WHITWORTH

COLLEGE

Let us just pretend awhile;
think about the good things now and then.

I think this time . . . was the best time
that we had ever known.

— Gordon Lightfoot

EDWARD B. LINDAMAN
PRESIDENT—WHITWORTH COLLEGE
1970 - 1980

A college education is not just for learning to see the world as it was and now is, but also for learning to see the world as it is becoming through emerging developments in science, the arts and the humanities. Through our college experiences we learn to be aware of the dynamics of the surrounding world. Our first response to some of these revelations is the feeling that we have lost our steering ability. We suddenly feel a new need—to decide upon and reach out for a preferred future, some guiding image that gives us strength and purpose.

During the decade of the 1970's, approximately 3,000 students graduated from Whitworth College. I like to believe that most of them feel they have acquired this anticipatory knowledge. Graduates have been exposed to faculty interchanges and fellow student dialogue during which they have received a fusion of what human beings have done in history, a glimpse of the scientific-technological knowledge currently available to human intentionality, and a sense of prophetic inquiry born of a Christian heritage and commitment.

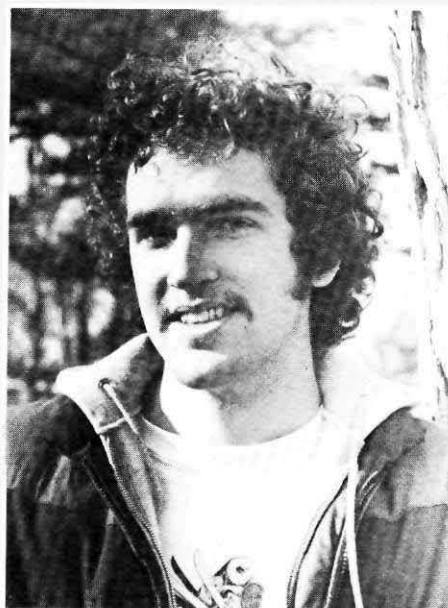

The most moving experiences of my ten years at Whitworth were always those moments of singularity when I sense in a student a fundamental breakthrough in his or her conceptual understanding of the world; When suddenly he or she saw himself or herself in the context of a newly understood surrounding reality and was no longer afraid or unsure, but inspired to enter into the problems and hopes of unfolding creation, feeling empowered, excited, humbled, awestruck, even anxious, but finally moving with the great themes of ongoing creation.

My dream is for each student to anticipate that kind of moment in his or her life.

Edward B. Lindaman

Thank you for all the kindness I have received

Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence
A time of confidences.
Long ago . . . it must be . . .
I have a photograph.
Preserve your memories;
They're all that's left you.

—Paul Simon

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL . . . .

BASEBALL . . .

A filing-cabinet of human lives where people
swarm like bees in tunneled hives,

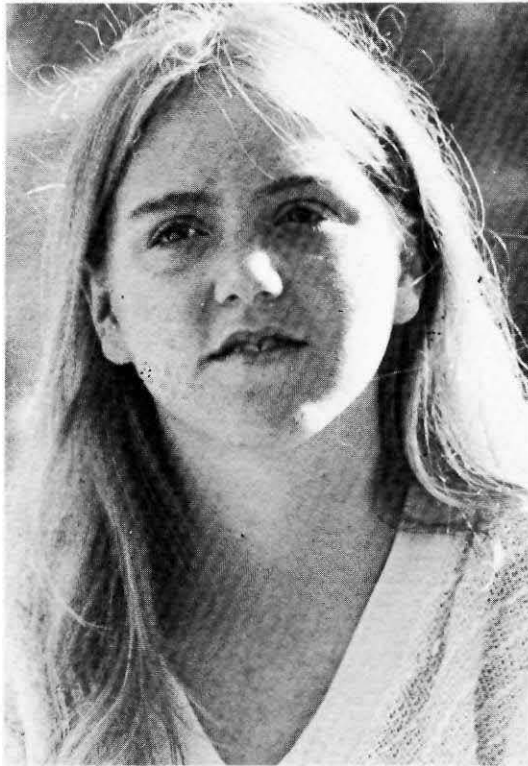

Each to his own cell in the towered comb,
 Identical and cramped—we call it home.
 —Gerald Raftery

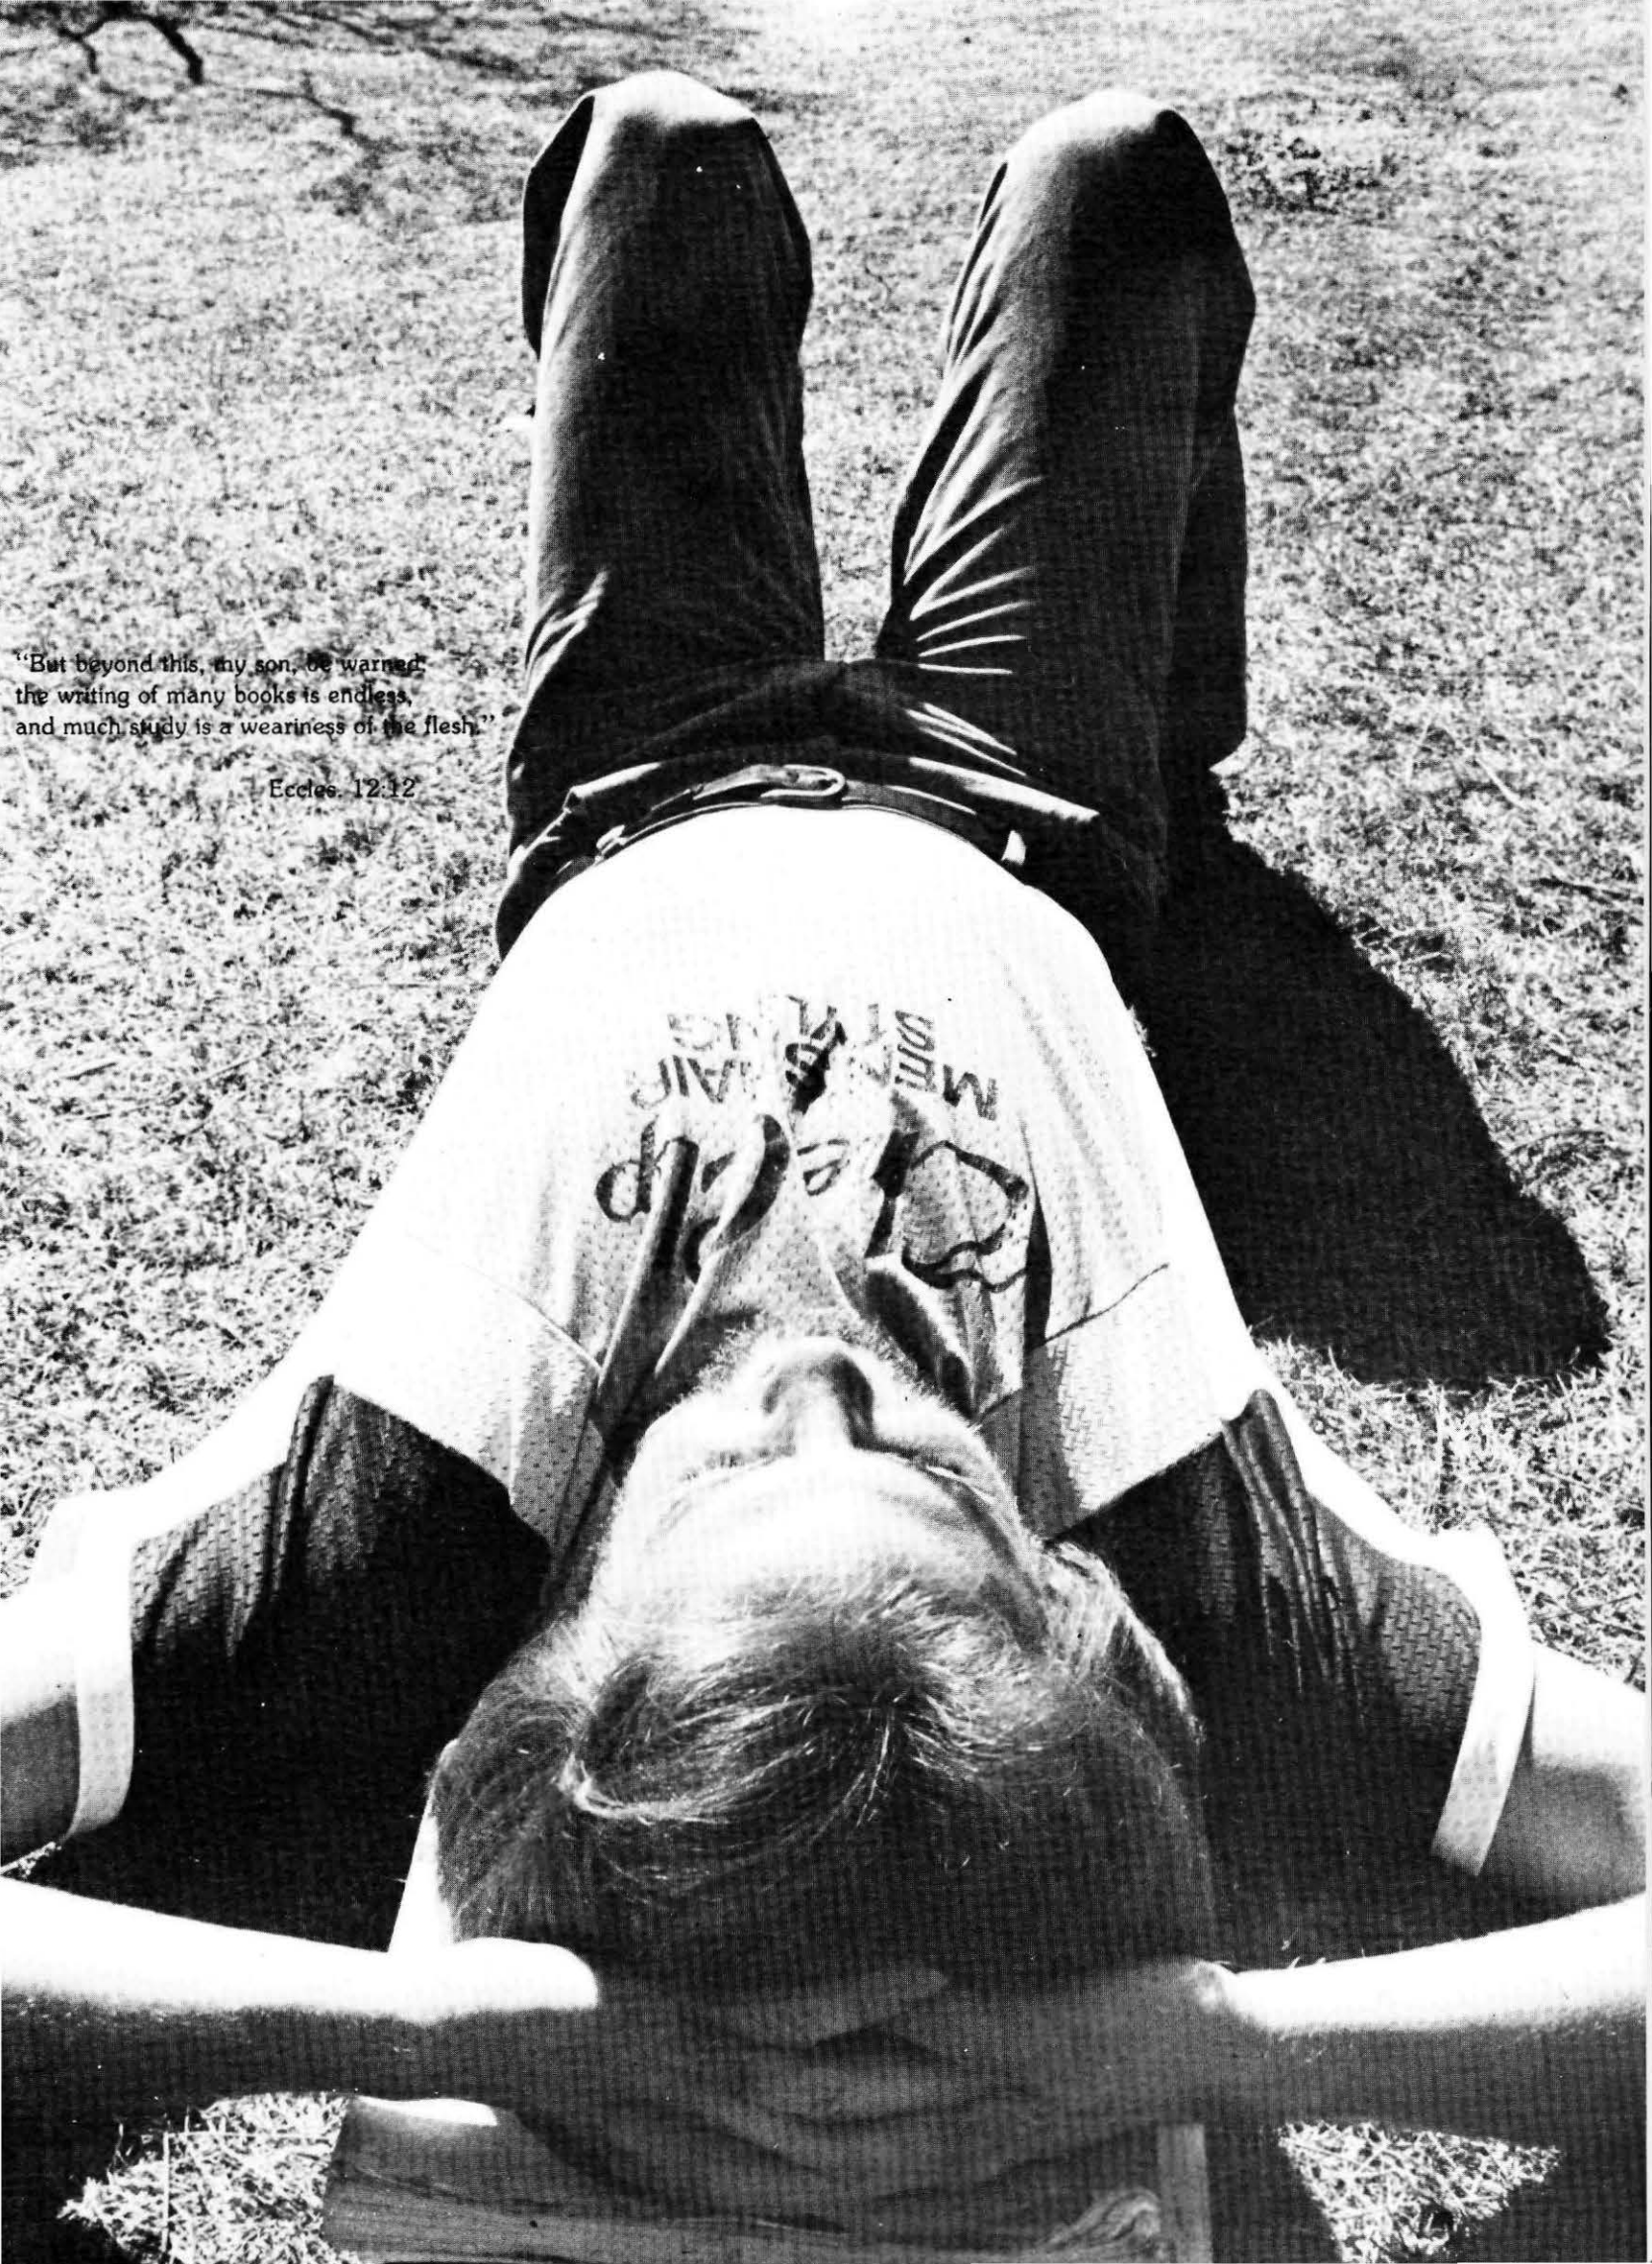

When I was growing up, my best friend was a unicorn. The others smiled at me and called me crazy. But I was not upset knowing I did not conform. I've always thought their seeing must be hazy. The unicorn and I would while away the hours playing, dancing, and romancing in the wildflowers. And we'd sing—seeing is believing in the things you see. Loving is believing in the ones you love.

—Unknown

"But beyond this, my son, be warned:
the writing of many books is endless,
and much study is a weariness of the flesh."

Eccles. 12:12

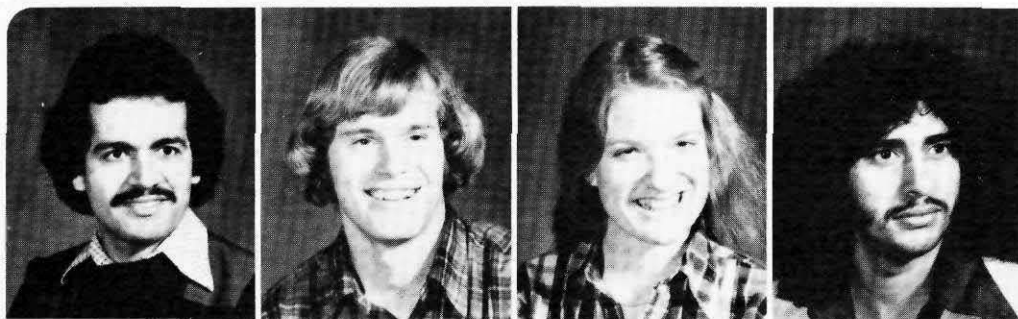

Somewhere inside you a seed has been born.
You've got to watch it grow.
Somewhere inside you a river is waiting to flow.
Will you let it go?

—Dan Fogelberg
