My dear Mrs. Dodd:

It was a real pleasure to receive in the mail this morning, a letter from you dated July 11th. Apparently, this communication has been long in reaching me because of the inadequate address on your envelope. However, I am glad that it finally found its way to my desk.

For some years now, this committee has been publicizing to America, the glorious fact that Father's Day was founded by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, way back in 1910. Not until this morning have I had the privilege of hearing from you in person, and I wish to tell you how gratified I am to establish personal contact with you.

Let me explain what this committee is. It is strictly an honorary committee to carry out the spiritual interest pertaining to Father's Day. The members of this committee are persons of national renown who believe in perpetuating Father's Day. There are no commercial aspects to its activities.

It would please me and the rest of the committee immensely, if you were to accept the official title of "Founder of Father's Day".

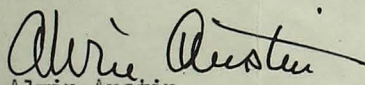

Rather elaborate plans are being arranged for Father's Day 1939. I will keep you informed of those plans.

It will indeed be a pleasure for me to recommend to the various groups interested in Father's Day, the use of the ideas and services which you outline in your letter of July 11th. You may expect to hear further from me about this.

With all kind greetings and very best wishes, I am,

Most sincerely yours,

National Father's Day Committee
