea. In few pulpits, if in any, was reference made to the occasion as was done in the case of Mothers' day, the majority of ministers declaring that they did not know there was such a celebration of Fathers' day. Some even hinted that they would not pay attention to the day, declaring that there is already an over-abundance of special days in the calendar.

In spite of this sentiment, however, there were many loyal sons and daughters who displayed the carnation for "the old man."

Catch Alleged Tool Thief.

Ogontz, Pa., June 16.—Giving his name as Joseph Williams, and claiming Philadelphia as his home, a much-wanted tool thief was captured by Sergeant Ganley, of the Cheltenham police department, and was taken to the Montgomery county prison in default of $1000 bail after a hearing before Magistrate Comly. For several months building operations in the Elkins Park-Melrose Park-Ogontz sections have been systematically robbed.
