Urges a "Fathers' Day."

Chicago, June 1—To the Editor: I notice in the papers in connection with "Mothers' day" that there has been agitation of the matter of setting aside a Sunday for "Fathers' day." Two years ago I made the suggestion to our magazine "association men" that a Sunday between the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington be set aside as a "Fathers' day," with a pink carnation as the flower. I am now repeating this suggestion.

Urges a "Fathers' Day"

Chicago, June 1—To the Editor: I notice in connection with "Mothers' day" that there has been discussion of the matter of setting aside a Sunday for fathers. Two years ago I made the suggestion to our "Association men" that a Sunday between the holidays of Lincoln and Washington be set aside as a "Fathers' Day" with a pink carnation as the flower. I am now requesting your attention to this suggestion.
