The Road Less Traveled

The years spent in college have often been compared to a journey. As we embarked upon this journey, the first fork in the road we came to was the choice of where to study. When we chose to study at Whitworth, we may have chosen a road less traveled.

As entering freshmen and transfer students, this road seemed desolate and unfamiliar. Perhaps it appeared overgrown with options and possibilities. It may have seemed barren of any landmarks or significance. Putting any preconceived expectations behind us, we took the first step among the pines of Whitworth College, and were welcomed into its community.

Whitworth is unique in its student body, its professors, and its integration of education and faith. This school is different from many universities because of its smaller student/faculty ratio. There are numerous outlets for students to express themselves at Whitworth, whether it be through coffee house talent shows, in student government or through Whitworth's accomplished music program.

As we spend time at this school, we find that the road we have chosen is accessible to many paths. Whitworth students compete in sports throughout the country. Students travel downtown each week to hand out sack lunches through En Christo, and travel to countries such as Nicaragua and Germany on mission trips through Diakonia. A natural extension of Whitworth College is the chance to apply the knowledge we gain around the world.

In Matthew 7:13-14, Jesus advised "Enter through the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life, and only a few find it." Certainly the road leads to eternal life. At Whitworth we are challenged to find this road, and always encouraged to follow it.

The more time we spend on the campus of Whitworth College, the more we are willing to contribute to its learning process, its activities and its community. The memories we make here will become the landmarks on this path, and our education will provide the light to see beyond it. Like the traveler in Robert Frost's poem, we will find that choosing the road to Whitworth has made all the difference . . .

The Weekend

One chilly weekend toward the end of September, 134 Whitworthians piled into many cars and a bus and headed forty-five minutes north to Davis Lake. Their destination was Camp Spalding, for The Weekend 1992.

The theme of this year's Weekend was "Real Faith", and well known singer-songwriter John Fischer spoke on the subject. He focused on the four D's, Distance, Demand, Discovery, and Dialogue. Fischer also incorporated some of his songs into his speaking. "His talks were really neat, I really liked how his singing related to what he was talking about," said junior Becki Truitt. "His songs added a different perspective," agreed freshman Sarah Marsh.

When free time came around, there were a variety of activities for people to enjoy. Mixer games, Kissing Rugby, and the Emaus Walk were all traditions upheld this year, as well as sports like football, volleyball, and sailing. Some students challenged themselves on the ropes course, while others braved the icy waters of Davis Lake. Those not quite that adventurous chose to stay in their cabins to study and catch some shuteye.

All in all, fun was had by everyone, but many were glad to return home. Sophomore Erin Mead said, "After The Weekend was over, I just wanted a nice, hot shower and a long nap!"

Community Building Day

Once again the students and faculty of Whitworth College showed their pride in our campus with their efforts on community Building Day. This is a day that has been set aside for the improvement of our campus since 1916.

Junior Chris Oswald said "If Community Building Day is any example of the enthusiasm and participation that we have this year, Whitworth's future looks very bright."

Students swept walkways, planted new shrubbery and trimmed existing shrubbery. The freshmen of Baldwin-Jenkins erected a birdbath in their courtyard, and both first and second floor girls' bathrooms were painted.

Arend Hall spent the morning cleaning up around the dorm. "There is nothing like rummaging through a box with materials dated 1981 that we found under an inch of dust," said junior Michelle Ryker.

McMillan and Ballard Halls cleaned attics, swept sidewalks, planted cherry trees, and constructed a basketball standard. Sophomore Matt Hirschfelder said "I think the basketball hoop will spread unity and friendships throughout our campus." Ballard and McMillan won first prize, which was $100 for the dorms to spend. Points were tallied according to the percentage of residents participating as well as the number of recruited faculty members.

"I'm proud to see that students take time to make the campus a better place. I had a blast painting the Stewart Hall sign in our dorm," said junior Linda Steen. Stewart Hall was commended for their 100% participation in dorm improvement.

Although this day sounds like a lot of work and no play, most Whitworth students agree that this day was a positive experience.

Tropicana Days

Homecoming took a tropical twist this year with the theme Tropicana Days. The affair kicked off on Wednesday, September 23, with dorm decorating and judging.

Each dorm was given a tropical theme to decorate with. Warrens placed first with their version of the Love Boat. Stewart Hall came into second place with their Jungle Book theme. A beached S.S. Minnow left stranded travelers such as Professor, Skipper, and Mary Ann and the rest of the crew in Arend Hall, which placed third. Baldwin-Jenkins transformed into Fantasy Island for the night, while the Village/off-campus group represented "Hawaii Five-0." Ballard recreated Bali Hi, from the movie South Pacific, and Mac Hall converted to the jungles to represent Tarzan.

Thursday night the loop was transformed into an arena for the Big Dog Adventure Games. Activities included tug-of-war, a mystery game, and snorkel-flipper relay. "The best part was when the participants had to find the lifesaver in the cream pie," said freshman Christy Monk. Stewart was the lucky dorm to come in first in the games, with Warrens placing second.

Friday night was highlighted by a spirited bonfire. The cheerleaders aroused Tropicana spirits with chants and a dance routine . . . "The bonfire was neat because we found out how the sports were doing," said freshman Marci Krantz.

Saturday was the big game. During half time spectators were entertained by the jungle races. Each dorm decorated a sedan chair, then residents raced around the track carrying a professor in the chair. Mac/Ballard came in first place with professor Dale Soden. Mac resident Chad Reeves and Sandy Burwell, a resident in Stewart, were crowned Homecoming King and Queen during half-time. The Whitworth Pirates beat Willamette University, 30-29.

Tropicana Nights

Despite high winds and chilly temperatures Tropicana Nights, the 1992 tropical homecoming, concluded Sept. 26 with a Hawaiian style luau.

Dinner, produced by Marriot, was served outside. The menu included such tropical treats as Teriyaki Beef, sticky rice, Hawaiian chicken, stir-fry and pineapple slices.

Music for the meal was provided by Jimmyfish, a local band made up of Whitworth talent. "It was a hoot. It would have been a hoot and a holler if not for the wind creating sound problems. Nonetheless we fully enjoyed playing for such a cool occasion," said band member junior, Dana Perreard.

Local Spokane band Jammin' Shammin' took over from Jimmyfish to play some Reggae greats. They served up cool reggae tunes such as "No woman, no cry" and "Red, red wine" to name a few.

After Jammin' shammin', Sound Express D.J., Tee Jay, took control of the music. The Spokane Police showed up around 12:30 bearing bad tidings about the noise pollution being created in the community. Overall Tropicana Nights was a huge success. "It was great!" exclaimed sophomore John Harris.

Narnia

This year's fall play was "Narnia," a musical adaptation of The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe by C.S. Lewis. The diverse music and brilliant acting made this play exceptionally entertaining. The time is World War II and the setting is Marbleton Manor in the English countryside. Four children, Lucy, Edmund, Peter and Susan have been sent there to live with the professor until the threat of war is over. However, they find a battle of their own when they step through a wardrobe and emerge into the mystical land of Narnia and an adventure filled with music and Christian overtones. As the Christ figure, Aslan returns to the frozen land of Narnia, where it is always winter and never Christmas. He begins a campaign against the White Witch to rid the land of evil and bring Spring back to Narnia. The play was performed October 22-25 in Cowles Memorial Auditorium.

The Crucifixion

Initiation-Mock Rock

Initiation . . . those four days when freshmen are decked out in old teeshirts, ties and beanies, and upperclass women ask the Carlson Bird Dogs if they are tired.

Spirit Coordinator, sophomore Josh Armstrong, said "I thought initiation was very exciting as we focused more on the Whitworth mission statement this year, and saw many students bond during initiation week."

Renee Fritz, an initiator for Jenkins, said that her experience was "harsh", and so she and her fellow initiators tried to be more "friendly toward their girls."

The Stewart men taught new residents the traditional songs and chants. Shane Phillips, an initiator for Stewart, said "There was a lot of bonding. We taught them something new and traditional every night."

At the end of the festivities was the Mock Rock, in which Stewart placed first with a selection from the Sound of Music.

Classes

Within each class at Whitworth, a unity develops. Although the members and size make each class diverse, they affect and influence each other. As we travel along this road at Whitworth we will face many trials and celebrate the good times . . . together.

Dorm Life

Dorm life at Whitworth represents a break from busy schedules, good times with friends and special activities. The friends we make within the dorm help us along the rougher roads we choose to follow. Each of the seven dorms offer its residents support and memories . . .

"It's a great way to meet people in your class."

Natalie Preker

"I wanted to live with the freshmen. We're all in this together."

Amy Zornick

Arend

"I like living in Arend because you can be your own person without expectations from other dorms."

Janelle Smith

"Arend is so great because we bond in the showers."

Susie Cotton

Arend

"Initiation really helped me to meet some cool people, and it put emphasis on brotherhood and togetherness. Plus Arend is one of the nicer dorms with bigger rooms and it's location across from the HUB."

Football

The 1992 football team did not end the season with a great record, but as senior Craig Stone said, "We overcame a lot of adversity. We didn't win the big war, but we won a lot of small battles." The individual players on the team did an exceptional job of showing the rest of the nation that Whitworth could excel. Buc players received many awards for achievement. For example, Danny Figueira (QB) was ranked fifth in the nation for passing, Derek Edwards (free safety, co-captain) was honored as an Academic All-Star, Jason Tobeck (Receiver) was an All-American Receiver and Tony Dowdy lead the league in yards per catch to name a few. Next year the majority of the team will consist of returning students. "We have potential for great things," said Tobeck.

Senior Jim Martinson about to deny the opponent the ball.

The men's soccer team consisting of three seniors, 10 juniors, seven sophomores and nine freshmen, coached by Einar Thorarinsson, kicked some butt in their 1992 season. They beat their league rivals, Simon Fraser University both times the teams met. The score each time was 2-1. The men played four games in overtime, and only lost one of those games to Western Washington. Even then the score was only 0-1.

According to Kris Husby, soph, "We grew a lot as a unit . . . we gelled as a team this year." They must have, their record this year was 15-3 as opposed to last years record of 9-9-1. Coach Thorarinsson says of the Whitworth men: "An exciting team to watch." They are, and since the team will be an experienced one next year (with 10 jr's this year) they have an even better chance at claiming the district championships.

Women's Soccer

In its fourth year as a Varsity sport, the Women's Soccer Team pulled together with six wins and seven losses this season. Junior Lisa Hobbs said of the season "This year wasn't just a building year. Our coach implemented an overall fitness program to better the team members. And we have lots of recruits for next year."

Sophomore Kris Ota said, "Considering we have a young team and a new coach, I think we played really well. Everyone bonded and we were really close."

The three seniors on the team played hard in the N.C.I.C. and N.A.I.A. All Star games. Senior Laura Rush said "The three of us from the original team were able to play which was really cool. I was injured part of the season and I was thankful I played in the district game."

Senior Jamey Dunn said "We had a really successful season. The fact that we placed in the top four of the district is huge. Our program is growing stronger every year."

Volleyball

The 92-93 season began on shaky ground for the women's volleyball team, but they worked together to finish a successful year. The players completed the season with 14 wins and 17 losses. Although this season was the first at Whitworth for Coach Gail Scharfe, she managed to bring a unity to the players that pulled them together in the end. The Pirates took third in the Conference and tied for third in the District. Tara Frederickson, Amy Colyar, and Kim MacDougall won individual awards.

"Considering the fact that we lost some key individuals and started with a new coaching staff, I'm pleased with the season. We finished in about the same place in our district as last year."

Cross Country

The road to success in running can take on many different aspects to make that certain path the best. The highlight of the year was the eleventh place finish at the National Championship meet by the women's team. Besides this team success there has been many individual successes.

Senior Marc Thielman was finally able to run after years of injuries and doctors telling him he would not be able to run. Marc's times were impressive in that each race he improved and he was ecstatic with every finish line put behind him.

The finish line came into view for others very fast, also. Sophomore Andrea Carlson improved her times significantly compared to last year. Her improvements were by the minutes and she finished second for the team at the National meet. For some success wasn't measured in time at meets, but time spent in the training room. Junior Summer Hill, who was part of the National qualifying team in 1990, has been trying to rid herself of injuries that have kept her from competing. Yet, Summer still found time to cheer the teams on at meets and helped out at practices. Also, the men's team had another off-year, but had a success story with senior Steve Sund's first place finish at the conference meet in Oregon.

Success can take on many aspects. It can be a berth to Nationals, to actually run and compete, to improve upon one's previous times, to cheer on teammates, or to win a race. Success, in the long run, takes on many paths.

Men's Basketball

The men's basketball team finished the year 5th in conference with an overall standing of 11-16. Although this was the first time the team has not made it to play offs in five years, it was a good season for the young team. They played intense ball with entertaining, competitive games. Coach Warren Fredericks reported that "a lot of people got experience, and it was a rebuilding year for the future." Player Jason Hull made second team in the NCIC, and received honorable mention in league. Watch out for this young, excitable team in the future.

Woman's Basketball

Most of the eleven women on the Whitworth basketball team were young and inexperienced, but in spite of that they placed 3rd in their conference with a 6-6 record. They were the only team to make play offs with out a winning record. Head Coach Lisa Oriard "had high expectations. Our goal was to place first our second in the conference. We lost some games we should not have, but we had a couple of big wins, and that was the reason we made it to play offs." According to Coach Oriard the youth of the team - only 4 returning starters- worked against them, but next year the future is very very bright. The team will be experienced in working together and will be older— mostly juniors as opposed to this year, where the majority of the players are sophomores.

Two bright points in the season were Becky Randell making first team All Conference and Molly McLaughlin making Honorable Mention. Coach Oriard is "happy the team is young" and is sure that they will be a much better team next year.

Swimming

The women's team dives in during competition.

If you are one of the select few men and women on the Whitworth swim team, you attend practice at 5:30 AM, another practice in the afternoon, and do things like pull buckets of water in the air while running through the shallow end of the pool. Your reward would not be a suntan but a trip to the Nationals in 1993, held in San Antonio, Texas.

According to coach Tom Dodd, the swim team has matured. "They put in a lot of hard work for the season, and it paid off by getting people to Nationals. They kept their focus on the end goal."

Eight men and eight women will fulfill the goal of going to Nationals. Nani Blake received the award of Female Swimmer of the Meet, which was "the icing on the cake," according to Dodd. John Boxmeyer said the swim team is like a soap opera, where "people are always on the up and down. Now, before Nationals, everybody is up."

With only 22 people on the team this year, placing 6th in the district was an accomplishment. Whitworth's team beat schools with many more participants. Dodd expects to place in the top 12 teams out of 40 national teams. The Whitworth swim team has certainly done its best.

Christmas Week

Christmasfest 1992 was a time for fellowship and relaxation. Whitworth provided a variety of activities appealing to every taste and age. The celebration lasted from December 4th to 13th, and most of the campus joined in the fun.

The week began with the President's Christmas Reception in the HUB on Friday, December 4th. The entire Whitworth community was invited to share the event with the interim president. Saturday's big event was skiing at Mount Spokane, and Sunday was a caroling party with Sunday Night Live.

The following full week was filled with activity, including ice skating at Riverfront Park, a Christmas Cookie Party complete with Santa Claus, and all-campus Christmas dinner, and a candlelight Christmas worship at the chapel.

Forum was also a place to celebrate. Monday, December 7, Jerry Rushford brought "Hymns from the English Countryside." And Friday, Ghanaian concert pianist William Chapman Nyaho played for the students and faculty. The choir also performed at St. John's Cathedral in the Christmas concert, "Let the People Praise Thee."

December 10th was a time to shop for holiday gifts at the Whitworth Women's Auxiliary Bazaar in the HUB. Winterfest was December 11th, where art students and faculty sold their handmade items. Fifteen percent of sales benefitted the art department.

Saturday, December 12 was the Winter Formal, held in the ballroom of the Masonic Temple for a traditional Christmas atmosphere.

Christmasfest allowed students, faculty and staff to spend time as a community, and to get into the spirit of the season.

you know who you are. We appreciate your support.*

In memory of Kentaro Tsuji
October 17, 1992

Kentaro loved life and touched many of us. His smile and friendliness brought him many friends in a short time. We will miss his friendship, but we remember his impact on the campus.

Dear HAT-Congratulations!

We are proud of you as always.

You have done your best and your academic record is proof of your ability.

In years to come, your students will benefit from the educational guidance provided by Whitworth College and they will be fortunate indeed.

Go forth like an Eagle . . .

Love you,
Dad, Mom, Jeff, Julie and Keith

Congratulations, Bill!
We're proud of you.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Katie & Andrew

Kristen Nichelson,

Congratulations, Kristen. You have worked hard these past four years and it has been a joy for us to see you grow and mature into a person we are very proud of. We know this is just the beginning of a beautiful life of service and love.

With love, Mom, Dad and Matt

To: Kristen Nichelson

I've always been proud of all you've accomplished. My best wishes for a wonderful future.

Love you,
Grandma-ma

Congratulations Amy on a job well done.

You are our son with whom we are well pleased!!
Mom, Dad

"Eventually, all things merge into one, and a river runs through it. The river was cut by the world's great flood and runs over rocks from the basement of time. On some of the rocks are timeless raindrops. Under the rocks are the words, and some of the words are theirs. I am haunted by waters."

-Norman Maclean

"A River Runs Through It."

Best Wishes to the Class of '93

from Phil Spangle, Herff Jones rep.
Class of '73

We have followed the road at Whitworth to the completion of the 1992-93 academic year. Some students began the college journey this year while others came to the light at the end of the road. The experiences we shared allowed us to unite as a student body, regardless of where each of us traveled on the road.

The addition of the new library, changes in Marriott, and the arrival of interim president Phil Eaton highlighted the return to campus for many students. October 23 was the library dedication ceremony, an event that joined the Whitworth community in celebration of the $4.9 million library project and completion of the Centennial Campaign. October also brought the death of freshman Kentaro Tsuji. The community came together at this time to support one another and share stories of how Kentaro touched them. As the United States welcomed Bill Clinton in the presidential campaign, the presidential search committee at Whitworth worked to secure a president for next year. Other additions to campus life included visits from poet Heather McHugh, the inclusion of the U.N. Association Network, and the restructuring of ASWC.

Choosing Whitworth has made a difference for all of us. The difference is the way its community responds to one another and supports each other. Although many did not choose to follow this road, those who did can say that Whitworth will stay with us along each road we choose to travel in the future.
