WELCOME

I wish to extend a most hearty welcome to all those who have joined our Whitworth family. To the faculty I would say that you have come to a field of service where a rare opportunity is offered to give the best one has to give. To the student an opportunity is given for the development of the best that one possesses. The small college with its high ideals offers to youth an opportunity for that training which will make it possible to more nearly solve the problems confronting one in later life.

Whitworth College stresses sound scholarship, enduring friendship, and high Christian ideals in its curricula throughout. Preparatory training in the fields of engineering, law, medicine, business, and other occupations, is given. To these opportunities I give you a most cordial welcome.

WARD W. SULLIVAN,
President

J. W. COUNTERMINE
SERVES AS PASTOR

During the summer Dr. J. W. Countermine served as acting pastor of the University Presbyterian Church in Seattle, during the absence of the pastor, the Rev. W. S. Templeton.

While there, Mrs. Countermine made several addresses in behalf of Whitworth College and organized four exceptional groups of the Whitworth College Auxiliary in Seattle, and one in Tacoma.

CLASS ELECTIONS
NOW COMPLETED

Advisors and Officers Are Now
Chosen for Coming Year

The election of class officers and class advisors for the following year has been completed, and the classes are now ready to function officially.

The senior class chose Forrest Travallie, Dorothy Hood, and Elma Morgan, is under the direction of Mr. Soltan.

EFFECTS ARE BEING MADE TO IMPROVE THE SITUATION OF THE STUDENTS

Although the constitution has been in use for more years and has been constantly subject to revision, many discrepancies still exist.

The committee, consisting of Forrest Travallie, Dorothy Hood, and Elma Morgan, is under the direction of Mr. Soltan.

WORKING ON THE BASIS OF THE GENERAL MANAGEMENT SYSTEM WHICH WAS INTRODUCED LAST YEAR, THE COMMITTEE HOPES TO FORM A SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT WHICH IS SIMPLE AND WILL MEET THE NEEDS OF THE STUDENTS AS THE COLLEGE GROWS.

If the revised constitution is accepted by the students, the handling of student money will be more efficient, the executive board will be more capable, and the system of elections will be less irregular.

BOLT EXTENDS ALL CORDIAL INVITATION

Maurice Holt, president of the Volunteer Fellowship, has issued an invitation to all students to join in the work that the fellowship is doing. The members have placed religious teachers in different churches about the city; and the group has handled the chapel services occasionally.

The fellowship conducted a series at the First Presbyterian church and the Fourth Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, October 11, 1931.

BENCHES ARE INSTALLED

New benches have been installed in the science lecture room under the direction of Professor D. L. Solter. Six benches have been built and arranged so as to obtain excellent light and acoustations. The room will now take care of twice as many students as previous years. A demonstration bench has been built in at the front of the room, so that the students can see the work of the students.

The fall season will be the greatest apportionment this year. This $500 is being given to the football team in order that they may travel to other cities to play.

BUDGET FOR 1931-32 WORKED OUT

Surplus To Be Used In Part For Improvement of Tennis Courts

If money could talk, it would say that the Whitworth College 1931-32 budget looks as if interesting, novel things are going to happen. The apportionments as worked out on the basis of 110 students are:

Football $200
Basketball $100
Baseball $100
Tennis $100
Social $100
Whitworthian $100
Volunteer Falls $10
Debate and Oratory $50
W. A. A. $10
Handbook $10
Curriculum $10

Total $1,160

As there are at present 122 students enrolled, there will be a surplus of money. It has been decided that at least a part of this will be used for improvement of the tennis courts.

Football is getting the largest apportionment this year. This $500 is being given to the football team in order that they may travel to other cities to play.

A suggestion has been made to give more money to debate and oratory. If part of the surplus is given to this department, it may be possible for the debate team to compete in various parts of the state.
IS THIS THE TIME TO GO TO COLLEGE?

One of the outstanding features of a depression period is a readjustment of values and price levels. This readjustment almost always is toward lower levels. Advertisements in current publications are pointing out new low prices on various goods, many of the prices being the lowest in the history of their respective industries.

The prudent investor chooses just such a time to make his purchases. Many purchases, long contemplated, are now being made, and are now being taken up. This depression, with its lowering of price levels, has affected the professions. Many professions report the lowest incomes during the past year of any like period since the war.

Will it not follow from these facts that now is the time for us to make our investments, as professional people? Disregarding for the moment the spiritual and social returns that will come to us from a year in college, it seems reasonable to conclude that this year is the best year in the last ten in which to go to college.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Miss Wilma Becker

I. M. A. Jenner, a graduate of the University of Washington, is assistant professor in the physics department. He teaches freshman mathematics and engineering drawing, and supervises the physics laboratory work. Before coming to Whitworth, Mr. Jenner was with the Multiachromatic Sign Company in Seattle. He has also been with the Pacific Goodrich Company of Los Angeles, where he was in charge of the technical department for two years.

Mrs. Pearle Comer

Mrs. Pearle Comer is the new office secretary. Her home is in Spokane, but she is now living at the college. She was previously with the Spokane Y. M. C. A. in the capacity of financial secretary.

Miss Marion R. Jenkins

Miss Marion R. Jenkins, dean of women, is from Wenatchee, where she was in charge of Christian education at the First Presbyterian church for two years. Miss Jenkins, now living with her in the dormitory.

IT'S NOT THE HEAT, IT'S THE STUPIDITY.

Readers, send in all the questions that bother you (except Math questions), and they will be answered free. Don't keep it if it doesn't bear itself. Accompany your letter with 75 cents in postage to cover mailing cost of our little advice book called "Some Good Numbers from the Telephone Book," also containing a list of the names of birthdays for the first four months of the year.

Today's question was used just as something to Warm Up On and as a kick-off of Whitewash your Confidence. Now that you are willing to confide in us, we'll use your questions on Problems of the Heart and Home. That's our specialty. For example, I can tell you that if you burn the toast; what shall I do? Or "My husband often beats me; what do you advise?"

We had that last one about the plates in the dining room, but it had to be nipped in the bud. No dirty stories for this column. We can't risk being OFF-color.

Donald Best, a 1925 graduate, visited the college on last Wednesday. His home is now in Canton, Ohio.

Dr. Paul S. Hageman gave all the men participating in athletics a physical examination last Thursday evening.
ANNUAL MIXER IS BIG PIRATE PARTY

Students and Faculty Appeared in Novel Costumes

Every student and faculty member that attended the Pirate party in the women's reception hall on Friday evening, September 25, had in costume some form of the Pirate party. The evening's entertainment was featured by the variety of costumes worn by both the students and their instructors. The appearance of the faculty as pirates prepared all for a good time and a challenging night of gaiety. The group was divided into four companies, with a captain at the head of each. In turn the companies performed, stopping at the reception room, where refreshments were organized to search for gold. The rest of the evening was spent in recovering from the journey and capturing the gold. After dueling and other games of a pirate type, the entertainment was presented to Dean Hardwick and his wife by his charge, the Alumnae club.

The committee responsible for the evening's entertainment were: Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan, and Miss Wilma Becker were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Olsen on the evening of September 12. Dr. Sullivan and Dr. Hays attended Presbytery at Republican on Tuesday evening, September 11. They reported a very enjoyable trip. They were greeted at the station by Dr. and Mrs. Sharp, a former student of Whitworth.

Recently Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan have entertained a number of the faculty members in their home on Thursday evening, September 25. Miss Jenkins, Mrs. Adeline Keyser, Miss Cora Fitch, and Mrs. W. E. Adams were house guests of the Sullivans.

Miss Helen Magill, Miss Elizabeth Harmon, and Miss Lena Smith were dinner guests of Mrs. D. C. Olsen.

Girls Enjoy Taffy Pull

On the night of September 15, the fresh students entertained the new residents with a taffy pull, which was held in the lounge room of McMillan hall.

Dorothy Hood and Maxine Alexander were corner presiding of McMillan hall were also present.

Laurie Carnie and Hazel Kyle were in charge of the Morse machine.

INCUMBENT FRESHMEN ARE AGAIN DEFEATED

A surprise attack on the evening of September 15 rendered the fresh helpers useless and resulted in another victory for the sophomores at Whitworth.

The trusting freshmen who were attending the faculty reception were called out by one and one removed to the basement of the Petoch home near the college. There they awaited the arrival of the rest of their classmates, who were being gathered in from various parts of the city by sophomore men. Toward morning, all but four or five of the freshmen class were nearly handcuffed and reeling in various positions on the floor of the basement.

CHENEY DEFEATS PIRATES 19 TO 0

Team is Outweighed, Outplayed, But Not Outfought

Outweighed and outplayed, but not outfought, Whitworth's football team went down to defeat at the hands of Cheney to the tune of 19 to 0.

Fighting every inch of the way the Pirates were forced back to their goal line in the second quarter by line backs and power plays in which the ball carrying of Bredt, Myres, and Walker of Cheney was outstanding. The ball was pushed over the goal line a minute and forty-two seconds before the end of the first half. Until that time both teams had gone scoreless.

Starting the second half Whitworth elected to kick off to Cheney. Cheney again used their team roller tackle to push over their second touchdown, shoving the ball 1 yard before the goal. Cheney was given a chance to play for the extra point. Bredt of Cheney made two of his team's touchdowns and Scott made one. The game ended with a ball in Cheney's possession on Whitworth's 15-yard line.

Whitworth tried in vain to steady the steady gain ground when they had the ball but Lavender was the only consistent ground gainer of the Pirates. The punting of Fancher was one of the features of the game. Many of his kicks went over forty yards and had perfect placement.

Among every member of the Pirate team played well, the ball carrying of Lavender and that of the line by Pieton were very brilliant. In the line Vicker, Smith, and Long played extra well.

For Cheney the whole backfield performance was extra, with Scott and Blankenship scoring two touchdowns. Blankenship was the star.

Cheney kicked thirteen first downs and was penalized a total of 16 yards. Whitworth failed to make a first down and lost twenty yards through penalties.

Every man on the squad of both teams was given a chance to play in this game.

Coach Ford L. Bailor said that the team performed exceptionally in view of the fact that they had no scrimmage practice until this game. He had a chance to see the weaknesses of the team which had no opportunity to display their ability. During the second week, Bailor intends to iron out the rough spots that were apparent in this game.

SPORTS SEEM TO APPEAL TO GIRLS

Large Turnout Promises Exceptional Year in Athletics

Girls' sports at Whitworth began on September 28; and by the large turn-out, and the interest shown, this promises to be an exceptionally good year.

All girls automatically become members of the Women's Athletic Association, in which it is possible to earn a severe dollar.

When a girl has earned five points, she is awarded a letter; for eight points she is given a pin; for twelve points she receives a white sweater and for sixty points a blanket is the reward.

At this season of the year it is possible to earn points by hiking or by playing on the Whitworthian basketball team. Ruth Jones, captain of the skaters, says that in order to get a W. A. A. point, a girl must walk five miles a week for six weeks. The first week the girls walked for only thirty minutes, and fifty is required to get only a gym credit, a walk twice a week is sufficient.

There are four rules to be followed in order to gain a hygiene point. No eating between meals, except fruit and milk shakes. 2. No high-heeled shoes at school. 3. No candy except within ten minutes after meals. 4. At least seven and one-half hours of sleep each night.

The next sport for girls is basketball. According to Olive Claeck, manager, practice will begin about the middle of November, but a coach will not be chosen until the first of December. As there are so many girls in college that the women's basketball team is expected to win laurels when competing with Cheney, Spokane University, Garvan, Fairchild, Deary Park, and other teams in this section.

The Auxiliary is one year old. During the year it has accomplished great results. Its total membership reached 442. It raised $2108.20; this money has been applied to furnishing the Women's Reception Hall, and in purchasing books for the college library.

This young and growing organization, under the leadership of its efficient president, Mrs. W. J. Courto, has carried out a very fine line of school work, "To pray, to plan, and to push, for Whitworth College." One of its great achievements has been the public giving given the college.

The new Auxiliary Officers for the year are as follows: President, Mrs. J. W. Courto; first vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Sullivan; second vice-president, Mrs. F. C. Parr; treasurer, Mrs. F. T. Hardwick; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Tucker; promotion secretary, Mrs. Herbert Ramsey; financial secretary, Mrs. Frank T. Pur- scy. Additional members of the Executive board, Mrs. T. M. Hodgson, Mrs. Francis E. Rees, and Mrs. W. L. Lischman.

All women interested in Christian service who desire to care for membership in Whitworth College Auxiliary, many of the positions are now represented in this organization.

ACCREDITATION

The scholastic work at Whitworth College is highly accredited. The State Board of Education has given the same rating to Whitworth College that it accords to other institutions. This means that our graduates will have the same opportunity for securing certificates for teaching in the State of Washington as a student graduating from any other college or university. The work is practically on a full accreditation basis with the University of Washington. Any student doing college work at Whitworth may transfer to the University of Washington with full recognition. It is the same as the administration of Whit­ worth College at all times to maintain a high scholastic standard. Additional to the equipment and the teaching staff are constantly being made. Full advantage is being taken of the equipment at hand and high standards of instruction are always maintained.

Courses are so arranged at Whitworth College that a student may do at least the first two years of college work leading to a professional degree such as medicine, law, and other professions.

EARLY BIRD GETS WORM

Whitworth may find it necessary to adopt the new fifteen-minute parking ordinance to take care of the traffic problem.

When the bus service was discontinued, students were thrown upon their own initiative for transportation to and from the college; and as a result, one may see blue cars, green cars, black cars, red cars, even Purdies and motorcycles—all vying with each other for certain parking places.

It's just another case of the early bird getting the worm.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE AUXILIARY

The Whitworth College Auxiliary will hold its Annual Membership Rally in the Women's Reception Hall on the Whitworth College Campus, Monday, October 19, at 2.00 p.m. All women interested in Christian Education are invited to attend this rally. An entertainment program has been arranged, and tea will be served.

At this meeting the program for the year will be outlined and specific objectives adopted.

COLLEGE AUXILIARY GIVES ANNUAL TEA

More Than 100 Women Enjoy Program and Refreshments

Members of the Whitworth Women's Auxiliary gave their annual tea at the college Monday, October 19.

Mrs. E. W. Mrs. Soltau, chairman, presided at the short business meeting at 2 o'clock, at which more than one hundred women were present.

It is the custom of the Auxiliary to raise as much money as possible during the year in order to help Whitworth college and students. Of unusual interest was the special meeting called on October 28 at which $525 was approved for new books for the college library. Also for students' benefit, the Auxiliary is planning a silver tea for the next regular meeting, on November 16, at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Pursey. The proceeds will be used toward completing the set of dishes used in the women's reception hall.

Two dozen cups and plates were presented by the Whitworth girls on October 19, and Dr. Frank R. Pursey was accepted as the first honorary life member of the auxiliary.

After the adjournment of the last regular business meeting at the college, a delightful program was presented by Misses Stella Kinder, Helen Wilson, Florence A. Cheesman, and Mrs. Soltau.

The numbers were:

- Solo—Morning Wind        Brown Bird Singing       Barrie
- Solos—Claire McLeod, Florence A. Cheesman, Merrill Wilson, Clarinet, and Mrs. Soltau.
- Choir—The Glory of God in Nature

Football Team to Leave for Tacoma, Friday, November 13

To Play Pacific Lutheran College at Tacoma Stadium

Players Not Yet Chosen

Football Special To Be Provided; Round-Trip Ticket $8.00

The football team will leave Friday, November 13, for Tacoma, where they will play the Pacific Lutheran college at the Tacoma stadium Saturday, November 14.

The Great Northern is sending a football special to the W. C. D. of W. game, and the railroad has offered Whitworth a special car, which will be switched to the Empire Builder at Seattle and given one to Tacoma. Whitworth students who desire to make the trip to Tacoma may get the special train for $3.60. The train leaves Spokane Tuesday night and gets back on Sunday morning, November 15.

According to the contract drawn up between the coaches of the two colleges, Whitworth is to make the trip to the coast this year, and a return game will be played in Spokane in 1932.

The Pacific Lutheran college has a student body of about 500, and its football team has a fine record.

The players who are to make the trip have not been definitely selected, but Karl Rupp, '29, has just returned to his studies in Berkeley college, California, and is already showing unusual interest.

Four companies are preparing for the concert work in the neighboring territory this season; various lectures and entertainments are contemplated; the Philomel club is planning a concert for a date very soon, and Prof. Gottfried Herbst is training the Philomel orchestra for the greatest work in their history.

The Philomel club, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Furness, is already arranging unusual interest. The Art club and the Philomel orchestra have already met this season, and another such entertainment is expected every month in the college year in the programs.

The Announcements will soon be made of tentative characters for more of the plays, and dates for giving them.
IT'S THE SPIRIT THAT COUNTS

The success of any organization depends upon spirit, and college is no exception. If our college life is to bring returns the attitude of both the students and the faculty must be right.

At Whitworth the spirit is admirable. Instead of cliques here and there, quarreling, and failure to enjoy what college life has to offer, there is congeniality, co-operation; and an appreciation of college life.

The faculty have shown interest in all that the students have undertaken and are uniting with the students in an effort to make every phase of every activity as interesting and pleasant as possible. As a result, we find our college pushing forward and reaching out to bigger and better things. Yet, the year has just begun.

Let's let our school spirit increase and abound; let's co-operate with the faculty as they are co-operating with us; let's make our college the most progressive in the country!

THE SENIORS LIGHT THE WAY

The senior class of '30 said, "Let there be light" and lo! there is light.

The new lamps given to the college by the graduating class last June were installed on the entrance gate posts, and they will do a great deal to advertise the college.

The college is so far from the highway that the passing motorists had no way of knowing how Whitworth is progressing. Now, when they pass, they are immediately attracted by the lights and drive in to investigate.

It is an accepted advertising axiom that when the interest is aroused the battle is over.

OFF 'n ON

Today's Off' n On is dedicated to the senior class of 1930 and at Old Mother Hubbard, whom we congratulate as Father of Depreciation.

Come, fellow cooks, gather round the fireside. Some day all you be in bread lines. But even there your college education will be of value. You will be able to get in college-bred lines.

Just as Madame Hubbard's Frigidaire has a bottle for her dog (you will recall that all she had to offer him was two ice-cubes), so are, too, here of ideas for Off 'n On. Here is mind, perhaps barren.

Now that the atmosphere is sufficiently Fugnet, reach for your eat fat food. We have found the secret of eating in O.F.F. 'n ON that are Very Late 1929 Model, Slight­ly Used, Almost Good as New.

My girl is backward—she's as shy and sensitive as Gains Success at Student Body meeting," writes Hugo (open name to Frances N.)

"This girl won't have your ways unless she has a lot to eat," he continues, "I think I'll have to make a change. I'll go with some girl in the Glee Class. They don't eat between meals."

Editor's conclusion: They are not supposed to eat between meals.

All of which is sufficient provocation to dust off the one (somebody) who says: "Feed a cold, and starve a fever, and why is it that my girl always has a cold?"

Readers, how about a few letters to Off 'n ON on the subject "Classroom Yawns, and how I Stifie Them." You know what most of you are. It would be a shock to take a Liberal Arts Course just because you don't like the sound of the name. But you散文—go on a spree—contribute to the humor column.

Before locking the Off' n One, allow us to mention the famous German schoolgirl, Herr Kutt. Says Miss Kutt: "I look back on the day that every time I read a Klasenhammer Kid I count on my outside reading." O. O.

Campus Cuttings

THE REIGN OF EMPEROR EUGENIA is weakening, and the girls on the campus are "rolling their own."

The depression is being noticed in more ways than one. Dark colors are becoming popular with the men of the college.

Even soap and water-cost money. Some freshman men from the dormitory, venturing forth, without their traditional green caps, found that the 'vw' club works on Saturday afternoons.

Pictures of the Pirate Party are on the bulletin board. They are cheap at twice the price. We'll probably never see Dean Hardwick in that condition again.

Teacher—"Prank, what is a caninal?"

"Don't know, mum."

"An object to get that girl to smoke?"

"No, but she doesn't smoke."

PROFESSOR SOLTAN TALKS

Says Teachers Too Often Lend. "Helping Hand"

Professor David L. Soltan was one of the principal speakers at the mathematic section meetings of the Washington Education Association, Thursday, October 14.

The topic assigned for the meeting was, "What Should Be The Nature and Amount of Mathematics Available For Preparation Outside the Class Room for the College-Bred."

Miss Kate Bell, Evenaver, Wolseley, Senator, and Professor Soltan in college.

Professor Soltan believes that, if a student is to secure a thorough knowledge of one subject, two hours outside preparation is the minimum he should allow for the subject must learn to work rapidly and accurately, and independently. Thus, Professor Soltan says, can best be accomplished outside the class room, where the temptation of extending a helping hand is often too strong for the student. Professors who can arrange for training all students to receive these training, may the student later accomplish the examination of mathematics:

1. A definite factual knowledge of mathematical laws and principles.

2. An acquired facility in the handling of the mathematical processes in the solution of specific problems.

3. An appreciation of the interrelations of mathematics with other subjects; an historical perspective of the subject itself; and a fair estimate of the relative importance of different departments of mathematical knowledge.

ELIZABETH BURNETTE IS EDITOR OF WHITWORTHIAN

Miss Elizabeth Burnette, former associate editor, has been selected editor of The Whitworthian for the coming year.

Miss Marion Dresser will also help to write the columns of the new edition.

Other editors are these: News editor, Margaret Johnson; society editor, Olive Davis; business manager, Jack Mott; humor editor, Merritt Winsan.

A business manager has been retained as business manager. Carl Dien has been engaged as business man.

The reporters are: Hugh Bronson, Margaret Larson, Margaret Johnson, Margaret Herri, Betty Hesters, Hazel Belcher, Dorothy Hool, Arthur Roberts, John Nordmark, Blanche Lerner, Margaret Winsan, Margaret Hie, Henry Schommer, and Mrs. Lurley Hopkins.

Miss Magill continues as faculty advisor to the paper.

PREF-MINISTERIAL GROUP

ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Hugh Bronson was elected president, and David Glenn, secretary-treasurer, by the members of the ministerial association for the coming year.

The meetings are held every Tuesday and Thursday, and Saturday, and talk is given by one of the members. The members: are invited to develop talent, to aid in supplying pulpits, and to improve Sunday school workers.

Dr. W. C. Worthington is advising.

Membership of the group is as follows: Alice Marquardt, Harold Nelsen, Arthur Stenson, Margaret Larson, Margaret Winsan, David Glenn, Eugene H. Kendall, T. C. McGovern, Forrest Traweek, Hugh Bronson, Marguerite Hall, and Edward Nelson.

ODD PEOPLE SEEN AT COLLEGE PARTY

Harold Slater Wins Prize for The Costume

Clowns, gypsies, witches, ghosties, darkies, and all the other peculiar people that appear at Halloween time gathered in the dimly lighted gymnasium last Saturday evening for the annual all-college Halloween party.

The gym was decorated effectively with corn stalks and pumpkins. Indirect lighting created the proper Halloween atmosphere.

The prize for the best costume was awarded to a queer-looking darky man, who is Harold Slater on week days.

Pumpkin pie and cider were served and after-dinner music was furnished by two unusual banjo players.

The committee responsible for the entertainment was: Frank Miller, Elma Ladd, John Nordmark, and Dorothy Hood. The decorations were in charge of Forrest Travallie, Bob Green, Zelma Boulger, Fred Marquand, Olive Clark, and Alice Carr. Mr. Jenner assisted with the lighting.

MISS MARGARET JAMISON GIVES HALLOWEEN PARTY

A group of Whitworth students and friends attended a Halloween party at the house of Miss Margaret Jamison on Saturday, October 21. The main feature of the evening was a treasure hunt, the group being divided into several parties. Hanitsman creek valley and the tourist camp were thoroughly canvassed for the coveted prize which was hidden under the driveway near the swimming beach. Miss Jamison led the group in several other games, and Miss Delma Coffman played the piano. She sang several selections from "Sonias," the operetta given last spring.

Refreshments in Halloween colors were served.

Those who attended were Leta Mae Malt, Dorothy Hood, Evelyn and Dorothy Chapman, Delma Coffman, Beth Patterson, Clarence Smith, Forrest Travallie, Kenneth Knoll, Wayne and Walter Hawker, Glover Patterson, and Harry Bothwell.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR SOPHOMORE LAKELY PARTY

Plans are being made for a sophomore party to be held at Owen Picture's cottage at Loon lake, November 21.

The following committees have been appointed: Date: Ray Lavender, Olive Clark, Walt Petch; Food: Vivian Jordan, Clarence Smith, Margaret Johnson, Lucille Dunn, Margaret Tell, Patricia Lawton, Geraldine Grant, Gordon De Poe, Mary Borden Cairns, Genevieve Call, and Henry Schenker, Fred Buss.

KIO KIO KLOUB MEETING SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

A meeting of the Koo Koo Klub was called last Wednesday in chapel.

The membership of this society appears to be shrouded in mystery but a select group of Whits business men have been looking at the new building. It will be noted that the initials of this group are K. K. K. as in the case of the Ki Ki Klub. We are looking forward to hearing more of this organization.

FRESHMAN PARTY SUCCESS

Priscilla Mann's Cottage Is Used For the Occasion

"Hot dogs, right this way to get your hot dogs!" The freshman class heard the call, and responded to Priscilla Mann's invitation to her cottage at Loon lake, Saturday, October 24.

A huge bonfire was built on the beach; and under the influence of a few moon and cool air, hot dogs, doughnuts, potato chips, and coffee, disappeared with alacrity. One enterprising clarion player even brought his dog—just in case the crowd got hungry and exceeded the number of dogs available!

Miss Mann was, of course, the guest of honor. The rear of her house, unfortunately, had become the scene of a fansy square dance.

An addition to the garage is being built for the cars belonging to the instructors on the campus.

A selfy, pull and a track meet featured the voluntary fellowship party which was held in Friday evening, October 9, in the college dining room in honor of the freshman and sophomore members. The group was divided into four competing teams, each composed of four new and old members.

The track meet, the piano became the center of attraction, and end joined in singing familiar songs.

A former student of Whitworth, Miss Julia Stuckard, sailed for China, Tuesday, September 26. She leaves in Tacoma to go as a missionary to China.

Arrangements for the "Dad" and "Mom" days have been indefinitely postponed because of a full schedule.

MUSICAL ART PROGRAMS OF EXCEPTIONAL INTEREST

The Musical Art Society of Spokane is to present August Werner, baritone, November 12. Auguste Gaboriau will be his accompanist.

The Cornish striking quartet was heard Tuesday evening, October 11, in the college chapel. The Cornish quartet has been thoroughly enjoyed by the many attentive listeners.

These musical events being both educational and entertaining it is hoped the whole campus will enjoy the programs.

CHARLES WHERRY HAYS

February 28, he was married to Miss Carrie Johnson, at Whittier, California.

Dr. and Mrs. Hays therefore set about trying to return to their old homes, and spend the greater part of the time with their children and grandchildren, Hays and Jean Johnson, at Greensboro, N. C.

The evening journey of "Topyo" continued to visit Chicago; Toledo; Pittsburg, Washington, Pa.; Washington, D. C.; many places of interest in North Carolina; Greensboro; St. Louis; Kansas City and vicinity; Topeka; Denver; and Salt Lake City; and to enjoy this past summer's record heat and many thunder showers. It was a real visit. Everybody there was with magnificent trees and with excellent auto roads, which made it possible to see it all in comfort.

There were many places of interest in North Carolina; great cotton mills, hornsey mills, tobacco fields and wonie houses, and log cabins curving at the roadside. Of as great interest was the place where the spots that Dr. and Mrs. Hays saw was the Revolutionary battle field of Guilford with its old monuments commemorating the battle between the forces of Cornwallis and Greene, where Cornwallis won, but at the same time gave the surrender to Yorktown. At Winston Salem in the old Moravian college with its buildings from the days of the Revolu- tion, and its historic cemetery where the great Episcop al divinity services are held each year. At Durham Dr. and Mrs. Hays saw the magnificent new Duke university buildings, on which many millions of dollars are being expended.

There are in North Carolina these are colleges for whites and blacks, and these are in much to be done so that all may enjoy life at its best.

In Chicago, Dr. and Mrs. Hays spent eleven hours with Dr. and Mrs. Tiffany, formerly of Whitworth. They were much interested in hearing about all the changes and growth of the college and the student life and the students.

In Graford, Miss Hays worked hard in the summer heat, building a play house, 10 x 18 feet for educational and entertainment of great value. Six concerts yet remain this season, and student tickets may be purchased for $1.50.

MISS OBERHOLSER SPEAKS

Says Practical Advice Should Be Given to Students

"The Adaptation of the Biological Sciences to the Social and Economic Needs of the Inland Empire" was the subject discussed by Miss Ethel Oberholser at the last session of the Washington Educational Association, which convened at the Lewis and Clark High School, Friday, October 30. "Science" was the general topic for this section, at which short talks on chemistry, geology, zoology, physics, and biology were also presented.

In her talk, Miss Oberholser said, "Biology should give the student an appreciation of the aesthetic, an inspiration from the world of living things, and a close association with the life about him."

She stated that freshman biology courses are too often planned for the pre-medical students or for students who will become biologists, and not for the majority who will never study biology again. "If the students are given a practical working education of the animals and plants in the introductory course, their interest in living things will be maintained later in life."

It has been said, "The youth of today knows cars."

In comment upon this statement, Miss Oberholser said that if it is amusing how few people are interested in the biological aspects of food, that the worms in vintages; the larvae in flies, the source of tapeworm infection, or trichina and its prevention and its remedy.

"In the Inland Empire we have an excellent field for study, and there are many parasites that are of great economic importance." The parasite which has been attracting the most attention and interest lately is the blister rust that attacks the white pine. Of special interest concerning local plant parasites, was the visit which Miss Oberholser made to the Chamber of Commerce. She received some very interesting information and suggestions, and a promise of preserved specimens for the white pine blister rust, and of pictures of interest to her botany class. A representative from the department of pathology will speak to the botany class later in the year.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLASS IS TO HOLD FOOD SALES

Pies, cream puffs, devil's food cake, cookies, mock chicken licks, and other good things to eat will soon be available to Whitworth students. The Domestic science class, under the leadership of Miss Oberholser, has nearly completed plans for food sales on Tuesdays and Thursdays in McMillan Hall during the lunch hour.

The women will soon be ready to take orders for special cakes and hot dishes, such as chowders and soups. Later in the year they plan to be prepared to do some catering. The proceeds will be reserved for equipment in the cooking department, such as a few ranges, irons, and dishes.

EXTRA SESSION FOR MOTHERS AND DADS

Parents Are Entertained by Faculty and Students

Mothers' and dads' night at Whitworth college was carried out on Friday evening, December 4, for the first time in the college-dining room to 175 mothers, dads, professors and students. A varied program of orchestral music, choral numbers, and dramatic readings, was presented in the chapel. Members of the band visited the class rooms of their sons and daughters to hear about the work done in their classes. The young women and the young men who live in the dormitories opened their rooms for inspection to the visitors who might see how Whitworthians live when away from home.

Evelyn Chapman was general chairman of the arrangements. Following are the committees which worked under her direction to make mothers and dad's night an enjoyable occasion:

Program: Janet Williams, Harold Eastlake, Evelyn Hoyt, Arthur Roberts, Mayo Van Anstron, Genevieve Wilson, Helen Wilson, Alice Carr, Mary Bennison.

Chairs and Table: Stanley Ayers, chairman; Marjorie Dale, Bob Nordmark, Hedley Vickers, Al Strung, Lester Harvey, Harvey Long, Charles Amplewull.

Table Posters: Alice Carr.

Transportation: Galene Sutherland.

Kitchen: Bill Datt.

Serving: Florence Baker, chairman; Darrell Tilden, Elsie Rhoades, Virginia Kear, Florence Gosney, Eleanor Hanski, Mabel Boudewyns, Mary Borden Grain, Frances Pirrye, Betty Jahn, Dorothy Mann, Mark, as nearly every woman in the college was carried out on dads, the class rooms were visited. The visitors might see how Whitworthians live when away from home.

Chairs: Janet Williams, Harold Eastlake, Evelyn Hoyt, Arthur Roberts, Mayo Van Anstron, Genevieve Wilson, Helen Wilson, Alice Carr, Mary Bennison.

During the supper hour an instrumental trio comprised of Minna Gorenc and Helen Wilson, and Merrill Winem, gave continuous entertainment.

At the close of the supper period, Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president of the college, gave the following address:

Dr. Sullivan: "The Whitworth library is a nucleus of excellent books and several hundreds of standard magazines. During the term of 1930-31, the Whitworth Students' Auxiliary gave one thousand books to help in the standardization of our library. Many good books were added to the library and several have been added to the collection.

We have an excellent selection of magazines, among which are Harper's Bazaar, Good Housekeeping, the current magazine, the National Geographic, the Home Beautiful, and many treat the arts and sciences.

Approximately 800 students use the library every week, and in these days of greatest need it is rooms for students with a separate library to accommodate our rapidly growing student body."

HOME COMING BANQUET IS BIG EVENT; SUCCESS DUE TO MANY COMMITTEES

Three readers, Miss Vivian Jordan, Miss Caralyn Harron, and Miss Genevieve Wilson, were presented in chapel during the month of November.

Miss Jordan was introduced on the Academy Day program, Miss Harron made a patriotic selection entitled "The Man I Love," and Miss Wilson read a selection entitled "Liza."

WHITWORTH COLLEGE

Whitworth College, in its eighteenth year, with an increased student body and increased faculty, with several new courses this year available to its students, and with the largest enrollment of its history, is to be congratulated. The record of the college has been one of going constantly forward although frequently against great obstacles; and this should be, and no doubt is, a matter of pride and pleasure to all of the undergraduates and the alumni.

There is pride to the city of Spokane. As president of the Chamber of Commerce, in offering you felicitation, I realize that we also are to be congratulated. Whitworth College brings material benefits to our city and our business men through its own expenses and the expenses of its students and faculty. But, however, are the cultural profits which we now reap, which we shall increasingly harvest as you grow. Spokane has many advantages, many beauties. It needs, besides, all the influence for the finer things; and the development of the arts of living that an excellent educational institution can give to its citizens. ERIK A. JOHNSTON, President Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

“What a beautiful campus!” Visitors at Whitworth college invariably pay tribute to the surroundings of the college building, which is one of the attractive features of the environment at Whitworth.

The view from the entrance to McMillan hall is beautiful. The wide expanse has just enough curve to give breadth and depth to the picture. The green covering is relieved of any monotony by the abundance of trees. The light green of the lawn and the dark green of the foliage mixed with the brown of the tree trunks give a color combination which is pleasing to the eye and restful to the sense. The entire campus seems to be possessed with the spirit of quietness and peacefulness. Three little to the left is a fountain sending forth its many small streams, which rise only a few feet and fall to the pool beneath, which is set amid rocks and shrubs. Near the fountain is a bench which invites the visitor to contemplate the beauty of the setting.

The lower part of the trees stir a little from a breeze which is passing. A squirrel stands up and looks all around and then chrips as he runs off toward a tree which he has seen. His home is not on the campus, but he has come in search of pine nuts which the pine cones hide within themselves. Quietness and peacefulness reign there, and yet it is a part of the picture.

Snow comes. The atmosphere has changed in appearance, yet the restful quiet prevails. Some of the trees have lost their foliage, but those pine trees remain evergreen, yet getting richer color to the wintery surroundings. The snow forms a beautiful white blanket, as if the grass and other vegetation had been tucked away for the winter. That white blanket which seems so pure and so clean lifts one off the ground. It is a bit chilly standing there now. The visitor will want to go inside. As he takes a prolonged last look, seeming reluctant to leave, he will savor of a beautiful campus.

WHY DO WE STUDY ENGLISH?

What do we get from it?

Why do you study English, and what do you get from it?

In the various courses in literature at Whitworth college, the students are taught to think, to reason, not as a “sine qua non,” but as a stimulus to further thought. They are taught that literature is a means of vicarious experience, and that one may satisfy, at some little on one’s activity if one has books. The students who really desire to become well-educated persons believe the following:

1. Literature is a source of recreation.
2. Study of English literature inspires a desire for the things of value.
3. Literary study furnishes a rich cultural background of ideas.
4. Literary study develops the imagination.
5. Literary study should give an increased quality of the English language.
6. Literary study should teach one to observe keenly, and to see some significance in things.
7. Puns: ordinary novels hold the greatest attraction for many persons, but the real road is paved by the great fund of knowledge, for it is said, "A good book for fifteen minutes a day would be a highly prized person, whether he was a college graduate or not.

THOUGHTS OF A SOPHOMORE

This is our annual picture, friends, and we hope you like it. It is, we believe, a splendid example of our theme simplicity of modernistic art.

Proof: Hang picture with title at bottom, with title at left side, and place at top, and with title at right side. If the picture looks just as good in one of these positions as another—and ours for that matter—then proves that it is modernistic art.

POEMS OF FORMER STUDENT RECEIVED BY MISS MAGILL

Recently Miss Magill received the following poems, written by a student in one of her classes at South Dakota State Teachers College last summer:

DROUGHT

The long bill slopes in the sun, the ribbon of dusty road crawls through the trees, the leaves unroll and then stand still, their leaves salutant, and the still lips slowly without mirth through the drying morn.

Nature is silent and ajar;

The sun flings his banner of heat afar,
The night settles somberly, and the stars are torches of flame in the sky.

—Emma Jones Sawyer.

FOG

Below in the valley, stretching from shore to shore, a fleecy cloud of mist veils the many-meads scene.

On Nature’s breast,

A shining sea of mystery prevails. Lifts and folds against the mountain sides, it weaves the mountain crest.

A storm-beaten island in a lake of gray remains.

The rising sun, with delicate fingers, tented the pear with gold, and turns the silver, fold on fold, to molten metal.

Softly the caressing arms of the fog circle the sacred valley in its sheltering embrace, and lays the tender lips upon Earth’s tortured face.

—Emma Jones Sawyer.

WHO’S WHO

In the Senior Class

One of the outstanding members of the senior class is Hugh Bronson, who entered Whitworth from the Whitworth Preparatory school in September, 1928.

Illness in December of 1929 necessitated Mr. Bronson’s withdrawal from college for the remainder of that school year. He re-entered as a freshsman in September, 1932. He stayed all of college again during the year 1938-39, and re-entered this fall as a senior in the Bible department.

Following is the list of the senior class at Whitworth:

Mr. Panels Connor and Miss Eible Oberhoser drove to Couer d’Alene on Saturday, November 21.
MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN AT LUNCHEON

Students Perform for Chamber of Commerce Meeting

PREP. SULLIVAN TALKS

Letter of Appreciation Received from President of Chamber of Commerce

Whitworth college held the luncheon on the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Tuesday, November 10. The orchestras, general numbers, Owen Picton sang a solo, and a double quartet sang.

Dr. Ward W. Sullivan, president of Whitworth, was the principal speaker. Dr. Sullivan has received many compliments on his address and the program presented. Among these is a letter from Mr. H. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, expressing appreciation for the interesting presentation.

The musical part of the program was presented by the double quartet under the direction of Mr. B. Soltan, head of the department of music. The following numbers were presented as follows:

Wellてきた, Song Without Words…Technikuza Tennis, and Clarinet Duet
Norma…Il′s and Ou′s Pilgrim′s Chorus…Wagner:

Orchestra

Vocal Solo: A Russian Lament

Owen Picton

Francisco, accompanied by Del Riego

The personnel of the orchestra was:

Director, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; pianoforte, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; violin, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; viola, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; clarinet, Marvin Wilson; violin, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; oboe, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; drums, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; piano, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; and minor, Harold Nelson, Owen Picton, Merritt Winans.

Dr. Sullivan in his address, which followed the foregoing program, impressed the audience with the fact that "Whitworth college is a growing institution, and the work done in a gradual but substantial growth has been taken place in all phases of the college. Changes have been made in the department and have been used to bear out his statements."

The personnel was:

chorus director, Mrs. Grace B. Soltan; choral director, Mrs. Mary Borden Crain, Eleanor Gokee, May Ward Blaisdell, and Helen Wilson, Mary Bor, and Sanila Harmon Nelson, Owen Picton, Merritt Winans.

Mr. Soltan in his address, which followed the program presented by the double quartet, spoke of the students, their progress and the future of the college.

The report of the club 9, developed under the direction of Mr. Soltan, and Mr. Bradford started out a la mode in search of another Whitworthian Winans on the headliners and Mr. Bradford at the controls, the group proved furtive, and the desperate music was forced to call a lasso. Instead of following the program was made up of the men. It was indeed a splendid music. These concert numbers which they played were my favorites.

"You take this girl, and I'll take that one!" was heard above muffled laughter in the hall of the women's dormitory last Tuesday morning soon after the key strummers. Who could be after the girls of McCollum?

Sharon's was a singing and strumming down the hall in both directions. Rooms were entered; bangs were heard; then grunts, and girls' voices objects rushed from certain rooms. For a few minutes there was silence, followed by an outburst of laughter, which was confused laughter as if they really could not serve as a reason. No! It is by being entered, only one of these a choice few — and a few white.

In the rooms of the upperclassmen could be heard utterances of satisfaction, of anger, of joy, of gloom, of mirth, of being awakened. Not all the上面 were put back together soon after so many were going. For the next breakfast time one girl could be seen sleeping peacefully between the wall and the springs of an unkept bed. Not the upper women could not completely satisfied until they were being awakened. They said that the victim were able to walk as well as before.

"The most important service which Whitworth college can render to this community is to provide this community with the right kind of leadership. The position of any community college is that the business and the community will largely depend upon the leadership of its community; and the leadership of leadership in this community will be determined in a large measure by the adequacy of the institutions of higher learning to serve the youth of the community.

CLASS IN JOURNALISM

WRITES FEATURE STORIES

It is one minute to 12 o'clock, and the program is scheduled to begin at 12 sharp. The microphones are in place and the crowd is beginning to be gathered, for it is a gathering of all women who have reached the majority age from their duties to attend the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

But there is panic among the orchestra members, who can be seen picking nervously at their "A" strings or fiddling with their empty stands. The third car, bearing the distinguished schoolphone, has not yet arrived. Orders have been issued to "Do something!" but what to do? To play music? Nah, but here are the books they were expecting to see in the double quartet that is to sing later. The books are distributed and a number of songs, random and just, as the minute hand ticks on the clock scan up to 12, four violins, a cellist, and a pianist take a big breath and plunge into a number, praying the parts as best they can.

It is an arrangement for chorus work, and the four staves are crotcheted to one instrumental, but oddly the tempo is slow — surely the rest will arrive before it is over. But the rest is not far away; there are less than four measures in the second verse left to play. It is complicated, and they are confused. Well, select a second number, and the number isn't much better as good as another. And so they continue on until another finally there is a commotion at the door, and Mr. Merritt Winans, and Mr. Charles Bradford enter with ruddy cheeks and the orchestra clicks.

The report is that car No. 3 developed motor trouble, and the car and Mr. Bradford started out a la mode in search of another Whitworthian Winans on the headliners and Mr. Bradford at the controls, the group proved furtive, and the desperate music was forced to call a lasso. Instead of following the program was made up of the men. It was indeed a splendid music. These concert numbers which they played were my favorites.

HEADS HONOR ROLL

Quarter Honors Go To Senior Class—Sophomore Class

The names of 26 students have been placed on the Whitworth college honor roll for the first quarter.

These are as follows: Charlotte Slater, Dorothy Moore, Chester Glenn, Florence Fierst, Winans, Mary Horton Crain, Janet Williams, David Glenn, Clifton Johnson, Leta Maier, Burke Tilden, Mrs. Daigle, Myrl Gill, Gladys Hanson, Margaret Titcomb, Charles Bensel, Faith Hilas, Victor, Travaille, and Martell Hanson, Eleanor Gokee, Helen Wilson, Mary Bor, and Sanila Harmon Nelson, Owen Picton, Merritt Winans.

The grade point system is used in determining the honor students, and honors are not granted to students carrying less than 12 hours of work. Students that received honors went to the seniors, who had an average of 2.9 grade points, sophomores, average 2.2 grade points, juniors 2.0, and seniors 1.8.

Men's Basketball

The new basketball coach at Whitworth college, Milt Benjamin, was greeted by a squad of fourteen men, and the call had been issued on November 20 for men interested in this sport.

This year's team will be composed of the men who have shown interest in the sport during the past year, and the following are the probable members of the team: Charles Moore, Ernie Paulsen, Sterling Ross, Paul Wills, John Jordan, Johnathan, and Charles Picton, Sterling Ross, Charles Moore, Ernie Paulsen, Sterling Ross, Paul Wills, John Jordan, Johnathan, and Charles Picton.

As you can see, the team is very strong, and there is no doubt that it will probably be played by Cheney, Lewiston, and several independent and commercial teams.

Radio Program

Football at Whitworth was featured in a fifteen-minute radio program over KGW November 10. The program was made up of a introduction, and the following are the probable members of the team: Charles Moore, Ernie Paulsen, Sterling Ross, Paul Wills, John Jordan, Johnathan, and Charles Picton.

As you can see, the team is very strong, and there is no doubt that it will probably be played by Cheney, Lewiston, and several independent and commercial teams.

Social Science Course

OUTLINED BY MR. HUBBING

In the Social Science course offered at Whitworth college, a theoretical approach is presented as a thorough practical application is emphasized.

These courses are divided into two divisions: Sociology and Economics.

Sociology may be defined as "the science of human relations." It is the study of the social behavior of man, in any aspect of social relationships, and in any vocation.

Sociology and business administration the following are courses are offered:

1. The Principles of Economics.
2. Economics of Marketing.
3. Economics of Science.
5. Business Administration.

The study of sociology and social science of the business administration of businesses and students of commerce have been exposed to these courses and have been at the basis of a student's life program. The courses are offered in the fall and spring quarters, and the work is under the direction of Professor H. L. Haysom.

DRAMATICS AT WHITWORTH DISCUSSED BY MR. ADAMS

Professor William E. Adams, head of the speech department, has prepared an interesting statement concerning the work that is being done at Whitworth.

Professor Adams said:

"Although not primarily a dramatic school, Whitworth college has in line with the movements of learning of this age, in social science and other fields, seen the development of speech in general as being the most important of all educational activity.

The study of speech and body control are needed beyond the mental training of the past that has too often disregarded them; and we now see that the exposure of serious emotional reaction and control, and these can come only from clearer and more vivid thinking.

"Bryan W. Ring used to say: 'We educate the minds of men and send him out to preach the Gospel.' Then he would explain that college work had to do with the accumulation of facts and the development of the power to present them, been neglecting too often the training of the human heart, with the result that every organ of our body is used: anatomy, astronomy, etc.; the development of the imagination (as seen in the dance and the drama and art in general); the growth of the affectional tone (as seen in the dramatics and the social sciences).

"In order to do this, the training for speech and dramatics gives an opportunity for proper development of the mind, and if it is largely from any other line of study, we have introduced a full course with practical dramatics and oral speaking and English, that thoroughly trained the students in the work of any nature, and as a teacher for school and community dramatics."
STUDENT COACH PRESENTS PLAY
Miss Dorothy Moore's Presentation is Well Received

CHARACTERIZATION GOOD
Mr. Adams Pleased With Work of Coach and Cast

Burrett's charming romance, "Seeing Through the Century," was presented Saturday evening, December 5, at 8 p.m., in the auditorium. Mr. Adams has been working on this play for several weeks, and the students of physics have been particularly interested in the plot. The presentation was an excellent one, and the students were well pleased with the work of the coach and cast.

WEATHER FORECAST TO BE DAILY TO WHEATON

The United States weather bureau, department of agriculture, Spokane, will send to the department of physics and engineering every day a weather map. This arrangement has been made by Professor David Lo. Soltau, head of the department of physics and engineering. The weather maps will be distributed to all students of the college, and the department of agriculture will be kept informed of the weather conditions at all times.

CURRENT REPORT

Two months ago I made a pre-New Year's resolution, resolved to read every morning the Whitworthian and to read at least one article from that magazine daily. In my opinion, this has been an invaluable experience, and I am sure that a student can read. Following are a few examples:

Strange as it may seem, a college student finds time to do his work, to keep up his grades, and to enjoy life. The truth of the matter is that there is only one way to study. The college student has only a few hours a day to study, and he must make the most of them. The student who wants to succeed must learn to make the most of his time, and this is the only way to do it.

But to get to the matter of the education itself, every student wants an education. I haven't had enough psychology to speak authoritatively, but I believe that education is the result of the interaction between the student and the teacher. The desire to learn is innate in all humans, and the student who wants to succeed must learn to make the most of his time, and this is the only way to do it.

The latest product of the music department is its new Pep band. The band has been directed by Professor Soltau, and the music is splendid. The band is well directed, and the music is a great success.

The German club was presented in chapel Friday, November 20, in a program of organ and songs.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY GIVES SILVER TEA

More Than 100 Present at Mrs. F. E. Furry's

The Women's Auxiliary of Whitworth college gave a silver tea at the home of Mrs. F. E. Furry on Monday afternoon, November 16. More than one hundred women were present, and about $36 was received. This money will be put in the purchase of flowers for the reception hall.

Receiving were Mrs. F. E. Furry, Mrs. Ward W. Sullivan, Mrs. E. T. Hargrave, Mrs. W. L. Molesworth, Mrs. H. M. Hartford, Mrs. F. Graves and Mrs. Albert A. Arensd.

The young women from the college who assisted with the tea were Frances Furry, Elizabeth Breton, Hazel Hothem, Mabel Scribner, Ethel McCamy, Margaret Johnson, and Ethel Davis.

Margaret Johnson, Frances Furry, Mrs. ina Wright Herbst, and Elizabeth Breton were among those who assisted with the tea.

As a complete surprise to almost everyone at the college, in the Auxiliary was a great surprise, as the tea was the music in the decoration department.

The next regular business meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on December 21 at the Pointaud residence.

HOME ECONOMICS CLASS

MAKE DINNER DECORATIONS

The home economics class was busy during the past two weeks preparing for the giving making decorations for the Thanksgiving dinner. centerpiece of gold-covered ships were made by Mrs. J. M. Anderson, the dormitory dinner were Miss Becker, Miss Magill, Miss Alice Cary, Miss Halyar Kyl, and Miss Estella Baldwin. The afternoon was spent in visiting and in playing chamber.

On Friday evening Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Marian Jenkins, Mrs. Conner, Miss Oberholser, and Mr. Jenner were dinner guests.

Dr. Paul Brown, a well-known Christian Endeavorer, was the keynote speaker of the Thanksgiving service, November 23, for the Sunday evening service. Dr. Paul Brown in the chapel, and the group received the hall to sing hymns in the room lighted by one candle to represent the light of hope. Dr. Brown accompanied the singing with his mandolin.

B. C. NEUSTEL IS DEAD OF SCIENTIFIC MEETING

Professor B. C. Neustel, head of the department of chemical science, Whitworth college, is chairman of the chemistry, chemical physics, and the Northwest Scientific Society, which meets in the Davenport hotel, Spokane, on December 20, and 21, for an annual meeting. The meeting is an annual meeting of the society, which convenes in the same place, and each regular season during the past year, October 20 and 21, m. and 1. p.m., are called, with special addresses by outstanding figures in the field for the meeting. The chemistry-physical section has about seventy members, which form only a part of the membership of the association. Professor Neustel arranges the program for this division. In his position he is doing a work of research, especially in the chemistry department.

Professor Neustel within this past year has been trained for his degree from Washington State college and in connection therewith has been in original research, obtaining a sugar from wheat straw. He is more economical and less expensive than has been known before. This will save money in the interest and a social discussion for the chemistry-physical section.

BIRD NESTS TO BE MET WITH.

A collection of birds' nests was gathered and presented to the biological department of Whitworth college by Mrs. W. W. Borden Crain. In speaking of the collection, Mr. and Mrs. Borden Crain expressed their appreciation of the students of McMillan Hall. The students of McMillan Hall are proud of their collection of bird nests, which is one of the college's greatest achievements.

Miss Ethel L. Oberholser, head of the department of biology science, says that the nests will be of great interest to the class in ornithology. The collection is especially interesting in birds of Washington, and the study of nests is an important part of the course.

The birds building the nests used a variety of materials in their work. Their wool, bark, leaves, plant fibers, pine needles, scrapings, and other materials were used. The nests were made for the vise, a small songbird. Miss Oberholser complimented those who made the collection on doing it at a time when the birds are gone. Sometimes nests are used two years later, but nests made after the first year they are permanently abandoned. Miss Oberholser has also expressed appreciation for the students who are interested in the nests. She suggests that these friends of Whitworth college must be bird lovers.

WINTER SPORTS NOW REIGN

ON WHITWORTH CAMPUS

Winter sports reign on the Whitworth campus. The recent cold wave has cooled the lake, while skating and skiing will make their bid for supremacy as soon as there is more ice on the lakes. Most of the Whitworth skating events will be held on the College Hill Road near the College Hill Road or to the one in Manito park. The skating rink will be available to Coon's Bakery and the Winter Festival club.

The skating rink is being constructed on the Whitworth field and will be ready for use as soon as the dykes are made safe. Mr. Jenner and Mr. Borden Crain are preparing the rink for use. Mr. Jenner and Mr. Borden Crain are preparing the rink for use.

The Whitworth Little orchestra has been formed to play on programs and in the dormitory on any number of performances. The group played at Northport and Post Falls and at the Homecoming week at the Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

The members of the orchestra are, Mr. Jenner, Mr. Borden, Miss E. K. and Estelle Baldwin, Mrs. J. T. and Estelle Baldwin, and Miss Borden.

The orchestra is composed of the interest of the students at Whitworth, and they will be paid for themselves. The course is planned for the hill north of the campus and out onto the lake. PIRATES LOSE TO PACIFIC LUTHERAN

Score Is 26 to 0 on Game Played at Tacoma
TEAM IS OUTWEIGHTED

Whitworthians Only Team To Gain Consistently Through Out Game

Fighting a battle against overwhelming odds, Whitworth college's Pirates, defeated by Pacific Lutheran college in Tacoma by a score of 26 to 0 on November 14. Although outweighed nearly twenty pounds to the man, the Pirates three times reached Pacific Lutheran's 10-yard line, only to lose it by fumbles or downs.

The Pirates are the only team to gain consistently through out Pacific Lutheran's big line this season. Afternoon games with a team that functioned perfectly during the bigger portion of the season, played Pacific Lutheran during the first half at Whitworth, then made five first downs to the Tacoma team's one.

Pacific Lutheran college had a heavy, well-trained, hard-fighting outfit. They scored in every quarter, but three of these touchdowns had to be marked off the line held in crucial moments.

"Red" Carlson, quarterback of Pacific Lutheran, was easily the outstanding man on both offense and defense.

No one could be selected from Whitworth's line-up who played better than his teammates. The teamwork of the whole Pirate squad had to be exceptional to hold such a team as that of Pacific Lutheran.

Bert Schwartz, Pirate quarterback, was the leader whom the opponents fell into fellow about 40 pounds heavier than he. It took four men to take Schwartz from the field. This was a splendid example of the spirit of the Whitworth college team during the game.

All the ingredients were in place for an outstanding performance of the game. One of his passes over to try out the Whitworth twenty-five yard line to the opponent's twenty-five yard line, which was good for a touchdown. His kicking kept them back. Fuchs who played guard, was on his toes during most of the game.

Considering the fact that the Pirates had traveled all night and played the game less than an hour after leaving the train, the Pirates feel that they played their best game of the season.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE IS LOOKING FORWARD TO LARGE MID-YEAR CLASS

Entering Freshman Enrollment is Limited to Twenty Students.

Net Gain of Students Reasonably Insured, States Mr. Bailor.

Whitworth college is looking forward to the largest mid-year class when the new semester opens on Februry 2.

Among the number who will register on February 1 and 2 will be transfer students from, among others, the State Normal school at Cheney, the University of Washington State college, and the University of Alabama. By the standards of the college, transfer group will be many students from Spokane, as much college customee realize the advantages of attending local colleges. The entering freshman enrollment has been limited to twenty new students, but it is expected that at least twenty will be admitted.

Since the first two years in a course in college work are almost identical in all colleges, Spokane people realize that it is cheaper to come to Whitworth than to go elsewhere for two years at least. It is possible in this way to understand the growth in atti-titudes at Whitworth of a time when many other student bodies are falling off because of the great depression.

PIRETTE CLUB TO BRING BACK PEP

New Girls' Organization Makes Initial Appearance on.

Mr. Bailor, principal, told the Miss Jones said: "The Pirette club is much like a service club, an auxiliary to the school in aid of its purposes. We are ready to assist at any affair that can use our help. Already we have aided the western auxiliary in selling luncheon tickets, and we have gone over the entire Whitworth campus in selling tickets for the concert of the Philomel club.

The course of the officers, Miss Jones said: "We were very glad to secure Miss Parelle L. Conner, who is secretary to the president, as our faculty advisor. Other officers are: Captain, Jeanne Walker; Lib., Frances

Clark. second male, Celia Heron. ' The charter members of the club are: Betty Burnette, Oliver Clark, Mary

Borden Clark, Frances Purry, Adele

Keyser, Leta Mae Muir, Dorothy

Morse, Elma Morgan, Charlotte

Slater, Eth Jones, Celia Heron,

Dorothy Hood and Margaret Johnson.

Representatives of the State Board of Education visited Whitworth college on January 11. W. P. Martin, assistant state superintendent, and Jean

Ray, Spokane county superintendent, and W. O. Ryan came to the college in the interest of secondary education.

PIRETTE TO BE BENEFITED BY UNITING OF CHURCHES

The Reverend Dr. Magee, stated clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, has made an ouncement that plans for the union of the Presbyterian and the United Presbyterian churches have so far been completed that the two will become one denomination in 1954. This means much for each church and will be very advantageous for Whitworth college, as it will make our United Presbyterian neighborhoods only larger again, but participation in the work of this college. Although the number of United Presbyterian churches in this region is not large, the quality of the constituency is in the very best and we are glad for this prospect.

MEMORIAL CUP IS GIVEN TO COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. Soltan Present Cup in Memory of James Snider.

Whitworth college does not forget those students who have made it a better place; it does not forget the inspiration and the good will that James Snider gave to his fellow students. Solder is with us no more, but his memory is perpetuated by the James Snider Memorial cup, donated recently by Professor David L. Soltan and Mrs. Blanche Soltan.

The Memorial Cup was presented by the football team judged by his fellow players as having been the greatest inspiration during the season. It is to be engraved upon the cup. This year, because of a six-year handicap was given to both Arthur Roberts and Ray Lavender. Professor and Mrs. Soltan became greatly attached to James Snider while he was staying with them and have taken this means of showing their appreciation of his true worth.

PHILOMEL CLUB GIVES CONCERT

Excellent Program of Vocal and Instrumental Music Presented

An excellent program of vocal and instrumental music was presented by the Philomel club under the direction of fifteen voices, directed by Mrs. David L. Soltan, given a finished performance that showed careful preparation, a double quartet, a men's chorus, and a women's chorus were also presented by the Philomel club.

The program, by Miss Gertrude Herbst, displayed excellent arrangements in the choirs and in its selections. An interesting arrangement of "Green Grow the Laurels," by Barnby, and of "The Swallow," by Sennett, was presented by a brass quartet composed of Charles Brad-

Baker, pianist, and Margaret Johnson, violinist, were presented in instrumental solos.

The evening ended with Philomellian groups, carving and carving in the Scottish dialect and costumes, was cleverly characterized by Beth Cowan, Paul Nelson, and Ennis Smith.

As the intermission feature, a vocal trio composed of Harold Siler, Owen

Jones, and Norman Plunkett, was parodied by Harold Rasbash, piano, and also by the entire chorus. There was a feeling that the event of the evening was the beautiful presentation of the upper brass section.

The officers of the two organizations are as follows: Philomel club:

President, Ray Lavender; business manager, Owen Plouzeau: Orchestra: President, Merritt Winans.

Music: Ada C. Owen.

The Philomel club was founded in 1899.

THE WHITWORTHIAN

MEANING OF "W. C."

In the annals of good form and the practices of fine taste, it is not in keeping to speak too much of one's self; but I want to tell you something about myself. I cannot talk and I cannot listen, yet I am the inspiration of many noble deeds and I am a witness to many things at Whitworth college. I am not a person to see, yet nothing or be done that does not become a part of my character. My experiences have been many: I have been carried to the heights of hilarity with the most popular in, and I have descended to the depths of sedate company. I do not have a human nature, but during the years I have taken on the attributes of human nature. I am not hampered by cold feet and find my face free. You know me and recognize me, yet you have seen only a part of my being. I would have you study me, dream about me, become aware of the possibilities in following my lead. I am "W. C.", the emblem of Whitworth college. My picture is painted on the shield that hangs in the chapel of McMillan hall. My likeness has been reproduced on memory books, on sofa cushions, on jewelry, on the backs of athletes, and more than in any other place, in the hearts of many who come into my presence.

Social science deals with the life of men. Because social science deals with the art of everyday living, it is no small feat to prepare students for life about us that any representative of business or of social service work feels at home in Professor Hsuang's classes at Whitworth. Several prominent speakers have recently addressed the students of social science. Professor W. T. Russell, who gave an address to the class in insurance. He is agent for the Mutual Trust and Life Insurance Company.

Another speaker on insurance was Hernando McKeown, who spoke Tuesday, January 30, Mr. McKeown is the special agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Company of the United States.

In the class in American government and politics, Captain Roy L. Schuyler of the educational division of the United States Navy, as you may well imagine, dominates this section, explained in detail the organization of our country. His lecture, in fact, was uniform, made a fine impression on the students.

Henry Greer, of the firm of Allen, Turner & Greer, who spoke to the economics class Monday, January 22. The building, the Manzle club house, and the Davenport School of Commerce, were all built by Mr. Greer.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Frank Pankhurst, who also finds time to grace the student life of Christian College, with young men, spoke last Wednesday to the class in American Government and Politics. His subject was "The Criminal Law." On last Friday, Prosecuting Attorney C. W. Greenough addressed the same class on the subject of "Federal and State Local Courts."

Another outstanding speaker was Mr. Elmer W. B. Johnson, who spoke at the Old National Bank. His topic was "The Principles of International Relations."

WHITWORTH OFFERS ICE

and WATER FREE OF CHARGE

Free ice and water were special of the services of Whitworth college during the winter season of about 10 days ago. The excellent sitting and waiting, which proved to be a great delight to some of the "growters" of the college, has now been given up by several causers. The most serious, however, were John and Ed, a slightly backed tree by the water victims, is gradually drier and warmer.

OFF 'N ON

BY OFFER OFF

This program, the first move by the college for the purpose of a show game in recent history, is coming to you from Stateline, Montana. The players are Hall Whitworth, known as "The Triple Threat Yugoslavian Juggernaut" (Yugoslavians prefer) and John Stateline, known as "The Multiple Menance Man of the Crooked Valley." These two are playing down here in the alburnum and have been forced to operate in the Giant High School because they find the atmosphere very stimulating to their game.

Stateline has just twitched his bat, a thing so mened and forti, and means that it is not at all unlikely that he will make a move. There is a ten to one that a man of us will wind up the spectacle. Some of them have even stopped surfing.

Stateline, as you know, has been employing a terrific change of pace, moving every 46 minutes instead of every hour, and the release has been forced to punish him for giving him a move two steps ahead. Several times those moves have caught statute, and when I say "caught him napping," I mean "caught him napping."

I tchae has been penalized twice for being roughly, having answered Stateline at Stateline. However, a few things that last can't be avoided in a double game such as the boys are playing here.

I tchae is suffering from a severe charley-horse in the cerebellum, and so far it looks as if he is not quite up to Stateline.

Time lost has just been called, and I shall take this opportunity to give you the little more information about this great chess classic and the players. They are using an innovation in chess equipment which makes it possible to play one entire game with pieces on the board instead of pieces of all the pieces. This is the cedar chest, which can not be destroyed by moths.

Physically, the players in this game are almost equal. I tchae having the upper hand, his position is a bit more than 12 in Stateline's brush. I tchae's usually short stature and his brown skin make him easy for the latter, however, the "Little Brown Duke."

Stateline, who has studied chess in the Crooked Valley, college, became a free-listerman in one week. After two years of work, I tchae is ready to report a change in his address.

As I have seen that chess players sometimes become emotionally deranged, I questioned itches concerning this. "You Yugoslavian chess players," I said, "sometimes—that's well, Yuget muts, isn't that so?"

"It isn't my French," replied I tchae, "but you radio announcers—sometimes Huegner, too, isn't it?"

While talking to I tchae before the game, I asked whether he really enjoyed chess. "Sometimes," he replied. "I am not really born to death. But I keep on playing because I am determined to defend I tchae in the Hall of Fame."

Well, well, I'll bet I listen to a few snappy pokes from the yawners and tell them I'll try to pick the muscle of the C. E. B. string quartet, but in the end I am going to play two school songs, entitled, "We'll Do Write by George Howe," and "Conscience and Correavour School," and "You Can't Beat Us Coaches at Gernan."

The game is resumed now, but I see the timekeeper bowing over his calendar, and yes, there's quite a game going on there, signing us that the seventh day's play is ended.

A zoologist says that animals with the thinnest skulls usually have the thinnest cranial areas, and the best way to work out that way with college boys—Life. . .

We should like to change the slogan of the University of Montana to "Whoever Score's the Fewest Difficulties." It would also be a good idea for the universities to be like the "Whoever makes the Fewest Beanies." It would explain the contributions of the late John Satter, our Pan-Gap-Wash specialist. Mr. Slater's contribution is: "IF YOUR WIFE EATS LINDY; DRINK O. O.

Preparation Here Above Average

Freshmen Have Better Chance Here in Reading and English.

As a group, the freshmen students at Whitworth have a far better preparation for college work in the two years of reading and language instruction than does a freshman group at the average large Western University.

This conclusion was made by Dean Hardwick, who was reviewing with this group of freshmen certain standard adaptable texts on reading.

Dean Hardwick says further: "It is now the custom of higher institutions of learning, perhaps of the United States, not only to base accounts on the high school record but also to give tests on entrance to determine the individual student in such fundamental subjects as reading, ability, vocabulary and English training. Some have a more extensive program of tests and some less.

"The object of these tests is to enable the institution to evaluate the abilities of its students. A college that uses these tests may make a comparison of its students in preparation and caliper with likes qualities of the students of any other institution that makes use of same tests. The average student at the University of Idaho, college is, as usual, a little more advanced in the average student at the University of Montana, college. Students at the University of Idaho, college are no longer used as the yardstick for the University of Montana, college. Student at the University of Idaho, college is, as usual, a little more advanced in the average student at the University of Montana, college. Students at the University of Idaho, college are no longer used as the yardstick for the University of Montana, college.

"If the subjects of reading is taken for comparison, it is found that, if we take the student who has been arranged in order with the highest score among those at the bottom of the highest half of the scores of the Whitworth students are higher than the scores of the highest 25 percent of the University of Idaho. Only 20 per cent of the students of the University of Idaho have the ability in reading that 50 per cent of the Whitworth students possess.

Another comparison may be made between the Whitworth students and the students in the master of their preparation in the essentials of English. In this test, 55 per cent of the students at Whitworth have the record of the best 25 per cent of the University of Idaho.

"Proper attention to it is evident that the scholastic standards at Whitworth are higher in those at the largest universities."

Dr. F. T. Hardwick spoke at the Millwood-Pananda F. A.'s monthly meeting Thursday, January 18. O. C. Pratt, superintendent of Spokane's public schools, and John Shavano, junior high school, were the other speakers on the program. The subjects of the addresses were related; Dr. Hardwick spoke on "Vocational Guidance."
CROSSED WORMS ARRIVE AT WHITWORTH COLLEGE

Better than sword swallows, card tricks, or those who leap out of milk hats, are the little planariae who have arrived from Chicago and are now the guests of Hiram Clarke and his zoology class.

The planariae are flat, slate-worms that have an extraordinary ability to reproduce lost parts. For example, if they are cut in half, the two parts will produce several new planariae, head part, or vice versa; and if they are cut in a longitudinal direction, i.e., each half in the middle of the head of the middle of the tail, each side will produce its own planariae. The first batch of planariae arrived by Miss Oberholtzer on the Friday before the fall term.

Walking the Plank

This department wishes to announce that at the next "open dorm" it is going to refrain from intruding too heavily in the refreshments, especially on the left side of the peanut. After consuming the first batch of peanuts, we reached a Chexlender instead of a sweet.

The last month has brought a trying time for Mr. Neusel in his chemistry class. The death rate of test tubes was not the only thing to worry about, and other glassware has been unavailing.

During the last week the students have been on college walks that the Amalgamated Casting company had invented. A thorough search is being made for the freshman who wanted to know why his fire escape has been removed from McMillan hall.

Although spring is nearly a month away, (Glady's Gilbert is truth) the weather is by no means warm enough to understand the theme line contains: "Here so tall and so handsome, with tall, early hair.

It is rumored that a powerline building is to be organized on this campus. All prospective members must have a high altitude of 150 pounds, and be a member of the cast in Old Testament History.

The visit of Dr. William G. Covert, general secretary of the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church, at chapel on Friday, January 17, was an inspiration to all members of the college.

The County Sunday School Association, Rev. Ray S. Dow, president, will meet on a school during the last of February and the first of March, under the direction of the Board of Religious Education of Chicago. This work is commonly known as the Standard Leadership Training Courses, on the credit basis. Dr. Dow has selected his class to teach the course in Old Testament History.

President and Mrs. Sullivan and Billy, and Dr. and Mrs. Hardwick were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Huns- ter during Christmas vacation.

THE WHITWORTHAN 8

Whitworth Trails

If campus trails could talk, I wonder what they would tell. I wonder whether the history of the class room and the halls would not be dimmed by the foot currents of the years, or whether the trails would carry the weights and the visions of the shouting and the laughter of the people.

In the autumn when the air is snapping, these trails may be worn a little deeper than usual by the feet of several girls, straining to win behind one. This group is usually a happy one, and the trail offers them the beauty of the woods, the freedom of the woods, the peace along the way. Perhaps the glory is doubled by the setting out pouring gold into the cloud-splotched valley, and fading again, while the travelers turn toward the halls.

In the evening a fire may blaze by the side of the trail, or a fire may give warmth to the hands, relieved from the work of the week, and filled with the dreams and merriments of the colleges.

When the winter snows fall, new trails are moulded; and although they are not so frequently travelled, they offer new interests. Who can resist a walk in the moonlight after a basketball half, when all the campus walks like fairies, and the magic shadows stretch their phantom forms across the snow? And who does not expect a gay cooping party down some neighboring hill?

The winter trails are broken, the rains are beaten again, the hikers and strollers are scoured, the rainbow of flowers and by cooling breeze. Perhaps a lone freshman is gloomily walking, unostentatiously walking, in which to practice his ceremony, unostentatiously walking.

Down by the crooked tree happy young hearts are to be found, and precious words are whispered in this old object place. Harriet Groop, who is not so little a changeling as they bow their heads in a taper prayer under the plain.

Summer comes and the trails are deserted, maybe by some transgressor who does not realize that he is walking on those sacred groves. And, although the trails are deserted from year to year by many who have walked them, they are never forgotten and are the most precious memories of college days.

DOTY HOOD

TAPE WORM IS GIVEN TO HITLER'S BULGARIAN LIZARD

A tape worm taken from a child was used to present a demonstration of the new biological weapon to the Bulgarian lizards. The specimen was carefully measured, dissected, and its length was fifteen feet long. This will be a very interesting demonstration to the students in the biology laboratory, and it is well worth observing. It is from these butterflies that the beautiful butterfly fly-wing jewelry and pictures are created.

Time to Spare

When we took the clock census at our house a year ago, the count was one. This solo survivor was a battered and broken one that wore a wooden leg and lacked a glass face. Each night we faithfully carried it through the house, for its total of 100 will give us 100 at Christmas. We order it with the LONGEST night's sleep since World War II. When we decide to close this clock it was our intention to commemorate in some ceremony of some famous general or captain, but immediately a controversy arose. Miss Dyer suggested that the "Battle of the Clock" Grant was appropriate, but father was partial to "Less than the south."

To get back to our annual clock census, the 1962 records show an increase of 900 per cent, making a grand total of 10 clocks, which sounds like scandalous extravagance in this time of depression. This way we do not include the redeeming features of these many clocks. The clock ticks are a bit like the above, the tick of getting quick sleep. Now that the clock is back to the "normal" state, they suggest different ticks. They suggest that there should be a method to choose the "tick that suits our mood instead of counting sheep or pigs. If you are not a clock lover for the big, antique clock that hangs above the mantel, the ticking clock has an uneven rhythm that suggests the fact that I bought this clock at a auction. When you look at the price you do something with it to do with its style and mood. For our other seven clocks, they serve mainly as proverbs, constantly reminding me that it is 9 o'clock, 10 o'clock, or there somewhere else.

The attitude of the rest of our family takes toward all of these timeticks, although there is one thing that I have prudently. This is my father's apparent fondness for the clock that adorns our radio, for blessings on Benjamin Franklin, this clock is electric and accurate, HAZEL HOLDER.

Honor of being "W" club man earned by candidates

To be a "W" club man is an honor, yet the ordinal of candidates who apply through this honor should make the membership worth while.

Many times of a romances were looking forward to seeing each other again, for it makes the joy of the meeting the young man rushed toward the young woman. She was a bit amiss; she opened her mouth to answer. Thus the young man nodded his head and went back to the table, another romance was blasted.

High Honors Won by Two Students

Hazel Holder and Gaines Sutherlin Hold Offices in Rainbow and DeMoylan Orders.

Whitworth college is well represented in the Rainbow and the DeMoylan orders. Hazel Holder, who is a member of the freshman class, received the highest honor obtainable in the "Rainbow Girl" order. Under her new title as "Worthy Adviser," she has charge of all assembly meetings. Miss Holder has been an active member of the order for three years.

Gaines Sutherland, newly elected Master Councilor of the Order of DeMoylan, is a sophomore at Whitworth college. In order to obtain this honor, he has had three minor offices in the order. This high office gives Mr. Sutherland the responsible duties of presiding at chapter meetings for the ensuing term. Lee Pentz was honored by being elected the Third Preceptor of the Order of DeMoylan.

At the installation of two new members, Owen Pickett and a trumpet solo by Charles Bradfords, who were both accompanied by Frances Farsky, were well received.

Mr. and Mrs. Hussion Entertain on New Year's Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Hussion had for their dinner guests on New Year's day, Dr. and Mrs. Sullivan, and Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick. The decorations were put up in the rooms in keeping with the holiday spirit. Incidentally the party followed by Mr. Hussion, the Tulane-California football game.

75 Enjoy Annual Program of McMillan Hall Women.

About seventy-five students and friends of the college enjoyed the annual program given by the women of McMillan hall on Friday evening, January 12, in the college chapel. The entertainment was informal and consisted of a group of short numbers. A skit entitled, "The Evening Newspaper," was presented by Edna Morgan and Frances Nevius, accompanied by a women's chorus. "The Little Nigger Girl" by Olive Clarke and Winnifred Smith, "A Bear Story," by Ruth Jones, a group of old songs, "Clair de Lune," "Clair de Lune," and "A Graveyard Song," sung by all the members of the hall were the other numbers on the program.

Adeline Keyser, who was in charge of the program, assisted by Edna Baldwin, Alma Lauder, and Ruth Jones. After the program, the rooms of McMillan hall were open for inspection, and each guest was given a key to the various rooms.

Professor Soltau is Active as After-Dinner Speaker.

Professor David L. Soltau, head of the physics department, has begun to be an after-dinner speaker, appearing before various organizations in the city.

Professor Soltau's first address of this present series was delivered before the Chamber of Commerce on December 15, and was broadcast over the radio. On the following day he spoke at a meeting of the Associated Engineers. During the vacation he plans to talk before the Schoolmasters' club, an organization of the men school teachers in Spokane. He has two speeches scheduled for the near future, one to be given at the Lions club and the other at the Research club.

Dogs, Pictures, Trinkets Don't Appear at "Open Door" Sunday School.

What if the fire bell should ring? There are a group of women in McMillan hall that are seriously awaiting the time that the men of Ballard announce "open dormitory." How wonderful it would be to welcome some treasured souvenirs! The women have lost all hope of seeing their little dogs, cherished pictures and prized trinkets before they are permitted to visit the rooms of Ballard, unless unusual happenings.

It was a happy thought of one member of the hall that a fire might possibly break out. If the fire bell rings, you'll probably find the women on the steps of the dormitory, patiently awaiting the arrival of any boy that disappeared on the evening of "open dormitory" in McMillan hall.

Each year the women of the Whitworth Glee Club have a waffle breakfast to raise money for some good cause. Early in February the Extension club of the Whitworth auxiliary is giving the luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller. The money will be donated to the Whitworth piano fund.

MUSICAL GEAR SHIFTS ARE LATEST INVENTIONS OUT.

Musical gear shifts seem to be the latest thing in Ford automobiles. Lester Burton's convertible cabriolet with a caboose attachment is probably the only car in the city thus musically equipped. The gears are tuned to E-flat and are especially effective in going to work with Merritt's Warhust at the occassion.

On Wednesday afternoon, January 13, Whitworth students came to the auditorium, kept the hall and listened to the strange music issuing from Mr. Burton's car. The music unexcelled even by Gerhart's. The setting, coming in with the buzz of the phlegm cadence, and the occassing playing something or other with variations for the melody, furnished an unusual musical effect that should mark a new era in musical comedy.

It has been said of Schubert that everything his hand touched turned to music. The same may be said of Lester Burton.

WHO'S WHO in the Senior Class

Another outstanding member of the senior class is Dorothy Hood, who has been an active member of the Whitworth Glee Club, 1929-30. Miss Hood, whose home is in North Park, Cal., has done many worthwhile things during her four years.

Dorothy Hood is from Bertha. She says that she is a heavy smoker of cigarettes and has a pair of husky hounds.

C. D. Bastian is inacting at Whitwick, Washington, in the Meowth valley. He has completed one year of college grades in the high school building.

In Seattle, Oakesdale, Miss Laura Leppanen, '31, has recently accepted the position of church secretary of the First Presbyterian church, Seattle. Dr. M. A. Mathews is pastor.

THEME SONG SHOULD BE "TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP, TRAMP.

"Tramp, tramp, tramp, the girls are running up and down the women's dorms.

At least, that should be the theme song of the girls running up and down the women's dorms of the University of Washington for, in an impetuous rush to the showers, it seems to be the de rigueur rule.

Friends always greet the ones ascending the stairs, for by the different beats, measures and times they are able to identify the one "coming up".

Even instructors could not accuse the girls of being lazy if they hear or see them on the "upstairs" stairway.

President Sullivan has been visiting many small colleges in the East. Last week he was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. French, who are teaching at Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill. President Sullivan is the president of Whitworth college, and Mrs. Sullivan is secretary of the English department here.

The Volunteer Fellowship held a dinner meeting on Wednesday evening, December 17, at Liberty Park Methodist church. Miss Janet Williams presided, and Miss Mary E. Martin, current meetings. Miss Florence Fenech were the speakers. Miss Mary Gilbert sang a solo.
PIRATES DEFEAT COMETS

Basketball played at Whittworth was the feature of the Pirates’ victory over the Comets, an independent team, in the college gymnasium on January 21.

Whittworth took the lead at the beginning of the game and never let it go. The score was 65 to 31, with the Comets on the short end.

Although the game was not a very close one, it was an exciting game, and a good deal of credit is due to both teams and their players. The Pirates were well-coached and well-trained, and the Comets were fighting hard, but the Whittworth players were too good for them.

The high scorer for the Pirates was Smith, with 10 points, and for the Comets, Clark, with 7 points.

The officials for the game were Elaan Steenberg and Noble.

The game was played in front of a large crowd, and there was a lot of excitement on the part of the players and the spectators.

Basketball Team Loses to Richland

Girls Are Defeated, 37-11, in First Game of Season.

The women’s basketball team lost to the Richland high school team on the Whitworth floor, 37-11, in the first game of the season, December 18.

During the first half of the game the ball was kept going from one end to the other, and it was impossible to tell what the outcome of the game might be. During the last half it was out of reach of the visiting team and the Whitworth women were unable to rally. When the final whistle blew, the score was 37-11.

Although the home team had a less experience in playing together, they showed good training. The prospects for the season before than seem promising.

The Whitworth line-up was: Charlotte Slater, center; Dorothy Moore, side center; Wulfsmith Smith, right guard; Blaine Bice, left guard; Olive Clarke, right forward, and Mary Jordan, left forward.

The following are invited to participate:

Bob’s Famous Chili or Bob’s Chicken Tamales

Freshmen—Priscilla Mann Sophomore—Lulu Sporites Junior—Owen Fiction Seniors—Hugh Brown

ERROLLMENT NOW IS LARGEST IN HISTORY OF WHITWORTH COLLEGE

Twentieth in New Students Enter for Second Semester. TOTAL ATTENDANCE 170

The new college enrollment at Whitworth College for the second semester is now 170, a new record. Forty-two males and sixty-eight females have been received since the beginning of the semester. The total number of new students is now 170, and one is from California. Thirty students have entered, but the rest of the new students have not attended Whitworth before.

Mr. Swann Builds Electric Machine

Curious Mixture of Materials is Used for Project.

A new scholaric record was established by Miss Dorothy Moore, who headed the honor roll for last semester. "Miss Moore earned 83 grade points, which is the largest number ever earned by any student at Whitworth College. Miss Moore is a Junior and was carrying 15 hours of work.

Of the 28 students who earned places on the honor roll, 26 were women, which is unusual.

The honor roll was as follows: Dorothy Moore, Cleora Reeder, Gladys Bishop, Elizabeth Hixson, Marius Willard, Fred Brown, Charles Bemis, MarionDaughrey, Henry Pender, Francis Noel, Mary Borden Craig, Faith Evans, John Mather, Harold Brown, John Mather, Mildred Swann, William Hansen, Dorothy Haines, Mildred M.Rel, John Jones, Mr. Johnson, Dr. S. Annual Banquet To Be Held April 8

Dean Francis Hardwick Named to Act as Master of Ceremonies.

The 1932 All-Witworth banquet will be held on Friday, April 8, at 8:30 p.m., in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple in Spokane. This is an annual affair which has come to attract much attention. According to Mr. Hardwick, an alumni and a member of the committee on arrangements, much interest has already been shown in this year's gathering. The All-Witworth banquet is coming on Friday of the week of the Idaho Empire Teachers' convention, provides an opportunity for alumni and former students to gather with trustees, faculty, students, and former college officials, for an evening of fellowship. Donations for the proceeds will be paid for by the Whitworth college two hundred dollars donated by Mr. Goodwin, who thought that some one was getting sneaked. She was greatly relieved to find that the reports were electrical and not corporate.

SUCCEED

It is said that "Nothing succeeds like success." But we all know there must be a reason behind that success.

What is the meaning of the success that is often praised? How does it differ from the work that is put into making it happen?

WM. L. McEACHRAN.

FRIENDLY WHITWORTH

Recently President Sullivan, in an address before the students, said: "Whitworth College is first of all a friendly college. Our college is characterized by friendly students, a friendly faculty, and a friendly administration."

Friendship is one of the most potent factors in the development of a college student. A young man or a young woman leaving home to attend college is cut off from the friendships which have influenced him for a number of years. He must be left with new friends to be left on an island, stranded. To be left with new friends of inferior character is to be put on a flood current in a boat and have it down stream; but to come into new friendships of enabling character is to be placed in that stream of life in a strong boat powered by energy sufficient to master the current.

The coming to Whitworth College is characterized by a friendly faculty, a friendly administration, and a friendly student body.

Our college is characterized by a friendly faculty. "Whitworth has never attempted to capitalize on the friendly character of the faculty, and it is not urged now that she should: but this is a distinctive quality noted by the young person coming for the first time. The instructors, being friendly, are yet not over-solicitous, cautious and steady. They do generously help students in seeing each student procure the training which will develop his faculties to the fullest. Each one is desirous of seeing the student develop a well-rounded life, one that will credit to the individual, and to the realm in which he serves.

It is rather surprising for a new student to find that members of the administration are never too busy to counsel with him on any matter. A young person wants help in planning his course, in choosing his life vocation, in selecting the right ideals of life, in setting his religious beliefs. He finds in the Whitworth administrators, ones who are experienced, ones who appreciate the problems of a young person's life, ones whom he can depend on, sound, sound, and unbiased advice.

"Friendships developed at Whitworth College become as light houses. They guide the life on its course and lead it to a happy destination.

DR. STOCKWELL INSPIRES STUDENTS WITH TWO TALKS

How to find sermons in the things we see around us was shown by Dr. F. B. Stockwell in his talk on February 17 and 18. He spoke of three signs that may be found in the streets of Philadelphia. The sign, "White Line," should guard our thoughts, for "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." If we have a desire in our heart, we must "Open out" and let others share our experiences. The third sign, "We specialize in full soles," illustrated the fact that we should put our whole soul into our work and lead it to the life of Christ.

The second talk of Dr. Stockwell was on faith. We too often think of faith as something we can see, yet we are guided by circumstances we cannot see. Our faith in Jesus is in our heart, we cannot be guided wrong, for His words penetrated our heart to us sufficiently to teach us the way.

Many students found help in their Christian life through personal meetings with Dr. Stockwell, and his visit has had such an inspiration to Whitworth.

OFF 'N ON BY OFFNER-OFFNER

Having received many requests to make OFF 'n ON humorous instead of serious, we recently suffered from great bitterness and depression of spirit. So that we sought some work to be done; we began writing over our bound volumes of Lydia Pinkham's Almanac. In one of the volumes we found Ott Otto's famous letter.

Humor column authors that this letter be reprinted on once every ten years, and, since Otto Topping says he has never seen it printed in a Whitworth publication since he was Brut outlived," here comes it:

Oklahoma Columbus
October 12, 1922
Dear Old Pat Dear,

As I have nothing to do, and wish to get new when, I trusted I would ask you to send me a bottle of ink to make handi and translate to you a few ladders, please excuse dis lend post.

We are all well ad present, except my brudder; he was kicked in the nose the other last night by a nose-de- nose is not expected to live.

Your very rich son who died from distraction of the heart when you were young and during ninety. Hope he'll find you so same.

Your brudder will want to work some more his job will last about six months, but might get out sooner on good behavior.

Business has been dull since you have left especially the salon business.

I am sending you by express your overcoat, and as dis charge is so much a good form to send it. I cut off my pockets. Hoping dice will prove satisfaction. You will find 3 ducts in a side pocket.

As dice is all not to say, I will close my face and expect you to do the same. Hoping dice will reach you before you get it, and that you will put it away before, I remain your successor second to the last person...

OTTO MOHLE.

The next OFFERING will be a new John, called the "Automobile John," or the Ford John.
Harold Enstrom: Yes, I've had this John for five years, and I've never had a wreck.

Duett: You mean you've had that wreck for five years and you've never had a car.

Contrary to the common opinion, "EX." at the end of a paragraph, as above, does not stand for "Exchange." It stands for "Excellent." It's hard to explain why we use it. Perhaps it is for the same reason that composers write "Fine" at the end of a piece of music.

BIG SCOOOP—ENTRY FROM CHUCK THE COOK'S EPPINWALL'S DIARY

February 26, 1923. Desk with girl friend. Spent $6.00 on her. All she said.

Well folks, before we close up, we'd like to tell you the BUNS FROM THE BAKERY. The bridegroom's daughter, Margaret, says she's my sweet pie, and he told her so. Her heart I can't deny.

Just the same, she is well bred; her pretty face is bouncy.

SULLIVAN'S HOME IS SCENE OF MOCK WEDDING

A very merry wedding took place at the Sullivan home in the afternoon of February 12, when Miss Dock Mur-hale (Lorrock) Unis was married to Mr. Saul J. Koper (Paul Koper). The bride was given away by her father, R. L. Moodly. Miss Murhale wore a beautiful coral and pearl gown. Her veil was made of dainty white lace; she carried a unique bouquet of cabbage and carrots.

The bride was attended by her friends, Misses Frances Novina and Misses Unis. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. House of Doherty at the house of Doherty. After the wedding, the newlyweds stopped at the house of Doherty to receive the congratulations of the guests. The reception was held in the house of Doherty.}

INVESTMENT CLASSES FOR PROSPECTIVE SPEAKERS

C. K. McElveen, regional forest inspector, spoke to the class in investments this afternoon. Professor McElveen told the class that forest fires are started, and how they are started. He explained the procedure of how the supervision of the forest is managed, by dividing the forest into larger zones, with regularly scheduled inspections.

The students were taken to the house of Doherty to see the house. The house of Doherty is a very interesting place, the students were very interested in the house. It was a beautiful experience for the students to have a talking picture in the classroom.

BOTANY CLASS HOLDS TEA TO HONOR END OF TESTS

The botany class had the usual experience of the tea to honor the end of the test period of the term.

The tea was rather a surprise to the botany class, who were working very hard on a test in the botany under Miss Marla, who returned from the test with her hair and makeup, who moved tempestous women. Miss Bobby Nordmark played several violin solos, accompanied by Eloise MacKenzie.

Miss Osherber poured, and after the first cup of tea, the class came on to the realization that they had done the test. Miss Bobby Nordmark was very pleased with the test, and she added a unique flavor to the tea.

It is rumored that Miss Jenkins and Miss Phillips were quite the delight for the party class, and it must be admitted that the tea was reminiscent to the students that had been taken on other occasions. Maybe the class wants another party.
Initiation Rigidly Enforced by Men

"W" Club — Lettermen Have Direct Orders for Initiates

Mahatma Gandhi's day of silence was nothing compared to a week and a half of "no talking to women" of the "W" Club. Petitions of lettermen in the college for the past two years were ignored.

The initiation lasted from January 3 to January 15. Right rigid rules were enforced.

On Wednesday, January 13, every prospective new member of the club performed on the chapel platform during the student body meeting. The program was as follows:

John Nordmark, love poem.

Catherine Smith, popular song, "I'm a W," from the movie "The Girl of My Dreams."

Harriet Vicker, a love poem.

Bert Swarte, speech, "Prohibition."

Jack Welch and Harry Long, Swiss yodeling.

If any of the pledged failed to observe these rules or to perform when commanded, he was reminded of the fact and was given a friendly wink."

After the ceremony the new men were taken down town, where they performed several very embarrassing acts.

"WHAT SHALL I DO?"

THE COLLEGE STUDENTS - "WHAT SHALL I DO?" is the college student.

In this age there are so many different pressures which a person may entertain, that unless he really knows he may find difficulty in deciding. Fifty years ago trade was more or less handed down in families from one generation to the next, but the present generation is more independent, and it is not as easy to have "handdowns."

At Whitworth the need for suggestion and advice arises. Even the wise president of the college wish that the college had a guidance center. Among the students, Thursday have been planned for the remainder of the year. The main purpose of these first meetings was to introduce the idea. The women met in a dormitory room and were addressed by Professor Husson, while Professor Smith talked to the men in the chapel.

It is hoped that outstanding men from the college will be secured for later vocational talk meetings.

"COMEDY OF ERRORS" IS VIEWED FROM "DORM" WINDOW

"All the world's a stage."

A few days ago I was viewing a portion of this immense platform from a dormitory window. Before me was a "lady of fashion." There was no mistaking her. She was dressed in a beautiful gown. As I watched her I wondered if she had realized what a wonderful view she must be having.

The first act was the failure on the part of a young man to dodge a snowball which was thrown in his direction. The second act was presented by two young women who were strolling about the campus, the precarious footing. One almost lost her balance, and while the ladies were reducing over the snow, they didn't seem to realize the danger they were in, and as they looked behind them, they fell into a state of panic, recovery, and running, all at the same time.

The last act of the scene changed many times. In the background were cars stuck in the snow and ice, and skis and sleds with no one about.

The play was very entertaining for the people who were watching, as all good plays should: "Watch your step!"

CROSS-EYED WORMS ARRIVE AT WHITWORTH COLLEGE

Better than sword swallower, shark's teeth, or those men who pull rabbits out of silk hats, are the little planaria, or have been arried to that are now the guests of Miss Oberholser in the science room.

The planaria are little flat aquatic worms that have an extra power to reproduce lost parts. For example, if they are cut in half, the cut part will produce their whole body back, or if, when they are cut in a Y-shaped part, one from the middle of the head to the middle of the tail, each half produces its missing half. The process requires about ten days for completion.

The planaria were sent from Chicago by mail in a jar of water; and it is reported that they stood the trip well. The first batch of planaria ordered by Miss Oberholser has not been received.

Incidentally, these minute worms are very tiny, are cross-eyed, and can swim.

THE BIBLE DEPARTMENT

"WHITWORTH TRAILS"

If campus trails could talk, I wonder what they would say. One wonders whether the history of the class rooms and the halls would be dimmed by the tales of the trails.

In the autumn when the air is snappy, these trails may be worn a little deeper than usual by the feet of enraptured girls, striding to win horse powers. This group is usually a jolly one, and the trail offers them the beauty of red and yellow leaves, tumbling along the way. Perhaps the glory is doubled by the golden sunlight pouring its gold into the cloud-splotted valley, and it again falls on the trace feet tumbling gaily to the trails.

When the winter snows fall, new trails are moulded; and although they are not so frequently traveled, they offer for new interests. Who can recall with a smile the winter after a big snow ball game, when all the puddles were filled with magic shadows that stretch their phantom forms across the snow, and who does not wax a gay coaling down the neighboring hill.

When spring breaks, the trails are hallowed again. Hikers and strollers walk slowly across the campus under the rainbow of flowers, and with cool breezes. The student who wanders alone, seeking a sp подled spot in which to practice his croquet, unfortunately finds it.

Down by the crooked tree, happy music is heard, and every reeling form is graced by someone who can play a "arrivée" to the tidying-up song. Duck-allow, look, here! There's just a little closer as they bow their heads to the snow, and the snow to bow to the snow.

Summer comes and the trails are deserted, saved by some human who does not realize that he is walking on the snow with his bare feet.

The trails are desert long from one year to year by many who have walked them. They are never forgotten by those that walk near the most precious memories of college days.

DOROTHY HAY

TAPE WORM IS GIVEN TO MISS OBERHOLSER

A tape worm taken from a child was presented to Miss Oberholser. The specimen was carefully placed in a vial and was found to be sixteen feet long. It was a very large specimen.

No one has ever seen so large a specimen. This tape worm is commonly found in the soil, and under the direction of the Intern- tion Bureau of the Chicago College. This work is commonly done under the Standard Lead- and Lead- ing of Chicago. It is called the course in Old Testament History.

The County Sunday School Assoc.

The County Sunday School Association, Rev. Ray B. Summ, president, put on a program on the Sunday evening, which was a great success.

The program was held in the library under the direction of the Intern- tion Bureau of the Chicago College. This work is commonly done under the Standard Lead- and Lead- ing of Chicago. It is called the course in Old Testament History.

Frank Miller, as president of the Christian Endeavor, is gathering about him a corps of efficient leaders and workers, some of whom are state officials. In addition to the regular mid-week prayer meetings and the Sunday evening meetings, the Endeavor is putting on a school of six Sunday evenings, preceding the regular program each night, on "Leader- ship in Christian Endeavor Work," led by Miss Florence Barker, an expert Endeavor leader.

President and Mrs. Sullivan and Dr. and Mrs. Hardwick were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hu- sing during Christmas vacation.

Coaching of Play
Under Miss Dyer

Illness of Miss Celia Herron
Necessitates Shift.

The illness of Miss Celia Herron has shifted the coaching of the play, "The House of De Sacy," to Miss Betty Marks. The tentative characters are: Miss Marks, Mrs. Predmore; Mrs. Herron, Mrs. DeSmaytre, her mother; Mr. DeSmaytre, her father; Jack Hamilton, their son; Miss Malinda Hoppenheir, her aunt; Jezebelle Yancey, her cook; Miss Valerie Reynolds, her cook; Mrs. Woodman, previously used under a different shift; and Lillian Thurlow, their maid. The department of dance also has been affected by Miss Herron's illness. Miss Marks is now in charge of the dance department, and she is in charge of the choreography for the play. The department is scheduled to be ready for the first performance, which is scheduled for Tuesday, February 18. The orchestra is prepared to be under Miss Marks as well.

WHITWORTH COLLEGE IS GROWING INSTITUTION in a recent address before a Speake- scene, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitworth, President

"Whitworth college is a growing institution; it has been built up and developed every way. In the last three years we have been studying hard to bring the college up to date. The enrollment has increased from 300 to 600 students. For several years a small group of students have been taking in new students, and this year we have a total of 120." Dr. Whitworth continued by showing slides of the new buildings and equipment which have been added.

The Most Difficult Site for a New College

The most difficult site for a new college is the one which is already occupied by other buildings. This is because it is difficult to find a site that is large enough to accommodate all the necessary buildings. Moreover, the location of the new college must be such that it is close to the existing college facilities. The Whitworth College site was selected because it was the only site that met these criteria.

CHRISTMAS IS CELEBRATED IN TRUE GERMAN FASHION

"Derv Deutsche Verein," under the guidance of Miss Wilma Becker, celebrated Christmas this year in true German spirit. The meeting was called to order by Professor S. E. O. Roeder, president. The program was opened with aמורט, which was given by the president. Miss Becker told how the Christmas celebrations in Germany are characterized by early visits to friends and family, and the exchange of gifts. The meeting ended with a service of carols and a toast to the German people.

Time To Spare

When we took the clock off the wall, our Room a year ago had only one. This solo survivor was a battered and dented old warrior that was a wooden leg and lacked a glass eye. But Miss Debrand carried Lo Grant, as we called it, upstairs, and each morning as faithfully as we could, she wound the clock. The new clock was more portable and accurate, and it was put to use in the administration office. Miss Debrand retold me this clock was not a replacement but a gift, given to her by the administrators.

The new clock is a modern design with a glass face and a metal body. It is very accurate and reliable. The clock is used for timing the meetings and other events in the school. It is also used for checking the time. The clock is wound by Miss Debrand daily, and it is kept running 24 hours a day. The clock is very useful and helps to keep everyone on schedule. The clock is an important part of the school's daily operations and is a symbol of the school's commitment to punctuality and efficiency.
Eastman-Lavender Nuptials Celebrated

Former Student and Present Student Married Since August 12.

At a dinner party at the home of President and Mrs. Sullivan on February 6th in honor of the marriage of Miss Gene Eastman and Mr. Ray Lavender. The marriage took place on August 12, 1931.

Those attending the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lavender, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan, Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Housung, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ballor, Misses Grace and Horace Long, the Misses Oliver, Misses Claire, Zeima Morgan, Leta Mae Mulr, Tessa Lathrop, Ruth Jones, Miss Elma Stroud, and the Messrs. Jewell Pyle, Rodney Vicker, Ward Pachner, Tommy Verslui, Fourtün, Frank Miller, and Forrest Travaille.

At a dinner party a dinner table was announced. Dr. Hardwick spoke about the young couple by saying that in the search for the treasure of life one would find the greatest happiness. He added that the element of joy. Dr. Sullivan named peace, and Mr. Ballor added happiness as an important part. Mr. Lavender then arose and said that all of these were important elements in the treasure of life but he had found one greater, one that would include all that had been mentioned, the love of a wife.

Mrs. Lavender is a former student of the college and is now attending or till. Normal school as a second subject. Mr. Lavender is a sophomore of Whitworth.

MRS. GRACE B. SOLTAN IS SECOND SPEAKER TO WOMEN

The second talk to Whitworth women was given by Mrs. Grace B. Soltan, on “The Changes in the College Curriculum.”

“Education,” Mrs. Soltan said, “is the prolongation and cultivation of the curiosity of childhood.”

In order to do so would continue to ask the question “Why?” with even a modification of the instruction with which we asked it a few years ago, we might know a great deal more than we do.

In regard to some of the changes in the curriculum, Mrs. Soltan said that physics as becoming more and more important, and that some of the things that we must know how to use correctly such as the television, television, ultraviolet and other lights. Because women control one-half of the nation’s wealth and the curriculum is now becoming of greater importance than that which the increased wealth gives them many more classes that are of the unique power of civilizing society.

In conclusion, Mrs. Soltan said that the curriculum of the college is these: greater all to success, and an interest in help toward reducing unemployment.

The Pirate club girls were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Frances Frye, Saturday, February 6th. The afternoon was devoted to various games after which refreshments were served.

Senior Play Date

REFORMATION MOVEMENT OF DE MOLAY STARTED

The reformation movement of De Molay started at the First Presbyterian church, Friday evening, February 4th. The enthusiasm of the junior class was well represented. Fifteen of its members, including all the debaters, who served for the college group. When called upon for a special feature, the junior class, with the Whitworth “Alma Mater,” presented. A program followed the stunt of the individual societies. Readings, poems, and instrumental solos were presented. A ceremony which was symbolic of the growth of Christian Endeavor was led by Cowl Coffman, “When He Came to You.” Rev. C. B. Baldwin, of the Ligerwood Evangelical church, closed the program by discussing the Christian Endeavor choruses.

COLLEGE MEN TO HOLD “MODAY” MARCH 4

The residents of Ballard hall will hold “open dorms” on Friday, March 4th. The evening will be highlighted by a program in Murray Memorial chapel, at which the room of the residence will be open for inspection. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

According to Alfred Marquand, the president of Ballard hall, there will be refreshments at the meeting. Also they are spending great effort in preparing their rooms for the searching inspection which they have been given. This being a special event at Whitworth, it is looked forward to with much interest. All parents, friends, and interested ones are asked to attend.

DEAN HARDWICK SPEAKS ON “CHRISTIAN TRAINING”

On Sunday, January 31, Dr. F. T. Hardwick addressed the congregation of the First Christian church at the morning church service. Dr. Hardwick spoke on “Christian Training,” and called attention to the fact that there is a definite part in the proper development of a young person. These should be provided for: in the home, in the public school, in the Sunday school, and in the college. “A weakness in any one of these serves as a weakening thread in the fabric of character,” Dr. Hardwick said, and the failure to deal with the two may be so critical that there may be factors in each one which are constructive, and other which may be destructive, so that the destructive factors should be eliminated as far as possible.

The Rev. Marie Edwards is pastor of the church.

PEP BAND PLAYS UNDER “COMPOSITE” DIRECTION

At the pep rally on March 12, the pep band played under the “composite” direction of Merrill Winans and William Harbet.

The Saturday, March 12th, the pep band program featured Miss Winans in a solo on the “plumber’s pipe” and the stories proved itself to be very adaptable in the beginning of a rally. Unfortunately if the “concert” is a virtuoso.

Charles Robinson is quoted as saying: “Although the war is a serious threat, we must think you are safe. The pep band has already thrown itself to play against the possibility of these days.”
Walking the Plank

Our request that all those who know anything about the latter half of Marie Watson's title, "Short and Sweet," should report to us, has been answered. Gaines Sutherlin, Charles Bradford, and that master of the pun, Merritt Winans, have presented certified reports. More power to them.

Several holides have taken place at Whitworth college during the last two weeks. Each one happens about 8:00 in the morning, when some car gets stuck in the side of the road. Anywhere from three to twenty cars are delayed.

A grave misfortune has fallen upon this college. Not one man has a full-fledged mustache. Fred Brown was on a good start about three months' growth, but he says that getting to be a nuisance to pack a magnify glass around him with to give proof.

Chief Electrician Jenner has had another duty added to his string of responsibilities. He now checks the Methodist chapel attendance.

A new freshman wants to know where dug is, that he hears is in math. "Wooding out in the woods. We hope that he finds it.

SOPHOMORES SCOOP UP FRESHMAN CHALLENGE

Among the members of the freshman class are individuals of outstanding ability and skill in different avocations. In order to determine whether any other in this class are to be found at Whitworth, the following challenge has been issued:

By Wednesday afternoon, March 2, 1922, at 1:30 o'clock, at the crew deck, the upperclassmen and the sophomores have not formally agreed to participate in the games of basketball, checkers, chess, and other sports. It shall be understood that the upperclassmen and the sophomores are to find the formalism of former years defeated, and the freshman class shall not be deflected into interest in the classical or modernistic champions for the college year 1921-22 in said sport or sports.

JACK MOTT,
President of the Freshman Class.
MERRITT WINANS,
Legal Council.

The sophomores were quick to rally their forces and soon had posted an answer in the challenge made by the freshmen.

Friends and freshman:

The sophomore men of Whitworth college accept the games of sports hurled at us at the feet of the freshmen and agree to make sport in honor of the men, or all, of the games of basketball, checkers, and chess, it is a revelation of the Lethe or the abysmal innocuousness, and lack of mysterious rencus of the freshman class that instead of casting disparatory interludes upon our valor when they have to look back in the college history to the freshman roundup days and the football games.

"We desire that it be known that we regard the coming contest as a source in defense of the prestige of our class.

SOPHOMORES GENERAL STAFF,

JACK MOTT,
RAT E. LAVENDER,
JOHN BRONSON,

Served in Heavy Artillery in World War; Came Here From Oregon

Ward W. Sullivan, Ph. D., president of Whitworth college, is enthusiastic about his new position, having been elected by the trustees to succeed Dr. Charles Bradford, who resigned after a term of service to pursue other interests. Dr. Sullivan, a former professor of history at the University of Oregon, is expected to bring a fresh perspective to the administration of the college.

Dr. Sullivan, who was born at Tamaroa, Illinois, and received his early education in that city, went on to receive his B.A. degree from the University of Illinois. He then continued his education at Western State Technical College, and served in Heavy Artillery during World War I. He was elected to the faculty of Whitworth College in 1919, and became instructor in the history department under whose direction Dr. Sullivan continued his work for the degree of Master of Arts.

Dr. Sullivan has served as a member of the American Historical Association, and has published several articles on historical topics. He has been a active member of the Board of Trustees, and has been a strong advocate for the expansion of the college's facilities.

Dr. Sullivan is married to the former Miss Minnie Johnson, and they have two children. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, and is a life member of the Oregon Historical Society.

Women of McMillan Elect New Officers

The girls of McMillan hall at a recent meeting elected officers for the coming year, in which they have been elected by the students of the college.

The newly elected committee chairmen are:

Motor Committee — Ruth Jones.

Reception Room Committee — Helen Wells.

Social Committee — Ollie Clarke.

Lavender Room Committee — Florence Baker.

The girls are planning social events and candy sales which will take place soon.

Owen Picton is New President

Let's Mae Muir Chosen to Reign As Queen of May Day Festivities

Owen J. Picton, a junior, was elected president of the Associated Students of Whitworth College for the coming year, in which he will assume the position of leadership for the students at the college.

As a two-year football man, Owen is well known among the students, and he has been active in various campus organizations. He has served as president of the Freshman Class, and has been a member of the Students' Council.

Owen was born in Kansas, and received his early education in that state. He entered Western State Technical College in 1930, and was elected to the honor society of Phi Beta Kappa in his senior year.

NEW CLUB IS FORMED FOR SCIENCE MAJORS

A science club is being organized in Whitworth college. Although the requirements for membership have not been definitely decided upon, it will mainly be composed of those students who are majoring in science. The club held its first meeting on Wednesday, March 30, in the physics laboratory. Sixteen charter members were present. A committee to draw up the constitution was appointed, and temporary officers were elected. Professor D. S. O. was elected president, and Lawrence D. O. was elected secretary-treasurer. The club will meet on the first and third Mondays of the month.

ADDRESS TO WHITWORTH CAMPUSE was given last week when a delegation under the direction of President W. W. Sullivan and Field Representative Ford L. Bailer gathered at the offices of the Whitworthian, Whitworth, and Laurene Thomas high school.

The trip required three days and included a radio broadcast, a banquet, and a convention. The delegation was composed of the following students: Allen Wilson, Geneva Wilson, Florence Baker, Owen Picton, Charles Bradford, Claire McClenny, Merrii Winans, Keith Murray, Elsa Baldwin, William Herbst, and Miss Marion Jenkins.

The group left Whitworth early Monday morning by automobile, Saturday afternoon and night they attended the Winter Guest District Christian Endeavor convention and banquet.

The group left Whitworth early Monday morning by automobile, Saturday afternoon and night they attended the Winter Guest District Christian Endeavor convention and banquet.

Sunday morning services were held in both Wenatchee and Cashmere churches.

Monday afternoon the group gave a broadcast over Wenatchee radio station KQW.

The delegation gave programs in the high schools of Cash- merie, Wenatchee, and Whitworth.

The object of the programs was to stress the importance of the college and to leave the high school students "Whitworth-minded.

The students have been doing excellent work in private homes throughout the state, and have been sold on to the students of the college and to the high school students.

"Whenever we went we were given a very cordial welcome. The Christian Endeavor convention was both interesting and instructive, and we appreciated it. The students in the high schools were enthusiastically received.

ANNIVERSARY BANQUET was held at the Whitworth Hotel on Friday, April 8, to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the college.

The dinner was attended by a large group of alumni, friends, and faculty members.

The program included a variety of speakers, including President W. W. Sullivan, and a number of the students.

The banquet was a great success, and the college is looking forward to another 100 years of growth and success.

THE RECENT ELECTION

National politics might well look to Whitworth college for lessons in conducting nominating conventions, election campaigns, and elections. The recent student-body election at Whitworth was characterized by enthusiasm, wholesomeness, and friendly rivalry. In the nominations, candidates who were particularly qualified to serve in the office to which the nomination was made. The choice in each case showed a regard for the best interests of the Associated Students of Whitworth college. The cliques and blocs which usually dominate politics were entirely absent. It was especially encouraging to note that certain camps in times past have influenced Whitworth elections have dispersed in the interest of nobler, more constructive principles.

The campaigns were conducted by friendly students rather than by the candidates. Stickers proclaiming the special qualifications of the candidate were posted, parades and demonstrations were staged, and campaign speeches of a constructive nature were delivered. This was particularly pleasing to note the absence of adverse criticism and mud-slinging. In its place was heard a friendly analysis of the peculiar factors involved in a college election.

The election was carried on with decorum and promptness. An accurate list of eligible voters had been prepared by the election board, and each student cast his ballot, his name was checked. The regulations regarding eligibility had been so clearly stated that no discussion or controversy arose as to voting privilege. Within hours from the opening of the polls every vote had been cast; and by the time of the closing of school the results of the election had been posted.

You who hold the future interests of the Associated Students of Whitworth college paramount in your mind, take special note of the lessons to be learned by this recent election and profit thereby.

PERSONALS

We are glad that Mr. Hardwick has recovered after her long illness. Mrs. Hardwick was in bed for three weeks with a serious attack of influenza, but is attending classes again.

The senior girls are giving a candy sale Tuesday and Friday at noon. The proceeds from this sale will be used to meet the class expenses for this spring.

Miss Effie Conner, daughter of Mrs. Pearl L. Conner, visited her mother at the college and her sister and the week following. Miss Conner is a major in mathematics at Linfield college, McMinnville, Oregon. On Thursday, Mrs. Conner entertained the womans of McMinn Hall in honor of Miss Effie and Miss Mildred Fry.

Miss Dorothy Hood, one of Miss Becker's students, took charge of the beginning French council Thursday, April 12.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Beatty and son, Bruce, of Weasheaux, Washington, visited Whitworth college Thursday and Friday. Mr. Beatty, who is pastor of the Presbyterian church in Weasheaux, is a trustee of the college. They also attended the Whitworth banquet.

Muriel Mann, '21, has been doing substitute teaching in Amber, Washington, since the middle of February. She is teaching Spanish and English, and has accompanied a play which she had coached.

Karl Rupp, '21, surprised many of his friends by arriving Sunday, March 31, for a short visit. He has been attending the University of California in Berkeley, and working in a post office. Mrs. Rupp, formerly Martha Hugger, has been teaching at Vera Kari returned to California April 2.

Miss Alice Hanstrom, '21, spent Easter Sunday at her home in Waterloo.

Miss Minnie Davis, '21, has received her appointment to Korea, and expects to sail early in the fall going to New York in June for the regular nine days' conference with the Board.

Lillian Brown, '20, is teaching Latin, English, dramatics, and journalism in Roberts, Montana. This is her second year in Roberts.

HIRSUTE APPENDAGES

PRESERVE OUR HONOR

No, the dormitory mustaches are not dormant. This statement is slowly becoming "quod esto des contempturi."

False speaking, the men of Ballard hall seem to be having a private little contest of their own. There is no excessive public campaigning, but little private competitions that take place are still the secret of the man, his soul, and the Lucky Ticker bottle; but as we write on Tuesday and the afternoon of today, the mustaches are gradually growing through the "dirty little" stage and becoming real hirsute, appearing to the masses.

Like the men behind the guns who preserve the honor of their country, the men behind their moustaches are preserving the honor of our college, and in the words of Mr. W. H. Whipple, "in no clow when it comes to raising mustaches.

OFF 'N ON

To paraphrase the words of a famous humorist, "An occasional good joke improves a humor column."

One day recently when Mr. Whipple was preparing a flower bed, a fellow asked, "Is that fertilizer that you are putting on the ground?"

And so Mr. Whipple replied, "Yes, ma'am."

"For the land's sake!" exclaimed the delicate young thing.

"No, Mr. Whipple said, "yes, ma'am."

Mr. Pelag, the Podunk Post Office Philosopher, is taking charge of our Interrogation and Rejoinder Department today. Pelag is the man who said that "the trouble with those here college students nowadays is that they turn up dazed with midnight gas and not enough midnight oil."

INTERROGATION AND REJOINER DEPARTMENT

Dear Pelag:

Three times was my boy phriled. At least he almost was when--well, you see it was like this. Phileas took me out three times. The last time he left his two little sisters alone. I must of course must be making quite a bit with him. When we got home because I invited him in, and got our family photograph album, Phileas kind of held back like he thought it wasn't quite proper, but I sure showed him I could be red sport and daring and such like.

We looked at the pictures for about an hour, and of course I explained all the pictures to Phileas, and all that. Phileas hasn't ever taken me out since that night. I just know he thought I was kind of too intimate and daring to be looking at the family album on just the third time we went together. What do you think?

Herb Haugek:

Don't look for Phileas to come back.

How times is changed. Now I was a boy it was neither right nor necessary for a young couple to play par par unless they had gone together for a right smart time, and looking the family album meant that they were serious. Now I hear that some of these harum-scarum young people go to small stamp albums, and look at them really funny when they have just moved each other for a few weeks. Be that as it may, I am against such now-fangled carry-onning.

PELEG:

"Will you marry me?"

"I'm afraid not."

"Oh, come on, be a support."

HYMNS AT SANITARIUM

During the time of Miss Alma Lauder's illness at Coon's Sanitarium some of the dormitory students went to Sanitarium on Sunday afternoon to sing hymns for the patients. Dr. Coon expressed his appr val of the music and invited the singers to come again.

The next time the singers visited was to return home about two weeks ago.

EIGHTEEN RECEIVE AWARD AT BASKETBALL BANQUET

Basketball season was properly concluded last Saturday evening, April 9, when the basketball squads and coaches were entertained at the Silver Grill. Places were set for twenty-five, and the room was appropriately decorated in the red and black, a smart punch consisting of music, readings and presentation of letters and awards.

The women receiving emblems were Olga Walk, Clara Blake, Dorothy Moore, Priscilla Mann, Mary Van Asplon, Leta Mae Maal, and Elsie Ratch. The men receiving letters were Owen Pletcher, Harvey Long, Forrest Threlfall, Bill Ross, Homer Vicker, Edward Nelson, Harold Marr, Tell, Yenman Votsile, and John Northmark.

Mrs. Olive Clark, manager of the women's team, presented Prof. D. L. Rollins, the coach, with a coach's letter; and Forrest Travalle, the men's manager, presented the men with their letter, with John J. Ensminger, with a coach's letter. Other guests were President and Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Rollins, and Mrs. Benjamin.

LONESOME

William Edward Adams

The room is empty, How lonely.
No more makes all
About me fair.
Nothing is left
But blank despair.
That is Lonesome.

My arms are empty!
Her silken cheek
No more pressed on
In love's embrace.
Against my breast,
My bosom throes
Its fierce protest;
My heart is empty!
I try to read,
Then pace the floor,
And think I hear;
Her at the door;
Then open it
The room once more
And try to read.

Yes, love's away!
How lonely, love's away.
Without which life
Is incomplete,
Is blessing some Eternity today;
My wife's away.

My heart is full;
Full of the life
She wakes to;
Full of the love
From my side riven;
Full of the love
So freshly found;
Pampered and
Sweet as heaven;
The room is full.

Since our appeal in the last issue of the Whitworthian, the mustache, the mohican, has spread. As somebody said, "came the morn.

The gentlemen who amused them selves by throwing snowballs during the last rainstorm should probably turn out for baseball now.

WHITWORTH TALENT PROVED IN UNUSUAL PLAY

In the last Little Theater production, "Once Is A Lifetime," Ford Bailey was very successful with his German dialect, as a moving picture house. The play was made possible by the purchase of letters and emblems. It was a lazy man that this was nearly impossible for anyone to see until a few weeks after an appointment had been made. Perhaps Mr. Baker's moving-picture business here at the college accounts for the difficulty often encountered when one tries to see him.

Harold Stevens, a new student this year, had an interesting character part as a scenario writer who stood against temporary base bands and a result of waiting to see the production, Ford Bailey. Let this be a warning!

MEN'S OPEN DORM OFFERS VARIETIES

The annual Open House of Ballard Hall was held on the night of March 9. This is one of the outstanding events of the year, especially as it was regarded as such by the members of the Phi Kappa Hall, who, in the previous months, had high hopes of receiving possession of several prized novelties which disappeared from their rooms on a previous occasion.

The evening's entertainment began with a replica of dormitory life as it is in Ballard Hall. This was a realistic play; the men got up, sleepy-eyed, hurrying to get down to breakfast.

The next scene was one representing the afternoons. Classes being over, the men went out to practice some aerobatics. Several other scenes of dormitory life were shown, among them one of what is commonly known as a "pash-a-fest." The program for the evening was prepared by a committee headed by Albert Marcoux, who was assisted by Mr. Jenner and Frank Miller.

Mrs. William Thompson, of Comstock, provided sandwiches and coffee.

At the final feature of the program was a show, which was interpreted particularly by the girls, who delighted all the three hours we were in some of the most corners or who, time after time, tried to conceal some object in their person and leave the room without the owner seeing them.

MR. BAILOR SPEAKS AT MANY HIGH SCHOOLS

To make contacts with more than a hundred schools is the goal of Ford Lailor, field representative of Whitworth college.

"We plan to meet the senior class of each institution and discuss the advantages of the smaller colleges," he said.

"Of course, it is too early in the year yet to predict the number of new students we shall secure, but it is starting to look interesting that we have already met in some of the smaller institutions," he added.

On Tuesday, March 30, Mr. Bailor was the invited speaker at the weekly meeting of the students of Lewis and Clark high school, an oratorical and scholastic society of one hundred members.

Charles Bradford, William Herbst, and Florence Baker, Whitworth students, were on trial in the debate.

Monday, March 24, Mr. Bailor was the panel speaker at the Boys Federation meeting at the John Rogers Auditorium, where others offered several musical selections.

Alumnus Writes New College Song

"Hail Whitworth" is a new college song written by Lawrence J. Mitchell of the class of 1923, and was introduced and dedicated by Miss Dorothy Parry of the class of 1922 at the annual college banquet. In sending the song to President Sullivan, Mr. Mitchell requested that Miss Parry introduce it to the college during the singing of the alma mater. After it had been sung by Miss Parry, copies were distributed to those gathered at the banquet, and everyone indulged in singing it under Miss Parry's direction. The new song beamed a college spirit which drew much favorable comment.

While a student at Whitworth college, Mr. Mitchell was a member of the like club, a football and baseball team, and an outstanding contributor to the college paper. Among other two other Whitworth pep songs which are new were composed, both words and music, by Mr. Mitchell.

In sending the new song to Dr. Sullivan, Mr. Mitchell says, "I have long had the writing of such songs for our college as a personal ideal. At the recent Alumni meeting in San Francisco, the words of a new Whitworth college alma mater were inspired mine to re-work and retain the song at the request of the President and the college council."

He gave Dr. Sullivan permission to use the song copyrighted, and Mr. Sullivan has made application for such permission.

COLLEGE MORGUE DEPICTS STYLES YESTERDAY-TODAY

Whitworth college has a morgue.

In the attic of McMullen hall, lie the remains of unidentified Whitworth students who once lived, but have passed on.

Somewhat familiar, a morgue, in newspaper parlance, is a collection of clothing and jewelry. The Whitworth morgue is of this type, being a typical collection of full-boxed and Whitworth hats. In this collection are erected in rows, as far back as 1314—and there are other items of clothing, clothing, clothing, all in excellent condition, which have been old-fashioned, aged, in those good old post-war days, too.

The students who last summer visited the college who came skipping out to the college in the early hours of the morning, at two miles an hour, will be interested in seeing its predecessor—a small, frail, four-cylinder, open-air flinty. Nevertheless, it seemed to be the pride of the student body, for it was given to us, and copyrite of this ancient old vehicle appeared in the snapshot of the morgue.

One of the parts highlights depicts a log of war, which took place in front of McMullen hall back in the post-war days.

In the morgue are numerous clothing, among them a hat, which was given to the students by Bessie Miller, a member of the Whitworth faculty. It is from the famous "Chapel of the New Society of the American Association of the College of Arts and Sciences," gives the date of 1926.

During the period from 1920 to 1924, the women seem to show a preference for both hat and dressing; but after the year 1927-

One young man, not to be outdone, appears in a black and white checked two-piece suit, with a straw hat, and a mustache.

There is no truth to the rumor that the reason for so many odd people in the Whitworth college is that they came from the highway to the college. Some of the effects of a motor car are obtained in a ride over this road.
SPORTS

Sophomore-Senior Forces Victorious

Leta Mae Moir High Scorer and Charlotte Slater Good Faller

On March 4 the combined forces of the sophomore and senior women downed the junior and freshman women by a score of 58 to 11 in the Whitworthian gymnasium.

The features of the game were Leta Mae Moir with 36 and Charlotte Slater with 12 points. If shouts of the players were any indications of a good time, the readings in this box must have enjoyed themselves.

GIRES' BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATED BY POST FALLS

The Whitworth college women's basketball team dropped a pair of games to the Post Falls team on March 4 and 9. The first was lost by a score of 26 to 17, and the second by a score of 38 to 20.

Letts Musser and Olive Clarke were the stars of the Pivot row lineup. Doris Green and Mabel Hodge were the best performers of the Post Falls team.

FRESHMAN TEAM DEFEATS UPPERCAMER, 24 TO 10

On Friday, March 18, the freshman basketball team defeated the junior force of the juniors and seniors by a score of 24 to 10.

The game was exceedingly rough, but was enjoyed by the small crowd in attendance and turned out to be a good experience. The history of the junior varsity boys' basketball team is written in the records of the Whitworthian.

PREDITTE CLUB ADVERTISES ALL-WHITWORTH BANQUET

Have the Predittes p? They have. Anyone would know who saw the ad in Post Falls this fall. It was for the All-Whitworth Banquet. First an "awi" appearance was scheduled in "A." Next Mary Bonden Slater and Charlotte Slater made a "bi," and next "set" was seen. Frances Purdy held the "earth" in her hands, but the "mah," "ban," and "p" were held by "wet." An umbrella represented "April," and a seat for the rest was the skill complete: All-Whitworth Banquet, April 8.

In the University of Kansas to find a professor who was competent to criticism his thesis and give the examination. From then the examining professor had to make preparation for the examination by referring to the works which Dr. Sullivan had studied.

After a tedious period of waiting following the oral examination in which he was questioned not only by the outstanding men in the major and minor fields of study, but also by specialists in all fields of modern study, the chairman of the examining committee came from the room of the committee and asked, "Dr. Sullivan," and it was then that Dr. Sullivan knew that his efforts had met with success.

Sullivan, then, met Mrs. Sullivan, who was then Miss Ethel Pierce, at West Street. She was a senior graduate of that college. They were married in 1911 and have a son, Brillig, who shows signs already of following his father's footsteps. Billy began his attendance at kindergarten.

It was interesting to learn that Mrs. Sullivan has assisted Dr. Sullivan greatly in his work, at one time being the chief of a secretarial force which was employed in getting the degree of Doctor of Philosophy ready for presentation.

THE VILLAGE BAND

THE WHITWORTHIAN

If you have ever had the experience of seeing and hearing a typical village band, your musical education has been neglected. The origin of such a band is usually the calling for volunteers by some enterprising minister, who thinks that he can devise his neighbors' appreciation of music by means of a high-class band. His call is usually met by the reporting of everybody in town—not only those who play band instruments but also those who own them. The first difficulty, then, is to get rid of undesirable applicants without endangering one's life by creating a number of funds.

After this accomplishment, the leader looks over what is left in the way of instrumentation. It is pretty bad, but he is optimistic and the band is "get down to work. The first chord, if it can be called such, is indeed a revelation. It would probably tax the ability of leading harmony experts to analyze it. It would also tax the patience of Job to listen to another like it, but the men are untaught.

The rehearsal continues until there comes some state occasion, such as the return of the leading citizen's son from college, and then the band is "in its glory."

At last the hour arrives. The train rushes into the station and allows the coach long enough to throw out the returning hero and his bags to the plaudits of "Hot Time in the Old Town," in six different flats and sharpis. The triumphant return is begun. The band, of course, is in the lead and is blowing lustily. The base player sharply crawls down into his horn and brings forth great slabs of sound, and the solo trumpet player has everybody worried for fear he will break a blood vessel. The base drummer can keep step and is gradually falling farther and farther behind, but nobody cares for music in the excitement. All the band has "done itself proud", and the strain has been great. The instruments are put away until another great occasion presents itself. When the players will once again dust off their horns, and the town will ring with the strains of those old tunes, played by your own village band.

SHAKESPEARE'S SLANG

NOW 20TH CENTURY SLANG

How modern we really are in this twentieth century with our airplanes, phonograph, and slang! But even Shakespeare didn't fly or ride swiftly in a car, or use expressions which loomed upon, as trite and slangy even in his age. A few bits as examples: "Dead as a doorpost." "He's had the top on." "He's had the bottom." "The fall of the leaf." "Go hang yourself." "Is it over there or to talk?"

We're modern! Shakespeare might be inclined to disagree with us and say that we are not "so hot."

CAST STARTS PRACTICE FOR SHAKESPEARIAN PLAY

"A Midsummer Night's Dream," that immortal comedy by Shakespeare, will be presented on our outdoor stage during commencement week.

The production, of course, being directed by Mr. Adams, who at present is having difficulty casting the play because of conflicting practice schedules besides the main character, there will be numerous parts which suddenly come down and cling to among the trees and throughout nearly all of the performances, the Whitworth orchestra will supply the delightful accompaniment.

DEDICATE ANNUAL TO W. W. SULLIVAN

Teletz Coriis Used Modernist Art Work for Annual

ALFRED MARQUAM, EDITOR

Improved Financial Backing Make Possible More Pictures Than Before

The 1932 Nativity has been dedicated to Dr. W. W. Sullivan in expiation of the appreciation of the student body for the effort that he, as president, has put forth to make Whitworth an outstanding college.

This year's Nativity was presented to the student body on May 26. The improved financial backing this year made possible more pictures and literary work than in former years.

The honors for the beautiful appearance of the book go to Miss Teletz Coriis, illustrator. In the production throughout the year, Miss Coriis portrayed the modern trend in creative designing with shaded panels in black and gray. The insets are modernistic impressions in black and white of the different departments, such as literature, society, and sports. The cover design is a very striking modern, effect of black on silver.

The piano was purchased for the college by the department of modernistic design, and the building is a very striking modern, effect of black on silver.

TO THE SENIORS

Congratulations to the members of the 1932 class! Your efforts have met with success. You are a small portion of the large group which matriculated at Whitworth College four years ago. Because of your persistence, your steadfastness of purpose, your continued striving to reach the goal, you deserve the congratulations which we extend to you.

During your stay at Whitworth you have brought honor to your college in many fields. You have watched your college expands and progress; and being in the midst of this growth, you have had a corresponding broadening and development. Now you are being graduated and have earned the right to move on to larger fields of endeavor. If you will yet be influenced by the Whitworth spirit, and we trust that you will continue to lend your influence in holding your Alma Mater to worthy ideals.

You are now members of the Whitworth family who have come off. Your journeys from Whitworth will ever be as itineraries which return homes. In ring, let "The Lord bless you and keep you: The Lord make his face to shine upon you, and be gracious unto you; The Lord lift up his countenance upon you, and give you peace."

Dorothy Moore Wins Oratorical Contest

Henry Schlomer Places Second With an Oration on "Personalitv"

Before a comparatively large crowd Dorothy Moore, a junior, gained a decisive victory over six opponents, Wednesday, April 26, in the nineteenth competition of the Ballard Oratorical Contest.

Miss Moore, who is noted for her historic grace, spoke on the "Personalities".

Henry Schlomer, a sophomore, was awarded second prize for his oration, entitled "Personality." An victory.

UNIVERSITY CLUB HOLDS MEETING AT WHITWORTH

THE SPokane branch of the American Association of University Women held its regular meeting at McMath Hall, May 7. Fifty-six members of the association were served a dinner luncheon in the college dining room. The plating of the meal was arranged by Miss Ethel Boheler, head of the home arts department, and was assisted by ten college girls who acted as waitresses. The tables were decorated with apple blossoms, and the waitresses wore dainty spring dresses.

After the luncheon the women adjourned to the chapel, where they conducted their annual election. A musical program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Stoll, instrumental section, and the Concert Ensemble, and Mrs. Stoll gave two vocal numbers.

Oh, take away my new airplane, And give me back my old one, I’ll never, never fly again. It’s too monotonous.

There’s no excitement in the air, No cup to watch out for, No railroad crossing races; I won’t fly any more.

I long to make folks eat my dust, To bug a road again, And break some traffic rules, I just Know I’ll be happy then.

So take my plane; give me a car. To fly is dull and dry, There is no sport unless there are Pedestrians to try for.

Let us turn from jangles to jungles, readers, and increase our knowledge of denizens of the steaming depths, and miscellaneous other animals, by considering comments made upon them by a certain Will Cuppy in a recent issue of the New Yorker.

Festive Spirit Is Shown on May Day

Impressive Ceremonies Are Conducted on Campus

At 11 o'clock on Friday, May 1, an impressive and rhythmic event, with which the Whitworth campus and Post Falls high school band, followed by the concert, the many visitors at the college looked about on tours of inspection, were entertained by a reception committee. But classes were held on this festive day.

The audience, assembled before the ceremonies of the day, were not at a loss for entertainment, for the cast, "May Day," by G. A. McFarland, was transported from a modern college campus to a more ancient period, where kings and ladies lived a regal life. An old-time May Day was portrayed by the villagers in their costumes, strutting into the woodland clearing, singing, "The King of May" and sun after much musical instrumentation, they prepared in the cemetery of the village to search for their buried king. Dis- covered and returned to the village, the cast talked of the Maypole and the May Queen, who had been chosen by the boys. The May Queen was presented by Malcom and Margaret Watson, and by Ferreiro Travaglia, the damsel of the day. The Maypole was raised, the villagers sang the "Lustrow" song, and everyone went to their Maypole dance.

Members of the Phi Club took the following parts in the cast: Helen Biddle, Claire McCraney, Robin Hood, Owen Fitch, Marian, Lilian, and Miss Fitch. The cast included the presidents and their parents, and visitors joining in the chorus.

In a return game with the Gonzaga Independents on May 26, the Pirates were turned back at the door of the Whitworth field.

The game was played, and the score was tied at the end of the ninth inning, 2-2, with the Gonzaga Independents having Whitworth make two times and considered that they had the game in hand.

Gonzaga, however, retaliated by scoring four runs in the tenth inning and game in their half of the tenth frame.

This was the second defeat of the Whitworth baseball team this year.

The last official business meeting of the "W" club was held at the home of Walton Petch, New President, Engineers, Members of Dinner

Harvey Long's pitching was the outstanding feature of the game, as he struck out twenty-one men. His innings gave him excellent killoff and held the opponents score-lose.

ZOOL0GIC STUDENTS TAKE TRIPS TO STUDY BIRDS

Perhaps you have seen some ordinarily normal-looking people sitting in their premises, and with tense nerves, stand motionless for long moments. Do not be too hasty in your judgment of him, for he is possibly the most interesting and most interesting study, of zoology. Even though he is not remarkable in any aspect to a bird, and does not sit at rest, and then retroverted to the college for their first-class classes.

The College Year of 1932-33 Opens
September 13, 1932

Entrance Requirements

Graduates of accredited high schools who are in the upper fifth of the class are admitted to full freshman standing at Whitworth college. Students who are in the lower one-fourth of the graduating class may be admitted on probation. A graduated student may gain admission for full freshman standing by passing the College Entrance Board Examination.

The student must present the following list of high school credits for entrance:

- Three years of English
- Two years of mathematics
- Plane Geometry
- One year of foreign language
- One year of science
- Deficiencies in foreign languages and laboratory science may be added to the curriculum prescription, and college credits will be given for such courses.

An entrance application blank is sent to each student who has been recommended by his teaching to his particular field of training and is given a usual teaching load. The literary, laboratory, and class rooms are well equipped for college work.

Pre-Professional Courses at Whitworth College

The courses are arranged at Whitworth college that any student in the upper fifth of his college standing leading to a chosen profession. This is true regardless of vocation selected. Courses in Architecture, Pre-Medical, Pre-Dental, and Pre-Engineering may be taken. As an example of our pre-professional courses, full two-year curricula in Pre-Medicine and Pre-Engineering are listed in the handbook.

Major Work

At the close of the sophomore year each student is required to select a major and a minor. A major consists of not less than 20, nor more than 36 semester hours of college work in any one department. A minor consists of not less than 15 hours in any one department. Major work may be taken in the following fields: classical languages, English, history, history, music, music, musical and dramatics, religious education, biology, chemistry, and mathematics.

All entering students will take their first of 15 to 19 hours of work.

Advanced Students

An increasing number of advanced students are making application for admission to Whitworth college. A student standing vs graduated where the work has been done in accredited institutions and who satisfies the requirements of the college will receive credit. Careful attention is given that the student may be graded into fields of learning where the course will build upon the work done in previous study and fit into the interests of the individual student.

Extra-Curricular Activities

All students are given the opportunity to participate in the extra-curricular activities in athletics, literary and social clubs, music, dramatics, public speaking, and orchestra as well as any other club activities which are maintained on the college campus. The college is not only to train the individual in the major subjects of the Liberal Arts and Science college but to give him the opportunity to develop personality and leadership.

Why Does It Cost to Get a College Education?

One pays for a college education whether he gets it or not. Failure to get a college education will cost one, in lost opportunities, many times the amount spent in securing the training. The cost of Whitworth college is reduced to the minimum. For those who live in the Spokane area and stay at home, the total cost for the year, actual college expenses, should not exceed $225. For those who board and are not on the campus, the total cost should not exceed $500.

Why go to college where the cost will be several times the amount that you would spend at Whitworth college? Do not less than two years of your work in your own home community, thereby saving enough money to pay a whole year's expenses in a technical or finishing school.

For information, figures and facts will be gladly given. A summary of expenses is given below:

Summary of Yearly Expenses for Students Living at Home

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Cost</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tuition</td>
<td>$125.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Room and Board</td>
<td>$288.00</td>

<td>$50.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Books</td>
<td>$20.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minimum</td>
<td>$478.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The maximum expenses will be increased as the student participated in college activities beyond the normal load.

There is a matriculation fee of $50 payable by all entering students. This fee is paid at once.

For music, laboratory, and some other courses are given under the description of the regular college catalogue. The graduation fee is $10.

The Associated Students' Prom fee of $25 is included in the summary of costs as listed above. This fee is used for athletics, debates, Christian service work, student publications, oratedical contests, etc., on the students' representation, subject to the approval of the dean of the college or a faculty committee.

Transportation

Students provide their own transportation to and from the college.

Those who do not have cars or do not wish to use the college may arrange with the college for a day's transportation with the students' club riding cars. Thus plan has been found inexpensive and successful for the student.

High Scholarship—The Ideal at Whitworth College

No one need apply for admission to Whitworth college who does not intend to produce high-grade scholarship. Whitworth college credits are accepted in the best colleges and universities in the country. Our students are admitted to advanced standing in the best graduate schools.
