KWC Kapers Discovers Wide Variety of Talent

KWC Kapers, staged before a crowd of 200 on the football field last Friday night, was a surprise hit because of enthusiastic reaction that Whitworth had another crown prince of rhythm in Howard Haas, radio station manager who emceed the show. Assisted by drummers John Roes of Yakima, transfer student Bill McCollough of Pasadena, California, and several kias from the dance floor, Haas emceed and staged a spectacular show that lasted from 8:30 to 10:45.

McCollough Clever McCollough also proved to be a clown whom amuses the crown as well. He introduced a mime, dressed as a street cleaner. A sequel to that, a Hollywood producer, presented a film on film acting by student extinguish a fire. The scene was so realistic that audience kept its own firelight effects.

Letters to the Editor

You Might Want to Know

Your Whitworth has two major purposes: to keep you informed of events on the campus, and to serve as a means for training journalism students.

We'll better fulfill both purposes if you'll:

1. Make suggestions to your editor.
2. Write to staff members.
3. Give us the news early so we can make our Tuesday afternoon deadlines.
4. Let us have ample warning of coming events.
5. Make contributions as a Whitworth staff member.
6. Give the unavoidable errors we'll make.

Both Whites and staff members want to make it for you and about you.

Women Anticipate 250 At Annual Conference; Leave 2:30 P.M. Today

An estimated 250 women will leave at 2:30 this afternoon, from in front of the gymnasium, for the 13th annual Women’s Conference to be held at Pinelow Park on Deer Lake.

After dinner this evening a get-together party will be held featuring skits of fairy tales, Eleanor Curver, registrar chairman, announced.

Two prominent churchwomen will address the conference during the Thursday session. These are Miss Dorothy Wagner of San Francisco, Calif., and Miss Jean Hollingsworth of Chicago, Ill.

Miss Wagner, former missionary to China, is presently secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Church, U. S. A.

Miss Hollingsworth is a staff member of Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship. This is an international organization dedicated to strengthening Christianity on the campuses of colleges and universities.

Friday evening Miss Wagner will address the group on the topic “Finding His Love.” After her talk Norma Buntlin and Gladys Aeschliman will lead in antiphonal singing.

Saturday morning’s service will feature Miss Hollingsworth’s topic “Transformed by His Love.” The recreation program for Saturday is expected to include boating, hiking, and games. Miss Wagner will speak on “Glimpses in His Love” at the Saturday afternoon service.

A banquet will be given Saturday evening under the chairmanship of Homecoming officers. The program will include singing and skits.

Miss Hollingsworth’s evening topic will be “Walking in His Love.” Following this service, Mrs. J. P. Finkle will lead in a dedication service.

Miss Wagner will speak Sunday morning on “Telling His Love.” Following this conclusion session all will be taken to Whitworth’s Deaconess hospital for his home

Dayne Nix Recovering

Dayne Nix, assistant to business manager, expects to be back to work the middle of next week, according to J. O. Oaks, college business manager. Nix will leave Deaconess hospital for his home this week.

Nix suffered a compound fracture of his right leg and multiple cuts and bruises when he was struck by a car Saturday night, Sept. 15.

The first accident in which Nix was involved happened at 7:30 on Highway 6, a short distance from the 81st cutoff.

Driving toward Spokane, his wife, Mrs. Yvonne Nix, stopped behind a car which had stopped behind a first car with mechanical trouble. While the cars were in this 1-2-3 position, a fourth car hit Nix’s car from the rear and slammed into the cars ahead. No one was hurt.

After the state highway patrolmen had arrived, the second accident occurred.

Nix was at one end of the wreck and the patient at the other end, signaling cars. While one motorist was stopping in front of Nix, a second car hit the first, slamming it into Nix. The confusion threw Nix 50 feet.

Six cars were involved in the two accidents; five persons were hospitalized.

Dining Hall to Close
For Burger Fry Tonight

men’s conference will gather for a hamburger fry at the barbecue pit at 6 p.m., Pete Bennett, student body social chairman, announced.

The dining hall will be closed because of the fry, according to Mrs. Lee Hanham, dining hall hostess.

The event will be preceded by a sing conducted by Bert Lee.

Both town and campus men, and even women not attending the conference are invited to attend, Bennett disclosed.

Bennett indicated the event will be cancelled in case of rain.

Freshman to Elect
New Heads Tuesday

The student membership of ASWC will be elected next Tuesday, Oct. 2, Bill Tatton, ASWC fifth executive, has announced. Balloting will be held in the gym.

Temporary officers were elected at the beginning of the year in order to facilitate organization. They are Howard Widmer, acting president; Mary Rice, acting vice-president; Chris Stimson-Kane, acting secretary.

New Alumni $350 Scholarship Awarded

Freshman Connie Jo Hilt of Los Angeles

Whitworth college’s new alumni scholarship has been awarded to Connie Jo Hilt, Dick Harpster, executive secretary of Whitworth’s Alumni Association, announced recently.

Majoring in sociology, Miss Hilt is a freshman from Los Angeles. The plans to teach high school social sciences.

When asked why she had chosen Whitworth for her advanced schooling, Miss Hilt replied that she was attracted by concepts of Aristotelianism and Christian education.

The $350 tuition scholarship will be awarded annually to a needy student who is in the upper 28 per cent of his or her high school class, and renewal of the scholarship at $100 a year will be made if the student has made significant contributions to college life and remains in the upper third of the class.

Miss Hilt not only graduated with high scholastic honors but left behind her a host of activities including vice-president of the women’s literary club, editor of the school’s literary magazine, business manager of the student body, secretary of the school’s subterranean society, and a member of the girls’ athletic association and drill team.

The scholarship fund was organized at commencement last May. At that time a Christmas fund turned over its treasury toward a scholarship. The assumption is that the endowment fund has since added to the donations provided by the Whitworth student body, the first year and one semester’s tuition the succeeding three years.
Is the Universe ‘Empty’?

Is a universe that stretches through endless space forever a place of higher life save alone for our small world?

Although the Rev. Cecil T. Axdorthy did not discuss this point in his chapel program last week it is worthy of reflection.

The famous astrophysicist Fred Hoyle despises the general, "Ptolemaic earth-centered," assumption in his recent book, "The Nature of the Universe."

Hoyle estimates that there are approximately one million galaxies, each with billions of systems within the "observable universe" capable of supporting human or "pseudo-human" life.

The "observable universe" is two billion light years into space. Cosmologists generally agree that at this point the universe is going away—dissipating—from their telescopes faster than the speed of light. Beyond this point no observations can ever be made.

The giant 200-inch Palomar telescope now reaches one billion light years into space. An instrument must be built with a 400-inch mirror before man can reach out to the limits of observation.

Is there a chance that astronomers will then be able to see the end of galaxies, stars and space somewhere before the two billion light year point-of-no-return?

"No," Hoyle says. Unlike Einstein he believes that the ultimate limit, that aim is not curbed, Hoyle believes that the universe stretches forever.

From this beginning he thinks it began as hydrogen gas. Hydrogen, he states, is the "fundamental building block of the universe." According to Hoyle hydrogen is constantly being created from nowhere throughout the universe at a rate about one atom per skyscraper volume per year. This same gas forms into thin clouds, ultimately condensing into stars.

When the hydrogen builds into heavy elements and heat is then generated by the atomic carbon-nitrogen cycle.

It may be disquieting for one to consider the "possible billions of years that may be empty, that may be earthless, that human life may flourish on millions of planets throughout the cosmos." For the penultimate end product of all creation seems to be a thinning entity, man, or pseudo-man.

An intelligence that is able to see the work of a great creator and to worship and love that creator might be more significant that all of the endless material universe. This could be the answer to that great problem.

"What is man that thou art mindful of him?"

That question could ring forever throughout endless space and down the eternal corridors of time. All Creation here knows that the final proof of the Creator's concern abides with Christ.

Those whose faith rests upon this perfect rock may find there is room in space and time to progress their creation's mysteries without disguise. Perhaps the twinkling pinpoints in the heavens are the "many mansions."

The most majestic mysteries of the cosmos are too great to be more than superficially contemplated by any one with narrow views, limited faith, or little vision.

How big is the Universe? Too big—too big to be digested.

I turned me to another thing, and I saw that under the sun, the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor the bread to the wise, nor riches to the learned, nor favor to the skilful: but time and chance in all.

Ecc. 9:11

Public Relations Office Moves to Ballard Hall

Publications Office moves to Ballard Hall Wednesday afternoon and many other quarters in Bal- lard basement.

The new public relations offices in Ballard Hall is nearly, at the far end of the second floor of the building. The public relations staff is coming in Willamette and Portland.

A pink and peach color scheme has been used for both offices. The new building is expected to take the staff off the gym floor.

The staff is expected to be fully organized by the end of the month. The new offices are expected to remain in Ballard.

King George Fights for Life

KING GEORGE VI SERIOUSLY ILL. Britain's beloved King George VI underwent surgery Sunday night for the removal of a kidney. The King had been seriously ill for nearly a week. While huge crowds milled about outside doctors performed a two-hour operation which removed the ailing organ. The illness has been confirmed but cancer, tuberculosis, and severe bronchitis have all been suspected. Now the King is praying for his kingdom and the "souls of the King," that he may be saved.

In the coming year, Education is "made up my mind to stay at some American college because my father went to school here. He was in high school in Seattle and then attended the University of Washington and graduated from Washington State in 1928," he expiated.

Saying referring to Japan, his father has been teaching English for more than 35 years and is new vice-president of Kagoshima English Society.

"My father used to tell me about the American schools, especially Whitworth, because it was one of the best Christian colleges. That is the reason I really wanted to enter this college," Mike said.

Mike is entering as a freshman and is majoring in education. When he completes his training in four years, he is planning to return to Japan and teach in either a high school or university.

"After the war's end, the Japanese people have come to realize many more accept the fact of knowing English is not to order along well with the people of your country, and also to understand the current events of the world. Education is most important in Japan," he commented.

Mike, seemed amazed at the friendliness and help of people here. When asked whether he would return for another year after his four years are up, he replied, "Oh no. Whitworth is very much like family. I am very happy to know that everyone is so kind enough to teach me."

Pressures Are Unnecessary

Wellesley, Mass. (AP) — College pressures are not absolutely essen- tial to Wellesley officials. Mrs. Virginia Mayo Flax, dean of admission at class of 1948, Wellesley College, commenting on the survey of admissions counselors here, that "they can be avoided by planning and discipline," she concluded. "Too many people are too much until the last moment."

The survey, conducted among students, teachers, parents, and deans in the college, is an attempt to discover the reasons for college pressures. According to Miss Jeanette McPherson, dean of freshmen, "the majority of pressures in college come primarily from the everyday ones of our outside world. Others are the result of secondary school requirements which demand perfection in every subject."

"Students must learn that there are certain times when certain study is advisable. It is impossible in college education to do every "t and cross every "v."

Mike Arrives on Campus

"Mike" arrives on campus half a world from home. Among the many foreign students entering Whittleville this year, one of the most interesting is Muneura Miura, otherwise known to his friends as "Mike," who arrived on campus last week.

Last year he was a junior student at Aoyama Gakuin College, a Methodist missionary school in Japan. He majored in English and American literature. Last day he worked to learn the English lan- guage as I so he was very much in the opportunity, he was to be prepared to come to the States by study "I made up my mind to study at some American college because my father went to school here. Grad. Tests Slated For Ensuing Year

Princeton, N. J. —The Graduate Record Examination, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year, Educational Testing Service announced.

During 1951-52 nearly 10,000 students took the GRE in partial fulfillment of admission require- ment of graduate schools. This fall candidates may take the GRE on Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29; in 1952, the tests are February 1 and 2, May 2 and 3, August 1 and 2. Since the GRE is required by all graduate schools, ETS advises each student to inquire of his prospective school whether or not he is expected to take the test, and, if so, on which dates.

Student Council Wants Say On College Athletic Board

Do you want "taxation without representation"? That was the question posed by student body president Paul Schilkopt when student council met Thursday, Sept. 28.

The athletic board receives $4 out of every $25 the student pays for student body dues, yet there isn't a student on the board," Schilkopt explained.

The council answered the question by unanimously petitioning the athletic board to allow student representation with vote. ASWC president and treasurer were named as the proposed representatives.

Athletic board includes its functions administering athletic scholarships, placing games, and planning intramural sports programs.

"Present membership on the board is so large," said Schilkopt. "There's an athletic director, Jim McQuigg, two assistant, and Prof. John Koehler representing the faculty. And supposedly our student body manager, Carl Christiansen, is a member, but he hasn't been notified of any meetings.

An emergency appropriation bill was passed allowing payment of bills incurred by organizations which will normally be considered by the ASWC budget.

Charters will be granted by the council. In Oct. 9 there will be a meeting of those organizations whose constitutions have been approved by the faculty. Organizations whose constitutions have been revoked are to be notified.

Regular student council meetings are slated for second and fourth Tuesdays every month at 11 a.m. in M.L.

College Runs Kiwanis Dorm

Circle K house will be super-sized this fall. Photogenic 56-year old king and queen will be subject to the same rules and regulations as other official dorms have disclosed. Prior to this year Circle K had been run as a cooperative.

Whitworth administrators will have jurisdiction over meals, finances, and other important issues of Circle K. However, the council will still have charge of the swimming pool and be responsible for keeping it in shape.

Located on the Little Spokane river, Circle K is made available by the Kiwanis club of Spokane. Thirty-two men are now housed there. Transportation to and from school is by station wagon provided by the Kiwanis club.

Counselor of Circle K this year is Dr. James Wohlgemuth, a teacher in the chemistry department. The Kiwanis council president, Circle K represent seven states, including Washington, California, Minnesota, Montana, Illinois, Ohio and Wyoming.

"Presbyteries Stress Evangelism," Warren

Importance of Evangelism in the modern world has been stressed at the six presbytery meetings which President Warren has attended this month.

Meetings which Dr. Warren, moderator of the Spokane Presbytery, has recently attended are Seattle at Bremerton, Bellingham at Fairchild, and Spokane at Oakesdale.

Other speaking engagements of recent date was the Seattle Presbytery Men's Retreat at Beaver Lake where he was the featured speaker.

Schilkopt Announces Special Council Meeting

Special council council meeting has been called for Tuesday, Oct. 11, by Paul Schilkopt. Whitworth Press club re-activated the special meeting to discuss the financial status of the WHITWORTHAN, according to Flossie Jones, Press club president.

"Other matters will also be discussed at that time," Schilkopt added.

Webbster Announces "Betrothal to Hanks"

Dr. Arthur L. Webbster, vice-president and Mrs. L. J. Webster of Olympia, Wash., announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ellen to Edward M. Hanks, Whitworth senior, from Linn, Mo., January 31, 1952.

Organizations whose constitutions have been revoked are to be notified by the ASWC council.

Schilkopt Names SUB Major Issue

Continued fund raising for the proposed student union building is one of the major issues occupying the attention of the executive committee and student government, as a whole, according to Paul Schilkopt, student body president.

The relate problems or dinners not taken at the dining hall is also being reviewed Schilkopt said. Plans are being made to help the membership build it upon campus organizations that have dined there.

"Nearly $8,000 has been collected to date for the SUB fund," Schilkopt revealed, "but this year we plan to collect much more than that."

Money raising plans include continued emphasis on the dollar-club month, two or three public concerts featuring nationally-known artists, and a "country fair" to be held in the fall that will include every-thing from concessions to a stage show.

The administration's newly an- nounced policy of denying relates to students eating out of the din- ing hall on scheduled campus an- dals might be modified somehow, Schilkopt said. Plans tentatively approved by the ad- ministration have been made to such groups of 20 or more stu- dents.

Although students can no longer purchase group social events in the dining hall, kibitzers for reasons of finance and over- crowding are to help furnish another kitchen to be used for such relates, Schilkopt said. It will probably be in the press box on the wrestling and football field of Ballard hall.

"These sections by the administration are to be used in times such as these--no one individual is responsible for any of them," the ASWC president declared. They will all be trained out satisfactorily.

Freshmen to Hold Key Spots On Pirate Squad this Year

Willamette Football Pirate mon­ er, Bill Sevedjian, 6 ft., his first year as coach of the Bucs, plans to use freshmen in several key roles on his squad.

kins, Bill Sevedjian and veterans flagged for weapons on the Pirates' opening game with Willamette.

Oblad is completing his fourth year of collegiate football at Willamette. He has been in on all three of the previous years playing guard, however, this year Middle-brand is lining him at the tackle position.

Co-captain of the team, Oblad weights 219 pounds and stands six feet one inch. He graduated from North Central in Spokane and is maj­ ing in engineering.

Rolly Rubbins, also a North Central graduate, is playing his first year of college football. The five-foot-four, 165-pound guard was selected on the Washington all-state football team last fall.

He also played on the Tri-City League team this year and was selected for all-city honors in the Spokane league. He is majoring in engineering.

Jim Robertson, six feet six inch, ball from Central Valley in Spokane, Robertson was named to the Washington all-state football team but was unable to play because of injuries.

Following the football season Big Jim will make his debut with coach Jim McGregor's basketball team.

Bill Sevedjian, a halfback from South Pasadena is also a newcomer to the Pirate squad.

The 175-pound back was a member of the all-star Football team and was also selected on the Calinia all-state team.

Pirates Tackle PLC In Second Grid Duel At Tacoma Saturday

With one game under their belts, the Whitworth Pirates journey to the city of Tacoma for the second conference game of the year against the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators Saturday.

The Lutes have also had one clash, that with the College of Puget Sound Loggers, with the Loggers winning on a 7-0 decision.

The Pirates have come into the game with a 1-0 record, while the Gladiators have lost both of their games.

The game will be held at noon Saturday at the Tacoma College Stadium.

Ed Kretz, Pirate quarterback, is showing improvement in his passing game.

With the first official meet set for Oct. 20, Whitworth's cross-country runners are still in need of additional strength according to student coach Paul Johnson.

Competition for the initial race will be furnished by the University of Idaho team.

These running events are Dave Gallagher, Jake Cox, George Westray, Howard Amundson, Spike Nash, and Norm Taylor.

Vet Hoopsters Bolster Squad

Whitworth's 1951-52 basketball team will be forged around six returning lettermen plus two from junior varsity coach Jim McGregor has revealed.

Loss of last year's players Ray
Haines and Dick Edwards would be keenly felt McGregor stated.

Returning lettermen are Ray
Beach, Ray Beach, Ralph Polson, Bill Freeman, Jim Dougherty, and Mel Belen. The two junior varsity players are Ralph Bohannan and Leonard Long.

Campus WF Installs Head

Seven officers were installed at Westminster Fellowship services Sunday, Sept. 30, in the little chapel.

First to be installed was moderator Mark Dunlay, senior from Yakima. Following him were vice-moderator Florene Jones, senior, Phoenix, Ariz.; stated clerk Mary Webster, junior, Olympia.

Heading the commendations were for faith and life Margaret Baird, senior, San Antonio, Calif.; for fellowship Jay Woods, junior, Yakima; stewardship Jim Pendleton, freshman, Clarkston; for Christian outstanding service Louise Inman-Kane, senior, Oneonta, N. Y.

Dr. Bevere Rodgers, chaplain and head of the Christian education and Bible department, installed the officers. Dr. Rodgers and his wife, Prof. Lawrence E. Yates, are members of the group.

Meetings held at 8:30 p.m. every Sunday in the commons are open to all students.

Facuity Professional Hour Discusses Education's Intent

"Objectives of Higher Education" was the topic of discussion as the first faculty professional hour of the year was held on Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Dr. Merle D. Munz presided over the professional hour as faculty members gathered in the faculty lounge to begin their monthly discussions.

Maxman Speaks

Dr. Thorton R. Maxman, dean of men, spoke on "The Philosophy of Higher Education."

"One of the grave tasks of a liberal arts college," Dr. Maxman told the faculty, "is the development of sound judgment, responsible behavior, and the ability to express personal thoughts and broad techniques of approach to the problems of living.

"A denominational school holds its prime allegiance to the church which founded it, its objectives must be those of a standard liberal arts college."

KWC Asks For Help

More students to help, plus new script ideas and program suggestions are campus radio station KWC's most pressing needs according to Howard Hunt, KWC manager.

"We'll welcome any suggestions that will help us to provide better and more interesting programs," Hunt said.

No definite program schedule has yet been made by KWC. Program leaders are slated to be announced on a tentative basis during this week, which will include "Christian Today" by William Burker, "News and Views" by Charles Bowman, "Billy Shibley" program by Ronnie Carr; "Campus Classics," a play program by Kenneth Warren.

Sports announcing by Dave Stevens; "Bad Humor" by Steve Treadwell; "Star" by Claude Clay; "Bar of Tomorrow" by Dr. Louie Casper; and "Old Record Album" by George Wheeler; and "Gaslight," a transistorized US government-sponsored show.

"Reversing the previous year's setup, the concert band and marching band have separate organizations," Robert Bruce, student director of the marching band, announced.

"The music department does not feel that the cut Aud will not be able to prepare a pep band," Bruce said.

Regular practice time for the pep band is 3:00 p.m. Monday to Friday in the fine arts hall.

The band, which now consists of 15 members, needs an enrollment of 30 in order to be an effective marching band. Bruce has names of 100 students on campus who have expressed interest and made an appeal to those students to come to band practice.

Fresno Nursing School

A selection of popular contemporary music may be heard at the annual initiation at Lefleur, Lansing hall at DeLorme hospital school of nursing on Tuesday, Sept. 25.

"There's only one thing that God asks of His children and that is to do as He says. His word is crystal clear; all we need to do is to read it," Miss Hollingsworth declared.

Friday evening's entertainment at the conference consisted of a party featuring fairy tales. Repeated was "The Prince Who Wouldn't Laugh" with Miss Webb of Manhattan, Kansas, and Dorothy Ireland, with Pat Waddell narrating.

Westminster wing presented "The True Princess" with Chris Imman, and Colleen Richardson in leading roles. McMillan featured Marilyn Adams, Marlys Moberly, Floy McKee, Sarah Jeanme, and Marille Bristow as "The Three Bears." Westminster drum presented "Cinderella" with Beverley Aston, Betty Moore, Carol Geary, Jackie Conlin, Joyce Derick, and Sally McAndrew as the narrator.

Sing After Service

Gladys Achtermann and Norma Ruston led in a devotional singing following the Friday evening service. Ardith Moberly and Thelma Scharf also played trumpet solos from opposite sides of the lake.

The theme of the Saturday evening banquet was ranch style with cowboy music. The program included an instrumental trio of Eleanor Culver, Ardith Moberly and Mary Lou Taylor. Vocal quartet of Renee McMechan, Eleanor Culver, Norma Bantillo, and Marian Hanson; reading by Genice Oshany, and Genea Guenther; and "The Savoy Girls" in charge of the entertainment for the evening.

Miss Wagner's closing talk Sunday morning was "Telling His Love." After this talk communion was administered by Dr. Harry Rodger, the college chaplain.

PLC Grabs Lead With 13-6 Triumph Over Whitt Gridders

Aiming for their first league victory against one defeat, the Whitworth Pirates also play host to the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Pine Bowl.

Thunderbird coach "Jelly" Anderson deploys the UBC team from a T-formation, which has resulted in one record of defeat to the strong Western Washington pig-skimmers, and a tie with Carroll college of Helena, Montana, 13-12.

Coach Anderson  attended Washington State college and was assistant coach in football and baseball at the University of Washington. The team, comparatively new in sports competition, is rated stronger defensively and offenstively this year.

Coach Bill Hieberland said, "There is decided improvement in the defensive line. The improvement has been gained in the two previous games. The rather new front line led by Bill Hickey is showing.

Last year's returning senior and last year's returning letterman should strengthen with experience as the season progresses."

Pirate Grid Team Boasts Top High School Players

by Jerry Strautz

If all-star players have any relationship to a winning football team, Whitworth college should turn to winning teams in the near future.

With the addition of some of the best high school prospects in the west this year, the Pirates have a stimulating array of talent. Two of these talented players are Steve Bell and Chuck Odor. Both were participants in the 1953 Portland Shrine game, in which the Portland all-stars met the top players in the state in an annual Shrine benefit game.

Bell, a graduate of Portland's Benson high school, captained the football team last year. He also played center for the Terk men in basketball. Steve, a halfback, was picked on the all-team by both the Oregonian and Oregon Journal newspapers.

Chuck Odor, who played on the same team as Bell, adds considerable strength to the center of the Pirate line. He was also named on the all-city team. Chuck, a sociology major, is just 17 and a freshman. He is also interested in baseball, having played in the infeld in high school.

Warren Corrects Local Paper; Football in No Immediate Peril

In spite of a Spokane-Review story predicting the death of football at Whitworth in a few weeks, the sport is in no immediate danger of losing the administration's support, according to president Frank F. Warren. The story that appeared under a 30 point headline last Tuesday in the Spokane-Review said in its lead that "Whitworth college's football will bear nothing but the soft dust of June roses falling on the turf in a matter of weeks unless football starts paying its own way."

Wrong impression.

Mr. Warren does not wish to express the misunderstanding because of a letter that he has sent to 1,200 business men appealing for their support of the Whitworth team. In the letter, the college president stressed the need for Whitworth to at least break even financially in order to retain football.

"Whitworth has a good fighting team playing a spectacular brand of ball," Warren wrote. "We have confidence that we have our own fine bowl with efficient. well-paid pari­ term, and the rest.

Game Thrills Crowd

"Last Saturday a small crowd saw a well-played game—which we won!" Warren said.

Vote for Whitworth. If any of the students really believe that the story created an impression that he did not wish to express, they should now correct the impression.

Warns Delay

In Subsistence

Veteran students attending Whitworth college, Gonzaga university, Washington State college, and Eastern Washington College of Education under the GI Bill should be aware of subsistence and in plans until the first of December the Spokane Office of the Veterans Administration announced last week.

Laverna A. Clemens, VA acting officer in charge, explained that three conditions, all of them arising from the same cause, have been contributed to the expected delay in getting subsistence checks to the students.

It is not necessary to reduce the number of VA personal who process the papers of the GI students. Second, there has been an unusually large increase in the number of students enrollment this fall; and third, the VA still is working through the last-minute load of applications that came in just ahead of the cut-off date for starting training, this past July 31.

"Some veterans," Clemens said, "will not receive checks before the first of December.

Fans Make Football Team

A college campus is apt to seem very dull and colorless without a football team. But that prospect could face Whitworth.

Much less than half the student body turned out to watch the game last Saturday with UBC. That kind of apathetic support has set the administration to work trying to find a cure.

It is wondering why it should continue to support football when the student body does not.

Football is an institution so generally accepted it is difficult to conceive of college life without it. During the long autumn days, it provides entertainment and needed diversions from books. Win or lose it serves as a rallying point for school unity. And it provides leadership training unexcelled; in the gridiron crucible of the football field, men are forged. It's a long stretch from registration day to the first basketball game. But it will seem a lot longer without a team of gridiron gladiators afield.

Let's make SURE that the Pirate players know that we appreciate them when they clash with CPS tomorrow.

Vandals Destroy AKX Sign

Vandalism perpetrated on AKX party, women's conference, traffic regulating, and other signs indicates that somewhere on the campus are some fugitives from kindergarten—or worse.

These signs require considerable effort by students from the art department and various committee members. But they take only a moment to be ruined by muddle-minded mischief-makers.

Vandalism is a practice that indicates besides an undeveloped mind pathological promptings of a criminal nature.

Decent conduct and proper respect for property are lessons that should have been learned before primary grades. About now would seem to be the proper time for the sign destroyers in our midst to grow up—if they have the mental capacity.

Creevey Finds Novel Excuse

It's bad enough to be late to class. But students are saying that it is a novel excuse for being late, to provide a defense for your own tardiness and to plead your case before classmate. So was the apology of Bill Creevey and Jack Cross, of the philosophy class, Monday afternoon.

"Taking a Scenetic stand, Creevey pleaded his 'case against his assistant, Richard Roach, who claimed the lateness was due to the philosophy professor. Creevey philosophically noted that philosophy cannot be confined to Westminster rules 4 from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m.; that in use, philosophy can be confined by time and space.

Therefore, just because he was one of philosophy class on time didn't mean he was justified. The case was dismissed.

Lingalfer Speakers To Chapel Wednesday

Dr. E. C. Lingalfer, University of Wash law professor and former consumer speaker, will address students at chapel on Wednesday morning. Dr. Lingalfer is well known for his philosophical approach to law. He will speak on "Sources of Law."" Lingalfer's approach to law is a dispersion of how man has harnessed the power of the sun, coal, water, and the atom.

Warren Clarifies Position; Says Football May Remain

(A STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT FRANK P. WARREN)

It would appear that there has been some misunderstanding arising from a letter mailed from my office this past week to about 1,000 people. I wish to correct this medium for entering upon the statement made.

Some have assumed that action has already been taken to stop football at the close of this season—r in fact, some troubled souls have alleged that we were going to finish out the season. We meant to stop, should we have been able to. But we intended to stop, should we have been able to. That is the point of support. The cost of servicing a club like ours is high. Travel, meals, officials, and advertising all run large sums. But this problem can be easily met if the student body will support their team! Yours is the answer which hurts.

I am afraid to waste a tangible evidence of real support, and yet I feel less than half of the student body is fully interested in the game. That is not being fair to the coach, the team, or the college. It is felt that if football remains, there is a more important support that will bring revenue to our college.

Train's Christian Coaches

One of the great reasons for football is our belief that through football we can prepare for the men for "high schools" around the country. This is not to say that we have a group doing an excellent job.

We also believe that it can be an attempt to model our college football. With a gridiron team, like ours, there is no logical reason why we should not be known for our great football teams.

This great fighting team warrants much better support than you gave last week. As I said in chapel, "I'm ashamed of you." But that can be quickly changed to a sense of pride and joy for your school. That is the reason why we should not be known for our great football teams.

"Civilization is only a thin veneer. Why not accept them as new students and help them accordingly? I want no more than what Jesus would do.

Sincerely,

Jean Cannon

Keys Exhibits Tempera Art in Library

Tempera art displayed in the library during the month of October is a selection taken from a group of more than 70 paintings that Mr. Herman Keys, Whitworth's downtown art instructor, is painting for Edgell's Sanitarium.

The exhibit will remain in place until the end of this month, Prof. John Kocher, head of the college's art department, has announced. The 70 completed paintings will be Mr. Keys' gift to the patients at the hospital where he himself spent seven years recovering from illness. Some idea of the value of the paintings can be inferred from Professor Kocher's statement that, "Mr. Keys' paintings usually sell from $100 to $250 each.

Because of the difficulties of tempera painting, the technique of which is impossible, Mr. Keys often spends five hours before he is satisfied with the results, according to the art instructor. Purpose of the 70 pictures is to help relieve the monotony of drab surroundings for Edgell's patients. The pictures will be changed from room to room every few weeks.

Weber, Polley Plight Troth

Two heart-shaped cakes on either side of a round table bearing a ring are the subject of a picture by Corrine Weber and Harvey Polley at an informal buffet dinner Oct. 5. Miss Weber is the daughter of Mrs. David E. Weber of Five-Mile Prairie and a 1950 graduate of the University of Oregon. She is now employed in a public school music and is currently pursuing graduate courses.

Polley, a 1951 graduate from Spokane, is now stationed at Fairchild Field, Post Falls, Idaho, where he is an education major at Whitworth.

The picture is a spot in the first act set for late summer of next year. Whitworth students present at the engagement dinner were Wally Bekowies, Marilyn Toews, Norma Bendig, Pat Polley, Bob McGil, Bert Lee, George Blood, and student manager, Carl Christensen.

MacKnight the Hypnotist

To Entertain Seniors Oct. 13

"MacKnight the Hypnotist" will perform for senior class members at their annual class banquet Sat., Oct. 13, held in Spokane hotel's Silver Grill at 7:15 p.m., according to Colleen Richardson, class vice-president and general banquet chairman.

H. A. MacKnight, Spokane resident, is a professional hypnotist who works with local physician who demonstrates hypnotism for entertainment.

Bekowies to Sing

Wally Bekowies, vocalist, and Lorrette O'Bryant, violinist, complete the entertainment's entertainment as lined up by Sue Voorhees, program chairman.

Transportation to the banquet for all seniors has been assured by Pat Waddell, transportation chairman. Buses leave from Ballard hall at 6:45 p.m. Regular tickets are $2.50 each. Tickets are available in the dorms and gym foyer.

Spanish Club Holds First Meeting Tonight

Special invitation to foreign speaking students on the Whitworth campus is extended by the modern language club who will be holding their initial meeting tonight in the library, according to Dr. Eugene Heming, club advisor.

The meeting will serve the dual purpose of helping the members become better acquainted with each other and start the planning of the year's activities. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Missionaries Choose China As Topic at Oriental Banquet

Missionary efforts in China's service were discussed by J. Ray Snyder, college finance director, and Mrs. Ruth Walline at Mission fellowship's oriental banquet held in the commons Saturday night, according to banquet chairman Leroy Collins.

Talking to 80 students for some phase of mission work, the two missionaries drew upon their own experiences under communist domination. "We are the light of the world," said the Quaker theme.

Mr. Snyder and his wife were returned to the United States 16 months ago from Canton, China where they were associated with the Presbyterian mission in China. Mrs. Walline left China a year ago to visit relatives in the United States.

Elaborate theme was used in the banquet featuring Chinese food.

new gridders boost pirates

former high school players of the Spokane area are playing an important part in this year's 1951 Pirate gridiron. Many of the players are Bob Strong and Jim Robertson. Pleasure to end 1951.

Bob Strong, a junior this year, is a graduate of Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane, where he played four years. The twenty-year-old business administration major was at the right halfback position on offense. The Fast Strong is bolder of the 100-yard dash record at Whitworth, running a century race in 10.8 flat last year.

Central Valley's contribution to the crimson and black is in the six-foot-six form of Jim Robertson. The eighteen-year-old end was a four-year letterman at that school and was named to last year's all-state team.

Robertson also played basketball each of his four high school years.

Buc Gridders Drop UBC

In Lopsided Game 41-0

The Whitworth Pirates racked up win number one last Saturday when they overwhelmed the University of British Columbia 41-0.

The Pirates finally unleashed the attack of which they are capable, and had the score sewed up by the end of the first quarter. With Otto Wright and Bob Ward rolling off long gains on the ground the White horse went into Thunderbird territory where Ed Kretz passed to Sam Adams for the Pirates first score. Kretz kicked the conversion to put the Pirates ahead 7-0.

The Pirates took over the ball again after UBC's attack failed to gain. With Ward and Wright again rolling up yardage on the ground the Pirates headed for pay dirt. A lateral from Otto Wright to Fritz Ridenour was flipped over, Ridenour then crashed over right guard for the score. Ed Kretz again kicked the conversion to put the Pirates ahead further, 14-0.

Kretz Passes to Adams

In the second quarter a Kretz to Adams pass put the White horse in scoring position. Husky Bob Ward dove over from the six-yard line. Kretz's kick was notified by a penalty.

With the Pirates passing attack at its season's best, they took to the air to again set up the next touchdown. With the Kretz to Adams combination running all its old time forms they set up the next score. Fritz Ridenour again dove over from the four-yard line. This time Kretz's kick was good. With only a few minutes left in the first half, Frank Abney intercepted a Thunderbird pass. Ed Kretz passed to Sam Adams who made a sensational leaping catch to add another six points to the Pirate's total.

With Coach Bill Holmback clearing the bench in the third quarter, the Thunderbirds held the Pirate scoreless. The Whitworth reserves ran up and down the field but were unable to press across the UBC goal line.

Wright Scores

In the fourth quarter reserve quarterback Wayne Buchart passed to Otto Wright who ran across the remaining 20 yards to score. Fritz Ridenour converted.

Although the whole team seemed out both offensively and defensively the Pirate line was particularly effective. They opened big holes for backs and held the UBC team to four downs on several occasions. Wayne Buchart showed much improvement over his previous performances. Sam Adams, Otto Wright, Fritz Ridenour, and Bob Ward looked good on defense.

Did Someone Swap Jailopy for Horse?

Some students have always referred to the horse as "the stable." But it comes as a jolt when the title is taken literally.

The horse is part of the student body, that is.

The horse, or stable, is the stables at the right hallback position.

The horse atmosphere students noticed Thursday morning was no figment of the imagination.

A black horse was found hitched to one of the common pillars by Bob Roeve when he came to clean the stable at 6:00 a.m.

CPS, Pirates Clash Tomorrow

Unbeaten Loggers Want Third Conference Win

Unbeaten College of Puget Sound will square off against Whitworth college tomorrow at 2 p.m. in an evergreen conference football game in the Pine bowl.

The Loggers will be gunning for their third conference victory while the Pirates seek their first win in conference play.

Puget Sound and Pacific Lutheran currently lead the conference with two wins each. These teams will face each other next week.

Pacific Lutheran scored an upset 144-victory over a potent Western Washington team while Puget Sound trounced Eastern Washington college of education 56 to 6.

Tomorrow's game is a must for the Pirates if they plan to stay in the upper division and remain as possible title contenders.

Pirate gridders will be in full strength for the game. Several players however, have minor injuries which may hold them to limited action in the tilt.

Halfback Bob Strong and guard Dick Jones will not be in the starting lineup after missing last week's game because of injuries.

Puget Sound has a well balanced team with speed, blocking and a passing attack that has been spreading doom for previous opponents.
Tatum Gets Trip to East For Confab
Bill Tatum will represent the state of Washington at the Fifty­ fifth Convention of American Industry sponsored by National Assoc­

Robert Philip Kouk, Whitman college senior from Walla Walla, was named as alternate. Competition is keen.

Tatum was picked from recommendations submitted to the As­ soociation of Washington Industries by 13 colleges and universities in the state. Delegates are required to be outstanding upperclassmen in their state. Dr. Frank F. Warren, president, received the recommendation request Oct. 1. At Whitman, Tatum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad W. Tatum of Deer Park. He lists in campus activities: sophomore class president; assoc­

President Muzzles Press

American newspapers have been aroused by President Truman's recent regulation that effectively institutes a veil of secrecy over events in the executive branch of the government.

It is difficult to protest that this edict is dictatorial and unnecessary. Ostensibly designed as a security measure, its curtailing of the freedom of the press may be "necessary," to prevent further strange and embarrassing events of the administration from being brought to public light.

It must be admitted that freedom of the press should only be granted to a responsible press. We feel that American journalists are responsible enough, excluding a few, to handle this assignment.

We wouldn't want to see the press quite as "free" as it was a century ago as described in Mark Twain's sketch "Journalism in Tennessee." In that era, the press has just shot a man, left him new assistant in charge of the office saying:

Jones will be here at three—cawhite him. Gillespie will call earlier, perhaps throw him out of the window. Ferguson will be along about four—kill him. That is all for today, believe. If you have any odd time, you may write a blustering article on the police.

The country was under the labors, weapons in the drawer, ammunition there in the corner, lint and bandages up there in the pigeon-holes...

Nor would we want to see editors snoop to the personal inquestive common a century ago. Kindly, idealistic Horace Greeley scribes editorially, "You lie, you villain, you sinfully, wickedly, basely lie!" at America's greatest editor, Horace Greeley.

Driving Loggers Trounce Fighting Pirate Team

by Greg Sanford

High-powered running attack of College of Puget Sound overcame the passing attack of improved Pirates in a conference game in the Whitworth Bowl Saturday.

The Loggers kicked off to the Pirates and two plays later, Ed Kreitz unleashed a 3-yard pass to end Al Miller to start the Pirates rolling.

A little later a Pirate fumble was recovered by CPS and Columbia crashed over for the score. The conversion was good and the visitors led 7-0.

Loggers Recover

After a nice kick-off return by Ollie Wright the Loggers recovered a Pirate fumble and went on to score their second touchdown and extra point.

After the next kick-off, Kreitz turned to Sam Adams who rambled 30 yards to make the first score for the Pirates. The conversion attempt failed.

Three plays after the kick-off, Whitworth recovered a fumble on the CPS 40-yard line. Kreitz again failed to connect and passed to Bill Sevadjian, who ran the rest of the way for the Pirates' second score in less than four minutes. Kreitz made the extra point.

Weight Opens Half

Ollie Wright opened the second half by returning the kickoff to the White's 38-yard line. The Pirate fumbled again on the next play and CPS recovered. The line driving Loggers scored on their first play, to run the score to 21-3.

After Whitworth failed to make use of their series of downs the Loggers took over and again drove down field to score 7 points.

A little later the Pirates recovered a Logan fumble but were trapped behind their own goal to score a safety for the Loggers.

Pirates Pass

The Pirates then took to the air, and with a series of passes to Big Jim Robertshon, drove to the CPS 2-yard line. With Kreitz passing to Adams the ball moved to the half-yard line, where Wright stumbled over for the score. The conversion failed and the score stood 21-9.

On the kickoff, Big Wally Evens of the Loggers lowered the boom on the White and raced the full length of the field to score for CPS. The Loggers added another safety late in the fourth quarter to make the final score 20-9.

Pirates Aids Bucs' Offense

Offensive side of the Whitworth football eleven has admittedly improved in view of the game against previously unscorched upon College of Puget Sound. One reason for this sudden offensive shine is a conscientious 180 pound quarterback—nearly Wayne Buchert.

With more fight and spirit than experience, the 19-year-old sophomore from Tumwater consistently turned in gains through the Porkers line. Working out of the single wing, Buchert piloted the line with sure courage and power. The spirit and one-year experience also established himself to be some-what of a numbers.

In addition to his offensive work, Wayne repeatedly sparked the Pirate defense with vicious, timely tackles.

Volleyball Players Get Sweater Points

The Whitworth volleyball players who are making points for sweaters may turn out for volleyball each day night from 8 to 10 p.m. You can play an hour or two hours every night as each time person, intramurals in volleyball between the games are going to start soon.

Whitworth Pirates go into the second half of their season's schedule tonight when they seek to Klllllll1ber the Puget Sound College of Evergreen conference football game with the Central Washington Wildcats. Game time is 8 p.m.

Central and Whitworth are currently tied for the first-place spot in conference standings with no wins and two losses in league play.

Powerful College of Puget Sound and Pacific Lutheran remained tied for first place honors with three wins and no losses.

Tonight's game between the Pirates and Wildcats rates as a tossup. However, on the basis of games played to date, the Pirates can be considered favorites.

The Wildcats fell victims to Pacific Lutheran by a 25-0 score while the Lutherans edged out the Pirates 14-6. Puget Sound also defeated Central 20-6 while the Pirates dropped a 20-19 decision to the Loggers.

Pirates Lead Central

Since the Puget conference was formed in 1940, Whitworth has not been defeated by Central. In that year the two squads battled to a 6-6 tie. The following year the Wildcats won by scores of 14-12 and 18-14.

Coach Bill Hildebrand of the Bucs will probably go along with the same starting lineup used in previous games. Veterans Jim Adams and Al Miller will play at the end positions.

Board Puts Off Exams Until After Homecoming

Mid-semester examinations originally slated for Oct. 31 through Nov 2 have been postponed until Nov. 10. Dr. Merton D. Mann, dean of the college, has announced.

Because of homecoming activities the student council appealed to the academic board to change the tests until a week later. The request was granted in view of the fact that students would not have sufficient study time.

Freshmen Ignite Bonfire To Start Rally Tonight

Freshmen will ignite Whitworth’s annual homecoming bonfire at 9:30 p.m. to kick off the pre-game pep rally of the Pontif immediately following the presentation of "Kind Lady" this evening, Beverly Astorn, chairman of the event, has announced.

Sponsored by the Pep club it will be held on the piece of land beyond Stadium field called the Pontif.

"Although there will be no elaborate program presented at the bonfire, a good selection of yells will be given by the yell leaders, Ray Rowell, Joyce Ross and Mau­ reen Mccarman," Miss Astorn said.

The pep band will be present to play and the students will be led in the singing of the school songs by the songleaders, Shirley Morris­ on, Joanne Keifert, Roberta Mitchell, Kathryn Rood and Ann Har­ cool.

Members of the advertisement committee are Lee Kromm, Bar­ bara Holtman and Madelyn Gray.

Anonimous Donors Give College $5,000

Whitworth college has received $5,000 from anonymous donors to help underwrite its new program for master’s degrees in education, the administration has announced.

The faculty is now working upon plans whereby work can begin in the new department next semester. Library facilities are being expanded to meet the demands of the growth.

Minister Puts On ‘The Touch’

Ministers can be capitalists, according to Mr. Daniel Chese­ is’ report of a recent Sunday evening church service.

"The worship program had been switched around. The harassed minister made an announce­ ment from the pulpit to correct resulting confusion.

"Following the offertory, we will sing ‘Only a Touch’"

Student Council Gives Okay To New Publications Charter

Whitworth board of publications, with its third proposed constitu­tion, was chartered by student council at its Tuesday meeting. Two previous constitutions sub­ mitted to the council since the AWPIC constitution went out of ef­ fect last spring had been rejected.

Board of publications subdivides into four committees, according to the constitution written by Prof. A. O. Gray, journalism department head, and Flavious Jones, Press editor.

Committee of the whole consists of the journalism department head who serves as chairman with vote, college public relations director, Whitworth editor and business manager, National editor and busi­ ness manager.

Alumni Come Home Today

This weekend is homecoming when Whitworth alumni who have answered the call of yesteryear come "home" for a little while to reminisce, take stock, and enjoy a football game.

Whitworth is happy to welcome her alumni. Much of her future rests on these products of her past—the graduates who represent the college with ever-widening influence throughout the Pacific Northwest, America, and the world.

Virtually all phases of professional endeavor have been strengthened by the talents of some of Whitworth's graduates. It is interesting to speculate as to which one of these in the various fields deserves the accolade of "Whitworth's most-famed alumnus." Perhaps the dust will have to settle a little more before that controversial question can be answered.

Whitworth is still a lusty growing college in spite of the fact that it is this sixty-first anniversary. Even recent graduates will notice many improvements evident on the fast-changing campus.

The college's greatest needs now appear to be the planned new administration and student union buildings. Once these are constructed the physical plant should be about complete.

Whitworth's greatest challenge now lies in the years immediately ahead. But its greatest satisfaction will always come from achievements of alumni.

The collective charms of these six comely coeds radiate a broad front page of the downtown Spokane Daily Chronicle. Anyone, whether he knows anything about newspaper make-up or not, will concede that that front page looked nice.

And it wasn't the typography!

"I have been attempting to place my sermons on their level in a dramatic or story form," he remarked, "and by drawing these mental pictures, I believe it will enable the children to apply the Bible teachings to themselves."

The slender, bespectacled senior, who is judicial committee chairman and works on the chapel committee and in public relations, is a native son of Walla Walla. He has one semester at Whitworth college and six years in the army air force behind him.

During the last war Wynn served as a judge pilot in the Pacific campaign and as a serial engineer in the air transport command between San Francisco and the Orient.

A few more years may find him back in the Asiatic world, possibly in Japan—this time in the role of missionary rather than conqueror.

More Tank Commander Instructs Band, Orchestra

by Ruth Higgins

Dr. Arthur Fraser, former band and orchestra director at Whitworth, is home in Winnipeg, Canada. Upon his high school graduation there, he studied music at night school for three years. During this time he played in the Canadian Broadcasting company symphony orchestra, and in the 60-piece Winnipeg symphony.

Return to New York

Then he returned to New York and re-entered Columbia university. There, while holding a job at the university, he also held an appointment at Ossining and Tarrytown schools.

His latest move was to Spokane where he is now the conductor of a complete Whitworth symphony.

"I believe we put too much emphasis on marching bands, and not enough attention on the teaching of musicianship through voices and the orchestra," he commented. "We intend at Whitworth to develop our orchestra!"

3 Former Whites Serve With 110th

Chateauxs, France is currently the home of Glen Carlson, George Ferrer, and Steve Clarke, three of the former Whitworth students who are now members of the 110th Combat orchestra, according to word received by Prof. William G. Wilhind, head of the college's physics department.

One of the trio, Lowell Anderson, took his automobile with him. He was sent to Chateauxs, France, 210 miles south of Paris, Anderson went through Germany, Holland, Belgium, Luxemburg and France.
Clubs Vote To Combine; Elect Collins
Foreign language-speaking students are jolting the French, German, and Spanish clubs to combine in one foreign language club, newly-elected club president Larry Collins reports. Union was voted in at the clubs' joint meeting Friday night, Oct. 10.
The club is for all students able to speak a foreign language, whether taking a language class at Whitworth or not. Greek students as well as foreign nationals studying at Whitworth are eligible for membership.

"At our next club meeting we hope the Whitworth students who can speak Chinese, Portuguese, Japanese, and Polish will come as well as those knowing the languages taught here," Collins said. Portrait in the native language of Christmas celebrations in other countries is slated as the club's December program.

Held to serve in foreign language club officers were former French club officers consisting of Collins as president; Wanda Strickland, secretary; and Birdie West, vice-president. Miss Strickland heads the committee to draft the club's constitution.

Sally Evans and James Dekert announced their engagement Oct. 22 at a private party at the home of Bill Savory, Whitworth University. Miss Evans, last year's Natsishi editor, is from Lewiston, Wash., and is currently working in Spokane.

X-Ray Unit Arrives At Whitworth Nov. 2
Mobile chest X-ray unit will be located behind the gymnasium Friday, Nov. 2 according to Miss Oola Reno, school nurse.

"Students, faculty members and residents of the neighboring community are urged to make use of the unit, especially those who have not had a chest X-ray in the past six months," Miss Reno said.

Judges to Review Dorms Tomorrow
Homecoming decorations that have adorned the campus since Wednesday are to be judged to-morrow morning. According to Elwood Widmer, decoration chairman, Miss Marion Jenkins, Prof. John Kooner and Rita Aeschliman are the judges.

The $5 first prize is to go to the building with the most original "Aqua-Fantasy" decorations. The second price is also $5, and the third prize, $3.

The library and gymnasium were decorated by the town club and the dining hall and fine arts building by freshmen.

Board OKays Constitution
Appointed by student council. This committee considers all policies affecting ASWC journalistic activities.

Committee of the Whitworthian consists of the above members except the Natsishi editor and business manager. These two committee members will handle problems concerning their respective publications.

Making up the executive committee are the journalism department head, college public relations director, and the three students on the committee of the whole. The executive committee appoints and removes publication editors and business managers.

"The editor of any student publication shall have the right of editorial comment on any subject which he deems fitting for his editorial column, provided such subjects and comment are not libelous or obscene," reads the constitution's clause insuring freedom of the press at Whitworth.

"He shall have the freedom to select and in grade news without distortion as to inclusion, placing of news stories, or prominence of display. His right to freedom of expression with the exception noted shall be protected by the publications board and the student council."

Student Council Distributes Annual Budget of $19,154.10
Student manager's office, with $3,270, received the largest allotment in the ASWC budget adopted by student council at its Tuesday meeting. The over-all budget is based on an estimated $10,160.15 income from student body fees.

Student council accepted the budget presented by ASWC treasurer Bearnard Nelson except for the proposed athletic board allotment of $5,096.25. The council deferred action on this until more information could be obtained.

The yearbook received the budget's second largest fund of $3,000. The rest of the ASWC treasury was divided among the campus newspapers.

Drama Fraternity Redecorates Lounge
Alpha Psi Omega, dramate fraternity, has redecorated the coffee lounge located across from the speech office in the speech auditorium.

The room, dusk in crimson yellow and peach, will be used for private lessons as well as for a place for club members to spend leisure time. A coffee and social hour is planned for Fridays.

‘Whit’ Gridders to Vie Saturday in Pine Bowl

By Ron Schearer

“Battle of the Whites” will be resumed tomorrow when the Whitman Missionaries clash with the Whitworth Pirates in the non-conference homecoming football tussle set for 1:30 p.m. in the Pine bowl.

The Whitworth gridders will be striving to protect their two-year running streak over the Walla Walla club since losing to the Missionaries in 1949. Wholesale holds a slight edge in games won since the (2) clubs began their rivalry in 1947. Whitman won 1 game while the Pirates have broken in the win column six times.

Record Isn’t Good

Coach Bill Hildebrand's Pirates enter the game with a season record of one win and four losses. The Missionaries have failed to win a game in conference play while losing two and tying one.

Whitman has scored 30 points in conference play while their opponents have rung up a total of 71 points against them. They rank fifth in the Northwest conference football standings.

Central Washington College of Agriculture and the Bible herself went unopposed to last place with Eastern Washington in the Evergreen conference.

Entertainment Slated

Tomorrow's homecoming game between the Whites will feature plenty of pre-game and half-time entertainment. Chery Wright will put on a trampoline act with the assistance of his son, Buddy.

WAA Admits 13 Members

Thirteen new WAA members were added to the enrolment at completion of recent early morning sales. Their new members are: Grace McNiff, Jean Wright, Janie Barting, Marlene Markle, Rilla Tussler, Leroy Schiffer, Jayne Proeh, Elizabeth Pope, Dorothy Adamson, Diane Moore, and Raymond Hoffbu, freshmen; Joan Currant and Gail Pugh, sophomores; G. Kruma, junior.

The following loyal old members also hailed the required 17 morning sales, thus earning 100 points: Eleanor David and Theresa Schwartz, sophomores; Arthel, Mohler, junior; Patricia Dale, senior.

Ward Bolsters Whit Team

One of the top ball carriers in the Pirate backfield this season has been the hard-running Cali-

NOS

Now in his second season with the White, the sophomore fullback shows much improvement over last year, and is expected to provide our offensive backs with an exciting running game.

Ward, at 6-4, ranks among the youngest of the squad. Standing six feet tall, and with a 195-pound frame, the husky Ward is the tal-ent man in the regular backfield. A graduate from Burbon high school in Burbank, Calif., Ward was named to the all-city team there.

The Idaho Western University football team, in which the White started the Thunderbird to 41-0, was probably Ward's best game. However, he also turned in a stalwart performance in the Whitworth game, which the Pirates lost 13-6.

A track injury received early in the season has handicapped Ward. However, he expects to be ready to go back into action for the Whtman Missionary eleven tomorrow.

To Central;

Score 19-7

Whitworth college again failed to maintain a lead as the Central Washington Wildcats pouted through for two touchdowns in the closing quarter of a game that started closely. This 19-7 victory is the Wildcats' first league win and was the third loss in league play for the Pirates.

The Pirates were playing on their own scarce yard line, kept the ball rolling and their sustained drive netted seven points. With Ken Borsting running from single wing plays and a pair of complete passes from Kretz to Adams and Wright set up Bearden's plunge to the touchdown. Ed Kretz's boot at the uprights was good and the Pirate's lead was 17-12.

But a 65-yard punt interception by Central's Bob Hihlbred accounted for the Wildcat's go-ahead marker in the third quarter after Bob Propst had fumbled in the second quarter for 6 points. Both of these fumbles were non-mal and the Wildcats led 17-7 throughout the third period.

Central, after a flurry of running back in the last period, re-tered to a beautiful pass from Johnny Cavallini to George Kata-linich for the final touchdown and score of 19-7. Cavallini passed to Dick Armstrong for the extra point.

Construction Will Begin

Construction of the administration wing of Whitworth's proposed $500,000 auditorium, administration and classroom building will begin next spring, Dr. Frank F. Warren, president, announced when dedication was sanctioned at the fall meeting of the board of trustees last week.

The first wing is part of the three-story structure that has been designed by architects Punt, Moulder and Johnson.

Costs Over $100,000

Cost of the first unit will range between $350,000 and $400,000, and it is estimated that at present there is $250,000 cash in the fund and close to $100,000 pledged to come in over a three-year period.

"We hope to have the administration unit ready for occupancy by next fall," Warren explained. "The other two units will be completed to wait until there are sufficient funds to go ahead with construction."

Homes Administration

The new building will house all of the administration offices and a few of the academic rooms will be included on a temporary basis to be converted to offices as the new school wing is completed. The rest of the units are completed.

The dedication of the new building is serving a dual purpose for some 30 years, it will be used for pre-college work and will be used for residence halls, and will house 35 more women students.

This will help fulfill the dormitory need.

Awards of $5 go to Washington hall, the dining hall for first place in the campus building display. The judging of the float was conducted by the freshman class.

Sefelo also received a $15 award for first place in the float division. The float was decorated by the freshman class.

Sefelo also received a $5 award for first place in the film division. The float was decorated by the freshman class.

Well Received Cast Repeats 'Kind Lady' Tonight in Gym

"Kind Lady" will be presented for the final time tonight in the gymnasium at 8. The play premiered to a well pleased, homecoming audience last Friday evening.

A generally competent cast under the direction of Prof. Lloyd Waltz did a fine job in interpreting the characters of Chodoren's drama, "A 1940's Broadway Hit," the plot is concerned with events in the lives of criminals. It has an English setting.

\begin{equation}
\text{Prolonged Stages} \end{equation}

A short dramatic prologue sets the stage for a series of incidents and will blend gently realism and a group of object characters from the point of view of the main character. The play enacts it difficult to realize that she would remove 50 years from her stage make-up.

Winfield Stevens' robot-like portrayal of sinister Henry Abbot was effective. Abbot became a stone of the audience's eyes.

Second Act Is Good

The second act was outstanding from the point of audience enjoyment. The action reduced an already shaky scene that in the hands of Mr. Harris became a fine scene. Ms. Harris also did a fine job as the spoiled brat.

Daisy is Worthwhile

The audience rose more and more until the 20 minute wait for first curtain by the music of the orchestra and the direction of Dr. Arthur Fraser.

"The last act" is truly Mary Harris' trial is a good way to forget your own troubles for a couple of hours this evening --- R.R.

Schnajtjen Will Teach 3 R's

By Rosalie Gilmore

A freckled faced congregation of glad-eyed youngsters will begin learning their 3 R's Schnajtjen style when the doors of the little red school open wide a couple of years from now.

Betty Lou Schnajtjen, president of PreAHs, is looking forward to "her role as an educator in the primary grades."

"Four grade children especially fascinated me; she smilingly re-marked."

Betty Lou says that at the stage when their minds are more easily taught.

"Bets," who acquired her love for teaching profession out of admiration for one of her grade school teachers, believes in progressive education and self-expression methods if they are not, carried to an extreme.

Leisure hours find her strolling in the traditional blue jeans—manchet-ted, on a piece of black cable while musing over some book, other than faithful.

The blond haired, blue eyed senior is a native of Portland. During her last few sessions, she has forsaken city life for the splendor of beauty and the silence of the mountain tops.

Betty, who confesses to a mild acquaintance with a piano, and will play "when no one is listening," is a dorm assistant, social chairman of C. E. R. and a member of Serlbo and speaker is head of conference committee. The Schnajtjen wrath, blares in full glory when she overhears people grive," about the dining hall window, which she feels is a virtual dish.

Mid-term examinations cause her to lapse into a philosophical frame of mind. She doesn't like them, but believes she will be making out tests herself rather than the job—she feels in no position to cast aspersions.

Committee Does Work Well

Congratulations for an excellent job are extended to the Homecoming committee who planned the event.

Everything looked good all along the line. Campus aqua-fantasy decorations were admirably done; the work of useable knowledge.

CHURCHILL RETURNS—Winston Churchill was reelected prime minister of England last week as the Conservative party took control of the British government. After the defeat of the six year old socialist government, Churchill, known in the world in general held, was a great victory for freedom. Britain now seems to have taken the emphasis off socialism and set back on England. In line with this feeling Churchill announced a cut in pay for all cabinet members. UN DEMANDS BUFFER ZONE—The UN command wants a buffer zone set up in front of present battle lines in Korea. Maj. Gen. Clement, chairman of the allies subcommittee said, "We say that the communists have made no trade, no offer, no attempt to get a reasonable solution. The communists want us to retreat on about 85 percent of the present active battle front while they are willing to give up some worthless, indefensible land in exchange." In spite of this there is still hope that the communists will be willing to give in and a suitable compromise can be worked out.

KUSSIA PROMISES ICEBREAKER—Of 972 tons' icebreaker ship hold by Russia, the state department has never been able to get them to return two icebreakers. Now after two years of stalling, Moscow has thawed out the vessels and will deliver them to American authorities at Bremerhaven in November.

Mid-Term Are Upon Us!

Mid-term tests are bearing down with all the fury of a northern blizzard. And most students will find themselves snowed under—well under.

Not the least consideration in their unhappy plight is the plethora of extra-curricular activities on campus. Thousands of students are admirably doing so much difficult task.

These activities are admittedly necessary to foster preparation and sixty or eight hours review on "buffer zone set up in front of present battle lines in Korea. Maj. RAY WOODS Pullman weekly October 25, 1951

Schnajtjen Will Teach 3 R's

By Rosalie Gilmore

A freckled faced congregation of glad-eyed youngsters will begin learning their 3 R's Schnajtjen style when the doors of the little red school open wide a couple of years from now.

Betty Lou Schnajtjen, president of PreAHs, is looking forward to "her role as an educator in the primary grades."

"Four grade children especially fascinated me; she smilingly re-marked."

This year's successful homecoming resulted from careful planning, hard work, and careful planning— the usual ingredients of every successful en-deavor.

Britain Discards Socialism

CHURCHILL RETURNS—Winston Churchill was reelected prime minister of England last week as the Conservative party took control of the British government. After the defeat of the six year old socialist government, Churchill, known in the world in general held, was a great victory for freedom. Britain now seems to have taken the emphasis off socialism and set back on England. In line with this feeling Churchill announced a cut in pay for all cabinet members. Conservative leaders predicted hard times ahead but were ready to buckle down for the difficult days.

UN DEMANDS BUFFER ZONE—The UN command wants a buffer zone set up in front of present battle lines in Korea. Maj. Gen. Clement, chairman of the allies subcommittee said, "We say that the communists have made no trade, no offer, no attempt to get a reasonable solution. The communists want us to retreat on about 85 percent of the present active battle front while they are willing to give up some worthless, indefensible land in exchange." In spite of this there is still hope that the communists will be willing to give in and a suitable compromise can be worked out.

Vikings and Whits Clash At Western

Whitworth Pirates invade Western Washington college at Bellingham tomorrow afternoon as the Pirates complete their last road trip of the 1951 football season. With two games remaining in league action, Whitworth will be gunning for their first conference victory and a berth in the conference play. The Pirates have a record of two wins and four losses in their season's play.

Western Rates High

Bidding in the upper division of the Evergreen conference, Western scored one of the biggest upsets in the northwest two weeks ago when they defeated previously unbeaten College of Puget Sound. The powerful Vikings also beat an improved Eastern Oregon 29-12 last weekend.

Coach Bill Hildebrand will have his Pirates at full strength for tomorrow's tilt with the exception of Fritz Robinson, Ridder's off-hand injury, and the inability of the Central game and may not see action until next Saturday.

Pirates Lose Wright

The Pirates will also be without the services of halfback Olle Wright who has been called into the armed forces. Taking over the position vacated by Wright will be either Bob Bell or Bob Strong.

Along with linemen Dick Jones, Bill Healy, and John Boult, Whitworth will match their all-conference backfield against McEachran.

Coeds Tryout For Basketball

Tryouts for women's varsity basketball will be held by Mrs. Alyce Cheska has announced. The team won the tristate championship last year under the direction of Mrs. Cheska who will be in charge again this year with the help of Peggy Gazette.

The team, which is four-footed and new girls on the squad as some of the former members have graduated. Playing on the team will apply to a P. E. credit.

Football Foibles

"My brother made a 98-yard run in the big game. "He was that great." "Yeah, but he didn't catch the man ahead of him." "Coach football to players: "And remember that football develops individually, initiative, and leadership. Now get in there and do exactly as I tell you."

McGregor Announces New Gym Freedoms

Students may have gymnasia for free play during any of its unscheduled hours Coach "Jolly Jim" McGregor announced this week.

McGregor asked that the various chairmen of student organizations notify him of the hours they want the floor.

"This is necessary so that we can have a man there to take care of equipment and the lights," the basketball coach said.

McGregor explained that the school had lost 27 dollars during the school year of 1949.60 due to unpaid play. Students who use the floor will be required to use gym shoes, he indicated.

Hours scheduled for free play will be indicated each week on the bulletin board in the gymnasium foyer.

Pirates Stop Opponents; Score 26-0

This season's largest crowd, estimated at 3,000, watched the annual homecoming game, in which victory-hungry Pirates bowed over the hapless Missionaries from Whitman by the impressive score of 26-0.

On the kickoff, Ed Kretz carried the pigskin to the Missionaries own 40-yard line and followed with a couple of 10-yard quarter back "Jumps." He then faked out and unleashed a completed pass to Adams for the touchdown. Kretz's try-for-point with Wayne Bueltz holding was good, and the score after four minutes of play was 7-0.

Whitman Comes Alive

When Whitman came in and from their own 40, on an off-tackle play for a touchdown. But this was nullified by a Missionary offsides and that was the end of the threat for Buy.

Kretz, with a beautiful kick to the 3yard line set up a touchdown on a Whitman fumble on their own 15-yard line, but the pass to Ken Bercow was out of the end zone and so ruled incomplete.

A little later Rolly Robbins recovered a fumble on the 15 and Bud Rockington pieled to the 5. Steve Bell made a 9 yard dash on the 1 and Kretz to garner the 6 points.

Kretz's best split upgri for a 140 total.

Start Substantial Drive

Parkington and Bell spearheaded another substantial drive from their own 25-yard line to Whitman's one-foot line. Bell drove over for his second touchdown. Ed Kretz failed out of the backfield and the score 26-0.

With only a few minutes remaining in the contest, the drives passed completed to Sam Adams who was given the ball for the standing for the final touchdown.

SHORTS IN SPORTS

New Column Starts Today

This is an introduction to a new addition to the Whitworth sports page. in it, you editor and sportswriters will attempt to summarize and make comparisons of the various sports activities at Whitworth.

While the Whit gridiron trappers had not racked up an impressive record in their first six contests, the team has more prove than they have the spirit and courage to win. With every tilt improvement has been evidenced and the remaining pair of games should prove interesting. With nearly a full season of games under their belts, the relatively new team has picked up valuable experience all along the line.

The football lined-up out of standing gridiron from the region gave the Bucs coach new, Bill Hildebrand, a good array of talent along with the star lettermen play-fers of last year. Several of the games in the schedule could have gone either way with outstanding gains or touchdowns made or the "breaks." The try could go out to "watch the Pirates in '52."

One of the toughest schedules in Whitworth football history has been drawn up, with 32 games already arranged.

Among these are a home and home series with the Washington State College Cougars, single games with Colorado A&M, Memphis State and Seattle University who last year went to the semi-finals in the national small college tournament. Besides these non-confercence tilts, the Bucs will also compete in the regular Evergreen League.

The Pirates will also meet the nationally and internationally famous Phillips Oilers at Wallace, Idaho on Dec. 10.

The White will trek to Seattle for their initial pair of games on Nov. 23-24 with the Seattle Pacific Vikings.

Cheney’s Savages To Host Whitworth At Pep Rally Tonight

Eastern Washington college will host Whitworth rooters tonight in a joint talent饱和 rally at Cheney.

Both colleges will contribute talent for the show which starts at 8 p.m. in Showcase auditorium.

"Here’s our chance to show Cheney what Whitworth can do," ASW president Paul Woods peremptorily urged. "Let’s turn out en masse and yell our lungs out downtown there."

—William Emmons

Emceeing Whitworth’s part of the program will be Clary Wright, Katie Hoot, soprano, will sing "Lavender Blue," Giving out with "Stormy Weather" will be the very larg woman quartet composed of Pauline Hume, Joe Tweinski and Jim Gilmore.

Ray Woods and Flossie Jones have planned a humorous skit.

Eastern lists a spoon player, tap dancer, and ballad singer as part of their presentation to the show.

John in Yalls

Cheer leaders from both colleges will contribute. Coffee and doughnuts will be served in the social hall following the program.

This year’s talent show rally marks the second annual affair held between the rival colleges. The rally was initiated to alloy student spirit and build good will, but disappointing incident of last fall.

When Cheney’s bell was mysteriously removed from their campus, a great number of Eastern students descended upon Whitworth to average the bell. A squad of cheerleaders’ diplomas had to be called down near the rear Whitworth students deposed that they had appropriated the Cheney bell. Later it was reported to have been removed by Cheney boosters.

Committee names Who’s Who; 12 Win High National Award

Twelve Whitworth seniors have been selected for national Who’s Who honors according to an announcement made this week by Prof. Loyd Waits, spokesman for the selection committee.

The list includes Grace Clark, Jackie Cosman, Ann Harold, Dale Herenden, Paul Johnson, Flossie Jones, Betty Lou Schmatjen, and her sister Mary Ann Schmatjen.

Honors ranks on the selection were made included scholarship—a $250 scholarship, organization around leadership, activities participation, and volunteer in college, and future promise.

Students Predominate

A joint committee composed of student members appointed by the student council, and faculty members is in charge of the committee. The committee was made up predominantly of student members. The final number of students of the joint committee were not revealed.

Following is a summary of the Who’s Who list. Whitworth students will be listed in the current annual publication of "Who’s Who in American Colleges and Universities."

President Curbs Trainmen

TRUMANuke to DELAY STRIKE—Firemen and enginemen's unions have agreed to postpone strike for five days which Truman stopped by requiring a 40-hour work week. The strike was threatened because of a pay raise for yard service men. The trainmen want a 25-cent an hour increase.

PRICES GOING UP.—The president charged last week that the tools congress has given to curb inflation are not good enough to do the job. He revealed, among other things, that he had the pay of the butter, and had only three words to say: "The ASWC treasurer explains the eschatological nature and optimistic views by the fact that he believes that "God's in his heaven—and therefore all will remain well with Bernie Nelson."

Nelson Guards ASWC Fund

Bernie Nelson, watchdog of the ASWC treasury, is known more for his smile than for his great. The affable dark-haired senior seemingly has an affinity for the job treasurer. He was treasurer of Future Teachers club, then president, and treasurer of ARK towns students club before being elected treasurer of the associated student body.

President Trueman denined any connections with the Democratic ticket. But Eisenhower denied any connections with the Democratic ticket. He said he and the President did not discuss politics—not a rigid. By his charge the enginemen wanted a general pay increase of 1 1/2 cents an hour for yard service men. The trainmen want a 25-cent an hour increase.

Engelman Heads Call of Distant Horizons; Travels in Europe, South America, Africa

The lure of the distant horizon is no longer a mystery to Miss Herta Engelman, instructor in the English and foreign language departments of Whitworth College. Miss Engelsen, who was born in Germany, can give the personal experience of being a landlady in a foreign land. She is a product of the Christian faith, and her love for the mission field because of ill health.

"My desire is to serve and glorify the Lord Jesus Christ in all things," she emphatically marked, "and I find just as much satisfaction in being a college teacher as a foreign missionary. Whitworth Grid Coaches appear confident that they will give Cheney a hard day tomorrow. Head Coach Bill Hildebrand is in the center, assistant coach Bob Scott is on his left, Sam Tague on the right. Scott, who formerly starred for the Pirates, was hospitalized and lost a kidney as a result of last year's bruising Pirate-Savage contest.

Vikings Subdue Pirates In Unequal Grid Contest

Western Washington's powerful football machine rolled out a 51-2 victory over the Whitworth Pirates at Bellingham last weekend as the Vikings celebrated their homecoming before some 1,500 fans.

Norm Hash, little All-America fullback candidate led Western attack by scoring three touchdowns, two conversions and averaged more than seven yards a carry.

Western opened their scoring barrage early in the first quarter after recovering a Whitworth fumble. The Pirates bounced right back and knotted the score as Ed Kretz threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to end Al Miller.

Western Dominates

Western dominated scoring in the second period as they broke loose for three touchdowns and a 28-6 halftime lead they never relinquished.

The Vikings added two touchdowns in each of the remaining quarters before the Pirate reserves tallied in the closing minutes with quarterback Wayne Buchert backing his way over from the three-yard line.

White Light Ground

Western rang up a total of 205 yards on the ground while Whitworth was thrown for a .08. But the Pirates outgained Western in the air attack, rolling up 151 to the Viking's 132 yards.

Bucs Savages Clash Today in Pine Bowl

by Ron Schoeler

Eastern Washington Savages invade the Whitworth Pine bowl tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. as the Pirates attempt to salvage their final Evergreen Conference football game of the 1951 season.

Last week's games left the Pirates in sole possession of the cellar in conference standings, however, a victory over Eastern would drop the Savages into a tie with Whitworth for the bottom spot.

Pacific Lutheran remains in first place with a 4-0 record while Puget Sound and Western Washington are behind with three wins and one loss apiece.

The conference standings could end in a tie with three teams in first and three in the cellar, provoking Whitworth, Western, and Puget Sound produced weekend victories.

Wore League Champs

Eastern, Evergreen champions last year, go off to a slow start this season but have improved to the point of beating Central 25-6 last week.

Coach Abe Poffenbres' Savages have a "big gun" in the backfield in the person of senior Howard Glaisier, Len Pierce and Frank Whistaker also provide added spark.

Pierce Whithewill seniors will be playing their last game in Pirate uniforms in tomorrow's tilt. They are co-captains Sam Adams and Don Olstad, quarterback Ed Kretz, and Al Miller and tackle Dave Johns.

Hasn't Won Since '22

Despite the fact Whitworth has not defeated Eastern since 1922, Pirate gridiron are ready for their Eastern rivals.

Last year's gallie saw the Savages roughed over Whitworth 22-0. However the two preceeding years Eastern was by small margins of 14-7 and 27-20.

Coach Bill Hildebrand of the Pirates will name the same lineup that has begun previous games. Fullbacks Fritz Beidouer and Bob Ward will be in top shape, having recovered from recent injuries.
Campus Starts Blood Drive

To support Korean War

Whitworthians will have an opportunity to support the Korean war campaign through a united campus blood drive starting Dec. 4, said Kelliner, chairman of the drive, announced.

Washington Hall has volunteered to head the blood drive and has started a pre-campaign publicity drive.

How to Support
"It is hoped by the boys," Kelliner urged, "that everyone on the campus will support this drive." Anybody from the ages of 18 to 21 is eligible to give blood, but students who are under 18, or have with permission from their parents, the drive chairman explained. Permission slips will be passed out at dorm meetings at which time the drive will be fully explained.

Drive starts Dec. 4

Dec. 4 and 11 will be the first days of the drive which will be continued for three Tuesdays after Christmas vacation.

"This procedure," Mrs. R. H. Coyle and Mrs. F. W. Tucker of the Spokane Blood bank commented, "will enable more students to donate blood. Because of lack of space at the bank and other appointments we can only take 80 students a day."

Four Trips Daily

Four trips a day from Whitworth to the bank, located in the American Legion building, will enable students to donate blood. Students will be excused from classes for the period in which their appointments are scheduled.

Many fears are voiced on blood giving; but the blood bank is just as equally interested in the health of the individual as in getting blood, according to the sponsoring committee. Several blood tests are given before a gift of blood is taken from a person.

Barbour Starts Spiritual Week At Vespers at Tiffany, Nov. 25

Students returning from Thanksgiving vacation will be greeted by Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, featured Spiritual Emphasis speaker, who will initiate the week's program at vespers to be held in Tiffany Chapel, Sunday, Nov. 25, 7:15 p.m., which will continue from Sunday's services through to Dec. 2, will carry the theme, "A Needy World and a Redeeming Christ."

Barbour has announced his individual topic each night in the "Christian World," "Do We Need a Savior?," "Some Warnings That Mark a Christian," "How Much of You Belong to Christ," and "God So Loved The World."

Free Big Problems

"Little Men -- Big Problems,
"The Servant and the Selfish,
"The World's Worst Blunder,"
"Some Innovational Conventions,
"Is It Nothing to You? All Ye That Pass By?"

Each evening's meeting will be under the direction of a different campus organization. Dave Heaver, student chairman, explained. Song leader for the week will be Corrine Weber.

Debate Teams Enter

Gonzaga Kings-X Meet

Two teams from Whitworth will compete in the Kings-X tournament to be held at Gonzaga University.

Kings-X competition has no bearing on the Northwest region championship. This warm-up week will see teams from Washington State college, Montana university, University of Idaho, Whitman, Whitworth, and Gonzaga colleges preparing for later varsity competition, Chapman explained.

Subject for debate this year will be "Resolved that the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program of wage-price controls." The Oxford university style of debate will be used.

Whitworth students preparing for this tournament include: in the debate championships in the prairie tourney are Nels Bjork, speaker, Duane Alberdie, Charles Bowman, Allen Williams, William Tatsumi, Professor Tony, and Henry Ritchie. The pinch hitter, Alan Zier, Forrest Bailey, Charles Harris, Mary Goodfellow, Phyllis Hopkins, Beverly Kyburz, and Joan Mayfield.

"Professor Walls and I are pleased with the increasing interest in forensic science," Chapman commented. "We believe this year's debate team has again place Whitworth high on the list of schools annually given recognition for forensic excellence."

Council Gives

$5,000 Grant to Athletics

Emergency appropriations of $5,000 has been made to the athletic board by the student council in the latest developments concerning the athletic situation according to student body president, Pete Swanson.

"Dr. Warren told the committee the purpose of the athletic board is to get the athletic program into the black," Chapman explained. "It has also three faculty members, Dr. J. Dakes, Dr. N. E. Alder, and Prof. John Koehler; and student body manager, Carl M. Christenson.

One fact which has confused any student in the prairie is the status of the director of athletics to the board. The athletic director is not a member of the board and has no vote concerning athletic functions.

Menu Features Turkey

At Thanksgiving Dinner

Campus residents will get turkey with all the trimmings for 20 cents a dinner in the dining hall, Mrs. Pat Hefner, dining hall housekeeper disclosed yesterday.

Dinner will be served at 1 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 22.

Campus Sets Carnival

In Gym Tomorrow Eve

"W" club will transplant bodily a carnival midway complete with the usual entertainment and concessions into Greaves gymnasium at 7:30 tomorrow night. Both Roach, club president, has disclosed.

"The carnival, annually sponsored by the university's organization, will be a "gay affair, check full of fun under the stars, with it a rollicking good time for all," Roach promised.

Prizes Vary

Prizes of all kinds ranging from those of a practical nature to souvenirs of the various departments by each concession. The prizes were donated by the Merchants association of the Garland business district and the downtown area.

Games of both skill and chance are featured including ring toss, basketball throw, darts and balloons, football accuracy throw and poppy pitch. A test-of-strength contest will also be operated offering special prizes to the man and woman registering the strongest lift in the shortest space.

Targets Furnished

A water throw will be held during which students may choose any weapon at a target. Missiles will be paper bags.

In one of the highlights of the event, John Black will challenge anyone present to a kiddie car race with prizes going to those crossing the finish line ahead of him.

Chairmen Named

Pete Swanson and John Black, general overseers, for the evening, cooperated with Roach in planning the event.

There is to be no admission fee, but a small charge will be made at each concession. Proceeds are to help defray the cost of Men's conclave.

"It is hoped by the committee that students will turn out for this affair," Roach urged, "so that stiffest funds will be available for the men's conference next spring."

Letters to the Editor

Is It Actually Thanksgiving?

Next Thursday is the eightieth officially proclaimed Thanksgiving Day, dedicated to gourmet, gluttony, and good food. The emphasis has not always been clear. Thanksgiving had originally only the status of tradition when it was celebrated by early Americans on some community-appointed day after fall harvest. It first became a national holiday in 1863, during the darkest days of the Civil War, when the spring tide of blood was at its crest. Then Lincoln proclaimed a day of Thanksgiving, perhaps more to invoke God’s aid than to offer thanks. Admittedly Thanksgiving should be a day of happiness—family reunions, feasting, and festivities. Officially it cannot be a day of real thanksgiving to that great host who do not recognize the author of their blessing.

They do not know—and it is but put in the eerily beautiful prose of James W. Collini, a slightly imperfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

The greatest cause for thanks for those who bow their heads to the Father of lights is that Thanksgiving day is that they know the great “secret” proclaimed openly throughout the world for the last 1900 years. It is a revelation heard by many, but heedless and pursued by a few.

That great recondite knowledge, most salient to any Thanksgiving, is that Life has Enduring Significance.

Dean Fires Maroon Editor

For Being Shade Too Light

The Chicago Maroon, University of Chicago, has been suspended, and its editor has been fired, according to Dean of Students Robert Broxter. The dean sent the following letter to editor, Alan Kimmel:

“Your prolonged stay in eastern Europe and failure to return to the University for registration make it necessary for me to write you a letter instead of talking with you about a very important matter.

“I find it necessary to remove you immediately from the editorship of the Maroon. Your action in sponsoring and attending the East Berlin Youth festival demonstrates your lack of qualification to edit a free and independent paper.

“I am today writing the student government to request that it proceed at once with steps for a new election. After the publication of the Oct. 5 issue of the Maroon, publication is suspended until the student government has acted.”

The Oct. 5 issue of the Maroon (its last under the old regime) carried a front-page blaring out protest. Said the Maroon: “Your action is...a violation of basic civil liberties which guarantee thought...In no civil case can Kimmel’s political beliefs be considered as reflecting disreput with...[the university.—university’s management, in the latest nationwide pressure against freedom of political beliefs..."

The Maroon insisted that there was no legal basis for Student’s action. It therefore plans to continue publishing “as long as possible.”

In a small box insert at the bottom of the front page there was the statement: “There will be a regular Maroon staff meeting in the Ma­ noon office Monday, 8-11 p.m., waiting permit.”

To date the political climate has been too stormy. The Maroon has done no more publishing.

Solution Seen to Attendance

Part of the solution to Whitworth’s football attendance problem was on the Pine bowl gridiron last Saturday.

And it wasn’t altogether the heads-up playing of the Whitworth team having “probably their best day in 20 years” but part of it was...showmanship—showmanship as exemplified by Chemey’s marching band and in the superb display of coordination by Norma Jean Ostrom, their drum major.

Football is usually a grueling and hard-fought game. For the same reason that turkey needs cranberry sauce a gridiron contest needs the complement of lighter fare.

More “color” at Whitworth fall games would not only strengthen school spirit—it should cause a favorable reaction in cash gate receipts,

Russia Rejects Peace Bid

RUSSIA REJECTS BIG THREE DISARMAMENT PLAN—At the UN General Assembly today, Russia’s foreign minister V. M. Molotov angrily charged the Big Three’s proposal for UN supervised arms reduction was a “trick” in an attempt to befuddle the people of the world and introduce “pygmy eyes” into every nation.

In spite of Russia’s rejection of the disarmament plan the West feels it has accomplished the purpose of offsetting Russia’s new peace offensive.

ANTHONY BLASTS ADMINISTRATION—In his speech last week General Douglas MacArthur said a “creeping sabotage of freedom” by the federal government threatens to “put an iron curtain” over American culture and education. Also in the administration he charged that the policies followed by Truman’s administration are leading out country toward war.

Whitworth Grad Is Chaplain’s Aid

Vernon Gross, ’50, is now a welfare specialist with the chaplain corps at Kelly Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Gross is not without clerical work, maintenance of chapels, and duties. He was appointed for a position as a physician with the possibility that he will be sta­ tioned at the San Antonio air force base at Dayton, Ohio.

Gross is a serious playgoer. His aunt, who also attended Whit­ worth, is with him at the Texas air base.

Clary Wright Jests Way Through School

Plans to Attend Columbia College Next Year

by Ron Schoeller

Clary Wright, comedian, photographer, and writer claims he never had a serious moment during his life. He says a photographer, and writer whom his thinking has never had a serious moment.

Following his graduation in January Wright has attended Columbia college, a tele­ vision school for a year. He now makes his home in Spokane with his wife and two children.

Ratting first on his schedule is his work as a free lance enter­ tainer. He performs most of this work at the annual conventions in Spokane. He has attended most of the big ball games, and with numerous others. He never appears to show a week although some days he may par­ ticipate in many more than one.

Mr. Wright is not disturbed because his husband is away from home so much. As she says, "I’m terrifically enthusiastic about being married to her and doing activities. My pet peeve is those people who talk about Clary’s poor wife—as though I sat home all day and wobbled my thumbs!"

Besides her work as the mother of two children Mrs. Wright spends many hours helping Clary write scripts for his various performances.

Clary’s recent invitation to per­ form at a basement club in his home town is one of his greatest honors. He also has his own show at the Moose club every Tuesday night and will begin a radio show for Columbia next water company in another month. Photography is another of his avocations. In addition to taking all college pictures he supplies Spokesman-Review with the Whit­ worth with many photos.

Clary is also well known for his play scripts. He has written two plays for EWC, one for Gonzaga and several for Whitworth. One of his plays, "Peking," was presented over the KHJ playhouse.

He considers "The Show Off" and "The Show Off II" as his favorite play. "The Show Off." As he came walking on stage to the familiar "Total Top Off" theme, "Peking," was presented, and "The Show Off II," was presented. When action was resumed Clary said, "It was one thing about this play, it really lays them in the aisle."

VA Makes New Ruling On GI Bill

GI students who interrupt training and then apply for a change of course will automatically lose the remaining benefits due them from the GI bill, veteran administration officials announced this week.

Veterans affected by the July 25 cut-off date must now pursue their course continuously until it is completed, except for interruptions beyond his control.

Once a veteran completes or discontinues his course after the cut-off date, he may not start another the V Announcement stressed.

A veteran may be allowed to change to another course if he is not making satisfactory progress and the failure is not due to his own misconduct, negligence, or lack of application.

A change of course also may be approved if it is a normal progression from the veteran's present course and no additional changes of course will be approved, except for the most cogent reasons.

It was emphasized by the VA that changes of course can be approved only while the veteran is still in training. Veterans who interrupt training because of sickness or other unavoidable reasons are requested to notify the VA at once.

Bashor To Deliver Thanksgiving Talk

Harold E. Bashor, Spokane district superintendent of the Methodist church, will give the Thanksgiving talk Wednesday, Nov. 12. A Canary choir will sing a Bach number, "The Spirit Also Helpeth Us."

Douglas, Urquhart Schedule California Wedding, Nov. 23

North Glendale Methodist church in Glendale, Calif. will be the setting for the marriage of Diane Douglas to Richard Alan Urquhart Nov. 23 at 8:30 p.m. with Rev. Bob Urquhart, brother of the groom, officiating.

The bride, to be given away by her father, John A. Douglas of Glendale, will wear a white gown of slipper satin with a full train. She will wear her mother's veil with a princess tiara and will carry a white Bible and two white orchids with baby roses trailing.

Matron of honor will be Mrs. Kaye Robin Robison of Glendale, with Miss Shirley Merriman as maid of honor.

Jack Douglas, the bride's brother, and Douglas Douglas, cousin, will be the groom's attendants.

Soloist for the wedding will be Marilyn Taylor, cousin of the groom, and ring bearer will be Greg Newton.

Following the rites a reception will be held at the Douglas home at 1025 El Rio Ave.

The newlyweds plan to return to Spokane after Thanksgiving so Urquhart may continue his school at Whitworth.

Jones to Marry Corpoal Adams

Doris Jones announced her engagement to Cpl. Richard Adams on Oct. 27.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jones of Rupert, Idaho. A freshman, she is majoring in nursing.

Corporal Adams is a native of Pennsylvania.

The couple plan to be married in the spring and live in Spokane where Cpl. Adams is stationed.

They later plan to live in northern California, or Oregon.

Basketball Draws 20 For Varsity Try-Outs

Hi-weekly workouts for women’s varsity basketball are in full swing under Peggie Gazette’s coaching. The varsity squad will be chosen by Tuesday, November 20 from the twenty women who are turning out for team.

Witworth will play in the city league which consists of six teams including Cheney, Holy Names, Yellow Cab and three independent teams. The coaches and the city league coaches at Richland, Ritzville and others are scheduled.

Basketball is the next stop for Pirate fullback Bob Ward as he topside over the gasoline backwards into the end zone. This was one of two touchdowns for Ward as he helped lead the attack to a 26-7 victory over the Cheney Savages here last Saturday. The win was in the final game of the season which put the Bucs in a three-way tie for the cellar of the Evergreen conference.

Touchdown Territory

The junior varsity cagers begin their first opponents following Thanksgiving vacation. Coach Tague put his cagers through strenuous practice games at Richland, Ritzville and others as scheduled.

Junior Varsity Cagers Begin Second Intensive Week’s Drill

Barbour Will Close Week's Talks Dec. 2
At Communion Rites

Spiritual Emphasis week comes to a close this week end with Dr. Clifford E. Barbour sounding his final note at a Communion Service in the Tiffany chapel, Sunday, Dec. 2 starting at 7:30 p.m.

Special music will be provided at the service by the a cappella choir and by Loretta O'Brien and Ruth Higgins who will play a violin duet.

Tonight the regular weekly evening services will end with the final meeting being built around the theme "family night." The meeting will start in Tiffany chapel at 6:45 p.m.

Buckley to Sing

Special music will be brought by vocalist Vernon Buckley and by trombonist Warren Baker. Following the service a victory circle will be held in room 2 of the Library. Betty Ann Douglas will bring the special music at that time.

During the past week meetings have been held every morning and evening. The a cappella choir has brought special music to each morning's service.

In Monday's chapel talk Barbour spoke on "A Path in the Jungle" and presented Christ as the only guide out of a jungle of modern life.

Counts Cease

"Some Things That Mark a Christian" was the Tuesday morning topic at which the speaker emphasized that man's attitudes are not as important as what he has done for God.

Wednesday Barbour said that God needs listening ears and a receptive heart in his address titled "God So Loved the World." Thursday Barbour talked on "The Server and the Selfish," and today's "Some Irreverent Conclusions.

Music Department Joins With Town for "Messiah"

Whitworth's a cappella choir and chorus will be the nucleus of a main 200-voice choir that will sing the Christmas portions of Handel's "Messiah" in the Masonic temple, Sunday, Dec. 9 starting at 4 p.m.

The mass choral production, which will be directed by Prof. Wilbur L. Anderson, head of Whitworth's music department, is being sponsored jointly by the Spokane Council of churches, the college music department, and the local chapter of the American Federation of Musicians.

Players Present Modern Nativity

The "Desert Shall Rejoice," a modern parallel of the Biblical nativity will be the Christmas production this year Kay Woods, student director disclosed.

Three performances for students will be given in the speech auditorium Dec. 11, 12 and 13.

This year's program will be "The Gospel of the Lord," "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," "O Thou That Yellest Good Tidings," "Glory to God in the Highest," and "Hallelujah."

The orchestra will play "Sinfonia" and "The Pastoral Symphony" besides accompanying the choirs.

Practice is being held this coming week in preparation for the noon Christmas service at the Church of the Virgin Mary, Thursday, Dec. 12.

The choir, which will perform individuals numbers while the two will be presented by the Whitworth a cappella choir on the 6th and 7th. The final rehearsal will be held in the Masonic temple.

Handel's "Messiah" rehearsals currently take up much of the college's four music students. The college's a cappella choir and chorus for Dec. 9 will include about 300 singers drawn from Spokane's protestant churches. (Photo by Chery Wright)

Music Groups Unite For Christmas Chapel

Members of the a cappella choir, orchestra, chorus and Dr. R. E. Ray Campbell, Providence educational leader, will unite to present Whitworth's annual Christmas concert, Tuesday, Dec. 13.

The orchestra and the a cappella choir will perform individual numbers while the two will be presented by the Whitworth a cappella choir on the 6th and 7th. The final rehearsal will be held in the Masonic temple.

Yates Slates Own Emphasis

"We ought to have a test one of these days," voiced Prof. Lawrence E. Yates to his Introduction to Philosophy class Wednesday.

"Ohuh. We can't have tests this week because of 'spiritual emphasis.'" "Hmmmm...we'll make next week 'mental emphasis.' Tent Friday!"

Whits Enter Forensics at Gonzaga U

The Whitworth debate team will get its first taste of intercollegiate competition this week when it competes for the Pacific Northwest regional championship to be held at Gonzaga University this weekend.

With the tournament open to the public, tickets can be purchased for this afternoon starting at 2, one for finals and semi-finals and final Saturday starting at 10 a.m.

Educator Blasts 'Education'

A little salt should be taken with the observation that the American education system is a "colossal housing project" and little more, made by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former chancellor of the University of Chicago, in a speech at San Francisco last week.

Added seasoning is necessary to down his self-assured remark that the best thing he had ever done was when he abolished football at the university.

Now an associate director of the Ford (motor) Foundation, Hutchins resigned last year as head of the University of Chicago to accept his present position.

He completely reorganized the system of study during his 21 year presidential tenure at Chicago. That his reorganization has had some merit is attested by Time magazine's 1949 estimate that his university was among the four or five best in the United States.

But the most apparently well-qualified charge that he is to judge, Hutchins observations may be suspected of being only the natural effluence of a keen, caustic, and hypercritical mind.

When Hutchins commented in his talk that football participants "don't see the scholarly type" he may have forgotten that a high degree of physical co-ordination is a mental quality. Athletic ability, though merely one aspect of a well-developed student, actually has its origin and control centers in the brain.

The "bookworm", therefore, has one facet of his mind undeveloped.

Daily is it may be true that many college students benefit but little from their "housing project" experience. But this can hardly be blamed on the American educational system.

More logically, general lack of academic attainment can be credited to general lack of individual motivation—and to the fact that the Creator did not give all equal mental endowment.

Automobiles Are Big Peril

The automobile must always be recognized as the greatest hazard to life and limb extant in today's world.

Reinforcement for this statement is furnished by the three serious car accidents involving Whitworth students during the last three weeks. Only the good luck accompanying bad fortune prevented serious injury.

Results of bad luck, or bad judgment, are magnified many times by power of the hundred hammering horses under an automobile's hood. High speeds do not allow one time to correct a small mistake that has suddenly become serious.

Sometimes the choice is between saving a few minutes—or saving your life.

Korean Cease-Fire Looms

KOREAN PEACE TALKS PEACEFUL—This week for the first time some hope came from UN communist negotiators at Panmunjom as they came in agreement on no less than 78 per cent of the cease-fire line. They agreed upon all but about 30-30 miles of the 145-mile battle front. This line was drawn by the delegates to be the final border none across Korea.

STASSEN POSSIBLE CANDIDATE—This week it was announced that Theodore F. Stassen of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania is being pushed as a candidate for president of the Republican ticket. Stassen did not announce if he would run or not. Another possible compromise candidate, Governor Earl Warren of California, has announced his candidacy.

Bennett Likes Northwest

By Harold Scales

Busy and quiet-spoken ASWC vice president, Pete Bennett, from North Dallas, Texas, is refreshingly unfazed for a Lone Star citizen—admits he likes the pine-green mountains of the Northwest perhaps even better than the dusty plains of his home.

Bennett was one of three in the 1949-50 class of the Dallas, Texas, enrollment at Whittworth—all three of whom made names for themselves here. The ASWC veep's two companions were last year's ASWC president Bobby Davis, and outstanding student football star, Sam Adams.

Like Davis and Adams, Bennett, too, played football. While in high school he earned two letters in football, three in basketball. He is a three-year football letterman at Whittworth.

During his senior year at the 1,300-student North Dallas high school, Bennett found time to serve as sports editor of the school paper.

There's an occupation with sports indicates his choice of his life's vocation. He is majoring in physical education, minoring in bible. After graduation this spring he plans to go into YMCA work.

Next in sports, Christian activities are the ASWC vice-president's chief interest. He travels over 200 miles each week to serve as student pastor of the Congregational church at Port Angeles, 44 miles north of Whittworth, making the trip each Wednesday evening and Sunday.

Bennett's interest in getting an education as a Christian college was responsible for bringing him to Whitworth. His choice of this college was influenced by the recommendation of national director of "Young Life", Jim Baxter.

He views his life as one of service. Paul's words: "And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

Barbour Displays Insight, Subtle Humor As He Conducts Spiritual Emphasis Week

by Alden Wynn

Long years of personal devotion and wide experience have combined to make Dr. Charles E. Barbour, leader of this year’s Spiritual Emphasis Week, a penetrating spiritual insight and a subtle sense of humor, two characteristics that best typify him.

Snyder to Address Northwest Educators

J. Paul Snyder, Whitworth director of finance, has been named speaker at Wednesday’s banquet for North­west­ern’s graduates, according to information received this week.

The banquet highlights the first day of the annual joint conference of secondary and higher schools and North­west­ern’s association of junior colleges to be held at the Davenport hotel Dec. 5.

“Communism and Youth” is Mr. Snyder’s topic. He will speak from his experiences while living in China 29 years.

G. G. Kildow, Northern Idaho junior college president, will preside at the banquet.

Wortley Suffers Injuries In Mount Spokane Mishap

Six broken ribs and severe abrasions on his left side were suffered by George Wortley, Whitworth senior, who was thrown from a car that turned over two and one-half times on the Mount Spokane road Nov. 17. The injured man is one of four Whit­worth students who were with Charles Bowman in his 1951 Ford.

College Backs Freedom Crusade

“Strike a blow for freedom” is the plea made by Crusade for Freedom Crusade members on campus which is being car­ried on at Whitworth through Fri­day, Dec. 7.

Distribution boxes have been placed in dormitories and college buildings and students and faculty are urged to support them by the admin­istration.

Crusade for Freedom is respons­ible for carrying on Radio Free Europe, the voice that pierces the iron curtain, sending hope to the Soviet­ian dominated peoples.

Ritzville Couple Reveals Betrothal

Announcement was made recently of the engagement of Miss Irene Schmidt of Ritzville, to Ron­ald Schoeller, also of Ritzville. They have been acquainted since Oct. 30, 1951.

Schoeller is a sophomore at Whitworth on a staff mem­ber of the Whitworthian.

He earned a letter last fall and was also a member of the Whitworthian. His weight is 135 pounds.

His fiancée is a senior at Whitworth. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoeller of Ritzville. The wedding is tentatively planned for August, 1952.
The Pirates of Whitworth started slowly in the first-half but settled down to administer a stingy 74–45 victory over the visiting Seattle Pacific Falcons last Friday night in Graves gym.

Coach Jim McGregor was delayed in Seattle due to a fog-bound airplane, and had to drive most of the way to Spokane. By the halftime, he settled his team down to work. The result was only a 39–20 lead on his arrival.

Nip and Tuck

Early in the game the battle was nip and tuck as the Falcons matched bucket for bucket. The Seattle boys were pouncing on long shots as there was no chance for setups in close. The tall rebounders composed of Ralph Polson and Bob Lethbridge swept both ends of the floor as did Pirate forward, Bill Freeman.

According to Rudy Cozetto, at the half, with a 20–10 lead, McGregor sent in his subs who made the half hold.

Jim "Bones" Doherty, Whight, guard, was all over the floor and dished up a point or lead all scorers for the evening. Lindgren of the Pikes was the pass-watcher for the visitors with 15 points.

Retain Trophy

In swinging the two-game series from Seattle Pacific, the Pirates racked up a 84–45 score to retain the trophy this year. Both teams are capable of playing the style of basketball urged by coach McGregor with his subs from last year's five.

The game was in contrast with the two choice over the Gonzaga five.

Coach Jim McGregor was de­ stroyed by Ron "Bones" Schoesler of the Pirates and this writer wonders why he didn't call someone else to coach the Bucs in the two-yard line on a quarterback play.

Rudy replied, "I got what I was talking about.

This story may sound as if Coz­ etto just happened to be lucky. But it wasn't. That was pure misfortune of the Downtown writers picking the Whits as the way to ousted out of the game mid-way through the four quarter via the opposition.

The Bucs are still in need of a playmaker with the loss of Dick Edwards and Mal Bolen, but the variance may be killed by useful newcomer as the season progresses.

Washington Annexes

Dorm Football Title

With the men's intramural football season completed, Washington Annexes dormitory team has been narrowed to the original 20 turning out by Peggy Gunetke, coach.

Those picked for duty are forwards: Mark Ferguson, Play Mc­ Kee, Marlene Elliott, Helen Grei­ ner, and Marcie Anderson; guards: Darlyne Walker and Sue Baker.

In the guard positions are Ruth Anderson, Joanne Turpinal, Aud­ ribeth Moberly, Mary Shirley, Mary Jane Langston, Adriana Sharp and Mary Rice.

Veterans returning to bolster the squad are Misses Culver, Mc­ Kee, Ashburn, Anderson, Lam­ oni, and Mrs. Turner. Almost 100 members.

The initial games of the season will begin on January 11th with a weekly workout now being held on Tuesday evenings and Sat­ urday mornings.

Gazette Choose 14 To Women's Varsity

With several practices com­ pleted, the women's varsity basketball team has been narrowed to the original 14. Coach McGregor with the loss of Dick Edwards and Mal Bolen, but the variance may be killed by useful newcomer as the season progresses.

Face Missionaries, Gonzaga Maplemen

Whitworth colleges 1952-53 basket­ ball season with two victors to their credit will play 14 more pre-season games, starting with an exhibition tilt again the Whit­ man Missionaries tomorrow night in Graves gym at 8 p.m. On Mon­ day evening the Pirates face Gon­ zaga in the Boone avenue court.

Coach Jim McGregor's caucus artist average was slightly below height of 6 ft. 5 in. this year with Dr. Bill Freeman also stated for a pre-season tune-up game in De­ cember. The Bucs will start Ever­ green conference competition against Pacific Lutheran on Jan­ uary 11th.

This year's squad also includes veterans Ray and Ray Beach, and Ed Kretz. Newcomers are Don Alexander, Sam Adams, Jack Thausen, Len Long, Don Smith and Fritz Ridenour.

Pick up your tickets at the Stadium box. For admission to the various games are available at Whitworthian office.

Musician Will Give Oratorio; Present Yuletippe Chapel Dec. 13

Choir Head To Address Student Body

Christmas music by a capella choir will be the address by Dr. Fay E. Campbell, Presbyterian educational leader, who will highlight the annual Yuletippe chapel to be given Thursday, Dec. 13, at 10 a.m.

Members of the choir will join with the chorus in singing "And Crehart Anna Hidelearn" from Handel's "Messiah." They will be accompanied by the orchestra directed by Prof. Wibur L. Andrews, head of the music department.

Prazer Drive

The orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Arthur Praser, will play music of Bach-Barberoli; "Elegie Suite for Strings", and "Choral" for Brass.

The choir will present a brave choir which will play at opposite ends of the gymnasium antiphonally.

Choir Sings

"The a capella choir, under the direction of Mr. Warren, will sing two different compositions—"Blow the Wind," Christian and; "Silent Night," Poul Pannst." Miss Bantillo is slated for solos.

Special performer will be Carmen Poole who will interpret a Christmas reading. She is a member of the class of '81 and a former ARK member.

Initiation Survivors Bring 'W' Club Roster to 30

Ten candidates "survived" the rigors of the 'W' club initiation this week bringing the club roster up to 30 members according to Bob Baker and Sam Adams. club spokesmen.

"Humility" was the theme of the initiation ceremony. The successful candidates include Wally O'Fry, Bob Ainsly, Wayne Buchert, Jim Sefts, Darrell Squires, Leon Mellon, Dick Jones, Pat McCarthy, Frank Ainsly, and Archie McPhail.

The public parts of the ceremonies on Monday and Tuesday, the "humility" theme was impressed on the candidates with liberal quantities of "hacks," the withholding of food and the eating of live fishfood and raw eggs at all meetings held at the school flagpole.

According to Adams, the Tuesday evening climax to the initiation included struts by the neophytes at the whim of the old members, a "kangaroo court," several group sessions and some late evening hikes.

Adams pointed out that a member must be in good standing in accordance with the college regulations before he may graduate.

College Forms New Group For Financial Assistance

"Whittsworth College Fellows", a group of financial backers, is being organized by the administration to help meet the running expenses of the college, Dr. Frank P. Warren, president, revealed this week.

The new organization will be composed of all who contribute $100 yearly or more to the running expenses of the college, or to any of its activities.

"An attractive certificate of membership will be issued to members," Warren explains, and they will receive a special report on the college.

Need for the additional support is made clear in administrator statement that $125 is required in addition to tuition and fees to keep a student in school. All in all, $75,000 to $80,000 must be raised a year from sources outside students and the Presbyterian church.

Every church-related college in the country faces grave and serious days, economically," Warren points out. "Ones have skyrocketed, but incomes from tuition and fees have not increased.

Alumni of the college may support the alumni work and still have their contributions apply toward membership in the new organization.

"If the college is going to pay bills, increase salaries, and keep up buildings and grounds," Warren said, "it is going to be necessary for every graduate and former student to put the college high in the matter of individual support."

Barbour, Chapman, Impress

Unaffected conversational speaking by Dr. Clifford R. Barbour, master servant of Christ; and Prof. Lloyd Chapman's Wednesday readings of the scriptures stand out in sharp focus as two highlights of spiritual emphasis week.

Dr. Barbour, as befitted a seminary president and former Moderator of the Presbyterian church; USA, marked the heart through the clear channels of the mind. He cast no emotional spell. Even critical listeners must feel that they can trust the conclusions to which he led them.

On Wednesday the speech department's Professor Chapman illustrated that the pulsing breath of life can be breathed into centuries-old words by a skilled reader.

Although Dr. Barbour Tuesday decried dramatics in presentation of the gospel, and rightly, Professor Chapman demonstrated that this rule has exceptions.

Like most rules it is one that is safely violated only with restraint—and by one who knows precisely the impact created by voice inflection.

These Men Are Still Boys

Recent hushed-up trouble experienced by Dr. Eugene Henning, proctor of Whitworth hall, with practices the early USF days, here doesn't come under the "boys will be boys" heading.

For the participants are men—physically.

Actually there only seems to be a problem. No problem exists because the solution is too simple.

Always be there to warn one and thereafter expel any second offender immediately and permanently from Whitworth.

Of course the administration dislikes taking abrupt and positive action. Whitworth needs every student it can get. It's another instance of "This hurts us more than it does you".

But no properly administered college campus will have a problem of discipline—for very long.

General Says MIG Is Best

AMERICA'S AIR SUPREMACY THREATENED—General Hoyt Vandenberg admitted this week that the Russian MIG can outfly our F-102A, but as a fighter capable of challenging Russia's best fighter plane, Vandenberg said that the MIG can outrun, outperform and outmaneuver the F-102A, especially at supersonic speeds. He further pointed out that the MIG is better armed with its two 37 mm and one 37 mm cannon than the American fighter with its eight 50-caliber machine guns. In spite of its firepower superiority the Reds have suffered heavy losses, but down or damaged in the last ten days, as compared to only six for the Yankees.

Tatum, Ferry Garner Fifth In Regional Debate Contest

Whitworth's debate team of Bill Tatum and Welton Ferrer competing for the Northwest regional debate championships at Gonzaga university last Friday and Saturday ranked approximately fifth in the final scoring, being defeated only by the emerging champions of the University of Oregon, according to Prof. Floyd Chapman. Joan Mayfield and Beverly Kyburz, Whitworth's only co-ed team among its six entries, ranked fourth, although it actually was awarded second place. First place honors were split in an unusual tie between two Washington State teams, and Seattle university.

With six teams, or twelve debaters, entered in the competition Whitworth had the third largest representation at the nine-college, 36 team meet. The University of Idaho, and Washington State colleges had the top total entries with 12 teams each. Other schools entered were Gonzaga university, College of Puget Sound, Seattle university, Montana State university, Whitman college, and Pacific Lutheran college.

Kyburz Reveals Wedding Plans

Family and friends have known of the engagement of Beverly Kyburz of Spokane to Joseph Bloomsburg, Worley, Idaho, since Nov. 15, 1951. Miss Kyburz, Whitworth sophomore, is a member of the debate squad and secretary of AKX.

The wedding is planned for May 27 at the Bloomsburg ranch with Mr. Penton Davall officiating. The couple plan to live in Worley, Idaho, at the Bloomsburg ranch.

Hansen Discloses News of Betrothal

"Some Day My Prince Will Come" sung by Katie Root and followed by presentation of a ring by "prince" Frances Wagner announced the engagement of Miriam Hansen and Nell Buchholtz Thursday, Nov. 29 at a Ballard dorm meeting.

Miss Hansen, senior education major from Tacoma, is a member of the PN sleeper choir, secretary of the senior class, and member of WAA.

Buchholtz, senior business major from Fairfield, is also a member of a capella choir, duke of Intercollegiate Knights, and past president of the junior class.

Grad Exhibits Tempera Art

Twelve tempera paintings by Jane Whitworth, Roeffler, Whitworth '51, are now on display in the faculty lounge, Prof. John A. C. Herrick, chairman of the art department. Some of these temperas have been studied in New Mexico and California. The group was completed during the past summer.

This is the second exhibit by Miss Roeffler in the faculty lounge. During graduation week last spring she had another series of painting on display. "I consider Mrs. Roeffler to have real ability, she was an outstanding student," Professor Kocher, chairman, said.

Miss Roeffler is now a housewife and lives at Mead. Her husband William Roeffler is a Whitworth '51 graduate. He is now coaching junior high football.

Don Murray demonstrates correct (7) cat dissection technique to horrified Mary Sanderman, no mean calver herself. Mangled remains of the cat cadaver Den is working on is one of many used by Prof. Roy W. Snyder's Human Anatomy class during the past six weeks. Professor Snyder's students are the only class that have been dissected into dissected-out muscles. Murray admits that the picture isn't in good taste, but it's the only way he has been able to make his classes memorable.

YMCA Offers Scholarships Worth $160 Each to Students

YMCA scholarships, totalling $100 each, are now available to qualified male students attending Whitworth, Dr. G. H. Schlauch, head of the college's sociology department has announced.

Prerequisites to eligibility for the scholarships are sociology courses 43, and 44, each with two hours credit. Those two courses have six units. Those units include two six-weeks long studies in the "Psychology of the Growing Boy," and the principles of leadership, and one six-week unit offered by the Bible and Christian education department in "The Religious Life of the Youth."

Also included among the six units are two six-weeks units offered by the physical education department, including both a study of various aspects of physical education for youth and techniques in sports and games; and a six weeks course offered by the Spokane YMCA on the history, purposes, and program of its organization.

Students eligible for Sociology 44 offered next semester are sophomores and juniors who have attended a general psychology, educational or applied psychology, and Introduction to Sociology. Any student who completes Sociology 44 will be eligible to apply for the YMCA scholarship next spring. Sociology 43, the first half of the preparatory course, concurrently with the work of the sixth week group that will be assigned to him if he receives one of the scholarships.

THE WHITWORTHIAN
Buc's Trounce Whitman; Bow to Bulldogs 68-60

Jim Doberty's record-breaking 33 points put the Whitworth Pirat­es through their third straight victory over the hapless Invaders from Whitman by the lune of 87-59 in game played Saturday.

Doberty, who connected on 14 of 25 shots from the floor, three-thrower, two-thrower; one record; held jointly by Ralph Polson and himself. This was the 28 total points each made in one game last year. The other was for: record of 12 field goals in one game which he shat­tered during in the 14 baskets.

The second team floated the Missionaries with a "full-court press" defense, which led to sev­eral minutes of wild play before Whitman took time out and talked over their strategy.

Police took running of the scoring honors with 18 points. Don Robin­son, who played for Lewie and Clark high school last year, yanked the airliner with 16, Polson, who had chances for numerous shots from the basket, the basket passed to Doberty so he could crack the record. His son, who played for Lewis and Clark high school, then established his new record.

The unusual zone defense which the Pirates used in this game with the favored Pirates revealed a 7'1" Bob Kurland, of Gonzaga, as probably the toughest game for the Pirates will face later in the sea­son.

The Cougars, are led by their star forward Eric Roberta and cen­ter Dave Roberts. George Rosser and Pat Mullins also add height and shooting ability to Priel's quintet.

Arnie Stickle, Gordie Baugh, Mau­er-Bulldogs rolled to victory over the barth and Jameson, who could crack the record.

To follow the Pirates in the individual scoring column for the Pirates, a player will score a total of 73.5 points. Their op­ponents have scored 27.7 points for a 54.3 average.

Jim Doberty, Whitworth for­ward, leads the Pirates in the individual scoring column with 10 points for a 28.3 point a game aver­age.

McGregorm to Clash With Oilers on Monday

Whitworth's Pirates will battle a strong Washington State college team tonight in Bohler gymnasium at Pullman at 8 p.m., and will clash with the Phillips Oiler's on Monday evening at Wallace, Idaho.

Coach Jim McGregors squad will seek to average a 45-60 defeat handed them by WSC last year. The Pirates record for this season stands at three wins and one loss. WSC, coached by Jack Frick, lost their opening game to a potent Seattle university five which the Pirates will face later in the sea­son.

The Cougars, are led by their star forward Eric Roberta and cen­ter Dave Roberts. George Rosser and Pat Mullins also add height and shooting ability to Priel's quintet.

Coach McGregor has indicated he definite starting lineup for to­night's tilt but following the Gonz­aga game it is evident that more emphasis will be devoted to all-around ball handling than to a height advantage.

Following Friday night's action the Pirates will travel to Wallace, Idaho to meet the nationally known Phillips Oilers. The Oilers are paced by their 7-foot center Bob Kurland.

In their four contests played to date, the Pirates have scored a total of 138 points for an average of 73.5 points a game. Their op­ponents have scored 27.7 points for a 54.3 average.

Tumblers Get Girl Gymnasts

Recent additions to the Whit­worth tumbling team are leds - Arnie Stickle, Gordie Baugh, Mau­er-Bulldogs rolled to victory over the barth and Jameson, who could crack the record.

To follow the Pirates in the individual scoring column with 10 points for a 28.3 point a game aver­age.
Manufacturers Stress Need of Faith, Tatum

It still isn't too late to get your picture in this year's annual, according to Carol Geary, Natsihi editor. Pictures will be taken for another half day to be announced after Christmas vacation. Miss Geary said that at this time retakes will be taken, faculty pictures will be completed, and pictures will be taken of any student who still wants to get his picture in the annual.

Up to now about 600 annuals have been sold. No extra ones will be ordered this year, as has been done in previous years. This means that any student who does not order one immediately after Christmas vacation will not be able to get one.

Engravers and printers have not yet been chosen for the annual.

Trombonist Plays Sweet March

After the band had just finished playing "Studebaker Blues in E Flat", by Gustaf Holst, in chapel last Friday, trombonist Warren Baker sank perspiring into his chair. He had died away he asked Dr. Arthur Fraser "What next?" "That's all," answered Dr. Fraser.

"Good News," ejaculated Baker, "I just got through playing that."
Nativity Story Is Ever New

As refreshingly new and beautiful as the virgin snow of every winter is St. Luke's story of the first Christmas.

Others before and since the babe of Bethlehem have claimed divinity, but no claim but His has the peculiar ring of righteousness and the manifest glory of God. St. Luke tells a story magnificent in its simplicity, classical in its beauty, stupendous in its significance.

- And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
- And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
- And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the baby wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. . . .

Accident Can Ruin Vacation

Last year 545 people died in automobile accidents during the Christmas holiday period. For many hundreds again this year's traffic accidents may make the greeting "Merry Christmas" a hollow—unheard—mockery.

Today the automobile, man's greatest mechanical servant, is also his greatest enemy. Loss of life, the invaluable peace, has claimed already by the automobile will exceed the total dead and missing figure for the entire 18 months of the Korean war.

Every unit of traffic statistics is a human life. So why not drive very carefully this season? Why not drive very carefully this year, next year, and every year. By driving carefully each year, we might help to make the greeting, "Peace, good will toward men. . . .

KOREAN WAR GOES ON—Death was still the order of the day along the front Korean battle line this week as more talks were stalled by a red-painted wrench in proposed prisoner exchange plan. Administration, Student Officers Express Holiday Greetings as College Dismisses

School officials join in the following columns to express their personal holiday greetings to the student body and staff of the college.

As the Christmas season approaches, we place our emphasis on putting Christ back into the celebrations of the yuletide. President Frank F. Warren starts the parade of greetings and student body president Paul Schilperoort brings up the rear.

Again we are in the season of the year when we are thinking in terms of our world and of the peace that is so sorely needed—"the peace that the Princes of Peace came to bring. I wonder if all of us are doing all we can to have this peace on our own campus? We shall not succeed in bringing peace to the world until we have it in our own hearts and lives.

Let us as we come to Christmas 1951, search our own hearts, and if perchance there is earthly, lack of understanding and Christian fellowship on our campus, let us gather in as one the manger, and joining hands in Christian love, let us have peace.

Sincerely,

Dr. Frank F. Warren,
President.

There will be one and one-half billion Christmas cards sent this year. Only one of each will commemorate Christ's birthday. It would seem that our world needs to put Christ back into Christmas. My wish for each one of you, faculty members, staff members and students, is that this Christmas you will find and share what the Wise Men found revealed in "the Holy Child of Bethlehem," a place to leave your treasures, a God to worship.

Merton M. Duns, Dean of the College.

Christmas is the best time of the year! It is well that we wish "those of good will" a Merry, Merry Christmas. May God bless the Campus and student body of Whitworth, and each individual student and staff member as we celebrate anew the gift of God's Son to a seeking world.

Theron B. Mason, Dean of Men.

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." John 14:27.

Our Lord promised this priceless gift to those who follow Him. In this day of great fear and anxiety, and giving many wonderful gifts, we could never receive a gift more precious than God's gift of His only son. For in His birth and life we are assured of eternal life by trusting in Him. No greater gift has been nor could ever be given than this unspeakable gift.

Sincerely, Paul Schilperoort,
Student Body President.

Herendean Makes All A's

---by Gerald Soule

Dale Herendeen, senior Who's, one of only six Whitworth students who had straight A's in the mid-semester grades will complete his requirements for his second degree this January.

He had previously earned a T.B.E. degree—bachelor of theology—from Biola (Bible Institute of Los Angeles) four years non-denominational seminary at LA. After graduating from Biola in 1948, Dale decided to come to Whitworth for his B.A. After the 1948-49 year at Whitworth Dale dropped out for one year of work. Then he returned for 1950-51. Now in about six weeks he will be numbered among Whitworth's alumni. The speed up to his B.A. degree was made possible by transfer of credits from Biola. Here Dale is majoring in philosophy—minoring in Greek. He taught beginning Greek for almost six weeks this fall during Greek and philosophy Prof. Lawrence Yates' absence from campus.

Each Sunday Dale serves as a student pastor at Samuel, Wash. His ultimate goal is the mission field—preferably in the relatively unexploited islands of the South Pacific. But he is undecided as to what to do after graduating. He may attend yet another seminary to leave Whitworth—Fuller seminary of Pasadena, Calif.

Herendeen feels that a statement of his philosophy is best crystallized by parts of two Biblical verses... "...Seest thou great things for thyself? Seek them not..." (Jeremiah 40:31) ...and again by Isaiah 6:8, "And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, whom shall I send and whom will go for me? Then I said, Here am I; send me..."

Snyder Earns BS at Penn, MS at USC; Believes American Students Not Serious

by Harold Scales

Prof. Roy W. Snyder, BS Pennsylvania, MA University of Southern California, and newest instructor in Whitworth science department, feels that American college students just don't take their studies seriously.

The smiling, intent science instructor came to that conclusion as a result of a five month vacation he spent in Europe two years ago. Most of his vacation was spent in Paris, France, where he became well acquainted with the personnel at the Pasteur Institute of bacteriology.

In order to quickly review his French, Professor Snyder enrolled at the Alliance Française, a school that drew its students from many countries. It was that he was impressed by the seriousness of continental scholars.

"To European students knowledge is power," Mr. Snyder commented. "Perhaps they are so highly motivated because only a few get the chance to acquire higher education because they have sacrificed to get that opportunity."

The science instructor's European holiday has been preceded by long years of study. Valedictorian of his Erie, Pa., high school class, and National Honor Society member, he was awarded a senatorial scholarship to Penn State. This was a scholar- ship provided by the state senate of his district.

Enrolled at Hahmann

After three years without vacation, under Penn State's war accelerated program, he had his science degree. Then in the spring of 1944 he enrolled in Hahmann medical school at Philadelphia, Penna.

Hahmann, too, was in the vanguard of the war speed-up program. Mid-night oil burned freely in the rooms of tired medical students. In the spring of 1946 his mother became ill and died. This resulted in a three weeks absence for him. When he returned to the grind at Hahmann his interests were at an end. He found he could not get back into the swing of things and dropped out at the end of the semester.

That fall he and his father went to California for a vacation—and decided to stay. It then enrolled at the University of Southern California—this time to get his doctor of science degree. At the same time he served as an instructor in the university's school of osteopathic physicians and surgeons. He completed his work for his degree early in the spring of 1949 and spent the summer on his vacation in Europe.

Attended Cal.

That fall he was again back in school—this time at the University of California at Berkeley—to get his teaching credentials.

The school year 1950-51 found him filling the position of science instructor at San Bernardino Valley College. And this fall he came to Whitworth. Here he is teaching anatomy, physiology and microbiology.

Pang Thinks US Christmas Lack Emphasis on Christ

by Dick Gray

China's emphasis on Christ during the Christmas season is in marked contrast to the non-attention by the United States, says Suma Pang, second semester sophomore.

Edna, as she is known to her class mates, is the daughter of Korean missionaries who are serving in Peking, China under the Korean Presbyterian Mission Board.

She qualified her opinion by ex-plaining that the only people who celebrate Christmas in China are the Christians.

"The young people have their big holiday on New Year's day, which falls in February in China," Edna said. "That is the time for the giving of gifts."

Edna recalls a typical yuletide season starting with all the young people of the church gathering in a large house of one of the members for an all night party.

"There is lots of food and the group plays games into the wee hours of the morning," Edna beamed. "About 4 a.m. they then go carolling."

At 11 that same morning the church service is held and it is much like those held in this country with a Christmas tree, members by the choir, maybe a play, a custom in the Pang household is to hold a banquet that afternoon, having the church's leading members as guests.

"As many as 30 different dishes are served," Edna recalled. "Finishing Christmas day we spend the evening in our home playing games, and having family fellowship."

Pirate Five Loses Game To Oilers by 81-54 Tally

Bill Freeman tipped in the winning basket in the final 35 seconds of play as Whitworth defeated Washington State college 51-48 for their first victory over the Cougars in Pirate history last week in Pullman.

Ralph Polson was the individual star of the game as he cleared both boards consistently in addition to stealing the ball from the Cougars twice in the final 10 seconds of play.

Polson High Man

Big Ralph perused in 20 points on hook shots and tip-ins to take high point honors. Doherty followed with 15 counters while WSC was paced by George Rosser with 12.

In the first three periods the score was tied many times and at the three-quarter mark the score was knotted at 27-27.

Fourth period action saw the lead change hands until Dave Roberts hooked one in the WSC to give them a 47-45 advantage with two minutes to go.

Doherty Foul Score

Seconds later Cougars took possession of the ball after a bad Whit pass. Polson, however, stole the ball at midfield and passed to Doherty, who hooked a left-hander from the side to tie it up again.

Steinhausme hit a free-throw with 35 seconds to go to give the Cougars a one-point lead, but Polson again stole the ball as WSC of shooting the second free throw took the ball out of bounds instead.

Smith Faulted

Freeman tipped the ball in with only seconds remaining and the Pirates led 49-48. Bob Smith sank two free throws as he was fouled twice with the Pirates taking the ball out on each second shot.

In a contest last Monday with the famous Phillips Oilers the Pirates were defeated by the smooth-working quintet which was led by 6' 10" Bill Klein and other former All-Americans by a score of 81-54. The Oilers, who represented the United States in the 1948 Olympics, had little trouble with the Bucs and cleared their bench with frequent substitutions.

West Wing Captures Women's Volleyball Title

West Wing, women's dormitory, captured the annual volleyball tournament held last week by winning over the McMillan and Baldwin halls with scores of 21-19 and 50-12.

Klein's second ball was the defending champion, having won the title the past two years, and was played by the rotation system during the first half and in the second by set positions.

Jumping for a one-handker from the side of the box is still four years Polson, who put in the winning basket in last Friday's victory over the Cougars.

Whits Start Holiday Trek

With Chieftain Tilt Friday

Coach Jim McGregor's Whitworth Pirates will open a six-game road tour starting with Seattle University tomorrow night before returning home to a four-game engagement that will end pre-season play.

Victorious in four of six starts, the Pirates will be facing one of their toughest opponents in Seattle U. The Seattle team defeated WSC but dropped two close ones to the University of Idaho.

The Chieftains are led by high-scoring Johnny O'Brien and his brother Ed. Johnny has averaged well over 20 points a game and is virtually unstoppable.

Play St. Martins

Saturday, Dec. 15, the Pirates will invade Olympia for a clash with the St. Martin's Rangers. The Rangers are not in the four-game league competition this year.

On Dec. 17 McGregor's squad will oppose Lewis and Clark college in Pullman and Lebanon the following evening, also in Pullman.

Portland U. Tough

Further invasion of Oregon brings the Pirates against Williamette university Dec. 21 at Salem, and a tough Portland university team on Dec. 22 at Portland. The Pirates defeated Portland by a one-point margin last year.

The Pirates will open a four-game home stand at Whitworth on Dec. 28. Colorado A and M will invade the Pirate gym for a two-game series followed by Montana State in a twin set, also on Dec. 28 and 29.

Most games have been scheduled away for that reason.

Men's Dorms Start Intramural Program

Eight teams will be competing in the intramural basketball league for the first time of which are scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 5, according to Sam Tague, intramural program organizer.

Four games will be scheduled for each Saturday. Officials will be taken from the following list.

The teams which will be seen in competition are two teams from Whitworth hall, while the town students, Washington hall, Nason hall, Goodwill hall, Lancaster hall, and Circle K house, will enter one team each.

from the crow's nest

with Don Worker

Snower or later in every sport's season there come the extremes in examples of crowd spectatorism. The last two "Whitworth" games have illustrated this fact very clearly.

In the contest with the Gonzaga Bulldogs, which was played on the Gonzaga home floor, their fans were the classic exhibits of poor sportsmanship on the part of the host school. The Boone Street gymnasium in its minute- ness reverberated with the boos and the catcalls of the Gonzaga fans.

The Washington State college supporters, however, in a very dis- appointing victory considering the comparative size and prestige of the two schools, were loyal in their general attitude during the close game at Pullman. Their rulers gave praise when it was due and were appreciative of the Pirate team, cheerleaders, and the visiting fans.

Some students can note both impressions left on their minds and decide how they wish to appear to the students and adults who will be present at the Gonzaga games.

Ferry Captures First Position In Northwest Oratory Contest

Weldon Ferry, big 250-pound sophomore Pirate tackle from Weldon, Wash., proved this week that he carries weight in other activities besides football.

A first place trophy was brought home by Ferry from the Jan. 4-6 regional contest at Seattle in competition against 30 candidates from Northwest colleges. The meet was held at Seattle Pacific university, clergy, Portland, Oregon, and Western Washington college.

Ferry's victory was in the same division in which he scored second, making it the second consecutive year that Whitworth has won this award. Last year Carmen Poole also brought home top position in this same division.

The Whitworth winner scored first by his reading of "The Washington Years" by Nat Sherman in the fourth round. He defeated finalists from Gonzaga university, Seattle Pacific, and Whitworth, and qualified for the final with a first place in the division.

Ferry is an education and language arts major and a physical education minor with plans against football letterman, plays right halfback.

Bill Tatum, who also represented Whitworth, placed fifth in extemporeation. Two other Whitworth students took part in the meet.

Nelson Tells Budget Status At Midyear

Mid-year financial report made by ASWC treasurer Bernard Nelson showed that Whitworth was within budget appropriations. However, the variances have a current year's implication.

"Sales are down," student manager Carl Christensen explained, "and we have to make whatever adjustments necessary to eliminate (the deficit.) Total budget appropriations are $15,151.10. Total expenditures to date are $12,723.25, Whitworth's $1,405.95, student manager's office $197.85, social commentary $741.13, S.O.S promotion $300.89, radio committee $177.96, student ticket income for the first semester is $10,310.99. At the present time Nelson reports excess expenditures by $547.34. Of necessity the large expenditures for the year book come at this time."

"If there are any organizations who want to know their financial condition please see Belfie Nelson, or stop at my office," Christensen commented.

Selective Service Explains Draft Deferment Conditions

"Don't get panic if you get a Selective Service 'Greeting's' induction notice.

Unless students have had a previous deferment, regardless of draft status, they can get a deferment until the end of the academic year. This was the gist of a five-page 1400 odd-word release from National Selective Service headquarters dated Jan. 8.

Notices Necessary

The student who has been or ordered for induction may obtain deferment by having the draft or registrar of his local board certify to his local board concerning his status. The difference between 1-A and 1-B is that the deferment is called a "one shot" deferment for those who do not have eligibility for extension for 1-D service. Choice Possible

The person processed under Selective Service law prohibits a man from enlistment in the service of his choice on the plea of conscientious objection, but allows for induction. P. C. O. 1931, 1931, this order has been reissued. Therefore as long as this new rule stands, those who have received their induction notices still have the option to enlist in the branch of service they prefer.
Memphis State Has Starr

The speedy, sharpshooting Memphis State college basketball team who thoroughly trounced McGregor's Maplemen during Christmas vacation are by no means that Southern college's only claim to recent journalistic limelight.

For Time magazine's Dec. 31 issue tells of a Memphis college student, John Robert Starr, who was forced to resign—because of extraordinary propensity for academic work.

Starr, a shaggy-haired 25 year old ex-GL is married, has four children. He enrolled at Memphis State last summer, managed to get A's and B's in all his courses. While he was "resting" he served as sports editor for the college annual, wrote a column for the college paper, covered high school sports for the Memphis Commercial Appeal, and worked Sundays as a United Press Sports Writer.

But Memphis State's dean heard certain unbelievable rumors about how Starr was spending his spare time. Just a a precaution he called Starr in and asked him point blank if the rumors were true.

Starr admitted that they were. While attending State he was also a full-time student at Southwestern college four miles away where he commuted by motor-cycle. There he was a senior with an excellent academic record. He was also serving there as editor of the annual, and covered campus news for the Appeal.

During this entire double-routine period of what must have been a crushing load Starr "never lost a pound, never appeared tired, and his work never fell off." His excuse for his extraordinary activity was that Southwestern didn't keep him busy enough.

"There were so many subjects I wanted to learn about... I was being lazy by nature I thought it would be good self-discipline to sign up for them," he explains—a little bit inadequately.

The moral of this story, kiddies, is this: "We wish we had Starr on our WHITWORTHIAN staff.

Dimes March Against Polio

Once again it is that time of year when dimes march across America that those in all walks of life may walk.

This may be the year that will see the discovery ending forever the ravages of acute polioymelitis. It would be nice to know that you've had a real part in that great victory, or continued fight, at the cost of only a few dimes . . .

It's for your protection, too; give generously to the "March of Dimes"!

Eisenhower Says He'll Run

"IKE" WILL RUN.—General Dwight D. Eisenhower set off a wave of enthusiasm last week when he admitted that he would accept "a clearer call to public duty." He announced from Paris that he was a Republican and would run if nominated at the GOP convention in Chicago next July.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I am now in a country called Korea. I have been here a little over a week and there has been some fighting activity but it is usually quiet. As you know I am in the light artillery—105 mm howitzers. This battalion is in direct support of an infantry regiment, and the combination of these is a regiment combat team.

At the present time there is a valley between our lines and the Communist lines (that is 3000 meters or little over two miles) wide. The Communists are very wide. The Communists are very active in this valley because if the Communists are very active in this valley because if they so much as show their heads they get a lot of artillery fire.

Hope you can read this as it is being written in candlelight. My duties in the artillery are those of a machine gun (spotter) in the FDC (fire direction center) for the battalion 171st.

Guess that's all for now. I would like to hear from some of the kids and find out the news there.

World Brings College Man Repeated Woe

You Think You Got Troubles . . .

Maurie Goldsberg, film camera shop at Syracuse University, barely had a chance to go to sleep when he was robbed of $3000 worth of equipment.

Goldsberg threw the event with his customary stoicism, but the Syracuse Daily Orange hit the ceiling.

The Orange characterized Maurie Goldsberg as "a woebegone 22-year-old with a tremendous penchant for having misfortunes befell him . . . and always smiling through the very worst of it all."

The camera shop chief was called "a mean little man" by the Orange.

 Briefly, the Orange traced Maurie's troubles back four years to a few major business ventures, then to several partnerships, lost and replaced various thousands of dollars and somehow earned a degree, to boot.

Then there was the time Maurie locked himself out of his own house in the middle of the night, having run in his pajamas to see an accident. And the time he discovered his "phone virus" were being tapped, because his name was "slightly picked."

At a special draft board hearing it was revealed Maurie is "exceedingly mediocre in business direction."

Maurie sums up his life this way, "I've had troubles since I was born. I was the only trouble—t I was born in June."

Students Get Cuisine Tools

Kitchen facilities including a sink, stove, and room to prepare food which student organizations may use in meeting, was disclosed at student council Tuesday.

"Dr. and Mrs. Frank F. Warren have made a General Electric kitchen available to the student body to be used in the kitchen," revealed Mark Dudley, chairman of the kitchen planning committee.

Student council favored building the kitchen in the first half of the commons room as against remodeling student body offices to provide facilities. Dudley's committee will draw up floor plans for that spot.

"Students have long needed a place where they can prepare food for parties, et cetera. Their problems, both hall and commons are not available for health reasons," student body president Paul Schlipperman explained.

Snowbound

by Pat Waddell

For beneath the icy blankets many days ago

Wadell was the campus of Whitworth, hidden by dusty snow.

When the blanket from the heavens fell to earth upon that day

The students and the campus vanished from the earth away.

Men digging through the snow-wrecks, vainly for the ground

Waddell Is Active, Talented

Robert Doran

"Talented" is the keyword for action Waddell, who served as Whitworthian staff artist, sings in the campus a capella choir, and does all art work for that organization.

With all these activities Pat waddell, from Millwood, still has time to be chairman of Christian Endeavor and to earn a place on the honor roll.

Pat's activities rightly suggest that her major is art. Bible is her minor.

After graduation from Whitworth she plans to go to Bennett Asnsworth, New York, Theological Seminary for a master's degree in Christian education.

Miss Waddell young people in church work are her ambition. She has already had some experience caravanning in the summer months.

Warren Takes Trip to East

Dr. Frank F. Warren, president, is attending the National Association of College Presidents being held in Washington, D.C., at the Hotel Stratler.

The meetings, which end today and started last Monday, have given special emphasis to the discussion of universal military training.

While in the East, Dr. Warren is also attending meetings of the Nexus college and university board which serves as the executive for Presbyterian colleges.

This coming weekend, Jan. 13, he will preach in the First Presbyterian church of Baltimore, Md. That church is served by his brother Paul.

Tonight he will speak at a meeting of the Atlantic Alumni association to be held in Trenton, N.J.
Bucs, CWCE Tangle
In Ellensburg Jan. 17

Whitworth's Pirates will enjoy Sunday rest as no games are scheduled until Jan. 17 when the Pirates resume league action against the unbeaten Central Washington Wildcats at Ellensburg.

Coach Jim McGregor's squad dropped their first conference game to Pacific Lutheran, but were playing without the services of star forward Ralph Polson.

Pacific Lutheran and Central will lead the Evergreen Loop with two wins and no setbacks as they both opened league action with twin victories.

Western Washington and Puget Sound occupy the runner-up spot, each having a single win and a loss. Whitworth and Eastern Washington follow next in order with one loss each while British Columbia is in the basement with two losses.

Following the central game next week the Pirates travel on further to battle with Puget Sound at Tacoma on Jan. 19.

Last year's series with Central saw the Pirates sweep both games, but the Bucs dropped a two-game set to a tougher Puget Sound five.

McGregor has been changing his offensive five in the hopes of finding the right combination. Favorable results have come from Jack Thieson, Ed Kratz, Ray and Roy Beach, and some new faces, with noodle defects being a part of an overall improvement.
Jeanne Evans, Oakland, Calif., typifies many of the new students who are arriving on campus this week from warmer parts of the country. Evans, who transferred to Whitworth from Seattle Pacific College, reports that the new semester has brought her a new experience in more than the academic field. Miss Evans, whose birthday is today, graduates from High School on April 13-20.

Under the direction of Prof. Wilbur L. Anderson, the choir will sing the music of Bach down to the contemporary works of Christiansen and Randal Thompson.

A Cappella Choir Slates Tour; Will Travel in 7 Western States

Members of the a cappella choir will tour seven western states, going as far south as Colorado Springs, Colo., and north to Great Falls, Mont., on the group's annual spring tour to be held April 13-20.

Arrange Snow Frolic Despite Ski Lodge Fire

There will be a snow frolic in spite of the burning of Mt. Spokane Ski lodge.

Pole Bennett, student body vice-president and social chairman, has announced the affair for Feb. 12.

Definite plans for the site of the frolic have not yet been made. The committee is considering either the point or one of the hills nearby.

Many Activities

"We would like to have skating, tobogganing, and other winter sports," Bennett said. "A portable tent will be secured for the skiers in case the frolic is held in the Country Homes area." The place chosen for the frolic will be announced in next week's Whitworthian.

In this busy area at Whitworth, there will be a 2000 seat (Continued on page four)

Big Plans

"We've planned the big things," faculty spokesman Dr. Melton D. Mann announced when questioned as to the plans for part of the evening's entertainment. The group's plans for part of the evening's entertainment, "A Musical Feature: Faculty Publius," an evening of fancy dress put on by the faculty two years ago, was included. Mrs. Alice Cheska has been named to serve as chairman of the faculty's part of the show.

Plans for the freshman class have not been announced by Evelyn Widner, freshman class president. Refreshments for the evening will be provided by the alumni association. Chairman for arrangements is Mrs. Sarah Miller Auld.

Alumni Plan School Party

Guests who attend this year's alumni-graduate party will get a trip-taker evening of en­tertainment according to Dick Hardedge, executive secretary for the Alumni Club. The annual get-together, sched­uled for March 11 in the gymnasium, will be a benefit for the SIB fund.

It is being co-sponsored by the alumni association and the fresh­man class. Entertainment is to be provided by talent from the alumni, the freshman class, and from our own faculty. The charge of 50 cents will be made.

Coach Hildebrand Quits Head Football Position

In a surprise move to everyone, Coach Bill Hildebrand announced his resignation this week as head football mentor of Whitworth col­lege. He relinquished his post in favor of the assistant coaching position at his alma mater, Minne­sota State college.

In a meeting with President Frank F. Warren, Wednesday, Hildebrand was asked to reconsider his de­cision. But his plan remain un­changed. He will leave for Stark­ville, Miss., this week to as­sume his new position.

Students circulated a petition asking that Hildebrand be induced to remain, but campus feeling was that it could not. Hildebrand had just completed his first year at Whitworth. His decision came as a surprise to school officials. The Pirates were looking forward to a good season in 1932, with what many people regarded as their best opportunity to build a strong team.

In his first season at Whitworth, Hildebrand had only a 5-5-0 (.500) record.

Snowballers Cost College $250 Losses

Repair of 102 broken windows has cost the college more than $250 since Nov. 1, maintenance foreman Russell Bennett announced. Almost all of the breakage was done by students throwing snowballs at each other in "bay window," according to Cheska. Objects thrown included snowballs, pine cones, apples, and oranges.

Breakdown of the total includes 14, 22", 34" windows broken out of Whitworth hall. Replacement costs for those is estimated at $6 each, including labor and material. A number of "tilp" windows were broken at various buildings on the campus at $1.50 each. Costs for replacing some com­panies broke, also at an estimated $5 each.

Last Tuesday's repair bill alone was more than $240, Cheska re­vealed. "This was for eight small and two large windows, including a difficult to repair "tilp" one." When the student, responsible for window breakage is known the re­placement costs are added to his current bill, Cheska said.

Reader's View

Shakes Editors

When the Daily Athenaeum, West Virginia University, took a reader opinion poll last month, it got one or two differing answers. Said the reader: "The Daily Athenaeum is a pretty good paper, but let's not kid anyone about it being a student paper. Let's call it an experiment of the journalism department and let it go at that."

Commented the editors, "Please let's refer to it as the efforts of student journalists trying to please two parties."

Tatum Will Address Next Friday's Chapel

Bill Tatum will speak on his re­cent trip to New York at a student body sponsored Chapel on Friday, Feb. 1. according to Dr. G. S. Helscott, chapel committee head. Tatum's talk will feature Rev. "Universal Military Training" was the theme of the talk given thus morning in chapel by F. R. Shirk, chairman of the Department of Engineering Experimentation station of the University of Washington.

ịọla's Journeys in Alaska, South America; Returns to Campus to Complete Education

by Alden Winn

Elizabeth Olds, returning to Whitworth this semester to start her junior year, has probably seen more of the Western Hemisphere in the past nine months than most will see in a lifetime.

Olds traveled in Canada and Alaska from late July to early August. She was attending the University of British Columbia and spent two weeks in the Yukon Territory,_listening to the drum of the Klondike Klub and the Andes Klub.

Opposition of varying degree to the women's movement sur­rounded nearly everywhere they visited which point­ed out, but nowhere does it ap­proach the intensity it has reached in Columbia.

In one nation," she says, "nearly 40,000, religious and politi­cal groups have been organized to death since 1849 under a dictator­ship that persecutes any agency that brings or advocates progress."

In spite of this persecution, Miss Olds says the Protestant churches of that country are thriving and are "spiritually powerful." The Washington Missionary opportunity still fresh in her mind, Elizabeth says she will con­tinue in her present April, educa­tion major and may, following the winter quarter, return to the practice of the South American mission field.
The Amherst president cited one student who had barely passed in his sophomore year, but who had increased his grade to a C- for his senior year.

Before he was 35", Dr. Cole noted, "this person was regarded as one of the most important phenomena in the college and his presence is felt today, still under 40, he is executive vice-president of a great corporation."

The doctor's studies have convinced him that some persons reach their peak performance in high school, others in college and graduate school, still others after they leave school, and some never.

Among those who never attain are many able and talented students—who are lazy and poorly motivated. This group contains the "under achievers", and the "half achievers". Prognostication of their case is far less hopeful than that of the "late bloomers", the doctor believes.

Where are you according to Dr. Cole's classification? Should you take heart—or take heed?

Glass Tinkles in the Snow

A monument to student thoughtlessness has been put up on campus since Nov. 1.

It is made up of 102 sparkling new window panes-replacing those broken by students in snowball fights and other holiday play during that period. The repair bill is estimated at over $250.

What can be done about it? Probably not much. Most college students eventually grow up. It's just a matter of time—and a few hundred more window panes.

More than these, my son, require not. Of making many books is no end; and much study is an affiction of the flesh. — Ecc. 12:12

He had previously announced he would not seek the president himself in 1952. In which the president is now running his own political campaign, John Nangle, Demo- cratic National Committee chairman, said he had informed Mr. Keaner that there was no doubt in his mind that Mr. Truman will run again.

The Final Exams

by Nosses Phillips

My mind was bary, although my eyes were clear. And both knees trembled as the finals drew near.

I strode into the classroom
And grasping my pen—
With but to me it seemed
The test would never end.

Daring not to use a pony,
Last I should get caught,
I passed at all the answers
But none were right, I thought.

Still waiting and listening
To the beat of my heart,
I heard a loud ringing
And jumped with a start.

L! The period had ended;
And I wanted—
I folded my papers.
Not knowing what to do.

But just then I remembered
As I ran through
This was not my classroom,
I had come to study.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have read two of your recent editorials: One, editorializing on the results of a recent survey in which the students were asked to rate various teachers, and two, your editorial on a recent speech by Robert Hutchins, and I cannot refrain from writing expressing to you my appreciation.

To me both reflected the true spirit of a talented mind and were scholarly expressed.

I feel that a word of commendation to youth is more worthwhile than a volume of praise to age, and I trust this note to you will be serve in some small way to cultiv­ate that spirit of the editorialist's bespeak.

Gammill, '61, Writes For Eastern Papers

Dean Gammill, journalism gradu­ate '61 and last year's Whitworth marksman, has recently, and in September, written several articles published in Milwaukee, Minn., newspapers, in the Air Force Times, and in the Afro American, largest negro newspaper in the U. S. A., according to a letter from his fiancée Jerrell Susan.

Gammill is a private first class stationed with the air force unit at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. He writes to his parents of public relations office there. At pres­ent he is in charge of a group history of the base unit.

Warren Airs Discussions; Tells Why Coach Resigned

PRESIDENT FRANK F. WARNER)

Unfortunately Bill Hibblebread has tendered his resignation as football mentor at Whitworth in the one short year he has been with us, we have 'come to appre­ciate not only his coaching but his interest in the team from a re­ligious standpoint.

Several Talks

After several frank talks in which we have freely discussed what is involved in his resignation, it is clear that he is not leaving Whitworth, because of any disagree­ment with the administration or his associates. Hence because of any disappoint­ment in the showing of his team last fall.

Both he and his wife have a deep affection for the South and feel that they will be happier there than in the North. Their parents greatly desire that they make this move so that they will be near home. Although all of us feel that this move is a mistake, still our best wishes will go with him as he returns to his alma mater.

Coach Bill" felt keenly the im­portance of the future because of the possibility of Universal Milli­ tary training. To be sure, that is an unknown factor in the thinking and planning of every independent college in America.

However, it may be two or three years before UNT comes, and in the meanwhile from the adminis­tration standpoint at least, we shall continue fielding a team. It is the sincere hope of all that last year's team will be as successful as possible remain with the college.

Sack Now Coach

Plans are already under way to find a successor for Hibblebread. I could personally assure the entire student body, alumni, and friends, that every effort will be made to find out not only a com­petent, experienced man, but one who will fit into the entire life of the college academically and re­ligiously as well as in the field of athletics.

College Life Fine, Columnist Says

(Following is a partial report from a column in the Daily Times, of Austin, Texas.)

"Whatever its faults may be, the University certainly is a place that goes in for education. Always referring people, giving them term weekly, to write final exams to study.

We're run into a rather ugly situation like that ourselves when various happenings have belligerent that certain tasks and homework were due them before the semester closed.

Beneath their covering of fright­ening we find students really are ready as good for you as a whole bag of orange juice. They make you informed on such a wide variety of things. Assured only now thoroughly you cover the sub­ject.

Take up, for example . . . Our theme was an English theme, and we choose W. E. Gilbert as a sub­ject.

"That's the one who comes in front of Jefferson. As a result we've listed down with stuff we didn't use in the theme.

For instance, Gilbert had furnished us with quite a few catch phrases. "The policemen hot on the enthusiast." "The flowers that bloom in the spring, triwks!" "What never? No, never. What never?"

STRIKELY CORN

by Larry Strickland
Doherty, Evans Take Vows At Evening Nuptials, Jan. 11

Lidgerwood United Brethren church was the setting for the calm and delicate ceremony uniting Sally Evans, Lebanonworth, and James Doherty, Delphi, Ind., Jan. 11, 1952.

The bride wore a ballroom length gown of white lace and satin bodice. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Miss Kenny Turner, maid of honor, wore a ballroom-length gown of forest green slipper satin. Delores Snell, Debra Soley, and Phyllis Mcgee wore gowns, burgundy, and dusty rose. All carried white bubbles spotted with holly. Candlelighters Rose Frederick and Ruth Marie Whelan wore apple green.

Turnquist Best Man

Kennedy Torrente was best man. Usurers were Bill Souwe, Dave Bremer, and Bevery Mattheus.

An old saying has it that every successful man can attribute at least some of his achievements to a certain woman in his life. The truth of this adage is demonstrated on our campus by the case of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Rodgers.

The feminine half of this team makes no claim of being the guiding light in the Dr.'s career but there can be no doubt that Mrs. Rodgers has contributed directly to the effectiveness of the combination.

Ready Smile

The ready smile and warm personality of the Missus Rodgers doesn't at all fit the stubborn nature usually attributed to the Dr. The Rodgerses are a team, nevertheless she was born in the "subconscious," she explained.

After graduating from Park college, Mrs., and serving a stretch at kigam garden teaching, the entered San Francisco Theological seminary, sound, bound essentially, she thought, to the mission field in India.

However, when a great change happened her plans and on April 25, 1937 she received two honors—degree and B.A.

Remembers Date

"It was a great day," Mrs. Rodgers reminisces, "the degrees were given to me about two hours apart. This is something I have no trouble remembering."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers continued active on campus the follow­ing year and together were awarded B.S. in 1938. Women don't often receive B.D.'s at San Anselmo but Mrs. Rodgers put her time to good use there by supervising the Winthrop Presbyterian church Sunday school.

They remained at Westminster until Dr. Rodgers accepted a simi­lar post at Whitworth college.

Belong to Whitworth

Now members of the Whitworth Family, she and her husband, the genial, the genius Mrs. Rodgers is pitching right in. Besides substitut­ing for her husband when he needs it, she works in the college library and has been appointed a senior Sunday school at the Whitworth church.

Speaking for Dr. Rodgers and herself, she says that "we're very happy to be at Whitworth and we thoroughly enjoy the Christian fellowship among faculty and stu­dents."

Alumni Fellowship

The two sailed soon afterwords for Scotland. The outbreak of war in 1939, though, forced their return to the States. The war years were spent by the couple serving churches in Cali­fornia, but in 1947 it was back to Scotland where Mr. Rodgers received his Ph.D. degree a year later. As usual, Mrs. Rodgers wasn't idle. She did graduate work too, although she was not working to­ward any further degrees.

Returns to US

Upon returning to the US in 1944, Dr. Rodgers was appointed Bible department head at West­minster college, Salt Lake City, Utah. Mrs. Rodgers put her time to good use there by supervising the Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday school.

They remain at Westminster until Dr. Rodgers accepted a simi­lar post at Whitworth college.

W A A Sponsors Annual Breakfast

"January Snowdrift" is the theme for the annual waffle breakfast sponsored by W A A to be held Monday morning, Jan. 28, at 8:05 in the commons, according to Elaine Culver, W A A president.

"The breakmouth is mainly to ac­

W A A 'Teas Off' This P.M.; Has Slumber Party Tonight

All new women students and present A W A members are invited to the annual A W A tea tonight, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Ballard basement, according to Mary Lou Langkau, A W A social chairman. Cake, cookies, tea, and coffee will be served.

This social function is to introduce new women students to A W A and to provide a touch of collegiate activity for Whitworth women," Zone Runag, A W A presi­dent, explained.

A program will be presented, including a monologue by Joyce Ross, instrumental duet by Ruth Higgins and Bob Hangerford, and art demonstration by Hila Anschil­man.

In charge of arrangements are Renee McIlhine, co-chairman; Darle Snyder, food; Ada Allen, decorations; and Tuhylla Hell, clean-up. Bucs Drop Game to Central; Beat Loggers by 78-66 Tally

by Greg Sanford

Whitworth Buccaneers playing a tough, determined bunch of Central Washington Wildcats wound up on the short end of the scoring in a hard fought contest Jan. 17. The Wildcats pulled the game out of the fire with a one point win 66-65 in an over time period.

Play was continuously marked by rough play which resulted by go un unnoticed. The Ioul

With all the talk that is floating around the campus about schemes to raise money for the new student union building, perhaps a basketball game could be arranged between the Pirate varsity and jaydeev squares with all the proceeds, beyond expenses, donated to the fund.

The contest could be scheduled at a time after the spring semester has begun, on a date when both teams do not have conflicting games. Large-scale promotion of the game could draw crowds from Spokane and vicinity as well as the Whitworth students and it should add a substantial bush to the Bub coffers. How about it, consul­ tate, let's get the wheels rolling and if the idea is feasible and agreeable to all concerned, we may have that new building before anyone realizes it.

Classes Nominate Candidates To Preside Over Snow Frolic Committee

Senior nominees for snow royalty and Mary Carr and Wally Beekman, Allen Wills, class president, and other nominations were held last Tuesday.

Candidates for other classes announced last week's Whitworthian include juniors, Mary Lap Lanzmand and Denny Matthews, sophomores, Joyce Ross and Bill Creevey, and freshmen, Christ Vernom and Mason Legare. Elections will be held next Wednesday and Thursday.

Pick Idaho Site

Signed Post, Post Falls, Idaho, has been selected as the site for the Frolic on Feb. 12. Activities aided for the frolic consist of last night's session for beginners in the morning, varsity in the afternoon, and possibly telegraphing. These will also be a singalong and food service.

The annual event provides fun and fellowship for all known as well as equipment acquired from the frolic for those students not able to be present by a cost of $2 for a person.

Skin will be rented on an day basis. Tryouts for the frolic will have from February 17 to February 19, while boys and al-frolic students must go directly to the sports shoes to be fitted.

Campus girls will fill out slips.

Putt To Head Publicity Work

Presidents class members have been chosen as a publicity committee for the three under- and graduate student who will hold the girls, M. C. in the gymnasium.

Kenneth Putt will head this work, followed by officers, who will be elected. The publicity committee has been announced. All students will carry the S.B. (Ski) flag.

"A frolic has been chosen," Putt said, "and we are really going to work to make this party the biggest of the year."

Dutch Ellis, '50, is the head of the women's part of the group, with Mrs. Marya Clark as the chairman of the junior part. Refreshments are being planned by Mrs. Sarah Miller, head of the junior association.

Committee Arranges Temperance Talk

H. H. Hill of the Washington Temperance movement will hold an open meeting in the chapel on Wednesday, Feb. 3, according to Dr. H. H. Schlosser, chapel committee head. Temperance of the snow queen will be held at aonual meeting on Friday, Feb. 8. Intercollege Knights pledges will also be presented at that time.

New Semester Brings Enrollment Down to 460

Registration data of 900 students enrolled at Whitworth college for spring semester, according to information received from the registrar's office, Jan. 29, by Miss Vivien Blankin, registrar.

Registration officially closes Feb. 17. That is also the last date for which changes in registration may be made. Spring registration dropped by 45 students as compared to 1951 list full registrations of 900. Drop in 1950-51 fall and spring registrations was 70 students.

Maxson Visits Bay Alumni

Dr. Thomas B. Maxson, dean of men, addressed 100 Whitworth alumni at a banquet during his visit to San Francisco. Maxson attended San Francisco California, Jan. 6 and 9, and hosted the San Francisco alumni association. Maxson will hold the next meeting on Saturday, Jan. 9.

Maxson is scheduled to meet with alumni at a banquet on Saturday, Jan. 9. The banquet will be held at the University Club, San Francisco, on Saturday night.

Saturday morning Dr. Maxson went to San Francisco federal prison to meet with chaplains, sociologists, and psychologists conducting a reseach at the prison.

Edinger Makes Natural Error

Story of a week, probably apocryphal, is that Charles Edinger sorted Carrie Stockey reading a book with more precision than the beginning of a semester. Edinger said he was reading. Carrie shared her book's title: "What Millions of Women Want." Daily Edinger said poorly, "Have they spelled my name right?"

Approximately one-sixth of Whitworth's enrollment made the home roll for the semester just past. According to information released by the registrar's office, ten students earned straight A's.

Houses are granted to students earning four years and not more than 10 hours. Honor students must have earned an average of at least 3.50. Following are the names of honor students and grade point averages earned during the fall semester:

Corrective Instruction Helps Students With Weak Areas

The age old problem of corrective teaching for the generally uncooperative student who is poorly prepared in a given area is receiving some new answers in many colleges. Seemal experiments in three areas at Trinity College here are proving effective at Trinity in enhancing learning in mathematics, and physical education.

Math is Bogey

Mathematics is one such a mental bogeyman in secondary schools that scores of student teachers will refuse any understanding of algebra necessary to undertake the study of calculus. Many, mathematics courses, although they have "passed" math in secondary school. An orientation program is also in effect which attempts to help present students to understand that thinking which can then be applied to analytic geometry and elementary calculus.

Cause Cited

The prevalence of poor spelling today, the "trinity problem" discussed in a course on the whole word method of teaching newly taken by many college students. To begin remedial work here, poor spellers have been required to attend a spelling clinic under Professor Ralph M. Williams, Jr.

Oddly enough, many of the men who are deflection in writing at this college are among the brilliant students.

Snow Reverses

by Ruth Higgins

Out for a stroll in the falling snow
I take a look around and away we go.
Making a path through the drifts so white,
I颅 am in a world of enchanting snow.

The diamonds in the snow I find Bringing love and hope, and peace of mind.
And go I was along the way,
Watching sparkling snowflakes fall so gay.

I lift my face, the falling flakes
Call my thoughts and dreams awake.
Bewitched, I wander on and on,
Finding my cares have left behind.

As I travel along the way,
Song comes tumbling wild and gay.
For always a walk in the falling snow
Is something that I won’t let go.

The world looks gay and gay,
The snowflakes falling on and on.
And the world is quiet, and still,
And its beauty fills my heart and soul.

Vassar College Sets
Tuition up to $2000

Vassar college has announced an increase from $1800 to $2000 a year effective September, 1952. This includes $225 for tuition and $1775 for room and board. College authorities point out that the cost of education to a student at Vassar today is $450. Of this, $450 is provided by the college's endowment income and current gifts. Today's fee of $1900 levies a deficit of $400 per student which the college has been forced to meet by deficit financing.

McNeil Announces Betrothal To Whitworth '49 Alumna

"Because" sung by Noma Ben- tillie at Sunday dinner. Jan. 27 an- nounced the engagement of Bill McNeil, junior education major from LaCygell, Col., and pructor of Whitworth hall, to Marilyn McNeil, '49, Whitworth graduate from Berkeley, Cal.

Along with her announcement was made that the couple will be married in the spring.

McNeil transferred to Whitworth the following semester, received his degree from the University of California college of agriculture. He served three years with the U.S. Army in Europe during World War II, and was employed for three years by Howard Eddy Motors in Coosad, Cal.

The young couple are both mem- bers of the First Presbyterian church at Berkeley and are active in its Student Association group.

No definite wedding plans have been made.

W Club Attends Yearly Breakfast

Music Contest Attracts All Dorms, Town Club

Eleven groups have made entries for "Springtime Fantasy," the club's competitive musical to be held Feb. 16, 8 p.m., in the gymnasium.

All campus dorms are entering, along with Circle K and Town club. Groups that have named their themes are MacMillen, "April Review;" Bailiff, "It's All as We Feel"; Watson-Win, "Spring's A Fantasy;" and Westminister, "April Showers."

Name Judges

Judges for the competition have been named by Webster Perry, chairman, as Prof. Floyd Chapman, Dr. Theron Maxson, and Mrs. Minnie Jenkins. Winner of the contest will receive a large loving cup. The winning group will keep the cup for a year, and the group whose cup is returned after three consecutive times, it will become the permanent trophy.

Charge 50 Cents

With all proceeds going to a fund for lighting of the ten rooms Merton Munn's office states chlorine, sponsoring the play are naked. Community singing will keep the cup for the same group wins the event. The competition has been declared invalid if a runner is found to have cheated. Winners are to be crowned as snow flock royals by student body president Paul Slipperpoort at formal ceremonies at this morning's chapel.

The royal couple will receive no festivities at Signal Point, Post Falls, Idaho next Tuesday, Feb. 13. Classes will be dismissed for the event.

Attendants Named

Court attendants are Joyce Ross, Chris Iman-Kane, Mary Rice, Maureen leggings, Bill Creevey, and Wally Sekvik. Election officials revealed that the race between Miss Lannigan and Miss Ross was close.

Busses will be provided for those who do not have cars. These will leave for Signal Point at about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, according to KFWC radio station manager Pete Beaumont. A charge of 25 cents per couple for each student will be made.

To Give Instruction

Ski chairman Bill Creevey announced that there will be instruction for beginners in the morning. During the afternoon there will be an intercollegiate match with three persons per team.

KWC Enlarges Schedule; ‘Most Ambitious’ Program

With the exception of sports, KWC will be adding seven and one-half hours of air time to their schedule. This is the most ambitious schedule ever attempted by the two-paper school's "Voice of Whitworth," according to Howard Haas, station manager.

The station schedule will be on the air from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"There will be two exceptions to this schedule," Haas explained. "Nothing will be transmitted during the all-sports half of the period. Also, recorded selections will be played until 11 p.m. Friday nights with Neil Dremler emceeing them."

Add Rooms

An office and studio room has recently been added to the station facilities. To fill this Flora Stroman, a new student from Walla Walla, has just been appointed secretary of the radio staff.

The station now has a complete set of professional recording tools and will be able to take care of any and all of the student recording needs. Milton Knight, recording supervisor, revealed that a new tape machine was purchased this week and freed the station from the need for a doughnut or film machine.

One of the features of the expanded schedule will be the addition of "Radio Tuesday," from 7 to 9 p.m., every Monday through Thursday. This program will feature light and semi-classical music.

Any school organization or event may use radio as a means of advertising. For additional information or data to KWC writers Haas said. This material must be turned in early addressed to Howard Haas, Box 211.
Chapel 'F's' Give Concern

A little disturbing is the many chapel attendance 'F's' recorded on grade transcripts for the semester just ended.

Anyone who flunked deserved to, of course. The rules were plainly stated before registration last fall. Students who received an 'F' must be considered uncool, if not cruelly, stubbornly.

But 'F's' is harsh, unforgiving, final. An 'F' could become an eternal stumbling stone in a student's attitude toward things religious. It will always remain a bad memory to tarnish his regard for Whitworth college.

Since no credit hours are involved and "S" is recorded for satisfactory attendance, why couldn't "S" serve as the unsatisfactory grade? Whitworth has an excellent psychology department, which could be made use of with results here if the chapel committee. Wouldn't it be smart long-range applied psychology to substitute "U" for "F", if grades must be given?

The problem of chapel attendance has many ramifications. One is the view that some Spokane area students who attend Whitworth largely because it is convenient may be inclined to look askance at compulsory chapel. But there is nothing wrong with a college attracting students because it is conveniently located.

Again, Student Administration other colleges, beset by financial problems, and sensitive to every dip in the registration barometer has occasion to be thankful that it doesn't suffer from an isolated position.

Then, too, it must be doubted that men and women can be driven into the kingdom of heaven. For one thing, Whitworth lives by a way of a single open mind. Minds can close as easily as chapel doors.

And there is the problem of attendance cheating. Last semester many students turned in slips for others who were absent. Solution to this might be to have members of the faculty, or staff, serve as doorkeepers. Of course, this might bring a better answer to the entire problem would be modification and moderation of the present rules. It seems to us that someone important once said that moderation is the best of all things.

Perhaps the rules could be modified to require that every student attend at least one of the two religious classes the first week. Any student with his attendance at the Friday student chapel optional.

And then it becomes necessary to give a recalcitrant, narrow-minded student a grade made in church for unsatisfactory, uncooperative, and unwanted.

(We will welcome letters from faculty or students who would like to advance new views on the matter of compulsory chapel. Please limit your letter to around 200 words, or less. Letters must be signed.—Ed.)

Graham Speaks at Capital

POLITICIAN OR EVANGELIST?—Speaking from the steps of the National Capital building Sunday, famed evangelist Billy Graham stated that "If I would run for President of the United States today, an army of calling people back to God, back to church, back to the Bible, I'd be elected." Thousands of Washingtonians jammed around the capital steps to hear Graham preach. Many signed testimonial cards pledging their allegiance at church. President Truman evidently didn't accept a personal invitation to attend because he attended a piano recital instead.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Some of the childish actions that go around the campus of Whitworth College seem to be beyond all comprehension.

Many hours have been spent in the last two weeks making posters to advertise snow king and queen candidates. It is easier looking in find, five minutes after you put a poster up, that someone has taken it and destroyed the labor of many hours.

I am sure that people with any dignity who are college students and go around defacing things without reason are somewhere back in a stage of infancy.

Why don't these persons wake up and realize they are college students and act accordingly?

Sincerely,

Mary Ellen Bollinger.

Valentine Wish

by Ruth Hopkins

February 14th is the day
(No matter what the weather)
A happy day, a merry way
That two may share together.

For love is made of sunshine,
Of starched and of white clover
Give it hope and it will find Desires of a soul, yearning for

So send the wish upon your heart,
And soon enough you'll find
That Cupid's hung you with a dart
As a Valentine.
Friends Tell Engagement Of Strickland

"Because" played on the piano by Bob Kellner, announced the engagement of Wanda Strickland to Pfc. Robert Chase at cafeteria dinner Friday evening, Feb. 1. The announcement was made by Bill Tatum, former roommate of Bob, who is now stationed at San Francisc­o, Calif., with the Marine corps. Kellner then played "Through the Wildflowers.

Miss Strickland is a junior sociology major from Woodland, Wash. Her activities include WAA, Modern Language club, ski club, 1951 May day princess, and dorm social chairman.

Check attended Whitworth for two years as a business administration major before entering the Marine corps. His home is in Vancouver. Whitworth activities included ski club, member of Inter­collegiate Singers, chairman of homecoming parade, and concert master of orchestra.

The engagement announcement came prematurely, according to Mrs. Strickland, because she was unable to remove the ring from her finger. Check revisited Whitworth re­cently between seminars when he flew to Spokane from San Francisc­o.

Faculty Sets Dinner Feb. 11

Faculty members, staff members and their families will gather for a faculty diner to be held at the Whitworth Community Presbyterian church, Feb. 11, at 6:30, Mrs. Alfred O'Bryant, chairman of the af­fair, has announced.

The dinner is to be pot luck with co-chairman Mrs. Floyd Chap­man taking charge of that part of the evening. Mrs. Gray and Mr. Fenton Duval is to be mas­ter of ceremonies for a program following the food. Rev. A. V. Carr and his guitar will lead the com­munity sing. Musical numbers there will be given by a male quartet and a saxophone solo to be played by Mrs. Dayne Nix.

"One of the outstanding fea­tures of the evening will be an interview hour," said Aleyse Ches­ka, chairman of the program com­mittee.

Heritage Goes Home; Shows Improvement

While Miss Heritage is now home where she is recovering from a recent stomach operation at the Decatur hospital.

While Miss Heritage's recovery is satisfactory, it is not known when she will return to campus. "She wants to express her ap­preciation for the many messages and greetings that pours in upon her on her birthday last Monday," Mrs. Anna Gerel, head of the residence department.

Root, Wright Repeat Wows In Hoquiam Nuptials, Feb. 7

Hoquiam, Wash., was the scene Thursday night, Feb. 7, of the normal wedding of former Whi­worthian, Kathryn Ruhl, Ho­quist, and Olile Wright, Zion, Ill. Maid of honor was Ann Harold. Lloyd Plermo was best man.

Wright has been stationed with the army at Camp Roberts, Calif., and was picked by sealers to go to school before being shipped to the Korean front. He will soon re­ceive a commission in the service.

At Whitworth Wright lettered in football and track and was a member of the "W" club.

The bride was a member of a capella choir, dorm secretary, AWS publicity chairman, and junior class secretary.

Whitworth students attending the wedding were Miss Harold, Marianne Kelly, Kenny Warren, and Cindi Buxton; and Massey was soloist at the ceremony.

Coed Is Recovering From Knee Surgery

Freshman Cathy Weber recently underwent an operation at St. Luke's hospital for the removal of a piece of cartilage in her knee.

During the last three months, Miss Weber will be recuperating in her home at Five-Mile Prairie from this injury, which began while she was practicing with the Whitworth dance team.

Pirates Head Into Crucial Week
With Win Needed Over Central
Games Set for Feb. 8-9; To Meet WSC-Monday

A rejuvenated band of Whitworth Pirates go into one of their most "crucial" weekends of the season, riding the crest of a five-game conference win streak. A pair of victories this weekend, coupled with a pair of defeats for Central Washington, would vault the Bucs into a tie for first place in the Evergreen league.

Coach McGregor appears satisfied with his starting line-up of Roy Beach and stumpy Ed Kretz at guards, Bill Freeman and "Bones" Doherty at forwards, and genial Ralph Polson at center.

The league-leading Wildcats of Central Washington are all alone so far on top of the league with a seven-game win streak to their credit. Whitworth lost narrowly to Central in an overtime period earlier in the season. However since that time Whitworth has greatly improved as a team and Kretz are setting up plays that spark the Buc attack.

Monday night Whitworth and WSC tangle in a game at the Spe- cimen armory. The Pirates defeated WSC earlier in one of the biggest upsets in program play. Both the Bucs and the Cougars have improved since that time and Monday's contest should be a real crowd pleaser.

Leading the Cougar attack are Pete Mullins, George Rosser, and Eric Robert.

ATTEND YOUR SNOW FROLIC, TUESDAY, FEB. 12
Tragic Accident Ends College's Snow Frolic

Tragedy struck in the midst of the annual Snow Frolic at Post Falls, Idaho last Tuesday. Diane Jeffrey, injured in a tobogganing accident, was reported in a critical condition 24 hours after the accident by attending physicians. Doctors reported Miss Jeffrey received a broken thigh bone, concussion, and required several blood transfusions. She is in Deaconess hospital.

The accident happened as the little group on which she was riding went out of control and crashed into the ski lift tower. Three other students fell off after the tragedy occurred. Laura Kilmer, a senior, also injured her fingers, whereas the latter was treated for head lacerations and released from the hospital.

Private cars and buses transported the students to the急性grocery store.

The group left the school at 9:30 a.m. and started back at 4 p.m. Highlight of the afternoon was a ski race sponsored by the ski club. First place honors for the men went to Cowley with Bill Lovdock and Don King tied for second place. Lois Spawin took first place for women with Glenna James and Mary Rise following in that order.

Taft Underlines Importance of Nation's Foreign Policy

In a brief campaign speech at the college's chapel, Senator Robert Taft stressed the importance of our foreign policy and the active support of our American system of liberty.

"The only thing that can destroy the United States is trying to do more than we can do," Senator Taft declared, "and for very good." Taft added that the United States can't go on spending $5 billion dollars or 30 per cent of our income for defense alone when the fight against communism may take 25 years. These statements were made at the necessity to prove that on our point of defense is the development of strong naval and air power plan, a token ground army. Taft also cited the increased interest in politics and government shown by college students. He pointed out that this probably was due to the fact that when many young men were exposed to other systems and none house more adequate of our system.

In 1890, a small church in Sum­

In 1890, the present day Whit­worth, in Spokane, enrolled over 1,000 students, and the facilities of 17 buildings on the 10-acre campus were in use.

The campus offered in the late 1800s, at Sumner academy, later named Whitworth college, included Bible, art, music, science, and philosophy. The life on campus was restricted and carefully dis­

Seniors Set Folk Dances For Feb. 29

"Sing your partner" will set the tempo for the allcollege square dance slated for Friday, Feb. 29.

Bob Liddonera will call the dance at the Wagon Wheel from 5 p.m. to midnight. Jeanne Launon, general chairman, revealed.

"The extra-day of the year affair has been dubbed Sadie Hawkins Night.

"Even though it's called Sadie Hawkins, women are not to seek for males," Mrs. Liddonera explained. "It's a boy-meets-girl social with tags permitted ."

Transportation and refreshments are included in the $2.50 charge. Tickets will be sold in the gym paper Feb. 24 to 25.

Seniors will be selling tickets individually starting next week. Each member of the senior class which is promoting the event is requested to sell these tickets. "Seniors will receive their tickets to sell through their past officers band the week end," Mrs. Liddonera said.

Musicale at 8:15 p.m. which are tentatively set as coffee and hot dogs will be Alpha Beta Beta. Business club plans to sell other conections. "Frolic" Knight's is in charge of the program for the fiesta.

Planning Sadie Hawkins Night with Mrs. Liddonera are Jenny Ker­

Dear Editor:

Very good editorial; however, it leaves me a bit confused as to the precise meaning. It seems to me in stead of an “I,” if chapel attendance must be compulsory and graded (both of which I would seriously question), then we care whether failure to comply receives one letter in preference over another.

When I notice the varied activities which are carried on during the address by the chapel speaker, whether or not faithful attenders are there to listen to the speaker or to chat, knit, read mail, and finish assignments which should have been done the night before.

Perhaps I am in my desire to associate chapel with any other worship service, but I am inclined to wonder what people would think of a Whitworth student who perticipated in canine and above mentioned activities during a church service.

Sincerely,

Barb Schiebling.

Is Taft Legislative Candidate?

An extraordinarily ordinary appearing man, who made a very ordinary speech in chapel Monday is seeking an extraordinary high office. Does it add?

It might.

Senator Robert Taft has some unique qualifications in his unimpressive exterior. He is initially qualified by the fact that he is a distinguished member of a disgusted family—the presidency would not awe or impress him. He is a member of the Republican

Senate make him thoroughly familiar with problems facing the

The senator is further qualified by his rare political

A scholar of exceptional ability, Taft is reported as having been a child prodigy in Mathematics. He graduated from Yale, 1916, and Harvard law school, 1913, at the head of both of his classes. And in 1912 he passed the Ohio state bar examinations with the highest marks on record.

Close-up Taft does not appear to be the dogmatic reactionary that his foes have pictured him.
In his presence he has been carefully qualified his statement “It seems to me,” and “I believe.” But his talk did have an unexpected “Me, too,” ring. Still: this in itself may be a recommendation for him. It indicates adaptability and that he recognizes the values of some of the changes the years, and the Democratic party, have brought.

Not generally recognized is the fact that campaigning Taft has vote-getting power second not even to Truman. In the fiercely contested 1950 elections in highly industrialized Ohio, Tuft’s hopes were rated as improbable as Truman’s “impossible” 1948 chances. But the never-say-die “Mr. Republican” steamed-rolled his oppo-

Stevens Makes Headlines

By Ruth Higgins

Future First Flossie Jones Stevens the year who year’s world figures, this year helped to make them.

The former executive editor of The Whitworthian is among the thirty-three seniors who last November were nominated for current national Who’s Who in American colleges and universities.

On the day before the Who’s Who was received Flossie had surprised Westminster Whitsunday with the announcement of her engagement to Whitfield Stevens. The wedding was to be held.

Stevens, twice a veteran of army service, also a Whitworth student, is a sophomore who would have been a junior had the war not recalled him for a year of active duty in the Philippines and Far East. A workman, Stylistic Steve-s Stevens also has other talents. He played the Whittier lead in last fall’s homecoming play. Just before this Christmas vacation Flossie decided her family should meet her parents—only a zero mile away at Phoenix, Ariz. At balmy Phoenix, the Whitsunday copperhead was probably as close as April for wed-

"My brother elapsed last year, but I gave mother three days’ no-time, at least," Flossie implored.

After the wedding the new Mr. and Mrs. Stevens decided to go to Los Angeles for their honeymoon.

Just to be congenial they toiled with three other Whitworth students, Connie Jo Hill, Victor, David, and Wally Oystead.

They have never kept complete in the dark about their new wife.

Although she was born in the Arizona capital Mrs. Stevens lived for four years at Anchorage, Alaska, where her family moved in 1930. When that family moved to Fort Collins, Colo. From there, in 1932, they moved back to the PNW.

Besides editing the paper, other activities which Mrs. Stevens has included member of Piiretes Whitsunday, student home-

aries; member student council; delegate to Junior Red Cross convention at Cleveland; 1950 delegate to National Presbyterian youth convocation at Oklah;

Whitworthian society editor 1949-50, and news editor 1951.

And of course, last but most important, the title of Mrs. Winfield Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are the parents of two children, and the two were raised in Arizona.

Who Would Like To Make Guide to 150,000 Species?

by Carol Thompson

Would anybody like to arrange 150,000 species of plants, phyletically? Not only is there a man who would like to, but one who has done just that!

Dr. Homer Alder, professor of biology, has just recently finished his guide to the spring flowers of the region, for his thesis, entitled, "A Guide to the Spring Flowers of the Spokane Area." Most of the key was written during Christmas vacation.

The reasons for five years of collecting data on the spring flowers are simple, Dr. Alder explained, "There are not keys available for this region at the present time. My key for the spring flowers is much simpler than one for all the flora, because it pertains just to the species of plants in the Spokane region."

"Another reason," Dr. Alder added with a grin, "is just that I've wanted to do this for a long time."

Dr. Alder's key describes 223 species of angiosperms, 13 species of gymnosperms, and nine species of ferns. The key is to the family, genera, and species of the plant. (To translate, find the nearest dictionary!) A glossary of about 200 terms is also included in the guide.

Besides research for his key, Dr. Alder has also been doing willow research. His masters degree in plant taxonomy, and doctors minor in plant ecology has given him excellent qualifications for his plant research.

By the way, phylogenetically merely means, well, you can find it in a dictionary, too.

State Patrol Cautions On February Driving

Winter is still not over, the Washington State patrol warned Whitworth commuter-drivers in a release this week.

"These late-winter freezes", Chief James A. Pryde said, "can be more deadly than those of December and January. The driver's tendency in mid-February is to drop his caution in a slight extent in the belief that the worst is over. This is a mistake that can be deadly."

As result of relaxed alertness among drivers, Chief Pryde said that an increase in traffic accidents can be expected during the next few weeks. A total of 1,047 persons were injured in traffic accidents in Washington last February.

First Covenant church in Spokane, decorated with bouquets of spring flowers, was setting for the marriage of Marjorie Christiansen, Turner Whitworth student, and Gene Hays Jr., Feb. 22, 1952.

The bride, given away by her father, Mr. Fred Christiansen of Spokane, wore a gown of flowing white lace. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Attendants were sisters of the bride, Joyce and Dorothy, and Miss Pat Watson. The groom was at tained by his brother, Gall Hays.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church, punch, coffee and cake were served.

The couple will spend their honeymoon on the coast, following which they will make their home in Spokane.

Both Hays and his wife are from Spokane and were graduated from Rogers high school.

Whitworth's treatants at the wedding included Eva Parker, Genna Landrecht and Mrs. Ed Stirm.

The Rev. Douglas C. Frederic, pastor of First Covenant church, officiated at the ceremonies. An estimated 200 guests attended the wedding.

Double Header Tonight

Whitworth Junior varsity and Men's team will play in a double header basketball class scheduled for tonight in Graves gymnasium.

The Men's varsity will play an exhibition with the city's Yellow Cab team at 7:30 when the Whit coeds have never beaten.

Rain Tague's Junior varsity will play a Fairchild Air base team at 8:30.

A collection will be taken for the Women's varsity and the Junior varsity fund.

Whit Jayvees Drop
North Idaho Cagers

Whitworth Junior varsity pulled ahead in the second half of their preliminary game at the Spokane armory Wednesday evening to defeat Northern Idaho junior college by a 57-40 score.

Sam Tague's J. V. Hus. were led by veteran Del King who pulled out eight field goals and four out of five free throws to gather in 20 points.

In the women's game, the Pirates were led by Susan Polson, who scored 10 points in her last three outings.

Ed Keatz and Ray Beach have even given the Pirates added strength by hitting the long ones from 20 to 30 feet out.

McGregor will undoubtedly start these three along with forwards
Bill Freeman and Jim Doherty.

The conclusion of the season after this series will leave one conference game with Pacific Luth-earn to be played here.

Celtics Lead In Intermurals

Washington Celts took a 14-point margin over Whitworth's
A team to make their grip on the league championship even tighter.

Other winners were Novano, Town team and Circle K house.

Walt Arthur issued in 21 mark-sters for Washington to help them take a 49-37 win over Whitworth
A.

Worst shelling of the day was administered by Novano hall to Whitworth's B team since 24:50.

Both Bob Martin and Pete Benet did well in the scoring with 11 points each.

Circle K and Goodsell fought hard for the lead in the clos-scoring 48-46 win for Circle K. Ken Ramsdell was high man for the day and for this game with 38 in the books.

Lancaster made the way easy

Bucs Stop CPS 69-55;
Overrun Central 86-56

Whitworth on a victory trail ran over the hapless Loggers of Puget Sound 69-55 in Graves Gym last Friday night.

Ralph Polson, who never seems to have an off night came through with his usual performance with 29 points, sweeping both offendive and defensive boards.

Rutkies are often seen in sports but one was shown in this game by all the Loggers fouling out leave-ing three players to cope with the Whitworth's attack. Of the three players left, two of these had four fouls.

Now making in first place tie in the Evergreen conference the Whitworth's Pirates poured the pressure and points on Central Washington to dump them 86-56 before an overflow crowd of 1,500 here last Saturday night.

Ralph Polson who played only 26 minutes, dunked in another 30 points to take scoring honors. The second string played the final four minutes of the third quarter and all the fourth quarter, increasing the 33-point edge given them by the regulares to a final 20-point margin.

Central's big man Al Wodekin, Ken Teller and Wally Loe, injured their two baskets between them. The Whittacks were hampered greatly by the loss of men via (the) foul route early in the game.

by Dave Straw

No that the Pirates have eli-miming their drive to the top of the Evergreen league, it might be well to consider some of the more obvious reasons for their improve-mant.

One of the most vital reasons has been the development of the second plaie by Coach McGregor.
Handicapped at the season's start by using several men who uli-mately quit school or the team, McGregor has had to bring the second squad along in conference games. Their present ability was witnessed in the Central game when they overcame the visitors, who are tied with the Bucs for first place.

The guard combo of Ed Keatz and Ray Beach has developed into an excellent set of playmakers.

The ability of Keatz in picking up gots the Bucs someone who can take the pressure off the big men under the backboards.

One that Polson continues to prove his value every game after as he leads the White. Ralph never fails to gain his share of the points and is invaluable on the defensive side, notably for his backboard work. His generosity at all times despite continued
"roughing and holding" under the boards never ceases to amaze this writer.

Waltz Tells Religious Play Leads
Leads for "St. Claudia," a three-act religious drama by Donald Gould, will be Welden Perry, Patsy Doyle and Beverly Mansfield, members of Mary of Magdala, a fellow of Christ, Prof. Loyd Watzl, director, has announced.
The part of Claudia, Mary of Magdala and Miriam have been double cast. The actresses will each perform in three of the six public drama classes.

Completing the cast are Cliff Trim, Gorgan, Pilate's chief counselor; George Wheeler, Mac; Chuck Rosenw, Barbanaw; Larry Clark, Sinna; David Gallager, Eleazer; Chuck Odor, Shimon, Tong Gates, Lamen. Others are Bill Talum, Judas Iscariet; Marilyn Abishalus, Beulah; Joyce Miskalek, Mirkina, Eleazar David and Carole Ann Slouey, Miriam; Rion McKee and Andy Anschul, Claudia's two maids.

"St. Claudia" centers about Claudia, Pilate's wife, being troubled by dreams and her attempts to go to Jerusalem to change his verdict on Jesus' guilt.

This play is a project of the religious drama class.

Council Stops W S S Fund
Sponsoring of the World Student Service Fund at Whitworth this year has been stopped by the council in their meeting Feb. 19, according to C. Neil Schupmann, president of the student body.

Bill McCullough, designated chairman of the WSS fund, inveigled the possibilities of giving aid to the winners of the Christian organizations.

"Student council voted to reject the ramblings from the WSS fund's money to go directly to its objectives, and in part of many channels through WSSF would not necessarily accord to any Catholic, Protestant, or Jewish organization as they deemed necessary.

"This action does not mean that we are given only to Christian glibness but that we want to sponsor a more definite program," Bill stressed.

SUB Fund Head Declares Campaign To Be Intensified
An intensified fund raising drive has been announced by Ronald Carr, chairman of the projects function.

"An appeal will be made to all students to send out more SUB fund letters to all possible constituencies.\n Gilbert Carlow, fund raising chairman, includes next week's Alumni-undergraduate SUB benefit party, a "Wonton's Night," in a cappella choir concert in Spokane, a "Patio Party" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis. I believe sincerely the prospects for building the SUB in the near future are excellent," Prof. Carr declared. "What we need right now is student action. We students have a tremendous influence among our friends. Let's use it."

The SUB fund balance this week revealed as totaling $13,500.99, including the student fee appropriation for the current year. The drive began in the later part of 1949. Since then $16,304.45 has been raised. Architect's fees of $4,290.55 and promotional expenses have accumulated $6,164.48 to this total.

Penton Dorell, Professor of French and directing the intermission was the "Cost Bucket Pour." They sang 3 numbers and helped to introduce "W" club's forthcoming "Mr. Ugly" contest.

"I would like to thank all of the on-campus and off-campus groups who took part in the "W" club musical," Weldon Ferris, chairman, said. "I also would like to thank the judges, who did a fine job in selecting the winning dorm. The competition was very keen with all dorms and clubs doing an expert job."

Group Plans Spiritual Days
A cappella choir, student chorus, men's chorus and the women's quartet will furnish the featured music during Spiritual Advancement days scheduled for March 5 to 10, the music planning committee has revealed.

These groups, except for the quartet, will appear during the evening meetings and the quartet and solo members will be presented during the evening gatherings.

SUB Benefit Slates Weird Skit Themes In Dramatic Revues
"Faculty Fiobles," "Granulated Graduates" and "Supersonic Saga" are the respective themes chosen for dramatic revues to be presented by faculty, alumni, and students at the alumni-endorsed SUB benefit production scheduled for next week.

The show will be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening, March 1, beginning at 8.

Tickets are priced at 75 cents according to Dick Hardisty, executive secretary for the alumni committee.

During this week the student group have been purchasing tickets at the public relations office in Ballard basement, from faculty members, in the student office in Perkins, and will go on sale in the gym foyer.

Entertainment for this evening will be centered around a view of Whitworth's past, present and future. The faculty will portray students of a gay nineties, complete with bowler hats, Mother Hubbards, and tandem bicycles.

General auditions

The alumni will illustrate the trials and problems of a present day graduate in search of a position as Whitworth's male quartet will be featured in the lead role of the "Supersonic Saga." Equipped with standard awaited bands the four will show life on Whitworth's campus in the twenty-fifth century, amid a setting of cosmic cunning and interplanetary surrealism.

Wing Captures Trophy In 'W' Club's Musicale
Westminster Wing, using pastel formed by a modern song and a modernistic dance, walked away with first place and the trophy at last Saturday's musical competition, "Spring Fantasy.

Judges awarded the music group, second, Washington, third, Ballard, fourth.
The original song in Westminster Wing's program was a "Spring Fantasy" written by Allen Brown. Chris Issman-Kazo did the modernistic dance and the women of the dorm formed a background dressed in formal attire.

Nice trip was taken in the show including all the campus dramas except Lancaster and Goodnight. The nurses and queen wing club also took part. Circle K was counted for the expenditures of the music planning committee has revealed.

Close to 450 persons attended the production and $30 was taken in to go into "W" club's fund to light the tennis courts. Prof. Floyd Chapman and Dr. Therem Maxwell were judges. Miss Marion Jenkins, who was announce of early, was a judge, could not be present because of sickness. Her place was taken by Prof. B.

On Friday Wesley Gustafson, missions secretary for Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship will speak.

Wheatworth Heads University Before Establishing College
by Carol Thompson
George F. O. Whitworth, founder of Whitworth College, and one-time president of the University of Washington in the Washington territory.

"Come From England"
Whitworth's family emigrated from England in the early 18th century, when she was 12 years old, and settled in Maine. In 1838, after three years later, Prentiss' family went to England leaving the boy to shift for himself.

Some instruction in English and American history in his own school gave him enough background for his formal training. After his marriage to Elizabeth Thompson, he studied law, and later taught, practiced law and was elected prosecuting attorney of Dayton. In 1848 he entered New Albany "Theological" seminary and was ordained to the ministry in 1852.

Even at an early age Whitworth was thrilled by the Northwest, and he lectured to his surrounding neighbors enquiring them of the Whitworth name from the Northwest. In May 1853, his wife, children, and some fifty families started for Puget Sound.

In that early Northwest Whitworth's life was not an easy one. Again preaching and education. The roads and crossings made the work of an Indian agent did not stop the determined man from riding over Indian tattooed factions to his frightened flock in the Whitworth territory.

"Heads University"
Preston Dorell, Professor of French and directing the intermission was the "Cost Bucket Pour." They sang 3 numbers and helped to introduce "W" club's forthcoming "Mr. Ugly" contest.

Class Slates Concert: NBC Star Will Sing
Last Jazz Band, and the Whitworth community drawn together by parking lot ticket. Miss Cummings was featured soloist for these seasons at Radio City Music hall and will appear on the Telephone Hour Monday, Feb. 25.

"We would like to have everyone hear her because then they will realize the excellent opportunity that will be the last jazz concert in Spokane," Miss Waddell stressed.

Final signing of the contract is expected next week at which time the date will be announced.

Seniors Bid All College To Festival
"Open to all students" is the label placed on the senior-sponsored all college and square dance according to Jeanne McPhee, festival chairman. The affair will take place at the Western Union Building.

A 75 cents charge is being made for tickets. The chairman explained that there would be $40 hall rental and square dance fee, plus the hiring of a dance caller, plus the refusal of refreshments.

Seniors will be selling tickets individually starting next week. Each member of the alumni club is expected to sell three tickets. Tickets will also be for sale in the gym foyer Monday through Friday.

Coffee and hot dogs are tentatively planned for refreshment, Alpha Beta, home economics club is working with the Business club plans to sell other concessions.

Floyd Odor, W-club chairman of the senior plans for dramatic revues to be presented by faculty, alumni, and students at the alumni-endorsed SUB benefit production scheduled for next week.

He Came Out of Darkness

No news story of recent weeks has more appeal than a Tuesday AP story from Houston, Texas. It is an account of a nameless negro giant who came mysteriously out of the night to rescue an unconscious woman trapped in the crumbling walls of a sandbagging truck.

The story is the rare kind that casts a warming almost mystic light across this murky world.

A crowd of deputy sheriffs, truckers, and a wrecker had gathered about the telescoped cab of the wrecked truck. But the men couldn't bend the crushed metal with cables. A call out went for cutting torches.

The giant negro appeared.

"Can I be of help?" he asked.

"Then he walked up to a warped door and with a Samson-like surge of strength tore it off. Squeezing into the cab he planted both feet on the floor and his neck and shoulders against the top.

"You could hear the metal give," an observer related, "the top bowed out, the seat buckled down and the dash broke under the pressure." The shirt sleeves of the giant ripped as his muscles bulged in the effort.

When he stepped down, the released, still unconscious woman was in the arms of waiting and astonished deputy sheriffs. But before any one could think to ask his name the negro had walked off into the night.

"Let not thy right hand know . . .

Benediction Pleases Many

Wonder why more ministers who speak in chapel don't close their talk with a benediction?

The first Monday must have seemed brighter and God closer because a quiet-spoken Lutheran minister repeated the beautiful old verse as old as Moses.

"The Lord bless thee, and... turn your countenance to thee, and give thee peace."

Gallup Thinks Taft Fading

TAFT'S CHANCES SLIM—According to results drawn from recent Gallup polls the Republicans cannot win with Taft. Gallup is known as the positive prophet of Dewey's sure election in 1948. One Gallup poll placed Taft at 41 per cent of the county's voters but had the Demo- cratic party beat, 22 per cent the Republican. Eighteen per cent could see neither one, and there were about 18 per cent of independent voters in the US. Which of the possible GOP candidates has the most appeal to independents? According to Gallup's sampling Eisenhower holds their indirect preference of 42 per cent, with Taft barely in the race with 16 per cent, Warren with 14.

ANOTHER ATOMIC SUB—The atomic energy commission yesterday ordered construction of a second steam-powered submarine. It said this would be one of a design which may be easier to build and oper­ ate than the one already under construction. An AEC announcement said the General Electric company has been authorized to start construction at its West Milton, N.Y., laboratory of a fast-atom which will be used in the preparation of plutonium.

ALUMINUM FABRICATORS FACE CRISIS—More than a dozen aluminum fabricators in the Spokane area are facing shutdowns and even business failure because they can't get enough metal to continue operating. A virtual stampede demands has caused shutdown in spite of the fact that the two big local Kaiser plants make Spokane one of the aluminum capitals of the world.

QUINN STRIKED—A solid, five-pound ball of processed opium, worth $100,000 in the dope trade, was seized from Stephen Boulos, 37, a Syrian passenger, as he disembarked from the Liner Vratislaus. He was arrested.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

"Unsatisfactory, uncooperative and uncensored" is an appropriate designation for the grade of "U" for chapel truancy. Some offend­ ers seem to think that the "U" pro­ viously given is a reward for "forti­ tude."

I am opposed to the institution of compulsory chapel because coer­ cion in matters of faith is un­ scholarly and unmotivating and con­ ventionally incorrect. However, it has taught me that the most promising solutions provide the greatest intellectual and spiritual stimulation.

A good student (referring to myself not necessarily to the world) can distinguish a proof of falsity, certainly to refuse to attend chapel merely because it is compulsory, childish stubbornness and hurts the individual more than the speaker or administration.

On the other side of the ques­ tion, I feel that the appeal and effectiveness of the chapel program would be increased if:

1. The name was changed to convocation to be more in keep­ ing with the combination of social, political, religious, and spiritual emphasis of the speakers.
2. Musical features were pre­ sented at every session; selected by the individual performer or a personal rather than departmental contribution.

3. The institution of compulsory chapel was abandoned in favor of a voluntary program of spiritual revival in all departments of col­ lege life.

Sincerely,
Robert H. Leep.

Dear Editor:

Congratulations on your recent consistent publication of the annual "Hansen Cadet Takes PE".

Perhaps we need a revaluation of the principles under which we work here.

Have we, at Whitworth, so little faith in the power of Christ that we find it necessary to use force to compel people to come to Him? Men 2,000 yrs ago listened to Him because He talked to them (not at them), helped them solve their problems, offered them rest, and they were threatened with academic annihilation, an F in Chapel attend­ ance.

Since we feel it important to urge our respondents in many ways, perhaps we could include a few of the principles of teaching in our chapel periods. A point we should consider is that those in the chapel are not attending, and not how to persuade people who fail to do the bidding of those in local au­ thority.

Sincerely,
John W. Whipple.

Eleven Year Old Encounters Problems With Cow In 'Back to Earth Movement' by Fred Ridmore

I had reached the tender age of 11 years when my father suddenly decided on his "Back to the earth movement." We left our city home and moved to a farm, which con­ sisted of a few acres of land in a sub­ division.

Mother decided that the first thing we needed was a cow. Much early in my hortense I was appointed chief feeder, taker to pasture, and was charged with the goal of animal addition to our barnyard.

Dad pondered a minute over a name for my animal, and then came up with a gem of originality, "Daisy." I was aghast and the chanting was history. I then settled into the daily routine of caring for Daisy, Much to my sorrow, Daisy proved to be an early riser. She was hungry upon awakening, and did not hesitate to let the whole world know it.

Many a morning I awoke to hear "sweet, "melodious" mooes which I often likened to blasts of the Queen Mary's music. Ob­ viously tempted to leave Daisy neglected and hungry in the field, hope that she might starve to death.

However a few curious sounds from the direction of my father's bedroom would convince me not to. I should accept the challenge of the new day and Daisy's gentle .I would then stagger through the darkness to the barn, moisturizing curbs about cold, dark mornings, and hungry cows.

Our first "bounty" was a crown 4000 which I would lead the "queen" from "her" castle and join hur to the small meadow where she could romp upon the green, grass and pastures. Daisy proved rather play­ ful at first and would indulge in some attacks upon my posteriors while I was leading her to pasture. However, I soon cured her of this habit with a few not too gen­ tle prods with the heels. Since I was no longer afraid to poke the wretched beast and mak­ ing the occasional attack upon your my posterior, I was lead to the conclusion that she might starve to death.

Moore Tells Engagement To Professor

Betty Faith Moore and Roy W. Snyder, professor of bacteriology at Whitworth, announced their engagement Friday evening, Feb. 15, by posting their traditional box of chocolates to women of Westminister Hall.

Miss Moore, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Moore of Ontario, Calif., has a degree in nursing from the University of Southern California and is working toward a master's degree in nursing education at Whitworth this year.

Before coming to Whitworth she worked in the emergency room at Huntington Memorial Hospital in Pasadena, Calif., for two years.

Snyder, originally from Pennsylvania, now from Los Angeles, has a B.S. degree from Penn State and an M.S. from the University of Southern California.

The couple met three years ago at the Methodist church at Southern California, when they were both attending college there.

In 1949 Snyder went to Para, where he was principal of the school in Sorbonne and the Pauetre Institute. After completing his education work in California, he taught at San Bernardino Valley Junior College for a year and joined the science department at Whitworth.

Miss Moore works as lab assistant to Snyder, and is chairman of the newly formed sorority club.

The wedding will take place this summer at the bride's home church, Upland Presbyterian, in California.

Nuptial Vows are planned for this summer by Betty Moore and Prof. Roy W. Snyder. Announcement of their engagement was made Saturday, Feb. 15. (Photo by Bob Goodell.)

Retreat Speaker Explains 'Christ Enables To Do All'

That Christ enables us to do all things because He loves us, although we are of ourselves not able was stressed by Mrs. Carroll Helm, speaker at the Life Service retreat last Saturday, Feb. 16, at Emmanuel Presbyterian church.

Betsy women who Mrs. Helm, lay woman from Yakima, developed the theme "Are Ye Able?" in two addresses.

Speaking of our inability to hear and to respond, Mrs. Helm said, "Knowing our helplessness God has provided us with the Holy Spirit."

"Don't be afraid of the infilling of the Holy Spirit. The greatest power in the world today is not the natural wonder of Niagara Falls but the power of the Holy Spirit."

"Christ's call is not for mighty leaders but for those who will be His handmaids. He must be able to dictate in His own time and according to His own plan," she stated.

Qualifications of the "sent" life listed by Mrs. Helm are such as it is, even,.govt and success, as measured by a spiritual scale, not lazy but willing to work at any time and place, and that it will persevere without-by action and word.

"We must fight apathy by regular Bible study, prayer and witnessing; we must learn to change circumstances by way of the Throne."

"We must be in earnest and honest with God, handing over our lives and for all, and forsaking the unworthy thought life; we must know the Holy Ghost is our Helper and through a nobody."

Youth Encounters Problems In 'Back to Earth Movement'

Pirrettes To Dine At Breakfast

Pirates, women's activities honorary, will breakfast at the Clinton Arms in Spokane Sunday morning, Feb. 24 at 9, according to Betty Lou Schmajeit, president.

The menu will be scrambled eggs, little pig sausages, hot biscuits, and fruit juice.

Following the breakfast the group will attend church services together at First Covenant church.

Daisy Schroeder, waitress for the arrangements for the breakfast, which is an annual event. Assisting is Glennie James, transportation.

Contest Winner Enters Daughter

Daughter like father may be the case of Pamela Kay Moore, sic, daughter of Kenneth E. Moore, a Whitworth scanner, who was entered in the Baby Spokane contest last summer who won the same contest back in 1920.

"Pam" has a striking resemblance to her father who won the first Baby Spokane contest ever given," according to a story in the Spokane Chronicle.

Moore, now a cadet teacher at Lewis and Clark high school, is a very pretty junior major at Whitworth.

Born and reared in Spokane Moore spent three years in both European and Asiatic theaters during World War II.

Pirate Cagers Defeat UBC, Western, Lags

Whit cagers, at the top of the Evergreen conference standings ride the victory trail; rough this week beating Columbia-British Columbia, Western, and their arch rivals, Gonzaga.

The Pirates began their week's victories by dropping UBC at Vancouver, Canada, 94-80.

Ralph Polson, who scored 11 points in 7 minutes an hook shots from either hand wound up with 17 for the evening.

The PIRATES cut on top of a 40-27 lead at intermission and never in any serious danger as the reserves continued to play and rest the starters.

Clinton McLeod, of the Thunderbirds turned in a stellar performance with 11 points to lead his team.

This win gave the Pirates five straight victories in league play to take over undisputed first place.

The next night the Iris counted over Western Washington 54-49 at Bellingham.

The Pirates rang up a 109-9 lead and the reserves finished the final half of the game scoring 22-23, the Pirates leading.

Early in the third quarter the Jaycees to Play Heavy Schedule

The weekend will be a busy one for Coach Sam Tague and his Jaycees Burs with home games Friday, Saturday, and Monday.

Friday will see Island Air pilot try to break the win streak, this day Beardown team and Monday 4thrend Supply squadron will be the new gunners.

The Burs brought their win streak to nine games against Matheny and Barun Wreckers on the Whitworth floor. Monday night score was 78-48 at the final horn.

High-Scorer Doherty Goes Long Way as Pirate Star

by Jerry Strut

For a basketball player who began last year as a substitute on the Pirate team, Jim Doherty has traveled a long way since joining the squad. He was a 6 foot inch forward slugged in a stag game for the University of Washington and was given the go-ahead to play.

In addition to this new accomplishment "Bones" held the Whitworth all-time record for field goals, 87, and was last year named as a forward on All-Ontario team.

Jim ranks second in scoring in the entire Northwest, headed only by Seattle university's all-time basketball great, Johnny O'Brien.

The trend from Whitworth to Dorotha, Miss., is constantly an aggressive and alert ball player. He is considered "Nitty Gritty" by rival teams for his speedy, uncanny knack for snatching the ball from the hands of his opponents and driving for the enemy basket for a lay-up.

The shooting accuracy of this sharp-shooter is wonderful. A 22-pourer sharpshooter makes him a dangerous man whenever he has the ball.

Recently, Jim joined the ranks of the married men on the team with his marriage to the former Sally Evans, editor of last year's yearbook.

Only a junior this year, the free-throwing Doherty is expected to surpass even the amazing feats already performed during three year scoring record of Carl Morlock (136 points) is already becoming a bit unsavory. There is certainly more to be heard of Jim Doherty at Whitworth, much more.

Washington Leads League: As Intramural Games End

Intramural basketball concluded their schedule Saturday with the teams arranged first to last in the following manner: Washington, Gonzaga, "A" Team, UBC, Whitworth, "B" and "F" teams.

Washington's "A" team defeated Gonzaga's "B" team 83-77, a five-loss game to tie the Southern College with two wins and five losses to tie for second place.

UBC's win gave the Pirates third place in the league.

WAA Sets Tourney For Coming Weeks

WAA international basketball begins next Tuesday night and will be played Tuesday and Thursday night for two weeks. Miss Alice Cheekson, Women's athletics director, has announced.

Entries will be 75 groups and a total of 1500 players.

A couple will be awarded first place plaques to the league to the second place team.

Last year's runner and runners-up were married women's team and Ballard respectively.

Whits, PLC Tangle For Conference Title

Basketball title of the Evergreen conference will be decided tonight when the league leading Whitworth Pirates and second place PLC meet on the Pirates' home court.

The Improved Pirates Ralph Polson, the second and third leading scorers in the northwest respectively, are favored to beat the Lutes. The Lutheran team won the last time by coming from behind at half to lose to the Pirates 54-45 two months ago.

Janet's Tonight's Win

A win could give the Whits a clean cut claim to the title where a defeat would send Frat into a tie for the league lead.

Tomorrow night the McGregor.

Senior Class Sponsors Cummings in Concert

Lucile Cummings, contralto, will be sponsored by the Senior class in a concert March 31 at 8 p.m. at the Central Methodist church, according to Al Winn, president of the senior class.

Miss Cummings who was heard over the Bell Telephone Hour this past Monday evening has appeared several times on this program as their guest star. Miss Cummings made her New York City debut in the featured role of Amneris in the New York City Opera company's production of "Aida."

For three consecutive seasons, totaling 67 weeks, she was the featured soloist at Radio City Music Hall, in their brilliant production of the "United Nations" and the internationally-known Christmas "Nutcracker" and "Glimpses of East-er" Pageant. An estimated audience of over 5,000,000 were present for each season.

Born in Clewilda, Ore., Miss Cummings started her first vocal

Whits To Vie In Forenrics

"The biggest forensic event of the year," is the way Prof. Chapman of the speech department characterizes this week-end's Pacific Coast debate tourney at McMinnville college, Linfield, Ore., in which Whitworth will participate. The event will include the entire 60 colleges and universities of the Pacific coast.

Leaving this Wednesday for the tourney are Dick Dreier, Bill Taturn, Duwane Aldaber, Weldon Perry, Nicolette Oehleber, Alan Zeir, Tom Fowler and H. W. Winstead. The group will stay at Presbyterian homes while there.

Events the Whitworths will enter include: debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu interview,售销术, after dinner speaking, and a cappella show.

The top two teams at Linfield will represent the Pacific coast at the national debate tourney in West Point military academy, West Point, N. Y., in April.

Weldon Perry, one of the Whitworths scheduled to attend the Linfield tourney, took first place at a similar competition held at Seattle university on Jan. 4 and 5.

Halverson Will Lead Spiritual Advancers

In Talks with 'Foundation for Faith' Theme

"Foundation for Faith" is the new title of a project that will be led by the Rev. Richard Halverson of Hollywood, California, March 5 to 22, it was announced by President and Senior Class President Ewell Winn, who informed the announcements.

The series of meetings, held annually on the Whitworth campus, will be on the Christian's theology of sin and its impact on the Christian life. The series of meetings will be held in the dining hall, Alaska auditorium, and the college auditorium.

Halverson, a former member of the California State University, received his bachelor's degree from the California State University and his master's degree from the University of California, Berkeley. He is a known speaker and writer and was at one time managing director of Forest Home Bible Conference in California.

Following his graduation from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1947, he served three years as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Hollywood, Calif., and for the past four and one-half years he has been at the Hollywood church. In 1948, Halverson spent two months in China under the Presbyterian Board to do evangelistic work among students in those countries.

Later he conducted evangelistic missions at Fresno State college, at Arizona State College, and at Stanford university.

Meetings will be held each morning and evening March 5, 6, 7.
WSSF Good Cause, But...

Was the student council right in refusing to approve a donation to the world student service fund?

The world student service fund is an organization which allocates its needs to needy students with indifferent regard to nationality, color, or religion.

But first it must be realized that the need of students of this world are a great many into which the WSSF has not ventured. Ssoever one is that the gesture without great significance.

The student council majority should be commended for their insistence that the donation be made to an organization which in itself aims and purposed to better serve Christ. Instead of toasting the sum to the WSSF fund they have enhanced their donation with their concern that it be used to greatest advantage.

In effect they give themselves with their gift. And in the famed fictional words of Christ to the careworn Knight Sir Launfal:

"Who gives himself with his alms feeds three, Himself, his hungry neighbor, and me."

Reveilour Says A-Bomb

BRITAIN HAS A-BOMB—In an attempt to win a confidence vote in the house of commons, Winston Churchill told members that the Labour party had secretly developed the A-bomb. Revelation came as Churchill presented his foreign policy, Churchill maintained that he made no secret agreement with Truman when he visited our country last month and that Britain's policy towards China remained the same. House members gave Churchill a 315-280 vote of approval.

KOREAN STAND—Ground fighting along the 150-mile front in Korea continues to be sporadic with natural skirmishes and heavy casualties being the only forms of fighting. The air war continued to develop this week as Red bombers hit key reed rail facilities. Truce talks continued to stall. The situation in the Korean peninsula is a complex one. It is hoped that the peace talks will be speeded up.

College Students Encounter Difficulties on Eastern Trip

by Fred Blanour

I had been suffering through the terrible "grind" of college life for some two years and a half months when the Christmas holidays came up just in time to save me from the fate of a, pared out, run down roommate. I could neither stand my life there nor did I feel that I was aware of what I was doing on the ship.

Likeable Jackie Croft confesses to one big fault—she hates to get up. She even read the morning papers to learn that they had been in a ball game.

Undoubtedly it was the experience gained against genuinely tough opposition that gave the Whitwits their wide edge over some teams in showdown games. The other teams of the small colleges in the Evergreen conference, with satisfied pride over the overcoat title.

There is a great need for present students to realize that this is the best coach in the land and a few other legends who is smart and realize that first it takes good ball players to win basketball games.

It was three o’clock in the morn-

Evergreen Champion Pirates root happy pais! "Jelly Jim" McGregor to their shoulders after clinching their title in an easy victory over second place Pacific Lutheran last Friday. The champions are favored to win the NIAB regional playoffs at Cheney March 4.5 in which they will play against teams they have previously defeated.

Baseball Season To Open in April

The Pirates' baseball team will have their first game in early April, according to Sam Tague, varsity baseball coach.

First Evergreen conference games will be a doubleheader against the Central Washington Whitewats April 25. Approximately 20 games will be scheduled, according to Tague.

Nine interteam are back from last year's round. These include pitchers Bob Page and Lloyd Piersen; catchers John Web and Dave Strawn; infielders Ed Kinsa, Neil Reubert, and Ed Swanson; and outfielders Bob Alney and Tom Marshall.

Among newcomers to the squad are Bill Pirkington, Fred Redman, Frank Antley, Jack Thomsen, Bill Wecroht, Roger Polstra, Dick McInturfe, Harry Shaw, and John Vanness.

Jayvees Take Game 113-62 To Break High Score Record

In the highest scoring game ever played in the Whitworth gym the Pirate Jayvees outslugged the 1930 Baggers 113-62. From the Patrice base 113-62, here Feb. 20.

The Whits started off slow but ran their opponents ragged by using the obvious system, utilizing five men at a time. They had only a 3:15 lead at the end of the quarter but pulled it in on the second quarter lead 54-30 at the half.

The second five, led by Jake Jacobs and Al Franklin, played the third quarter and left the count reading 85-29.

Happily Central Washington's feelings were hurt considerably by the 86-50 pasting the Whits gave them here Feb. 9, an article in that college's paper Campus Crier indicates. And they especially don't like Ralph Polson.

"Teh, teh, 'rates best on the Coast," the writer says in a statement by Speaksman-Review sportswriter Danny May last month Polson. "Aren't you being a little rash rating your tiger with some good ball players like Houdingis, O'Brien, Peterson, Rosser, and many others? For my money he wouldn't even crack most of the squads in the Evergreen and all the coast squads because... he doesn't hustle."

"Who is the last man down the floor on defense?" the article continues. "Answer: Polson. Who fights for that ball when it's loose? Four guys definitely NOT named Polson."

Some questions the irate Central writer forget to ask and answer are: Who's captain and key player of the team that beat good teams like Washington State, Gonzaga, Colorado A and M, and Central?" Answer: Polson. "Who's tied for second highest scoring position in the Northwest?" Answer: Alk Polson.

"And who has one of the lowest personal foul records of any player in the Evergreen conference?" Answer, of course, it could Ralph Polson who gets others fight for the ball—and forit.

The Central writer indirectly accused Whitworth of having seven players, counting the two rele. He couldn't understand here so many of their big men in the game here could pick up so many fouls as fast. Teh, teh, may you Central people shouldn't talk and play so rough.

Jayvees' next game will be tonight at the Whitworth gym where they play the second annual varsity.

Whit High man for the game was Sanford with 26 points, Wackenham took second honors with 21, Peck capped 18. Franklin 14 high man for the 86th supply was Bob Robertson with 21 points.

Halverson'ill Sing At Banquet

An informal banquet featuring the singing of Dick Halverson is to be held tomorrow evening at 6:00 in the dining hall and will climax the Spiritual Advance days that began last Wednesday. Duracine Delf and Weldon Fryer, chairman of the banquet committee, have announced.

"The banquet will depart from tradition in that it is definitely not formal," Miss Delf said.

Singing Highlights

Although Halverson's singing will highlight the banquet, a well-rounded program of entertainment and inspiration has been planned that the committee promises. This is scheduled to include Jessie Watkins soprano solo and June Ransom singing "Legend of the Dogwood Tree." Paul Schlauch per­foms to be the master of cer­emonies for the event.

A special bus operated for the convenience of off-campus students will leave Spokane's Cover d'Alene at 5:00 p.m. The bus trip will be without cost but students not ordinarily eating in the dining hall must pay 50 cents per banquet ticket, the committee says.

Leaving for Saturday

Following the banquet, the last meeting of the regular Spiritual Advance days will be held in the basement of the library. However, Halverson will return to lead the Sunday evening worship in Tiffany chapel and again at chapel Monday. During the week, he has developed the theme of "Founda­tion for Faith."

"If we are to see the relevancy and the purpose of this Thanksgiving work in our own life and society today we must reestablish Christianity in its true proportions," he said.

Christianity, is Historic

Halverson points out that Chris­tianity is not a hypothesis, but a solid, foundation for life.

"Neither is it primarily ethical or creed, but in life. Paul did not take an ideology to the corners of the earth but rather the message of Jesus Christ."}

Play To Show For 500 Only

Only 500 people will be able to see the play "St. Claudius," according to Dr. Abnor­m Dowers, production. The show will be presented March 12, 13, and 14 at 2:15 p.m. in the speech auditorium which seats about 100.

In view of the limited number of seats available, all seats will be reserved. Student body tickets will cover general admission with the reservation charge of 25 cents to be refunded. Tixes to tickets on general sale will be 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children.

The action of "St. Claudius" takes place in ancient Rome. According to the converson, crucification, and resurrection of Christ. The story of St. Claudius is told through the characters as Pomtus Pilate, Clau­dius Proculus, the main character and Sedia, Barthamarus, Simon, and La­zaro.

The price of tickets will be $1.25. After the choir expenses are paid, the net profit will be given to the SUB fund.

The concert will be given in the Lewis and Clark high school audi­torium.
Black Vs White Thinking

The printed page that you are reading is in a good example of black and white. But it is an exception chosen that you might read more easily because of the strength of the absolute contrast.

Very few things in life can be resolved into black and white absolutes. Yet many, far too many, of us simplify our thinking by lazily or intolerably resolving things into a pie-cut contrast—good and bad, yes and no, black and white. This tendency has been elegantly referred to by one perturbed writer as "the all or nothing dishonesty (division) of characterization."

This all-prevailing tendency may be suspected as being a major reason why mankind has so many problems. It has been said in this paper that A. D. (For an all or nothing, black or white kind of thinking must produce a lot of wrong answers.

Since our need is for accurate, trustworthy conclusions, more of mankind must learn to carefully weigh and balance the various shades of gray from black to white, and develop a genuine appreciation of color. By color we don't especially mean the optical lobes' in interpretation of varying light wave lengths, but we mean as well the coloring given to life by the glandular secretions, the physical, the mental which together produce the mind.

We must carefully consider the emotional considerations involved in almost all problems. All combinations of fear, hate, love, anger, and their varied shades. For it is the emotional aura of our thinking and living that gives life its priceless transcendence over a mechanical and vegetable existence.

Black and white thinking leads to prejudice, bias, dogmatism, misunderstanding, hatred, divisiveness and war—being a worthless, seemingly irresistible element in man's nature that periodically draws him into the catastrophe of war. Washington Scores High 'G'

Washington is one of the three top ranking 48 states in "G" or goodness score according to the three-year survey made by Edward L. Thorn- dike in his book "The Good State.

Thordike's "G" index is based upon 37 features characteristic of a "good community for good people to live in."

Among these features considered are provisions for health, education, recreation, wealth, incomes, teacher's salaries, child labor, literacy, crime, statistics and others.

Much of Thordike's "G" rating for states is determined by the migrations of men of ability. His men of ability are defined as those listing "Who, "Leaders" in Education, "Men of Science," Washington imports men of ability while most other states export them.

Washington shares the top "G" position with Connecticut—and, of course, California.

Coed Cagers
To Entertain Holy Names

Holy Names basketball team will be guests of the Whitworth women's team at a party following the game Tuesday, March 13, according to Miss Peg Gazette, coach. Refreshments of hot dogs and coffee will be served and a program of entertainment provided. The s aver will be held in the A.W.S lounge.

Program Includes Music

The program will include a musical group “Banana Belles That Stick”. Members are Adrienne Sharp, Arthid Roberts, Mary Lou Lenninger, Marita Legate, Helen Greiner, and Eleanor Culver.

The nurses, Wilma Gibson, Mary Shires, and Darlene Walker, will present a surprise number.

Shirts will be given by the remaining team members. Floy Mc Elder, Mel McKay, Marilyn Taylor, Helen Greiner, and Ruth Anderson.

Credito in Charge Ruth Anderson is in charge of the program. Helen Greiner and Sue Baker are on the food committee.

It is not unusual for teams to entertain visiting teams with refreshments in Miss Gazette. Tuesday’s game and social will mark the season for the Whitworth team.

“Holy Names is always a favorite team in the BCAC (Bonney Christian Athletic Conference),” Miss Gazette said.

Twin Boys Arrive
To Wrights Monday

Two thantrumprahl, twin baby boys, were born to Norma and Clary Wright about noon March 3, at Spokane General Hospital. The identical twin boys weighed 7 lb. 4 oz. and 6 lb. 12 oz.

Mother and son are doing fine, according to Clary’s mother, Mrs. Ruth Roberts, who was at the hospital, and Mrs. Roberts commented, “It was a wonderful day. The babies were born in the same room; the delivery went off without any complications.”

The twins have now four children, all boys. Buddy, the oldest, is six.

The twins have been named Douglas Randolph and Matthew Ward, their father has disclosed.

Motorists Fail To Rescue Traveler Left On Nebraska Wastes In Zero Weather

I got on my pants. Naturally at 20 below it froze immediately and I was soon proceeding like a knight in a suit of armor for my pants were frozen as stiff as a board.

I looked up the road and saw lights in the distance. They proved to belong to a truck that was hauling rains new. Then, I practically followed the truck van the cart. I shouted at the top of my lungs and the cart was pulled to a halt. I staggered up to the car still clutching my precious rain of water which was fast turning to slush.

I was informed that water had been obtained from a kindly woman back in “Friendlyville” (an immigrant from Illinois no doubt), but the car would immediately sit it away. Being men of tremendous intellect my companions had surmised something was wrong and I also had flagged down a truck for help.

My noble effort had been in vain. Needless to say, I was not in a very good mood. During the rest of the journey back to town I reminisced the weather, members of the local population, and the state of Nebraska. I assure you none of it could be used by the Nebraska chamber of commerce.

Examination of the car showed the motor to be a Jensen-Whitworth-thermostat that wouldn’t let the water circulate. We replaced this little item, and as the cold grey dawn looked over the frosty terminal of the state which we should have come to with such great satisfaction, we headed east once more.

About 9 o’clock that morning we stopped for gas and I took the wheels, and our few miles further on we came upon a small town by the name of Lexington, Neb.

As we drove through the town we observed a large dump truck that was proceeding in a very slow manner. I decided to pass but as I started and turned in the street it turned left without any warning. The first thing that flashed into my mind was when did they start hiring women truck drivers. I hit the brake and tried to turn off the road but a patch of ice caught the wheels and the car went into a wallow. I crawled off the road to watch the truck boom up in front of me.

Chat With College Dietitian Encourages Campus Wives

by Carol Thompson

Any married women on campus who complain about having to cook for a family should have a chat with Mrs. Dale Roberts, dietitian in the dining hall—"They’ll come away thinking how lucky they are.”

According to Mrs. Roberts, the average dinner prepared by the six homemakers in Reardon, and Scott, Elder, Arnie and Baker, are on the food committee. Mrs. Roberts commented, “We are called to prepare, she explained, and Tri Beta, the women’s dormitory, was invited to identify various superintendents at the state, which she would have to deal with such great satisfaction, we headed east once more.

As we drove through the town we observed a large dump truck that was proceeding in a very slow manner. I decided to pass but as I started and turned in the street it turned left without any warning. Tri Beta Initiates At Informal Meeting

Tri Beta, Whitworth biological honorary, had an informal initiation at the home of Marian Aucott last night, March 2.

New initiates were Arlene True, Winnie Larsche, and Margaret Walser. The primary goal of Tri Beta, the campus newsletter, was to identify various biological societies and at the initiation was to promote merit, and recognize scholar work. Dr. Hooper Alder is the advisor of the group; Orval Dean, president; Winold King, vice president; and Mary Lou Montgomery, secretary-treasurer.

In charge of last night’s meeting were: Misses Montgomery and Austin, food; Lee Crum, Doug McCullough, songleader; and Rene McCamphan, pianist.

Fat Men In Striped Shirts

Put Damper On Loop Game

It's getting more and more difficult to sit quietly in the stands while the fat little men in the striped shirts turn one of the fastest, most exciting games in the world into a contest of chance and free-throw accuracy. Thus claims the Cincinnati News Record, University of Cincinnati. When it gets to the point that hardly a game goes by without 20 or more fouls and five or six players fouling out it must be concluded that the referees and not the players are at fault.

We have no complaint with the ref who calls it close and is quick to crack down on any deliberate fouls or obvious attempts at roughing. But this business of calling fouls when there is obviously no attempt at illegal action is ridiculous.

The whole strategy of basketball is based on the fast break. That is the way the players like it and that is what the fans come to see. Who are the referees to go against the will of the many?

O'Brien Breaks Collegiate Mark

Records are continually falling this season as diminutive John O'Brien has become the first collegiate player in history to crack 1000 points in one season.

Ralph Polson of the Pirates also is within striking distance of a mark. He has 995 for the season and his own school record, set last year, is 994.

O'Brien holds the National point and free-throw totals for one season, with 1001 points and 387 charity shots. He has a better than 50% accuracy. Thus far, he has hit 191 of 356, a percentage of 53.8.

The whole process of scoring is a matter of timing. A 6' 6" player needs a little more than 10 seconds to get to the hoop and throw. The 5' 10" Johnny has to get to the hoop and throw in less than nine.

In his two games against Portland University last weekend little Johnny upped his total to 1000 points.

The "Big Ten" in the northwest are ranked as follows: J. O'Brien, Seattle University; Polson; Doher- ty, both of Whitworth; Keith, Eastern Oregon college; Legate, University of Montana; Kruger, College of Puget Sound; E. O'Brien, Seattle University; Johnson, Southern Oregon.

Down Lutherans 69-49

Steamroller Zags 90-65

The fighting Pirates raced to two straight basketball wins and the right to represent the state of Washington in the NAIB finals in Kansas City next week, in the district play-offs in Cheney Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Score in their first round against Pacific Lutheran was 69-49, against Gonzaga 90-65.

"Tuesday night the Bucs mauled the Gladiators of Pacific Lutheran college in the opening game. Whitworth jumped to an early lead and never were headed from that point on.

In the game with the Lutes, the Pirates displayed coolness under fire as they continually set up their play patterns and capitalized on sets plays to garner most of their points. Backboard work by Ray Beach, Bill Freeman, and Captain Ralph Polson proved to be one of the deciding factors in the victory.

When "Jolly" Jim boosted Polson to save him for the second night's contest, big Bill Freeman controlled both boards with some timely aid by Len Long.

Whit Cagers Win Over Holy Names

Whitworth's Women's varsity basketball team downed a team from Holy Names by the close score of 63 to 41, Tuesday night, March 4, at Holy Names.

Eleanor Culver led the Pirates by bucketing 17 points. Wilma Gibson followed with 14 and Helen Greiner with 12. Miss Kuttle led Holy Names scoring with 21 points.

Whitworth was behind most of the game but picked up in the second half when Culver made five points in a row. From this point on it was anyone's game. The 'Gladiators of Pacific Lutheran' proved to be one of the deciding factors in the victory.

Jim Doherty paced the Pirates in the early minutes of the Zags game as he soared in quick counts to put the Pirates in a lead from which they were never halted. Polson and Freeman hit well from inside to further spark the attack.

The win over the Zags made it ten straight for the Bucs over Gonzaga and gave them the advantage in the season record with two wins against one loss.

Plan Ticket Sale Soon For Cummings Concert

Tickets for the Lucille Cummings concert, March 31, will go on sale as soon as final arrangements for the event are completed, according to Pat Waddell, program chairman.

Student duets will sell at $1.25, adults for $1.90, and parents over 60 for $0.50. The concert will be held at the Central Methodist church.

Miss Cummings required a $100 guarantee for her appearance here. This amount has been underwritten by the college's administration. The concert is being sponsored by the senior class. Decision for the distribution of any profits has not yet been announced.

Plans for the advertising campaign were discussed at the March 5 committee meeting. Emphasis will be on letters to churches and colleges in the state and perhaps some local radio and television stations. This was the most publicized of the events held here for the past few months.

The Whitworth will not publish next Friday because of the closed period.

Halverson Proves Top-Rate During Spiritual Advance

by Dick Gray

"Top-rate material presented by a top-rate man!" This describes the messages and the Rev. Halverson, who spoke during Spiritual Advance days held March 5-10.

Halverson presented his talks so that they were of vital interest to nearly all. He developed his series of messages from the very basic principles of Christianity, presenting Christ as an historical figure.

Christ is God

He explained that this is equal with God and that man cannot come into the Lord by any other means than faith.

"Jesus Christ is a real living person," Halverson emphasized. "Otherwise, so many people would not be arguing over a corpse. Also, if the Bible isn't right, then Christ wouldn't love Him."

The plan of salvation was made clear and simple, and presented in a way that could well be modeled after Whitworthian. Staying away from technical jargon, Halverson talked on a high intellectual level.

Most Win People

In a special session held for persons interested in witnessing, the speaker told students they must win people to themselves before they can talk to Christ.

"The worker must be as wise as a serpent and gentle as a dove," he brought out.

Radio City music hall can work through a dedicated Christian to start a preaching of faith.

Anxious Coach Needs Airplane

Coach "Anxious Angus" McGee never seemed so anxious recently in his bid for Whitworth's first appearance in the NAIA tournament.

"It seems McGee was whining back from town on the airplane after a great win yesterday when he tried to sprint without any respect for time and distance." The result: an accident.

"He made it to Kansas City anyway, by airplane, that is."

Library Near 200 Volumes

A journalism library, presently numbering almost 230 volumes, in near completion, Professor A. D. Talbot, journalism department head, has announced.

A $500 gift to the department in 1947 by Mrs. D. A. Hewitt of Spokane was used to start the library, which contains books covering nearly all fields connected with the Jewish people, the present-day students. The gap is being filled because of the students' religious faith.

Critic Praises Drama; Calls It Deeply Moving

by Dick Gray

Deeply moving is "St. Claudia," by Marshall Gould, which was seen by first-nighters in the drama department's presentation last night in the speech auditorium.

"St. Claudia," he said, has done an excellent job in directing the play which Mr. Halverson's presentation of March 15, 21 and 22.

It remains a mystery how such a great play could have been turned out as it was. The speech auditorium lacks everything that is needed for even the most simple production. The stage is small, lighting facilities and props are at a minimum and yet some of the best productions Spokane area are presented here.

The technical staff under the direction of Prof. Floyd Chapman, then as journal original thinking to transform the front of the auditorium.

The second act of the play is performed here and is one of the most effective, partly because the audience feels that they are in the midst of the action. This closing brings the onlookers into the play.

"While the play lacks movement and action in parts, the audience must not be careless. There is a deep meaning to the dialogue and happenings. "St. Claudia" is not a play to keep the audience entertained, rather its purpose is to present a deep spiritual message.

The actors seem to have caught the spirit and act their parts clearly and simply for the most part. All, except a few, seem natural, especially in the case in portraying their parts.

It is a hard thing to portray religious personalities from this period so little is held in common with the religious of the day. The actors seem to catch the feel of the religious faith.

For food and home and friendship near,
For love and liberty.

America bless God
Trust in His wondrous care,
And He will guide you day by day,
Your trials and troubles bear.

America bless God
For His great sacrifice,
Because He hung on Calvary,
For all did pay the price.

America bless God
Thank Him for His love,
And pray for peace to reign on earth,
Till Christ comes from above.

Johnson Is Down-to-Earth

by Ruth Higgins

No one would suspect that good-natured, down-to-earth Elmer Johnson once spent an entire year within his feet ever touching the ground.

A back disability during his army service, which was later diagnosed as tuberculosis of the spine, kept Elmer almost completely immobile in the veteran's hospital in Walla Walla, Wash., from March 1947 to Sept. 1949.

Time To Think
Johnson's long look at the ceiling gave him time to meditate on his future plans. It was then that he dreamt of entering the ministry.

The idea of becoming a minister had been pushing on me since childhood," Elmer admitted.

Johnson, a senior honor student, is one of only four men who are members of Phi Alpha, campus scholastic honorary. Whitworth will be the second college from which he has obtained his degree, having previously graduated from Kinnam Business college.

Students To Present Talks On Presidential Candidates

Six Whitworth students will give five-minute talks favoring each of the presidential candidates at chapel Wednesday, March 19, according to Dr. G. H. Schlauch, head of the chapel committee.

"The purpose of these talks is to inform the student body on the relative merits of each candidate," Schlauch said.

This meeting will be followed by a campus poll of the voting election by one class of the sociology department.

Speakers for the chapel will include Vic Urban, Bill Tatum, Wesley Perry, Ray Blackstone, and Yvonne Shandy. They each speak on behalf of one of the following: Senator Taft, President Truman, General Eisenhower, Senator Kennedy, Harold Stassen, and Governor Earl Warren.

This program is being carried out through the joint efforts of Prof. Floyd Chapman, speech department, and Prof. Robert H. Wilson, sociology department.

Students To Present Talks On Presidential Candidates

Six Whitworth students will give five-minute talks favoring each of the presidential candidates at chapel Wednesday, March 19, according to Dr. G. H. Schlauch, head of the chapel committee.

"The purpose of these talks is to inform the student body on the relative merits of each candidate," Schlauch said.

This meeting will be followed by a campus poll of the voting election by one class of the sociology department.

Speakers for the chapel will include Vic Urban, Bill Tatum, Wesley Perry, Ray Blackstone, and Yvonne Shandy. They each speak on behalf of one of the following: Senator Taft, President Truman, General Eisenhower, Senator Kennedy, Harold Stassen, and Governor Earl Warren.

This program is being carried out through the joint efforts of Prof. Floyd Chapman, speech department, and Prof. Robert H. Wilson, sociology department.
Pirates Lose In Quarter Finals

McKee Wins Rating On National Listing

Plur McKee, Whitworth senior, made her national basketball rating during the tests given the candidates for this position at a gym on Saturday, March 6.

Mrs. Alyce Cheeks renewed her ratings while Eleanor Colver made her associate national. Miss Louise Kettle from Holy Names also made her national rating.

There were eight women who tried for this goal. All day was spent in the giving of the tests.

NAIB Play gets rough. Ray Beach, 12, learns as he goes after the ball in the Whits' opening move against Wisconsin State. Backing into Beach is Dick Noonan, Wisconsin center, who scored 32 points. Ralph Polson, Pirate center, looms in background behind two unidentified Wisconsin cagers.

Jayvees Bow In Final Game

It took one of the best teams in the Pacific Northwest to beat the Whitworth Jayvees and to break their eight-game winning streak in Gonzaga's gym last Thursday night.

The Phillips 66 Inland Empire team, current Pacific Northwest Area champions, beat the junior buzzes by 25-10 count.

The Jayvees led only once in the game. It was early in the first quarter at 8-7. Sam Adams led the White scoring with 17 points.

In their second game the Pirates blew a 14 point lead to almost lose to James Millikin college of Decatur, Ill. Doherty pulled the game out of the fire with a free throw in the last 10 seconds.

Millikin, sixth-seeded team which had previously defeated unbeaten Eastern Illinois, was defeated by Hanline in the NAIB finals last year.

Polson established the tournament's highest individual single game score by bettering a sensational total 30 points against Millikin. The points were made on 17 field goals and four free throws.

In the Murray State, game Polson, playing his last game for Whitworth and perhaps the finest of his career, bettered his previous day's tournament high score by sinking 41 points. This gave him a 38 average for the three tournament games. The Murray team starters average three inches taller than the White, although their center was a half inch shorter than Polson.

Coach Sam Tague, head coach of the baseball team, issued his first call this week. Many veterans are back but practice is mostly confined to the gym while the snow is melting off the diamond.

Tague announced that 32 aspirants will be vying for positions as regulars. He added that "the players are young but are anxious to play ball." Enthusiasm in any game is half the battle.

National recognition has been accorded Ralph Polson and Jim Doherty, top scorers on Whitworth's championship basketball team. Whit Coeds Win Season's Finale

Whitworth's Women's varsity basketball team completed their season with a 52-45 victory over Holy Names Tuesday evening, March 11.

Wilma Gibson led the team with 24 points for the evening. Eleanor Colver dunked 16 with Helen Griner hitting 9.

After the game the Whitworth girls gave a party for both teams.

Bennett Sets April 2 Annual Campus Day

Annual campus cleanup day will begin Wednesday morning, April 2, with a beefsteak breakfast at the point at 6 a.m., according to Pete Bennett, student body social chairman.

This day is set aside each spring for a united student effort to clean the entire campus in readiness for visitors to spring activities. Following breakfast, which is being planned by the town club with Mary Lou Montgomery as chairman, students will meet in front of the gym ready to be assigned their particular tasks. Pete Lehan-ond heads the work committee.

Serve Picnic Lunch

At noon a picnic lunch will be served in front of the dining hall.

A baseball game is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the late afternoon. In addition, a banana split ice cream and punch will be held in place of curling social.

"The Dear Departed," a one-set play directed by Tom Fowler, will also be presented.

Campus Beautified

"Whitworth has long been known for the beauty of its campus in the fall and the fullness of its building. The present is our annual campus day, and our success depends on everyone getting in on the act," Bennett said.

"The Student is in charge of public cleanliness.

Few Students Will Try For ASWC Office

Next year's ASWC officers will be elected by ballot under more modified procedures, according to Leroy Collin, fifth of executive. Elections will be held April 9 and 10.

One Contest

Up to Thursday afternoon only two candidates had cast a ballot for the same office. Ray Woods and Bert Lee both seek the vice-president's slot.

Bill Dyman is unopposed for the top position of president of the associated students. Bill Collin, third of executive, will run unopposed and Bert Lee is the only candidate for secretary.

Friday Deadline

Candiates have only until tonight to get their names in for the offices. Official campaign period starts Monday, March 31. All candidates must be approved by a campaign manager, according to Collin. Ballots covering proper placement may be obtained from Sh-ton Myslavick.

Speeches by candidates for the various offices will be featured at the April 4 chapel period.

Trustees Determine Policies, Purposes, Hire President, Regulates College Dating

Having the president of the college, determining the purposes and the purposes of the college are among the functions performed by the board of trustees, according to Ruth Betty Ann Douglas, permanent secretary.

"Regulations concerning the college are put into effect by them, and they only be changed by formal action," she said.

Membership of the board are elected by present trustees and the synod of the Presbyterian church to which Whitworth is affiliated, for the last 25 years by Mr. William L. McLaughlin, manager of Whitworth's Spokane store.

Students Slate Concert For 8:15 PM in Spokane

Whitworthians and towns people alike will greet Lucile Cummings as she sings under the sponsorship of the senior class in the Central Methodist church Monday, March 31, at 8:15 p.m.

Wire Conveys New for Building

Green light for immediate con-struction of the administration wing of the new Whitworth dormitory building was given Tuesday evening when President Franklin F. War­ren conveyed a telegram of Rep­resentative Walter Reeds, Wash­ington, D. C.

The telegram indicated that pri­ority for steel building and other materials would be given the construction which would be granted the college.

According to President Warren, groundbreaking for the foundation will begin before the semester ends. The site is located directly across from the library on the other side of the open lawn. The building will be one story.

The wing to be constructed will be about 110 feet long and 40 feet wide. It will be five stories high. It will contain all present admin­istration offices housed in Ballard and McMillan halls, and will have rooms for four classrooms.

Total cost of the administration­multimamum-classroom, of which $100,000 will be contributed by downtown music stores, coll-ayed mainly for fun, and every word of money will be used to clone a prestidigitory school for Sunday school. However, it was when she was first vocal hon-ors in a state-wide high school con­test, that she began to study voice so earnest.

Peck Is Versatile Musician

by Ruth Higgins

Bob Peck, Whitworth choral assistant, needs only four arms to be a non-man orchestra. Besides a tenor voice, other musical assets Bob has includes the ability to play the violin, piano, trumpet, violin, clarinet, French horn, trombone, and bass. With all that musical talent, one would suppose Bob was unable to choose a major from childhood. But didn't happen that way. It was only a few years ago that Bob's dreams crystallized on musico. While attending Bethel College in St. Paul, Minn., he majored in physics but his extra-curricular activities changed his mind. At this time, he was singing in a semi-professional radio choir in Minneapolis, and each day he became more convinced that music was his field.

In high school he had been soloist in the choir and student conductor. At the state music festival, he won all the top first-class ratings. "One year, I entered as a baritone because I didn't like the songs listed as required for tenors. And I won first as a baritone that year," Bob muses. It was at St. Olaf's college that Bob began his music studies in earnest. He sang in the yearly summer festival, was soloist in the choir, and had a weekly radio program.

At the end of that year, his father, a Baptist minister, was called to a church in Spokane. Thus, he transferred to Whitworth, but last spring graduated with a B. A. in sacred music. This year he is studying for his B. E. degree. Bob has found that in music as well as life, nothing is of value unless it is bought with a price. "Even happiness is purchased by sorrow," he believes.

As to his future plans, he intends to teach music theory and history. "I would like to instruct in a Christian college, eventually," he promised.

WHAT'S IT TO YOU?

by Ron Schwoer

Seeds Grown. The seed Minnesota voters planted yesterday before last-106,000 write-in ballots for Eisenhower—worn blooming like Jack's' beanstalk—will soon sprout into a garden. Its shadow will stretch into Wisconsin, where write-ins are not counted; into Nebraska, and Illinois, where they are; into West Virginia, where they could be counted; and into Paris, where Gen Dwight Eisenhower operates as commander of the allies' European defense forces. In Paris, close attention is being shown to the state of the Minnesota vote and belief is expressed so soon in it can return in May to campaign for the GOP nomination.

Inventory Planned. The air force plans to start taking in early summer an inventory of 350,000 reservists on the shell since World War II. At a total cost of $21,000,000—$2 man—the air force hopes to interview most of them personally. The inventory will take a year to complete. Twenty-four specially trained units will fan out over the nation to do the job.

Russia Challenged. The United States, Britain, and France challenged Russia today to lift its iron curtain around East Germany. If it were to happen, it would amount to talk about a peace treaty for all of Germany. At the same time the three nations firmly turned down Russia's proposal to allow a united Germany to revile its army, navy, and air forces.

Pepperidge Sees New Slant Regarding College Teachers

A slightly different slant on college professors has been offered by the Graphic, George Pepperidge College, Calif. It remarks in an editorial:

"College teachers are peculiar people. They are sometimes like gods, often like children. They impose their unquestioned, alas knowledge like Caesars, divine impossible assignments, then jest like infants when their ledger—yard students produce hastily projected projects."

"... Who except teachers would despise tenacious and abstinence and be frequently surprised themselves? Who else would com­plain of students' lackadaisical attitudes toward assignments, then neglect to return tests promptly?"

... Teachers seem to believe that students enjoy breading in late work. They often punish the un ­ fortunate student who can re­ monding him during class that 'Promptness is the mother of democracy.' (Some other Muslim could be substituted here just as effectively)."

"The teacher raises his eyebrow at all excuses and seems to forget other teachers also impose pressing obligations. He implies that the student spent his past week in evil pursuits and delivers a lecture on the teacher's heart­ rending plea.

"I wish that I had known my teachers when I was in college. They must have been a very won­ derful bunch. Assuming, of course, that they practiced what they preached."

Dear Editor: I have always been under the impression that when a young person is ready to come to college, he or she usually is ready to go. Women or woman and to assume the conduct expected of a mature adult. Perhaps I am suffering from a delusion."

Chapel Behavior is one thing in particular that comes to mind. If chapel services were intended to be peerless calling, they have been wrongly impressed, and wish to withhold my statements that I make here.

I cite, the chapel service of Wednesday, March 12, for example. The speaker was Dr. Charles Reynolds. He had just delivered a fine meditative message and had no sounder than "amen," finishing the benediction, then a choir went up from the northwest stands. The audience took up the choir all over the gymnasium upon learning of the basketball team's victory."

I was ashamed. But I can blame himself for that was real­ly something worth shouting about, but was that either the time or the place to do it."

Sincerely, Jim Grady

Anderson Gives Reasons For Nearly Missing Calling

by Harold Seale

Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson, moderator of the Presbyterian church, stated that didn't become a minister for three reasons, he told last Monday's chapel audience.

"I was a young pagan and didn't know it," he confessed. "I was a materialist and wanted to build a bridge."

The second thing that nearly prevented him from assuming full-time service was the witness of an ineffectual minister.

"He has a great front," Anderson announced. "He's going to drive me out, he admitted.

New Pirate Coach Aims at Top Berth

Big Jim Launsmerry, 33, Whitworth's new football coach, who has served as assistant coach for the last two years at the University of Washington, has set up a big task for himself next fall.

"My objective is to coach a football team as outstanding as Whitworth's current basketball team," Launsmerry said during his campus visit here Monday.

Leaves in June

The new coach will leave the University of Washington and his hometown, Seattle this June to come to Whitworth with his wife and two small daughters. His wife is a native of Spokane, having graduated from Central Valley High School, and is attending the University of Washington in Seattle where he made all-city gridiron honors. He also was a member of the mile relay team that broke the city record. The Central Washington college Launsmerry was an outstanding football player, making the All-Northwest football selection in 1936.

During the war he served as an air force physical training officer, attending officer candidates school.

The new grid mentor is a big, square shouldered, seemingly easy-going man who smiles readily. But he has the reputation of being a strict disciplinarian.

While serving as freshman line coach at Washington, Launsmerry also studied for his doctor's degree with a teaching fellowship at the university. He has completed all work for his doctorate except his thesis which will be completed when he comes to Whitworth.

Highly Recommended

Launsmerry comes highly recommended. R. K. Kutter, executive officer of the physical and health department of the university, wrote a letter to Dr. Frank Warren in which he said, "I consider Jim one of the most outstanding young coaches on the Pacific coast. He is a natural as a coach, leader and counselor."

"Let me congratulate you on your selection of James Launsmerry as your new football coach," wrote Leo S. Nitcholas, director of athletics at Central Washington College of Education. "As you know to a former star athlete of our institution who played football for me. . . . He has proven his competence as an athletic coach and ... has always been popular with athletes, officials, his college associates, and the general public."

Coach Sam Tague, of the baseball team, announced their first turn out last Monday and issued full dress uniforms to 36 prospective baseballers.

The players have transferred practice from gym to the diamond, which has been rounding into shape by the earnest work of the groundkeepers and Wayne Bechtel's crew.

April 2 will feature a full dress rehearsal with an intersquad game.

Pitching prospects will come along with practice and practice with tell how the staff shapes up, according to Tague. Towhead Plumb and Poncho Page are the only returning lettermen to the pitcher's crew.

Newcomers to the roster in this field are Ray Beach, Tom Costa, Larry Sheets, Bill Ward and Howard Haan. Battery-mates for these pitchers are Craig Brown and Dave Strawn.

A 12-game schedule has been announced. Four-game series will be played with our arch rivals Gonzaga and Cheyney have been planned.

Hardwick To Live on In Building Dedication

by Ruth Higgins

Few students at the SBU ground breaking ceremony, April 2, knew anything about the man to whose memory it will be dedicated—Dr. Francis T. Hardwick.

Dr. Hardwick came to Whitworth in 1929 when it had only 84 students. He served as its dean and for two years as temporary president during the perilous depression and war years. In December, 1948, when he died after 19 years at Whitworth, he had seen the college reach its maximum growth—almost 2 times larger than it was in 1929. 1948 enrollment was recorded at 141 students.

But the doctor had a distinguished career as an educator long before he came to Whitworth. He received his B.S. and Ph.D. from the same university. During the long interval between his graduation and administrative career, he joined the faculty of the University of Washington and in 1912, he was called to the University of London, England, in 1912. Thirty-one years later, in 1943, he got his M.A. degree from the University of Washington. In 1923 he was called to the presidency of the Whitworth College.

Davenport Presents Book Review April 21

Whitworth students will again be presented with a book review by Mrs. Harry Davenport in chapel April 21, according to Dr. Gustav Schuch, head of the chapel committee.

Mrs. Davenport will be reviewing the book "A Man and His Muses" by Cardinal Spellman. The book, written by the late Cardinal Spellman, is devoted to the life of Pope Pius XII, his personal recollections of his long career in the church.

Aspirants Give Qualifications For Student Body Offices

Qualifications and background of the eight candidates vying for the four posts for next year's student body executive committee will be the subject of a three-day interview period.

Candidates seeking the position of student body president are Dick Hardesty, a senior; and Mike Wilkinson, a junior, both sponsored by the senior class. Miss Linda How, a sophomore, who was sponsored by the senior class, is also in the running.

ASWC Campaigns Near Peak; Four Coeds Vie for May Queen

Victor Rules At Festivities On Loop Site

One of four candidates for May queen will reign over May day festivities Friday, May 9, which will be held on the loop lawn.

Candidates are Grace Clark, Play McKee, Jeanne Larsen, and June Ramge. Voting will take place April 9 and 10 at the regular student body elections.

Included in the annual May day festivities are the traditional maypole and the Queen of Flowers. The three losing queen candidates will be in the queen's court. Freshman will nominate the queen.

Other activities will include a recital by Wally Bekowies, a play by the drama department, the annual tree-planting ceremony and an AWW sponsored mothers' tea.

An evening of chamber music will be selected as one of two events for the campus. The other event is "Eschatological Nightfall."

The program will be centered around the soprano and viola music and physical education department, according to Miss Lorraine Knobel, AWW chairman.

Mary Jean Lorraine, AWW social chairman heads the planning committee. In charge is Co-chairman Ruth Anderson.

Cummings Proves Warm In Personality, Top Singer

by Dick Gray

A great lady sang a great concert last Monday evening. The lady—Lorrie Cummings—who was sponsored by the senior class at the Central Methodist church.

Miss Cummings' voice is one that already has, and no doubt will continue to carry her to highest acclaim in the musical world.

Will You Ever Be Sorry?

Have you ever wondered if you'd ever be sorry that you chose the major that you did?

Your percentile chances of regretting your choice of majors, along with several attempts to answer other interesting quandaries, are contained in the new book "They Went to College" published by Harcourt, Brace and company.

The book reveals that out of thousands in all professions surveyed, graduates with degrees in pharmacy, history, literature, and languages most regretted their choice. Most graduates with these majors wished that they had studied medicine.

The next most sorry group are those who majored in social sciences and business administration. Thirty per cent of the business administration graduates said that, if they had it to do over again, they'd choose engineering.

And oddly enough the social science malcontents would have chosen business administration.

Happiest of all are those who deal with the ills, misfortunes and unhappiness of others. Only nine per cent of those in the medical profession expressed dissatisfaction with their vocation.

College Continues Growth

Whitworth college is getting into the growing act this spring along with grass, the herb, and the tree.

For, as the college's president has noted, the construction of the administration wing of the proposed $600,000 auditorium, classroom, and administration building is a big step toward a greater Whitworth.

When this building and the student union building are realities the college will have about completed its physical plant. And because it serves a distinct need for a school located near a large city, bursting at the seams with growth, Whitworth's destiny seems assured.

That destiny is to become one of the most sub­stantiating institutions of higher learning in the Pac­ific Northwest.

Bert Lee, seeking the vice presidential spot, is a Bible major and recreationist and printer. He is a veteran, served as a desk sergeant in an MP train rides draftsmen, was wounded in the Okinawa campaign. Graduated of a business education in one year for Richfield Oil company before coming to Whitworth.

Here Lee has been vice president of this year's junior class, treasurer of Philadelphia, president of Crusaders, vice president of Mission fellowship, and program chairman of Christian Endeavors.

Bay Woods, the other vice presidential aspirant, is a transfer student from the Junior college at Yakima. He was first president of the federation of nine junior colleges of the state of Washington. He also served as yell king, editor of the annual, business manager of the weekly paper, and captain of the track team.

Woods is Pre-University

A pre-theology student, Woods is majoring in biology and political science, minor in psychology. He was thoroughly likeable. He is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, speech and drama honorary, and of Tri Beta, biological science honorary.

Charles Bowman, who is running for treasurer, is completing his junior year. He is an economics major, speech and drama minor. Bowman is a debate team member, and belongs to Phi Kappa Delta, debate honorary.

Voting with Bowman is Bill McColloch, a junior transfer student from Seattle, who is majoring in political science and business.

Chapman Has Bad Moment

by Harold Selby

President Floyd Chapman had a few bad moments in his voice and diction class Tuesday.

All began when Clary Wright and Rudy Copeland rode a motorcyle into his speech classroom.

Ignoring the startled professor's remonstrances, Cozetto and Wilford Durrance rode to serve the clan root beer, from a galvanized jug hanging from the motorcyle.

These days of men, Dr. Thomas Mason, chairman designate, entered the hubbub.

"There's too much noise in here," the visibly angry dean told the annoyed Chapman. "Quiet down."

But by then the root beer had taken effect and yelling, bowling, when radio members were hopping madly in and out of the windows.

Last touch of bedlam was put on proceedings by Lawrence (Doc) Carver who started whooping it up with a blank six-shooter. Then the grim-faced dean handed Chapman a piece of paper—a resignation slip to sign?

No. The paper bore the message, "April fool, from your loving class."

Later the class gave Chapman a vote of confidence asassistant professor of constitutional law.

Men's Dorm Slates Picnic for Tonight

Whitworth hall will hold a picnic tonight at the Bowl and Pitcher.

The program will be provided by the "German Band" and the Whitworth hall quartet. Potato salad will be served.

Brooks Herold and Miss Carolyn Davis will announce the program.

The Bowl and Pitcher picnic site is located about nine miles south of Spokane. It is a large rock formation cut out by the Spokane river.

ASWC: Presidential candidates are Bill Tutum, top, and Waiden Ferry. The contestants are debate team partners, and vice president and president, respectively, of Phi Kappa Delta, national debate honorary.

Home Makers Give Dinner: Spring Theme

"Spring in China" will be the theme of an annual spring formal banquet of Alpha Beta, home economics club, to be held at the Knox Presbyterian church Saturday, April 5, at 6:30 p.m., according to Marjorie Johnson, social chairman.

Seyer To Speak

Mrs. J. Paul Seyer, retired missionary from China, will be the featured speaker at the chicken dinner which is given for Alpha Beta members and other girls interested in joining the club.

Main event on the program will be the introduction of new officers for next year. Alpha Beta members who are joining the National Home Economics association are Miss Johnson and Kathy Kendall. Also on the program will be a recital by Miss Scharf and a piano solo by Wendy Russell.

Circle K To Give Party Friday Eve

"Twin Party" is the theme of the Circle K party to be held at 8 p.m., according to Bernie Mueller, social chairman.

"Other more mellow games, including musical chairs, without the music," Mueller explained.

"Our refreshments such as cupcakes, punch, potato salad, and sandwiches will be served. Bob Grove will lead devotions."
Pirate Horseiders Start Season With Game Friday

The Whitworth diamond squad will open their baseball season this afternoon and tomorrow with both games to be played against an all-star team at Carpenito Field according to coach Sam Tague.

Outfielders Listed
Tague has two complete teams working out, not including pitchers. He has been working with the general hustle of the squad. "For this early in the season, the infielders are particularly sharp," Sam announced.

Basketballers Bob Beach and Jim Doherty have proved to be the outstanding newsmakers in the diamond squad. Doherty continues to impress at three different infield positions, while Beach has turned in two excellent pitching jobs.

Season's Teams
A lot of the varsity team members are also in the process of turning out. Ridenour and Paul Perko are infielders. Ridenour is a long ball hitter and gets most of that season he did not compete in any of the varsity team meets.

Alyce Cheska, head of the Women's physical education department, announced that Miller can compete this week and that he will open their baseball season.

Coach Jim McGregor is particularly happy about his reserve strength in this initial period is

Coach Says Miller Is Out
At Miller, veteran whit football and track star, has been declared ineligible for further track competition. Coach Jim McGregor announced recently.

There is a possibility, however, that Miller can compete this season, if a majority of the Evergreen coaches sign a petition which McGregor is now circulating.

Miller was declared ineligible after it was discovered he had competed in two practice meets in his freshman year. Of that season he did not compete because of an injury.

McGregor hoped he hopes for a conference victory in track. Last year he placed second in the 440 and 220 yard dashes in the conference meet and ran the last lap on the mile relay team.

Coach Asks Groups For Softball Rosters
"All groups interested in placing a men's softball should turn their team rosters in to me before April 8," Coach Bob Morris has announced.

Intermural softball play will begin immediately following the baseball season.

Whit Catsers End Season at WSC
Whitworth's Women's basketball team came in second at a play day held at Washington State College last Saturday.

In the first game Whitworth defeated the University of Idaho by 25-23. In the second game Eastern Washington College of Education was downed by 38 to 35. Washington State college then fell to Whitworth in a very close game ending 23 to 22.

"A very nice time was had by all and we enjoyed a good lunch and contacts with the other girls," Peg Gazette, coach of the team, said.

Whitworth's Women's basketball team, champions of the Women's All-City basketball championship, will open their baseball season at the Whitworth diamond squad. Doherty continues to impress at three different infield positions, while Beach has turned in two excellent pitching jobs.

The women's varsity teams begin their opening games out of town from 2:30 to 5:30, according to Alyce Cheska, head of the Women's physical education department.

"Girls who are interested in turning out may report to me or report to the courts," Mrs. Cheska announced.

with Greg Sanford

Coaches McGregor is doubting his duty as coach; last Monday he started his spring basketball practice while coaching track in the afternoon.

All the returning lettermen are out with Greg and Don are working out with Wackerbark up from the Jaycees. Bob Marshall and Paul Peake from Lewis and Clark. Harry Wamsler, Dave Ehrenman and their team mates are also in the process of spring practice to develop new and unused abilities.

The boys from the city now working out are all stars, being placed on all-star teams, or are individual stars of their own past season's teams. A lot of basketball can be learned in this spring period, known as a course in acquired skills, which will help in next year's conference competition.

Stress in this initial period is put mainly on fundamental knowledge. Patterns and offensive plays are worked in gradually and are put into competition form over and over so that they become natural and the players go into them without hesitation.

WHIT'S WILL VIE VANDALS IN DUAL MEET TERROR

Whitworth college (track squad) will invade the University of Idaho to造成 a deal with the Vandal. The Whit team suffered a 184-16 defeat at Washington State the previous week in a practice meet with the Cougars.

Heavy Workouts
Coach Jim McGregor of the Pirates ran his charges through heavy workouts this week in preparation for the meet. However, McGregor is still holding all broad jumpers, high jumpers and pole vaulters out of competition because of the danger of injuries during early season.

Weight man Ken Peak captured the majority of the genes in his recent has to WSC. Peak placed second in the shot put and third in the discus. Teammate Ralph Pence scored the only other second place for the Pirates as he placed in the discus.

Track Squad Named
Taking third places in the sports were Paul Johnson in the mile, Don King in the high hurdles, and Ron Seibert in the pent.

In meeting the Vandals the Pirates will be up against a team composed of eight veterans. Head

Demarest To Address Group at Lake Setting

Gary Demarest, Director of Youth at University Presbyterian church, Seattle, and featured Men's conference speaker, will greet students this afternoon as they arrive at Pinelow Park, Deer Lake, for the annual three day meet sponsored by the "W" club. "There's still time to get your ticket," Pat Evans, co-chairman pointed out. Tickets may be purchased from "W" club members. Price is 50c for the conference, including food, lodging, and use of boating and recreational facilities at the park.

Nominal Charge

Students may attend for only one day need not pay the full price, but will be charged only for meals, at a nominal rate. Demarest, lifetime college athlete and president of the student body at the University of California, will not discuss the theme for his talk. Those who have already announced it is "Tell Rather Have Jesus!"

Starts Friday Evening

First talk by Demarest will be at 8 p.m. in the 6 o'clock dinner, and a 7:30 p.m. informal group discussion. Second talk will be at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. group discussion. The final talk will be made at 11 Sunday morning, following Sunday school service.

Warren Announces Judge To Talk at Commencement

Honorable Matthew Hill, State Supreme Court judge, will speak at the Whitworth commencement scheduled for May 23. Warren's office announced this week. Also announced was Dean Robert Munson's address to the graduating seniors at the barbecue service, to be held in the First Presbyterian church of Spokane.

Warren, professor of law at Whitworth, was quoted as saying, "I am looking forward to the visit of Judge Hill." The program was arranged by Dr. Karl Keshker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Yakima, to speak at the first investiture of the 1962 commencement season Monday, May 14, and the second investiture, May 19, to be addressed by Dr. Philip Ashbon, Dean of Seattle Pacific college.

Other events leading to the Commencement exercises include: Family-senior breakfast May 17, fine arts commencement program May 23.

The annual golf tournament, Palouse alumni breakfast, club reunion breakfast, banquet, play "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," are all scheduled for Saturday, May 24.

The cappella choir will appear in concert at Tiffany chapel 2:30, Sunday afternoon, May 25, to be followed by the President's reception for alumni.

Tatum, New ASWC President, Declares Hope of Starting SUB Foundation In Fall

by Ken Schreiber

Bill Lawrence, former ASWC president next year, has announced he will place financial emphasis on the Student Union Building project with the laying of the foundation possibly beginning in the fall.

The executive committee is counting on student donor interest to supply the unity and cooperation which will give to Whitworth the finest of academic and student union areas.

Tatum led the ASWC in his administration of 1962-63. Tatum declared.

The new president will take over ASWC pilot duties at the start of the fall semester. After graduation he plans to attend the graduate business school.

At the start of the Fall semester a new group will move on the Whitworth campus and campus students by bringing them together in a more unified group. More student body activities are also being planned.

Set Monday Deadline On Scholarship Bids

Monday, May 5, is application deadline for two KWC radio station scholarships, worth $300 each. Prof. William G. Wilson, adviser of KWC, has announced.

Scholarship committee will select five students. Scholarship will be provided, on a $500 each semester basis, to the two students who serve as next year's station manager, and station engineers, of the campus radio station.

Reliability and industry are desired in applicants; experience is not necessary, Prof. Wilson stressed.

Choir Ends Long Trip With Spokane Concert

by Dick Gray

After traveling three to 5,000 miles in seven states and singing to nearly 4,000 people, the cappella choir returned to Spokane to sing their home concert in Lewis and Clark auditorium on last Tuesday, April 29.

The journey, though fraught with hardships, presented from the estimated 600 persons who attended the concert.

"The Whitworth choir's phrasing is delicate and sensitive. Its volume ranged from softest to deepest organ tones," Charlotte Upton, music critic, wrote in her critique. "Its association with the chorus is close and clear."

The choir's program was last of 16 final concerts given by the group during its two-week tour. The group traveled over 3000 miles as far south as Colorado, Arizona, and north to Great Falls, Montana.

AWS Tell May Day Theme As 'Enchanted Springtime'

"Enchanted Springtime" will be the theme for May Day festivities to be held on the lawn from next Friday, and Saturday, May 9,10, according to Mary Lou Lannigan, social chairman of Associated Women students.

Jeanne Larron will be officially crowned Queen of the May by May Duke, Paul Schippersort, at the ceremonies starting at 2 p.m. Included in the coreal court are honor princess June Runge and prince Grace Clark and Flay Mercer.

The music, art, drama, and physical education departments will take part in the program. Maid grade school fourth graders will furnish the traditional May Pole dance.

"One of the high spots on the program will be the Lilac ring walk by engaged couples," Miss Lannigan declared.

A processional by the freshmen girls will fill up the program. Princesses from the neighboring high schools and towns will also be on the program.

Friday morning Wally Richem will give his senior voice recital close the day.

On Saturday, May 16, a Mother's Day tea will be given honor mothers of students.

Wolfhagen Plans To Teach in East

Dr. and Mrs. James L. Wolfhagen have announced that they will be leaving Whitworth this spring to go to the University of Maine, Orono, Mo., where the doctor was a chemistry instructor.

Dr. Wolfhagen has been a chemistry teacher at the science department and he and his wife, who is also a chemistry teacher, at the University of California, Berkeley, Calif.
ACP Honor Causes Glow

Editors, staff members, and advisor are elated by the shining "All-American" accolade bestowed by the Associated Collegiate Press on the first semester Whitworthian, an award of which there is no other.

For out of newspapers of 56 colleges, in the 500 to 1,000 circulation class judged by ACP, only three others were dubbed "All-Americans." The Whitworthian did not achieve the top spot— in spite of its faults—by any "easy, easy, mazy, mazy" routine on the part of ACP judges. It was an accomplishment of effort and studied design, although there is no formula for achieving this greatest honor.

Generally the critics center on evidence of intense attention to makeup and general appearance, strict objectivity in news reporting, completeness of news coverage and grading, quality of feature material, balance, and uniformity of style.

ACP judges, who are experienced newspapermen, understand that the degree of overall success attained must be measured against the harrasing backdrop of deadlines, and the harrying roar of presses. Presses that, having printed, can't be called back to cancel half a line...

If a formula for success seems relatively flexible and simple, its application is not. To apply it requires that a few handfuls of brains and accompanying talent and sweat be assigned adequate staff members. And if a few of the editorial staff are afflicted with acute infections perfectionitis it will have a markedly salubrious effect on the paper.

Then another big ingredient is time—hours and longs of hours and late hours. Finally add a good make-up, a fine printer, a good look at your work, a laugh—and you might end up with an All-American paper.

But it isn't quite as certain as death and taxes.

'Sited SUB---Sank Same'

Mark Twain, who had friends in both places, preferred not to express any preference between heaven and hell.

"One of the biggest events of my life was the time I shipped to Japan to see if the Yanks were a fighting force," he adds. "We left San Francisco, traveled down the coast to Valsparano, Chile, which we reached in 16 days. From there we went around the tip of South America."

"We were two months in Buenos Aires. During that time I became well acquainted with the city and met a fine young American who became a close friend. I came home with enough pictures to fill an album. Travel has always been my favorite pastime."

Dean of Medicine

by Ruth Higgins

Orval Dean who has tried a lot of different vocations, including farming, logging, truck driving, and Merchant realestate, thinks he might end up as a doctor.

And it won't be long until he makes his vocation. His application has been accepted at the University of Washington medical school. This is a small achievement.

Many pre-med hopefuls still dream, "I might end up as a doctor—" but you might end up with an All-American paper.

Judge Rules Seizure Illegal

Steel SEIZURE ILLEGAL? is a legal move destined to have repercussions throughout the country. Federal Judge Frank M. Moss, who presided over the trial, that the seizure of the steel industry by President Truman was "without authority in law," and the Constitution Judge Fine also ruled that the arguments that the President had "inherent" powers authorizing the seizure, saying that for the court to agree to such an argument would invalidate public confidence in the very edifice of the government as it is known today: the Constitution.

"POLICE ACTION TAKES TOLL." The latest reports from the fight ing front in Korea revealed the total of United Nations casualties in the "police action" has rocketed to an unofficial figure of 480,000. On the basis of meager figures, UN officials estimated that the total battle figures were about one-third as great during the 1950-51 ones armicope negotiation period. Recent field reports have indicated that the true casualty estimates continued to wrangle over details of the delicate prisoner exchange process.

PACIFIC WAR FINALLYOVER. At 8:30 a.m. Sunday morning the Japanese-American war finally came to an end with the ratification of a peace treaty between the United States and Japan. The terms involved in the World War II have also ratified it, leaving 38 nations yet to sign.

Spring Play Opens May 15; Set Amidst Chivalry, Magic

A "Connecticut Yankee In King Arthur's Court", spring play to be presented by the speech department, will have its campus premiere May 15 in Gravis gymnastics, announced Prof. Floyd W. Chapman.

There will be no other publications, May 17, and again on May 24 following the council banquet.

The play is an up-to-date adaption of Mark Twain's famed book of the same name by playwright John G. Fuller. It is a comedy that tells the "impossible" story of Hank Bennett, a young American cadet coming out of college, who was knocked out by an explosion during an escape attempt. He awakes in the legend-land of King Arthur's Court, in the age of chivalry and magic.

Adams, Kretz Establish All-Time Grid Records

Since Adams and Ed Kretz, Whitworth's all-time receiving and grid combination have established all-time receiving records, it was revealed by National Collegiate Athletic Bureau officials recently.

"In small college circles, "Adams'" statistics are records in every department. No professional receiver is returning with sufficient records to threaten these marks, at least for another year." NCBA compilations director Steve Bond, Jr., said.

"As far as we have been able to ascertain Kretz's figures are at present second highest in the nation's small colleges," Bond said.

Adams, in a four year college football career led the small college Polson, Doherty Win Top Honors

Ralph Polson and Jim Doherty hold the second and third highest places in national basketball scoring honors according to the figures recently published by the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball.

Following the almost legendary career tour, Polson to O'Bren to Polson to Washington State Conference tussle, again at home.

Adams' football career led the small college conference champion basketball, team, on the 1952 National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, a recent Associated Press release reported.

Polson was a second team choice on the 1952 National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball All-American team. He demonstrated that he was pro material when he punched up a 100 yards with the ball. In three NAIB tourney games at Kona City last March.

"A good team has picked him, and I hope he makes it," coach Jolly Jim McGrew commented. The starop, seven-inch Polson, overshadowed Jolly Jim's team to its first conference win last winter.

Tennis Team Plays Central

Clyde Matters' strong tennis team starts its drive for their fourth consecutive conference title this afternoon when they meet the Central Washington Wildcats on the home campus.

Tomorrow they take on the Whitman Missionaries in a non-conference tussle, again at home. Last meeting the Whitmen rumbled over a good Gonzaga team 6 to 1. The G-Men plan to play the Wildcats on their home court. Regionals too in Washington State College league by only loss of one match.

New York Cage Clubs Bids Polson to Professional Play

Ralph Polson, towering star center of Whitworth's Evergreen conference champion basketball team, and the nation's no. 2 scorer, has received a bid to play professionally with the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association. A recent Associated Press release reported.

If the three-way meet with Central and Cheney was an indication of the Pirate's potential they should do right all in the conference meet.

Pirates Battle CWC At Ellensburg Today

Whitworth's fighting baseball team travels across state to battle the Central Washington Wildcats in a double header at Ellensburg today.

Local fans undoubtedly admit the White could lose—judging by their four defeats, it is only one win, record to date.

Whitman Wins First

First day adventure, the visiting Whitman Missionaries garnered their hosts, to give Whitworth a 7-6-2 ticking. Again, on Tuesday bitter downpour rival Gonzaga took revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of the Pirates, when they blasted out a 23-11-6 victory over the formidable Bucs. A record combination of 15 walks and 10 errors accounted for any runs the Bucs didn't earn.

The Pirates finally managed to get a win when they tumbled with the White in a home doubleheader but Saturday. The Wild- men took the opener 4-6, but they lost the second game to the White when big Fritz Benden "muprised" home Ed Kretz with the winning tally after second sacker Bud Berry dropped a fly ball and tripped to drive in two runs.

Canyo Holds Wildcards

Von Coste held the Wildcats to three hits and no earned runs, but found the score mounting as turnovers errors allowed all five runs.

Lloyd Pinson fell victim to errors in Tuesday's battle with the Savages from Eastern Washington as the Bucs dropped a 6-5-2 game.

Wednesday's game with the Missionaries of Whitman college was cancelled because of rain.

Archer Forgets Something

Toxopilosis at Whitworth could probably tell famous archer Howard Hill something that he apparently doesn't know about his sport.

Hill is the only man alive—or dead—who is known to have killed an elephant, a charging bull elephant, with a bow and arrows.

His story of his near impossible and fatal feat is recounted in the May issue of Sports Afield. It was by no means a refusal to hunt, but a refusal to hunt the herd from which he intended to shoot a bull—silently and "safely"—from upwind ambush.

But a last-minute wind change altered the giant beasts' direction, and an immediate screaming, trumpeting frenzy charged the two stalkers.

The guide fled in terror; fear paralyzed Hill. But he automatically drew his great bow, and a whimpering from the red gods caused the leader to veer. It screamed in pain as Hill's arrow drove into its body, and kept turning.

Hill's second arrow, unfurled thirty inches into the chest of an enraged, pachyderm with a whistling broadhead. But of course Whitworth students would tell Hill that he should qualify that statement. For many know that when that even more famous archer—Cupid—casts an arrow from his high-braced bow, the shock can be profound.

Whazzamatter With Zopf?

Five years of college study for pharmacists was proposed by Dr. Louis C. Zopf of the University of Iowa, national meeting of pharmacists in Spokane last week.

It isn't hard to guess what's troubling Zopf. Probably pharmacists ranks, like those of Washington school teachers', are becoming overcrowded. And so an effort is being made to close ranks; the squeeze play begins, via the high sounding "more education, better qualified personnel" appeal.

How long does it take a competent person to learn even a slightly complicated profession like pharmacy? When is enough formal education attained?

One approaches the true meaning of enough education when an intelligent mind has been trained to be ceaselessly curious, to be forever engaged in the search for gleaming pebbles and ore bodies of knowledge.

If four years won't do it, neither will five.

If my people who are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land.

For the eyes of Jehovah run to and fro throughout the whole earth to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him. (II Chronicles 7:14, 16).
Hardyson Announces Quest For Average Whit Couple

A survey taken among Whitworth students by the sociology department has resulted in a world picture of what the department calls an "average couple," according to Dick Hardyson of the public relations office. Hardyson is interested in finding the campus background man and woman that best fit the description indicated by the survey.

According to the study, the

Heaps Wins CE Election

Marrin Heaps and Howard Amundson have been elected as president and vice-president, respectively, of next year's Chris- ten Federated Women's Association. Miss Mary Whitmyer, group advisor has announced.

"The question is," Hardyson says, "what Whitworth man and woman most nearly fit the picture of this average couple; the public relations office simply wants to find them. Who knows? Maybe it's your roommates, or it might even be you."

He urges that students indicate to him the people they feel most nearly fit the description.

"Just jot down your nominations and put them in box 16," Hardyson advises.

Bekowes Slates Recital Tonight

Wally Bekowes, senior music major from Spokane, will be presented a recital of classical music by Miss Baby Heritage in the fine arts building.

Bekowes is a member of the varsity quartet and has sung with the a cappella group for four years.

The program will start with "Honor and Arms," Handel; "Lied der gute Bruder," K. Weissenberg; "I. L. Roque" Mendelssohn. His second group will include a selection from "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; third group has "Madam butterfly," Verdi; "L'elisir d'amore," Donizetti; and "The Old Maid and the King," Poulenc. Bekowes also plans to perform a vocal solo by Bruch. The program will be followed by a reception at the home of his host brother, Robert Bekowes, in Country Homes.

Adams Gets Chance With Pre-Gridders
Sam Adams, Whitworth college's Little All-American end, will join the San Francisco 49ers' professional football team next fall on a look-see basis. It has been announced by the athletic department here.

Adams was contacted several days ago by a representative of the '49ers who flew from San Francisco to talk to the Whit club.

Will Pay Expenses
Adams was informed yesterday that the team has offered to pay all his expenses to have him come to San Francisco to try out with the club, and that he had been assured of a very good chance to stay with the club.

Adams gained wide attention recently when it was announced by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau that he held two new records in every department of punting-receiving among the nation's small colleges.

Catches 120 Passes
During his career at Whitworth, Adams was on the receiving end of 120 passes, good for 2,191 yards and 32 touchdowns. As a freshman, he had nine touchdowns passes and led the nation in that department.

He had his best season as a sophomore in 1949 when he was tops nationally in the number of completions. That year he caught 66 passes for 881 yards and 8 touchdowns. His total yards that year set a new season record.

Fred Ridenour, big Pirate slasher, has helped the baseball team out in several tight spots this season. A key football player as well, Ridenour looks forward to three more seasons with the Whites.

Coach Cleve Matters, and his ten-man team, have shown off a brand of tennis that has brought victory after victory.

The team, composed mostly of freshmen and two upperclassmen, shows possibilities of developing into one of the top teams in the northwest.

Dave Decker, a freshman who for two years took the men's singles in Spokane, shows that in all his matches why he hasn't lost a single game in doubles this year.

Dave Wackerbarth, also a freshman, gives good showings in doubles with Decker. In the win column, can be counted upon for a cool, hard game of tennis. Along with Decker, in the doubles, Wackerbarth makes an effective partner for Dale.

At Franklin, a freshman; Mal Bolon, a senior, and Ed Stern, graduate make up the squad which holds substantial wins over Budget, Gonzaga and Central, dropping only one to WSCC by 4-0.

Return matches are slated with the above and with Cheney.

Bucs Take Savages 6-3; Knuckle to Gonzaga 3-4

Whitworth's fast improving track team hosts Eastern Washington and Central Washington to-morrow in the only meet of the season to be held on the Whitworth track.

The Whit track fans will get to see for the first and probably last time this season such Pirate stars as Don Murray and Ron Schoeller in the dashers; Mary Hayes and Denny Berry in the middle distances; Dave Gallagher, Jake Cox, and Paul Johnson in the distance runs and hurdle men like Sam Adams, Don King, Bill McGinnough, and Wally Opstad.

In the weight the thirteenth squad will have outstanding performers in Ken Peach, Bob Beard and Bob Ward. Jumping events will have Adams, Scott, King, Ward and Bob Strong in the time trials.

Whitworth's diamond men will host the Pirates next Wednesday and that game will also complete the four game slate between the two schools.

An error in a town paper stated that baseball was on an Evergreen basis but it definitely is not. Baseball remains the only sport in the Conference on an independent basis.

Bucs Take Savages 6-3; Knuckle to Gonzaga 3-4

Whitworth's diamond men conspired with themselves with their Tuesday-63 win over the Eastern Washington Eagles, after dropping yesterday's close one to Gonzaga 3-4.

The Pirates' "but not cold" baseball team definitely held only Eastern Washington Tuesday afternoon, when the Pirates handed the Savages a 6-3 ticking to gain revenge for an earlier defeat by Eastern.

For the first time this year the Bucs played errorless ball and backed up pitcher Ray Beach with an air tight defense and a seven hit attack.

The win evened the series with the Savages at a win apiece.

Thursday afternoon the Pirates played their intra-city rival trio Gonzaga at Underhill park.

Tuesday the Pirates play another game with Eastern Washington here at Whitworth. The Whits and the Easterners will then wind up their season in traditional style on May 20th, in a game at Eastern.
Graduation Week Approaches

College Head To Grant Degrees to 115 Seniors

Seniors, numbering 115, will step forward May 26 to receive their diplomas from President Frank F. Warren at Whitworth's sixty-second commencement exercises scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. at Jay F. Graves hall.

State Supreme Court Judge Matthew W. Hill will deliver the commencement address, his topic being "What Is Past Is Prologue." Of the seniors graduating, 91 are to receive Bachelor of Science degrees and 24 Bachelor of Science degrees.

Frazier Directs

The college orchestra under the direction of Dr. Arthur Fraser of the music department, will provide the music for the event which will include "Processional" from Part I by Wagner, "America" and "Toccata" by Trenck, and "Overture" by Mozart.

Harlone Kenneth Moore, one of the graduating seniors, will sing as a soloist "Surely the Time for Making Songs."

special Awards

Special Awards. The various members of the graduating class will also be presented during the program. Dick Hager, graduating magna cum laude with the President's Cup, will be formally presented with the president's cup, given annually to an outstanding student in achievement and scholarship.

List of Students

Among other awards and trophies to be presented during the program are the Alumni Honor Award, certificates to those seniors listed in this year's Who's Who among students, the Phi Alpha Omicron Award and the Charles W. White Trophy for outstanding work in speech and drama.

Identity Certain With His Name

in a discussion of legal aspects of names. Mr. J. B. O. "But if any one has the name I've given," Henry Heer-odhag noted, "it's an argument about it—he's a relative."

WSSF Chapel Kick-off Nets $26,272 To Launch Campaign

Wednesday's World Student Service fund kick-off netted $28,272, Shirley Morrison, campus campaign, has reported. The need for donations to the fund, not as an act of charity, but rather as an expression of concern with the worldwide academic community, was stressed by the Rev. Leon Marion, WSSF representative, whose theme is "in the gulf of almost 15 centuries to the last days of the W. H. Will del.iver the fund Drive.

Delegate to General Assembly: Presbyterian church, USA, to be held May 20-22 in New York will be attended by the Rev. Marion. Other members of the assembly will be those who accompanied his wife, daughter Mary Anne, and Evelyn, who is to help to visit the Hartford, Conn., hospital, where studies are being made in birth trauma, and brain surgery in infants.

Goodbye To Exacting Job

"Do you know I'd like to be an editor," said Mr. Dooley.

"I'm a must be a hard job," said Mr. Hennessey. "I've have to know so much."

"Tis a hard job," said Mr. Dooley, "but 'tis a fascinatin' wan. They's nawthin' so hard as mindin' yer own business, and a idler never has to do that."

Observations of Finley Peter Dunne's Dr. Dooley notwithstanding, the opportunity to mind our own business became increasingly attractive on this twenty-sixth, and last, of the year's Whitworthians.

It was not a year that we would ever want to do over again. But even some of its darkest moments had its compensations. It was a genuine privilege to work with a staff whose collective talents were enough to win for the Whitworthian the highest rating in the Associated Collegiate Press' nationwide survey.

Herewith we express our gratitude to that staff. To capable, critical layout editor Dick Gray, who will help shape next year's pages also our congratulations, our commiseration, and the proffer of our help.

And again our thanks to the gang—to forthright Flossie Jones Stevens, first semester news editor; to brilliant, tireless Roberta Duran, society editor; to dependable Mary Bollinger, feature editor; to Ron Schoessler, news editor, to Greg Sanford, sports editor.

And to Pat Waddell, who across one year never failed us steadfast, will always be High in our regard, as will Larry Strickland, cartoonist, who helped the campus smile.

The incoming staff was bolstered by three outstanding additions—Ruth Higgins, poet and feature writer, Carol Thompson, who always turned in good copy, and big Fred Ridenour whose talent will take him far in journalism to go in journalism.

Our thanks go to Alden Winn, whose copy never needed revision; to Al Barley and Don Warber for helping our late-watching staff; to Jake Jacobs and Dave Strawn for last minute copy; and for the help of Howard Haas and Nancy Bette. Nor do we intend to overlook Ray Woods, business manager; Dennis Roff, or Tom Fowler with our expression of appreciation for a job well done.

And we hope thatProf.-A. O. Gray, adviser, who has so generously shared his journalistic theory, will have his days brightened next fall by a wave of students, with that rare potential for becoming journalists par excellence.

Our apologies now to—all for the mistakes we've made. We're glad we won't again have to fight the battle of make-up with a fatigue blunted mind, glad that we won't next year so often be part of that scene. When the bats and the black ducks sleeply wade out the wee hours over snow-slick Spokane streets.

And we're glad—and thankful—that there is a God whose strength is made perfect through weakness.

GI Bill To Korea Veterans?

KOREAN VETS "MAY" GET BENEFITS—The house veterans affairs committee on a bill to grant a Black Marketable Veterans (D Texas) that would provide educational and loan benefits similar to those received by World War II vets, with the exception of unemployment compensation, passed by the Senate and is expected to become law.

An article in the Associated Press under the caption "Korean veterans to receive GI benefits" says "The legislation, which is being discussed in Congress, is expected to pass and be signed by the President by the end of the month."

The legislation is expected to provide educational and loan benefits for Korean veterans who served in the service since June 1, 1950, and who received honorable discharges.

DRI BONES—A Carnegie hospital this week was the scene of the revelation of a 3000 year old hanging victim. The body was discovered over 3000 years ago in a pagan religious ceremony, was brought into the Aberdeen Institute and X-rayed. The body is so perfectly preserved, including the skeleton, that it lay in a swamp for 2000 years. The plastic coating scientists managed to get what is believed to be some of the oldest sets of fingerprints in existence.

BLACK MARKET IN KOREA—More than $5,000,000 worth of goods has been imported into Korea in three years at the instigation of several large preparatory committee disclosed this week. The army claims that more than half of that sum has been recovered from the stores that are openly selling the goods.

Bucs To Vie With Eastern

Whitworth track men warm up for the conference meet this week and by meeting their arch rivals from Cheney in a dual meet today.

McGregor plans to take about 18 men to the conference meet which will be held at British Columbia, May 25 and 26.

According to Al Miller, stated, "It will be awfully close between Eastern and us. We have about a 50-50 chance."

Ken Peach who has betted the Evergreen conference shot put record several times this year is almost sure to better the record in his favorite event. Don Murray is favored to win the dash events as he has betted the school record in the 100 and 220.

Holy Names Downs Whits' Tennis Team

Whitworth's women's varsity tennis team defeated by a 3-2 score at Holy Names academy, Thursday, May 7, coach Allen Chetka has disclosed.

Ken Peach's victory was defeated by Marje Sposito with a score of 6-3 and 6-4. Ron Schoessler was also defeated 6-2 and 7-6 by Jean Alts-Whitehouse. Whitworth's Virginia Long opened the game advantage over the Bucs with a 2 and 1/2 points for the Bucs include weight men Ken Peach, Bob Scott, and Decker.

Game, May 20

The never-seen-before Pirates will wind up the current baseball season next Tuesday when they take on their league rivals from Eastern Washington college in the final game of their four game series. The Savages hold a one game lead over the Bucs with a 2 and 1/2 record.

Eastern invaded Stadium field Tuesday afternoon and found the Pirates playing the part of "perfect host," handing the Savages a 5-3 win. The Savages took advantage of their own potent batting attack to knock the Pirates from a comfortable 3-0 lead. Lite Person turned in a good performance, striking out 9 Easterners, although he gave up 9 hits.

Howard Haas, left fielder, is back in the Pirate lineup after being sidelined by an injury. He is currently batting .353.

Baseball Season Will Finish With Cheney Game, May 20

In their final intercity clash with the Gonzaga, Builders, Whitworth rallied to win a 14-10 victory in a hit-laden game, to make the first time they have won more than two games in a season from the Zags in five years. The runs total marked the best single game score of the season for the Pirates.

Gonzaga jumped on starter Ron Beach in the early innings of Wednesday's game, and drove him to the showers in the third inning. Little Tom Catoni who came on had one hit in six innings, but managed to bear down in the clutch to win the victory after Whitworth trailed 7-6 in the fourth inning.

Howard Haas, left fielder, is back in the Pirate lineup after being sidelined by an injury. He is currently batting .353.

Top Pirate Track Men Prepare for Long Jaunt

Whitworth's top track and tennis stars will enter the NAIA tourney held in Abilene, Texas, June 8 and 7 and the NCAA at Berkeley, Cal., June 13 and 14, according to Jim McGregor, athletic director.

"Via Top Competitions"

McGregor said he was sending the squad in order to give several of his best performers a chance to compete against top competitors in the nation.

Those who will make the trip include weight men Ken Peach, Ken Bearden, and Bob Scott; dash men Don Murray and Ron Schoessler; hurler Sam Adams, and distance runner Jake Cox.

Tennis Stars Go

The two freshmen tennis stars, Dale Decker and Dave Wackerbarth, will also go along. Wackerbarth is undefeated in seven matches this year, and Decker, the Whit's number one man, has lost only one.

This is the first time that Whitworth has made a bid for track recognition outside of the Pacific Northwest.

Bekowies Says Dorms Already Booked Solid

Pre-registration figures are ahead of those of any time last year, and all available dormitory space is already solid, Holmquist Bekowies, director of admissions, reports. About 460 students were on deck for the first semester last fall.

"Almost half of our students come from Spokane homes," Mr. Bekowies explained. "We have dormitory space for 420 students. But we will assist any student in finding a suitable place to live. That's part of our job."

The list of new students coming to Whitworth indicates that most are, naturally, from Wash­ington. But more than 100 old and new California students are expected. Oregon and Idaho, represented in that order, will constitute the next most numerous groups.

Many Expected

Many students are expected from Colorado and Minnesota. Possibly we will send representatives to appear in Pennsylvania, David L. Turner, Ronald Singley and Owen Whiting represent the Keystone state.

And there will be several students from faraway places, included among these will be Amy Gubasz from Joliet, Illinois, and Iraq, from neighboring Teheran. Iran, will come Shaba Purna, Eddie Adams will come all the way from Tokyo, Japan; Jane Ke from Hong Kong, China.

At least four new students are expected from Alaska. These are William P. Edenshaw, David Slinen, Minnie Lorraine, and Mary A. Walkup.

Duvall Plans Thesis Work

Dr. R. Fenton Duvall plans to spend most of the next month in the East doing research work on his doctorate thesis in history, college officials disclose.

Two weeks of his time will be spent at Washington D.C. in the national archives of the Library of Congress, one week will be spent at Harrisburg, Pa., in the state archives. The remainder of his time will be spent "around Pennsylvania."

Dr. Duvall has completed all his work toward his doctorate except the dissertation. He received an honorary L.L.D. from the King's College, Newcastle, Del., June 8 during commencement exercises.

Duvall Assumes New Post

As Whit Alumni Secretary

William F. Sauve, Whitworth alumus and former Associated Press staffer, has been appointed executive secretary of the college's alumni association, succeeding Fred Hardesty who resigned last month. President Frank F. Warren has announced.

Sauve will also be director of student activities and assistant public relations director of the college. His duties will include promotion of the projected Hardwick Marimac Student Union building and the handling of radio, athletic, and student publicity.

The general newspaper and magazine program of the college will be directed by A. G. Gray, head of the journalism department.

Sauve received a B.A. degree in journalism from Whitworth in 1949 and a B.S. degree in 1950.

While as undergraduate he was executive editor of the Whitworthian, the college weekly. He is a member of Delta Psi Omega and Alpha Psi Omega.

As a navy veteran of World War II Sauve took part in 18 major South Pacific engagements.

New Building To Cost $150,000

"Expect To Be Occupied By Middle of September"

Mid-September is expected occupancy date of the new $150,000 administration building now being constructed near the campus. Wall street excavation is under way in accordance to Mr. J. Paul Snyder, director of college finance.

Tremendous Step"

"In completion will be a tremen­dous step forward in the building of a greater Whitworth," Dr. Frank F. Warren, president of the college pointed out. Dr. Warren, head of the college since 1949, is known as its "builder-president."

The new structure is part of a proposed half-million dollar ad­ministrative, auditorium, and class­room building. Construction of the latter two units will take place as soon as funds become available, Mr. Snyder indicated.

Surrounded by Pines

Surrounded by tall pines, the building now echoes with the sound of trunks and tractors, and the chink of brickmasons' hammers. A slick new floor deep has been goughed across the loop lawn for heat and electrical connections.

Heat is to come from the heating plant more than a mile distant. Connection for the eight inch welded-steel pipe is made between the Henry and Rits arts building.

Architectural style of the new building is modern English Gothic.

Rodgers Writes For Discovery

Mrs. H. A. Rodgers, Whitworth college staff member, is the author of "Teaching With Pictures," an article which appears in the summer issue of the overseas church school magazine published by the Presbyterian church, U.S.A.

The article is based on a survey conducted by Mrs. Rodgers among nearly 300 churches in the popular­ity and teaching value of various Christian art materials.

Mrs. Rodgers is assistant college librarian and a member of the Whitworth graduate department of Christian education.
Whitworth Steps Forward

Whitworth college is again on the march. Dreams of men of long ago are crystallizing to fruition in the new administration building now going up on campus. It is to be the first part of the proposed half-million dollar administration, auditorium, and classroom building that will be the crown jewel of the many buildings arranged on a solid layout.

The criterion universally used by educators for judging the worth of a school is whether or not it is growing. Growth means health, purpose, advance. By this standard Whitworth must be graded high.

For the college has come a long way, in the full sense of the word. It began its experiment as a tiny Presbyterian college at Sumner, Wash. It was founded by venerable Dr. George Whitworth, who had already served as the first president of the University of Washington.

In 1899 the college moved to the Mason estate at Tacoma. Then in 1918 its board of trustees raised $100,000 in order to transfer the still-small college across state to Spokane where it was believed conditions were better for expansion and service.

A 40 acre grand old three miles north of the city limits was acquired for its present campus. But growth across the years was slow until 1940 and the advent of its present president, Dr. Frank F. Warren. Then things began to happen. The college's board of trustees and its president, combined to create a greater Whitworth.

The building is to be a memorial to the historian's calendar over the years. The historical matrix is imbedded in Christian philosophy; nor has this been modified by time. Today it is wholeheartedly dedicated to leading men and women into paths of understanding and truth.

It is a growing college—dedicated to growth.

Editor Asks for Volunteers

Good staff members are at a premium on any college campus, and they will be especially needed on next year's Whitworthian. In order to maintain the All-American rating set by last year's staff, the best possible job will have to be produced by the people who are willing to spare nothing in time, energy and effort.

There will be openings in all phases of newspaper work—copy, advertising, page design, and letter writing will be needed. Opportunities will also be available to learn page make-up, proofreading, copyreading and art design. Workers will also be needed in the business department. Two secretaries will be needed to assist in the editorial department.

Here is a field of work that is working on the Whitworthian is no picnic. It requires many hours of hard work, dependable people, and good writing. There are always enough jobs for those who are interested, with other students of the college who are looking to work with students that will develop friendships that will last for life.

Join up with the Whitworthian and serve your school as well as yourself by gaining experience in the field of journalism. Either write in care of Dick Gray, editor of the Whitworthian today, or come into the editorial offices in the fall for further information.

President Warren Surveys Preparations for Coming Fall

by President Frank F. Warren

It is hard to realize that summer is already half gone. There have been busy weeks as we prepare the buildings for the new year. Because of growing out of classrooms and classrooms from Ballard and McKenzie, a major job has been done to prepare the first floors of these buildings for women's dormitory rooms. And of course slowly but surely work progresses on new Administration building.

We did advise committee to bring the faculty members who left us this past spring, but we are delighted in the qual- ity of the new ones who all ready have been appointed. We can assure you that you too will be greatly pleased when you meet them.

Everything augurs a great and mighty year at Whitworth with an unusually talented group of incoming students. As we come to midsummer, it appears that we shall have at least as many students as last year—perhaps more. All dormitories are well filled. A good interest is shown by the Spokane students. The number of international students is on the increase and is higher. We feel that in every aspect of competitive intercollegiate life, new Whitworth will be at the top. Are you coming just to receive, or will you have something to give? Are you going to be on the side lines watching others and perhaps criticize their efforts a little, or will you be in there giving for all you are worth? You know in your attitude the answer to what kind of a year this will be. Spiritually the year will be just what the student body of Whitworth make it.

As you can imagine, if you live purely as a Christian you should live as you take a personal interest in the work of the college, so you will grow and so the college will grow. Better Whitworth. Be assured that administration will do all in its power to build a great college educationally, spiritually. But the actual success of the pro- gram lies in your hands. I pray that each and every student coming to Whitworth this fall turn over a new leaf of cooperation and with the earnest desire to work. I promise to do my very best to give, and to give all to the college that my heart feels is best. One thing is sure, Whitworth cannot but have its greatest year.

Women's Conference Chooses 2 Speakers

Mrs. Robert Munger, Berkeley, Cal., and Mrs. Walter Hanseck, Seattle, Wash., will speak on the theme "Judgment of a School." as the annual women's conference at Whitworth, June 16, has announced.

Marion Jenkins, dean of women at Whitworth, has been named as committee ad- viser, has revealed.

Under the chairmanship of Miss Mary Angley, Cal., committees have been appointed for the arrangements since last April.

Local Schools Hire 9 Recent Graduates

Nine recent Whitworth graduates have been hired in the Spokane school sys- tem.

These are Betty Black, Marjery Cobert, Wayne Conner, Elizabeth Cresswell, Donald Holmer, Lewis Mesen, Kenneth Warren, and Marlyn White.

Chapman To Sing Lead Role In City Opera Presentation

Dr. Gustav Schuitem hast- ened to say that he had received permission he thought Prof. Benjamin Neuschel head of the science department has made during the latter's recent European-Canard playing the lead role in "The Consul." He revealed.

"The Consul" was composed by Mr. Floyd W. Chapman this fall in Spokane. The 10-member cast is now in rehearsal. Professor Chapman, baritone, plays John. The role of Elizabeth Ols, senior from Los Angeles, with an opera scholarship. The role he will play in the opera is gaudy. Professor Chapman revealed.

"The Consul" is coming from members of Spokane Flamingo Opera Players. Rehearsals are currently being held at the home of Antonio Flamingo, local pianist and music professor.

First Performance

Professor Chapman has been with the "Consul" a total of six months. "The Consul," he will be his first performance with the company.

The Whitworth speech instructor has studied voice with Pietro Claudio of Los Angeles, former direc- tor of Chicago Opera company, and under the guidance of A. J. Campbell of New York City, and under the direction of Leopoldo Bruegel, Held- elberg, Germany.

Will Tour Northwest

"The Consul" will have its first performance in the Pacific Northwest after playing for Spokane audiences in November. Included in the program will be productions of "Fingal" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." The Whitworth school has chosen them. "The Consul" will be a world new modern opera that has had an great deal of success since "The Consul" is a world new modern opera that has had an great deal of success since the original production last year.

The music drama has a European setting with the source of secret police added to lighten suspense.
Excursionists Take Trip On St. Joe River

Forty-nine students, faculty members and others assembled at Idaho's St. Joe river Saturday, July 17 for an outing for Whitworth's first summer session.

Cars took the group the 35 miles from campus to Coeur d'Alene. Idaho. There they boarded the chartered cruise Ssewereews explained by John Flanney.

The captain who has made himself famous with his boat trip set out to catch salmon, singing, and pointing out interesting sights.

The travelers stopped for swimming and picnice supper at the most scenic spots, journeying into Lake Chateau. Songs by Betty Ann Joseph and Mrs. I. M. Munt entertained voyagers on the return trip.

Next week Geographic magazine rates the cruise "the shadow of St. Joe," one of the most beautiful excursions in the world.

Mrs. Ernestine Evans, summer session social chairman, organized the trip with Mrs. Estella N. Telf. "Yell. and Mr. Luther K. Telf. junior. F. D. and Mrs. Henry A. Hudgens. Mrs. W. V. Chapman, transportation; Mrs. Tiffi, hotel岩石; Mrs. W. V. Chapman. R. M. Stine, William F. Swayne, publicity.

Hardesty Takes Publicity Position

Dick Hardesty, who resigned June 1 as the college's publicity director, is now in a similar position with the Desert hotels group. James A. Crew, managing director of the group, has announced.

Hardesty is to have charge of promotional work for the Desert hotels group, located in Coeur d'Alene and the Pacific hotel and Desert Carson Inn. The latter is a new multimillion-dollar construction at the crest of Spokane's famous freeway highway.

A '49 graduate, Hardesty had served as associate publicity director since October 1950.

Remodeling, Painting Make Many Changes On Campus

Remodeling, moving and painting activities are making a lot of evident changes on campus.

Biggest project other than the Administration building is working being done in惩罚 and McMillan halls to provide 15 more dormitory rooms for students.

Present carpenter shop in the basement of the science building has been made into a laboratory for the physics department. The steel butter that behind Washington hall will be moved near the heating plant where it will serve as a chippewer shop.

Gammell to Attend Intelligence School

Second Lt. R. Dean Gammell, '51, an intelligence officer at Whitworth's intelligence school at Lowery air force base, Denver, Colo., has been notified in a letter to Prof. A. Gray.

Lieutenant Gammell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gammell of Kellogg, May, graduated from the 3700th officer candidate school at Larkland air force base, Tus Animas, Texas, June 30.

Gammell was business manager of the student newspaper, "The El Shave-tail." While a student here he was business manager of the Whitworthian and Newshum. He is a journalism graduate.

Questions Gett Below Surface

"Magic Cloth," a subjective text in children, was being discussed by Mrs. Estella Tiffany in her Testing and Measurement class last week.

"You ask the children this question, "she said, "and they had a magic cloth that made you invisible, what are the first three things you would do?"

"First National Bank, " mumbled Prof. Floyd W. Chapman, from the back of the room.

East-West renew friendship as Dr. Frank Warren and Kenso Kawase look at pictures of the young Whitworth freshman's father, taken 25 years ago in Japan. At that time Kawase's father was interpreter for Dr. Warren, who was teaching at Osaka Theological seminary. Here Kawase is concentrating on English studies now but plans later to study scientific agriculture and to become a farmer in Japan.

Bookstore Front Is Tranquil But Busy Days Are Ahead

Bookstore proprietor and post-office supervisor Mrs. Frances T. Hardwick, notes that when September 8 rolls around she'll be in the middle of July. Now enjoying one of the coolest, nicest weekends on campus at the "Book Store" in the basement of the gymnasium, Mrs. Hardwick expects to sell over $8,000 textbooks during the coming, always hectic, registration week.

Helped by Few

A staff of five student assistants will help Mrs. Hardwick disperse the textbooks and school supplies to the several hundred students who will cover the country during the first week. Many of the books that will be studied next winter have been on order since May 1 and most are now on the bookstore shelves.

Not only does the bookstore stock all necessary text and school supplies, but it is a modified "students' department store" as well. A quick glance at the crowded shelves reveals toothbrushes, combs, rums, shampoos, wastepaper baskets, kleeuses, hair plaits, buttons, satchels, keys, rubber tags, sockets, boot buckles, tennis balls, ping pong, golf balls, shoe polish—reel and liquid soap.

Automated Washers

"Every dormitory has an automatic washer where students may do their own laundry," Mrs. Hardwick explained. "Laundry soap is for sale of our most popular items."

Mrs. Hardwick also supervises the administrative corps. Each student has an individual mailbox assigned to him. First class mail is received and distributed twice daily. Second class mail, including newspapers, is received and distributed three times weekly, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

Guests will employ three students during their out-of-class hours. These sort and distribute mail, sell stamps, and accept packages during bulletined "open" hours.

Rainey Accepts Music Post At Junior College in Alaska

Sterling P. Rainey, 1953 graduate of Whitworth college, has been appointed head of the music department of Sheldon Jackson junior college in Alaska. Alaska Whitworth officials announced recently.

Mrs. Rainey has accepted a position there as a supervisor of the music economics practice house. A graduate of Hastings college, she previously taught home economics in the Alaska school.

Sheldon Jackson junior college is sponsored by the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian church USA, and is devoted to training the native youth of Alaska.

Well-known in music circles here, Rainey is choir director of the Carlin Park Methodist church. He was an accompanist for rehearsals of the 1951 Spokane production of the "Mistletoe" and featured soloist with the Whitworth orchestra.

A member of the Whitworth a cappella choir for two years, he was its 1951-52 president. Rainey won the 1952 Anne Car-

Kretz Takes Mentor Post

Ed Kretz, 32, who was a three-sport athlete at Whitworth, has been signed to a coaching and teaching contract at Davenport High School, John H. Hulvey, superintendent of schools there, has announced.

Kretz will coach football, basketball, and track. He replaces Pat L. Hunt, who coached Davenport gridiron and basketball for five years, and active Bi­ county league championships.

Kretz was the floor general of Whitworth’s Evergreen conference hoop champions who went to the quarter-finals in NAIB play-offs at Kansas City last March. He also averaged 15 points a game as a football passer, his successful completions being exceeded by only one other player in the all­ time records of small colleges.

He was a key player in the Whitworth-Cheny football game last fall which saw Whitworth hand its bitter rival its first Pirat defeat in 28 years. And his long shorts are credited with the buried first basketball season sweep, over this same rival, during conference cage play last winter.

Full Agenda Set

For Intramurals

A complete program of intramural sports in football, basketball, baseball, and softball is planned here this year according to assistant athletic director John Tague.

“Intramural competition between departments, regular intramural play and tournament play have been planned for this year. This fall there is a possibility that two consecutive tournaments will be able to obtain award trophies for the winning teams.”

Whitworth Players Accept Pro Offers

Ralph Polson and Sam Adams, the Pirate cage and grid performers of last season respectively, have joined professional ranks.

Polson will play with the New York National League’s Brooklyn Dodgers and Adams has linked with the San Francisco Giants. Both are reported to have received very substantial salary offers.

Sauve Attends Meet

At Idaho Playground

William Sauve, executive secretary of Whitworth alumni, represented the school at the meeting of the American Alumni council of Salt Valley, Idaho, July 14 to 20.

Coach Sees Future

As Question Mark

Jim Leumberry, Whitworth’s new grid coach, isn’t making any rash predictions about winning many — or any — football games when the Evergreen conference grid wars resume in September.

“Your year will be the start of a building program until the ultimate goal of fielding a football team that will give Whitworth its first conference championship,” Leumberry announced firmly.

But a championship team may be to or three seasons in building, he quickly pointed out. His team’s first test will be at the University of British Columbia only two weeks after registration.

An “All-Northwest” selection at Central in 1950, Leumberry had served two years as assistant coach at the University of Washington before accepting his position here.

Strategy? The new Pirat mentor revealed he would employ a split-­ formation with some double-wing for variation.

“This split gives us a running threat, and we’ll use the double­ wing for a passing threat,” he explained.

Worry Is Unknown

Right now his big worry is the unknown. Will some outstanding football man who can serve as effective replacements for gradua­

Whit Cage Prospects

Have Plenty of Height

Ee're new hoop squad members by athletic director Jolly MacGregor sounds like a very “tall story,” indeed.

MacGregor will be able to put a starting squad on the floor this fall that will average more than 6 foot, 2 inches tall.

Fluharty Story

Bearable Possible

Orril Fluharty, junior pre­ major in philosophy, reports that he has decided to drop Greek in order to take up the study of Russian Americanus.

His decision was made as a result of a recent raid a hour conducted on his and Bill McComick’s, 32 graduate’s, summer ledgeing camp near Chewelah, 60 miles north of Whitworth. After dining on Caesar, flour, coffee, grape­fruit and other good things, the two scrawled clothing and blankets in all directions, took a hike out of Fluharty’s Bible and departed.

History for the Word? It’s barely possible.
